Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040), permission is granted the Wabash Railroad Company at Gibson City, Illinois, serving Central Soya Company, Inc., to disregard the provisions of Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to any car loaded by the Central Soya Company, Inc., when the Central Soya Company, Inc., advises that (1) such car is loaded with bulk mixed feed, or with mixed feed in sacks together with bulk mixed feed, and that the total weight of such shipments shall be or exceed 60,000 pounds; (2) that all such shipments are destined to the DeKalb Agricultural Association, Illiopolis, Illinois, because of inability to unload.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and the Central Soya Company, Inc., shall furnish the Permit Agent dates forwarded, the car numbers, and initials of the cars shipped under this permit.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., March 16, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of March 1951.

HOWARD S. KLINE, Permit Agent.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

GALLAGHER AND CO.

ORDER FOR PROCEEDINGS AND NOTICE OF HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of March 1951.

In the matter of Gallagher & Company, 17 Court St., Buffalo, New York.

I. The Commission's public official files disclose that Gallagher & Company, a partnership, hereinafter referred to as registrant, is registered as a broker-dealer pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

II. The Records Officer of the Commission has filed with the Commission a statement, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof,[1] stating that registrant did not file with the Commission reports of his financial condition during the calendar years 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949 or 1950 as required by section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted thereunder.

III. The information reported to the Commission by its Records Officer as set forth in paragraph II hereof tends, if true, to show that registrant violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section.

IV. The Commission, having considered the aforesaid information, deems it necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors that proceedings be instituted to determine:

(a) Whether the statements set forth in paragraph II hereof are true;

(b) Whether registrant has wilfully violated section 17 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-17A-5 adopted under said section;

(c) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, it is in the public interest to revoke registration of registrant; and

(d) Whether, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, pending final determination, it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors to suspend the registration of registrant.

V. It is ordered, That registrant be given an opportunity for hearing as set forth in paragraph IV hereof on the 23d day of April 1951 at the main office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, located at 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., before a Hearing Examiner to be designated by the Commission. On such date the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 101, North Building, will advise the parties and the Hearing Examiner as to the room in which such hearing will be held. The Commission will consider any motion with respect to a change of place of said hearing if said motion is filed with the Secretary of the Commission on or before April 16, 1951. Upon completion of any such hearing in this matter the Hearing Examiner shall prepare a recommended decision pursuant to Rule IX of the rules of practice unless such decision is waived.

It is further ordered, That in the event registrant does not appear personally or through a representative at the time and place herein set or as otherwise ordered, the Hearing Room Clerk shall file with the Records Officer of the Commission a written statement to that effect and thereupon the Commission will take the record under advisement for decision.

This order and notice shall be served on registrant personally or by registered mail forthwith, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than fifteen (15) days prior to April 23d, 1951.

In the absence of an appropriate waiver, no officer or employee of the Commission engaged in the performance of investigative or prosecuting functions in this or any factually related proceeding will be permitted to participate or advise in the decision upon the matter except as witness or counsel in proceedings held pursuant to notice. Since this proceeding is not "rule making" within the meaning of section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, it is not deemed to be subject to the provisions of the section delaying the effective date of any final Commission action.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF COLORADO

ORDER REVOKING CONDITION IMPOSED IN PREVIOUS ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of March A. D., 1951.

On August 24, 1939, the Commission issued its findings, opinion and order in this matter permitting a declaration to become effective regarding the issuance and sale by Public Service Company of Colorado of certain securities. Said order imposed a condition (Numbered (4) in the order) upon declarant that, until further order by this Commission, all corporate and consolidated balance sheets made public by the declarant should contain appropriate reference to inter-company appreciation charged to declarant's net assets.

Public Service Company of Colorado has now requested the Commission to revoke such condition and in support thereof has stated that an original cost study which was being made when the earlier proceeding was pending has now been completed and that the Public Utilities Commission of Colorado has required that the excess over original cost in the amount of $19,373,918 be written out of the company's utility plant account. It is also stated that all but $818,949 of such amount has been so written out and that the balance is being amortized in accordance with the order of the Public Utilities Commission of Colorado. Public Service Company of Colorado further states that its principal subsidiaries have restated or are in the process of restating their utility plant accounts at original cost.

It appearing to the Commission that under the circumstances stated the condition in our order dated August 24, 1939, described above is no longer required in the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

It is ordered, That the condition No (4) in our order herein dated August 24, 1939 be, and hereby is, revoked.

By the Commission.

DUQUESNE LIGHT CO.

ORDER EXTENDING TIME

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 15th day of March 1951.

Duquesne Light Company ("Duquesne"), a public utility subsidiary of Philadelphia Company and Standard Gas and Electric Company, both registered holding companies, having filed an application-declaration and a post-effective amendment thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") with respect to numerous proposed transactions designed to enlarge Duquesne's chartered territory so as to permit practical and economical interconnection between Duquesne's new electric generating station now under construction and its present electric transmission and distribution system; and

The Commission having entered its order herein on March 17, 1950, granting and permitting to become effective said application-declaration and providing that the time within which the proposed transactions were to be completed should extend for six months from March 17, 1950; and the Commission by order dated September 19, 1950, having extended such time until March 19, 1951; and

Duquesne having filed post-effective Amendment No. 2 wherein it is stated that certain authorizations necessary under Pennsylvania State law have not been obtained and that therefore certain of the proposed transactions could not be carried out within the prescribed extended period; and

Duquesne having further stated that it believes an additional period of four months will be required to complete all of the proposed transactions and having requested that this Commission extend accordingly the period within which the transactions proposed in the application-declaration shall be carried out; and

It appearing to the Commission in the light of the circumstances set forth that it is appropriate to grant said request for an additional extension of time:

It is ordered, That the period within which the transactions proposed in the aforesaid application-declaration shall be carried out, be, and hereby is, extended to July 19, 1951.

AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER COUNSEL FEES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of March A. D. 1951.

The Commission by orders dated April 24, 1950, and May 2, 1950, having permitted to become effective a declaration, as amended, filed by American Gas and Electric Company ("American Gas"), a registered holding company, regarding the issuance and sale by American Gas of $27,000,000 aggregate principal amount of its Serial Notes due 1952 to 1956, inclusive, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50; and

Said order of May 2, 1950, having contained a reservation of jurisdiction with respect to the proposed payment of fees of counsel for the company and counsel for the underwriters; and

The record having been completed with respect to said fees in the following amounts:

Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett (counsel for the company)	$15,000
Winthrop, Stimson, Putman & Roberts (counsel for the underwriter) (fee to be paid by the purchaser)	6,500

The Commission, on the basis of its examination of the record, finding that the payment of the fees as set forth above is not unreasonable, and finding it appropriate to release jurisdiction over the payment of such fees:

It is ordered, That jurisdiction heretofore reserved over the fees and expenses of counsel for the company and counsel for the underwriters be, and the same hereby is, released.

MIDDLE SOUTH UTILITIES, INC., AND ARKANSAS POWER & LIGHT CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of March A. D. 1951.

Middle South Utilities, Inc. ("Middle South"), a registered holding company, and its electric utility subsidiary, Arkansas Power & Light Company ("Arkansas"), having filed an application-declaration and amendment thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6 (b), 7, and 12 (f) thereof, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

Arkansas has outstanding 2,420,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $12.50 per share, all of which are owned by Middle South. Arkansas proposes to issue and sell to Middle South, and Middle South proposes to acquire from time to time prior to June 1, 1951, an aggregate amount of 640,000 additional shares of the common stock of Arkansas at the par value thereof, or for an aggregate cash consideration of $8,000,000.

Arkansas proposes to amend its charter as promptly as practicable so as to increase its authorized shares of common stock from 3,000,000 shares to 5,000,000 shares. The adoption of this amendment will enable Arkansas to issue the full amount of shares proposed to be purchased by Middle South and will allow for the issuance of additional common stock subsequently without further authorization from the stockholders.

The funds proposed to be invested by Middle South will be derived from the proceeds of its proposed sale of common stock. The proceeds of the sale of common stock by Arkansas will be used in connection with its construction program.

Said application-declaration having been filed on March 1, 1951, an amendment thereto having been filed on March 13, 1951, notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner required by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing within the time specified in said notice, or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the proposed issuance and sale of common stock by Arkansas have been specifically approved by the Arkansas Public Service Commission, the State Commission of the State in which Arkansas was organized and is doing business, the Commission further finding that in other respects the proposed transactions are in accordance with the applicable standards of the act, and that no adverse findings need be made thereunder, and the Commission deeming it appropriate to grant said application and permit said declaration to become effective without the imposition of terms and conditions:

It is ordered, That said application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective, forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule-24.

By the Commission.

KINGSPORT UTILITIES, INC.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of March A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Kingsport Utilities, Incorporated ("Kingsport"), a wholly owned electric utility subsidiary of American Gas and Electric Company, has filed a declaration with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and has designated sections 6 (a) and 7 thereof as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

Kingsport proposes to establish a line of credit with The Guaranty Trust Company of New York whereby Kingsport may borrow from time to time prior to December 31, 1953, amounts not to exceed in the aggregate $750,000. Said borrowings will be evidenced by promissory notes dated as of the date of each such borrowing, maturing not more than nine months after the issuance thereof, and bearing interest from the date of issuance at the then current prime credit rate. The initial borrowing is proposed to be made on or about April 1, 1951, in the amount of $100,000, at the then current prime credit rate, which Kingsport expects will be 2½ percent per annum.

At least ten days before each borrowing subsequent to the initial borrowing, or ten days prior to the proposed renewal of any note outstanding hereunder, Kingsport will file an amendment herein setting forth the amount of such borrowing, or proposed renewal, and the annual interest rate thereon, such amendment to become effective ten days after the filing thereof, if no action is taken by the Commission within such ten-day period.

Proceeds from the proposed borrowing will be used to finance, in part, the construction program of Kingsport which, it is estimated, will require the expenditure of approximately $1,450,000 during the years 1951 to 1953, inclusive.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 28, 1951, at 11:30 a. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration, which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after March 28, 1951, at 11:30 a. m., e. s. t., said declaration as filed, or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided by Rule U–23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof. All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file with the Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed.

By the Commission.

NATIONAL OZONE CORP. ET AL.

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 3.195 Safety; § 3.205 Scientific or other relevant facts. Subpart—Neglecting, unfairly or deceptively to make material disclosure: § 3.1890 Safety. In connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce of respondent's device designated the Atmoray Ozone Generator, or of any other device of the same or similar purpose or effect, representing, directly or by implication, (1) that ozone is a natural substitute for sunlight; (2) that ozone is as effective as sunlight in eliminating or alleviating contamination; (3) that ozone will eliminate and destroy all odors; (4) that in concentrations tolerable to humans ozone destroys airborne bacteria, or that it eliminates carbon monoxide or excessive carbon dioxide from the air under all conditions; (5) that ozone purifies the air under all conditions; or, (6) that said device is safe for use anywhere, unless it be stated in connection with said representation and in an equally forceful manner that concentrations of ozone in excess of one part per million parts of air for prolonged periods of time may result in respiratory irritation upon inhalation and that proximity to the device should be avoided; prohibited.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C., 45) [Cease and desist order, National Ozone Corporation and Mrs. Margaret Ryan, etc., Docket 5748, Dec. 29, 1950]

In the Matter of National Ozone Corporation, a Corporation, and Mrs. Margaret Ryan, Individually and as an Officer of National Ozone Corporation, and Trading Also as Charles N. Ryan, Atmoray, Inc., and National Ozone Corporation

Decision of the Commission and order to file report of compliance. Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act, the Federal Trade Commission on March 9, 1950, issued and subsequently served its complaint in this proceeding upon the respondent, Mrs. Margaret Ryan, charging her and the National Ozone Corporation with the use of unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce in violation of the provisions of said act. After the filing of Mrs. Margaret Ryan's answer to the complaint a trial examiner of the Commission was designated by it to take testimony and receive evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of said complaint, and at the initial hearing held for such purpose stipulations of all of the facts in the case were entered on the record. The filing of proposed findings as to the facts and conclusions having been specifically waived, the trial examiner on August 17, 1950, filed his initial decision.

The Commission, having reason to believe that the initial decision was deficient in certain material respects, on October 24, 1950, issued and thereafter served upon the respondent, Margaret Ryan, its order placing this case on the Commission's own docket for review and affording the respondent an opportunity to show cause why said initial decision should not be altered in the manner and to the extent shown by the tentative decision attached to said order. The respondent not having appeared in response to the leave to show cause, this proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by the Commission on review; and the Commission, having duly considered the matter and being now fully advised in the premises, finds that said proceeding is in the interest of the public and makes the following findings as to the facts, conclusion drawn therefrom, and order, the same to be in lieu of the initial decision of the trial examiner:

Findings as to the Facts

PARAGRAPH 1. Respondent National Ozone Corporation was a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of the State of Oregon, with its principal office and place of business located at 408 N. E. Thompson Street, in the City of Portland, State of Oregon. Said corporation was dissolved in 1947.

PAR. 2. Respondent Mrs. Margaret Ryan is an individual trading as Charles N. Ryan and as Atmoray from her principal place of business located at 3922 North Williams Avenue in the City of Portland, State of Oregon. She is the widow of Charles N. Ryan and used as a trade name, National Ozone Corporation, only for the purpose of maintaining a telephone listing.

PAR. 3. Respondent Mrs. Margaret Ryan is now, and for more than two years last past she has been, engaged in the business of selling and distributing a device designated as "Atmoray Ozone Generator", and causes said device, when sold, to be transported from her place of business in Portland, Oregon, to purchasers thereof, including distributing agents, located in various other states of the United States. Respondent Margaret Ryan maintains, and at all times mentioned herein she has maintained, a substantial course of trade in said device in commerce between and among the various states of the United States.

PAR. 4. In the course and conduct of her business and for the purpose of inducing and furthering the sale of the aforesaid device, respondent Margaret Ryan has made certain statements as to the effectiveness, usefulness and safety of said device in circulars designated "Atmoray Ozone Generators" and in other advertising media, of which the following are typical excerpts:

Ozone Natural Substitute for Sunlight.

Successive tests have shown that Ozone in very dilute concentrations is just as effective in the elimination and alleviation of contamination as the introduction of sunlight itself.

Ozone) is likewise highly effective in the elimination and destruction of all odors of organic origin.

Atmoray produces no harmful rays and is safe to use anywhere.

Ozone destroys airborne bacteria, odors, and monoxide gas and prevents the growth of mold.

Ozone is the enemy of carbon monoxide gas. Excessive carbon dioxide gas is also eliminated • • •.

Complete air purification in one compact unit for food locker plants, warehouses, theaters, rest rooms, garages, hospitals, zoos, pounds, pet shops, schools, meat markets, factories, etc.

PAR. 5. Through the use of such statements, and others of similar import, respondent Margaret Ryan has represented directly and by implication that the ozone produced by her device is a natural substitute for sunlight and as effective as sunlight in the elimination and alleviation of contamination; that said device is safe for use under all conditions, places and circumstances; that its use destroys all odors, and eliminates airborne bacteria, carbon monoxide gas and excessive carbon dioxide gas, and purifies the air in food locker plants, schools, warehouses, theaters and other buildings.

PAR. 6. The foregoing statements are exaggerated, false in their implication and misleading and deceptive in their breadth and lack of qualification. In fact, ozone is not a substitute for sunlight in many respects. It is not as effective as sunlight in eliminating or alleviating contamination under many conditions. The Atmoray Ozone Generator is not safe to use when persons are subjected to the ozone produced by it for prolonged periods of time when the concentration of ozone is more than one part per million parts of air. Its use will not eliminate or destroy all odors. Ozone will not purify the air under all conditions; and in concentrations tolerable to humans, it will not destroy all bacteria in the air. Ozone will not eliminate all carbon monoxide gas or excessive carbon dioxide gas under all conditions.

PAR. 7. Safety in the use of respondent's device depends upon the amount of ozone produced by it, the size of the room in which the device is operated, the ventilation, the nature of other materials in the room, and the length of time the device is operated. Inhalation of excessive amounts of ozone may result in severe irritations of the respiratory organs. In order to avoid injury, the concentration of ozone should not exceed one part per million parts of air where exposure is for prolonged periods of time, and proximity of the device should be avoided. Respondent's advertisements fail to reveal these material facts.

PAR. 8. The use by respondent Margaret Ryan of the above-quoted statements and representations have, and have had, the capacity and tendency to mislead and deceive a substantial portion of the purchasing public, actual and potential, into the erroneous and mistaken belief that all of such statements and representations were and are true in all of their breadth and implications and the capacity and tendency to induce the purchase of substantial quantities of respondent's said device.

Conclusion. The acts and practices of the respondent Margaret Ryan, as hereinabove set out and described, are to the actual and potential prejudice and injury of the public and constitute unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce within the intent and meaning of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

It is ordered, That the respondent, Margaret Ryan, an individual trading under the names of Charles N. Ryan, Atmoray, and National Ozone Corporation, or trading under any other name or trade designation, and her agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of her device now designated the Atmoray Ozone Generator, or of any other device of the same or similar purpose or effect, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

1. That ozone is a natural substitute for sunlight.

2. That ozone is as effective as sunlight in eliminating or alleviating contamination.

3. That ozone will eliminate and destroy all odors.

4. That in concentrations tolerable to humans ozone destroys airborne bacteria, or that it eliminates carbon monoxide or excessive carbon dioxide from the air under all conditions.

5. That ozone purifies the air under all conditions.

6. That said device is safe for use anywhere, unless it be stated in connection with said representation and in an equally forceful manner that concentrations of ozone in excess of one part per million parts of air for prolonged periods of time may result in respiratory irritation upon inhalation and that proximity to the device should be avoided.

It is further ordered, That the complaint in this proceeding be, and the same hereby is, dismissed as to National Ozone Corporation.

It is further ordered, That Margaret Ryan shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon her of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which she has complied with this order.

Issued: December 29, 1950.

By the Commission.

U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Bell Diathermy Company, Inc., et al., Docket 5727, Dec. 29, 1950]

In the Matter of Bell Diathermy Company, Inc., a Corporation, and George Edelstein and Etta Edelstein, Individually and as Officers of Said Corporation

Pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act the Federal Trade Commission, on December 21, 1949, issued and subsequently served its complaint in this proceeding upon the respondents, Bell Diathermy Company, Inc., a corporation, and George Edelstein and Etta Edelstein, individually and as officers of said corporation, charging them with the use of unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce in violation of the provisions of said Act. After the issuance of said complaint and the filing of respondents' answer thereto, hearings were held at which testimony and other evidence in support of and in opposition to the allegations of the complaint were introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, and such testimony and other evidence were duly recorded and filed in the office of the Commission. On August 4, 1950, the trial examiner filed his initial decision.

This matter thereafter came on to be heard by the Commission upon an appeal from said initial decision filed by counsel supporting the complaint, which appeal was not opposed by the respondents and on which oral argument was not requested; and the Commission, having duly considered said appeal and the record herein and being now fully advised in the premises, finds that this proceeding is in the interest of the public and makes the following findings as to the facts, conclusion drawn therefrom, and order, the same to be in lieu of the initial decision of the trial examiner.

Findings as to the Facts

PARAGRAPH 1. Respondent Bell Diathermy Company, Inc., is a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York. Its principal place of business is located at 545 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York. Respondent George Edelstein is the president and treasurer and respondent Etta Edelstein is the secretary of the corporate respondent and as such officers formulate, direct, and control the acts and practices of said corporation. The post office address of all of said respondents is 545 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York.

PAR. 2. The respondents are now, and have been for more than one year last past, engaged in the sale and distribution of a device, as "device" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, designated as "Bell Diathermy Apparatus."

In the course and conduct of their business respondents cause, and have caused, said device, when sold, to be transported from their place of business in the State of New York to purchasers thereof located in various other States of the United States. Respondents maintain, and at all times mentioned herein have maintained, a course of trade in said device in commerce between and among the various States of the United States.

PAR. 3. Respondents' device or apparatus is essentially a portable cabinet housing a transformer, a short-wave generator, two radio tubes, and two coils, which is designed and used for the generation of electrical short waves and the application thereof to parts of the human body by means of insulated electrodes. The electrical energy necessary for the operation of this device is secured by attaching it to domestic electrical current in the user's home. It operates upon a frequency of 27,300 kilocycles with a power output of 200 watts. Said device has a control for modulating the power output and a time switch which will automatically limit its period of operation to a predetermined time, both of which may be regulated by the operator. When the two electrodes are applied to the user's body and the device or apparatus is put into operation, the passage of the electrical short waves between the electrodes creates heat within the body tissues of the user because of their resistance to the passage of such electrical currents. The device is offered for sale and sold to members of the public for use in giving self-administered applications of diathermy in their homes.

PAR. 4. In the course and conduct of their business respondents, during 1948, disseminated and caused the dissemination of certain advertisements concerning their said device, by the United States mails and by various means in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, for the purpose of inducing, and which were likely to induce, the purchase of their said device. Respondents disseminated, and also caused the dissemination of, advertisements concerning their said device by various means, for the purpose of inducing and which were likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of their said device in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act.

Among the statements and representations contained in the said advertisements disseminated as aforesaid are the following:

PAR. 5. Through the use of advertisements containing the statements and representations set forth in Paragraph Four, respondents have represented, directly and by implication, that their said device provides a competent self-administered treatment for, and will cure, arthritis, rheumatism, asthma, neuritis, lumbago, sciatica, bursitis, and neuralgia, and that its use will be effective in the alleviation and relief of pain associated with said ailments.

PAR. 6. The aforesaid advertisements are misleading in material respects and constitute "false advertisements" as that term is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act.

There are many different varieties of arthritis. An agent such as respondents' device which can develop heat in and about the region of a joint may have some adjunctive value when used in conjunction with other procedures in the treatment of some forms of arthritis, but there are many forms of arthritis where respondents' device has no value, and its use can do harm.

Rheumatism is a generic term which has not exact medical connotation. It is a term apt to be used by the layman to refer to the existence of aches and pains in various parts of the body. Respondents' device when used in conjunction with other forms of treatment may have some adjunctive value in the treatment of some of the aches and pains referred to by the layman as rheumatism, but said device is not a competent cure or treatment for all such aches and pains, and its use can do harm.

Respondents' device when used in conjunction with other methods may afford some relief to a sufferer from asthma. However, said device is not a competent treatment or cure for asthma.

There are many conditions which could produce neuritis. The application of heat by the use of respondents' device may in some cases cause a diminution of pain, but said device cannot relieve the condition which causes neuritis and it is not a competent treatment or cure for neuritis.

Lumbago is a term used by the layman to indicate the existence of pain in the back, particularly the lower back. There are many causes which produce pain in the lower back. Respondents' device provides neither a treatment nor a cure for lumbago.

The causes of the pain referred to as sciatica are many, and in order to alleviate or cure such pain, it would be necessary to alleviate or cure the condition which is responsible for the irritation or the inflammation of the sciatic nerve. No one thing or instrument can possibly relieve or cure all cases of sciatica. Respondents' device is not a competent treatment or cure for sciatica.

Bursitis refers to an inflammation of the bursa. The treatment of bursitis differs in various stages. Heat is of little value in the treatment of the bursae. When the bursa is acutely inflamed, the worst thing one can do is to apply heat in any fashion. Respondents' device is not a competent treatment or cure for bursitis.

Neuralgia is a term used to indicate the existance of pain along the course of a nerve. The causes of pain are multitudinous. Respondents' device is not a competent treatment or cure for neuralgia.

PAR. 7. The aforesaid representations constitute false advertisements for the further reason that they fail to reveal facts material in the light of such representations, and facts material with respect to the consequences which may result from the use of respondents' said device under the conditions prescribed or under such conditions as are customary or usual.

Diathermy differs from other commonly used methods of applying heat in that through its use heat can be produced in the tissues lying beneath the surface of the body. It is not recognized that diathermy exerts any effect on the human body other than through the production of heat. When heat is applied to the human body many physiological changes occur, both in the local area in which it is applied and in other areas. If heat is applied too rapidly or in too great a quantity, it will produce burns. In certain diseases, such as Buerger's disease, the danger of producing burns is considerably increased. There is an ever present danger which an expert must keep in mind continuously in the treatment of a patient. In the hands of a layman that danger is much greater. Diathermy can produce harm in ways other than by the production of burns. It can increase the gravity of a medical condition. It is, for example, contraindicated in the presence of malignant growths. It is contraindicated when there is danger of bleeding. Its use is dangerous when applied to an extremity the circulation of which is damaged. The safe use of a diathermy device such as respondents' requires an exact diagnosis by a competent physician before administering the treatment, and the application under his instructions.

PAR. 8. The use by the respondents of the aforesaid false advertisements with respect to their said device has had the capacity and tendency to mislead a substantial portion of the purchasing public into the erroneous and mistaken belief that such statements and representations are true, and has induced a portion of the purchasing public because of such erroneous and mistaken belief to purchase respondents' said device.

Conclusion. The acts and practices of the respondents, as herein found, are all to the prejudice and injury of the public and constitute unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce within the intent and meaning of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

It is ordered, That the respondents, Bell Diathermy Company, Inc., a corporation, its officers, and George Edelstein and Etta Edelstein, individually and as officers of respondent corporation, said respondents' respective agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the sale, offering for sale, or distribution of a device or apparatus designated as "Bell Diathermy" or "Bell Short Wave Diathermy," or any other device or apparatus of substantially similar character, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from, directly or indirectly:

1. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated, by means of the United States mails, or by any means in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, any advertisement which represents, directly or by implication, that said device, when used by the unskilled lay public in the treatment of self-diagnosed conditions, is a competent treatment for, or cure of, arthritis, asthma, neuritis, lumbago, sciatica, bursitis, or neuralgia, or similar disorders, or which advertisement fails to conspicuously reveal that said device is not safe for use for any condition unless and until a competent medical authority has determined, as a result of diagnosis, that the use of diathermy is indicated and has prescribed the frequency and rate of application of such diathermy treatments and the user has been adequately instructed by a trained technician in the use of such device.

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated, by any means, for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of said device, any advertisement which contains any of the representations prohibited in paragraph "1" of this order, or which fails to comply with the affirmative requirements set forth in paragraph "1" of this order.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Issued: December 29, 1950.

By the Commission.

438.1 General considerations.
438.2 Standards governing exercise of authority.
438.3 Contractual provisions and record requirements.
438.4 Exercise of authority.
438.5 Reports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 438.1 to 438.5 issued under 55 Stat. 839, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App., 611; E. O. 10210, Feb. 6, 1951, 16 F. R. 1049.

§ 438.1 General considerations. (a) By Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, 50 U. S. C. App., 611, as amended by Public Law 921, 81st Congress (herein referred to as the "Act") and Executive Order No. 10210, dated February 2, 1951, the Secretaries of Defense, Army, Navy and Air Force have authority, under such regulations as may be prescribed or approved by the Secretary of Defense, to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts, heretofore or hereafter made, and to make advance, progress, and other payments thereon, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts.

(b) The regulations in this part set forth the standards governing the exercise of certain of the authority made available by said act and Executive order. The regulations in this part do not purport to cover all the authority conferred by the act and Executive order, but are confined to (1) amendments of contracts without consideration, (2) correction of mistakes in contracts, and (3) formalization of informal commitments. The exercise of other authority conferred by the act and Executive order will await the issuance of supplemental regulations.

(c) The authority granted by the act and this Executive order as described herein is an extraordinary one and its exercise must be carefully administered. Carelessness and laxity on the part of contractors should not be encouraged by the practice of granting relief to such contractors even though denial of relief in a particular case may result in some lack of cooperation on the part of a contractor.

of heat by the use of respondents' device may in some cases cause a diminution of pain, but said device cannot relieve the condition which causes neuritis and it is not a competent treatment or cure for neuritis.

Lumbago is a term used by the layman to indicate the existence of pain in the back, particularly the lower back. There are many causes which produce pain in the lower back. Respondents' device provides neither a treatment nor a cure for lumbago.

The causes of the pain referred to as sciatica are many, and in order to alleviate or cure such pain, it would be necessary to alleviate or cure the condition which is responsible for the irritation or the inflammation of the sciatic nerve. No one thing or instrument can possibly relieve or cure all cases of sciatica. Respondents' device is not a competent treatment or cure for sciatica.

Bursitis refers to an inflammation of the bursa. The treatment of bursitis differs in various stages. Heat is of little value in the treatment of the bursae. Neuralgia is a term used to indicate the existance of pain along the course of a nerve. The causes of pain are multitudinous. Respondents' device is not a competent treatment or cure for neuralgia.

PAR. 7. The aforesaid representations constitute false advertisements for the further reason that they fail to reveal facts material in the light of such representations, and facts material with respect to the consequences which may result from the use of respondents' said device under the conditions prescribed or under such conditions as are customary or usual.

Diathermy differs from other commonly used methods of applying heat in that through its use heat can be produced in the tissues lying beneath the surface of the body. Conclusion. The acts and practices of the respondents, as herein found, are all to the prejudice and injury of the public and constitute unfair and deceptive acts and practices in commerce within the intent and meaning of the Federal Trade Commission Act.

It is ordered, That the respondents, Bell Diathermy Company, Inc., a corporation, its officers, and George Edelstein and Etta Edelstein, individually and as officers of respondent corporation, said respondents' respective agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the sale, offering for sale, or distribution of a device or apparatus designated as "Bell Diathermy" or "Bell Short Wave Diathermy," or any other device or apparatus of substantially similar character, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from, directly or indirectly:

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IV—Joint Regulations of the Armed Forces

Subchapter F—Regulations Governing the Exercise of Certain Contractual Authority in Connection With Emergency Powers

PART 438—STANDARDS GOVERNING AMENDMENTS, CORRECTIONS, AND FORMALIZATION OF INFORMAL COMMITMENTS

Sec.

438.1 General considerations.
438.2 Standards governing exercise of authority.
438.3 Contractual provisions and record requirements.
438.4 Exercise of authority.
438.5 Reports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 438.1 to 438.5 issued under 55 Stat. 839, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App., 611; E. O. 10210, Feb. 6, 1951, 16 F. R. 1049.

§ 438.1 General considerations. (a) By Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, 50 U. S. C. App., 611, as amended by Public Law 921, 81st Congress (herein referred to as the "Act") and Executive Order No. 10210, dated February 2, 1951, the Secretaries of Defense, Army, Navy and Air Force have authority, under such regulations as may be prescribed or approved by the Secretary of Defense, to enter into contracts and into amendments or modifications of contracts, heretofore or hereafter made, and to make advance, progress, and other payments thereon, without regard to the provisions of law relating to the making, performance, amendment, or modification of contracts.

(b) The regulations in this part set forth the standards governing the exercise of certain of the authority made available by said act and Executive order. The regulations in this part do not purport to cover all the authority conferred by the act and Executive order, but are confined to (1) amendments of contracts without consideration, (2) correction of mistakes in contracts, and (3) formalization of informal commitments. The exercise of other authority conferred by the act and Executive order will await the issuance of supplemental regulations.

(c) The authority granted by the act and the Executive order as described herein is an extraordinary one and its exercise must be carefully administered.

der this section must be based on a finding that the national defense will be facilitated thereby.

(b) The determination of whether in a particular case a contract amendment to be entered into without consideration, or the correction of a mistake or ambiguity in a contract, or the formalization of an informal commitment will facilitate the national defense is a matter of sound judgment to be made on the basis of all of the facts of such case. Although it is obviously impossible to predict or enumerate all the types of cases with respect to which relief may appropriately be granted, examples of certain cases or types of cases where relief may be proper are set forth in this paragraph. Such enumeration is not intended to exclude other cases where the circumstances are such as to warrant the granting of relief, and even in the enumerated cases other factors may result in a denial of relief.

EXAMPLES

(a) Amendments without consideration. (1) Where an actual or threatened loss on a defense contract, however caused, will impair the productive ability of a contractor whose continued operation as a source of supply is found to be essential to the national defense, the contract will generally be equitably adjusted to the extent necessary to avoid such impairment of the contractor's productive ability.

(2) Where a contractor suffers a loss (not merely diminution of anticipated profits) on a defense contract as a result of Government action, the character of the Government action will generally determine whether any adjustment in the contract will be made and its extent.

(i) Where the Government action is directed primarily at the contractor and is taken by the Government in its capacity as the other contracting party, the contract may be equitably adjusted if fairness so requires. Thus, where such Government action, although not creating any liability on its part, increases the cost of performance, considerations of fairness may make appropriate some equitable adjustment in the contract.

(ii) When the action is not taken by the Government in its capacity as the other contracting party, but in its sovereign capacity, relief will generally not be granted. However, exceptional cases, depending on the nature of the action, the circumstances, and the effect on the contractor, may require an equitable adjustment in the contract when necessary to insure maximum cooperation and production in the national defense effort.

(b) Correction of mistakes. (1) Effecting amendments of contracts with the least possible delay to correct mutual mistakes and ambiguities will facilitate the national defense by expediting the procurement program and by giving contractors proper assurance that such mistakes and ambiguities, unavoidable in an expanded defense program, will be corrected expeditiously and fairly. As used herein the term "mutual mistakes" shall include:

(i) A mistake which consists of the failure to express in a written contract the agreement as both parties understood it;

(ii) A mistake on the part of the contractor which is so obvious that it was or should have been apparent to the contracting officer; and

(iii) A mutual mistake as to a material fact.

(c) Formalization of commitments. (1) Where any person has arranged to furnish or has furnished, on or after June 25, 1950, to a contracting agency or the Department of Defense or to a defense contractor any materials, services or facilities relating to the national defense, without a formal contract, relying in good faith upon the apparent authority of an officer or agent of such contracting agency, written or oral instructions, or any other request to proceed from a contracting agency, such contracting agency may enter into an appropriate contract providing fair compensation therefor. Formalization of such commitments under such circumstances will facilitate the national defense by assuring contractors, who have taken action to expedite performance or delivery without a formal contract, that they will be treated fairly and paid expeditiously.

§ 438.3 Contractual provisions and record requirements. (a) All contracts and amendments to contracts made under the authority of the regulations in this part shall:

(1) Make reference to the act and the Executive order;

(2) Contain a statement of the facts and circumstances which justify action;

(3) Include a finding that the national defense is facilitated thereby; and

(4) Include the following clause:

EXAMINATION OF RECORDS.

(a) The Contractor (which term as used in this clause means the party contracting to furnish the supplies or perform the work required by this contract) agrees that the Comptroller General of the United States or any of his duly authorized representatives shall have access to and the right to examine any pertinent books, documents, papers, and records of the Contractor involving transactions related to such contract.

(b) The Contractor agrees to insert the provisions of this clause, including this paragraph (b), in all sub-contracts hereafter made.

(b) Complete data shall be maintained by each Department as to all contracts and amendments to contracts made pursuant to the act, Executive order, and the regulations in this part.

§ 438.4 Exercise of authority. (a) The authority to approve requests for amendments of contracts without consideration, as referred to in § 438.2, will not be delegated below the level of a contract adjustment board to be established in each department. Each such board may be delegated the power of final determination.

(b) The authority to approve requests for correction of mistakes and ambiguities in contracts and for formalization of informal commitments, as referred to in § 438.2, will not be delegated below the level of the head of a procuring activity, as defined in § 400.201–4 of this chapter (paragraph 1–201.4 of the Armed Services Procurement Regulations), without specific approval of the Under or Assistant Secretary for procurement.

(c) The exercise of authority under the regulations in this part will be in accordance with detailed instructions or directives, which shall be uniform to the extent practicable, issued by each Department concerned.

§ 438.5 Reports. The Secretary of each Department shall submit quarterly a report of activities under the regulations in this part in the form to be prescribed by the Chairman of the Munitions Board.

ROBERT A. LOVETT,
Acting Secretary of Defense.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1011.101 to 1011.901 issued under R. S. 161, sec. 202, 61 Stat. 500, as amended; 5 U. S. C. 22 and Sup., 171a. Interpret or apply 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C. Sup., 151–161.

DERIVATION: Sec. XII, AFM 70-6; AFP Cir. 3, 1951.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 1011.101 Labor relations. (a) In the handling of all problems arising out of the labor relations of contractors, Air Force representatives will maintain strict impartiality.

(b) The Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, is authorized to remove necessary Air Force matériel from strike-bound plants when such action is mutually agreed to by both management and labor representatives concerned.

(c) The Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, is authorized to communicate with local labor organizations and local offices of Federal agencies as required. All communications with National labor organizations and Federal agencies outside of the local offices shall be had only after consultation with Headquarters United States Air Force.

(d) All special problems arising out of the labor relations of contractors shall be handled in consultation with Headquarters United States Air Force.

CROSS REFERENCE: For Armed Services Procurement Regulation which this section implements see § 411.101 of this title.

§ 1011.102 Wage and salary compensation—(a) Cost reimbursement-type contracts. No attempt will be made to include a wage and salary approval clause in cost reimbursement-type contracts. Primary operational decisions as to allowable wage costs rest with the contracting officer. Contracting officers will determine that wages and salaries are fair and reasonable before certifying reimbursement vouchers therefor.

(b) Where information may be obtained. Questions regarding the subject of wages and salaries, which cannot be resolved by the command concerned, and requests for required area or comparable rates should be referred to Headquarters United States Air Force, Director of Industrial Resources, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Availability of information. Without placing additional requirements upon contractors, a copy of such information concerning approved wage and salary rates that is made available to commands by contracting officers should be furnished to Headquarters United States Air Force, Director of Industrial Resources, Washington 25, D. C.

(d) Premium wage compensation. Premium rates (including overtime) will not be paid without the express approval of the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio, or such person as he may designate. Suitable provisions will be included in all cost reimbursement-type contracts and fixed price contracts containing price redetermination provisions to give effect to this paragraph.

§ 1011.103 Federal and State labor requirements. This requirement applies even though a contractor, by reason of operating a Government-owned facility located on territory owned by the United States, might otherwise be exempt.

§ 1011.104 Requests for relaxation of State labor legislation. There may be cases in which manufacturers engaged in the production of vital military supplies find State labor statutes or administrative orders unduly restrictive of such production. In such cases the following procedure will govern:

(a) The interested contractor will submit the initial request for relaxation of the laws or orders involved to the State Labor Commissioner or other State officials charged with the enforcement of labor legislation in the State or region where the plant of the manufacturer involved is located.

(b) If the contractor's request for relaxation is denied, the procuring activity concerned, if it considers the contractor's request valid, may refer the matter with recommendations in respect thereto, to Headquarters United States Air Force, Director of Industrial Resources, for action. Such referrals should contain the following information:

(1) Provision or provisions of law, the relaxation of which is required.

(2) Extent of relaxation required.

(3) Critical nature or relative scarcity of the material.

(4) Circumstances necessitating the relaxation (for example, a shortage in the local supply of skilled labor).

(5) Remedial action being taken by the manufacturer (for example, training).

(6) Efforts previously made to obtain the relaxation.

(c) Requests for assistance in obtaining a relaxation will be refused in cases in which:

(1) The contractor has not already requested the proper State authorities for such relaxation.

(2) Such relaxation is clearly unnecessary to maintain essential production.

(3) The granting thereof would result in a clearly excessive increase in hours of work, in an unreasonable curtailment of rest and lunch periods, or in an undesirable impairment of working conditions.

SUBPART B—CONVICT LABOR

§ 1011.201 Applicability. The contracting officer is responsible for making the determination as to the applicability of the Convict Labor Law (Sec. 1, 62 Stat. 703; 18 U. S. C. 436) to a contemplated procurement. In cases of doubt, the matter will be referred to the head of the procuring activity concerned for advice and decision.

SUBPART C—EIGHT-HOUR LAW 1912

§ 1011.301 Applicability. The contracting officer is responsible for making the determination as to the applicability of the Eight-Hour Law of 1912 (37 Stat. 137; 40 U. S. C. 324–326) to a contemplated procurement. In cases of doubt, the matter will be referred to the head of the procuring activity concerned for advice and decision.

CROSS REFERENCE: For Armed Services Procurement Regulation which this section implements see § 411.302 of this title.

SUBPART D—DAVIS-BACON ACT

§ 1011.401 Applicability. The contracting officer is responsible for making the determination as to the applicability of the Davis-Bacon Act (46 Stat. 1494, 40 U. S. C. 276a) to a contemplated contract. In cases of doubt the question will be referred to the head of the procuring activity concerned for advice and decision.

CROSS REFERENCE: For Armed Services Procurement Regulation which this section implements see § 411.402 of this title.

§ 1011.402 Regulations of the Secretary of Labor. The regulations of the Secretary of Labor described in § 1011.502 where pertinent, are applicable to all contracts subject to the act. Regulation 503 issued by Secretary of Labor, September 30, 1935, as amended, prescribes the procedures to be followed in predetermining prevailing rates of wages.

§ 1011.403 Predetermination of prevailing wage rates. The Secretary of Labor now permits a certain number of wage rate predeterminations to be issued to the Department of the Air Force that are different from the individual contract predeterminations described in Regulation 503. This type of predetermination is applicable to "a contract or contracts" for specific types of construction at a specified installation, and the appropriate rates contained therein may be used for all contracts to be let at the specified installation that are subject to the Davis-Bacon Act, as amended (46 Stat. 1494, as amended; 40 U. S. C. 276a). Rates contained in this type of predetermination may be considered prevailing for 90 days from the date of the decision unless the decision is modified prior to the expiration date. Modifications extend the expiration date of the entire predetermination 90 days from the date of the modification. For identification purposes, the predetermination described above will be referred to as an "area" predetermination. In general, "area" type predeterminations are limited to those establishments where considerable activity may be expected. The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section so far as they apply to requesting wage rate predeterminations for each contract subject to the act, do not apply to those installations having "area" type wage rate predeterminations on July 1, 1950. All installations that were not provided with the "area" type predeterminations on July 1, 1950 will conform to the procedure outlined in paragraph (a) of this section.

(a) Responsibility for requesting and obtaining individual contract predeterminations. The office responsible for the preparation of specifications for projects in excess of $2,000 (normally the base commander), is responsible for requesting the appropriate predetermination of wage rates to be included in the contract or invitation for bids. The preparing office will forward such request direct to Headquarters United States Air Force, Director of Industrial Resources. After the director has obtained the predetermination of wage rates from the Secretary of Labor, the predetermination will be forwarded direct to the requesting office. When the contract specifications are prepared for submission with the purchase request, they will include the approved predetermination of wage rates. Contracting officers will not accept purchase requests covering projects subject to the provisions of the Davis-Bacon Act until the required predetermination of wage rates has been incorporated in the specifications. Direct communication with the Department of Labor by field installations on any matter pertaining to wage rate predeterminations is not authorized.

(b) Responsibility for obtaining "area" wage rate predeterminations. The Director of Industrial Resources, Headquarters United States Air Force, will obtain from the Secretary of Labor all predeterminations applicable to a contract or contracts for Air Force installations. The decision as to whether this type of predetermination can be made rests with the Secretary of Labor.

(c) Review of "area" predeterminations. The Director of Industrial Resources will initiate all requests for review of "area" type predeterminations in time to provide, in effect, a continuous wage rate predetermination for all installations for which this type predetermination is available.

(d) Modification for "area" type predeterminations. Modifications to existing "area" predeterminations will be forwarded to installations concerned or to major air commands concerned by the most expeditious means when received from the Secretary of Labor. The responsibility of the commanding officer (commanding general) of the installation (or major air command) concerned is to insure that all modifications so received are incorporated into the original predetermination. If received after bids have been advertised, prior to date specified for opening of bids, such modifications will be included in the invitation for bids by appropriate amendment.

(e) Supply of Department of Labor Form DB–11. Department of Labor Form DB–11 may be obtained from the appropriate Air Matériel area. The Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, is responsible for obtaining future stocks of Form DB–11 from the Department of Labor for the Air Matériel areas.

§ 1011.404 Ineligible contractors and disqualified bidders.

CROSS REFERENCE: For Department of the Air Force policies and procedures with respect to ineligible and disqualified bidders see § 1000.303 of this chapter (15 F. R. 8971).

SUBPART E—COPELAND ACT

§ 1011.501 Applicability. The contracting officer is responsible for making the determination as to the applicability of the Copeland Act (48 Stat. 948; 10 U. S. C. 276b–c) to a contemplated procurement. In case of doubt, the matter will be referred to the head of the procuring activity concerned for advice and recommendation.

CROSS REFERENCE: For Department of Labor regulations with respect to enforcement of the Copeland Act (48 Stat. 948; 40 U. S. C. 276c), the Davis-Bacon Act (49 Stat. 1011, as amended; 40 U. S. C. 276a) and certain other statutes concerning rates of pay for labor, see 29 CFR 3.1–3.7.

SUBPART F—WALSH-HEALEY PUBLIC CONTRACTS ACT

§ 1011.601 Applicability. The contracting officer is responsible for making the determination as to the applicability of the Walsh-Healey Act (49 Stat. 2036, as amended; 41 U. S. C. 35–45) to a contemplated procurement. In cases of doubt, the matter will be referred to the head of the procuring activity concerned for advice and recommendation.

§ 1011.603 Responsibilities of contracting officers. The contracting officer is responsible for the following:

(a) Possible applicable minimum wage determinations. Advising prospective contractors of possible applicable minimum wage determinations by including reference thereto in invitations for bids, in the case of formally advertised procurements and giving written or verbal information thereof in advance of or coincident with the negotiation of non-advertised procurements.

(b) Form Letter and Poster. Furnishing the contractor a Form Letter (Form PC–12), together with Poster (Form PC–13), which informs him of his responsibilities under the Walsh-Healey Act, and putting him on notice that he may be liable for work done by other companies assisting him in the performance of the contract.

(c) Notice of award of contracts. Reporting direct to the Department of Labor each contract, except those classified confidential or higher, subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act within a few days following the award.

(d) Report of violations of the act. Submitting report of any violations of representations or stipulations required by the Walsh-Healey Act to Headquarters United States Air Force, Director of Procurement and Engineering, through the Judge Advocate, Air Matériel Command, for transmittal to the Department of Labor.

(e) Information concerning classified contracts subject to the act. Since contracts subject to the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act which are classified confidential or higher are not reported to the Department of Labor, properly authorized representatives of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions will be given access to information concerning the award of such contracts, where those divisions believe that a contractor may be violating the provisions of the act. Representatives of the Department of Labor must obtain the proper security clearance prior to being given access to information concerning contracts classified confidential or higher.

CROSS REFERENCE: For Armed Service Procurement Regulation which this section implements see § 411.603 of this title.

§ 1011.607 Procedure for obtaining exemptions to stipulations required by the act. Section 6 of the Walsh-Healey Act (sec. 6, 49 Stat. 2038; 41 U. S. C. 40) permits the Secretary of Labor to make exemptions to the requirement that the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the act be included in department proposals or contracts which are subject to the act.

(a) Requests for exemptions and review thereof. All requests of present or prospective contractors for exemptions under section 6 of the act will be addressed to the head of the procuring activity concerned. Such requests will be in writing, and will be transmitted through the appropriate contracting officer, and will set forth all pertinent information, including the nature of the requested exemption, the need therefor, and any action already taken by the contractor to avoid the necessity for the exemption. The contracting officer will review each request received from a contractor for:

(1) The urgency of the particular procurement.

(2) The relation of existing production schedules to Air Force requirements.

(3) The relation of present and past deliveries to production schedules.

(4) The extent to which labor supply is a limiting factor in production and the reasons therefor.

(5) The steps, if any, which have been taken either by the contractor or by any Government agency to resolve the labor supply problem.

(6) The extent to which factors inherent in the production processes involved necessitate the requested exemption.

(7) The extent to which the productive capacity of the facility or facilities in question is being utilized for Air Force procurement.

(8) Any other pertinent data.

(b) Consultation with regional directors, Department of Labor, and forwarding requests to heads of procuring activities. (1) If the contracting officer believes that the requested exemption is appropriate under the circumstances and necessary to meet vital procurement schedules;

(i) He may inform the appropriate regional director of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, of the request for exemption and the necessity therefor.

(ii) After joint consideration with such regional director, the contracting officer, if still of the opinion that the requested exemption is appropriate, will transmit the request together with his written recommendation relative thereto, a statement of all the information upon which the recommendation is based, and a recital of the steps taken in compliance with the procedure set forth in paragraph (a) of this section and this subparagraph, to the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, Attention: Chief of Procurement Division, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Dayton, Ohio.

(2) The procedure set forth in subparagraphs (1) (i) and (ii) of this paragraph with respect to such regional director will be complied with unless such compliance would result in undue delay. The contracting officer, in consulting with appropriate regional director, will furnish the director any pertinent information in his possession which the director may require for rendering a report in connection with the need for the exemption to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

(c) Review and processing of requests by head of procuring activity. If the head of the interested procuring activity concurs in the recommendation of the contracting officer, after review of the request and consideration as to whether the need for an exemption can be avoided by utilization of alternative facilities, he will forward the request to Headquarters, United States Air Force, Director of Procurement and Engineering, Washington 25, D. C., together with

(1) A statement of all pertinent data.

(2) His recommendation.

(3) A letter stating the need for the exception.

(4) Findings of fact as required by section 6 of the act.

CROSS REFERENCE: For regulations with respect to ineligible contractors and disqualified bidders see § 1000.303 of this chapter (15 F. R. 8971).

SUBPART G—FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT OF 1938 AS AMENDED

§ 1011.701 Reimbursement of cost-plus-fixed-fee contractors. Determinations of the liability of the Government to reimburse contractors for any amounts paid in settlement of claims under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. and Sup., 201–219) will be made by the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command. Attention is called to the Comptroller General's decision of December 15, 1943 (B–38642, 23 Comp. Gen. 439) to the effect that amounts paid in settlements of such claim may be reimbursed even though the settlements necessitated a compromise of disputed questions of law or fact: Provided, That such settlements are in amounts less than the total amounts (including liquidated damages, court costs, and attorneys' fees) which would be required to be paid in the event the employee sued and obtained judgment and that it is administratively determined that the settlement in each instance was fully warranted as being in the best interest of the Government. Vouchers covering such payments should be supported by evidence setting forth the basis for such administrative determination and any questions of law with respect to the application of the act should be determined only after thorough consideration has been given the matter by competent Government attorneys and a showing to that effect should also be made a part of the evidence submitted with the vouchers.

§ 1011.702 Investigations and inspections—(a) Investigations and inspections of records by the Administrator. Each employer subject to the act or any order issued thereunder must make and preserve such records of the persons employed by him and of the wages, hours, and other conditions and practices of employment maintained by him, and make such reports therefrom, as the Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions shall prescribe by regulation or order as necessary or appropriate for the enforcement of the provisions of the act or his regulations or orders thereunder. The act provides that the Administrator or his designated representatives may investigate and gather data regarding the wages, hours, and other conditions and practices of employment in any industry subject to the act and may enter and inspect such places and such records, question such employees and investigate such facts, conditions, practices, or matters as he may deem necessary or appropriate to determine whether any person has violated any provision of the act, or which may aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the act.

(b) Investigations of cost-plus-fixed-fee contractors. (1) The Secretary of the Air Force has directed, with respect to investigations of cost-plus-fixed-fee contractors of the Air Force, that: To the extent consistent with security and other regulations governing admission of visitors to plants and projects, representatives of the Administrator should be accorded access to the facilities and records of Air Force contractors for the purpose of making investigations to determine applicability of and compliance with the act. Investigations will be conducted at such time and in a manner to interrupt or interfere least with operations. They should be confined wherever possible to the inspection of records in the office of the contractor. Inspections of the areas in the facility where construction or production is in progress will be held to a minimum. Necessary interviewing of employees should, wherever possible, be conducted outside work hours or at such other times as will interfere least with construction or production operations.

(2) The Administrator has stated that his investigators will advise cost-plus-fixed-fee contractors approximately 1 week before they plan to arrive at the project to make an investigation under the act. The Air Force representative at the plant will insure that the investigation is conducted in accordance with such directive of the Secretary.

(3) If the Administrator is of the opinion that any such investigation discloses violation of section 6 or 7 of the act (Secs. 6, 7, 52 Stat. 1062, 1063; 29 U. S. C. and Sup., 206, 207), he will transmit a report of the investigation to Headquarters United States Air Force, Director of Procurement and Engineering, Washington 25, D. C., who will transmit it to the appropriate procuring activity. The procuring activity will cause the matter to be examined and, if such examination confirms such violation, will advise the contractor to take appropriate steps to comply with the law.

§ 1011.703 Suits against Government contractors. Cost-plus-a-fixed-fee contractors and subcontractors should be advised that immediately upon receipt of process in any legal action filed against them, they must furnish a copy of all papers to the contracting officer.

SUBPART H—NONDISCRIMINATION IN EMPLOYMENT

§ 1011.801 Introductory statement. The granting of full employment opportunities to all loyal and qualified workers irrespective of national origin or citizenship is urged upon and expected of all contractors and subcontractors of the Department of the Air Force.

§ 1011.802 Applicability. (a) The nondiscrimination clause is intended to apply equally to citizens and noncitizens. For contractors or subcontractors of the Air Force to require American citizenship as an essential condition for employment is considered a breach of the clause in the contract and is contrary to the National policy as expressed in Executive Order 9346 (8 F. R. 7183; 3 CFR, Cum. Supp.).

(b) Even on aeronautical and classified contracts, if a qualified applicant whose services the contractor needs is an alien whose loyalty to the United States the contractor has no reason to doubt, the contractor is obligated to cooperate with the applicant in applying for consent to his employment. Failure to request consent for the employment of, or to employ such an alien upon securing consent, if except for his alien status he would have been employed, constitutes a breach of the antidiscrimination clause of the contract and is contrary to National policy as expressed in Executive Order 9346. If a contractor refuses employment to a qualified and authorized alien worker, he should be prepared to present specific and sufficient reasons to avoid a charge of discrimination.

(c) A contractor is never justified in informing an applicant that he is being refused employment because of Government regulations, except when an individual alien is denied employment by the specific action of the Army-Navy-Air Force Personnel Security Board or higher authority for security purposes. The same considerations apply to removal from employment.

§ 1011.803 Interpretations of Executive Order 9346 by the Committee on Fair Employment Practice. Pursuant to the authority vested in it by Executive Order 9346 (8 F. R. 7183; 3 CFR Cum. Supp.), the Committee on Fair Employment Practice has issued the following interpretations (9 F. R. 1592, 7126, 12716; 29 CFR, 1944 Supp., 1202.1):

(a) The words "all contracts hereafter negotiated or renegotiated" include all contracts made, amended or modified.

(b) A nondiscrimination provision is required in leases, grants or easements, right-of-way, etc., to the same extent that it is required in other contracts.

(c) The obligation to include the nondiscrimination clause exists even though the contract involves nonwar activity.

(d) The obligation to include the nondiscrimination clause exists even though the contract is required to be awarded to the lowest bidder.

(e) The obligation to include the nondiscrimination clause exists even though the contract is between a Federal Government agency and a State agency or subdivision of a State.

(f) The obligation to include the nondiscrimination clause does not depend on the amount of money or other consideration involved in the performance of the contract.

(g) The nondiscrimination provision required does not refer to, extend to or cover the activities or business of the contractor which are not related to or involved in the performance of the contract entered into.

(h) Inclusion of a nondiscrimination provision is not required in contracts the performance of which does not involve the employment of persons.

(i) Inclusion of a nondiscrimination provision is not required in contracts with foreign contractors for work to be performed outside the continental or territorial limits of the United States where no recruitment of workers within the said limits of the United States is involved.

(j) The nondiscrimination clause is not required in contracts renewed pursuant to an option to renew, in accordance with the terms, conditions, and provisions contained in the original contract.

(k) The requirement that parties to contracts with the Government of the United States (or agencies of said Government) include a nondiscrimination clause "in all subcontracts" is not applicable to lessors of space in buildings except in cases where the Government of the United States (or any agency thereof) is the only tenant involved, or unless a subcontract is entered into solely for the purpose of performing an obligation (or obligations) imposed by the Government lease.

(l) The requirement that parties to contracts with the Government of the United States (or agencies of said Government) include a nondiscrimination clause "in all subcontracts" is applicable only in those cases in which the subcontract is entered into solely for the purpose of enabling the prime contractor to fulfill an obligation (or obligations) imposed by the Government contract.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 13]

CPR 13—RETAIL CEILINGS ON PETROLEUM PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 13 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The rapidity with which the inflationary pressures incident to the outbreak in Korea and the announced stepped up rearmament program were being reflected in price increases throughout the economy during the latter part of 1950 required immediate action in the field of direct controls. Accordingly, a General Ceiling Price Regulation was issued on January 26, 1951. However, it was realized at the time that a single regulation covering a multitude of prices and the diverse practices of many sellers and industries should be replaced as rapidly as possible by specific regulations tailored to the needs of different industries. This regulation is one of several designed to cover all marketing segments and products of the petroleum industry. It provides for the establishment of ceiling prices for certain petroleum products at service stations and other retail establishments.

Petroleum products are distributed at the retail level mainly through service stations of which there are an estimated 400,000 throughout the United States. Generally speaking, these service stations are relatively small establishments, and it is therefore essential that any regulation attempting to control the prices of products distributed through these channels be as clear and concise as possible and readily understandable. It is believed that the subject regulation accomplishes this purpose.

The salient features of this regulation are concerned principally with the pricing methods. The individual seller determines his own ceiling price which is the highest price charged for a product during the base period of December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, inclusive. This will result essentially in margins which have existed since before the beginning of the Korean war. In the event the seller had no base period sales, alternative methods of determining ceiling prices are provided. The regulation also provides for establishing ceiling prices for new products, as well as in cases where a new retail outlet has been established or where a change of ownership takes place.

The administrative procedure for resolving problems that may arise has been greatly simplified in that it contains provisions for automatic partial relief of hardship cases and permits the solution of other problems at the regional level with the exception of those arising out of local shortages and depressed price areas. Sellers whose ceiling price results in a margin less than they enjoyed during the base period or four cents are permitted to adjust their ceiling prices to reflect either their base period margins or four cents per gallon. This provision has been included to give immediate partial relief to dealers in certain areas where depressed prices exist causing considerable hardship on dealers involved. According to figures furnished by the American Petroleum Institute of dealer margins in fifty representative cities, this four cent margin is the lowest margin existing during the selected base period at any of these points. Except for cities in which price wars exist the margins are no greater than those in the period immediately before the beginning of the Korean war. The adoption of this margin provision is tentative pending a more complete survey of area margins by the Office of Price Stabilization. The regulation treats all marketers equally, and tends to preserve the customary marketing practices insofar as they are consonant with the provisions of the Defense Production Act. The regulation attempts to keep to a minimum the work of record keeping.

Prior to the formulation of this regulation the Director of Price Stabilization advised with a large number of persons representing a substantial part of the industry and the regulation has been reviewed by the National Petroleum Advisory Committee established by the Director of the Office of Price Stabilization.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR OF PRICE STABILIZATION

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the ceiling prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 18 issued under sec 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SCOPE OF REGULATION

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. It establishes ceiling prices for all sales and deliveries at service stations and other retail establishments including transactions through stationary retail facilities which are in conjunction with bulk plants, terminals or refineries, of the following products:

(a) Motor Fuel.

(b) Motor Lubricating Oil, including automotive, aviation and marine.

(c) Greases.

(d) Gear Oils and Transmission Lubricants.

(e) Kerosene, Range Oil, Stove Oil or Heater Oils; all other distillate burning, heating and fuel oils.

(f) Stove and Lamp Gasoline and Pressure Appliance Fuel.

(g) Petroleum Naphthas and Solvents.

(h) Liquefied Petroleum Gas (L. P. G.).

SEC. 2. Geographical coverage. This regulation is applicable to the forty-eight States of the United States, the District of Columbia, and the territories and possessions of the United States, except the Panama Canal Zone.

SEC. 3. Compliance with this regulation required—(a) Prohibition against selling or delivery of petroleum products at prices above the ceiling. On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business any petroleum product covered by this regulation at prices higher than the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do anything prohibited in this section. Prices lower than the ceiling prices may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

(b) Evasion. The ceiling prices established by this regulation shall not be evaded either by direct or indirect methods in connection with the purchase, sale, delivery or transfer of petroleum products alone or in conjunction with any other materials, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or any other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tie in agreement or other trade understanding, or by a change in the quality of the product or otherwise, except when such change in quality takes place in compliance with a regulation issued by an agency of the United States Government.

(c) Enforcement. Any person who violates any provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for damage provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

PRICING METHODS

SEC. 4. Specific prices. If the Office of Price Stabilization establishes specific ceiling prices for a particular grade of product for the area or community in which you are located, then those prices so spelled out in this regulation or other regulations or orders issued pursuant thereto are your ceiling prices for the particular grade (or grades) of product.

SEC. 5. Base period sales. If no specific ceiling prices are established by the Office of Price Stabilization, then your ceiling price is the highest price you charged for each grade of product to a purchaser of the same class at each of the service stations or retail establishments you operated during the period from December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, inclusive.

SEC. 6. No base period sales. If you cannot determine your ceiling prices under section 4 or section 5 of this regulation, you are required to adopt the ceiling price for the grade of product involved of any seller of your class located within a radius of one mile.

SEC. 7. Group pricing. If you operated several service stations or retail establishments and had an established practice of centrally determining uniform prices by areas during the base period for some or all of your products, you may treat all retail establishments in each such customary separate price area as one seller for the purpose of (a) computing ceiling prices for the grades of products for which this practice existed and (b) complying with the record keeping, reporting and filing provisions of this regulation. The ceiling prices shall be the uniform-centrally determined prices for each separate price area. Records shall be centrally kept, listing the names and addresses of the retail establishments of each group. If you determine ceiling prices under this section, each retail outlet included in the group must continue to abide by the ceiling prices determined under this section. The permission granted by this section may be withdrawn by the Director of Price Stabilization from any sellers upon consideration of the price records maintained by such sellers and such reports as he may require.

SEC. 8. Special pricing methods for automotive gasoline for tank wagon purchasers. (a) A seller of automotive gasoline at a retail establishment may, if he chooses, fix a ceiling price for each grade of automotive gasoline by either of the following methods:

(1) By adding to the tank wagon ceiling price for regular grade gasoline of your supplier 4 cents per gallon plus or minus your customary retail differential for premium or third grade gasoline; or

(2) By adding to the tank wagon ceiling price for regular grade gasoline of your supplier the margin you had in the base period. This method of pricing can be used only if 50 percent of your sales during the base period reflected that margin. Furthermore, you must continue to use this ceiling unless a change in ceiling price is subsequently ordered by the Office of Price Stabilization and you must file this price with the District office of the Office of Price Stabilization for the District in which each retail establishment is located. Your filing should be as follows:

I have on _____ (date) determined my ceiling price under section 8 (a) (2) of the Retail Ceiling Price Regulation of Petroleum Products to be the following:

Ceiling Price Established:

Regular Grade _____	_____ (Brand)	_____¢ per gal.
Premium Grade _____	_____ (Brand)	_____¢ per gal.
_____ Grade _____	_____ (Brand)	_____¢ per gal.

Computation of ceiling prices:	Premium	Regular	(Brand)
My purchase price[1] on _____ (date) _____	_____$	_____$	_____$
My retail price on same date _____	_____$	_____$	_____$
My margins on _____ (date) _____	_____$	_____$	_____$
My present supplier's tank wagon ceiling price _____	_____$	_____$	_____$
My margins as above _____	_____$	_____$	_____$
My ceiling price _____	_____$	_____$	_____$

Signature: _____

[1] Purchase price means the net price you pay for a product after giving effect to allowances or discounts you receive, except cash discounts.

(b) For purpose of computing margins, the tank wagon ceiling price of the supplying company shall be considered the purchase price with respect to company operated retail establishments determining ceilings under this section.

SEC. 9. Special pricing methods for automotive gasoline not purchased at the tank wagon price level. If you are not a tank wagon purchaser of automotive gasoline at the retail establishment involved, and therefore, cannot use the margins permitted certain tank wagon purchasers under the preceding section, you may fix a ceiling price for each grade of automotive gasoline by either of the following methods:

(a) By adding to your current laid down cost 4 cents per gallon for regular grade gasoline, plus or minus your customary retail differentials for premium or third grade gasoline; or

(b) By adding to your current laid down cost the margin you had in the base period. This method of pricing can be used only if 50 percent of your sales during the base period reflected that margin. Furthermore, you must continue to use this ceiling price unless a change in ceiling price is subsequently ordered by the Office of Price Stabilization, and you must file this price with the District office of the Office of Price Stabilization in which each retail establishment is located. Your filing should be as follows:

I have on _____ (date) determined my ceiling price under section 9 (b) of the Retail Ceiling Price Regulation of Petroleum Products to be the following:

Ceiling Price Established:

Regular Grade _____ _____ (Brand) _____¢ per gal.
Premium Grade _____ _____ (Brand) _____¢ per gal.
_____ Grade _____ _____ (Brand) _____¢ per gal.

Computation of ceiling prices:	Premium	Regular	(Brand)
My laid down cost[1] on _____ (date)	$	$	$
My retail price on same date	$	$	$
My margins on _____ (date)	$	$	$
My laid down cost	$	$	$
My margins as above	$	$	$

[1] "Laid down cost" means the cost of the product in your storage tanks. It includes only the cost of the product (including taxes) and transportation expense. For example: If you purchase on a "delivered at destination" basis the delivered price of your supplier is your "laid down cost". If you purchase on an f. o. b. shipping point basis your laid down cost is your f. o. b. shipping point price plus transportation expense incurred. The transportation expense incurred is the amount you pay to the commercial carrier or if a commercial carrier is not utilized the amount you customarily considered as transportation expense, provided, however, such latter amount shall be no higher than the established commercial rate for the shipment involved.

SEC. 10. Increases and reduction in ceiling prices. You may add to your ceiling price the amount of any increase authorized by the Office of Price Stabilization in the ceiling price of your supplier.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 11. Federal and State taxes—(a) Taxes in effect during base period. If during the base period you included a tax (either directly or by separate statement and collection) as a part of your price for a petroleum product, you may include such tax (either directly or by separate statement and collection in the same manner you included such tax in your price during the base period) as a part of any ceiling price established under this regulation for that product or for a new product you are now selling which is subject to the same tax.

(b) Taxes or increases in taxes effective after January 25, 1951. Any tax increase or new tax imposed after January 25, 1951, upon or incident to the sale, delivery or use of any petroleum product covered by this regulation may be collected by you in addition to the ceiling prices established under this regulation, if you are by law required to collect or pay such tax.

SEC. 12. Records, receipts, statement and posting of ceiling prices—(a) Records. Every person selling petroleum products subject to this regulation shall:

(1) Preserve for examination by the Office of Price Stabilization all your existing records relating to the prices which you charged for such petroleum products as you sold during the base period. In addition, you must prepare within 30 days after the effective date of this regulation and preserve a statement of any of your customary allowances, discounts and other price differentials.

(2) Keep for a period of two years and make available for examination by the Office of Price Stabilization records of the same kind as you customarily kept, relating to the prices which you charged for such petroleum products as you sold, after January 25, 1951, and the records of the same kind relating to products sold hereafter.

(b) Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser, you shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, your name and address, the kind, grade, and quantity of the petroleum product or products sold and the price received for each product.

(c) Statement of ceiling prices. Prepare within 30 days after the effective date of this regulation on the basis of all available information and records and thereafter keep for examination by the Office of Price Stabilization during ordinary business hours, a statement showing your ceiling prices on each grade of product and the basis on which you determined such ceiling prices.

(d) Posting of ceiling prices. You shall post the ceiling price for each grade of motor fuel and each motor lubricating oil in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by each purchaser. Such postings shall be marked "ceiling prices" or "our ceiling", beneath which shall be marked each grade of the product offered for sale and opposite each grade shall be stated the ceiling price for that grade. Every person whose ceiling prices are subsequently increased under sections 4, 10, 11 (b), 16 or 17 pursuant to authorization by the Office of Price Stabilization shall indicate separately in such postings either for 60 days after such authorization or for so long as the increase remains effective, whichever period is shorter, the amount by which the ceiling price of each product was increased and the fact that such increase was authorized by the Office of Price Stabilization. The postings shall use the following language: "_____ cents increase per gallon—approved by the Office of Price Stabilization effective _____ date" or any other statement supplying the same information.

(e) General Ceiling Price Regulation records. Compliance with the record-keeping provisions of this section shall be deemed compliance with the record-keeping requirements of the General Ceiling Price Regulation during the period when petroleum products were covered by that regulation.

SEC. 13. Transfer of business or stock in trade. This section applies to you if:

(a) After January 26, 1951 you purchase or otherwise acquire all or a substantial part of the business assets or stock in trade of any business which sells or sold any articles covered by this regulation at retail; and

(b) You carry on the business or continue to sell at retail the same type of product as sold by your predecessor; and

(c) You carry on the business in a retail establishment separate from any other retail establishment previously owned or operated by you; and

(d) Your predecessor was a seller of your class.

If this section applies to you, your ceiling prices are the same as your predecessor and your obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same as those of your predecessor. Your predecessor must either preserve and make available to you or turn over to you all records of transactions before the transfer which you need to comply with this regulation.

If either or both paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section apply to you but not paragraphs (c) or (d) of this section you shall adopt the ceiling price for each grade of product of a seller of your class in your same general area. Ceiling prices determinded in this way shall be filed with the Petroleum Branch of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., and shall be your ceiling prices until disapproved or revised by the Director of Price Stabilization of the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 14. Definitions. (a) "Motor fuel" means liquid fuel used for the propulsion of motor vehicles or motor boats or aircraft, including Diesel fuel and liquefied petroleum gas, and including any liquid fuel to which Federal gasoline taxes apply.

(b) "Retail establishment" means a store, shop, garage, service station (land or marine) or other stationary place of business at which the major portion of the sales of petroleum products are sold in customary small quantities to consumers. Any facility making deliveries of fuel into fuel tanks of aircraft at an airport (or other landing area), shall be considered a retail establishment for the purpose of this regulation.

(c) "Service Station" means any place of business or part thereof where motor fuel is delivered into the fuel supply tanks of motor vehicles or motor boats.

(d) "You." The pronoun "you" as used in this regulation indicates the person subject to the regulation.

(e) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successors and representatives of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, any agency thereof, any other government or any of its political subdivisions and any agency of any of the foregoing.

(f) "Seller of your class" means a seller whose operations in all respects customarily compare with your operations in all of the following respects:

(1) You both sell comparable products.

(2) You both sell in the same manner through similar facilities.

(3) You both sell at comparable price levels.

(g) "Purchaser of the same class" refers to your practice in setting different prices for a product for sales to purchasers located in different areas or buying in different quantities or grades or under different conditions of sale.

(h) "Base period" means the period from December 19, 1950, to January 25, 1951, inclusive.

(i) "Tank wagon purchaser" means a person purchasing at the tank wagon price.

(j) "Tank wagon price" means a particular price level customarily established by a seller regardless of the type or size of equipment that may be used for making deliveries, as distinguished from the "tank car" price, or other large lot quantity price levels. The tank wagon price is a delivered-at-destination price.

SEC. 15. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation No. 1.

SEC. 16. Adjustments because of Fair Trade Acts. Ceiling prices established under this regulation may be adjusted by order of the Office of Price Stabilization in the case of any seller at retail who shows:

(a) Either that his ceiling price for any product established under this regulation is less than the minimum price at which he was lawfully required to sell the product during the base period pursuant to the provisions of a State Fair Trade Act; or that he had been permanently enjoined by a court from selling the product at less than such minimum price; and also

(b) That the product was generally sold at retail during the base period at prices no lower than such minimum price within the locality in which his selling establishment is located. In such cases, the ceiling price of the seller will be increased to such minimum price. Applications for adjustment shall be filed in accordance with Price Procedural Regulation No. 1.

Each Regional Director of the Office of Price Stabilization and such District Directors of the Office of Price Stabilization as may be designated by the appropriate Regional Director are hereby authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this section.

SEC. 17. Applications for adjustment. Applications for adjustment for local shortage and depressed price areas shall be filed in Washington, D. C., in accordance with Price Procedural Regulation No. 1. The Office of Price Stabilization may adjust by order any ceiling price established under this regulation for any seller or group of sellers when it appears:

(a) Local shortages. (1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a petroleum product which aids directly in the present defense program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the maintenance of the defense program; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the ceiling prices of such seller and of like sellers for such product; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

(b) Depressed price areas and price inequities. (1) That due to temporary conditions, a seller has a ceiling price which is lower than a price that would maintain such seller's customary price relationship with other sellers in the same marketing area or

(2) That prices charged for petroleum products in a particular area have customarily followed the pattern of prices in nearby or surrounding areas but due to temporary conditions ceiling prices have been established by this regulation which are below the level of prices which would have prevailed had the area been free to adjust itself to normal conditions.

The seller in applying under subparagraph (1) or subparagraph (2) of this paragraph shall present to the satisfaction of the Office of Price Stabilization:

(i) The basis upon which it is concluded that the ceiling prices are below normal.

(ii) The ceiling prices proposed.

(iii) Information showing why the proposed ceiling prices would be normal.

(iv) A statement that the proposed ceiling prices will not be above the level of ceiling prices otherwise established by the regulation.

CEILING PRICES ESTABLISHED BY APPLICATION

SEC. 18. Sellers who cannot determine ceiling prices under other sections. (a) Your ceiling price for a petroleum product sold at a retail establishment which cannot be priced under the other provisions of this regulation shall be a price in line with the level of ceiling prices established by this regulation and shall be determined in the following manner:

You or a person authorized by you shall, prior to making a sale, file with the District Office of the Office of Price Stabilization for the district in which your retail establishment is located an application for the establishment of a ceiling price, containing the following information:

(1) An explanation of the reasons why the product cannot be priced under the other provisions of this regulation.

(2) The method by which the proposed ceiling price was calculated.

(3) The reasons why such proposed ceiling price is believed to be in line with the level of ceiling prices otherwise established by this regulation. For this purpose information shall be included in the application showing:

(i) Ceiling prices for similar products having the same end-use and serviceability which are currently sold by you, together with a statement of the cost of each;

(ii) Ceiling prices for the same product, or similar products having the same end-use and serviceability, which are sold by others of your same class of seller in the same or surrounding area.

(b) You shall also furnish such additional information as the Office of Price Stabilization may require.

(c) Upon filing, the proposed price shall be your ceiling price until it is revised or disapproved by the Office of Price Stabilization.

(d) The Office of Price Stabilization may, at any time by notice in writing approve or disapprove or revise ceiling prices filed, proposed, or established under this section so as to bring them into line with the level of ceiling prices otherwise established by this regulation.

Effective date. This Ceiling Price Regulation shall become effective on March 26, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, JR.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 3—VETERANS CLAIMS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. In § 3.1, paragraphs (c) and (l) (1) (ii) are amended to read as follows:

§ 3.1 Persons included in the acts in addition to commissioned officers and enlisted men. * * *

(c) Philippine Scouts and others. Philippine Scouts, the Insular Force of the Navy, Samoan Native Guard, and Samoan Native Band of the Navy are within the terms of the acts, except that neither the Philippine Scouts nor the Insular Force of the Navy were, or are, included in Article II of the War Risk Insurance Act. However, Philippine Scouts enlisted under section 14 of Public Law 190, 79th Congress, approved October 6, 1945, are subject to the limitations contained in Public Law 391, 79th Congress. Benefits are accordingly limited to compensation payable for service-connected disability or death. Members of the organized military forces of the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines are included for purposes of the laws administered by the Veterans' Administration providing for the payment of compensation on account of service-connected disability or death from and after the dates and hours, respectively, that they were called into service of the Armed Forces of the United States by orders issued from time to time by the General Officer, United States Army, designated by the Secretary of War (section 2 (a) (12), Public No. 127, 73d Congress, and Public Law 301, 79th Congress). This includes a person who became a member of a unit so called or ordered into the Armed Forces of the United States upon its reorganization and return to military control prior to July 1, 1946. It does not include the service of such a person during the period subsequent to his release following the capitulation or after parole by the Japanese as a prisoner of war, when he was in an inactive status, and prior to the time he joined a recognized guerrilla force or returned to military control as certified by the United States Armed Forces. Persons who served as guerrillas under a commissioned officer of the United States Army, Navy, or Marine Corps, or under a commissioned officer of the Commonwealth Army recognized by and cooperating with the United States forces are also included: Provided, That service as a guerrilla by a person who also was a Philippine Scout or a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, other than a member of the Commonwealth Army, will be considered as service in his regular status of Philippine Scout or member of the Armed Forces of the United States. However, unless the record shows examination at time of entrance into the Armed Forces of the United States, such persons are not entitled to the presumption of soundness. This will also apply upon reentering the Armed Forces after a period of inactive service. Service of such Commonwealth forces in the United States Armed Forces was terminated as of June 30, 1946, by the military order of the President dated July 1, 1946. (Therefore, such Philippine Army service rendered on or after July 1, 1946, is not service in the United States Armed Forces within the purview of the laws administered by the Veterans' Administration.) Compensation payable to members of the organized military forces of the Government of the Commonwealth of the Philippines, under the conditions set forth above, and to Philippine Scouts who enlisted or reenlisted under section 14, Public Law 190, 79th Congress, shall be paid at the rate of one Philippine peso for each dollar authorized to be paid under the laws providing for such compensation. The foregoing restriction is not applicable to officers who were commissioned in connection with the administration of Public Law 190, 79th Congress. All enlistments and reenlistments in the Regular Army between October 6, 1945, and June 30, 1947, inclusive, were made under the provisions of the cited law, as it constituted the sole authority for enlistments in the Regular Army during that time. Accordingly, all Philippine Scouts who enlisted or reenlisted between the cited dates should be paid at the rate of one Philippine peso for each dollar authorized for disability incurred or aggravated during such enlistment or reenlistment. Where a veteran, who had Commonwealth Army or guerrilla service and also had other service, wartime or peacetime, in the Armed Forces of the United States, has compensable disabilities due to the service entitling to compensation on a peso basis and due to service entitling to compensation on a dollar basis, the disabilities will be combined as usual, applying the provisions of Part IV, Veterans Regulation 1 (a) (38 U. S. C. ch. 12), where there is disability due to wartime and peacetime service. In computing the amount due, the evaluation for which dollars are payable will be first considered and the difference between this evaluation and the combined evaluation will be the basis for computing the amount due in pesos.

(1) Reserve Officers and members of the Enlisted Reserves; members of the National Guard of the United States and the federally recognized National Guard of the several States, Territories and the District of Columbia—(i) Public No. 159, 75th Congress (act of June 23, 1937); Army and Air Force. * * *

(ii) Public No. 159, 75th Congress, as modified by Public No. 732, 75th Congress (act of June 25, 1938); Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard. For periods on and after June 15, 1933, in time of peace, members of the Naval (organized and volunteer) and Marine Corps Reserves are considered as performing active service while performing active duty with or without pay, training duty with or without pay, drills, equivalent instruction or duty, appropriate duty, or other prescribed duty, or while performing authorized travel to or from such duties. By virtue of section 211, Public Law 8, 77th Congress, the provisions of this subdivision are applicable to Reserve officers and enlisted members of the Coast Guard Reserve (except temporary members thereof) who rendered such service on or after February 19, 1941, in time of peace. Compensation may be payable for disease or injury connected with such service, regardless of the period for which the reservist was called to duty, where the liberalizing definition of service contained in Public No. 732, 75th Congress (act of June 25, 1938), is not invoked; however, where such liberalizing definition is invoked, compensation is payable only for injury (sickness or disease being excluded).

2. In § 3.61, the title and paragraph (a) are amended to read as follows:

§ 3.61 Validity of enlistment a prerequisite to entitlement—(a) Fraudulent enlistments involving other than concealment of minority. With the exception of illegal enlistments, that is, those in which the enlisted men lack legal capacity to contract, contracts of enlistment fraudulently procured by enlisted persons are generally voidable rather than void. For example, a veteran in desertion who reenlisted and served honorably is not barred from pension, if otherwise entitled by reason of his honorable service, unless the reenlistment was affirmatively voided by the service department. Therefore, a contract of enlistment is valid for Veterans' Administration purposes unless affirmatively declared void ab initio by the service department.

3. In § 3.67, the title and paragraph (c) are amended to read as follows:

§ 3.67 Disability of veteran (1) as a direct result of armed conflict, or (2) while engaged in extra hazardous service, including such service under conditions simulating war, or (3) while the United States is engaged in war (Public Laws 359, 77th Congress, 868, 80th Congress). * * *

(c) "Extra hazardous service, including such service under conditions simulating war," comprehends service in peacetime which is more hazardous than normal peacetime service. This contemplates only service of which the extra hazard is an inherent part of the military duty.

(1) Participation in the Korean hostilities meets the provision "while engaged in extra hazardous service" in section 2, Public Law 868, 80th Congress, for the members of all forces so committed. Therefore, for disability or death incurred in line of duty as a result of participation in the Korean hostilities, compensation at wartime rates will be paid where entitlement is established in accordance with criteria for service-connection established under Part II, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12). In consideration of questions of service-connection, the provisions of Public Law 361, 77th Congress, will be applied, whenever in order, with resolution of the reasonable doubt. The principle of participation will be extended to all Armed Forces, Air Forces, and Naval Forces in the zones of patrol, blockade, and action or embarking or enplaning thereto from any point.

(2) Service under conditions simulating war is extra hazardous, and other service will be considered extra hazardous if (i) performed under conditions recognized as exceptionally dangerous or (ii) involving risks beyond those ordinarily encountered in routine peacetime duties. Examples of service recognized as falling within the first category, as being exceptionally dangerous, include the following: While actually engaged in performance of service duty in aircraft, submarine, or diving operations; or dangerous testing operations of instrumentalities of war in differentiation from service involving their routine peacetime use. Every injury or disease resulting directly from or aggravated by these operations, from preparation for flight to the final landing, as of an airplane, or from the casting off to the final berthing, as of a submarine, is considered as incurred in extra hazardous service. Servicing the aircraft while the propeller revolves or loading or unloading explosives from aircraft is considered extra hazardous. During a postwar period pending approval of treaty of peace or other final termination of a technical state of war, service passengers on service airplanes are considered as performing extra hazardous service where their presence on an airplane was required by service orders. Testing or demonstrating explosives and demolition work with explosives are considered extra hazardous. Other examples are duty on convoy or patrol vessels and while manning guns on merchant vessels. Service falling within the second category, as involving risks beyond those ordinarily encountered in routine peacetime duties, includes among others the following: Under climatic or other conditions which subject the person to excessively high or low temperatures and predispose to disease, or upon exposure to any conditions which he would not customarily or ordinarily be called upon to endure in ordinary peacetime service. Individual actions incident to performance of service duties of exceptional risk or danger, as extinguishing a serious fire or conflagration, serving where explosives are stored in quantity, rescues at sea, from drowning, or from burning buildings, may be considered extra hazardous, if the element of risk or danger above and beyond the routine of the service is clearly apparent. It is particularly to be noted that accidents with firearms or other instrumentalities of war on land or sea, unless directly traceable to the performance of duties incident to extra hazardous service as above outlined, are considered as involving only the routine risk or danger of the soldier or sailor.

(3) Campaigns, expeditions, and occupations are one type of service which may involve armed conflict and usually contain extra hazardous service. A person engaged in such service and injured at drill, target practice, practice march, work in the barracks, tents, or shops would not generally be considered as injured incident to extra hazardous service. But, if such functions were performed under extra hazardous conditions, due to the locality, nearness of the enemy, without the usual and ordinary safeguards, etc., the conditions of the law may be met. Endemic diseases and diseases arising out of exposure on campaigns or expeditions may likewise be a basis of entitlement under Public Law 359. The diseases recognized as endemic to tropical service are amebic and bacillary dysentery, malaria, blackwater fever, cholera, dracontiasis, filariasis, leishmaniasis, including kala-azar, leprosy, loiasis, onchocerciasis, Oroya fever, pinta, plague, schistosomiasis, trypanosomiasis, yaws, and yellow fever. The general test with regard to campaigns or expeditions is: Did the injury or disease arise directly out of the performance, under orders, of military or naval duty peculiar to or advancing the purpose thereof and under circumstances more dangerous than in normal peacetime service? If so, the circumstances are, as a rule, extra hazardous. Attention is invited to R & P A–36–54 inclusive, relating to campaigns and expeditions, etc.[1]

(4) The act specifies "extra hazardous service, including such service under conditions simulating war." The expanding Army and Navy in 1940–41, from the standpoint of their training and operations, are to be regarded as under emergency conditions in relation to national defense in the face of threatened war. In the hearings on the bill, the representative of the War Department stated that men on maneuvers take practically the same risks they take during time of war. The representative of the Navy Department stated that every man at sea today (in 1941) is engaged in service under conditions simulating war. The haste of this organization and training, the introduction of new methods of combat training, the inclusion of large numbers of men who would not expect to serve their country under arms except in time of war are intended to be given special recognition in the act.

(5) Maneuvers such as those of 1940–41 and the operations of ships at sea during the same period are considered as having been performed under conditions simulating war and were extra hazardous.

(6) Any injury, disease, or death resulting therefrom, incurred while engaged in extra hazardous service, if in line of duty and not the result of some cause independent of the extra hazardous service, will be held within the contemplation of the law.

(7) It will be seen that the innumerable combinations of circumstances which may exist in connection with the incurrence of death, injury, or disease clearly preclude a line of definite demarcation between service which is extra hazardous and that which is attended by what might be considered the ordinary hazards of peacetime service in the Armed Forces. Each claim will be adjudicated on the facts adduced therein, and determinations will be reached through an adequate understanding of the purpose to be achieved and the exercise of sound judgment.

4. In § 3.80, paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

§ 3.80 Service connection for chronic or tropical diseases. (a) Under paragraph I (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a) as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12), a chronic or tropical disease becoming manifest to a degree of 10 percent or more within 1 year (within 3 years as to pulmonary tuberculosis) from the date of separation from active wartime service or within 1 year (3 years as to pulmonary tuberculosis) after the date prior to which a disability must have been incurred as provided in Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, whichever is the earlier, will be considered as having been incurred in service when the conditions specified in paragraph I (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, are met. Service incurrence will be established under paragraph I (a), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, for any of the tropical diseases listed in § 3.86 (b), when shown to exist at a time when standard and accepted treatises indicate that the incubation period of the disease commenced during active service. Under paragraph I (d), Part II, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, a tropical disease becoming manifest to a degree of 10 percent or more within 1 year from date of separation from service or at a time when standard accepted treatises indicate that the incubation period thereof commenced during active service will be considered as having been incurred in service when the conditions specified in paragraph I (d), Part II, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, are met. The factual basis may be established by medical evidence, competent lay evidence, or both. Medical evidence should set forth the physical findings and symptomatology elicited by examination within the 1-year (3-year as to pulmonary tuberculosis) period; and lay evidence should not merely contain conclusions based upon opinion but describe the material and relevant facts as to the veteran's disability observed during such period. Where there is affirmative evidence to show that a chronic disorder is due to an intercurrent disease or injury suffered between the date of separation from active service and the onset of the chronic disorder, service-connection under this section will not be accorded. When service-connection is established, subsequent manifestations of the same chronic disease, unless clearly attributable to intercurrent causes, at no matter how remote a date, are service-connected. This rule does not mean that any manifestation of joint pain, any abnormality of heart action or heart sounds, any urinary findings of casts, or any cough, in service, will permit service-connection of arthritis, disease of the heart, nephritis, or pulmonary disease, first shown as a clear-cut clinical entity at some later date. For the showing of chronic disease in service, there is required a combination of manifestations sufficient to identify the disease entity and sufficient observation to establish chronicity at the time, not merely isolated findings or diagnosis including the word "chronic". When the etiological identity is perfect, as leprosy, tuberculosis, syphilis, etc., there is no requirement of evidentiary showing of continuity. Continuity of symptomatology is required only where the condition noted during service is not in fact shown to be chronic or where the diagnosis of chronicity may be legitimately questioned. When the fact of chronicity during service is not, in the opinion of the adjudicating agency, adequately supported, then there may be reason to require some showing of continuity after discharge to support the claim. Hospital confirmation of such diagnoses made after discharge from service is not routinely required. However, the veteran may well be held at the regional office, hospital, or center for recheck on the following day, particularly for recheck of blood pressure, urinalysis, and further laboratory procedures, if in order. When hospitalization is required, it should not be longer than absolutely necessary for confirmation of the diagnosis.

(Interprets or applies sec. 1, 48 Stat. 8, as amended; 38 U. S. C. 701, ch. 12 note)

5. In § 3.86, paragraphs (c), (f), and (h) are amended to read as follows:

§ 3.86 Chronic and tropical diseases under Public No. 2, 73d Congress, as amended. • • •

(c) No conditions other than those listed in paragraph (a) of this section will be considered chronic diseases except upon approval by the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs. For the purposes of determining the existence of a compensable degree of active tuberculosis within 3 years of discharge or the date prior to which a disability must have been incurred as provided in Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12), whichever is the earlier, active pulmonary tuberculosis diagnosticated by approved methods during the fourth year will be held to have preexisted the diagnosis 6 months in minimal (incipient) cases; 9 months in moderately advanced cases; and 12 months in far advanced cases.

• • • • •

(f) Where service-connection is granted under paragraph 1 (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, the effective date of evaluation of disability will be in accordance with § 3.148 (a), and when claim is filed more than 1 year after date of separation from active wartime service or after 1 year prior to which a disability must have been incurred (or 3 years as to pulmonary tuberculosis), as provided in Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, whichever is the earlier, notation will be made of the items of evidence showing the existence of the disease within the 1-year period (or 3 years as to pulmonary tuberculosis): Provided, That as to bronchiectasis, calculi of the kidney, bladder, or gall bladder, cirrhosis of the liver, coccidioidomycosis, osteomalacia, Raynaud's disease, scleroderma, malignant tumor of the peripheral nerves, peptic ulcers (gastric or duodenal), and the tropical diseases, resultant disorders or diseases originating because of therapy administered in connection with such diseases or as a preventative thereof, listed in paragraph (b) of this section, service connected under paragraph 1 (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, the evaluation will not be prior to June 24, 1948: Provided further, That as to active pulmonary tuberculosis service connected under paragraph 1 (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended by Public Law 573, 81st Congress, the evaluation will not be prior to June 23, 1950.

• • • • •

(h) The effective date of an award based upon the foregoing provisions will be in accordance with § 3.212: Provided, That no award for bronchiectasis, calculi of the kidney, bladder or gall bladder, cirrhosis of the liver, coccidioidomycosis, osteomalacia, Raynaud's disease, scleroderma, malignant tumors of the peripheral nerves, peptic ulcers (gastric or duodenal), service connected under paragraph 1 (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, or the tropical diseases and resultant disorders or diseases originating because of therapy administered in connection with such diseases or as a preventative thereof, listed in paragraph (b) of this section, service connected under paragraph I (c), Part I, or paragraph I (d), Part II, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, shall be effective prior to June 24, 1948: Provided further, That no award for active pulmonary tuberculosis service connected under paragraph I (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended by Public Law 573, 81st Congress, shall be made effective prior to June 23, 1950.

(Interprets or applies sec. 1, 48 Stat. 8, as amended; 38 U. S. C. 701, ch. 12 note)

6. In § 3.148, paragraph (d) is amended to read as follows:

§ 3.148 Effective dates of evaluations, 1945 Schedule, in original ratings. • • •

(d) When service-connection, World War II, is granted under paragraph I (c), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12 note), the effective date of evaluation of disability will be determined as above outlined. When claim is filed more than a year from date of discharge or (where service began prior to January 1, 1947, and extended thereafter) July 25, 1947, or 3 years as to pulmonary tuberculosis, whichever is the earlier, notation will be made of the items of evidence showing the existence of the disease within the 1-year or 3-year periods or showing minimal, moderately advanced, or far advanced, active pulmonary tuberculosis within the 42-month, 45-month, or 48-month periods, respectively.

• • • • •

(Interprets or applies sec. 17, 57 Stat. 560, 69 Stat. 319; 38 U. S. C. 732, 736-738)

7. In § 3.216, paragraphs (a) and (c) are amended to read as follows:

§ 3.216 Application for increase based upon changed physical condition. A formal application for increased disability compensation or pension will not be required, and an informal application or request when accompanied by evidence of a changed physical condition will suffice.

(a) Increase based upon report of physical examination. Where an increase in disability is shown by an official report of physical examination made by a full-time, part-time, or designated (or fee basis) physician of the Veterans' Administration in connection with compensation, pension, or treatment pursuant to proper authority issued either prior or subsequent to treatment, the report of physical examination will be accepted as a claim, and payment of the increase may be made effective as of the date of examination. This principle likewise is for application to claims under paragraph I (a), Part III, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12).

(c) Physical examination reports, clinical records, and transcripts of records received from State, county, municipal, and recognized private institutions and contract hospitals. Generally, physical examination reports, clinical records, and transcripts of records from State, county, municipal, and recognized private institutions and contract hospitals relative to veterans will be accorded the same consideration for the purpose of rating claims for compensation or pension as though the records were received from a Veterans' Administration field station. These records, however, must present the essentials upon which ratings are to be founded, that is, the disabling conditions must be adequately identified; sufficient findings must be reported to permit proper evaluation of the condition, and they must be certified by chief medical officers or their physician designates. As to private institutions, the hospitals listed in the hospital number of "The Journal" of the American Medical Association (usually published in April of each year) and followed by the symbol consisting of a shaded triangle are recognized. This symbol indicates that the hospital has been approved by the American College of Surgeons as meeting unconditionally its minimum requirements for general standardization. If the name of the private hospital at which the veteran was examined or treated does not appear on the approved list, the chief medical officer or his physician designate will be requested to advise whether the hospital meets the minimum requirements for the care and treatment of Veterans' Administration patients and for hospital facilities as prescribed in current directives of the department of medicine and surgery. Depending upon the advice of the chief medical officer or his physician designate, the report will be accepted or corroborative examination by the Veterans' Administration requested. It is to be understood that such records, in those instances where maintenance is not at the expense of the Veterans' Administration, should not be accepted as claims for increase if they are routinely submitted, but only where there is an indication that they are being submitted for the purpose of claiming increased benefits.

8. Sections 3.236 and 3.237 are amended to read as follows:

§ 3.236 Special monthly compensation specified by or fixed pursuant to paragraph II, Parts I and II, Veterans Regulation 1 (a) (38 U. S. C. ch. 12), as amended by Public Laws 182, 659, and 662, 79th Congress—(a) Special monthly compensation provided by paragraph II (k), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate provided by paragraph II, Part II. The special monthly compensation provided by paragraph II (k), Part I or the corresponding peacetime rate is applicable but once in any one case, when payable in addition to the compensation provided in paragraph II (a) to (j), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate. In other words, if the veteran has suffered the anatomical loss of one eye and one hand, his monthly compensation under Public No. 2, 73d Congress, as amended, will be increased by $42 and not by $84 or by $33.60 and not by $67.20, if the disabilities were incurred in wartime service or peacetime service, respectively. The additional allowance may be based upon an anatomical loss or loss of use included in the requirements for the basic rate. The additional allowances under paragraph II (k), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate are now payable in addition to compensation payable under paragraph II (l) to (n), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, and such additional allowance is payable for each anatomical loss, loss of use, or blindness of one eye having only light perception, when existing in addition to the requirements for these basic rates, provided the total does not exceed $360 in part I cases, independent of additional compensation for dependents provided by section 1, Public Law 877, 80th Congress, as amended, or $288 in part II cases, independent of additional compensation for dependents provided by section 2, Public Law 877, 80th Congress, as amended. For example, a war veteran who has suffered the loss of use of both hands, one foot, and one eye (light perception only) will be compensated at $240 plus two allowances of $42 each or $324 under the second part of paragraph II (k), Part I.

(b) Helplessness. (1) The maximum rate, as a result of including helplessness as one of the entitling multiple disabilities, is intended to cover, in addition to obvious losses and blindness, conditions such as transverse myelitis with loss of use of both legs and loss of anal and bladder sphincter control; also the loss of use of two extremities with absolute deafness and nearly total blindness or with severe multiple injuries producing total disability outside the useless extremities, these conditions being construed as loss of use of two extremities and helplessness.

(2) The rate of $282 provided under paragraph II (m), Part I on account of helplessness requiring regular aid and attendance applies only in cases entitled on account of blindness of both eyes. A veteran having suffered the loss, or loss of use, of both hands, feet, or one hand and one foot, and having no other compensable disability will be rated according to the level of amputation or loss of use. Entitlement to a higher rate on account of helplessness requiring regular aid and attendance must be based on such need resulting from pathology other than the anatomical loss or loss of use of two extremities. When so based, i. e., upon pathology other than the anatomical loss or loss of use of two extremities, the rate will uniformly be $360 (or $288) monthly.

(c) Intermediate rates fixed pursuant to law. The authority contained in paragraph II (p), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate to allow the next higher rate or an intermediate rate will be administered as follows:

(1) With the anatomical loss, or loss of use, of one hand or one foot, and anatomical loss, or loss of use, of another extremity at a level or with complications preventing natural elbow or knee action with prosthesis in place, the rate will be $261 (or $208.80).

(2) With the anatomical loss, or loss of use, of one extremity at a level or with complications preventing natural elbow or knee action with prosthesis in place, and the anatomical loss of another extremity so near the shoulder or hip as to prevent the use of a prosthetic appliance, the rate will be $300 (or $240).

(3) With the anatomical loss, or loss of use, of one hand or one foot, and the anatomical loss of another extremity so near the shoulder or hip as to prevent the use of a prosthetic appliance the rate will be $282 (or $225.60).

(4) With the requirements for any of the rates provided in paragraph II (l) to (n), inclusive, Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, and additional disability (single permanent disabilities or combinations of permanent disabilities with the usual prohibition against pyramiding) independently ratable at 50 percent or more, the rate will be intermediate, i. e., halfway, between the rate authorized for the subparagraph whose requirements are met and the next higher rate authorized in paragraph II (m) to (o), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate.

(5) With the requirements for any of the rates provided in paragraph II (l) to (n), inclusive, Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, and additional disability (single disabilities of permanent nature) independently ratable apart from any consideration of individual unemployability, at 100 percent, the rate will be the next higher rate authorized in paragraph II (m) to (o), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate.

(6) Other cases in which any of the rates are deemed inadequate will be handled in accordance with § 3.142.

(d) Ratings for specific conditions—(1) Rating of binocular blindness of different degrees. (i) With blindness of one eye with 5/200 visual acuity or less and blindness of the other eye having only light perception, the rate will be $261 (or $208.80).

(ii) With blindness of one eye having only light perception and anatomical loss, or blindness, having no light perception accompanied by phthisis bulbi, evisceration, or other obvious deformity or disfigurement, of the other eye, the rate will be $300 (or $240).

(iii) With blindness of one eye having 5/200 visual acuity or less and anatomical loss, or blindness, having no light perception accompanied by phthisis bulbi, evisceration, or other obvious deformity or disfigurement, of the other eye, the rate will be $282 (or $225.60).

(2) Rating of blindness of both eyes having no light perception. The rate under paragraph II (n), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, $318 (or $254.40) per month, will be assigned when there is a total blindness of both eyes having no light perception accompanied by phthisis bulbi, evisceration or other obvious deformity or disfigurement.

(3) Entitlement under paragraph II (o), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate. Entitlement to the maximum rate of $360 (or $288) per month on account of entitlement to two of the rates provided in one or more of subparagraphs (l) to (n), inclusive, paragraph II, Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate must be based upon separate and distinct disabilities so entitling.

If the loss, or loss of use, of two extremities or being permanently bedridden renders the person helpless, increase to $360 (or $288) per month is not in order on account of this helplessness. Under no circumstances will the combination of "being permanently bedridden" and "being so helpless as to require regular aid and attendance" without separate and distinct anatomical loss, or loss of use of two extremities; or blindness, be taken as entitling to $360 (or $288) per month. The fact, however, that two separate and distinct entitling disabilities, such as anatomical loss, or loss of use, of both hands and of both feet, result from a common etiological agent, for example, one injury or rheumatoid arthritis, will not preclude entitlement to the maximum rate.

§ 3.237 Additional allowance for nurse and attendant and adjustment of awards during institutionalization. (a) If and while a veteran is so helpless on account of a service-connected compensable condition as to be in need of a nurse or attendant (see §§ 3.176, 3.177, and 3.178), there will be allowed in addition to the compensation payable under Title III, Public No. 141, 73d Congress, the sum of $50 per month on and after March 28, 1934, or $60 per month on or after September 1, 1946, or an increased statutory rate under Public No. 2, 73d Congress, as amended.

(b) Reductions during hospitalization. Where a veteran in receipt of additional or increased compensation based upon the need for a nurse or attendant, regular aid or attendance, or frequent and periodical aid or attendance, other than on account of transverse myelitis or paraplegia involving paralysis of both lower extremities together with loss of anal and bladder sphincter control, as a result of severe traumatic lesions of the spinal cord (including the cauda equina) and of the brain, is being furnished hospital treatment, institutional or domiciliary care by the Veterans' Administration and is being furnished with nursing or attendant's service, the award of compensation will be the amount authorized by the rating decision exclusive of any additional or increased amount on account of the need for a nurse or attendant, regular aid and attendance, or frequent and periodical aid and attendance. In the excepted case a uniform rate of $360 (or $288) per month will be maintained, without deduction on account of being furnished aid and attendance in kind. Due to the different additional amount to which veterans may be entitled under Public Law 182, 79th Congress, as amended, on account of helplessness requiring regular aid and attendance, and consequent different amounts of reductions when being furnished regular aid and attendance in kind, when institutionalized by the Veterans' Administration, married, and having dependents, it is necessary to give careful attention to the exact basis of entitlement:

(1) The general rule as to reductions of special monthly compensation of $240 (or $192) per month or more based upon the need for regular aid and attendance when the veteran, married or having dependents, is being furnished nursing or attendant's service while receiving hospital treatment, institutional or domiciliary care by the Veterans' Administration is that reduction will be in the additional amount based upon the need for regular aid or attendance.

(2) In determining the rate of special monthly compensation, first consideration will be given to anatomical loss or losses of use of extremities, blindness, having 5/200 visual acuity or less, anatomical loss of both eyes, or being permanently bedridden and if, based on these considerations, there is entitlement to one of the rates under paragraph II (l), (m), or (n), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate provided by paragraph II, Part II, Veterans Regulation No. 1 (a), as amended, (38 U. S. C. ch. 12) or to two of these rates entitling under paragraph II (o), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, no reduction is in order on account of being furnished nursing or attendant's service. If there is such entitlement based on these enumerated conditions, it is immaterial whether the veteran is also so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance, and no reduction is in order on this account.

(3) It is only when entitlement to the rate under paragraph II (l), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, singly or with another entitlement to the rate under paragraph II (l), (m), or (n), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, so as to qualify under paragraph II (o), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, is based solely upon being so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance, i. e., in the absence of other entitling conditions, that reduction on this account is in order.

(4) The reduction in the case of a veteran entitled only under paragraph II (l), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate on account of helplessness will be in the amount of $90 (or $72).

(5) When any veteran is entitled to one of the rates under paragraph II (l), (m), or (n), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate by reason of anatomical losses or losses of use of extremities, blindness, having 5/200 visual acuity or less, or anatomical loss of both eyes, and is also entitled to another rate under paragraph II (l), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate on account of being so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance, no condition being considered twice in the determination, the rate of pension while not being maintained and furnished aid and attendance in kind will be $360 (or $288) per month. This amount is subject to reduction to $282 (or $225.60) or $318 (or $254.40) per month according to which the veteran is entitled apart from helplessness. No case will arise in which reduction from $360 to $240 will be in order, for the reason that the condition entitling to the second rate on account of rendering the person helpless will necessarily be totally disabling, thus entitling, if the basic entitlement is under paragraph II (l) or (m), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, to one of the rates specified in the preceding sentence. Note that if the basic entitlement is under paragraph II (n), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, the additional disability rendering the person helpless is necessarily ratable at 100 percent; consequently, the rate of pension will be $360 (or $288) per month whether or not being furnished aid and attendance in kind.

(6) In the special case of entitlement under paragraph II (m), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, only on account of blindness of both eyes, rendering him so helpless as to be in need of regular aid and attendance, the reduction will be $42 (or $33.60) per month.

(7) Additional pension of $42 (or $33.60) per month under paragraph II (k), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate, or on account of 50 percent disability or 100 percent disability in excess of the conditions entitling under paragraph II (l), (m), or (n), Part I, or the corresponding peacetime rate is not subject to reduction on account of being furnished nursing or attendant's service.

The reduced rate of compensation in such instances will be effective as of the beginning of the maintenance of the disabled veteran in an institution by the Veterans' Administration. The compensation in all cases contemplated herein is subject to the limitations contained in § 3.255.

(c) Resumption of full rate. In every case where a beneficiary who is receiving an allowance or increased compensation for a nurse or attendant is admitted to a hospital for treatment as a beneficiary of the Veterans' Administration, a report will be forwarded to the rating board, field office, or the central disability board, claims division, veterans claims service, showing the inclusive date of hospital treatment. Where the additional allowance or increased compensation for a nurse or attendant has been properly authorized to patients with amputations, or in those cases wherein the basic condition requiring a nurse or attendant is essentially permanent as defined in current Veterans' Administration claims procedures, or in terminal cases, a redetermination by the rating board following dehospitalization is not required for reinstatement of this benefit. Upon receipt of the necessary notice that such veteran is no longer being maintained in an institution by the Veterans' Administration, appropriate awards action for the purpose stated above will be accomplished at once, and in such instances it will not be necessary to await receipt of the hospital report prior to resuming the additional allowance or increased compensation. In other cases not involving amputations or conditions essentially permanent, the additional allowance or increased compensation for a nurse or attendant may be reawarded only upon a determination by the rating board that the veteran concerned is in further need of such services. The additional allowance or increased compensation for nurse or attendant is not to be reinstated for the purpose of applying the provisions of § 3.9 (e), which are applicable only to the proper running award. Where the veteran is not hospitalized and evidence is received indicating there is no further need for nurse or attendant, the provisions of § 3.9 (e) are for application.

9. In § 3.312, paragraph (g) is amended to read as follows:

§ 3.312 Apportionment, not authorized. No apportionment will be authorized:

* * * * * *

(g) Of the additional amount authorized by the last paragraph of section 202 (3) or section 202 (5), World War Veterans' Act, 1924, as amended, or the additional amount payable under paragraph II (k), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended (38 U. S. C. ch. 12 note), or the corresponding peacetime rate; or in those cases where an amount in excess of that provided for total disability is payable, or any amount in excess of the rate prescribed for total disability prior to the enactment of Public Law 359, 81st Congress ($138 or $110.40) except where the excess over the total disability rate ($150 or $120) is the amount payable under paragraph II (k), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, in which event the current rate ($150 or $120) is subject to apportionment, or the corresponding peacetime rate ($42.00 or $33.60). Where pension is being paid under Public No. 323, 71st Congress (act of June 9, 1930), as amended, no amount in excess of $90 monthly will be subject to apportionment, and where pension is being paid under Public No. 299, 71st Congress (act of June 2, 1930), as amended, or under Public No. 541, 75th Congress, as amended, no amount in excess of $90 monthly will be subject to apportionment.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Wage and Hour Division

[29 CFR, Part 704]

LEATHER, LEATHER GOODS, AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE RATES

On June 15, 1950, pursuant to section 5 (a) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, hereinafter called the act, I appointed by Administrative Order No. 399, Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico, hereinafter called the Committee, and directed the Committee to investigate conditions in a number of industries in Puerto Rico specified and defined in the order, including the Leather, Leather Goods, and Related Products Industry, and to recommend minimum wage rates for employees engaged in commerce, or in the production of goods for commerce in such industries.

For purposes of investigating conditions in and recommending minimum wage rates for the Leather, Leather

Goods, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico, the Committee included three disinterested persons representing the public, a like number representing employers, and a like number representing employees in the Leather, Leather Goods, and Related Products Industry, and was composed of residents of Puerto Rico and of the United States outside of Puerto Rico.

After investigating economic and competitive conditions in the Leather, Leather Goods, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico, the Committee filed with me a report containing (a) its recommendation that the industry be divided into separable divisions for the purpose of fixing minimum wage rates; (b) the titles and definitions recommended by the Committee for such separable divisions of the industry; and (c) its recommendations for minimum wage rates to be paid employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in such divisions of the industry.

Pursuant to notice published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on October 20, 1950, and circulated to all interested persons, a public hearing upon the Committee's recommendations was held before Hearing Examiner E. West Parkinson, as presiding officer, in Washington, D. C., on November 13, 1950, at which all interested parties were given an opportunity to be heard. After the hearing was closed the record of the hearing was certified to me by the presiding officer.

Upon reviewing all the evidence adduced in this proceeding and giving consideration to the provisions of the act, particularly sections 5 and 8 thereof, I, as Administrator, have concluded that the recommendations of the Committee for minimum wage rates in the Leather, Leather Goods, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico and its Divisions, as defined, were made in accordance with law, are supported by the evidence adduced at the hearing, and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Committee, will carry out the purposes of sections 5 and 8 of the act.

I have set forth my decision in a document entitled "Findings and Opinion of the Administrator in the Matter of Recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico for Minimum Wage Rates in the Leather, Leather Goods, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico," a copy of which may be had upon request addressed to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C.

Accordingly, notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001) and the rules of practice governing this proceeding (15 F. R. 7029), that I propose to approve the recommendations of the Committee for the industry, and to issue a wage order to read as set forth below to carry such recommendations into effect.

Within 15 days from publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, interested parties may submit written exceptions. Exceptions should be addressed to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C. They should be submitted in quadruplicate, and should include supporting reasons for any exceptions.

Sec.
704.1 Approval of recommendations of industry committee.
704.2 Wage rates.
704.3 Notices of order.
704.4 Definitions of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico and its Divisions.

AUTHORITY: §§ 704.1 to 704.4 issued under sec. 8, 63 Stat. 915; 29 U. S. C. 208. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 63 Stat. 911; 29 U. S. C. 205.

§ 704.1 Approval of recommendations of industry committee. The Committee's recommendations are hereby approved.

§ 704.2 Wage rates. (a) Wages at a rate of not less than 50 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the hide curing division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(b) Wages at a rate of not less than 27 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the leather tanning and processing division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(c) (1) Wages at a rate of not less than 23 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the baseball and softball division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in hand-sewing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(2) Wages at a rate of not less than 32 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the baseball and softball division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in operations other than hand-sewing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(d) (1) Wages at a rate of not less than 23 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the small leather goods division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(2) Wages at a rate of not less than 32 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the small leather goods division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in operations other than hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(e) (1) Wages at a rate of not less than 23 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the general division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

(2) Wages at a rate of not less than 35 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the general division of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in operations other than hand-sewing or hand-lacing operations, and who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

§ 704.3 Notices of order. Every employer employing any employees so engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico shall post and keep posted in a conspicuous place in each department of his establishment where such employees are working such notices of this order as shall be prescribed from time to time by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor and shall give such other notice as the Division may prescribe.

§ 704.4 Definitions of the leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico and its divisions. (a) The leather, leather goods, and related products industry in Puerto Rico, to which this order shall apply, is hereby defined as follows:

(1) The curing, tanning or other processing of hides, skins, leather or furs and the manufacture of products therefrom; the manufacture from artificial leather, fabric, or similar materials of suitcases, brief cases, wallets, billfolds, coin purses, card cases, key cases, cigarette cases, watch straps, pouches, tie cases, toilet kits, checkbook covers, and like articles; and the manufacture of baseballs and softballs covered with leather, artificial leather, fabric or similar materials: Provided, however, That this definition shall not include any product or activity included in the shoe manufacturing and allied industries in Puerto Rico or the button, buckle, and jewelry industry in Puerto Rico, as defined in the wage orders for these industries or in the needlework and fabricated textile products industry or the men's and boys' clothing and related products industry, as those industries in Puerto Rico are defined in Administrative Order No. 399, appointing Special Industry Committee No. 8 for Puerto Rico (15 F. R. 3970).

(2) This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include products or operations covered by the definition of this industry.

(b) The separable divisions of the industry, as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, to which this order and its several provisions shall apply, are hereby defined as follows:

(1) Hide curing division. This division consists of the salting and other curing of hides and skins and operations incidental thereto.

(2) Leather tanning and processing division. This division consists of the tanning or other processing of hides, skins, leather, or furs, except the activities included in the hide curing division, as defined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, and except the processing of such materials in the course of the fabrication of products therefrom.

(3) Baseball and softball division. This division consists of the manufacture of baseballs and softballs covered with leather, artificial leather, fabric or similar materials.

(4) Small leather goods division. This division consists of the manufacture from leather, artificial leather, fabric or similar materials, of wallets, billfolds, coin purses, card cases, key cases, cigarette cases, watch straps, belts, pouches, tie cases, toilet kits, checkbook covers, and like articles.

(5) General division. This division consists of all products and activities included in the leather, leather goods, and related products industry, as defined in this section, except those included in the hide curing division, the leather tanning and processing division, the baseball and softball division, and the small leather goods division, as defined in this paragraph.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of March, 1951.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator,

[7 CFR, Part 960]

HANDLING OF IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, MINNESOTA, NORTH DAKOTA AND CERTAIN COUNTIES OF IOWA AND OF INDIANA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING TO REESTABLISH DISTRICTS WITHIN WISCONSIN AND MICHIGAN

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.), that the Secretary of Agriculture is considering a proposed rule to reestablish, pursuant to § 960.27 of Order No. 60, as amended, Wisconsin and Michigan districts initially described and established in and by § 960.25 of said order, which order regulates the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, and certain counties of Iowa and Indiana. Such order was issued under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31 as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the proposed reestablishment has been recommended by the North Central Potato Committee, established pursuant to said order, because such reestablished districts (1) will give more equal committee representation with respect to acreage and number of growers, (2) will standardize districts with respect to growing conditions, varieties of potatoes produced, planting and harvesting practices, storage, and marketing practices, better than at present, and (3) will tend to unite existing production areas within Wisconsin and within Michigan.

The proposed reestablished districts are as follows:

Wisconsin District No. 1. The counties of Oconto, Langlade, Lincoln, Taylor, Eau Claire, Pepin and all counties lying north thereof in Wisconsin.

Wisconsin District No. 2. The counties of Kewaunee, Brown, Outagamie, Green Lake, Marquette, Adams, Juneau, Monroe, La Crosse, and all counties lying north to Wisconsin District No. 1 in Wisconsin.

Wisconsin District No. 3. The remaining counties in Wisconsin not included in Wisconsin District No. 1 and Wisconsin District No. 2.

Michigan District No. 1. All the counties in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

Michigan District No. 2. The counties of Mason, Lake, Osceola, Clare, Gladwin, Arenac, and all counties lying north thereof in Michigan, but not including the Upper Peninsula.

Michigan District No. 3. The remaining counties in Michigan not included in Michigan District No. 1, and Michigan District No. 2.

Consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining to such reestablishment of districts, which are filed in triplicate with the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and received not later than the close of business on the 15th day after the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 19th day of March 1951.

[SEAL] C. F. KUNKEL,
Acting Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch.

2¾ PERCENT TREASURY BONDS, INVESTMENT SERIES B–1975–80

EXCHANGE OFFERING OF BONDS

MARCH 26, 1951.

I. Exchange offering of bonds. 1. The Secretary of the Treasury, pursuant to the authority of the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, invites subscriptions, at par, from the people of the United States for bonds of the United States, designated 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, in exchange for 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1967–72, dated June 1, 1945, due June 15, 1972, or 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1967–72, dated November 15, 1945, due December 15, 1972, in aggregate amounts of $1,000, or multiples thereof. The amount of the offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of Treasury Bonds of 1967–72 of either or both of the specified series tendered and accepted.

2. Commercial banks will be permitted to exchange the 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of December 15, 1967–72, acquired by them on original issue and bonds of either series held in trading accounts pursuant to Treasury Department Circular No. 787, dated May 17, 1946.

II. Description and Terms of Bonds. 1. The bonds will be dated April 1, 1951, and will bear interest from that date at the rate of 2¾ percent per annum, payable semiannually by check on October 1, 1951, and thereafter on April 1 and October 1 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature April 1, 1980, and will not be redeemable prior thereto except as follows:

(a) They may be redeemed at the option of the United States on and after April 1, 1975, in whole or in part, at par and accrued interest, on any interest day or days, on 4 months' notice of redemption given in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. In case of partial redemption the bonds to be redeemed will be determined by such method as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. From the date of redemption designated in any such notice, interest on the bonds called for redemption shall cease.

(b) They may be redeemed at the option of the duly constituted representatives of a deceased owner's estate, at par and accrued interest to the date of payment[1] if at the time of death they constitute part of the decedent's estate and the Secretary of the Treasury is authorized by the representatives to apply the entire proceeds of redemption to the payment of Federal estate taxes. Bonds submitted for redemption hereunder must be duly assigned to "The Secretary of the Treasury for redemption, the proceeds to be paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue at ---------- for credit on Federal estate taxes due from estate of ----------." The bonds must be accompanied by Form PD 1782[2] properly completed, signed and sworn to, and by a certificate of the appointment of the personal representatives, under seal of the court, dated not more than six months prior to the submission of the bonds, which shall show that at the date thereof the appointment was still in force and effect. Upon payment of the bonds appropriate memorandum receipt will be forwarded to the representatives, which will be followed in due course by formal receipt from the Collector of Internal Revenue.

2. Although the bonds are payable only at maturity except as provided in the preceding paragraph, they may, at the owner's option, as provided in Department Circular No. 884, be exchanged for 1½ percent five-year marketable Treasury Notes to be dated April 1 and October 1 of each year during the life of the bond. If the bonds surrendered are in order for exchange, the new notes will ordinarily be issued within ten calendar days from the date of surrender to the Treasury Department or to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch. The notes to be issued will bear the April 1 or October 1 date next preceding the date of the exchange. Interest will be adjusted to the date on which the exchange is made. Partial exchange of the bonds in multiples of $1,000, and reissue of the remainder, will be permitted.

3. The bonds will not be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys, but they may be used as collateral for loans and may be pledged as security for the performance of an obligation or for any other purpose. In the event of a default on the loan or in the performance of the obligation, the pledgee will have the right only to exchange the bonds for 1½ percent five-year marketable Treasury notes. The bonds may not be sold or discounted, and are not transferable in ordinary course, but they may be transferred (by way of reissue) (1) to successors in title, (2) (in the event of the death of the owner) to legatees, next of kin, and other persons entitled, in accordance with the provisions of Department Circular No. 300, and (3) to State supervisory authorities in pursuance of any pledge required under State law. A bond which has been registered in the title of a State supervisory authority may be reissued in the name of the original owner upon assignment by such authority for that purpose. The term "successors" as used in this paragraph includes but is not limited to succeeding organizations, succeeding trustees, and persons entitled upon the termination of a trust or the dissolution of a fund or organization. Judgment creditors, trustees in bankruptcy, and receivers of insolvents' estates will be entitled only to exchange the bonds for 1½ percent five-year marketable Treasury notes. Persons entitled to reissue under the provisions of this paragraph will succeed to all the rights and privileges of the registered owners.

4. The income derived from the bonds shall be subject to all taxes now or hereafter imposed under the Internal Revenue Code, or laws amendatory or supplementary thereto. The bonds shall be subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

5. The bonds will be issued only in registered form, and in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000, $1,000,000 and $10,000,000.

[1] An exact half-year's interest is computed for each full half-year period irrespective of the actual number of days in the half year. For a fractional part of any half year, computation is on the basis of the actual number of days in such half year.

[2] Copies of Form PD 1782 may be obtained from any Federal Reserve Bank or from the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.

6. Except as otherwise specifically provided in this circular, Treasury Bonds of Investment Series B–1975–80 issued hereunder will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States bonds. The regulations in Department Circular No. 815 (which govern 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of Investment Series A–1965), will not govern Treasury Bonds of Investment Series B–1975–80. All questions concerning bonds issued hereunder and transactions pertaining thereto should be submitted to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington 25, D. C.

III. Subscription and allotment. 1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, to allot less than the amount of bonds applied for, and to close the books as to any or all subscriptions at any time without notice; and any action he may take in these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. Payment. 1. Payment for bonds alloted hereunder must be made on or before April 1, 1951, or on later allotment, and may be made only in Treasury Bonds of 1967–72, due June 15, 1972, or Treasury Bonds of 1967–72, due December 15, 1972, which will be accepted at par and should accompany the subscription. Coupons dated June 15, 1951, and all subsequent coupons, must be attached to bearer bonds of either series when surrendered. If any such coupons are missing, the subscription must be accompanied by cash payment equal to the face amount of the missing coupons. Accrued interest from December 15, 1950, to April 1, 1951 ($7.3489 per $1,000) will be paid to subscribers tendering coupon bonds following acceptance of the bonds. In the case of registered bonds of either series tendered in payment, checks in payment of accrued interest from December 15, 1950, to April 1, 1951, will be drawn in accordance with the assignments on the bonds surrendered.

V. Assignment of registered bonds. 1. Treasury Bonds of 1967–72, due June 15, 1972, or Treasury Bonds of 1967–72, due December 15, 1972, in registered form tendered in payment for bonds offered hereunder should be assigned by the registered payees or assignees thereof in accordance with the general regulations of the Treasury Department governing assignments for transfer or exchange, in one of the forms hereafter set forth, and thereafter should be presented and surrendered with the subscription to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C. If the new bonds are desired registered in the same name as the bonds surrendered, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80". If the new bonds are desired registered in another name, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, in the name of ----------"

VI. General provisions. 1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve Banks of the respective Districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for bonds allotted, to make delivery of bonds on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive bonds.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve Banks.

[SEAL] E. H. FOLEY,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

1½ PERCENT FIVE-YEAR TREASURY NOTES

OFFERING OF NOTES

MARCH 26, 1951.

I. Offering of Notes. 1. Treasury notes described herein are issued pursuant to the Second Liberty Bond Act, as amended, and are offered by the Secretary of the Treasury only to owners of 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, and other persons entitled thereto, in accordance with the provisions of Department Circular No. 883, dated March 26, 1951.

2. The first issue of these notes will be dated April 1, 1951. The last issue will be dated October 1, 1979, or the April 1 or October 1 next preceding the date on which the 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, cease to bear interest if called for redemption prior to maturity.

II. Description of notes. 1. The notes will be issued each six months during the life of the 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, in two series, to be dated April 1 and October 1 in each year. The notes to be dated April 1 will bear the series designation EA followed by the year of maturity and the notes to be dated October 1 will bear the series designation EO followed by the year of maturity. The notes will bear interest from their respective issue dates at the rate of 1½ percent per annum, payable semiannually on April 1 and October 1 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature five years from their respective issue dates, and will not be subject to call for redemption prior to maturity.

2. The income derived from the notes shall be subject to all taxes, now or hereafter imposed under the Internal Revenue Code, or laws amendatory or supplementary thereto. The notes shall be subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The notes will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys. They will not be acceptable in payment of taxes.

4. Bearer notes with interest coupons attached will be issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. The notes will not be issued in registered form.

5. The notes will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States notes.

III. Issue of notes. 1. The notes offered hereunder will be issued in exchange for 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, following presentation and surrender of the bonds duly assigned for exchange. The new notes will ordinarily be issued within ten calendar days from the date of surrender of the bonds to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasury Department. The notes will bear the April 1 or October 1 date next preceding the date of the exchange and interest will be adjusted to the date on which the notes are issued by the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or the Treasury Department. Interest accrued at 2¾ percent on the bonds surrendered from the next preceding April 1 or October 1 to the date of exchange will be credited and interest at 1½ percent for the same period will be charged to the owner making the exchange and the difference will be paid to the owner at the time the exchange is made.

IV. Assignment of bonds. 1. Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, tendered in exchange for notes offered hereunder should be assigned to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for the current series of EA or EO Treasury notes to be delivered to ----------", in accordance with the general regulations of the Treasury Department governing assignments for exchange, and thereafter should be presented and surrendered with appropriate instructions to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington 25, D. C. The bonds must be delivered at the expense and risk of the owners.

V. General provisions. 1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to accept applications for the exchange of Treasury Bonds, Investment Series B–1975–80, for 1½ percent five-year Treasury notes, and following discharge of registration to issue the new notes.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the exchange offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve Banks.

[SEAL] E. H. FOLEY,
Acting Secretary of the Treasury.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

Department of the Navy

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE OF CRUDE OIL

(1) Pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 4, 1920, relating to the conservation, care, custody, protection, and operation of the Naval Petroleum Reserves (41 Stat. 813), as amended by the act of Congress approved June 30, 1938 (52 Stat. 1252), and as further amended by the act of Congress approved June 17, 1944 (58 Stat. 280), the United States of America (hereinafter referred to as "Navy"), hereby invites bids for the purchase of such quantities of crude oil as may be allocated to and available for sale by Navy from the Stevens Oil Zone under provisions of Unit Plan Contract Nod-4219 dated June 19, 1944, as supplemented and amended, and relating to Naval Petroleum Reserve Numbered 1 (Elk Hills), Kern County, California, during the term of the contract specified in the paragraph next succeeding.

(2) The term of the contract for the sale and purchase of the above-described crude oil will be the three (3) year period commencing at 7:00 a. m., (P. s. t.) on the tenth day following approval of such contract by the President of the United States: Provided, however, That the contract shall expire prior to the end of said three (3) year period whenever Congress by legislation or Joint Resolution authorizes or directs the President or the Secretary of the Navy to use and operate said Stevens Oil Zone for production of petroleum rather than for the protection, conservation, maintenance and testing of Naval Petroleum Reserve Numbered 1.

(3) The public sale will take place in Room 229, U. S. Post Office and Courthouse Building, Los Angeles, California, at 10:00 a. m. (P. s. t.) on April 16, 1951. The Secretary of the Navy will receive sealed bids and statements describing the bidders' qualifications, addressed to him at that address, until said time. All bids must conform to the terms and conditions of the Invitation for Bids and the above-cited acts. The bids and statements will be publicly opened and read aloud at said time and place; any interested parties may be present and will be heard with respect to the subject matter. A bidder who has complied with the provisions of the Invitation for Bids may forthwith, after all bids have been read, increase the bid price or prices, and such increase or increases shall be immediately incorporated in his bid by written amendment thereto signed by the bidder. No change will be permitted which will have the effect of lowering any price bid. If a contract is awarded on any bid, the bid price or prices shall be the contract price or prices notwithstanding any ceiling price or prices established by the Economic Stabilization Agency, or other Government agency. However, if at the time of delivery of any crude oil hereunder such contract price or prices exceed the applicable ceiling price or prices then in effect, purchaser shall pay the applicable ceiling price or prices in effect at such time for such crude oil. After all bidders present have been heard, the bids will be taken under advisement by Navy and an acceptance by the Secretary of the Navy will be made within sixty (60) days thereafter; subject, however, to approval of the contract by the President of the United States. Navy reserves the right in the public interest to reject all bids and order a new public sale.

(4) The crude oil offered for sale is all such oil available for sale by Navy from said Stevens Oil Zone during the term, described in paragraph 2 above, of the said contract for such crude oil. The quantities of crude oil which will be available for sale are necessarily indefinite and depend upon, among other things, (1) practical considerations in field operations, (2) the rate and continuance of the production of petroleum from the Stevens Oil Zone for Navy's account under the provisions of said Unit Plan Contract, and (3) the quantities which the Operating Committee, created under the provisions of said Unit Plan Contract, may reserve for use in connection with operations under the said Unit Plan Contract. While the quantity of such oil is indefinite, it is anticipated that accruals will amount to approximately sixty thousand (60,000) barrels monthly. Deliveries of said crude oil will be made at the Unit Operation's shipping tanks where said crude oil is collected and stored for such purpose by the operator under the said Unit Plan Contract. Navy reserves the right to reduce or stop production of such crude oil or to terminate the contract under certain conditions described in the Invitation for Bids and Exhibit A attached thereto.

(5) The Invitation for Bids which contains complete information concerning form of bids, bond requirements, payment, deliveries, volume measurements, quality of oil, provisions respecting price, form of contract, information to be supplied by bidders, etc., may be obtained by the prospective bidders from the Director, Naval Petroleum and Oil Shale Reserves, Executive Office of the Secretary, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C., or the Inspector, Naval Petroleum Reserves in California, P. O. Box 77, Tupman, California, or the District Supply Officer, Eleventh Naval District, San Diego, California.

Dated: March 15, 1951.

JOHN T. KOEHLER,
Acting Secretary of the Navy.

NOTICE FOR FILING OBJECTIONS TO ORDER MODIFYING THE BOUNDARIES OF THE OUACHITA NATIONAL FOREST [1]

For a period of 30 days from the date of publication of the above entitled order, persons having cause to object to the terms thereof may present their objections to the Secretary of the Interior. Such objections should be in writing, should be addressed to the Secretary of the Interior, and should be filed in duplicate in the Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C. In case any objection is filed and the nature of the opposition is such as to warrant it, a public hearing will be held at a convenient time and place, which will be announced, where opponents to the order may state their views and where the proponents of the order can explain its purpose, intent, and extent. Should any objection be filed, whether or not a hearing is held, notice of the determination by the Secretary as to whether the order should be rescinded, modified or let stand will be given to all interested parties of record and the general public.

Federal Maritime Board and Maritime Administration

ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS

The statement of organization and functions of the Federal Maritime Board and the Maritime Administration issued in 16 F. R. 44 is amended by the addition of the following:

Establishment of the National Shipping Authority. There is established in the Maritime Administration a National Shipping Authority, headed by a Director responsible to the Maritime Administrator.

The National Shipping Authority shall perform such functions in connection with the formulation and execution of plans and programs for the operation, acquisition, and allocation of merchant vessels and such other duties as the Maritime Administrator, within the scope of his authority, may from time to time direct.

Functions of the Maritime Administrator. In addition to the functions contained in paragraph 5 of 16 F. R. 44, the Maritime Administrator shall perform the following functions:

(a) The functions conferred upon the Secretary of Commerce by Public Law 591, 81st Congress, 2d Session;

(b) The functions conferred upon the Secretary of Commerce by Public Law 763, 81st Congress, 2d Session, except that the authority "to find that insurance adequate to the needs of the waterborne commerce of the United States cannot be obtained on reasonable terms and conditions in companies authorized to do an insurance business in a State of the United States" is reserved to the Secretary;

(c) The functions conferred upon the Secretary by Public Law 911, 81st Congress, 2d Session;

(d) The functions conferred upon the Secretary by Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950 to take action with respect to the determination of essential trade routes and services or subsequent modifications;

(e) The functions conferred upon the Secretary by Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950 to establish policies of general application for the purchase, acquisition, construction, charter, and sale of vessels and for the administration of programs concerning operating subsidies, reserve funds and transfers to foreign ownership or registry, and charters to foreigners.

The Maritime Administrator may redelegate to officers and employees of the Maritime Administration the performance of particular functions herein assigned to the Maritime Administrator.

Effect on other notices. All orders, regulations, rulings, certificates, directives, and other actions heretofore issued or taken under the notices appearing at 15 F. R. 8739 and 16 F. R. 1130 and in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this notice shall remain in full force and effect until hereafter suspended, amended, or revoked under appropriate authority.

This notice amends the notice issued in 15 F. R. 3195, "Temporary Delegations of Authority under Reorganization Plan No. 21 of 1950."

Effective date. This notice is effective March 13, 1951.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1065]

EAST TENNESSEE NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF PETITION FOR FURTHER AMENDMENT OF CERTIFICATE ORDER

MARCH 19, 1951.

Take notice that East Tennessee Natural Gas Company (Petitioner), a Tennessee corporation with offices in the Hamilton National Bank, Chattanooga, Tennessee, filed on August 17, 1950, in the above-entitled proceeding, pursuant to section 16 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, a petition further to amend the Commission's order dated May 3, 1949, issuing a certificate of public convenience and necessity (amended by the Commission's order dated November 15, 1949), authorizing the construction and operation of the approximately 172-mile Greenbrier-Oak Ridge 22-inch diameter natural gas pipe line for the transportation and sale of not to exceed 60,000 Mcf of natural gas per day to the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and for use, in connection with the natural gas pipe line facilities authorized by the certificates issued to East Tennessee National Gas Company in Docket Nos. G-889 and G-1272, for transporting natural gas necessary to render the service authorized in said Docket Nos. G-889 and G-1272.[1]

By the petition for further amendment of the G-1065 certificate order, Petitioner seeks authorization to transport and sell to the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge, in addition to the 60,000 Mcf per day previously authorized, additional volumes of natural gas not to exceed 16,900 Mcf per day for a period extending to June 30, 1952, and subsequent to that date, additional volumes of natural gas on an interruptible basis in such volumes as the Atomic Energy Commission may require and Petitioner is willing and able to deliver.

Petitioner states that the additional volumes of gas proposed to be delivered to the Atomic Energy Commission are to be made available from the gas supply which the Commission has previously certificated Tennessee Gas Transmission Company to deliver and sell to Petitioner for rendering the service authorized by means of the facilities covered by the certificates issued in Docket Nos. G-889, G-1065, and G-1272. Petitioner states that the additional volumes of gas proposed to be delivered and sold by it to the Atomic Energy Commission at Oak Ridge can be delivered without increasing the capacity of the facilities of either that Commission or Petitioner, and therefore, without the expenditure of any funds by either for additional facilities.

Copies of the petition filed on August 17, 1950, have been served upon all parties of record in the above-entitled proceeding. Protests or petitions to intervene with respect to the petition for further amendment may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the fourth day of April 1951. The petition is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[1] Notice of the Commission orders entered May 3 and November 15, 1949, in Docket No. G-1065 was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 7 and November 23, 1949 (14 F. R. 2385, 7114).

[Docket No. G-1633]

MANUFACTURERS LIGHT AND HEAT CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

Take notice that The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company (Applicant), a Pennsylvania corporation, address, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, filed on March 9, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation on a permanent basis of a connection and gate valve on Applicant's 14-inch Coatesville-Port Jervis gas transmission pipe line at a point in East Brandywine Township, Chester County, Pennsylvania, and the delivery of natural gas by means of said facilities to Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation (Transcontinental) under an exchange agreement.

Applicant states that the facilities were installed in October 1950 in order to supply Transcontinental with gas for purging its new pipe line. From October 7, 1950 through November 12, 1950, 92,042 Mcf of natural gas was delivered to Transcontinental for that purpose and from November 28, 1950 through November 30, 1950, 36,533 Mcf of natural gas was returned to Applicant through said facilities. Subsequently 118,282 Mcf of natural gas was delivered by Applicant to Transcontinental by means of said facilities pursuant to an exchange agreement dated January 2, 1950.

Applicant proposes to continue the use of the facilities, and the two companies are now negotiating a permanent arrangement for the exchange of gas. Applicant represents that the retention of the connection is desirable to safeguard the continuity of deliveries and service to the customers of both companies.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the fifth day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO PURCHASES AND CONTRACTS, EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS ALLOTTED BY OTHER AGENCIES

1. Pursuant to the authority vested in me by provisions of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended (Public Laws 152 and 754, 81st Congress), authority is hereby delegated to the Secretary of the Interior to make purchases and contracts for supplies or services under Title III of that act, and in so doing to dispense with advertising under circumstances authorized by section 302 (c), subparagraphs (1), (2), (3), (4), (5), (9), (10), (11), (12), (13), and (14) thereof, in carrying out projects with working funds transferred to the Bureau of Mines from the Departments of the Air Force, Army, and Navy, the Coast Guard, or the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics.

2. The authority delegated herein may be re-delegated to any officer or employee of the Department of the Interior within the limitations of section 307 (b) of the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949, as amended.

3. This authority shall be exercised strictly in accord with other provisions of said act, and particularly section 307, requiring written findings in certain instances, preservation of data, and reports to the General Accounting Office.

This delegation is effective March 9, 1951.

Dated: March 17, 1951.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

[File No. 1-22653]

CASKET MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION OF AMERICA ET AL.

RESOLUTION INITIATING AN INVESTIGATION

The Commission on February 21, 1950, approved, adopted, entered of record, and ordered served and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER the following resolution:

Whereas pursuant to section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (38 Stat. 717; 15 U. S. C., sec. 45), the Federal Trade Commission is empowered and directed to prevent persons, partnerships and corporations from using unfair methods of competition in commerce; and

Whereas the above-named trade association is a corporation within the meaning of "corporation" as used in the Federal Trade Commission Act (15 U. S. C., sec. 44, et seq.); and

Whereas the members and the associate members of the said trade association are corporations engaged in the business of selling burial caskets or products used in the manufacture thereof, in interstate commerce; and

Whereas the Federal Trade Commission has the power under section 6 (a) of the Federal Trade Commission Act to investigate the organization, business, conduct, practices and management of any corporation engaged in interstate commerce and their relation to other corporations and to individuals, associations, and partnerships; and,

Whereas, pursuant to section 9 of the Federal Trade Commission Act and for the purposes of said act, the Federal Trade Commission or its duly authorized agent and agents, shall at all reasonable times have access to, for the purpose of examination, and the right to copy any documentary evidence of any corporation being investigated; and,

Whereas it appears to the Federal Trade Commission that it is in the public interest to investigate the activities of said trade association, its members and associate members, for the purpose of determining whether they or any two or more of them, in violation of section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, have entered into agreements, understandings, combinations or conspiracies to fix the prices at which the said burial caskets and/or the said products used in the manufacture thereof, or casket hardware, burial vaults, burial garments or embalming chemicals are sold in interstate comerce, or have adopted in concert and employed practices in restraint of trade with respect to the sale or distribution of any of said products in interstate commerce:

Now, therefore, be it resolved, that the Federal Trade Commission, with the aid of any and all powers conferred upon it by law, and with any or all compulsory processes available to it, shall forthwith investigate, for the purpose herein set forth, the organization, business, conduct, practices and management of said trade association, its members and associate members, and their relation to other corporations and to individuals, associations and partnerships; and,

Be it further resolved, that, in pursuance of its powers to investigate the said trade association, its members and associate members, as aforesaid, the Federal Trade Commission or its duly authorized agent or agents shall be afforded and granted access to, for the purpose of examination, and the right to copy any documentary evidence of or pertaining to the trade association, its members and associate members, or others being investigated pursuant hereto.

By direction of the Commission.

AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 19th day of March A. D. 1951.

American Gas and Electric Company ("American Gas"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration and amendment thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (c) thereof and Rule U-50 of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to the following proposed transactions:

American Gas proposes to issue and sell not in excess of 339,852 shares of its presently authorized but unissued $10 par value common stock, the precise number of shares to be issued to be determined on the record date. The stock will be offered to the common stockholders of American Gas of record as of the close of business March 30, 1951, or such later date as the registration statement shall become effective. Stockholders will be given the opportunity to subscribe for one share of common stock for each fifteen shares held and the further conditional privilege to subscribe for shares of additional common stock not required to satisfy subscriptions pursuant to rights. If there are insufficient shares to satisfy all subscriptions pursuant to the conditional privilege, the available shares will be allotted pro rata among those exercising the conditional privilege proportionately to the rights they have exercised.

Subscription rights and conditional purchase privileges will be evidenced by transferable warrants. No fractional shares of additional common stock will be issued. American Gas will, through its subscription agent, provide facilities for the purchase of such additional rights as are necessary for subscription to one full share of stock or for the sale of subscription rights in excess of those necessary for full shares of stock.

American Gas proposes publicly to invite competitive bids pursuant to Rule U-50 for the purchase at the subscription price of such shares as are not subscribed for, such invitation to request the prospective underwriters to name the amount of compensation to be paid by American Gas for such services. The price per share at which American Gas proposes to offer the common stock to its common stockholders and to underwriters will be determined by American Gas. Prospective underwriters who have qualified will be notified of the subscription price per share as determined by American Gas at least 42 hours prior to the receipt of bids.

The declaration states that American Gas may effect transactions on the New York Stock Exchange, in the open market, or otherwise, for the purpose of stabilizing the price of its common stock during the period commencing with the first business day prior to the date when the price per share is determined up to the time of acceptance of a bid for the common stock. In connection with such stabilizing activities American Gas will at no time acquire a net long position in shares of the common stock in excess of 10 percent of the shares proposed to be issued. Any shares so acquired by American Gas pursuant to stabilizing activities will be included in the amount to be offered to underwriters at competitive bidding.

The declaration states that the proceeds from the sale of common stock will be used to purchase from time to time additional amounts of the equity securities of the company's subsidiaries and for other corporate purposes. Investments in the subsidiaries will enable those companies, in part, to meet their construction programs.

Said declaration having been filed on February 28, 1951, an amendment thereto having been filed on March 16, 1951, notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner required by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing within the time specified in said notice, or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the proposed transactions are in accordance with the applicable standards of the act, and that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder; the Commission deeming it appropriate to permit the declaration, as amended, to become effective, subject to the conditions and reservations stated below, and the Commission also deeming it appropriate to grant declarant's request that the 10-day period for publicly inviting bids as provided in Rule U-50 be shortened so that bids for the common stock may be received on March 29, 1951:

It is ordered, Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act that said declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions stated in Rule U-24, and subject to the following further conditions:

(1) That the proposed sale of common stock shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding held with respect thereto shall have been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order shall have been entered by this Commission on the basis of the record so completed, which order may contain such further terms and conditions as may then be deemed appropriate;

(2) That jurisdiction be and is hereby reserved with respect to the payment of all fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions;

It is further ordered, That for the purposes of this proceeding, the ten-day solicitation period required by Rule U-50 be shortened so that bids may be received on March 29, 1951.

By the Commission.

PART 26—GRAIN STANDARDS

RYE

On December 13, 1950, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 8826) a notice of proposed changes in the official grain standards of the United States for rye (7 CFR 26.401 et seq.) under the United States Grain Standards Act, as amended (39 Stat. 482-485; 54 Stat. 765; 7 U. S. C. 71 et seq.). An opportunity was extended to all interested parties to participate in the proposed rule making by submitting written data, views, or arguments, or by presenting their views and opinions orally at hearings held in Minneapolis, Minnesota; Omaha, Nebraska; and Chicago, Illinois.

After due consideration of all relevant material presented pursuant to the notice and all other information now available to the United States Department of Agriculture, and by virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 2 of said act, § 26.402 of the official grain standards of the United States for rye (7 CFR 26.402) is hereby amended by deleting the present footnote 1 at the end of the grade requirements table in said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

[1] The rye in grade No. 1 may contain not more than 10.0 percent, in grade No. 2 not more than 15.0 percent, and in grade No. 3 not more than 25.0 percent of "thin" rye, which "thin" rye shall consist of rye and other matter that will pass readily through a sieve 0.032-inch thick with perforations 0.064 x 0.375 inch

(Sec. 8, 39 Stat. 485; 7 U. S. C. 84. Interprets or applies sec. 2, 39 Stat. 482, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 74)

This revision shall become effective July 1, 1951.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of March 1951.

Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on March 21, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., March 25, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 1, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 350 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2" and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of March 1951.

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR IN ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 966.510 Orange Regulation 364—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66, as amended (7 CFR Part 966; 14 F. R. 3614), regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Orange Administrative Committee on March 22, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., March 25, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 1, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

Chapter I—Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter E—Viruses, Serums, Toxins, and Analogous Products; Organisms and Vectors

PART 114—MISCELLANEOUS REQUIREMENTS FOR LICENSED ESTABLISHMENTS

PART 118—HOG-CHOLERA VIRUS

PART 119—ANTI-HOG-CHOLERA SERUM

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On February 16, 1951, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 1640) a notice of intention to amend the regulations relating to viruses, serums, toxins, and analogous products and certain organisms and vectors (9 CFR and Supp. 101.1 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant material presented pursuant to the notice, it is hereby ordered, under the authority of the virus-serum-toxin provisions of the act of March 4, 1913 (21 U. S. C. 151–158) and section 2 of the act of February 2, 1903 (21 U. S. C. 111), that the said regulations are amended as follows:

1. The first paragraph of § 114.7 is amended to read as follows:

§ 114.7 Rabies vaccine. Licensees producing killed rabies vaccine shall adhere to the following requirements pertaining to the preparation and testing of this product for safety and potency:

2. Section 118.31 is amended to read as follows:

§ 118.31 Sickness and records thereof. Simultaneous virus shall not be collected at licensed establishments from pigs which become visibly sick on or before the third day, or subsequent to the seventh day after the time of inoculation. The physical condition of all pigs from which simultaneous virus is to be collected shall be recorded daily on and after the third day subsequent to inoculation. The observations required by the regulations in this part to be made on the third day may be made on the fourth day if the third day falls on Sunday or a holiday.

3. Section 118.35 is amended to read as follows:

§ 118.35 Holding of simultaneous virus. Simultaneous virus which has been mixed and phenolized at licensed establishments as provided in Parts 101 to 122 of this chapter, together with the virus-stock sample, shall be held under Bureau lock as provided under § 102.77 (c) of this chapter until the tests required by Parts 101 to 122 of this chapter have been completed and have shown the virus to be free from contamination: Provided, however, That simultaneous virus which will not reach its destination before the tests are concluded or which is exported to a foreign country may be released prior to the conclusion of said tests. If the test respecting simultaneous virus so released is declared unsatisfactory, the manufacturer shall immediately recall all of such product in order that it may be placed under Bureau lock.

4. Section 118.41 is amended to read as follows:

§ 118.41 Swine erysipelas. Representative samples of each batch or serial of simultaneous virus shall be tested at licensed establishments in the following manner to determine its freedom from swine erysipelas (Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae):

(a) Within 1 day after the first virus in a batch is collected, at least 1 cc. of test sample A shall be injected intramuscularly into each of three or more young pigeons or 0.2 cc. of such sample shall be injected subcutaneously into each of three or more suitable mice susceptible to swine erysipelas. These test animals and birds shall be held under the observation of an inspector for 10 or more days after being injected with the virus under test.

(b) Three or more days after phenolization of the batch of virus, at least 1 cc. of test sample B shall be injected intra-muscularly into each of three or more young pigeons or 0.2 cc. of such sample shall be injected subcutaneously into each of three or more suitable mice susceptible to swine erysipelas. These test animals and birds shall be held under the observation of an inspector for 7 or more days after being injected with the virus under test.

(c) If all test animals or birds injected with test sample A survive for 10 days or more, and all test animals or birds injected with test sample B survive for 7 days or more, after injection, the batch or serial represented by the samples may be marketed if it otherwise conforms to the requirements of Parts 101 to 122 of this chapter.

(d) Should any of the inoculated animals or birds die during the test, the product shall not be released for marketing and the reserve 30-cc. sample shall be forwarded to the Bureau.

(e) All animals or birds, after being once used in the tests provided in this section, shall be killed and their carcasses destroyed by incineration or tanking as provided in § 108.16 of this chapter. Also all virus blood and simultaneous virus which are contaminated with Erysipelothrix rhusiopathiae shall be destroyed in like manner.

5. Section 119.51 is amended to read as follows:

§ 119.51 Test pigs. Licensees shall furnish all pigs used in testing anti-hog-cholera serum. Eight healthy pigs, susceptible to hog cholera and weighing not less than 40 pounds nor more than 115 pounds each, shall be used for testing each batch of serum consisting of 300,000 cc. or less. Batches consisting of more than 300,000 cc. shall be tested on 11 such pigs instead of 8. The inspector supervising the test shall indicate the pigs which shall receive anti-hog-cholera serum with hog cholera virus and those which shall receive the virus only.

6. Section 119.63 is amended to read as follows:

§ 119.63 Minimum dosage. When anti-hog-cholera serum produced at licensed establishments, upon testing as provided in Parts 101 to 122 of this chapter, is found "satisfactory for potency" and "satisfactory for purity," the product may be marketed if it is recommended for use in doses not less than those appearing in the following table:

Weight:	Minimum dose (cc)
Suckling pigs	20
Pigs 20 to 40 pounds	30
Pigs 40 to 90 pounds	35
Pigs 90 to 120 pounds	45
Hogs 120 to 150 pounds	55
Hogs 150 to 180 pounds	65
Hogs 180 pounds and over	75

The foregoing amendments shall become effective on April 15, 1951.

The foregoing amendments have been discussed with all affected members of the virus serum industry over a period of several weeks and such members have been informed that the amendments will be made effective by April 15, 1951. They have already modified the labels of their products and their methods of operation to conform with the requirements of the amendments in the expectation that the amendments will be made effective by that date. Therefore good cause is found under section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003 (c)) for making the amendments effective less than 30 days after their publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of March, 1951.

Subchapter F—Animal Breeds

[BAI Order 379, Amdt. 14]

PART 151—RECOGNITION OF BREEDS AND BOOKS OF RECORD OF PUREBRED ANIMALS

CATTLE

On February 3, 1951, a notice of rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 1019) regarding the proposed recognition by the Secretary of Agriculture of the book of record of purebred cattle entitled "The Dun and Belted Galloway Herd Book."

After due consideration of all relevant material presented in connection with the notice, the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in him by section 201, paragraph 1606 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. and Supp. III, sec. 1201, par. 1606), hereby recognizes the said book of record, and hereby amends § 151.10, Chapter I, Title 9, Code of Federal Regulations, 1949 Supplement, as amended (15 F. R. 2619, 6540, 8856; 16 F. R. 4, 1006, 1180), as indicated below:

1. The following book of record is added to the subdivision of paragraph (a) of said section relating to cattle:

CATTLE

Name of breed	Book of record	By whom published
Dun and Belted Galloway	The Dun and Belted Galloway Herd Book	The Dun and Belted Galloway Cattle Breeders' Association, John Kincaid, Secretary, Meadow View, Moss End Farm, Warfield, Berks, England.

2. The proviso in paragraph (a) of said § 151.10 is amended to read as follows: "Provided, That no Norman or Dun and Belted Galloway cattle or Criolla or Westland horse or dog or cat registered in any of the books named or Thoroughbred horse registered in the Stud Book Peruano shall be certified under the act as purebred unless a pedigree certificate showing three complete generations of known and recorded purebred ancestry of the particular breed involved, issued by the appropriate association listed below, is submitted for such animal."

(Par. 1606, 46 Stat. 673 as amended; 19 U. S. C. 1201, par. 1606)

The foregoing amendment shall become effective on the 26th day of April 1951.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of March 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

PART 600—DESIGNATION OF CIVIL AIRWAYS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The civil airway alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 600 is amended as follows:

1. Section 600.102 Amber civil airway No. 2 (Long Beach, Calif., to Point Barrow, Alaska) is amended by changing the last sentence to read: "From the intersection of the west course of the Fairbanks, Alaska, radio range and the northwest course of the Nenana, Alaska, radio range via the Bettles, Alaska, radio range station; Umiat, Alaska, nondirectional radio beacon to the Point Barrow, Alaska, radio range station."

2. Section 600.217 Red civil airway No. 17 (St. Louis, Mo., to Baltimore, Md.) is amended by changing the last sentence to read: "From the Martinsburg, W. Va., radio range station via the intersection of the northeast course of the Arcola, Va., radio range and the west course of the Baltimore, Md., radio range to the Baltimore, Md., radio range station."

3. Section 600.299 is added to read:

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. s. t. April 3, 1951.

[SEAL] J. S. MARRIOTT,
Acting Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The control area, control zone and reporting point alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest, and therefore is not required. Part 601 is amended as follows:

1. Section 601.283 is amended to read:

§ 601.283 Red civil airway No. 83 control areas (Gila Bend, Ariz., to Rodeo, N. Mex.). All of Red civil airway No 83 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the Gila Bend, Ariz., omnirange station to the Tucson, Ariz., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° south altitude change radials; from the Tucson, Ariz., omnirange station to the Douglas, Ariz., omnirange station via the intersection of the Tucson 92° True and the Douglas 300° True en route radials; from the Douglas, Ariz., omnirange station to the intersection of the Douglas 63° True en route radial with the Columbus, N. Mex., omnirange 276° True en route radial via the Douglas 63° True en route radial.

2. Section 601.299 is added to read:

§ 601.299 Red civil airway No. 99 control areas (Iliamna, Alaska, to Homer, Alaska). All of Red civil airway No. 99.

3. Section 601.1108 is amended to read:

4. Section 601.1984 5 mile control zones, is amended by adding the following airport:

Iliamna, Alaska: Iliamna Airport

5. Section 601.2213 is amended to read:

§ 601.2213 Salina, Kans., control zone. Within a 5 mile radius of the Smoky Hill AFB and within a 5 mile radius of the Salina Municipal Airport extending 2 miles either side of the 142° True and 322° True radials of the Salina, Kans., omnirange from the Salina Municipal Airport to a point 10 miles northwest of the omnirange station, and extending 2 miles either side of the 10° True and 190° True radials of the Salina, Kans., omnirange from the Smoky Hill AFB to a point 10 miles north-northeast of the omnirange station.

6. Section 601.2227 Salina, Kans., control zone is revoked.

7. Section 601.4299 is added to read:

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply sec. 601, 52 Stat. 1007, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 551)

This amendment shall become effective 0001 e. s. t., April 3, 1951.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

M-17—COMPONENTS OR PARTS

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order as amended there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-17 as follows: It redesignates §§ 72.1 through 72.12 as sections 1 through 12, and it adds a new item (f) to the table in section 12. As so amended, NPA Order M-17 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Types of components or parts to which this order applies.
3. Required shipment dates.
4. Limitations for acceptance of rated orders.
5. NPA assistance in placing rated orders.
6. Application for adjustments or exceptions.
7. Communications.
8. Reports.
9. Records.
10. Audit and inspection.
11. Violations.
12. Types of components or parts; product limitation.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 12 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to manufacturers of components or parts referred to in section 2 and listed in Column A of section 12. It makes provision for and sets forth ceiling limitations for required acceptance of rated orders based on the percentage of previous shipments for the listed products. Its purpose is to provide equitable distribution of rated orders among the manufacturers of the specified components or parts in order to achieve maximum production and to reduce to a minimum any disruption of normal distribution. It supplements NPA Reg. 2, but only those provisions of Reg. 2 which are contradictory to this order are superseded and all other provisions of that regulation continue to apply to manufacturers of components or parts.

SEC. 2. Types of components or parts to which this order applies. This order applies to the components or parts as are set forth in Column A of section 12.

SEC. 3. Required shipment dates. A rated order for components or parts listed in Column A of section 12 must specify shipment on a particular date or during a particular month, which, in no case, may be earlier than that required by the person placing the order. The manufacturer of such components or parts must schedule the order for shipment within the requested month as close to the requested shipment date as is practicable considering the need for maximum production.

SEC. 4. Limitations for acceptance of rated orders. Unless specifically directed by NPA, no manufacturer of components or parts shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment from any one of his producing units regardless of location in any one month in excess of the percentages set forth in Column B of section 12 of his average monthly shipments of the components or parts listed in Column A of section 12 as made by him during the period from January 1, 1950, through August 31, 1950.

SEC. 5. NPA assistance in placing rated orders. Any person who is unable to place a rated order due to the limitations imposed by section 4 should apply to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-17, specifying the manufacturers who refused to accept the order. The National Production Authority will arrange to assist him in locating sources of supply.

SEC. 6. Application for adjustments or exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 7. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-17.

SEC. 8. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (Pub. Law 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 9. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 10. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

SEC. 11. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

SEC. 12. Types of components or parts; product limitation. The types of components or parts to which this order shall apply pursuant to section 2 of this order and the limitation percentage for acceptance of rated orders pursuant to section 4 of this order are as follows:

Column A	Column B
Types of components or parts to which this order applies	Product limitation percentage
(a) Pressed steatite electrical ceramic products	15
(b) Extruded steatite electrical ceramic products	20
(c) Machined steatite electrical ceramic products	20
(d) Electron tubes (except power tubes): If produced by only one company	50
If produced by more than one company	25
(e) Fixed composition resistors	25
(f) Rigid electrical conduit—electrical metallic tubing	25

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on March 23, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
[SEAL] MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

TITLE 39—POSTAL SERVICE

Chapter I—Post Office Department

PART 127—INTERNATIONAL POSTAL SERVICE: POSTAGE RATES, SERVICE AVAILABLE, AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAILING

EXPORT LICENSES REQUIRED FOR ARTICLES AND PARCELS ADDRESSED TO CERTAIN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

The following regulations are interpretative of the regulations issued by the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce (16 F. R. 2023, 2469), as applied to the Postal Service.

1. In Part 127 (39 CFR Part 127) insert a new § 127.85b Export licenses required for articles and parcels addressed to certain foreign countries to read as follows:

(1) List I. China, except Taiwan (Formosa), (including Manchuria).

Classes of mail acceptable without export license. (i) Letters (merchandise prohibited in letter mails).
(ii) Post cards.
(iii) Commercial papers.

Classes of mail requiring presentation of export license. (i) Printed matter of all kinds.
(ii) Samples of merchandise.
(iii) Small packets.
(iv) Parcel post.

(2) List II. Tibet (see under country item "India").

Classes of mail acceptable without export license. (i) Letters and letter packages, except those containing merchandise.
(ii) Post cards.
(iii) Commercial papers.

Classes of mail requiring presentation of export license. (i) Letter packages containing merchandise.
(ii) Printed matter of all kinds.
(iii) Samples of merchandise.
(iv) Parcel post.

(3) List III. (See below for special regulation regarding gift shipments.)

Albania.
Bulgaria.
Czechoslovakia.
Estonia.
Germany (Soviet Zone including Soviet Sector of Berlin).
Hong Kong.
Hungary.
Latvia.
Lithuania.
Macao.
Poland.
Rumania.
Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

Classes of mail acceptable without export license. (i) Letters and letter packages except those containing merchandise.
(ii) Post cards.
(iii) Printed matter.
(iv) Commercial papers.

Classes of mail requiring presentation of export license. (i) Letter packages containing merchandise.
(ii) Samples of merchandise.
(iii) Small packets.

NOTE: Some of the countries in List III do not admit merchandise in letter packages or accept "small packets". See §§ 127.3 and 127.10.

(b) Gift shipments. (Not applicable to countries in Lists I and II in paragraph (a) of this section.) Gift shipments not exceeding $25 in value mailed by an individual sender to an individual addressee for the personal use of the addressee or his immediate family, and limited to the items normally sent as gifts, such as food, clothing, medicines, etc., do not require the presentation of export licenses. Senders must place the words "Gift—Export License Not Required" on the address side of such packages; in the case of parcel post the word "Gift" must also be shown on the customs declaration tag.

(c) General instructions. (Applicable to countries in all three lists in paragraph (a) of this section.)

(2) Matter defined by the Office of International Trade as "technical data" may not be exported in any classification of mail unless a validated export license is presented or such matter is otherwise authorized by the Office of International Trade. However, it is the responsibility of the mailer to determine from the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., or a field office of that Department, what is classed as "technical data" and to comply with the regulations governing the exportation of such material. Statement on the part of the mailer that no technical data is included may be accepted by the post office.

(3) The above instructions reflect the regulations of the Office of International Trade insofar as they can be applied in the international postal service. It is the responsibility of the mailers to comply with any regulations of the Office of International Trade not contained herein. In this connection, see § 127.85 (i). Patrons inquiring as to the procedure for applying for export licenses may be referred to the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., or to any field office of that Department.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 2—FREQUENCY ALLOCATIONS AND RADIO TREATY MATTERS; GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS

LIST, FOR INFORMATION ONLY, OF TREATIES, AGREEMENTS AND ARRANGEMENTS BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND LIBERIA

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of March, 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the appendix to Part 2 of its rules and regulations; and

It appearing, that the proposed change is not substantive and does not in any way affect the requirements of any of the Commission's rules and regulations; that said change consists of the addition of information with reference to an agreement between the United States and Liberia on the subject of the international exchange of messages between the two countries on behalf of third parties by operators of amateur radio stations; and

It further appearing that because of the informational nature of the proposed changes, notice and public procedure thereon as prescribed by section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary, and that this order may be made effective immediately for the same reasons.

It is ordered, That, effective immediately, the appendix to Part 2 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as set forth below:

Released: March 19, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

1. Amend the first sentence of paragraph 1 of Appendix A to Part 2, Frequency Allocation and Treaty Matters; General Rules and Regulations, Federal Communications Commission, so that the date "February 28, 1951" is substituted for the date "March 31, 1950".

2. The following addition should be made at the end of paragraph 1 of Appendix A to Part 2, Frequency Allocation and Treaty Matters; General Rules and Regulations, Federal Communications Commission:

Date	Series	Title
1951	.....	Radio communications between ... [illegible] ... on behalf of third ... Agreement between U. S. ... and Liberia effective January 15, 1951. (Not yet available but to be published by Government Printing Office as a TIAS document.)

HANDLING OF MILK IN GREATER BOSTON, LOWELL-LAWRENCE, SPRINGFIELD, WORCESTER, AND FALL RIVER, MASSACHUSETTS, MARKETING AREAS

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTION THERETO WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND PROPOSED ORDERS AMENDING ORDERS, AS NOW IN EFFECT

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed marketing agreements and proposed amendments to the orders, as now in effect, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Boston, Lowell-Lawrence, Springfield, Worcester, and Fall River, Massachusetts, marketing areas.

Interested parties may file written exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 3d day after the publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. A public hearing, on the record of which the proposed marketing agreements and the proposed orders were formulated, was called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following receipt of petitions filed on behalf of the majority of producers and by several handlers in the five markets. The public hearing was held in Boston, Massachusetts, on March 12, 1951 pursuant to a notice duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 2160).

The material issues considered at the hearing were concerned with the following:

(1) The present classification provisions of the respective orders, as now in effect, should be amended to provide for the classification of fresh concentrated milk as Class I.

(2) Emergency conditions relating to the need for immediate effectuation of the proposed amendments.

Findings and conclusions. Upon the basis of evidence introduced at the hearing and on the record thereof with respect to the aforementioned issue it is hereby found and concluded that:

(1) The present classification provisions of the respective orders, as now in effect, should be amended to provide for the classification of milk used to produce fresh concentrated milk for fluid consumption as Class I.

The orders presently list certain fluid milk products such as milk, skim milk, flavored milk, and buttermilk which are designated as Class I milk. The list does not include milk used to produce concentrated milk and accordingly under the present order provisions of all five Massachusetts orders such utilization would be classified as Class II.

Concentrated milk for fluid consumption is a new product which has in recent months appeared in several Eastern fluid milk markets and which on March 1 was introduced in the Boston market. The product is still in an experimental stage of development and to date there is no quantitative information to indicate the extent of consumer acceptance and the extent to which it is replacing regular fluid milk sales. However, there can be no question but that promoters of the product foresee it as a direct and acceptable substitute for fresh whole milk. Promotional advertising emphasizes that it is pure, fresh milk with nothing but water removed. Further, it is contended that when water is added the resulting product has all of the properties of fresh whole milk and is indistinguishable from regular fluid milk.

The health officer for the city of Boston emphasized the necessity of making concentrated milk for fluid use from quality milk, indicating that it is a non-sterile fluid product which must for proper health protection be handled with the same care and through the same facilities as regular fluid milk. The record indicates that concentrated milk for fluid distribution in the Massachusetts Federal order markets is currently being produced from Boston approved milk or milk of equivalent quality. Accordingly, concentrated milk competes directly with items presently classified as Class I for available supplies of local producer milk. It is, therefore, concluded that milk used to produce concentrated milk for fluid consumption should be classified and priced at the same level as milk used for other fluid products presently classified as Class I in each of the five Massachusetts orders.

Under the present provisions of the several orders the inclusion of all concentrated milk as a Class I item would result in such a classification for all condensed milk disposed of to bakeries, candy makers, etc., for manufacturing uses. These orders presently provide for a Class II classification of skim milk disposed of to such outlets. Since condensed milk is an alternative to fluid skim milk and other manufactured dairy products for uses in bread making, candy making, etc., condensed milk going into such manufacturing uses should continue to be Class II. Accordingly, it is concluded that concentrated milk classified as Class I should be limited to the volume of such milk which is disposed of for fluid consumption.

In order to facilitate the administration of the order and to make the other order provisions consistent with the amended classification herein proposed, the definition of fluid milk products as set forth in the respective orders should be revised to include concentrated milk and a definition of concentrated milk should be provided. Concentrated milk should be defined as the unsterilized liquid milk product obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. The products known as evaporated milk and sweetened condensed milk should be excluded specifically in the definition. For accounting purposes under the orders the weight of the fluid milk product used to produce the concentrated milk should be used rather than the weight of the concentrated milk. In the absence of proof as to the weight of fluid milk products used to produce concentrated milk, such weight should be determined by multiplying by 6.45 the number of quarts of concentrated milk. The 6.45 is three times 2.15, the presently accepted weight of a quart of unconcentrated whole milk.

The hearing record did not establish sufficient urgency for immediate action with reference to the proposed amendments to warrant the omission of a recommended decision by the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, and the opportunity for exceptions thereto.

Concentrated milk is a new product which was introduced in the Boston market on March 1, 1951. The product is being promoted as a substitute for regular fluid milk and as such may represent a potential serious threat as a substitute for products presently classified as Class I in the several Massachusetts order markets. Each hundredweight of milk used to produce concentrated milk which is disposed of in lieu of regular fluid milk reduces the value of producer milk in Class I by an amount equal to the difference in the hundredweight price of Class I and Class II milk which at the present time is approximately $1.75.

At the time of the hearing insufficient time had elapsed to permit any quantitative appraisal of the extent of acceptance of the product by consumers. Proponents were unable to present any statistics as to the volume of production or sales. Further, no information was presented to indicate the extent to which the product was replacing present Class I items in the consumers diet. Accordingly, there is no basis for establishing cause for emergency action at this time.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreements and the orders, now in effect, and as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, respectively, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreements and in the orders, now in effect, and as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk in each of said marketing areas, respectively, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreements and the orders, now in effect, and as hereby proposed to be amended, regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in marketing agreements upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. A brief was filed on behalf of one handler who is concerned with the proposed marketing agreements and proposed orders amending the orders now in effect. The brief contained suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals considered at the hearing. Every point covered in the brief was carefuly examined along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions contained in the brief are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the findings and conclusions in this decision.

Recommended marketing agreements and orders. The following amendments to the respective orders are recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreements are not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the orders, as amended, and as proposed here to be further amended.

1. Amend § 904.1 (d) (4) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(4) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 904.1 (d) by adding a new subparagraph (8) as follows:

(8) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk or sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 904.3 (a) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk, and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

4. Amend § 904.3 (c) by deleting the introductory language "Milk, flavored milk, skim milk, cultured or flavored skim milk or buttermilk" and substituting therefor the following: "Any fluid milk product, except cream."

1. Amend § 934.4 (d) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(d) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 934.4 by adding a new subparagraph (h) as follows:

(h) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk or sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 934.15 (b) (1) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(1) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk, and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

1. Amend § 947.1 (r) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(r) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 947.1 by adding a new subparagraph (s) as follows:

(s) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk or sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 947.5 (b) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) Sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as milk which contains one-half of 1 percent or more but less than 16 percent of butterfat, and other than as concentrated milk for fluid consumption, chocolate or flavored whole or skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

1. Amend § 996.1 (d) (4) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(4) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 996.1 (d) by adding a new subparagraph (7) as follows:

(7) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk or sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 996.3 (a) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk, and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, buttermilk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

1. Amend § 999.1 (d) (4) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(4) "Fluid milk products" means milk, flavored milk, cream, skim milk, flavored skim milk, cultured skim milk, buttermilk, and concentrated milk, either individually or collectively.

2. Amend § 999.1 (d) by adding a new subparagraph (7) as follows:

(7) "Concentrated milk" means any unsterilized liquid milk product, other than those products commonly known as evaporated milk or sweetened condensed milk, which is obtained by the evaporation of water from milk and milk to which any other milk product may be added in the process of manufacture. For purposes of this part the weight of the fluid milk products used to produce the concentrated milk shall be used rather than the actual weight of the concentrated milk.

3. Amend § 999.3 (a) (2) (i) by deleting the present language and substituting therefor the following:

(i) As being sold, distributed, or disposed of other than as or in milk, and other than as or in concentrated milk for fluid consumption, flavored milk or flavored skim milk, butter milk, or cultured skim milk, for human consumption; and

[Docket No. 71-A-20R01]

HANDLING OF MILK IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MILK MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held at the Mark Twain Hotel, Elmira, New York beginning at 10 a. m., e. s. t., April 10, 1951, for the purpose of reopening the public hearing held at Elmira, New York, during the period January 24–February 11, 1950 pursuant to notice issued on December 28, 1949 (14 F. R. 7940) and for the further purpose of receiving evidence with respect to additional proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan milk marketing area. The proposed amendments on which evidence may be submitted at this public hearing include those, or appropriate modifications thereof, (1) contained in the notice of hearing issued on December 28, 1949 (14 F. R. 7940), (2) contained in the recommended decision issued on May 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 3064), and (3) hereinafter set forth. These proposed amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

1. Proposed by Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc., Mutual Cooperative of Independent Producers, Inc., and Tri-State Milk Producers Cooperative, Inc.:

a. Amend § 927.4 (c) by providing a separate classification for milk utilized for ice cream, and amend § 927.5 (a) by establishing a price for such milk on a basis similar to the present Class III price adjusted for the same yield and handling allowance factors with an additional 2 cent premium over the wholesale price of 92-score butter.

b. Amend § 927.5 (a) (5) by:

1. Increasing the nonfat dry milk solids yield factor from 7.5 to 8.2;

2. Adjusting the handling allowance to the current year by applying the changes that have occurred in the United States wholesale price level with the year 1948 as a base and the relative Class III utilization of milk since then; and

3. Establishing the midwest condensery pay price as a floor price for Class III milk.

2. Proposed by Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency, Inc.:

Amend the Class III milk pricing provisions of the order by:

1. Adjusting the manufacturing allowance to a figure which will be compensatory of reasonable cost of efficient manufacturing and that an additional allowance be provided which will be reasonably compensatory for the handling and movement of milk from fluid plants to manufacturing plants with suitable safeguards on the latter provisions as will be proposed by the Agency at the hearing.

2. Providing that the differential of 2 cents per pound over the price of butter contained in the present formula be raised to such higher figure as the evidence adduced at the hearing may justify.

3. Providing that the butter-cheese adjustment, in case of milk made into cheese, be subject to a further adjustment to be provided in the order to reflect any departure of the price of cheese on the Plymouth Exchange from its normal historical relationship to the price of butter at Chicago, which will be shown by evidence at the hearing to be about 2.2 to 1.

3. Proposed by New York State Cheese Manufacturers Association: Amend § 927.5 (a) (5) to provide for Class III milk manufactured into American Cheddar cheese a price during each month computed by the Market Administrator as follows: From the average of weekly quotations at the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange, Plymouth, Wisconsin, for Cheddars, or in the absence of such quotations for Cheddars the weekly quotation at the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange for Twins, subtract 4 cents (net figure representing making allowance in excess of whey, whey fat, transportation, and paraffine allowances), and multiply the results by 9.

4. Proposed by Milk Dealers Association of Metropolitan New York, Inc.: Amend § 927.5 (a) (5) so as to provide that the present handling allowance of 70 cents be increased to an adequate amount in accordance with testimony adduced at the hearing, and also provide that a part of the handling allowance be apportioned as a relocation differential for milk shipped from receiving stations to manufacturing plants.

5. Proposed by Independent Milk Marketers, Inc.: Amend § 927.5 (a) (5) to provide a handling allowance of 60 cents instead of the present allowance of 70 cents per hundredweight of Class III milk.

6. Proposed by Roland Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc.: Increase the allowance for making Cheddar cheese to cover added costs of manufacturing in the past year.

7. Proposed by Adlers Creamery, Inc.:

a. Amend § 927.4 (c) (2) by changing the period at the end thereof to a comma and adding "except as provided in subparagraph (5) of this paragraph"; and

b. Amend § 927.4 (c) (5) by renumbering (iii) as (iv) and by adding a new subdivision (iii) to read:

(iii) During the months of March, April, May, June, and July in each year all milk the butterfat from which leaves or is on hand at the plant in the form of milk or cream and which is delivered in bulk to a purchaser outside the marketing area and is there utilized in the manufacture of food products so processed as not to require refrigeration and packed in hermetically sealed containers.

8. Proposed by Pollio Dairy Products Corporation: Amend § 927.4 (a) (3) to provide for a Class III classification of milk which moves from one nonpool plant to another nonpool plant if neither of such plants holds health authority approval to sell milk in the forms covered by Classes I–A, I–B, and I–C and no milk moves in such forms from the second nonpool plant.

9. Proposed by Milk Dealers Association of Metropolitan New York, Inc.: Eliminate § 927.5 (e) fluid skim differential.

10. Proposed by Metropolitan Cooperative Milk Producers Bargaining Agency, Inc., Eastern Milk Producers Cooperative Association, Inc., Mutual Cooperative of Independent Producers, Inc., and Tri-State Milk Producers Cooperative, Inc.: Amend the order to provide that "concentrated milk" shall be classified in Class I.

11. Proposed by Holland Farms, Inc., Reddi-Wip Manufacturing Company, Inc., of New York, and Aerated Products Company: Amend § 927.4 (a) (3) (iii) by adding the term "whipped topping mixture" after the term "frozen desserts" wherever such latter term appears therein.

12. Proposed by the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association, Inc.: Amend § 927.9 (b) (1) by changing subdivision (ii) thereof to read:

(ii) It was received at a plant in, or delivered to a purchaser in the marketing area either for distribution within or without the marketing area or consumption either within or without the marketing area or was received at a pool plant outside the marketing area and assigned either to shipments to the marketing area of milk, fluid milk products, cultured or flavored milk drinks, cream, fluid cream products, or skim milk, or to plant loss; and;

Since this proposal (No. 12) was submitted for the stated purpose of clarifying the language of the order with respect to the classification and pricing of milk which, either in fluid or frozen form, enters the marketing area and is delivered to such purchasers as Army or Naval bases, steamship lines or other carriers for ultimate consumption or utilization outside of the marketing area, notice is hereby given that evidence will be received with respect to the amendment of such other provisions of the order as may be shown to be applicable or pertinent in connection with the purpose for which the proposal was submitted.

13. Proposed by Orbaek Farms, Inc., White Plains Dairy, Van Cortlandt Dairy, L. H. Brooks Dairy, Foley's Dairy Company, and Rock Gate Farm Corporation: Amend § 927.7 by changing the first two sentences thereof to read:

§ 927.7 Determination of uniform price. The uniform price shall be computed in accordance with the provisions set forth in this section. Milk received from farms in Nassau or Suffolk Counties, New York, which farms are not approved for sale of milk in New York City, or received by direct delivery from farms, not approved for the sale of milk in New York City, to plants located within the marketing area, or received from the handler's own farm shall not be included in this computation, and such milk shall be deemed to be excluded by the phrase, "milk received from producers" as such phrase is used in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, in § 927.5 (d) in § 927.9 (d), (f) and (g), and in § 927.10.

14. Proposed by Evans Amityville Dairy, Inc., Fred Beers, Inc., Sweet Clover Dairy, Piping Rock Dairy, Inc., Babylon Milk and Cream Company, and Oak Tree Farm:

a. Amend § 927.5 (c) by eliminating the first sentence of the proviso and inserting in its place the following: "Provided, That the transportation differentials on any tank raw milk delivered directly from a plant outside the marketing area to a Nassau or Suffolk County processing plant, and which does not reenter New York City or Westchester County, shall be minus 5 cents per hundredweight for milk delivered in Nassau County, and minus 8 cents per hundredweight for milk delivered in Suffolk County, in addition to the differentials set forth in Column "B" of the schedule herein;"

b. Amend § 927.7 (a) by renumbering present (7) as (8) and by adding a new subparagraph (7) as follows:

(7) With respect to tank raw milk delivered directly from a plant outside the marketing area to a Nassau or Suffolk County processing plant, and which milk does not reenter New York City or Westchester County, deduct 5 cents per hundredweight for milk delivered in Nassau County, and deduct 8 cents per hundredweight for milk delivered in Suffolk County.

15. Proposed by Milk Dealers Association of Metropolitan New York, Inc.:

Amend § 927.5 (c) as follows:

a. Insert in such section a schedule showing locations at which pool plants are now located, together with the freight zone determined for such plant as of January 1951. For each new plant the Market Administrator shall determine the freight zone equitably on the basis of its distance from New York City and its proximity to other plants for which a freight zone is set forth in such schedule. No changes shall thereafter be made by the Market Administrator in established freight zones.

b. The Market Administrator shall appoint a committee to study such schedule and to propose revisions where inequities exist.

16. Proposed by Handlers and Processors Association, Inc.: Amend § 927.6 by renumbering paragraphs (e) and (f) as (f) and (g) and by adding a new paragraph (e) to provide that all reports shall have attached receipt forms which shall be identically numbered, and that it shall be the duty of the Market Administrator to acknowledge, within 48 hours, the receipt of each and every report mailed to or filed with him.

17. Proposed by Mifflin Creamery Co., Inc., Lancaster Milk Company, W. M. Evans Dairy Co., Chenango Farm Products Co., Inc., and Grover Farms, Inc.: Amend § 927.4 (a) (3) to include a new subdivision (v) as set forth in the recommended decision of May 16, 1950, except that West Virginia should be added to the list of states enumerated therein.

18. Proposed by Leonard D. Stewart, Miami, Florida: Amend § 927.4 (c) (5) by adding a new subdivision (iv) as follows:

(iv) All milk packed in hermetically sealed cans which is exported to foreign countries or delivered to any branch of the United States Department of Defense.

Copies of this notice of hearing, the notice of hearing issued on December 29, 1949, the recommended decision issued on May 16, 1950, the said order, as amended, and the said tentative marketing agreement may be procured from the Market Administrator, 205 East 42d Street, New York, New York, or from the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: March 20, 1951.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC SALE

(1) Pursuant to the act of Congress approved June 4, 1920, relating to the conservation, care, custody, protection, and operation of the Naval Petroleum Reserves (41 Stat. 813), as amended by the act of Congress approved June 30, 1938 (52 Stat. 1252), and as further amended by the act of Congress approved June 17, 1944 (58 Stat. 280), the United States of America (hereinafter referred to as "Navy"), hereby invites bids for the purchase of such quantities of crude oil as may be allocated to and available for sale by Navy from the Shallow Oil Zone under provisions of Unit Plan Contract NOd-4219 dated June 19, 1944, as supplemented and amended, and relating to Naval Petroleum Reserve Numbered 1 (Elk Hills), Kern County, California, during the term of the contract specified in the paragraph next succeeding.

(2) The term of the contract for the sale and purchase of the above-described crude oil will be the three (3) year period commencing at 7:00 a. m. (Pacific standard time) on the tenth day following approval of such contract by the President of the United States: Provided, however, That the contract shall expire prior to the end of said three (3) year period whenever Congress by legislation or Joint Resolution authorizes or directs the President or the Secretary of the Navy to use and operate said Shallow Oil Zone for production of petroleum rather than for the protection, conservation, maintenance and testing of Naval Petroleum Reserve Numbered 1.

(3) The public sale will take place in Room 229, U. S. Post Office and Court House Building, Los Angeles, California, at 10:00 a. m. (Pacific standard time) on April 16, 1951. The Secretary of the Navy will receive sealed bids and statements describing the bidders' qualification, addressed to him at that address, until said time. All bids must conform to the terms and conditions of the Invitation for Bids and the above-cited acts. The bids and statements will be publicly opened and read aloud at said time and place; any interested parties may be present and will be heard with respect to the subject matter. A bidder who has complied with the provisions of the Invitation for Bids may forthwith, after all bids have been read, increase the bid price or prices, and such increase or increases shall be immediately incorporated in his bid by written amendment thereto signed by the bidder. No change will be permitted which will have the effect of lowering any price bid. If a contract is awarded on any bid, the bid price or prices shall be the contract price or prices notwithstanding any ceiling price or prices established by the Economic Stabilization Agency, or other Government agency. However, if at the time of delivery of any crude oil hereunder such contract price or prices exceed the applicable ceiling price or prices then in effect, purchaser shall pay the applicable ceiling price or prices in effect at such time for such crude oil. After all bidders present have been heard, the bids will be taken under advisement by Navy and an acceptance by the Secretary of the Navy will be made within sixty (60) days thereafter; subject, however, to approval of the contract by the President of the United States. Navy reserves the right in the public interest to reject all bids and order a new public sale.

(4) The crude oil offered for sale is all such oil available for sale by Navy from said Shallow Oil Zone during the term, described in paragraph 2 above, of the said contract for such crude oil. The quantities of crude oil which will be available for sale are necessarily indefinite and depend upon, among other things, (1) practical considerations in field operations, (2) the rate and continuance of the production of petroleum from the Shallow Oil Zone for Navy's account under the provisions of said Unit Plan Contract, and (3) the quantities which the Operating Committee, created under the provisions of said Unit Plan Contract, may reserve for use in connection with operations under the said Unit Plan Contract. While the quantity of such oil is indefinite, it is anticipated that accruals will amount to approximately one hundred fifty thousand (150,000) barrels monthly. Deliveries of said crude oil will be made at the Unit Operation's shipping tanks where said crude oil is collected and stored for such purpose by the Operator under the said Unit Plan Contract. Navy reserves the right to reduce or stop production of such crude oil or to terminate the contract under certain conditions described in the Invitation for Bids and Exhibit A attached thereto.

(5) The Invitation for Bids which contains complete information concerning form of bids, bond requirements, payment, deliveries, volume measurements, quality of oil, provisions respecting price, form of contract, information to be supplied by bidders, etc., may be obtained by the prospective bidders from the Director, Naval Petroleum and Oil Shale Reserves, Executive Office of the Secretary, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C., or the Inspector, Naval Petroleum Reserves in California, P. O. Box 77, Tupman, California, or the District Supply Officer, Eleventh Naval District, San Diego, California.

Dated: March 15, 1951.

JOHN T. KOEHLER,
Acting Secretary of the Navy.

Bureau of Land Management

[Doc. 1, Region II]

CALIFORNIA

SALE OF TOWN LOTS; TOWNSITE OF FORD AND FIRST ADDITION THERETO

MARCH 12, 1951.

1. Authority. Pursuant to the reservation made by Executive Order 10075 of August 18, 1949 (14 F. R. 5213), certain lots in the Townsite of Ford, California, and the first addition thereto, will be disposed of under section 2381, U. S. Revised Statutes (43 U. S. C. 712). The Regional Administrator is authorized by § 2.78 of Bureau of Land Management Order No. 427 (15 F. R. 5639, 5642) to take all actions required to accomplish the disposal of said lots under the applicable provisions of Title 43, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 255. The lots to be disposed of by sale are designated on official plats of supplemental survey of the Townsite of Ford and the First Addition to Townsite of Ford, each of which plats was accepted June 19, 1950.

2. Lots, areas, and minimum prices. The lots which will be offered for sale, and the areas and minimum prices thereof, are shown in the attached schedule. The lands here involved, prior to the date of the reservation above cited, were included within Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 2, California, and were not subject to any type of settlement or occupancy which could from the basis of private entry or preemption claim.

3. Public sale. The lots designated for sale will be offered for sale by the Regional Administrator or his representative at public outcry to the highest bidder at Ford City, Kern County, California, on April 18, 1951, beginning at 10:00 a. m., P. s. t. The sale will be continued from day to day as long as may be necessary until all the lots to be sold have been offered.

4. Payment. No lot will be sold for less than the appraised price. Payment for lots sold for not more than $300.00 may be paid for in cash on the date of sale, or in two equal installments, the first installment to be paid on the date of sale, and the second installment within one year from the date of sale, with interest at the rate of four percent per annum to the date of payment.

Those lots which are sold for more than $300.00 may be paid for in cash on the date of sale, or one-third of the purchase price may be paid in cash at that time and the balance in not to exceed two equal annual installments, with interest at the rate of four percent per annum to the date of payment.

Payment on the date of sale must be made to the officer conducting the sale. The deferred installments, with the interest, must be paid to the Manager, Sacramento Land Office, Post Office Building, Sacramento, California. Failure to make full payment of installments, with interest, within the time allowed will cause an automatic forfeiture of all payments made and of all interests under the sale, and the memorandum certificate of sale will be thereupon held for cancellation.

5. Citizenship requirements. Every individual purchasing a lot will be required to furnish evidence that he is a citizen of the United States or that he has declared his intention to become a citizen, and every corporation purchasing a lot will be required to furnish evidence, including a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, showing that it was organized under the laws of the United States or of some State, Territory, or possession thereof, and that it is authorized to acquire and hold real estate in California.

6. Manner of sale. Bids and payments may be made in person or by agent, but may not be made by mail nor at any time or place other than that fixed by this notice. Any qualified person will be permitted to purchase not more than two lots for which he is the successful bidder.

7. Authority of officer conducting the sale. The officer conducting the sale is hereby authorized to reject any and all bids for any lot, and to suspend, adjourn or postpone the sale of any lot or lots. After all the lots to be sold have been offered, the sale will be adjourned or closed as the officer conducting the sale may deem proper; and if the sale is closed, said officer shall reappraise any unsold lots as a basis for private entry whenever he shall find that the amounts bid or the appraised prices are inadequate.

8. Disposal of lots after sale has been closed. Lots remaining unsold at the close of the sale shall be subject to private entry for cash at the price fixed by any reappraisal pursuant to paragraph 7 hereof, or if not reappraised, then at their appraised price, and said lots may be purchased from the Manager, Sacramento Land Office, Post Office Building, Sacramento, California.

9. Reservations. Patents for lots, when issued, will contain a reservation of fissionable source materials and conditions and limitations as provided by the act of August 1, 1946 (60 Stat. 755), and a reservation of rights-of-way for ditches and canals in accordance with the act of August 30, 1890 (26 Stat. 391).

Lots will be sold subject to any rights which may have been acquired by the Ford City, Sanitation District and the Western Water Company, in connection with construction of sewer or pipe lines across any portion of the townsite, and subject to any valid easement or right-of-way existing at the date of survey in the field.

The oil and gas deposits in the lands subject to this sale have been retained as a part of Naval Petroleum Reserve No. 2, California, and patents for the lots, when issued, will contain a reservation of such deposits.

10. Warning. All persons are warned against bargaining in a manner, forming any combination, or ordering any agreements, which will prevent any lot from selling advantageously or which will, in any way, hinder or prevent the sale. Any person so offending will be subject to prosecution under 18 U. S. C. 1860.

Regional Administrator.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 427 dated August 16, 1950, I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as hereinafter indicated, the following described land in the Sacramento, California, land district, embracing approximately 180 acres,

CALIFORNIA SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION No. 265

For lease and sale for homesites only:

T. 20 N., R. 7 E., S. B. M.,
Sec. 10, SE¼ and E½SE¼SW¼.

The land is located in Inyo County, California, in what is known as the Amargosa River Valley. The nearest town is Tecopa, California. At Shoshone, about 9 miles distant, there is an elementary school and the community services ordinarily available in small towns. The land can be reached over State Highway No. 127. The climate is arid, being very hot in the summer and with mild winters. The land is close to active mines and within a short distance of Tecopa Hot Springs.

2. As to applications regularly filed prior to 9:00 a. m., January 29, 1951, and are for the type of site for which the land is classified, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed.

3. As to the land not covered by applications referred to in paragraph 2, this order shall not become effective to permit leasing under the Small Tract Act until 10:00 a. m., May 11, 1951. At that time such land shall, subject to valid existing rights, become subject to application as follows:

(a) Ninety-day preference period for qualified veterans of World War II from 10:00 a. m., May 11, 1951, to close of business on August 9, 1951.

(b) Advance period for veterans' simultaneous filings from 9:00 a. m., January 29, 1951, to 10:00 a. m., May 11, 1951.

4. Any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally, commencing at 10:00 a. m., August 10, 1951.

(a) Advance period for simultaneous non-preference filings from 9:00 a. m., January 29, 1951, to 10:00 a. m., August 10, 1951.

5. Applications filed within the periods mentioned in paragraphs 3 (b) and 4 (a) will be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

6. All of the land will be leased in tracts of approximately 5 acres, each being approximately 330 by 660 feet, the longer dimension to extend east and west.

7. Preference right leases referred to in paragraph 2 will be issued for the land described in the application irrespective of the direction of the tract, provided the tract conforms to or is made to conform to the area and the dimension specified in paragraph 6.

8. Where only one 5-acre tract in a 10-acre subdivision is embraced in a preference right application, an application for the remaining 5-acre tract extending in the same direction will be accepted in order to fill out the subdivision notwithstanding the direction specified in paragraph 6.

9. Leases will be for a period of three years at an annual rental of $5.00 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at the appraised value of $50.00 per tract, application for which may be filed at or after the expiration of one year from date the lease is issued.

10. Tracts will be subject to rights-of-way not exceeding 33 feet in width along or near the edges thereof for road purposes and public utilities. Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, of the State, county or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. The rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued.

11. All inquiries relating to these lands should be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Sacramento, California.

J. H. FAVORITE,
Acting Regional Administrator.

[Docket No. G-1629]

El Paso Natural Gas Co.

March 19, 1951.

Take notice that on March 6, 1951, El Paso Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation, address 1010 Bassett Tower, El Paso, Texas filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of certain transmission pipeline facilities hereinafter described.

Applicant proposes to transport an additional 100,000 Mcf per day of natural gas from the San Juan Basin in northern New Mexico and southern Colorado to a point near Topock, Arizona, for delivery and sale to Pacific Gas and Electric Company. In order to transport this additional volume of natural gas, Applicant proposes to construct and operate 25,050 hp. of additional compressor facilities along its San Juan 24-inch main transmission line in Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona. It also proposes to construct additional pipelines, compressor station, purification and dehydration plant capacity, gasoline plant capacity and miscellaneous facilities in its field and gathering systems.

The estimated cost of the proposed undertaking, including facilities, financing and additional working capital requirements, is $16,970,000. Applicant proposes to obtain the funds required by the sale of $11,500,000 of 15-year, first mortgage bonds and $5,470,000 from bank loans.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 5th day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

El Paso Natural Gas Co.

March 19, 1951.

Take notice that on March 6, 1951, El Paso Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation, address 1010 Bassett Tower, El Paso, Texas, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of certain transmission pipeline facilities hereinafter described.

Applicant proposes to transport an additional 200,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas from southeast New Mexico and west Texas through its main transmission pipeline system to points on the Arizona-California border, for delivery and sale to Southern California Gas Company, Southern Counties Gas Company of California and Pacific Gas and Electric Company. In order to transport this volume of natural gas, Applicant proposes to construct approximately 112.9 miles of 30" main transmission line loops; 98,200 hp. in additional main line compressor capacity, and miscellaneous facilities along its main transmission line in Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. It also proposes to construct additional pipelines, compressor capacity, purification and dehydration plant capacity, gasoline absorption plant capacity, amine recovery plants, and miscellaneous facilities in its field and gathering systems.

The estimated cost of the proposed undertaking including facilities, financing and additional working capital requirements, is $51,720,000. Applicant proposes to obtain the funds required by the sale of $46,720,000 of 15 year first mortgage bonds and $5,000,000 of preferred stock.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 5th day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

Third Party Messages Between Amateur Stations of United States and Republic of Liberia

March 14, 1951.

In accordance with an official notice received from the Department of State, the Commission is today announcing that a bilateral agreement between the United States and the Republic of Liberia directly affecting licensed amateurs of the two countries has been concluded by an exchange of notes.[1] Under the terms of this agreement, amateur radio stations of the Republic of Liberia and of the United States may exchange, internationally, messages or other communications from or to third parties: Provided:

1. No compensation may be directly or indirectly paid on such messages or communications.

2. Such communications shall be limited to conversations or messages of a technical or personal nature for which, by reason of their unimportance, recourse to the public telecommunications service is not justified. To the extent that in the event of disaster, the public telecommunications service is not readily available for expeditious handling of communications relating directly to safety of life or property, such communications may be handled by amateur stations of the respective countries.

3. This arrangement shall apply to all the continental and insular territory of Liberia and to the United States and its territories and possessions, including Alaska, the Hawaiian Islands, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and to the Panama Canal Zone. It shall also be applicable to the case of amateur stations licensed by the United States authorities to United States citizens in other areas of the world in which the United States exercises licensing authority.

4. This arrangement shall be subject to termination by either government on sixty days notice to the other government, by further arrangement between the two governments dealing with the same subject, or by the enactment of legislation in either country inconsistent therewith.

As a matter of related interest, amateur stations licensed by the Federal Communications Commission heretofore have been able, under and in accordance with the terms of previously effected arrangements, to exchange, internationally, messages or other communications from or to third parties with amateur stations of Canada, Chile, Peru, and Ecuador.

Centerville Broadcasting Co. (KCOG)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Centerville Broadcasting Company (KCOG), Centerville, Iowa, Docket No. 9916, File No. BML-1439; for construction permit.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of March 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application to increase power from 160 watts, unlimited time to 250 watts, unlimited time at Station KCOG, Centerville, Iowa;

It appearing, that the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate Station KCOG as proposed, but that the application may involve interference with one or more existing stations and otherwise not comply with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said application is designated for hearing commencing at 10:00 a. m. on May 4, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of Station KCOG as proposed, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of Station KCOG as proposed would involve objectionable interference with Station WGIL, Galesburg, Illinois; KVFD, Fort Dodge, Iowa; and KFRU, Columbia, Missouri, or with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the installation and operation of Station KCOG as proposed would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

It is further ordered, That Galesburg Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WGIL, Galesburg, Illinois; Northwest Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KVFD, Ford Dodge, Iowa; and KFRU, Inc., licensee of Station KFRU, Columbia, Missouri, are made parties to this proceeding.

RADIO CALIFORNIA

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of Knox LaRue and Arnold C. Werner, d/b as Radio California, Sacramento, California, Docket No. 9900, File No. BP-7736; for construction permit.

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed March 9, 1951, by Turlock Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station KTUR, Turlock, California, and respondent in the above-entitled proceeding, requesting continuance for 30 days of the hearing on said proceeding presently scheduled for April 4, 1951; and

It appearing, that an application conflicting with that of Radio California has recently been filed with the Commission by Capitol Radio Enterprises and it will be necessary to designate the two applications for consolidated and comparative hearing; and

It further appearing, that there are matters which make a pre-trial conference desirable; and

It further appearing, that counsel for respondent, Turlock Broadcasting Corporation, is also counsel for an applicant in another proceeding before the Commission which is scheduled for hearing on April 3, 1951, and which will undoubtedly require considerably more than one day to take testimony; and

It further appearing, that no opposition has been filed to the petition for continuance;

It is ordered, this 16th day of March 1951, that the petition be, and it is hereby, granted; and the hearing herein presently scheduled for April 4, 1951, be, and it is hereby, continued to May 2, 1951, at Washington, D. C., 10 o'clock a. m.

NATIONALS OF GERMANY

In re: Rights in motion pictures owned by Nationals of Germany.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the producers of the motion pictures listed in Exhibit A attached hereto and made a part hereof, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of Germany and who, if partnerships, associations, corporations or other business organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of, or have or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8939, as amended, have had their principal places of business in Germany, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That the property described as follows:

(a) All right, title, interest and claim of whatsoever kind or nature, under the statutory and common law, of the United States and of the several States thereof, in, to and under the following:

(1) The motion pictures listed in said Exhibit A including, but not limited to, the exclusive right to exhibit same in whole or in part by any means within the United States, all rights to arrange, adapt, revise, translate, and duplicate said motion pictures in whole or in part, and every copyright, claim of copyright, right to copyright, and right to renew the copyright or copyrights in said motion pictures

(2) The screen plays, scenarios, and shooting scripts upon which said motion pictures are based, including, but not limited to, all motion picture and television rights therein, and every copyright, claim of copyright, right to copyright, and right to renew the copyright or copyrights in said screen plays, scenarios, and shooting scripts

(3) The rights to dramatize, perform, represent, and reproduce on motion picture film those portions of the published and unpublished works subject to copyright, other than the above mentioned screen plays, scenarios, and shooting scripts, which underlie or are embodied in said motion pictures and to exhibit such film by any means in the United States

(b) All right, title, interest, and claim of whatsoever kind or nature, under the statutory and common law of the United States and of the several States thereof, of the persons referred to in subparagraph 1 hereof, and also of all other persons (including individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations or other business organizations), whether or not named in this order, who are citizens and resident of, or which are organized under the laws of or have their principal places of business in, Germany, and are nationals of such designated enemy country, in, to and under the following:

(1) All prints in the United States of the motion pictures listed in said Exhibit A

(2) All arrangements, adaptations, revisions, dramatizations, translations, and versions of the motion pictures listed in said Exhibit A

(3) Every license, agreement, privilege, power and right of whatsoever nature arising under or with respect to the property described in subparagraph 2 (a), 2 (b) (1) and 2 (b) (2) of this vesting order

(c) All monies and amounts, and all rights to receive monies and amounts, by way of damages, royalty, share of profits or other emolument, accrued or to accrue, whether arising pursuant to law, contract or otherwise, with respect to the property described in subparagraphs 2 (a) and 2 (b), of this vesting order, and

(d) All causes of action accrued or to accrue at law or in equity with respect to the property described in subparagraphs 2 (a), 2 (b), and 2 (c) hereof, including but not limited to the rights to sue for and recover all damages and profits and to request and receive the benefits of all remedies provided by common law and by statute for the infringement of any copyright, for the violation of any right and for the breach of any obligation described in or affecting the aforesaid property is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the persons referred to in subparagraphs 1, and 2 (b) hereof, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany) and is property of, or is property payable or held with respect to copyrights or rights related thereto in which interests are held by, and such property itself constitutes interests therein held by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany); and it is hereby determined:

3. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 1 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation certification, having been made and taken, and it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 2 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

C. 191), and as President of the United States, I hereby find that the security of the United States is endangered by reason of subversive activity, and I hereby prescribe the following regulations relating to the safeguarding against destruction, loss, or injury from sabotage or other subversive acts, accidents, or other causes of similar nature, of vessels, harbors, ports, and waterfront facilities in the Canal Zone, and all territory and water in the Canal Zone, and the said regulations shall constitute Part 19, Title 35 of the Code of Federal Regulations; and all agencies and authorities of the Government of the United States shall, and all persons are urged to, support, conform to, and assist in the enforcement of these regulations and all supplemental regulations issued pursuant thereto.

DEFINITIONS

§ 19.2 Waterfront facility. "Waterfront facility" as used in this part, means all piers, wharves, docks, Canal locks, and similar structures to which vessels may be secured, buildings on such structures or contiguous to them, and equipment and materials on such structures or in such buildings.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 19.5 Enforcement. The rules and regulations in this part shall be enforced by the Governor through such officers, employees, or agencies as he may designate.

§ 19.10 Preventing access of persons, articles or things to vessels or waterfront facilities. The Governor may prevent any person, article or thing from boarding or being taken on board any vessel or entering or being taken into any waterfront facilty when he deems that the presence of such person, article or thing would be inimical to the purposes set forth in § 19.13.

§ 19.12 Visitation and search. The Governor may cause to be inspected and searched at any time any vessel or waterfront facility or any person, article or thing thereon, within the Canal Zone, may place guards upon any such vessel and waterfront facility and may remove therefrom any or all persons, articles or things not specifically authorized by him to go or to remain thereon.

§ 19.13 Possession and control of vessels. The Governor may supervise and control the movement of any vessel and shall take full or partial possession or control of any vessel or any part thereof, within the Canal Zone whenever it appears to him that such action is necessary in order to secure such vessel from damage or injury, or to prevent damage or injury to any vessel or waterfront facility or waters of the Canal Zone, or to secure the observance of rights and obligations of the United States.

§ 19.16 Assistance of other agencies. The Governor may enlist the aid and cooperation of Federal and private agencies to assist in the enforcement of regulations issued pursuant to this part.

IDENTIFICATION AND EXCLUSION OF PERSONS FROM VESSELS AND WATERFRONT FACILITIES

§ 19.20 Access to vessels and waterfront facilties. Any person on board any vessel or any person seeking access to any vessel or any waterfront facility within the Canal Zone may be required to carry identification credentials issued by or otherwise satisfactory to the Governor. The Governor may define and designate those categories of vessels and areas of the waterfront wherein such credentials are required.

§ 19.22 Identification credentials. The identification credential to be used by the Governor shall be known as the Canal Zone Port Security Card, and the form of such credential, and the conditions and the manner of its issuance shall be as prescribed by the Governor. The Governor shall not issue a Canal Zone Port Security Card if he is satisfied that the character and habits of life of the applicant therefor are such as to authorize the belief that the presence of such individual on board a vessel or within a waterfront facility would be inimical to the security of the United States. The Governor shall revoke and require the surrender of a Canal Zone Port Security Card when he is no longer satisfied that the holder is entitled thereto. The Governor may recognize for the same purpose such other credentials as he may designate in lieu of the Canal Zone Port Security Card.

§ 19.24 Appeals. Persons who are refused employment or who are refused the issuance of documents or who are required to surrender such documents, under this part, shall have the right of appeal, and the Governor shall appoint a Board for acting on such appeals. Such Board shall, so far as practicable, include one member drawn from management, and one member drawn from labor. The Board shall consider each appeal brought before it and, in recommending final action to the Governor, shall insure the appellant all fairness consistent with the safeguarding of the national security.

SUPERVISION AND CONTROL OF EXPLOSIVES OR OTHER DANGEROUS CARGO

§ 19.26 General supervision and control. The Governor may supervise and control the transportation, handling, loading, discharging, stowage, or storage of explosives, inflammable or combustible liquids in bulk, or other dangerous articles or cargo covered by the regulation entitled "Regulations for the Transportation of Hazardous Cargoes in Canal Zone Waters" (35 CFR 4.106–4.127).

§ 19.28 Approval of facility for dangerous cargo. The Governor may designate waterfront facilities for the handling and storage of, and for vessel loading and discharging, explosives, inflammable or combustible liquids in bulk, or other dangerous articles or cargo covered by the regulations referred to in § 19.26, and may require the owners, operators, masters, and others concerned to secure permits for handling, storage, loading, and unloading from the Governor, conditioned upon the fulfillment of such requirements for the safeguarding of such waterfront facilities and vessels as the Governor may prescribe.

SABOTAGE AND SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITY

§ 19.32 Reporting of sabotage and subversive activity. Evidence of sabotage or subversive activity involving or endangering any vessel, harbor, port, or waterfront facility shall be reported immediately to the Governor or his representatives.

§ 19.34 Precautions against sabotage. The master, owner, agent, or operator of a vessel or waterfront facility shall take all necessary precautions to protect the vessel, waterfront facility, and cargo from sabotage.

PENALTIES

§ 19.36 Violations. Section 2, Title II of the act of June 15, 1917, as amended, 50 U. S. C. 192, provides as follows:

If any owner, agent, master, officer, or person in charge, or any member of the crew of any such vessel fails to comply with any regulation or rule issued or order given under the provisions of this title, or obstructs or interferes with the exercise of any power conferred by this title, the vessel, together with her tackle, apparel, furniture, and equipment, shall be subject to seizure and forfeiture to the United States in the same manner as merchandise is forfeited for violation of the customs revenue laws; and the person guilty of such failure, obstruction, or interference shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than ten years and may, in the discretion of the court, be fined not more than $10,000.

(a) If any other person knowingly fails to comply with any regulation or rule issued or order given under the provisions of this title, or knowingly obstructs or interferes with the exercise of any power conferred by this title, he shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than ten years and may, at the discretion of the court, be fined not more than $10,000.

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10227

EXTENSION OF THE PROVISIONS OF PART I OF EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 10210 [1] OF FEBRUARY 2, 1951, TO THE GENERAL SERVICES ADMINISTRATION

By virtue of the authority vested in me by the First War Powers Act, 1941, as amended by the act of January 12, 1951, entitled "An Act to amend and extend title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941" (Public Law 921, 81st Congress), and as President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the armed forces of the United States, and deeming such action will facilitate the national defense, it is hereby ordered as follows:

The provisions of Part I of Executive Order No. 10210 of February 2, 1951, entitled "Authorizing the Department of Defense and the Department of Commerce to Exercise the Functions and Powers Set Forth in Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, as Amended by the Act of January 12, 1951, and Prescribing Regulations for the Exercise of Such Functions and Powers" are hereby extended to the General Services Administration; and, subject to the limitations and regulations contained in such part, and under such regulations as he may prescribe, the Administrator of General Services is authorized to perform and exercise, as to the General Services Administration, all the functions and authority vested in and granted by the said Part I to the Secretaries named therein: Provided, That the regulations of the Administrator of General Services need not be approved by the Secretary of Defense: And provided further, That nothing contained herein shall prejudice any other authority which the General Services Administration or the Administrator of General Services may have with respect to procurement.

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[File No. 21-171]

PART 198—MILK BOTTLE CAP AND CLOSURE INDUSTRY

PROMULGATION OF TRADE PRACTICE RULES

Due proceedings having been held under the trade practice conference procedure in pursuance of the act of Congress approved September 26, 1941, as amended (Federal Trade Commission Act), and other provisions of law administered by the Commission;

It is now ordered, That the trade practice rules of Group I and Group II, as hereinafter set forth, which have been approved and received, respectively, by the Commission in this proceeding, be promulgated as of March 27, 1951.

Statement by the Commission. Trade practice rules for the Milk Bottle Cap and Closure Industry, as hereinafter set forth, are promulgated by the Federal Trade Commission under the trade practice conference procedure. Such rules constitute a revision and extension of the trade practice rules for the Paper Bottle Cap Industry as promulgated by the Commission on November 5, 1931.

The industry is composed of the persons, firms, corporations, and organizations engaged in the manufacture, sale, or distribution of any of the various types of milk bottle caps, hoods, or closures made of paper, paperboard, cellophane, aluminum, aluminum foil, tin plate, or other material, or a combination thereof. Aggregate annual sales of industry products approximate $18,000,000.

The primary objective of the rules is the maintenance of free and fair competition in the industry and the elimination and prevention of unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, and other trade abuses. The rules are to be applied to such end and to the exclusion of any acts or practices which suppress competition or otherwise restrain trade.

Proceedings to revise and extend the trade practice rules for the Paper Bottle Cap Industry were instituted by the Commission. A draft of proposed revised and extended rules, prepared in cooperation with industry representatives, was published by the Commission and made available to all industry members and other interested or affected parties upon public notice whereby they were afforded opportunity to present their views, including such pertinent information, suggestions, amendments, or objections as they desired to offer, and to be heard in the premises. Pursuant to such notice, a public hearing was held in Washington, D. C., and all matters presented, or otherwise received in the proceeding, were duly considered by the Commission.

Thereafter, and upon full consideration of the entire matter, final action was taken by the Commission whereby it approved and received, respectively, the Group I and Group II rules as hereinafter set forth.

Such rules become operative thirty (30) days from the date of promulgation.

The rules. These rules promulgated by the Commission are designed to foster and promote the maintenance of fair competitive conditions in the interest of protecting industry, trade, and the public. It is to this end, and to the exclusion of any act or practice which suppresses competition, restrains trade, fixes or controls price through combination or agreement, or which otherwise injures, destroys, or prevents competition, that the rules are to be applied.

Sec.
198.0 Definition; industry products.

AUTHORITY: §§ 198.0 to 198.105 issued under sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45.

§ 198.0 Definition; industry products. As used in these rules the term "industry products" shall be understood as embracing all kinds and types of milk bottle caps, and hoods or closures, whether made of paper, paperboard, cellophane, aluminum, aluminum foil, tin plate, or other material, or any combination thereof.

GROUP I

General statement. The unfair trade practices embraced in §§ 198.1 to 198.18 are considered to be unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, or other illegal practices, prohibited under laws administered by the Federal Trade Commission; and appropriate proceedings in the public interest will be taken by the Commission to prevent the use, by any person, partnership, corporation, or other organization subject to its jurisdiction, of such unlawful practices in commerce.

§ 198.1 Misrepresentation (general). It is an unfair trade practice to use, or cause or promote the use of, any advertising by radio, newspapers, magazines, or other media, or any trade promotional literature, label, brand, mark, or other designation or representation (whether in the form of a guarantee, warranty, or otherwise), however disseminated or published:

(a) Which has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers with respect to the quality, grade, size, capacity, properties, durability, serviceability, life, conformity with sanitary regulations, or performance of any product of the industry, or with respect to the construction, constituent materials, manufacture, distribution, or terms or conditions of sale, of such product; or

(b) Which is false, misleading, or deceptive in any other respect. [Rule 1]

§ 198.2 Misrepresentation as to character of business. It is an unfair trade practice for any concern, in the course of, or in connection with, the distribution of industry products, to represent, directly or indirectly, that it is a manufacturer of industry products, or that it owns or controls a factory making such products, when such is not the fact, or in any other manner to misrepresent the character, extent, or type of its business. [Rule 2]

§ 198.3 Deceptive use of trade or corporate names, trade-marks, etc. The use of any trade name, corporate name, trade-mark, or other trade designation which has the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers as to the character, name, nature, or origin of any product of the industry, or any material used therein, or which is false or misleading in any other respect, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 3]

§ 198.4 Misrepresentation as to installment sales contracts, their terms, conditions, etc. It is an unfair trade practice to make or publish, or cause to be made or published, directly or indirectly, any false, misleading, or deceptive statement or representation, through advertising or otherwise, concerning installment sales contracts used or their terms and conditions, including down payments, interest, carrying charges, etc., or respecting any other matters relative to such contracts or their terms and conditions. [Rule 4]

§ 198.5 Imitation of trade-marks, trade names, etc. The imitation or simulation of the trade-marks, trade names, brands, or labels of competitors, with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 5]

§ 198.6 Unlawful coercion or combination in restraint of trade. It is an unfair trade practice for a member of the industry:

(a) To use, directly or indirectly, any form of threat, intimidation, or coercion against any member of the industry or other person to unlawfully fix, maintain, or enhance prices, suppress competition, or restrain trade; or

(b) To enter into or take part in, directly or indirectly, any agreement, understanding, combination, conspiracy, or concerted action with one or more members of the industry, or with one or more other persons, to unlawfully fix, maintain, or enhance prices, suppress competition, or restrain trade. [Rule 6]

§ 198.7 Defamation of competitors or false disparagement of their products. The defamation of competitors by falsely imputing to them dishonorable conduct, inability to perform contracts, questionable credit standing, or by other false representations, or the false disparagement of competitors' products in any respect, or of their business methods, selling prices, values, credit terms, policies, or services, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 7]

§ 198.8 Substitution of products. The practice of shipping or delivering industry products which do not conform to samples submitted, to specifications upon which the sale is consummated, or to representations made prior to securing the order, without the consent of the purchasers to such substitution, and with the capacity and tendency or effect of misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 8]

§ 198.9 False invoicing. It is an unfair trade practice to withhold from or insert in invoices any statements or information by reason of which omission or insertion a false record is made, wholly or in part, of the transactions represented on the face of such invoice, with the capacity and tendency or effect of thereby misleading or deceiving purchasers or prospective purchasers. [Rule 9]

§ 198.10 Inducing breach of contract. It is an unfair trade practice to induce or attempt to induce the breach of existing lawful contracts between competitors and their customers, or their suppliers, by any false or deceptive means whatsoever, or to interfere with or obstruct the performance of any such contractual duties or services by any such means, with the purpose and effect of unduly hampering, injuring, or prejudicing competitors in their business. [Rule 10]

§ 198.11 Commercial bribery. It is an unfair trade practice for a member of the industry, directly or indirectly, to give, or offer to give, or permit or cause to be given, money or anything of value to agents, employees, or representatives of customers or prospective customers, or to agents, employees, or representatives of competitors' customers or prospective customers, without the knowledge of their employers or principals, as an inducement to influence their employers or principals to purchase, or contract to purchase, products manufactured or sold by such industry member or the maker of such gift or offer, or to influence such employers or principals to refrain from dealing in the products of competitors or from dealing or contracting to deal with competitors. [Rule 11]

§ 198.12 Enticing away employees of competitors. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry wilfully to entice away employees of competitors with the intent and effect of thereby unduly hampering or injuring competitors in their business and destroying or substantially lessening competition: Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting employees or agents from seeking or obtaining more favorable employment. [Rule 12]

§ 198.13 Procurement of competitors' confidential information by unfair means and wrongful use thereof. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry to obtain information concerning the business of a competitor by bribery of an employee or agent of such competitor, by false or misleading statements or representations, by the impersonation of one in authority, or by any other unfair means, and to use the information so obtained in such manner as to injure said competitor in his business or to suppress competition or unreasonably restrain trade. [Rule 13]

§ 198.14 Unfair threats of infringement suits. The circulation of threats of suit for infringement of patents or trade-marks among customers or prospective customers of competitors, not made in good faith but for the purpose or with the effect of thereby harassing or intimidating such customers or prospective customers, or of unduly hampering, injuring, or prejudicing competitors in their business, is an unfair trade practice. [Rule 14]

§ 198.15 Unlawful interference. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry, by means of any monopolistic practices, or through combination, conspiracy, coercion, boycott, threats, or any other unlawful means, directly or indirectly, to interfere with a competitor's right to purchase his materials and supplies from whomsoever he chooses, or to sell to whomsoever he chooses. [Rule 15]

§ 198.16 Selling below cost. The practice of selling industry products at a price less than the cost thereof to the seller, with the purpose or intent, and where the effect may be, to injure, suppress, or stifle competition or tend to create a monopoly in the production or sale of such products, is an unfair trade practice. As used in this section, the term "cost" means the total cost to the seller, including the costs of acquisition, processing, preparation for marketing, sale, and delivery. [Rule 16]

§ 198.17 Prohibited discrimination—(a) Prohibited discriminatory prices, or rebates, refunds, discounts, credits, etc., which effect unlawful price discrimination. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[1] in the course of such commerce, to grant or allow, secretly or openly, directly or indirectly, any rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, where such rebate, refund, discount, credit, or other form of price differential, effects a discrimination in price between different purchasers of goods of like grade and quality, where either or any of the purchases involved therein are in commerce,[1] and where the effect thereof may be substantially to lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly in any line of commerce,[1] or to injure, destroy, or prevent competition with any person who either grants or knowingly receives the benefits of such discrimination, or with customers of either of them: Provided, however:

(1) That the goods involved in any such transaction are sold for use, consumption, or resale within any place under the jurisdiction of the United States;

(2) That nothing contained in this section shall prevent differentials which make only due allowance for differences in the cost of manufacture, sale, or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such commodities are to such purchasers sold or delivered;

(3) That nothing contained in this section shall prevent persons engaged in selling goods, wares, or merchandise in commerce[1] from selecting their own customers in bona fide transactions and not in restraint of trade;

(4) That nothing contained in this section shall prevent price changes from time to time where made in response to changing conditions affecting the market for or the marketability of the goods concerned, such as but not limited to obsolescence of seasonal goods, distress sales under court process, or sales in good faith in discontinuance of business in the goods concerned.

(b) Prohibited brokerage and commissions. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[1] in the course of such commerce, to pay or grant, or to receive or accept, anything of value as a commission, brokerage, or other compensation, or any allowance or discount in lieu thereof, except for services rendered in connection with the sale or purchase of goods, wares, or merchandise, either to the other party to such transaction or to an agent, representative, or other intermediary therein where such intermediary is acting in fact for or in behalf, or is subject to the direct or indirect control, of any party to such transaction other than the person by whom such compensation is so granted or paid.

[1] As here used, the word "commerce" means "trade or commerce among the several States and with foreign nations, or between the District of Columbia or any Territory of the United States and any State, Territory, or foreign nation, or between any insular possessions or other places under the jurdisdiction of the United States, or between any such possession or place and any State or Territory of the United States or the District of Columbia or any foreign nation, or within the District of Columbia or any Territory or any insular possession or other place under the jurisdiction of the United States."

(c) Prohibited advertising or promotional allowances, etc. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce[1] to pay or contract for the payment of advertising or promotional allowances or any other thing of value to or for the benefit of a customer of such member in the course of such commerce as compensation or in consideration for any services or facilities furnished by or through such customer in connection with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of any products or commodities manufactured, sold, or offered for sale by such member, unless such payment or consideration is available on proportionally equal terms to all other customers competing in the distribution of such products or commodities.

(d) Prohibited discriminatory services or facilities. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce[1] to discriminate in favor of one purchaser against another purchaser or purchasers of a commodity bought for resale, with or without processing, by contracting to furnish or furnishing, or by contributing to the furnishing of, any services or facilities connected with the processing, handling, sale, or offering for sale of such commodity so purchased upon terms not accorded to all competing purchasers on proportionally equal terms.

(e) Inducing or receiving an illegal discrimination in price. It is an unfair trade practice for any member of the industry engaged in commerce,[1] in the course of such commerce, knowingly to induce or receive a discrimination in price which is prohibited by the foregoing provisions of this section.

(f) Exemptions. The inhibitions of this section shall not apply to purchases of their supplies for their own use by schools, colleges, universities, public libraries, churches, hospitals, and charitable institutions not operated for profit.

NOTE: In complaint proceedings charging discrimination in price or services or facilities furnished, and upon proof having been made of such discrimination, the burden of rebutting the prima-facie case thus made by showing justification shall be upon the person charged; and unless justification shall be affirmatively shown, the Commission is authorized to issue an order terminating the discrimination: Provided, however, That nothing contained in this section shall prevent a seller rebutting the prima-facie case thus made by showing that his lower price, or the furnishing of services or facilities to any purchaser or purchasers, was made in good faith to meet an equally low price of a competitor or the services or facilities furnished by a competitor.

GROUP II

General statement. Compliance with trade practice provisions embraced in §§ 198.101 to 198.105 is considered to be conducive to sound business methods and is to be encouraged and promoted individually or through voluntary cooperation exercised in accordance with existing law. Nonobservance of such rules does not per se constitute violation of law. Where, however, the practice of not complying with §§ 198.101 to 198.105 is followed in such manner as to result in unfair methods of competition, or unfair or deceptive acts or practices, corrective proceedings may be instituted by the Commission as in the case of violation of §§ 198.1 to 198.18.

§ 198.101 Price lists. (a) The industry approves the practice of each individual member of the industry independently publishing and circulating to the purchasing trade his own price lists.

(b) The industry approves the practice of making the terms of sale a part of all published price schedules. [Rule A]

§ 198.102 Repudiation of contracts. Lawful contracts are business obligations which should be performed in letter and in spirit. The repudiation of contracts by sellers on a rising market, or by buyers on a declining market, is condemned by the industry. [Rule B]

§ 198.103 Maintenance of accurate records. It is the judgment of the industry that each member should independently keep proper and accurate records for determining his costs. [Rule C]

§ 198.104 Disputes. The industry approves the practice of handling business disputes between members of the industry and their customers in a fair and reasonable manner, coupled with a spirit of moderation and good will, and every effort should be made by the disputants themselves to compose their differences. If unable to do so they should, if possible, submit these disputes to arbitration. [Rule D]

§ 198.105 Coercion in sales. The use of buying power to force uneconomic or unjust terms of sale upon sellers, and the use of selling power to force uneconomic or unjust terms of sale upon buyers, are condemned by the industry. [Rule E]

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 230—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS, SECURITIES ACT OF 1933

DISCLOSURE DETRIMENTAL TO THE NATIONAL SECURITY

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Act of 1933, particularly section 19 (a) thereof, and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors, hereby adopts the following rule:

§ 230.171 Disclosure detrimental to the national security. (a) The Commission may, upon its own initiative or upon application, authorize or direct the omission or the filing under separate confidential cover of specific information from any registration statement, prospectus or other document filed with the Commission or used in connection with the offering or sale of any securities, if publication of the information would, in the opinion of the Commission acting in consultation where necessary with any executive department or agency of the United States concerned therewith, be detrimental to the national security.

(b) Any issuer, underwriter or other distributor of securities may apply to the Commission for an opinion pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section. Applications may be made by informal letter and need contain only so much of the information in question as may be necessary in the particular case to enable the Commission to pass upon the application in regard thereto.

(c) Any requirement to the contrary notwithstanding, no registration statement, prospectus or other document filed with the Commission or used in connection with the offering or sale of any securities shall contain any information which the Commission shall have authorized or directed to be omitted or filed under separate confidential cover pursuant to this section.

The Commission finds, with respect to the above rule, that notice and public procedure pursuant to section 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act are impractical and unnecessary, for the reason that the rules should be declared effective forthwith in order to be immediately operative as to information the publication of which may be detrimental to the national security. For the same reason, the Commission finds that the rule may be made effective immediately pursuant to section 4 (c) of that act.

Accordingly, the foregoing action shall be effective March 19, 1951.

DISCLOSURE DETRIMENTAL TO THE NATIONAL SECURITY

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly section 23 (a) thereof, and deeming such action necessary and appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors, hereby adopts the following rule:

§ 240.6 Disclosure detrimental to the national security. (a) The Commission may, upon its own initiative, or upon application, authorize or direct the omission or the filing under separate confidential cover of specific information from any application for registration, report, proxy statement or other document filed with the Commission or any securities exchange, if publication of the information would, in the opinion of the Commission, acting in consultation where necessary with any executive department or agency of the United States concerned therewith, be detrimental to the national security.

(b) Any issuer or other person who is about to file any such document with the Commission or an exchange may apply to the Commission for an opinion pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section. Applications may be made by informal letter and need contain only so much of the information in question as may be necessary in the particular case to enable the Commission to pass upon the application in regard thereto.

(c) Any requirement to the contrary notwithstanding, no application for registration, report, proxy statement, or other document filed with the Commission or any securities exchange shall contain any information which the Commission shall have authorized or directed to be filed under separate confidential cover pursuant to this section. [Rule X-6]

The Commission finds, with respect to the above rule, that notice and public procedure pursuant to section 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act are impractical and unnecessary, for the reason that the rules should be declared effective forthwith in order to be immediately operative as to information the publication of which may be detrimental to the national security. For the same reason, the Commission finds that the rules may be made effective immediately pursuant to section 4 (c) of that act.

Accordingly, the foregoing action shall be effective March 19, 1951.

EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN ACQUISITIONS OF SECURITIES UNDER STOCK BONUS OR SIMILAR PLANS

On January 19, 1951, the Securities and Exchange Commission published a proposal for the amendment of § 240.16b-3 (Rule X-16B-3) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The amended rule would provide an exemption from section 16 (b) of the act with respect to the acquisition of certain equity securities by directors and officers who are subject to the provisions of that section.

The Commission has duly considered all comments and suggestions received in connection with the proposed amendment and finds that the transactions which would be exempted by the amended rule are not comprehended within the purpose of said section 16 (b). Accordingly, the Commission, acting pursuant to said section and section 23 (a) of the act, hereby amends § 240.16b-3 to read as follows:

§ 240.16b-3 Exemption from section 16 (b) of certain acquisitions of securities under stock bonus or similar plans. Any acquisition of shares of stock (other than convertible stock or stock acquired pursuant to an option, warrant or right) by a director or officer of the issuer of such stock shall be exempt from the operation of section 16 (b) of the act if the stock was acquired pursuant to a bonus, profit-sharing, retirement or similar plan meeting all of the following conditions:

(a) The plan has been approved specifically, or through the approval of a charter amendment authorizing stock for issuance pursuant to the plan, by the security holders of the issuer at a meeting for which proxies were solicited in accordance with such rules and regulations, if any, as were then in effect under section 14 (a) of the act.

(b) If the selection of the persons who may receive funds or securities pursuant to the plan, or the determination of the amount of funds or securities which may be so received by any such person is subject to the discretion of any person, such discretion shall be exercised by (1) a committee of three or more persons having full and final authority in the matter, or (2) the board of directors of the issuer, provided the members of such committee, or a majority of the directors acting in the matter, are not entitled to participate in such plan or in any other similar plan provided by the issuer or any of its affiliates.

(c) The plan effectively limits the aggregate amount of funds or securities which may be allocated with respect to each fiscal year pursuant to the plan, either by limiting the maximum amount which may be allocated to each participant in the plan or by limiting the maximum amount which may be so allocated to all such participants.

(d) The acquisition of the securities pursuant to the plan does not involve the payment of any cash (other than the application of funds currently received pursuant to the plan) directly or indirectly, to the issuer or any of its affiliates.

The Commission finds that the above-mentioned rule, as amended, grants or recognizes an exemption and may, therefore, be made effective immediately upon publication. Accordingly, the foregoing action shall be effective March 19, 1951.

PART 250—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS, PUBLIC UTILITY HOLDING COMPANY ACT OF 1935

DISCLOSURE DETRIMENTAL TO THE NATIONAL SECURITY

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly section 20 (a) thereof, and deeming such action necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions of the act, hereby adopts the following rule:

§ 250.105 Disclosure detrimental to the national security. (a) The Commission may, upon its own initiative or upon application, authorize or direct that specific information be omitted from any notification, statement, application, declaration, report or other document filed with the Commission pursuant to the act or to rules, regulations, or orders thereunder and available to the public pursuant to § 250.104, and that such information be filed under separate confidential cover, if publication of the information would, in the opinion of the Commission acting in consultation where necessary with any executive department or agency of the United States concerned therewith, be detrimental to the national security.

(b) Any person who is about to file any such document with the Commission may apply to the Commission for an opinion pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section. Application may be made by informal letter and need contain only so much of the information in question as may be necessary in the particular case to enable the Commission to pass upon the application in regard thereto.

(c) Any requirement to the contrary notwithstanding, no notification, statement, application, declaration, report or other document filed with the Commission pursuant to the act or the rules, regulations, or orders thereunder, and available to the public pursuant to § 250.104, shall contain any information which the Commission shall have authorized or directed to be filed under separate confidential cover pursuant to this section. [Rule U-105]

The Commission finds, with respect to the above rule that notice and public procedure pursuant to section 4 (a) and (b) of the Administrative Procedure Act are impractical and unnecessary, for the reason that the rules should be declared effective forthwith in order to be immediately operative as to information the publication of which may be detrimental to the national security. For the same reason, the Commission finds that the rules may be made effective immediately pursuant to section 4 (c) of that act.

Accordingly, the foregoing action shall be effective March 19, 1951.

PART 270—RULES AND REGULATIONS, INVESTMENT COMPANY ACT OF 1940

APPLICATIONS REGARDING BONUS, PROFIT-SHARING AND PENSION PLANS

The Securities and Exchange Commission, acting pursuant to authority conferred upon it by the Investment Company Act of 1940, particularly sections 17 (d) and 38 (a) thereof, hereby amends § 270.17d-1 (Rule N-17D-1) to read as set forth below. The purpose of such amendment is to render unnecessary the filing of applications under the rule with respect to certain types of bonus, profit-sharing and pension plans and to clarify the rule by including a definition of the term "plan".

§ 270.17d-1 Applications regarding bonus, profit-sharing and pension plans. (a) No affiliated person of any registered investment company or of any company controlled by any such registered company, shall participate in, or effect any transaction in connection with, any bonus, profit-sharing or pension plan in which any such registered or controlled company is a participant unless an application regarding such plan has been filed with the Commission and has been granted by an order entered prior to the submission of such plan to security holders for approval, or prior to the adoption thereof if not so submitted.

(b) In passing upon such applications, the Commission will consider whether the provisions of the plan are consistent with the provisions, policies and purposes of the act.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, no application need be filed pursuant to this section with respect to any of the following plans:

(1) Any bonus, profit-sharing or pension plan provided by any controlled company which is not an investment company for its officers or employees, provided no affiliated person of any investment company which is an affiliated person of such controlled company participates therein.

(2) Any bonus plan provided by any management investment company or any controlled company for its officers or employees if (i) the payment of such bonuses and the determination of the amount thereof to be paid to each person are wholly discretionary with the company and (ii) the total amount paid pursuant to the plan does not exceed 5 percent of the net income plus net realized gain (or minus net realized loss) on investments of such company for the fiscal or calendar year with respect to which the bonus is paid; provided that any net unrealized depreciation on investments during such year shall be deducted from any such net realized gain in making the computation.

(3) Any pension plan provided by any management investment company or any controlled company for its officers or employees if (i) the amount set aside annually pursuant to such plan is computed upon the basis of a percentage of the company's payroll and (ii) such plan has been qualified as non-discriminatory under section 165 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(d) The term "Plan" as used in this section means any written or oral plan, contract, authorization, or arrangement, or any practice or understanding, pursuant to which any payment is made, whether such payment is obligatory upon or discretionary with the company making it.

The foregoing action shall become effective March 20, 1951.

PART 825—RENT REGULATIONS UNDER THE HOUSING AND RENT ACT OF 1947, AS AMENDED

MICHIGAN, NEW JERSEY, OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA

Amendment 361 to the Controlled Housing Rent Regulation (§§ 825.1–825.12) and Amendment 356 to the Rent Regulation for Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments (§§ 825.81–825.92). Said regulations are amended in the following respects:

1. Schedule A, Item 149, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Oakland County, except (i) the Townships of Addison, Brandon, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Independenece, Milford, Oakland, Orion, Oxford, Rose and Springfield, (ii) the Villages of Clarkston, Holly, Lake Orion, Leonard, Milford, Ortonville, Oxford, Rochester and that portion of Northville located in Oakland County, and (iii) the Cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Farmington, Hazel Park, Pontiac, Royal Oak, and South Lyon; Wayne County, except (i) the Cities of Grosse Point and Plymouth, (ii) the Village of Wayne, and (iii) that portion of the Village of Northville located in Wayne County; and Macomb County, except the City of Mount Clemens, and the Townships of Armada, Bruce, Lenox, Macomb, Ray, Richmond, Shelby, Sterling and Washington.

In Washtenaw County, the Township of Ann Arbor and the City of Ann Arbor.

This decontrols the Cities of Farmington and Hazel Park in Oakland County, Michigan, portions of the Detroit, Michigan, Defense-Rental Area.

2. Schedule A, Item 191, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Warren County, except the Borough of Washington, the Town of Belvidere, and the Townships of Franklin, Oxford, Pahaquarry, Hardwick and Frelinghausen.

The Counties of Hunterdon and Mercer.

This decontrols the Township of Franklin in Warren County, New Jersey, a portion of the Trenton, New Jersey, Defense-Rental Area.

3. Schedule A, Item 233, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Lorain County, except the Townships of Brighton, Huntington, Penfield, Rochester and Wellington, and the Villages of Amherst, Avon Lake, Oberlin, Wellington and Rochester.

This decontrols the Village of Amherst in Lorain County, Ohio, a portion of the Lorain-Elyria, Ohio, Defense-Rental Area.

4. Schedule A, Item 266, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Bucks County; Chester County; Delaware County, except the Boroughs of Rose Valley and Swarthmore; Montgomery County, except the Borough of North Wales; and Philadelphia County.

This decontrols the Borough of Rose Valley in Delaware County, Pennsylvania, a portion of the Philadelphia Defense-Rental Area.

All decontrols effected by this amendment are based on resolutions submitted in accordance with section 204 (j) (3) of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, as amended.

This amendment shall become effective March 22, 1951.

Issued this 22nd day of March 1951.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 6, Amdt. 3]

CPR 6—FATS AND OILS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738) this Amendment 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 6 (16 F. R. 1501, 2147, 2225) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment makes one small change in the ceiling price of crude cottonseed oil, provides an alternative method of pricing bleachable prime summer yellow cottonseed oil, and names several brands of shortening and salad oil in the categories in which they fall.

(1) Crude cottonseed oil originating at Texarkana, Texas, normally sells at one quarter cent (¼¢) over Texas crude, or at the same price as oil originating in Texarkana, Arkansas. Therefore Bowie County, Texas, is added to those areas which have a ceiling of 23½¢ f. o. b. mill and removed from areas calling for a ceiling of 23¼¢ f. o. b. mill.

(2) The existing short supply of cottonseed oil has encouraged sellers of bleachable prime summer yellow to sell only to certain buyers, who are even slightly more advantageously located than others in respect to freight costs. In a normal market those minor differences are unimportant. For instance, the fixed delivered price is encouraging the flow of oil from Texas points to the West Coast and away from normal destinations, including the Midwest and East.

This amendment will permit a seller of refined oil to charge a ceiling price which will be the sum of the ceiling price for crude oil, a two-cent refining charge, and the freight from the point of origin of the crude oil to the refinery. This permits the buyer to pay the freight from the refinery to destination. The effect of this amendment will be to permit the flow of oil in any direction without favoring those destinations which offer the lowest freight cost with relation to delivered ceiling prices.

(3) The ceiling prices on shortening and salad oils are clarified by naming the well-known brands of Capital City Products Company of Columbus, Ohio. No changes in the ceilings are involved.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

(1) Section 3 (a) of Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended by adding Bowie County, Texas, to the areas where 23½¢ per pound is the applicable f. o. b. mill price for crude cottonseed oil.

(2) Section 3 (b) of Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended by the addition of the following:

(5) Alternative method of pricing bleachable prime summer yellow. Any refiner shall have the alternative privilege of selling bleachable prime summer yellow f. o. b. his refinery, and his ceiling price shall be determined by adding two cents per pound to the ceiling price of crude cottonseed oil, as determined by section 3 (a) of this regulation, plus the amount of freight paid on the crude oil in bringing such oil to the refinery, such amount of freight to be supported by inbound freight bill on the crude oil, surrendered for the purpose of determining the balance of outbound freight to final destination for the refined oil.

(3) Section 11 (a) of Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended by including Capital City Products Co.'s "Famous" in the Standard Shortenings for which ceiling prices listed in section 11 (a) are applicable.

(4) Section 11 (b) of Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended by including Capital City Products Co.'s "B. B. S." in the hydrogenated shortenings (without mono- and diglycerides) for which ceiling prices listed in section 11 (b) are applicable.

(5) Section 11 (c) of Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended by including Capital City Products Co.'s "Hymo" in the hydrogenated shortenings (with mono- and diglycerides) for which ceiling prices listed in section 11 (c) are applicable.

(6) Section 11 (e) of Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 6 is amended by including Capital City Products Co.'s "Winco" and "Corn-O-May" in the salad and cooking oils (made from cottonseed or corn oil) for which ceiling prices listed in section 11 (e) are applicable.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall be effective March 26, 1951.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Amendment 8]

GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

FLORAL PRODUCTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738) this amendment 8 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 808) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATION

This amendment exempts from the General Ceiling Price Regulation cut greens when used for decorative purposes, nursery stock, natural flowers, and floral products. These products have many characteristics which make the application of ceiling prices frozen at base period levels either inequitable or impractical. Many of them are normally subject to sharp price fluctuations due to their seasonal or perishable characteristics. The administrative difficulties of fixing prices are intensified by the high perishability of the product and by the lack of standard grades. Such grades as are available are regional and local in their application due to the fact that quality varies substantially under varying geographic and climatic conditions. Finally, these commodities do not enter significantly into the cost of living, and their exemption from price control will not substantially divert materials, facilities, or manpower from the defense effort. For these reasons the Director of Price Stabilization finds that exemptions of these commodities from price control at this time is necessary to prevent hardships and inequities and is not inconsistent with the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 14 (s) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation is amended by the addition of the following:

(17) Cut greens when used for decorative purposes, such as ferns and the boughs and leaves of trees and shrubs; nursery stock; and natural flowers and floral products, such as cut flowers, flowering plants, foliage plants, and bulbs for planting purposes.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall be effective March 27, 1951.

STORAGE AND HANDLING OF BULK GRAIN FOR DOMESTIC SALE OR USE

LIMITED TEMPORARY GRAIN PORT HANDLING PERMIT; GRAIN ON HAND OR LOADED FOR MOVEMENT ON OR BEFORE APRIL 7, 1951

Pursuant to authority vested in me by DTA Delegation 3 (16 F. R. 2104) under General Order DTA 2 (16 F. R. 2046):

This limited temporary grain port handling permit is hereby issued authorizing the operator of any port terminal warehouse to store and handle at such warehouse grain intended for domestic sale or use, but not in excess of the quantity of such grain normally stored or handled thereat during 1950: Provided, however, That this permit shall be applicable only to grain intended for domestic sale or use received at, or loaded for movement to, such warehouse on or before April 7, 1951.

Grain intended for domestic sale or use not so received or loaded for movement on or before such date may not, under said General Order DTA 2, be stored or handled under this permit at any port terminal warehouse without a permit therefor issued to each operator upon his application.

This limited temporary permit shall become effective immediately.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of March 1951.

H. K. OSGOOD,
Director, Warehousing and Storage Division, Defense Transport Administration.

TITLE 39—POSTAL SERVICE

Chapter I—Post Office Department

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The Post Office Department has been advised by authorities in the Ryukyu Islands that air parcel service, and insurance service, to the United States will begin on April 1, 1951, and since it is desirable to inaugurate the air parcel service, and insurance service, from the United States to the Ryukyu Islands, on the same date, and it having been found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable for the reason that such compliance would impede the due and timely execution of the functions of this Department, it is, therefore, ordered, that, effective April 1, 1951, Part 127 be amended as follows:

a. In § 127.71 Sealing amend paragraph (a) by inserting "Ryukyu Islands (insured)" between "Reunion (Bourbon) Island" and "Salvador, El" in the list of countries shown therein.

b. In § 127.76 Group shipments (16 F. R. 688) make the following changes:

1. Amend paragraph (b) by inserting "Ryukyu Islands (ordinary)" between "Rumania (limited to 3 parcels)" and "St. Pierre and Miquelon" in the list of countries shown therein.

2. Amend paragraph (c) by inserting "Ryukyu Islands", between "New Zealand," and "Western Samoa (British)".

c. In § 127.93 Storage (demurrage) amend paragraph (c) by inserting "Ryukyu Islands" between "Rumania" and "Somalia".

d. In § 127.102 Special provisions applicable to international insurance service (16 F. R. 688) amend paragraph (a) by inserting "Ryukyu Islands" between "Portuguese West Africa" and "Surinam" in the list of countries shown therein.

e. In § 127.342 Ryukyu Islands amend paragraph (b) to read as follows:

(b) Parcel post (Ryukyu Islands).

(1) Table of rates (i) Surface parcels.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter C—Management of Wildlife Conservation Areas

PART 33—CENTRAL REGION

SUBPART—SWAN LAKE NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE, MISSOURI

FISHING

Basis and purpose. On the basis of observation and reports of field representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service, it has been determined that additional fishing privileges can be allowed on the Swan Lake National Wildlife Refuge without detriment to the primary purpose for which the Refuge was established.

Inasmuch as the following regulations are relaxations of the present regulations governing fishing on the Refuge, publication prior to the effective date thereof is not required. (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.)

Effective immediately upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, § 33.221 is revised to read as follows:

§ 33.221 Fishing permitted. Noncommercial fishing is permitted in the waters of the Swan Lake National Wildlife Refuge, Missouri, specified in § 33.222 hereof, during the daylight hours of the period May 1 to September 15, inclusive, of each year, in accordance with the provisions of Parts 18 and 21 of this chapter and under the restrictions contained in §§ 33.222 to 33.225, inclusive.

(Sec. 10, 45 Stat. 1224, 16 U. S. C. 715i)

Dated: March 21, 1951.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

[29 CFR, Ch. V]

SPECIAL INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 9 FOR PUERTO RICO

NOTICE OF HEARING ON MINIMUM WAGE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE AND INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL INDUSTRY; BANKING, INSURANCE AND FINANCE INDUSTRIES; WHOLESALING, WAREHOUSEING AND OTHER DISTRIBUTION INDUSTRIES; AND DECORATIONS AND PARTY FAVORS INDUSTRY

The Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, acting under the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended (52 Stat. 1060; 63 Stat. 910; 29 U. S. C. 201) by Administrative Order No. 403, as amended by Administrative Orders 404 and 406, appointed Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico, composed of residents of Puerto Rico and of the United States outside of Puerto Rico, to investigate conditions in and to recommend minimum wage rates for employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in a number of industries in Puerto Rico specified in the orders, including the Alcoholic Beverage and Industrial Alcohol Industry; the Banking, Insurance and Finance Industries; the Wholesaling, Warehousing, and Other Distribution Industries; and the Decorations and Party Favors Industry.

The Committee included disinterested persons representing the public, a like number of persons representing employees in these industries, and a like number representing employers in these industries.

Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico has made separate minimum wage recommendations and has duly filed with the Administrator reports containing such recommendations, pursuant to section 8 (d) of the act and § 511.19 of the regulations issued under the act, for each of the aforementioned industries.

The Administrator is required under section 8 (d) of the act, after due notice to interested persons and giving them an opportunity to be heard, to approve and carry into effect by order each of the recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico if he finds that the recommendations are made in accordance with law, are supported by the evidence adduced at the hearings and, taking into consideration the same factors as are required to be considered by the Industry Committee, will carry out the purposes of section 8 of the act; and, if he finds otherwise, to disapprove such recomendations.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that:

A. The separate minimum wage recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for employees engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce in the above-named industries in Puerto Rico are as follows:

Industry	Recommended minimum (cents an hour)
Alcoholic beverage and industrial alcohol industry:
General division	60
Beer division	57
Banking, insurance and finance industries	58
Wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries	65
Decorations and party favors industry	30

B. The definitions of the above-named industries in Puerto Rico for which Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico has made the foregoing separate minimum wage recommendations are as follows:

The Alcoholic Beverage and Industrial Alcohol Industry in Puerto Rico. The manufacture, including, but not by way of limitation, the distilling, rectifying, blending, or bottling, of rum, gin, whisky, brandy, cordials, liqueurs, wines, ale, beer, and other alcoholic beverages, and industrial alcohol, such as ethyl alcohol, butyl alcohol, and acetone, anti-freeze, and any related byproduct resulting from the manufacture of any of the foregoing products.

This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include activities covered by the definition of this industry.

The Banking, Insurance and Finance Industries in Puerto Rico. The business, whether or not for profit, carried on by any banking, insurance or other financial institution or enterprise.

The Wholesaling, Warehousing and Other Distribution Industries in Puerto Rico. The wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution of commodities including, but without limitation, the wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution activities of jobbers, importers and exporters, manufacturers' sales branches and offices engaged in distributing products manufactured outside of Puerto Rico, industrial distributors, mail order and retail selling establishments, brokers and agents, and public warehouses: Provided, however, That the definition shall not include the activities of employees who are engaged in wholesaling, warehousing, or other distribution of products manufactured by their employer in Puerto Rico, or any activities covered by a wage order which has been issued for any other industry in Puerto Rico.

Decorations and Party Favors Industry. The manufacture of ornaments and decorations for Christmas and other holidays, party favors and souvenirs, and similar items primarily ornamental or decorative in character.

This definition supersedes the definitions contained in any and all wage orders heretofore issued for other industries in Puerto Rico to the extent that such definitions include products or operations covered by the definition of this industry.

C. The full texts of the reports and recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico for each of the above industries will be available for inspection by any person between the hours of 9:00 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. at the following offices of the United States Department of Labor, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions:

D. Public hearings will be held in Room 5406, Department of Labor Building, Washington 25, D. C., commencing at 10:00 a. m., on the dates set forth below before the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, or a representative designated to preside in his place, for the purpose of taking evidence on the question of whether the separate recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico set forth above shall be approved or disapproved.

Banking, insurance, and finance industries	Apr. 24, 1951
Wholesaling, warehousing, and other distribution industries	Do.
Decorations and party favors industry	Do.
Alcoholic beverage and industrial alcohol industry	Apr. 25, 1951

E. Any interested person supporting or opposing any of the recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico which are set forth above may appear at any of the aforesaid hearings to offer evidence, either on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person; Provided, That, not later than seven days preceding any hearing at which he intends to appear, such person shall file with the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C., or at the office of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½ Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, Puerto Rico, notice of his intention to appear, which shall contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing;

2. If such person is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom he is representing;

3. The recommendation or recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico in which he is interested and whether he proposes to appear for or against such recommendation or recommendations;

4. The approximate length of time requested for his presentation.

Such notice may be mailed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, or to the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, Puerto Rico, and shall be deemed filed upon receipt.

F. Any person interested in supporting or opposing any of the above recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico may secure further information concerning the aforesaid hearings by inquiry directed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, or to the Territorial Representative, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, Puerto Rico, or by consulting with attorneys representing the Administrator who will be available at the Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

G. The records made at the public hearings on conditions in the above-named industries in Puerto Rico held before Special Industry Committee No. 9 in Santurce, Puerto Rico, on November 29 and 30 and December 1, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8, 1950, may be examined by any interested person at the office of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, at 14th and Constitution Avenue, Washington 25, D. C., and Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½ Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, Puerto Rico. The records of the public hearing before the Industry Committee with respect to each of the above-named industries in Puerto Rico will be offered in evidence at the appropriate public hearing before the Administrator or his representative on such industry.

H. The hearings will be conducted in accordance with the following rules, subject, however, to such subsequent modifications by the Presiding Officer (the Administrator or his authorized representative, as the case may be) as are deemed appropriate:

1. The hearing shall be stenographically reported and a transcript made which will be available to any person at prescribed rates upon request addressed to the Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Fourteenth and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington 25, D. C.

2. At the discretion of the Presiding Officer, the hearing may be continued from day to day or adjourned to a later date, or to a different place by announcement thereof at the hearing or by other appropriate notice.

3. At any stage of the hearing, the Presiding Officer may call for further evidence upon any matter. After the hearing has been closed, no further evidence shall be taken, except at the request of the Administrator, unless provision has been made at the hearing for the later receipt of such evidence. In the event that the Administrator shall cause the hearing to be reopened for the purpose of receiving further evidence, due and reasonable notice of the time and place fixed for such taking of testimony shall be given to all persons who have filed a notice of intention to appear at the hearing.

4. All evidence must be presented under oath or affirmation.

5. Except as otherwise permitted by the Presiding Officer, written documents or exhibits submitted personally at the hearing must be offered in evidence by a person who is prepared to testify as to the authenticity and trustworthiness thereof, and who shall, at the time of offering the documentary exhibit, make a brief statement as to the contents and manner of preparation thereof. Written, sworn statements may be filed any time prior to the date of the hearing by persons who cannot appear personally.

6. Written documents and exhibits shall be tendered in quadruplicate. When evidence is embraced in a document containing matter not intended to be offered in evidence, such a document will not be received, but the person offering the same may present to the Presiding Officer the original document together with two copies of those portions of the document intended to be offered in evidence.

7. Subpoenas requiring the attendance of witnesses or the presentation of a document from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing shall be issued by the Administrator upon request and upon a timely showing, in writing, of the general relevance and reasonable scope of the evidence sought. Any person appearing in the proceeding may apply for the issuance by the Administrator of the subpoena. Such application shall identify exactly the witness or document and state fully the nature of the evidence proposed to be secured.

8. Witnesses summoned by the Administrator shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance witnesses appear and the Administrator, before issuing a subpoena, may require a deposit of an amount adequate to cover the fees and mileage involved.

9. The rules of evidence prevailing in courts of law or equity shall not be controlling. However, it shall be the policy to exclude irrelevant, immaterial, or unduly repetitious evidence.

10. The Presiding Officer shall, upon request, permit any person appearing in the proceeding to conduct such cross-examination of any witness offered by another person as may be required for a full and true disclosure of the facts, and to object to the admission or exclusion of evidence. Objections to the admission or exclusion of evidence shall be stated briefly with the reasons relied on. Such objections shall become a part of the record, but the record shall not include argument thereon except as ordered by the Presiding Officer.

11. Before the close of the hearing, written request shall be received from persons appearing in the proceeding for permission to make oral argument before the Administrator upon the matters in issue. If the Administrator, in his discretion, allows the request, he shall give such notice thereof as he deems suitable to all persons appearing in the proceeding and shall designate the time and place at which oral argument shall be heard. If such requests are allowed, all persons appearing at the hearing shall be given opportunity to present oral argument.

12. Briefs (4 copies) on particular questions may be submitted to the Administrator following the close of the hearing, by any persons appearing thereat. Notice of the final dates for filing such briefs shall be given by the Administrator in such manner as shall be deemed suitable by him.

13. (a) Where the hearing is held before the Administrator, within fifteen (15) days after the close of the hearing, any interested person appearing at the hearing may submit, for the consideration of the Administrator, an original and four copies of a statement in writing containing proposed findings and conclusions, together with supporting reasons therefor.

(b) Where the hearing is held before a representative of the Administrator designated to preside in his place, a complete record of the proceedings shall be certified to the Administrator upon the close of the hearing. The Administrator shall thereupon issue a tentative decision in the matter, which shall become a part of the record and include a statement of his findings and conclusions, as well as the reasons or basis therefor, upon all the material issues of fact, law, or discretion presented on the record, and the appropriate order. Notice of the Administrator's tentative decision shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) Within fifteen (15) days after such notice of the Administrator's tentative decision is published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, any interested person appearing at the hearing may file with the Administrator a statement in writing (original and four copies) setting forth any exceptions he may have to such decision, together with supporting reasons for such exceptions.

(d) After the expiration of the fifteen day periods referred to in paragraphs 13 (a) and (c) above, and after consideration of all relevant matter presented as provided in such paragraphs, the Administrator shall make his final decision in the matter, and shall issue an order approving or disapproving the recommendations of the Industry Committee. Such order shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

14. Any wage order issued as a result of hearings held hereunder shall take effect 30 days after due notice is given of the issuance thereof by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or at such time prior thereto as may be provided therein upon good cause found and published therewith.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of March 1951.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR, Part 12]

[Docket No. 9920]

AMATEUR RADIO SERVICE

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter.

2. It is proposed to delete § 12.24 and to amend §§ 12.27 (a), 12.47, 12.62, 12.63 (b) and 12.65 of Part 12, "Rules Governing Amateur Radio Service" to clarify requirements for renewal of amateur operator licenses; to modernize procedure incidental to examinations for amateur operator licenses; to prescribe the grade of license required in order for an applicant to qualify as Trustee of an amateur radio organization or society; to provide for submission of applications for station licenses, when not also accompanied by an application for a change in privileges under an operator license, direct to the Commission's Washington, D. C., office and to correct a typographical error in the rule relating to the term of an amateur license. The proposed amendments appear below.

3. The proposed amendments are issued under the authority of sections 4 (i) and 303 (l) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted, or should not be adopted in the form set forth, may file with the Commission on or before April 23, 1951, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. At the same time any person who favors the amendments as set forth may file a statement in support thereof. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments or briefs may be filed within fifteen days from the last day for filing the said original comments or briefs. The Commission will consider all such comments, briefs, and statements before taking final action. If any comments are received which appear to warrant the Commission in holding an oral argument before final action is taken, notice of the time and place of such oral argument will be given such interested parties.

5. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules, an original and fourteen copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: March 21, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

Part 12, Rules governing amateur radio service, is proposed to be amended in the following particulars:

1. Section 12.24 is proposed to be deleted.

2. Section 12.27 is proposed to be amended by transferring the reference to footnote 6 from paragraph (a) to the last word of the title sentence of the section, and amending paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) An amateur operator license, except the Novice Class, may be renewed upon proper application in which it is stated that the applicant has lawfully accumulated, at an amateur station licensed by the Commission, a minimum total of either 2 hours operating time during the last three months or 5 hours operating time during the last 12 months of the license term. Such operating time, for the purpose of renewal, shall be counted as the total of all that time between the entries in the station log showing the beginning and end of transmissions as required in § 12.136 (a), both during single transmissions and during a sequence of transmissions. The application shall, in addition to the foregoing, include a statement that the applicant can send by hand key, i. e., straight key or any other type of hand operated key such as a semi-automatic or electronic key, and receive by ear, in plain language, messages in the International Morse Code at a speed of not less than that which is required in qualifying for an original license of the class being renewed.

3. Section 12.47 is proposed to be amended to read as follows:

§ 12.47 Examination procedure. All written portions of the examinations for amateur operator privileges shall be completed by the applicant in legible handwriting or hand printing, and diagrams shall be drawn by hand, by means of either pen and ink or pencil. Whenever the applicant's signature is required, his normal signature shall be used. Applicants unable to comply with these requirements, because of physical disability, may dictate their answers to the examination questions and the receiving code test, and if unable to draw required diagrams, may dictate a detailed description essentially equivalent. If the examination or any part thereof is dictated, the examiner shall certify the nature of the applicant's disability and the name and address of the person(s) taking and transcribing the applicant's dictation.

4. Section 12.62 is proposed to be amended to read as follows:

§ 12.62 Eligibility of corporations or organizations to hold license. An amateur station license will not be issued to a school, company, corporation, association, or other organization, nor for its use, except that in the case of a bonafide amateur radio organization or society, a station license may be issued to a licensed amateur operator, other than the holder of a Novice Class license, as trustee for such society.

5. Section 12.63 (b) is proposed to be amended to read as follows:

(b) One application and all papers incorporated therein and made a part thereof shall be submitted for each amateur station license. If the application is for station license only, it shall be filed directly with the Commission at its Washington 25, D. C. office. If the application also contains application for any class of amateur operator license, it shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of § 12.22.

6. Section 12.65 is proposed to be amended to read as follows:

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

AEROVIAS GUEST, S. A.; SERVICE TO BERMUDA

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the application of Aerovias Guest, S. A., for amendment of its foreign air carrier permit so as to include Hamilton, Bermuda, as an additional intermediate point on its route between Mexico City, Mexico, and Madrid, Spain.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 402 and 1001 of said act, that a hearing in the above-entitled proceeding is assigned to be held on April 9, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., in Room E-210, Temporary Building No. 5, 16th Street and Constitution Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner Curtis C. Henderson.

Without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said application, particular attention will be directed to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the proposed air transportation will be in the public interest as defined in section 2 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

2. Whether the applicant is fit, willing, and able to perform such transportation and to conform to the provisions of the act and the rules, regulations, and requirements of the Board thereunder.

3. Whether the authorization of the proposed transportation is consistent with any obligation assumed by the United States in any treaty, convention or agreement in force between the United States of America and the Republic of Mexico.

Notice is further given that any person desiring to be heard in this proceeding must file with the Board, on or before April 9, 1951, a statement setting forth the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert.

For further details of the service proposed and authorization requested, interested parties are referred to the application on file with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Dated at Washington, D. C., March 21, 1951.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

PACIFIC-ATLANTIC STEAMSHIP CO. AND POPE & TALBOT, INC.

NOTICE OF FURTHER HEARING ON APPLICATIONS TO BAREBOAT CHARTER GOVERNMENT-OWNED, WAR-BUILT, DRY-CARGO VESSELS

Pacific-Atlantic Steamship Company, Docket No. M-16; Pope & Talbot, Inc., Docket No. M-17.

Pursuant to section 3, Public Law 591, 81st Congress, notice is hereby given that a further hearing in the above-entitled proceedings will be held at Washington, D. C., on April 3, 1951, at 10 o'clock a. m., in Room 4821, Department of Commerce Building, before an examiner of the Hearing Examiners' Office, upon the applications of Pacific-Atlantic Steamship Co. and Pope & Talbot, Inc., to bareboat charter Government-owned, war-built, dry-cargo vessels for use in the intercoastal trade beyond April 15, 1951, the expiration date of applicants' existing charters.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence with respect to whether the service for which such vessels are proposed to be chartered is required in the public interest and would not be adequately served without the use therein of such vessels, and with respect to the availability of privately-owned American-flag vessels for charter on reasonable conditions and at reasonable rates for use in such service.

All persons having an interest in such applications will be given an opportunity to be heard if present.

The parties may have oral argument before the examiner immediately following the close of the hearing, in lieu of briefs, and the examiner will issue a recommended decision. Parties may have two (2) days within which to file exceptions to or memoranda in support of the examiner's recommended decision, but the Board reserves the right to determine whether oral argument on exceptions will be granted or whether briefs in connection therewith will be received.

Dated: March 21, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

SECRETARY OF COMMISSION

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO FIXED PUBLIC AND FIXED PUBLIC PRESS SERVICE

In the matter of amending section 0.145 (d) (1) of the Commission's Delegations of Authority.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of March 1951;

The Commission, having under consideration the numerous applications filed with it by licensees in the fixed public and fixed public press service for authority to transmit addressed program material, other than in connection with special news events, to various overseas and foreign points under the provisions of § 6.51 of the Commission's rules and regulations; the provisions of section 0.145 (d) of the Statement of Delegations of Authority pursuant to which authority is delegated to the Secretary, upon securing the approval of the Bureaus of Law, Engineering and Accounting to act upon certain applications in the fixed public and fixed public press service; and its Order of September 6, 1950, delegating authority to the Chief, Common Carrier Bureau or his nominee to act upon the matters set forth in the aforementioned section 0.145 (d);

It appearing, that paragraph (1) of section 0.145 (d) provides for staff action, as described above, with respect to applications involving the transmission of addressed program material, as set forth in § 6.51 of the rules, in connection with special news events only, and with respect to applications involving the control and reception of addressed program and facsimile material in connection with special news events only;

It further appearing, that the type of applications under consideration seldom present or involve any special questions of policy;

It further appearing, that it would expedite the handling of the Commission's business and be in the public interest to provide for a procedure for action by the staff on all applications relating to the transmission of addressed program material or relating to the control of the transmission and reception of addressed program and facsimile material;

It further appearing, that the amendments to the Commission's Statement of Delegations of Authority contemplated by this order concern agency management, organization and procedure, and that, therefore, compliance with the public notice and procedure provided for in section 4 of the Administrative Procedures Act is unnecessary; and

It further appearing, that authority for the amendment herein ordered is contained in section 4 (i), section 5 (e), and section 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended;

It is ordered, That, effective immediately, section 0.145 (d) (1) of the Statement of Delegations of Authority be amended by deleting "in connection with special news events" which appears twice therein, so that, as amended, the subparagraph will read as follows:

(1) New points of communication, not already authorized to a station of the licensee at some other location or not already authorized by an outstanding construction permit; unless the application for a new point of communication is for (i) transmission of addressed program material, as set forth in § 6.51, or (ii) control of the transmission and reception of addressed program and facsimile material;

Released: March 22, 1951.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G-1115]

CANADIAN RIVER GAS CO. AND COLORADO INTERSTATE GAS CO.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

By order issued September 3, 1948, the Commission, on its own motion, instituted an investigation of Canadian River Gas Company and Colorado Interstate Gas Company for the purpose of enabling the Commission to determine whether, in connection with any transportation or sale of natural gas subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, any rates, charges, or classifications demanded, observed, charged or collected, or any rules, regulations, practices, or contracts affecting such rates, charges or classifications, are unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or preferential.

The order issued September 3, 1948, provided further that if the Commission, after hearing, shall find that any such rates, charges, services, classifications, rules, regulations, practices or contracts are unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or preferential, the Commission will determine and fix by order or orders the just and reasonable charges, classifications, rules, regulations, practices or contracts, to be thereafter observed and in force.

The Commission finds: That it is appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that a hearing be held as hereinafter provided.

The Commission orders:

(A) Public hearing be held commencing August 1, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., respecting the matters involved and the issues presented in this proceeding.

(B) Interested State Commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: March 20, 1951.

KINGS COUNTY LIGHTING CO. ET AL.

ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

MARCH 19, 1951.

In the matters of Kings County Lighting Company, Docket No. G-1602; The Brooklyn Union Gas Company, Docket No. G-1603; Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc., Docket No. G-1604.

Kings County Lighting Company,[1] The Brooklyn Union Gas Company,[1] and Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Inc.,[2] (Applicants), all New York corporations, filed on February 1, 2, and 5, 1951, respectively, applications for certificates of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural-gas facilities, should it ultimately be determined that such facilities are subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission under the act, all as more fully described in said applications on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The Commission finds: (1) Applicants have requested that their several applications be heard under the shortened procedure provided for by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) for non-contested proceedings, and it appears to be a proper one for disposition under the aforesaid rule, no request to be heard, protest or petition raising an issue of substance having been filed subsequent to the giving of due notice of the filing of the applications including publications in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 1, 1951 (Docket Nos. G-1602, G-1603), (16 F. R. 1967 and 1968, respectively), and March 6, 1951 (Docket No. G-1604), (16 F. R. 2107-2108).

(2) Orderly procedure requires and the public interest would be served by the consolidation of the above-entitled proceedings because of the common issues and the interrelated projects involved, as hereinafter ordered.

(3) It is in the public interest and good cause exists for fixing date of hearing in these matters less than 15 days after publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The Commission orders:

(A) The proceedings in Docket Nos. G-1602, G-1603 and G-1604 be and they are hereby consolidated for the purpose of hearing and disposition.

(B) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing be held on March 30, 1951, at 9:30 a. m., e. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by such applications, provided, however, that the Commission may, after a non-contested hearing, forthwith dispose of the proceedings pursuant to the provisions of § 1.32 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: March 20, 1951.

[S. O. 874, General Permit 8]

CLINTON FOODS, INC.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, serving Clinton Foods, Inc., Clinton, Iowa, to disregard the provisions of Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to any car loaded with livestock feed with high molasses content, known by the trade name Dex-Mo-Las Feed when Clinton Foods, Inc., advise that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum requirements because the hygroscopic properties of the commodity make it unsalable when exposed.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and the Clinton Foods, Inc., shall furnish the Permit Agent the car numbers, initials, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., March 21, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of March 1951.

HOWARD S. KLINE,
Permit Agent.

MIDDLE SOUTH UTILITIES, INC.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION, AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of March A. D. 1951.

Middle South Utilities, Inc. ("Middle South"), a registered holding company, having filed a declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6 (a) and 7 thereof, and Rule U-50 of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, with respect to the issuance and sale, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, of 450,000 shares of common stock, without nominal or par value, to underwriters or investment bankers who shall agree promptly to make public offering thereof; and

The Commission by order dated March 12, 1951, having permitted said declaration, as then amended, to become effective subject to the condition that the proposed issuance and sale of common stock should not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 should be made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order entered by the Commission in the light of the record as so completed, and subject to a reservation of jurisdiction with respect to the payment of all fees and expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Middle South having filed a further amendment to its declaration setting forth that in response to its public invitations for proposals to purchase the said stock the following bids were received:

Underwriters	Price to company (per share)
Blyth & Co., Inc.	$17.545
Kidder, Peabody & Co., Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane	17.4959
The First Boston Corp.	17.436
Lehman Bros.	17.385
Union Securities Corp., Equitable Securities Corp.	17.315

Said amendment further setting forth that Middle South has accepted the bid of the underwriting group headed by Blyth & Co., Inc., as set forth above, and that said shares of common stock are to be reoffered to the public at a price of $18.125 per share, resulting in underwriter's compensation of $.58 per share, and an aggregate underwriting spread of $261,000; and

The record having also been completed with respect to fees and expenses in connection with the proposed transactions which fees and expenses are estimated in the aggregate amount of $60,000 including legal fees in the amount of $5,500 for Cahill, Gordon, Zachry & Reindel, counsel for the company, and said amendments also setting forth the fee of Beekman & Bogue, counsel for the underwriters, in the amount of $4,500, which fee is to be paid by the successful purchasers; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein, the Commission finding that the fees proposed to be paid are not unreasonable, and the Commission observing no basis for adverse findings or the imposition of terms and conditions with respect to the matters set forth in said amendment:

It is ordered, That jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the matters to be determined as the result of competitive bidding under Rule U-50, and with respect to fees and expenses in connection with the issuance and sale of the said common stock be, and the same hereby is, released and that said declaration, as amended be, and the same hereby is permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

UTAH POWER & LIGHT CO. AND WESTERN COLORADO POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of March A. D. 1951.

Utah Power & Light Company ("Utah"), a registered holding company, and its electric utility subsidiary, The Western Colorado Power Company ("Colorado"), having filed a joint application-declaration and amendment thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6, 7, 9, 10, and 12 (f) thereof and Rule U-45 of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

Colorado proposes to borrow from Utah from time to time during the year 1951 up to an aggregate amount of $600,000, such borrowings to be evidenced by promissory notes maturing eleven months after date of issuance, and bearing interest at the rate of 3½ percent per annum. Proceeds from the borrowings will be used in connection with Colorado's construction program.

Colorado also requests authority to refinance $1,000,000 principal amount of 3½ percent eleven month notes issued to Utah during the year 1950, through the issuance of Colorado's 4 percent note maturing July 1, 1963.

Utah owns all of the outstanding securities of Colorado consisting of 125,000 shares of $20 par value common stock, $3,375,000 principal amount of 4 percent notes maturing July 1, 1963, and $1,000,000 principal amount of 3½ percent eleven-month notes.

Said application-declaration having been filed on February 19, 1951, an amendment thereto having been filed on March 12, 1951, notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner required by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, the Commission not having received a request for hearing within the time specified in said notice or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the issuance and delivery of the notes by Colorado to Utah have been specifically authorized by the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Colorado, the State Commission of the state in which Colorado was organized and is doing business, the Commission further finding that in other respects the transaction is in accordance with the applicable standards of the act and that no adverse findings need be made thereunder, and the Commission deeming it appropriate to grant said application and permit said declaration to become effective without the imposition of terms and conditions:

It is ordered, That said application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 16 NUMBER 60

Washington, Wednesday, March 28, 1951

TITLE 3—THE PRESIDENT

PROCLAMATION 2920

PAN AMERICAN DAY, 1951

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS April 14, 1951, will mark the sixty-first anniversary of the founding of the Pan American Union, which now serves as the General Secretariat of the Organization of American States; and

WHEREAS the Organization of American States has demonstrated its effectiveness in the maintenance of peace in the Western Hemisphere; and

WHEREAS the inter-American system may serve as an example of progress in the achievement of peace, security, and cooperation; and

WHEREAS the Fourth Meeting of Consultation of the Ministers of Foreign Affairs of American States will convene at Washington on March 26, 1951, to consider action to be taken in the common defense of these republics and of the free world:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY S. TRUMAN, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Saturday, April 14, 1951, as Pan American Day, and I direct the appropriate officials of the Government to arrange for the display of the flag of the United States on all public buildings on that day.

I also invite the Governors of the States, Territories, and possessions of the United States to issue similar proclamations for the observance of Pan American Day. And I urge all interested organizations, and the people generally, to unite in suitable ceremonies commemorative of the founding of the Pan American Union, thereby testifying to the close bonds of friendship existing between the people of the United States and those of the other American republics.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 23d day of March in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and [SEAL] fifty-one, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-fifth.

HARRY S. TRUMAN

By the President:

DEAN ACHESON,
Secretary of State.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 920—HANDLING OF IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN MASSACHUSETTS, RHODE ISLAND, CONNECTICUT, NEW HAMPSHIRE, AND VERMONT

EXEMPTION CERTIFICATES AND SAFEGUARDS

A notice of proposed rule making regarding rules and regulations for the issuance of exemption certificates and the establishment of safeguards, to be made effective under Order No. 20 (15 F. R. 7349) regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, and Vermont was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 907). The regulatory program is effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the rules and regulations set forth in the aforesaid notice, which rules and regulations were adopted and submitted for approval by the New England Potato Committee, established pursuant to said order, the following rules and regulations are hereby approved.

It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give 30-day notice of the effective date of this order in that (i) shipments of potatoes from the production area are now being made; (ii) more orderly marketing in the public interest than would otherwise prevail will be promoted by effectuating the rules and regulations hereinafter set forth on and after the effective date of this section; (iii) compliance with the rules and regulations will require no preparation on the part of producers and handlers which cannot be completed by the effective date of this order; (iv) notice has been given of the proposed rules and regulations by publication thereof, as required by law (16 F. R. 907); and (v) the rules and regulations should be approved upon publication hereof in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Sec.
920.101 Definitions.
920.102 Area determinations.
920.103 Exemption certificates.
920.104 Safeguards for special purpose shipments.

AUTHORITY: §§ 920.101 to 920.104 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c.

§ 920.101 Definitions. For the purposes of §§ 920.101 to 920.104, inclusive, order means Order No. 20 (§§ 920.1 to 920.92; 15 F. R. 7349) regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the States of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Hampshire, and Vermont, and the terms used in such sections shall have the meanings set forth in §§ 920.1 to 920.92.

§ 920.102 Area determinations. (a) "Immediate area of production" is synonymous with "districts"; and (b) "immediate shipping area" means the "district" wherein the potatoes to be covered by a handler exemption will be first handled under such exemption.

§ 920.103 Exemption certificates—(a) Application. Each producer and handler applying for exemption from regulations issued pursuant to § 920.53 shall file such application with the committee, or its duly authorized agent for such purpose, on forms to be furnished by the committee. Each application shall state the name and address of the applicant; the grade, size, and quality regulations from which exemption is requested, and facts demonstrating that the potatoes, for which exemption is requested, were adversely affected by acts beyond his control or by acts beyond the applicant's reasonable expectation. Each application for an exemption certificate must be accompanied by a Federal-State Inspection Certificate or Certificates covering the lot or lots of potatoes for which exemption is requested: Provided, That the committee may authorize the submission of such Federal-State Inspection Certificates subsequent to the filing of the applications for exemption and prior to consideration of such applications. In addition, applications shall set forth such additional information as the committee may find necessary in making determinations with respect thereto, including, without limitation thereto, the information required on producer applications by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, and the information required on handler applications by subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph:

(1) The location of the farm or farms on which potatoes for which exemption is requested were produced, or, if such potatoes are stored, the location of the storage where such potatoes are held, the location where such potatoes are to be processed, and the loading point from which such potatoes are to be shipped if exemption is granted;

(2) Acreage and quantity (by grade, size, quality, and variety) of potatoes harvested prior to the date of application and to be harvested, subsequent to such date, during the remainder of the season or specific portion thereof (as may be determined pursuant to the order); the quantity (by grade, size, quality, and variety) of potatoes disposed of prior to the date of application and to be disposed of subsequent to such date; the location of the potatoes to be disposed of, together with the place where such potatoes will be first handled; an estimate of the portion of such potatoes which can be handled under regulations issued pursuant to § 920.53, during the remainder of the season or specific portion thereof (as may be determined pursuant to the order); and the reasons why all of such potatoes cannot be handled under such regulations;

(3) The quantity (by grade, size, quality, and variety) of potatoes acquired by the applicant and stored during and immediately following the digging season, with appropriate identification of the location of individual storage bins, and a statement as to the reasons why the specified quantity of such potatoes remaining in storage cannot be handled under regulations in effect on and subsequent to the date of the application;

(4) The quantity (by grade, size, quality, and variety) of potatoes acquired by the applicant and stored during and immediately following the digging season, which were handled prior to the date of the application;

(5) Any applicant who is a producer of potatoes and a handler of potatoes produced by others may be required by the committee to distinguish between his producer and handler operations in submitting reports and data with respect to his applications for exemption.

(b) Investigation of applications. The committee may authorize investigations of applications by its employees, Federal-State inspectors, and such other persons as may be necessary to procure adequate information to pass upon the merits of such applications.

(c) Issuance. (1) The committee, or its duly authorized agents, shall give prompt consideration to all statements and facts relating to each application for exemption, and, pursuant to applicable provisions of the order, a determination shall be made as to whether or not the application is approved. The determination, if approving the application, shall be evidenced by the issuance of a certificate of exemption pursuant to § 920.71: Provided, That more than one certificate may be issued, at the request of an applicant, where the applicant ships or causes to be shipped the total quantity of exempted potatoes in more than one lot, in which case each certificate so issued shall be limited to the quantity of exempted potatoes to be contained in the respective lots shipped and the total quantity of exempted potatoes covered by such certificates shall not exceed the total quantity of such potatoes which would be authorized if only one certificate were issued to such applicant.

(2) The applicant shall be notified in writing if his request for exemption is denied.

(3) Each exemption certificate issued pursuant to this subpart shall be on a form duly approved by the committee and signed by an authorized representative of the committee. At least one copy of each exemption certificate issued shall be retained in the committee records. Each such certificate shall contain the name and address of the recipient, the location of all potatoes authorized to be shipped thereunder, the quantity (by varieties, grade, size, and quality) of potatoes which will be permitted in the exempted shipments, and such other information as may be deemed necessary by the committee to provide the committee, the recipient, or both, with adequate and specific information regarding such exempted potatoes.

(d) Disposition of certificates and reports. (1) Each lot of potatoes handled under an exemption certificate shall be accompanied by such certificate or by such appropriate identifying information with respect to such certificate as the committee may require to facilitate the administration of regulatory provisions applicable thereto.

(2) Handlers of potatoes exempted from regulation under exemption certificates shall, at such time as may be specified in such certificates, report thereon to the committee the names and addresses of persons to whom such potatoes were shipped, the quantity shipped, the grades, sizes, and qualities (by varieties) of potatoes so shipped, the inspection certificates issued with respect thereto, the dates of such shipments, and such other information as may be requested by the committee in order to administer the regulatory provisions applicable thereto.

(e) Appeals. If any applicant is dissatisfied with the determination of the committee regarding an application for an exemption certificate, or any duly issued exemption certificate, an appeal by such applicant may be taken to the committee in accordance with § 920.72.

§ 920.104 Safeguards for special purpose shipments—(a) Application for Certificates of Privilege. (1) All handlers desiring to make shipments of potatoes for the following purposes shall, prior thereto, apply to the committee for and obtain a Certificate or Certificates of Privilege permitting such shipments:

(i) Seed;

(ii) Export;

(iii) Livestock feed, except dyed potatoes distributed for livestock feed by the Federal Government; and

(iv) Manufacture or conversion into potato chips or potato salad.

(2) Applications for Certificates of Privilege shall be made on forms furnished by the committee. Each application shall contain the name and address of the handler, and such other information as the committee may require, such as, but not limited to, the quantities and varieties of potatoes to be shipped, the grades, sizes, and quality to be shipped, the mode of transportation, name of consignee, destination, and other appropriate information or documents necessary to safeguard against the entry of such potatoes into trade channels other than those for which the Certificate or Certificates are granted.

(b) Issuance. The committee, or its duly authorized agents, shall give prompt consideration to each application for a Certificate of Privilege and, pursuant to applicable provisions of the order, shall determine whether the application is approved. Approval of an application shall be evidenced by the issuance of a Certificate of Privilege authorizing the applicant named therein to ship potatoes for a specified purpose for a specific period of time.

(c) Reports. Each handler shipping potatoes under and pursuant to a Certificate of Privilege shall, 24 hours after each such shipment is made, supply the committee with a report thereon (except shipments of less than 10,000 pounds which shall be reported within 7 days after such shipment), showing the name and address of the shipper, car or truck license number, Federal-State Inspection Certificate number, loading point, destination, and consignee.

(d) Denial and appeals. The committee may rescind a Certificate or Certificates of Privilege, issued to a handler pursuant to this section, or deny Certificates of Privilege to a handler, upon proof, satisfactory to the committee, that such handler has shipped potatoes contrary to the provisions of this section. Such committee action denying a Certificate or Certificates of Privilege shall apply to and not exceed a reasonable period of time as determined by the committee. Any handler who has been denied a Certificate of Privilege, or who has had a Certificate of Privilege rescinded, may appeal to the committee for reconsideration. Such appeal shall be in writing.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

Subchapter B—Economic Regulations

[Regs., Serial No. ER-160]

PART 207—CHARTER TRIPS AND SPECIAL SERVICES

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of March 1951.

Section 401 (f) of the Civil Aeronautics Act authorizes the Board to regulate the performance of charter trips or other special services by certificated air carriers. Up to the present time we have issued no regulation covering the performance of charter trips and special services by certificated air carriers except in the case of Alaskan air carriers and except, during the period of the war, for a regulation prohibiting such services without the permission of the appropriate military authorities. Developments during the past three years, particularly in the field of foreign and overseas air transportation, have made it increasingly apparent that some measure of control should be exercised in this field. Accordingly, the Board is establishing herein the general framework under which charter trips and special services may be encouraged and wasteful competitive practices therein curtailed, so as to fulfill the basic policy of the act as set forth in section 2 thereof.

Since this new part relates only to charter trips and special services in air transportation performed by certificated air carriers, it will not apply to the activities of the noncertificated irregular carriers, to bona fide non-common carrier operations, nor to other services not in air transportation, such as local sightseeing flights wholly within the boundaries of a single state, territory or possession.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this regulation, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends the Economic Regulations (14 CFR Chapter I) effective May 1, 1951.

(1) By adding thereto a new part 207, to read as follows:

Sec.

207.1 Definitions.
207.2 Applicability of part.
207.3 Scope of authorization.
207.4 Tariffs to be filed for charter trips and special services.
207.5 Limitation on amount of charter and other special services which may be performed.
207.6 Charter trips and other special services within the Territory of Alaska.
207.7 Charter trips and other special services to or from points served by another carrier.
207.8 Charter trips and other special services in overseas and foreign air transportation over routes of another carrier.
207.9 Notice of proposed special services.
207.10 Part-way carriage of through traffic subject to § 207.7.
207.11 Temporary authorization for National Defense transportation.

AUTHORITY: §§ 207.1 to 207.11 issued under sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425. Interpret or apply secs. 401, 403, 52 Stat. 987, 992; 49 U. S. C. 481, 483.

§ 207.1 Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Charter trip" means air transportation performed by an air carrier holding a certificate of public convenience and necessity where the entire capacity of one or more aircraft has been engaged for the movement of persons and their baggage or for the movement of property, on a time, mileage or trip basis

(1) By a person for his own use,

(2) By a person (no part of whose business is the formation of groups for transportation or the solicitation or sale of transportation services) for the transportation of a group of persons as agent or representative of such group,

(3) By two or more persons acting jointly for the transportation of such group of persons, or their property,

(4) By an air freight forwarder holding a currently effective letter of registration issued under Part 296 or Part 297 of this subchapter for the carriage of property in air transportation.

Within the meaning of this part, a charter trip shall not be deemed to include transportation services offered by an air carrier to individual members of the general public or performed by an air carrier under an arrangement with a person (other than an air freight forwarder defined in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph who provides or offers to provide transportation to the general public or transportation services engaged by persons paying for such services an amount aggregating in excess of the transporting carrier's duly published charter rate or fare.

(b) "Point" means any airport or place where an aircraft may be landed or taken off, including the area within a 50-mile radius of such airport or place.

(c) "Special services" are all services rendered in air transportation which are authorized by section 401 (f) of the act by an air carrier holding a certificate of public convenience and necessity other than (1) services rendered in air transportation over the route or routes designated in its certificate(s), (2) charter services as defined in this section, and (3) services authorized by special exemption under section 416 (b) of the act.

§ 207.3 Scope of authorization. Charter trips and other special services may be performed by air carriers, subject, however, to the limitations and regulations set forth in the part. Apart from such trips and services, an air carrier shall not perform any air transportation except in conformity with its certificate of public convenience and necessity or with a special or general exemption issued by the Board.

§ 207.4 Tariffs to be filed for charter trips and special services. No air carrier shall perform any charter trips or other special services unless such air carrier shall have on file with the Board a currently effective tariff showing all rates, fares, and charges for such charter trips and other special services, and showing the rules, regulations, practices, and services in connection with such transportation.

§ 207.5 Limitation on amount of charter and other special services which may be performed. An air carrier shall not during any calendar quarter perform charter trips or other special services (not counting charter trips or other special services performed between points designated to receive service by such carrier in its certificate of public convenience and necessity) which in the aggregate, on a revenue plane-mile basis, exceeds 2½ percent of the revenue plane-miles flown by it in scheduled air transportation during the preceding 12-month period.

§ 207.6 Charter trips and other special services within the Territory of Alaska. An air carrier shall not perform any charter trip or other special service in interstate air commerce within the Territory of Alaska.

§ 207.7 Charter trips and other special services to or from points served by another carrier. (a) No air carrier may perform charter trips or other special services between any pair of points (except where the carrier is authorized, or could be authorized, pursuant to the terms of its certificate of public convenience and necessity, to serve such points on a nonstop basis) which another carrier is authorized, or could be authorized, pursuant to the terms of its certificate of public convenience and necessity, to serve on a nonstop basis:

(1) In excess of a total of eight (8) flights in the same direction during any period of four successive calendar weeks,

(2) In the same direction on the same day of two or more successive calendar weeks,

(3) In excess of a total of three (3) flights between such points in the same direction during any period of two successive calendar weeks unless such period is followed by a break of at least one calendar week during which no flights are operated between such points,

(4) Which are so arranged as to result in the observance of breaks required by subparagraph (3) of this paragraph at regularly recurring intervals, or

(5) Which are so arranged as to result in any uniform pattern or normal consistency of operations between such points.

(b) The holder of a certificate of public convenience and necessity for local feeder service shall in addition be subject to the limitations set forth in paragraph (a) of this section with respect to charter trips and other special services between the terminal points of any segment of such carrier's route.

§ 207.8 Charter trips and other special services in overseas and foreign air transportation over routes of another carrier. An air carrier shall not perform any charter trip or other special service in overseas or foreign air transportation between points or areas between which another air carrier has been authorized to engage in air transportation by the Board through one or more certificates of public convenience and necessity (i) unless such carrier could be authorized, pursuant to the terms of its certificate of public convenience and necessity, to serve such points or areas on a nonstop basis, or (ii) pursuant to the provisions of either paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section.

(a) Such charter trip or other special service may be performed if the consent in writing thereto of such other carrier or carriers designated to offer service between the points involved has been obtained and such consent has been filed with or mailed to the Board in a properly addressed envelope with postage thereon prepaid, or

(b) Where specific authority to conduct the charter trip or special service has been granted by the Board upon a finding that the public interest so requires.

§ 207.9 Notice of proposed special services. No air carrier shall perform any special service in interstate, overseas or foreign air transportation unless at the time of filing of a tariff applicable to such special service or at the time of filing of an application for a special tariff permission, such air carrier shall have submitted to the Board a statement setting forth a full description of the proposed service and shall have mailed copies thereof to the air carriers authorized by certificates of public convenience and necessity to render service to any point designated to receive the proposed special service. The proposed special service shall not be inaugurated if prior to the effective date of the tariff applicable to such special service, or at the time of action on the application for special tariff permission, the Board shall have notified such air carrier that the performance of such special service does not appear to be consistent with the public interest.

§ 207.10 Part-way carriage of through traffic subject to § 207.7. With the exception of carriage performed wholly within the United States, a charter trip or special service shall be governed by the provisions of § 207.8, if either the place of origin or destination of the journey of the persons or property carried is a point or area outside the United States designated to receive service in a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued to another air carrier.

§ 207.11 Temporary authorization for National Defense transportation. For a period not to exceed six months after the effective date of this part, unless extended by order or orders of the Board, the limitations of §§ 207.5 to 207.10, inclusive, shall not apply to or in respect of charter trips performed pursuant to contracts with any department of the Military Establishment.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

[SEAL] M. C. MULLIGAN,
Secretary.

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

[Amdt. 2]

PART 570—WASHINGTON NATIONAL AIRPORT

GAMBLING AND DRUGS

Under section 2 of an act to provide for the administration of Washington National Airport, the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics Administration has control over, and responsibility for, the care, operation, maintenance, and protection of the Airport, together with the power to make and amend such rules and regulations as he may deem necessary to the proper exercise thereof.

Acting pursuant to the foregoing authority, rules of Washington National Airport were prescribed. Those rules are amended as follows:

1. Section 570.72 is revised to read:

§ 570.72 Gambling. (a) It shall be unlawful for any person or association of persons to play, participate in, engage in, conduct, promote, operate, manage, or draw on the Airport a lottery, raffle, numbers game, policy lottery, policy shop, any kind of gaming table, or gambling device adapted, devised, or designed for the purpose of playing any game of chance for money or property.

(b) No person shall buy, sell, or transfer, or aid in selling, exchanging, negotiating, or transferring on the Airport a chance, ticket, certificate, writing, bill, or token, or other device purporting or intended to assure any person of an interest in any lottery, raffle, numbers game, or game of chance.

(c) The possession of any chance ticket, certificate, writing, bill, token, or other device purporting or intended to assure any person of an interest in any lottery, raffle, numbers game, or other game of chance shall be prima facie evidence of operating, promoting, aiding in the promotion of, or playing such lottery, raffle, numbers game, or other game of chance.

2. Section 570.92 is added to read:

§ 570.92 Drugs. No person other than a physician or pharmacist licensed to practice his profession in one of the states of the United States or a territory, or a possession of the United States, or the District of Columbia, shall within the boundaries of the Airport prescribe, dispense, sell, give away, offer to sell, or administer any dangerous drugs, or have such drugs in his possession, with intent to sell, give away, or administer them. The words "dangerous drugs" as used herein shall mean opium, coca leaves, cocaine, isonipecaine, opiate, or any compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, or preparation thereof; diethyl barbituric acid (barbital), or any compound, preparation, mixture, or solution thereof; sulfanilamide or its derivatives, sulfathiozole, sulfapyridine, sulfadiazine, or sulfaguanidine.

(Sec. 2, 54 Stat. 688; 2 D. C. Code 1602)

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[SEAL] DONALD W. NYROP,
Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Part 373 is amended by adding thereto a new § 373.20 to read as follows:

§ 373.20 Special provisions for military wearing apparel—(a) Application requirements. (1) All applications for licenses to export military wearing apparel, new and used, Schedule B No. 999930, must contain a statement fully describing the apparel covered by the application, including the type of apparel, color, and material.

(2) If the wearing apparel has been dyed, the statement must so indicate and specify the color in which the apparel has been dyed. If otherwise altered, the exact nature of the alterations also must be described.

(b) End use. In general, applications covering U. S. Army and Marine Corps outer wearing apparel, for males, (excluding boots and shoes) which has not been dyed or otherwise altered will be considered only where exportation is to be made to a foreign government for use by or under the direction of an agency thereof. Applications covering other types of U. S. military wearing apparel will be considered even though not limited to such use.

2. Part 373 is amended by adding thereto a new § 373.21 to read as follows:

§ 373.21 Special provisions for commodities containing cobalt. All applications for licenses to export the following cobalt-containing products shall include (in addition to the total net weight of the commodity) the weight in pounds of the cobalt contained in the commodity. This information shall be entered under Item 9 (b) of Form IT-419.

2. The entries on the Positive List for sisal fiber, Schedule B No. 320519; sisal twine, cord, and cordage (including baler twine), Schedule B No. 341909; and manila and sisal yarns, Schedule B No. 349909, are revised to read as shown below. These revisions include changes in validated license control.

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	CLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
	Vegetable fibers, unmanufactured:
320519	Sisal or henequen [1]	S. ton	TEXT 1	25	RO
	Cordage, except of cotton or jute:
341909	Sisal, henequen, or other hard-fiber cordage and twine (except binder twine) and cord (report binder twine in 341100) [2]	Lb.	TEXT 1	25	RO
349909	Sisal, henequen, or other hard-fiber yarns [3]	Lb.	TEXT	100	RO

[1] The effect of this amendment is to add to the Positive List, subject to RO control, henequen fiber, unmanufactured.
[2] The effect of this amendment is to add to the Positive List, subject to RO control, henequen and other hard-fiber yarns except sisal yarn. Sisal yarn is already on the Positive List as an RO commodity.
[3] The above revised entry is substituted for the two present entries on the Positive List for Schedule B No. 349909. The effect of this amendment is (1) to broaden the coverage to include all commodities classified under this Schedule B number and (2) to reduce the CLV dollar value limit for sisal yarns from $250 to $100.

Shipments of any commodities removed from general license to Country Group R or Country Group O destinations as a result of changes set forth in Parts 1 and 2 of this amendment, which were on dock, on lighter, laden aboard an exporting carrier, or in transit to a port of exit pursuant to actual orders for export prior to 12:01 a. m., March 27, 1951, may be exported under the previous general license provisions up to and including April 21, 1951. Any such shipment not laden aboard the exporting carrier on or before April 21, 1951, requires a validated license for export. This saving clause is not applicable to any such shipments to Subgroup A destinations.

3. The Positive List contains, under Schedule B No. 709998, separate entries covering parts and accessories for "automatic" and for "manual" welding machines and sets.[1] The separate entries are combined as shown below, to eliminate therefrom the specific reference to automatic and manual without making substantive change.

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	CLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
709998	Arc welding set parts		ELME 1	100	R
709998	Welding machine contacts		ELME 1	100	R
709998	Welding set brushes		ELME 1	100	R
709998	Welding set rheostats		ELME 1	100	R

4. The entries on the Positive List for meter parts, indicating; milliammeter parts; and ohmmeter parts, Schedule B No. 709998, validated license control R, are deleted from the Positive List. These entries were retained through inadvertence, and their deletion does not change the licensing control.[2]

(Sec. 3, 63 Stat. 7, 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2023, E. O. 9630, Sept. 27, 1945, 10 F. R. 12245, 3 CFR, 1945 Supp.; E. O. 9919, Jan. 3, 1948, 13 F. R. 59, 3 CFR, 1948 Supp.)

Parts 1 and 2 of this amendment shall become effective as of March 27, 1951, 12:01 a. m., and Parts 3 and 4 thereof as of March 22, 1951.

LORING K. MACY,
Deputy Director,
Office of International Trade.

[F. R. Doc. 51-3781; Filed, Mar. 27, 1951; 8:50 a. m.]

[1] For example, the Positive List contains two entries under this Schedule B number as follows: Arc welding set parts, automatic; arc welding set parts, manual.

[2] Since March 13, 1951 (see Current Export Bulletin No. 611), these commodities have been covered by the Positive List entry for indicating instrument parts, Schedule B No. 709998, validated license control RO, and prior thereto were covered by the entry for electrical indicating instruments and parts, Schedule B No. 703620, validated license control RO.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter XVIII—National Shipping Authority, Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce

[NSA Order 1 (AGE–1)]

NSA 1 (AGE–1)—GENERAL AGENTS, AGENTS AND BERTH AGENTS

Whereas, by Department Order No. 117 (Amended), Amendment 1, effective date March 13, 1951, the Secretary of Commerce established the National Shipping Authority of the Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, to assure the most effective utilization of the shipping of the United States; and

Whereas, the United States of America, acting by and through the Director, National Shipping Authority of the Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, will from time to time appoint certain Agents, General and Berth Agents to manage and/or conduct the business of vessels assigned to such agents under forms of Service Agreements (TCA, GAA and BA), approved by the Director March 19, 1951, and

Whereas, the Director deems it appropriate to issue the following order concerning the handling of vessels assigned to Agents, General Agents and Berth Agents under Service Agreements; Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered, That:

Sec.
1. Definitions.
2. Service agreements.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 and 2 issued under 49 Stat. 1987, as amended: 46 U. S. C. 1114. Interpret or apply 49 Stat. 2015, as amended, 60 Stat. 49; 46 U. S. C. 1242, 50 U. S. C. App. 1744.

SECTION 1. Definitions—(a) General Agent. A General Agent is any person, firm or corporation designated as such under a standard form of Service Agreement to manage and conduct the business of vessels of which the United States is owner or owner pro hac vice.

(b) Agent. An Agent is any person, firm or corporation designated as such under a standard form of Service Agreement to conduct the business of vessels of which the United States is time charterer.

(c) Berth Agent. A Berth Agent is any person, firm or corporation designated as such under a standard form of Service Agreement to conduct the business of vessels (which have been assigned to an Agent or General Agent) in a specific service or trade.

(d) Sub-Agent. A Sub-Agent is any person, firm or corporation who is appointed by a General Agent, Agent or Berth Agent to perform any of the functions of a General Agent, Agent or Berth Agent.

SEC. 2. Service agreements. (a) The standard forms of Service Agreements to be entered into by the United States of America, acting by and through the Director, National Shipping Authority of the Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, with shipping companies, appointing them as Agents and Berth Agents, will be issued at a later date with a supplement to this order.

(b) Service Agreements entered into between the United States of America, acting by and through the Director, National Shipping Authority of the Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, with shipping companies, appointing them as General Agents to manage and conduct the business of vessels of which the United States is owner or owner pro hac vice and assigned to the General Agent by the United States from time to time, shall be as follows:

SERVICE AGREEMENT FOR VESSELS OF WHICH THE UNITED STATES, REPRESENTED BY THE MARITIME ADMINISTRATION, DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE, IS OWNER OR OWNER PRO HAC VICE

This agreement, made as of ---------, 1951, between the United States of America (herein called the "United States") acting by and through the Director, National Shipping Authority of the Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, and ---------, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of -------- (herein called the "General Agent");

Witnesseth:

That in consideration of the reciprocal undertakings and promises of the parties herein expressed:

ARTICLE 1. Appointment of general agent. The United States appoints the General Agent as its agent and not as an independent contractor, to manage and conduct the business of vessels assigned to it by the United States from time to time and accepted by the General Agent.

ARTICLE 2. Acceptance of appointment. The General Agent accepts the appointment and undertakes and promises so to manage and conduct the business for the United States, in accordance with such directions, orders or regulations not inconsistent with this Agreement as the United States has prescribed, or from time to time may prescribe, and upon the terms and conditions herein provided, of such vessels as have been or may be by the United States assigned to and accepted by the General Agent for that purpose.

ARTICLE 3. Duties of the General Agent. For the account of the United States, in accordance with such directions, orders, regulations, forms and methods of supervision and inspection as the United States may from time to time prescribe (or in the absence of such directions, orders, regulations, forms and methods of supervision and inspection, in accordance with reasonable commercial practices and/or the use of customary commercial forms), in an economical and efficient manner, and exercising due diligence to protect and safeguard the interests of the United States in connection with the duties prescribed in this Agreement and without prejudice to its rights under Article 6 hereof, the General Agent (solely as agent of the United States and not in any other capacity) shall:

(a) Conduct the business of the vessels including, but not limited to all matters with respect to voyages, cargoes, mail, passengers, persons to be carried, charters, rates of freight and charges; and procure or provide all services incident thereto including, but not limited to, stevedoring and other cargo handling, port activities, wharfage and dockage, pilotages, canal transits and services of sub-agents, brokers and consulates.

(b) Collect, deposit, remit, disburse and account for all monies due the United States arising in connection with activities under or pursuant to this Agreement, and to the extent disbursements made by the General Agent pursuant to this Agreement are recoverable from insurance, the General Agent shall take such steps as may be appropriate to effect such recovery for the account of the United States.

(c) Equip, victual, supply and arrange for the repair of the vessels covering hull, machinery, boilers, tackle, apparel, furniture, equipment and spare parts, and including maintenance and voyage repairs and replacements, as may be necessary to maintain the vessels in an efficient state of repair and condition; and cooperate with representatives of the United States in making any inspections or investigations that the United States may deem desirable.

(d) Procure the Master of the vessels operated hereunder, subject to the approval of the United States. The Master shall be an agent and employee of the United States, and shall have and exercise full control, responsibility and authority with respect to the manning, navigation and management of the vessel. The General Agent shall procure and make available to the Master for engagement by him the officers and men required by him to fill the complement of the vessel. Such officers and men shall be procured by the General Agent through the usual channels and in accordance with the customary practices of commercial operators and upon the terms and conditions of the General Agent's collective bargaining agreements, if any. The officers and members of the crew shall be subject only to the orders of the Master. All such persons shall be paid in the customary manner with funds provided by the United States hereunder.

(e) Issue or cause to be issued to passengers customary passenger tickets and to shippers customary shipping documents, freight contracts and bills of lading. All bills of lading shall be issued by the General Agent or its agents as agent for the Master and the signature clause may provide substantially that the General Agent makes no warranty or representation as to the authority of the United States or the Master to enter into the agreement, and that the General Agent assumes no liability with respect to the goods described therein or the transportation thereof.

(f) Furnish and maintain during the period that any vessel is assigned and accepted by the General Agent under this Agreement, at its own expense, a bond with sufficient surety in such amount as the United States shall determine such bond to be approved by the United States as to both sufficiency of surety or sureties and form, and to be conditioned upon the due and faithful performance of all and singular the covenants and agreements of the General Agent contained in this Agreement, including without limitation of the foregoing the condition faithfully to account to the United States for all funds collected and disbursed and funds and property received by the General Agent or its sub-agent. The General agent may, in lieu of furnishing such bond, pledge direct or fully guaranteed obligations of the United States of the cash value of the penalty of the bond under an agreement satisfactory in form to the United States.

No monies or slop chest property of the United States shall be advanced or entrusted by the General Agent to a Master, purser or any other member of the ship's personnel unless such person is under a bond indemnifying the United States against loss of such monies or property caused solely or in part by the dishonesty or lack of care of any such person in the performance of the duties of any position covered by the bond.

(g) (1) Keep books, records, and accounts (which shall be the property of the United States) relating to the activities, maintenance and business of the vessels covered by this agreement in such form and under such regulations as may be prescribed by the United States; and (2) file, upon notice from the United States, balance sheets, profit and loss statements, and such other statements of activities, special reports, memoranda of any facts and transactions, which, in the opinion of the United States, affects the results, or the performance of transactions or activities, under this Agreement, and, whenever the General Agent employs any related, affiliated or holding company of the General Agent to render any services or to furnish any stores, supplies, equipment, provisions, materials or facilities which are for the account of the United States under the terms of this Agreement, the General Agent shall also, as a condition to such employment, obtain from such related or affiliated or holding company its agreement to comply with the requirements aforesaid and to make available to the United States for examination and audit its books, records and accounts, to the extent that such services affect the results, or the performance of transactions or activities, under this Agreement.

(h) Select its sub-agents, but any sub-agency agreement shall be terminated by the General Agent whenever the United States shall so direct.

In the event that any vessel assigned to the General Agent under this Agreement is allocated by the United States for use

(1) In a service in which another operator (a United States citizen) maintained a berth operation with privately owned United States flag vessels on June 25, 1950, and is recognized by the United States as a regular berth operator in such service, or

(2) In a trade, not served with privately owned United States flag vessels on June 25, 1950, or not served on the date of such allocation by a United States citizen who is deemed by the United States qualified to conduct an efficient berth operation, where the United States deems another operator to be qualified as an operator in such trade, such regular or other operator, as the case may be, may be designated by the United States as the Berth Agent of the United States to conduct such of the business of the vessel in such service or trade as the United States may require.

During any period while any such vessel is assigned to a Berth Agent, the General Agent shall be under no obligation to perform with respect to such vessel duties which are imposed upon the Berth Agent under the terms of the Berth Agency Agreement prescribed by the United States.

(i) Upon termination of this Agreement, turn over to the United States at times and places to be fixed by the United States, all vessels and other property of whatsoever kind then in the custody of the General Agent pursuant to this Agreement, and upon such action the United States may collect directly, or by such agent or agents as it may appoint, all freight monies or other debts remaining unpaid, provided that the General Agent shall, if required by the United States, adjust, settle and liquidate the business of the vessels assigned hereunder.

ARTICLE 4. Compensation. At least once a month the United States shall pay to the General Agent compensation for the General Agent's services hereunder, and, after redelivery of the vessels assigned hereunder, shall also pay to the General Agent compensation for services required thereafter. All such compensation shall be in such fair and reasonable amount as the United States shall from time to time determine by General Order. Such compensation shall be deemed to cover, but without limitation, the General Agent's administrative and general expense (as presently itemized in General Order No. 22 of the Maritime Administration), advertising expense, taxes (other than taxes for which the General Agent is credited under Article 5 hereof), and any other expenses which are not directly applicable to the activities, maintenance and business of the vessels assigned hereunder.

ARTICLE 5. Disbursements. The United States shall advance funds to the General Agent to provide for, and the General Agent shall receive credit for, all expenditures of every kind made by it in performing, procuring or supplying the services, facilities, stores, supplies or equipment as required hereunder, excepting general and administrative expenses (as presently itemized in General Order No. 22 of the Maritime Administration) advertising expense, taxes and any other expenses which are not directly applicable to the activities, maintenance and business of the vessels assigned hereunder, provided that the General Agent shall receive credit for sales and similar taxes or foreign taxes of any kind to the extent classifiable as voyage expense under said General Order 22, if the General Agent shall have used due diligence to secure immunity from such taxation. The United States shall also advance funds to the General Agent to provide for, and the General Agent shall receive credit for, all crew expenditures accruing during the term hereof in connection with the vessels assigned hereunder, including, without limitation, expenditures on account of wages, extra compensation, overtime bonuses, penalties, subsistence, repatriation, internment, travel, loss of personal effects, maintenance and cure, vacation allowances, damages or compensation for death or personal injury or illness, insurance premiums, Social Security taxes, State unemployment insurance taxes and contributions made by the General Agent to a pension or welfare fund with respect to the period of this Agreement and in accordance with a pension or welfare plan in effect on the effective date of this Agreement or which, pursuant to collective bargaining agreements, may become effective during the period of this Agreement with respect to the officers and members of the crew of said vessels who are or may become entitled to benefits under such plan, or any other payment required by law.

The United States may deny credit to the General Agent in whole or in part, as the United States may deem appropriate, for payment of expenses which are found to have been made in wilful contravention of any outstanding instructions or which are found to have been clearly improvident or excessive.

Any monies or slop chest property of the United States advanced or entrusted to bonded persons by the General Agent which are lost by reason of a casualty to the vessel on which the money so advanced or slop chest property so entrusted is carried shall in the event of such loss be considered an expenditure of the General Agent and credit shall be allowed to the General Agent in accordance with this Article 5.

ARTICLE 6. Insurance and indemnification. (a) The United States shall, without cost or expense to the General Agent, procure or provide insurance without deductibles, franchises or average warranties against all insurable risks of whatsoever nature or kind relating to the vessels assigned hereunder including, but without limitation, marine, war and P & I risks, sabotage and all other risks or liabilities for breach of statute and for damage caused to other vessels, persons or property.

The General Agent shall furnish reports and information and comply fully with all instructions that may be issued with regard to all salvage claims, damages, losses or other claims. Marine and war risk insurance with respect to each vessel assigned hereunder against protection and indemnity, general average, salvage and collision liabilities shall be without limit, as between the United States and the General Agent, as to the amount of any claim or the aggregate of any claims thereunder. The United States at its election may assume all or any of the foregoing risks or may write all or any such insurance in its own fund, pursuant to a duly executed policy or policies.

Neither the United States nor the insurance underwriters shall have any right of subrogation against the General Agent with respect to any of the foregoing risks. All insurance hereunder shall cover both the United States and the General Agent, when acting hereunder or as sub-agent of another General Agent of the United States with respect to vessels assigned by the United States to such other General Agent.

(b) To the extent not covered by insurance or assumed by the United States, as required by this Article 6, the United States shall indemnify, and hold harmless and defend the General Agent against any and all claims and demands (including costs and reasonable attorneys' fees in defending such claim or demand, whether or not the claim or demand be found to be valid) of whatsoever kind or nature whether or not such claim or damage is caused by the negligence of the General Agent or the vessel, and by whomsoever asserted, for injury to persons or property arising out of or in any way connected with the activities, maintenance or business of said vessels or the performance by the General Agent of any of its obligations hereunder, including, but not limited to, any and all claims and demands by passengers, troops, gun crews, crew members, shippers, third persons, or other vessels and including but not limited to claims for damages for injury to or loss of property, cargo or personal effects, claims for damages for personal injury or loss of life, and claims for maintenance and cure.

(c) In view of the extraordinary wartime or emergency conditions under which vessels will be operated hereunder, the General Agent shall be under no responsibility or liability to the United States for loss or damage to the vessels assigned hereunder arising out of any error of judgment or any negligence on the part of any of the General Agent's officers, agents, employees, or otherwise. If, however, such loss or damage is directly and primarily caused by wilful misconduct of principal supervisory shoreside personnel or by gross negligence of the General Agent in the procurement of licensed officers or in the selection of principal supervisory shoreside personnel, the General Agent shall be held liable for such loss or damage unless it is required by this Article 6 to be covered by insurance or assumed by the United States. The liability of the General Agent under this paragraph (c) for any such loss or damage shall in no event exceed the sum of $500,000 in respect of any one vessel.

(d) The General Agent shall be under no liability to the United States of any kind or nature whatsoever in the event that the General Agent should fail to obtain officers or crews for the vessels assigned hereunder, or fail to arrange for the fitting out, refitting, maintenance or repair of said vessels, or fail to perform any other service hereunder by reason of any labor shortage, dispute or difficulty, or any strike or lockout or any shortage of material or any act of God or peril of the sea or any other cause beyond the control of the General Agent whether or not of the same or similar nature, or should do or fail to do any act in reliance upon instructions of military or naval authorities.

(e) Whenever the General Agent is performing any services of the nature set forth in this Agreement as sub-Agent for another General Agent of the United States with respect to vessels assigned by the United States to such other General Agent, the provision of this Article 6 shall cover such sub-agency services.

ARTICLE 7. General average. In the event of general average involving vessels assigned to the General Agent under this Agreement, the General Agent shall comply fully with all instructions issued by the United States in that connection including instructions as to the appointment of adjuster, obtaining general average security and asserting liens for that purpose unless otherwise instructed, and supplying the adjuster with all disbursements, accounts, documents and data required in the adjustment, statement and settlement of the general average. Reasonable compensation for and general average allowances to the General Agent in such cases shall be fixed by the adjuster, subject to approval by the United States and paid to and retained by the General Agent.

ARTICLE 8. Salvage. Salvage claim for services rendered to vessels other than vessels owned or controlled by the United States shall be handled by, and be under the control of, the United States. Salvage awards for services rendered to other vessels owned or controlled by the United States including the vessels hereunder shall be made by the United States. The General Agent shall furnish the United States with full reports and information on all salvage services rendered.

ARTICLE 9. Related services. (a) Agreements or arrangements with any interested or related company to render any service or to furnish any stores, supplies, equipment, materials, repairs, or facilities hereunder shall be submitted to the United States for approval. Unless and until such agreements or arrangements have been approved by the United States, compensation paid to any interested or related company shall be subject to review and readjustment by the United States. In connection with such review and readjustment, the United States may deny credit hereunder of any portion of such compensation which it deems to be in excess of fair and reasonable compensation. The United States may also deny credit, in whole or in part, of compensation under any arrangement or agreement with an interested or related company which it deems to be exorbitant, extortionate or fraudulent. The term "interested company" shall mean any person, firm or corporation in which the General Agent, or any related company of the General Agent, or any officer or director of the General Agent or any employee of the General Agent who is charged with executive or supervisory duties, or any member of the immediate family of any such officer, director or employee, or any officer or director of any related company of the General Agent or any member of the immediate family of an officer or director of any related company of the General Agent, owns any substantial pecuniary interest directly or indirectly. The term "related company", used to indicate a relationship with the General Agent for the purposes of this Article only, shall include any person or concern that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, the General Agent. The term "control" (including the terms "controlled by" and "under common control with") as used herein means the possession, directly or indirectly, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of the General Agent (or related company), whether through ownership of voting securities, by contract or otherwise.

(b) The United States shall, when it may legally do so, have the advantage of any existing or future contracts of the General Agent for the purchase or rental of materials, fuel, supplies, facilities, services or equipment, if this may be done without unreasonably interfering with the requirements of other vessels owned or operated by the General Agent provided that any financial loss or disadvantage to the General Agent shall be compensated for in such amount as may be determined by the United States.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, the United States, by separate agreement, may contract with the General Agent to perform stevedoring, terminal, ship repair or similar services for the vessels assigned hereunder, in which event the General Agent shall have the rights, benefits and the obligations and reponsibilities provided in such agreement.

ARTICLE 10. Delegation of authority. Wherever and whenever herein any right, power or authority is granted or given to the United States, such right, power or authority may be exercised in all cases by the National Shipping Authority or such agent or agents as the United States may appoint, and the act or acts of such agent or agents when taken, shall constitute the act of the United States hereunder. In performing its services hereunder, the General Agent may rely upon the instructions and directions of the Director, National Shipping Authority, his officers and responsible employees, or any person or agency authorized by him. Wherever practicable, instructions and directions to the General Agent shall be in writing and oral instructions or directions given shall be confirmed promptly in writing. No directions, orders or regulations shall have retroactive effect without the written consent of the General Agent.

ARTICLE 11. Warranty against contingent fees. The General Agent warrants that it has not employed any person to solicit or secure this Agreement upon any agreement for a commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fee. Breach of this warranty shall give the United States the right to annul this Agreement or in its discretion to deduct from any amount payable hereunder the amount of such commission, percentage, brokerage or contingent fee.

ARTICLE 12. Nondiscrimination. Neither the General Agent nor any subcontractor of the General Agent, in performing any act under this Agreement or any subcontract made hereunder, shall discriminate against any person on the ground of race, creed, color or national origin.

ARTICLE 13. Members or delegates of Congress. No person elected or appointed a member of or delegate to Congress or a Resident Commissioner, directly or indirectly, himself or by any other person in trust for him, or for his use or benefit, or on his account shall hold or enjoy this Agreement in whole or in part, except as provided in section 206, Title 18, U. S. C. The General Agent shall not employ any member of Congress, either with or without compensation, as an attorney, agent, officer or director.

ARTICLE 14. Right of Comptroller General to examine books and records. The Comptroller General of the United States or any of his duly authorized representatives shall have access to and the right to examine any pertinent books, documents, papers and records of the General Agent or any of its subcontractors engaged in the performance of and involving transactions related to this Agreement or any subcontracts thereunder.

ARTICLE 15. Termination. (a) The United States shall have the right to terminate this Agreement at any time as to any or all vessels assigned to the General Agent and to assume control forthwith of any or all said vessels upon fifteen (15) days' written or telegraphic notice unless action is required at an earlier date to protect the interest of the United States.

(b) Upon giving to the United States thirty (30) days' written or telegraphic notice, the General Agent shall have the right to terminate this Agreement as to any or all vessels assigned to the General Agent, but unless otherwise agreed, termination by the General Agent shall not become effective as to any vessel until her arrival and discharge at a continental United States port.

(c) No such termination of this Agreement shall relieve either party of liability to the other in respect of matters arising prior to the date of such termination or of any obligation hereunder to indemnify the other party in respect of any claim or demand thereafter asserted, arising out of any matter done or omitted prior to the date of such termination.

(d) This Agreement may be terminated, modified or amended at any time by mutual consent.

ARTICLE 16. Duration of agreement. This Agreement is effective as of the day and year of the first acceptance by the General Agent of any vessel assigned hereunder and shall extend until terminated as herein elsewhere provided.

ARTICLE 17. Assignment or transfer. Without the consent of the United States, the General Agent shall not sell, assign or transfer, either directly or indirectly, or through any reorganization, merger or consolidation, this Agreement or any interest therein, nor make any agreement or arrangement whereby the service to be performed hereunder is to be performed by any other person, whether an agent or otherwise, except as provided in Article 3 hereof.

ARTICLE 18. Additional or substitute compensation and reimbursement. The General Agent shall also be entitled to payment or credit for any service, loss, cost or expense, whether or not specifically provided for, or excepted herein, if, and to the extent that such payment or credit is found by the Director, National Shipping Authority, in his sole discretion, to be fair and equitable and in accordance with the basic principles or intent of this General Agency Agreement.

ARTICLE 19. Headnotes. The use of headnotes at the beginning of the articles of this Agreement is for the purpose of description only and shall not be construed as limiting or in any other manner affecting the substance of the articles themselves.

In witness whereof, the parties hereto have executed this Agreement in quadruplicate as of the day and year first above written.

Chapter I—Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency

Subchapter E—Fellowships, Internships, Training

PART 61—FELLOWSHIPS

PART 63—NATIONAL HEART INSTITUTE TRAINEESHIPS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 61.12 is amended to read as follows:

§ 61.12 Duration of fellowships. Appointments to fellowships may be for varying periods, such as for a school year, but shall not exceed sixteen months. Upon the recommendations of a Fellowship Board, the Surgeon General may extend or renew an appointment.

2. Part 61 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

§ 61.13 Termination of fellowships. Upon the recommendation of a Fellowship Board, the Surgeon General may terminate an appointment before its expiration date on the request of the fellow, or because of unsatisfactory performance, unfitness, or inability to carry out the purposes of the fellowship. The Surgeon General may also terminate an appointment upon the recommendation of the Federal Security Agency Board of Inquiry on Employee Loyalty and upon its finding, made in accordance with the Agency's procedures adopted pursuant to Executive Order 9835, that reasonable grounds exist for the belief that the fellow, where a citizen of the United States, is disloyal to the Government of the United States or, where not such a citizen, has furnished a false statement or has failed to comply with any required assurances regarding his non-advocacy of, or his non-membership in any organization that advocates, the overthrow of such Government by force or violence. Such procedure shall include those for summary suspension pending a hearing and, with respect to regular fellows, a right of appeal to the Surgeon General in lieu of the appeal to the Federal Security Administrator but not the right of appeal to the Loyalty Review Board.

3. Section 63.6 is amended to read as follows:

§ 63.6 Duration of traineeship. Traineeships shall extend for a period of one year unless otherwise specified by the Surgeon General in making the award. The Surgeon General may also extend or renew an award for a specific period upon application.

4. Part 63 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new section:

§ 63.7 Termination of traineeship. The Surgeon General may terminate any traineeship prior to the date it would otherwise expire either on request of the trainee or because of unsatisfactory performance, unfitness or inability to carry out the purposes of the traineeship. The Surgeon General may also terminate a traineeship upon the recommendation of the Federal Security Agency Board of Inquiry on Employee Loyalty and upon its finding, made in accordance with the Agency's procedures adopted pursuant to Executive Order 9835, that reasonable grounds exist for the belief that the trainee, where a citizen of the United States, is disloyal to the Government of the United States or, where not such a citizen, has furnished a false statement or has failed to comply with any required assurances regarding his non-advocacy of, or his non-membership in any organization that advocates, the overthrow of such Government by force or violence. Such procedures shall include those for summary suspension pending a hearing and a right of appeal to the Surgeon General in lieu of the appeal to the Federal Security Administrator but shall not include the right of appeal to the Loyalty Review Board.

Effective date. The foregoing amendments shall be effective upon date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Dated: March 20, 1951.

DEFINITIONS

§ 103.1 Meaning of terms. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires, terms shall have the meanings ascribed in §§ 103.2 to 103.6.

§ 103.2 Act. "Act" means Pub. Law 815, 81st Cong. (secs. 101–210, 64 Stat. 967; 20 U. S. C. 251–255, 271–280).

§ 103.3 Commissioner of Education and Commissioner. The terms "Commissioner of Education" and "Commissioner" mean the United States Commissioner of Education.

§ 103.4 School. The term "school" means any elementary or secondary school which is tax-supported and publicly administered.

§ 103.5 State. The term "State" means a State, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, or the District of Columbia.

§ 103.6 State educational agency. The term "State educational agency" means the officer or agency primarily responsible for the State supervision of public elementary and secondary schools.

PURPOSES OF FEDERAL ASSISTANCE TO STATES

§ 103.11 Purposes of Title I grants. Payments pursuant to Title I of the act are made in order to assist the several States to inventory existing school facilities, to survey the need for the construction of additional facilities in relation to the distribution of school population, to develop State plans for school construction programs, and to study the adequacy of State and local resources available to meet school facilities requirements.

STATE APPLICATIONS

§ 103.21 Application as condition of payments; form of application. No State shall be entitled to any part of its allotment pursuant to Title I of the act except upon application therefor filed with the Commissioner, upon forms prescribed by him and containing the information therein requested.

§ 103.22 State educational agency as sole agency. The application by a State shall designate the State educational agency as the sole agency for carrying out the purposes set forth in § 103.11. As sole agency, the State educational agency must be vested with complete and exclusive responsibility for organizing and conducting the inventory, survey and study, and for developing the plan referred to in § 103.11, as well as for certifying the results, conclusions, and recommendations concerning the same to the Commissioner.

§ 103.23 Fund custodian. The application by a State shall designate the State agency or official which will be custodian of Federal funds paid under Title I of the act and which will receive and provide for the proper custody of such funds subject to requisition or disbursement thereof by the State educational agency for carrying out the purposes set forth in § 103.11.

§ 103.25 State inventory, survey, study and plan. The application by a State shall provide for making an inventory of existing school facilities, for surveying the need for the construction of additional facilities in relation to the distribution of school population, for making a study of the adequacy of State and local resources available to meet school facilities requirements, and for developing a State plan for a school construction program. The application also shall contain a plan in narrative or other form by the State prescribing the scope of and manner of conducting the inventory, survey and study, as well as proposals for the development of the State plan for a school construction program.

(a) Inventory information. The inventory of existing school facilities shall contain information as to such facilities by attendance centers and by local school administrative units, including (1) factual data on rooms, areas, capacity, and date and type of construction; (2) evaluation as to educational adequacy, safety, and permanency of each facility; and (3) factual data relative to pupil transportation.

(b) Survey information. The survey of the need for the construction of additional facilities shall contain information disclosing (1) the distribution of current and estimated future school population; (2) the extent to which no facilities or only partially complete facilities are available in relation to the distribution of current school population, the extent to which facilities are encumbered by overcrowding and half-day sessions or otherwise, and the extent to which additional facilities must be provided to accommodate estimated future school population; (3) the number of improvised, unsafe, and obsolete facilities in service and an estimate of the future useful lives of other existing facilities; (4) the number and nature of additional facilities required in connection with current and contemplated school district reorganization; and (5) such other factual data as may assist in determining the need for the construction of additional school facilities in order to house satisfactorily the current and estimated future school population of the State. The need for construction of additional facilities shall be determined only after the development and consideration of the factors relevant thereto extending over a future period of not less than ten years.

(c) Information on available resources. In order to carry out the purposes of § 103.11, the study to be made of the adequacy of State and local resources available to meet school facilities requirements shall contain information relating to (1) the extent to which local school administrative units have exercised their taxing and bonding authority for school construction; (2) State laws relative to financing capital outlay for schools; (3) the present patterns and amounts of State aid for school construction; and (4) the feasibility of making available increased resources for school construction through legislative or executive action, or both.

(d) Development of State plan for construction. A State plan for a school construction program shall be developed in accordance with the needs determined from the inventory and survey made by the State pursuant to Title I of the act, without regard to the adequacy of available resources to meet school facilities requirements, and shall show the relative need for each project included. The State shall indicate the extent to which the plan is expected to be accomplished, and the parts of such plan which may not be accomplished and the reasons therefor. The plan shall be specific with respect to the location, type, size, capacity and estimated cost of proposed individual construction projects, as well as with respect to their suitability as school centers for logical attendance areas.

§ 103.26 Reports and verification. The application by a State shall provide that the State educational agency will make such reports, in such form, and containing such information as the Commissioner may from time to time reasonably require, and, to assure verification of such reports, give the Commissioner, upon request, access to the records upon which such information is based.

§ 103.27 State estimates and expenditures. The application by a State shall include an estimate of the total expenditures in carrying out the purposes of § 103.11 in accordance with its application, as well as an estimate of the expenditures in carrying out the said purposes in accordance with its application during the period ending June 30 after the filing of such application.

§ 103.28 Approval of applications. The Commissioner shall approve any application for funds for carrying out the purposes set forth in § 103.11 if such application complies with the provisions of this part.

STATE REPORTS

§ 103.31 Reports on State inventory, resources, plan and survey. In addition to any reports required pursuant to § 103.26 in connection with the inventory of existing school facilities, the study of State and local resources available to meet school facilities requirements and the plan for a school construction program, the Commissioner from time to time will require reports, among others, in connection with the survey of the need for the construction of additional facilities, which shall relate the information under § 103.25 (b) to the future period of ten years.

§ 103.32 Fiscal reports. In addition to any other fiscal reports required to be made by it, the State educational agency of a State, upon request by the Commissioner, each year shall submit a fiscal report relating to its activities under Title I of the Act during the fiscal year ending June 30 of such year and detailing by items receipts and expenditures during such fiscal year.

§ 103.33 Reports on estimated expenditures. The State educational agency of a State, upon request by the Commissioner, each year shall submit an estimate of the expenditures in carrying out the purposes of § 103.11 in accordance with its application during the fiscal year commencing July 1 of such year.

SERVICES OF THE OFFICE OF EDUCATION

§ 103.41 Services of the Office of Education. The Office of Education may provide such technical, consultative or other services as may be of assistance to State educational agencies in carrying out the purposes set forth in § 103.11, and also may prescribe forms for required State summaries and reports.

PAYMENTS TO STATES AND FUND ACCOUNTING

§ 103.51 Payments and amounts of payments. Payments from sums allotted pursuant to Title I of the act shall be made to States whose applications for funds for carrying out the purposes set forth in § 103.11 have been approved. Each State shall be entitled to receive an amount equal to one-half of the total expenditures made by such State in carrying out the said purposes in accordance with its application up to the amount of the State's allotment.

(a) Expenditures prior to approval of application. Payments from sums allotted pursuant to Title I of the act shall be provided with respect to such expenditures only as are made by a State after the date of filing of a substantially approvable application pursuant to § 103.21.

(b) Items of expenditures. The expenditures in carrying out the said purposes may include, among other things, (1) salaries of full-time and part-time professional, statistical and clerical staff of the State educational agency utilized in carrying out the said purposes; (2) reasonable amounts for travel, communication, printing, equipment, and machine tabulation; and (3) a reasonable rental cost for additional non-public office space, provided such additional space is unavailable in public buildings and is necessary for effective operation by the State educational agency in carrying out the said purposes. No part of the cost of prior school facilities surveys or surveys presently being conducted under other than the provisions of Title I of the act shall be charged as expenditures under Title I of the act, but currently valid data and findings resulting from such other surveys may and should be utilized by State educational agencies in carrying out the purposes set forth in § 103.11 in accordance with their applications.

§ 103.52 Period determined for estimates of payments. For the purposes of section 103 of the act, the Commissioner initially will estimate the sum to which each State will be entitled during the period ending June 30 after the date of filing of an approved application, and thereafter will estimate the sum to which each State will be entitled during each succeeding fiscal year ending June 30.

§ 103.53 State funds available. In making advance payments for an ensuing period to a State, the Commissioner will require assurances acceptable to him that the State has or will have available to match the advance of Federal funds adequate State funds for expenditure during such ensuing period in carrying out the purposes set forth in § 103.11 in accordance with its application.

§ 103.54 Fund accounting. The State educational agency shall establish such fund accounting procedures as may be necessary to assure proper accounting for Federal funds under Title I of the act and for non-Federal funds used in connection therewith. Such procedures also shall serve to permit an expeditious determination to be made at any time of the status of such Federal and non-Federal funds.

DENIAL OF APPLICATION, WITHHOLDING OF CERTIFICATION AND HEARINGS

§ 103.61 Denial of application only after hearing. The Commissioner shall not finally refuse to approve in whole or in part any application made under Title I of the act until the State educational agency has been afforded reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing.

§ 103.62 Withholding of certification. Whenever the Commissioner, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing to a State educational agency, finds (1) that such State educational agency is not complying substantially with the provisions of Title I of the act or the terms and conditions of its application approved under that Title, or (2) that any funds paid to such State educational agency under Title I of the act have been diverted from the purposes for which they had been allotted or paid, the Commissioner may forthwith notify the Secretary of the Treasury and such State educational agency that no further certification will be made under Title I of the act with respect to such agency until there is no longer any failure to comply or the diversion has been corrected or, if compliance or correction is impossible, until such State educational agency repays or arranges for the repayment of Federal moneys which have been diverted or improperly expended.

§ 103.63 Hearings. Hearings held as required under §§ 103.61 and 103.62 shall be conducted in accordance with sections 5, 7, and 8 of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946 (60 Stat. 237, as amended; 5 U. S. C. and Sup. 1001–1011).

[SEAL] EARL J. MCGRATH,
United States Commissioner of Education.

Approved March 21, 1951.

JOHN L. THURSTON,
Acting Federal Security Administrator.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

PART 101—RAIL AND WATER CARRIER PASSES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 1, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 7th day of March A. D. 1951.

The matter of free transportation being under consideration pursuant to provisions of the Interstate Commerce Act, as amended, and the modifications of the "Regulations to Govern the Forms and Recording of Passes, Issue of 1917," as set forth below, being deemed necessary for proper administration of Parts I and III of the Act (34 Stat. 584, 35 Stat. 60, 36 Stat. 544, 41 Stat. 475, 49 U. S. C. 1 (7) 22, and 306 (c)): It is ordered, that:

(1) Objections. Any interested party may on or before April 20, 1951, file with the Commission a written statement of reasons why the said modifications should not become effective as hereinafter ordered and may request oral argument thereon.

(2) Effective date. Unless otherwise ordered after consideration of such objections, the said modifications shall become effective May 1, 1951.

(3) Notice. A copy of this order with the attached modifications shall be served upon every carrier by railroad subject to the act, including electric lines and sleeping car companies, and every carrier by water subject to the act, and upon every lessor, trustee, receiver, executor, administrator, or assignee of any such carrier by railroad or by water, and notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director of the Division of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C 12)

By the Commission, Division 1.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

1. In paragraph (a) of § 101.2 General classes of passes, cancel the definition of "term passes" and substitute for it the following: "Term passes are those good for a specified period of time other than a calendar year and without restrictions as to the number of trips."

2. Cancel paragraph (b) in § 101.4 Signatures of issuing officers, and substitute for it the following:

(b) Each pass on which a facsimile signature is printed must be countersigned by an officer or responsible subordinate, who must be designated on the pass.

3. In paragraph (h) of § 101.8 Preparation of passes, append the following additional example: "During lifetime."

4. Cancel the last sentence in paragraph (b) of § 101.10 Signatures on requests for passes, and substitute for it the following: "In case the facsimile signature is used, the request must be countersigned by an officer or responsible subordinate who must be designated thereon."

5. Cancel § 101.14 Record of free tickets issued, and substitute for it the following:

§ 101.14 Record of free and reduced fare tickets issued. A complete record of all tickets issued in lieu of passes, including tickets for which the fares have been refunded in whole or in part as well as those issued free or at reduced rates, must be maintained by carriers and filed in the office of the officer authorizing such issue or refund. This record must show the date; form and number of ticket; stations from and to; name and address or other designation of person to whom issued; account of issuance (in accordance with § 101.8 (e)); amount of fare, amount of reduction, and the amount of refund if that is less than the fare; and name of officer authorizing the refund or issuance of the ticket.

6. In § 101.101 List of forms, change the title of Form 13 to read: "Record of free and reduced fare tickets issued."

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 944, 970]

HANDLING OF MILK IN QUAD CITIES AND CLINTON, IOWA, MARKETING AREAS

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENTS AND TO ORDERS, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Rock Island, Illinois on January 3 and 4, 1951, pusuant to notice thereof which was issued on December 26, 1950 (15 F. R. 9529), upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreements and to the orders, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Quad Cities and Clinton, Iowa, marketing areas.

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, on February 16, 1951, filed with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision in this proceeding. The notice of the filing of such recommended decision and the opportunity to file written exceptions thereto was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 21, 1951 (16 F. R. 1740).

The only issue of record was whether the Class I and Class II differentials provided in the Quad Cities order and the Class I differential provided in the Clinton, Iowa, order should be increased 25 cents per hundredweight as an emergency basis for all delivery periods to and including June 1951.

No exceptions to the recommended decision were filed on behalf of interested parties.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions of the recommended decision set forth in the FEDERAL REGISTER (F. R. Doc. 51-2547; 16 F. R. 1740), with respect to the issues set forth above are approved and adopted as the findings and conclusions of this decision as if set forth in full herein.

It is hereby ordered, That this decision be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 23 day of March 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 31-141]

PEOPLES GAS LIGHT AND COKE CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION FOR PERMISSION TO WITHDRAW APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of March A. D. 1951.

The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company having, on November 30, 1935, filed an application pursuant to the provisions of section 3 (a) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") for exemption from all the provisions of the act; applicant having thereafter filed four amendments to said application setting forth certain information regarding the disposition and changes occurring since the filing of said application with respect to the ownership and holding of securities by applicant in certain of its subsidiary companies.

Applicant having, on September 26, 1950, filed a fifth amendment to its application for exemption setting forth information regarding further changes in its ownership and holdings of securities of certain of its subsidiary companies, representing that applicant is no longer a holding company under the provisions of section 2 (a) (7) of the act, and requesting that the Commission issue an order permitting applicant to withdraw said application for exemption;

The Commission having examined said amendment and it appearing therefrom that applicant is a public utility company, engaged in the busines of distributing gas at retail within the limits of the City of Chicago, Illinois; that it presently has five direct subsidiary companies, viz, Chicago By-Products Corporation, Chicago District Pipeline Company, Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, Texoma Natural Gas Company and Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline Company and one indirect subsidiary company, Chicago & Illinois Western Railroad; that said direct and indirect subsidiary companies are not public utility companies within the meaning of section 2 (a) (5) of the act; and it further appearing that applicant does not directly or indirectly own, control or hold with power to vote, 10 percent or more of the outstanding voting securities of a public utility company or of a company which is a holding company and is therefore not a holding company under the provisions of section 2 (a) (7) of the act; and the Commission deeming it appropriate and in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that applicant's request to withdraw its application for exemption be granted:

It is hereby ordered, That the application of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company for permission to withdraw its application filed pursuant to section 3 (a) (2) of the act for exemption from all the provisions of the act be, and the same hereby is, granted.

By the Commission.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION TO WITHDRAW APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of March A. D. 1951.

The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, an Illinois corporation, having on December 31, 1935, filed with the Commission an application pursuant to the provisions of section 2 (a) (8) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") for an order of the Commission declaring Midland United Company, a Delaware corporation, now named Midland Realization Company, not to be a subsidiary company of applicant; applicant having thereafter filed four amendments to said application setting forth certain information regarding the disposition and changes occurring since the filing of said application with respect to applicant's ownership, control and holding of securities issued and properties owned, controlled or operated by said Midland United Company, a holding company;

Applicant having on September 26, 1950, filed a fifth amendment to said application for exemption setting forth further information with respect to the severance by applicant of all relationships between applicant and Midland United Company, now Midland Realization Company, or its subsidiary Midland Utilities Company, representing that neither Midland United Company, nor its successor corporation, are any longer subsidiary companies of applicant under the provisions of section 2 (a) (8) of the act, and requesting that the Commission issue an order permitting applicant to withdraw said application for exemption;

The Commission having examined said amendment and it appearing therefrom that applicant is a public utility company, engaged in the business of distributing gas at retail within the limits of the city of Chicago, Illinois; that applicant does not own, control or hold, directly or indirectly, any securities issued or properties owned, controlled or operated by Midland United Company, or Midland Realization Company, its successor corporation, or any of their subsidiary companies, including Midland Utilities Company; that applicant executed a Settlement Agreement dated December 7, 1944, between Midland United Company, Midland Utilities Company, and the Trustees of the estates of said Midland companies in reorganization providing for the settlement of all claims of applicant against said Midland companies, which agreement had been approved on November 29, 1944, by order of the District Court of the United States for the District of Delaware in proceedings approving a Plan of Reorganization of Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company; and it further appearing from said fifth amendment that applicant on August 26, 1946, received in cash the balance, together with interest thereon, due applicant, in full satisfaction of all amounts due and owing applicant from Midland Realization Company, formerly Midland United Company and Midland Utilities Company, in accordance with the terms of the aforesaid Settlement Agreement dated December 7, 1944; and

The Commission deeming it appropriate and in the public interest and in the interest of consumers and investors that applicant's request to withdraw its application for exemption be granted:

It is hereby ordered, That the application of The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company to withdraw its application for an order pursuant to section 2 (a) (8) of the act declaring Midland United Company, now Midland Realization Company, not to be a subsidiary of applicant, be, and the same hereby is granted.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

ORDER GRANTING AMENDED APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of March A. D. 1951.

Public Service Company of New Hampshire ("New Hampshire"), an operating utility company and a direct subsidiary of New England Public Service Company, a registered holding company which in turn is a subsidiary of Northern New England Company, also a registered holding company, having filed with the Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 a further amendment to its application under the first sentence of section 6 (b) of said act which, as previously amended, was granted by order of this Commission dated December 20, 1950, Holding Company Act Releases Nos. 10065 and 10301;

The amendment proposing that the authorization granted New Hampshire by said order of December 20, 1950 with respect to the issuance or renewal of short-term notes, i. e., notes having a maturity of nine months or less, up to a maximum aggregate amount of $6,500,000 of short-term notes at any time outstanding, which expires on March 31, 1951, be extended to June 30, 1951; New Hampshire having stated that it has outstanding short-term notes in the amount of $4,950,000, that it anticipates additional short-term borrowings of $500,000 in April and $1,250,000 in June 1951, and that it plans to issue and sell $3,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds in May 1951, the proceeds of which will be applied on the short-term notes then outstanding;

Notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 under said act; the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said amendment within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to said application, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules thereunder are satisfied and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said application, as amended, be granted, and further deeming it appropriate to grant the request of the applicant that the order herein become effective forthwith;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, that said application, as amended, be, and hereby is, granted forthwith.

OHIO EDISON CO. AND PENNSYLVANIA POWER CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION AND GRANTING APPLICATION-DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of March A. D. 1951.

Ohio Edison Company ("Ohio"), a registered holding company and a public utility company, and its direct subsidiary, Pennsylvania Power Company ("Pennsylvania"), a public utility company, having filed with this Commission a joint application-declaration, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") and certain rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, proposing, among other things, the issuance and sale by Pennsylvania, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, of 40,000 shares of $100 par value preferred stock of a new series or class ranking equally with the shares of Pennsylvania's outstanding 4.25% Preferred Stock; and

The Commission by order dated March 7, 1951, having granted the application and permitted the declaration to become effective subject to the condition, among others, that the proposed issuance and sale of preferred stock by Pennsylvania should not be consummated until the results of the competitive bidding, pursuant to Rule U-50, had been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order entered with respect thereto, and jurisdiction having been reserved therein over the payment of fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Pennsylvania having on March 21, 1951, filed an amendment to said joint application-declaration in which it is stated that Pennsylvania, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, has received the following bids with respect to the proposed issue of its new preferred stock:

Group headed by—	Dividend rate (percent)	Price to company	Cost to company (percent of price)
The First Boston Corp., Blyth & Co., Inc.	4.24	$100.279	4.2282
Lehman Bros.	4.24	100.96	4.2200
Smith, Barney & Co.	4.28	100.13	4.2744
Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane	4.36	100.6199	4.3374
Glore, Forgan & Co., W. C. Langley & Co.	4.48	100.539	4.4560

The amendment having further indicated that Pennsylvania has accepted the bid of The First Boston Corporation and Blyth & Co., Inc., as set out above, and that such preferred stock will be offered for sale to the public at a price of $102.125 per share plus accrued dividends from March 1, 1951, to the date of delivery, resulting in an underwriting spread of $1.846 per share of said preferred stock; and

Said application-declaration, as amended, further stating that the estimated fees and expenses to be incurred and paid by the applicant-declarant in connection with the proposed transactions amount to about $60,000, including a payment of fees of not more than $13,000 to Commonwealth Services, Inc., an independent service company which is a former affiliate of Pennsylvania, accountants' fees of $1,800 payable to Arthur Andersen & Co., legal fees in the amount of $5,500 payable to Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam & Roberts, counsel for the company; and said application-declaration, as amended, also stating that a fee of $3,500 is to be paid by the purchasers of the preferred stock to Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett, their counsel; and it appearing that such fees and expenses are not unreasonable; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and observing no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be paid for the said preferred stock, the dividend rate and the proposed underwriter's spread in connection therewith;

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the matters to be determined as a result of competitive bidding in connection with the sale of the new preferred stock under Rule U-50 and with respect to fees and expenses be, and the same hereby is, released, and that the said application-declaration of Pennsylvania, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

SOUTHERN CO. ET AL.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of March A. D. 1951.

In the matter of The Southern Company, Alabama Power Company, Georgia Power Company, Gulf Power Company, and Mississippi Power Company; File No. 70-2574.

The Southern Company ("Southern"), a registered holding company and its four public utility subsidiaries, Alabama Power Company ("Alabama"), Georgia Power Company ("Georgia"), Gulf Power Company ("Gulf"), and Mississippi Power Company ("Mississippi"), having filed with this Commission a joint application-declaration, and amendments thereto, pursuant to sections 6, 7, 9, 10, and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") and Rules U-43 and U-50 promulgated thereunder, relating to the following proposed transactions:

Southern proposes to issue and sell 1,000,000 additional shares of its $5.00 par value common stock at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50. The proceeds from the sale of this common stock, together with treasury funds to the extent required, are to be invested in the purchase of additional shares of the common stock of subsidiary operating companies in order to assist them in financing their construction programs. Southern proposes to acquire, and the respective subsidiaries propose to issue and sell to Southern, no par value common stock as follows: 50,000 shares of additional common stock of Alabama for $5,000,000; 292,400 shares of additional common stock of Georgia for $5,000,000; 40,000 shares of additional common stock of Gulf for $2,000,000; and 75,000 shares of additional common stock of Mississippi for $2,000,000.

Said joint application-declaration and amendments thereto having been duly filed, and notice of such filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to the act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The joint application-declaration having requested that the Commission's order become effective forthwith upon issuance; and

The Commission finding with respect to said application-declaration, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and subject to the following additional conditions:

(1) That the proposed sale of common stock of Southern shall not be consummated until the results of the competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 shall have been made a matter of record herein and a further order shall have been entered with respect thereto in the light of the record so completed, which order shall contain such further terms and conditions as may then be deemed appropriate.

(2) That jurisdiction be reserved with respect to all fees and expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.

OHIO EDISON CO.

ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of March A. D. 1951.

Ohio Edison Company ("Ohio"), a registered holding company and a public utility company, having filed a declaration pursuant to sections 6, 7 and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act"), and Rule U-62 promulgated thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

Ohio proposes to solicit the holders of its common stock for proxies to be voted at the annual meeting to be held on April 26, 1951, in favor of certain proposed amendments to its Articles of Incorporation. These amendments are being proposed at this time in contemplation of the subsequent issuance by Ohio of additional preferred stock and common stock, which security issuances are not embraced in the instant filing. The amendments to the Articles of Incorporation, generally speaking, relate to, among other things, certain limitations on the payment of common stock dividends and limitations on the issuance of unsecured indebtedness and additional preferred stock. Ohio requests that the Commission's order provide that upon the taking effect of these proposed amendments, the conditions limiting common stock dividends contained in the Commission's orders of September 14, 1944, September 26, 1944, March 31, 1945, September 9, 1948, March 29, 1950, and May 4, 1950, cease to be in effect.

The filing indicates that no authorization has been sought for the payment of fees and expenses by Ohio in connection with the transactions proposed in the filing other than for soliciting proxies. Such solicitation may be made by officials and employees of the company, and, if deemed advisable, by about six employees of Commonwealth Services Inc., an independent service company which was formerly an affiliate of Ohio, at a cost not to exceed $1,500. The company states that it may also, if it should be found necessary or advisable, retain some organization, as yet not determined, of professional proxy solicitors. It is anticipated that the total additional cost of such professional solicitation will not exceed $10,000.

Notice of the filing of this declaration having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to the act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to this declaration that all of the applicable standards are satisfied and that there is no basis for any adverse findings and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration be permitted to become effective except with respect to the proposal to hire an organization of professional proxy solicitors;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration be and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and to the following terms and conditions:

(1) That jurisdiction be reserved with respect to all aspects of the proposal to hire an organization of professional proxy solicitors, including, among other things, the need therefor, their selection and compensation;

(2) That the conditions in the Commission's orders dated September 14, 1944, September 26, 1944, March 31, 1945, September 9, 1948, March 29, 1950, and May 4, 1950, restricting the payment of common dividends by Ohio shall cease to be effective upon the taking effect of the proposed amendments to Ohio's Articles of Incorporation.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH WEST CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of March A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), by Central and South West Corporation ("Central"), a registered holding company. Declarant has designated sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (e) of the act and Rules U-62 and U-100 promulgated thereunder as being applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 2, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after April 2, 1951, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Central proposes to amend its Articles of Incorporation so as to (1) increase it's authorized capital stock from 8,000,000 shares of $5 par value common stock to 10,000,000 shares of $5 par value common stock and (2) limit the present preemptive rights of its common stockholders so as to permit the sale for cash of shares of common stock, or any securities convertible into common stock, either by means of a public offering, or to or through underwriters or investment bankers who shall have agreed promptly to make a public offering of such shares or securities.

The declaration states that, under the laws of Delaware, the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding common stock is required for the adoption of each of said amendments.

Central proposes to solicit the holders of its common stock for proxies to be voted at the annual meeting to be held on May 15, 1951, in favor of the proposed amendments to its Articles of Incorporation. The declaration states that Central may retain the services of Dudley King, a professional solicitor, to assist in the solicitation of proxies from a specified group of stockholders, consisting primarily of dealers, commercial banks, trust companies and other institutional investors, and, if so retained, the charges and expenses of the solicitor, not to exceed $2,000, will be paid by Central. Other fees and expenses to be incurred by Central in connection with the proposed transactions are estimated at $4,500.

The declaration further states that no State commission and no Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Declarant requests that the Commission accelerate the entry of its order herein, that such order be issued not later than April 5, 1951, and that it become effective upon the issuance thereof.

By the Commission.

MOORE & CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER WITH RESPECT TO REGISTRATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of March A. D. 1951.

In the matter of Moore & Company (a partnership), 113 Hudson Street, Jersey City 2, New Jersey, and Anna F. Ross doing business as Moore & Company (a sole proprietorship), 113 Hudson Street, Jersey City 2, New Jersey.

These are consolidated proceedings to determine whether it is in the public interest, pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("the Exchange Act"), to revoke the broker and dealer registration of Moore & Company, a partnership, and of Anna F. Ross, doing business as Moore & Company, a sole proprietorship, and whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, pursuant to section 15A (l) (2) of the Exchange Act, to suspend or expel Moore & Company from membership in National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. ("NASD"), a national securities association registered under the Exchange Act.

On January 10, 1951, we issued our Findings and Opinion in which we found that one Walter G. Furlong, an unregistered broker-dealer, had willfully violated the anti-fraud provisions of section 17 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933 and sections 10 (b) and 15 (c) (1) of the Exchange Act and Rules X-10B-5 and X-15C1-2 (a) and (b) thereunder, by reason of certain transactions effected by him, under power of attorney, with certain of his customers for whom Furlong had opened accounts with Moore & Company. We found also that Mrs. Ross was guilty with Furlong of violations of the anti-fraud provisions here involved, even though she may have entertained an erroneous understanding of the permissible scope of Furlong's authority.[1]

While we stated in our Opinion that section 15 (b) of the Exchange Act would authorize the revocation of Moore & Company's registration, we concluded that a less severe sanction in the form of a 60-day suspension from the NASD would be in the public interest in this case: Provided, That Mrs. Ross would submit satisfactory evidence that she would use methods adequate to safeguard the interests of public customers in the event she effected security transactions with them in the future. We then stated:

Accordingly, we shall hold this record open for a period of thirty days to give Mrs. Ross an opportunity to submit to us complete data showing that the procedures to be followed by her hereafter, which procedures should include the securing of appropriate legal and technical advice in the course of her dealings with public customers, will adequately safeguard the interests of such customers.

Upon compliance with this condition, we shall issue an order canceling the registration of Moore & Company, the partnership, and suspending Moore & Company as presently constituted from the NASD for a period of sixty days. In the event that Mrs. Ross should fail to meet this condition, we shall issue an order revoking her registration as a broker-dealer.

Mrs. Ross has advised us that her future practices will comply with our requirements as set forth under the Commission's rules, regulations and opinions. To this end she has engaged, on a permanent basis, an attorney and a firm of accountants to keep her constantly advised as to proper brokerage practices and procedures. In addition, she has submitted some data outlining various procedures she intends to follow with public customers as a means of guarding against a repetition of past offenses.

Mrs. Ross has also filed a request that we reconsider our decision to impose a sanction of a 60-day suspension of Moore & Company from the NASD, in the event we find that the conditions outlined by us have been met.

[1] — S. E. C. —, Securities Exchange Act Release No. 4545. Our findings and opinion contain a detailed exposition of the fraudulent acts and practices referred to, which will not be repeated herein.

We conclude that registrant has substantially fulfilled the conditions set forth by us and that it is appropriate to dismiss the revocation proceedings under section 15 (b) of the Exchange Act. However, the reasons advanced do not persuade us that we should not suspend Moore & Company, as now constituted, from the NASD for sixty days.

It is ordered, therefore, That the registration of Moore & Company, the partnership, be, and it hereby is, cancelled;

It is further ordered, That the proceedings for the revocation of registration pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 instituted against Anna F. Ross, doing business as Moore & Company, be, and they hereby are, dismissed, and that Moore & Company, as now constituted, be, and it hereby is, suspended from National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., for a period of sixty days from the date of this order.

By the Commission.

NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of March A. D. 1951

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by New England Gas and Electric Association ("Negea"), a registered holding company. It appears from the filing that sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (e) of the act and Rule U-62 promulgated thereunder are applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 29, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t. request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration proposed to be controverted, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after March 29, 1951, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

In connection with its annual meeting of shareholders on May 1, 1951 Negea proposes to solicit proxies from its shareholders with respect to nominees for Trustees and for the purpose of amending section 22 of the Declaration of Trust so as to enlarge its scope to permit the Trustees to issue all of the presently authorized but unissued common shares (1,405,125 shares) to provide funds to acquire under preemptive right additional stock of any natural gas pipeline company operating in Massachusetts, or to acquire 51 percent or more of the outstanding common stock of a Massachusetts gas or electric company. The declaration states that the Trustees of Negea deem it advisable that they be given authority to issue the authorized stock of Negea if such be necessary to provide funds for, or to retire temporary indebtedness incurred in connection with, the acquisition of additional stock of Algonquin Gas Transmission Company ("Algonquin"), in which pipeline company Negea has an existing 36.2 percent stock interest. The declaration further states that there is no intention at the present time to acquire a majority of the common stock of any Massachusetts gas or electric company, but the Trustees deem it advisable to amend section 22 of the Declaration of Trust at the annual meeting of stockholders to avoid the expense of a special meeting of stockholders in the event of an opportunity to purchase stock of a Massachusetts gas or electric company to the benefit of Negea and its shareholders.

In order to amend the Declaration of Trust, Negea states that it is necessary to obtain the consent of the holders of a majority of the outstanding common shares and of the holders of a majority of the preferred shares. Negea has filed with the Commission as an exhibit to its declaration herein, a copy of the solicitation material it proposes to send to its shareholders.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

UNITED STATES TARIFF COMMISSION

[Investigation No. 4]

WATCHES AND PARTS

NOTICE OF INVESTIGATION AND PUBLIC HEARING

The United States Tariff Commission on this 23d day of March 1951, under the authority of Paragraph 13 of Part III of Executive Order 10082 of October 5, 1949, and pursuant to the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, hereby announces an investigation, including a public hearing, for the purpose of determining whether, as a result of unforeseen developments and of the concession granted by the United States in the trade agreement with Switzerland, as amended, the following articles are being imported in such increased quantities and under such conditions as to cause or threaten serious injury to the domestic industry producing like or directly competitive articles:

Watches, watch movements, watch cases and all other articles and parts of articles classified under paragraph 367, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

On February 13, 1951, the Tariff Commission received an application for an investigation, under the escape clause of the Trade Agreement with Switzerland, with respect to jewelled watches and watch movements containing seven jewels or more but not more than seventeen jewels and parts therefor. This application was filed on behalf of the Elgin National Watch Company of Elgin, Illinois, and the Hamilton Watch Company of Lancaster, Pennsylvania. The application was subsequently endorsed in a communication received March 5, 1951, from the Trustees in Reorganization of the Waltham Watch Company. The Tariff Commission after preliminary study of this matter decided to institute a formal investigation, but on its own motion extended the scope of the investigation, as indicated above, to cover all watches, watch movements, watch cases and all other articles and parts of articles classified under paragraph 367, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended.

Hearing. All parties interested will be given opportunity to be present, to produce evidence, and to be heard at a public hearing to be held in the Tariff Commission Building, Seventh and E Streets NW., Washington, D. C., at 10 a. m. on the 15th day of May 1951.

Request to appear. Parties desiring to appear at the public hearing should notify the Secretary of the Commission in writing at its offices in Washington, D. C., in advance of the hearing.

Rules. Copies of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, which set forth in § 207.6 the type of information pertinent to the hearing are available upon request from the United States Tariff Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

I certify that this investigation was ordered by the Tariff Commission on the 22d day of March 1951.

[SEAL] DONN N. BENT,
Secretary.

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter II—The Loyalty Review Board

PART 220—DIRECTIVES TO DEPARTMENTS AND AGENCIES; CASES OF INCUMBENT AND EXCEPTED EMPLOYEES AND EXCEPTED APPLICANTS

PART 230—DIRECTIVES TO REGIONAL LOYALTY BOARDS; CASES OF APPLICANTS AND APPOINTEES IN THE COMPETITIVE SERVICE

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Paragraph (d) of § 220.1 is revoked.

2. Paragraphs (f) and (g) of § 220.2 are amended to read as follows:

§ 220.2 Directive II; initial consideration of loyalty cases. * * *

(f) Action in cases of incumbent and excepted employees where initial consideration indicates that a finding of removal may be warranted. In all cases in which the evidence indicates that removal action may be warranted, the board shall serve the incumbent or excepted employee with a notice in writing stating the charges against him in factual detail, setting forth with particularity the facts and circumstances relating to the charges so far as security considerations will permit, in order to enable the employee to submit his answer, defense or explanation, and of the proposed removal action. This notice shall be given to the employee at least thirty full calendar days in advance of the effective date of the proposed removal action, except as provided in § 22.2 (a) (2) of Civil Service Commission regulations (Chapter I of this title). In computing the notice period, the day on which the notice is received by the employee is not counted. The notice shall give the employee the information set forth in paragraph (g) of this section.

(g) Contents of notice of proposed removal action. The notice of proposed removal action required in paragraph (f) of this section shall state to the employee:

(1) The charges against him in factual detail, setting forth with particularity the facts and circumstances relating to the charges so far as security considerations will permit, in order to enable the employee to submit his answer, defense or explanation.

(2) His right to answer the charges in writing, under oath or affirmation, within a specified reasonable period of time, not less than ten (10) calendar days from the date of the receipt by the employee of the notice.

(3) His right to have an administrative hearing on the charges before a loyalty board in the agency, upon his request.

(4) His right to appear before such board personally, to be represented by counsel or representative of his own choosing, and to present evidence in his behalf.

(5) The work and pay status in which he will be carried during the period of the notice or until the determination of the agency loyalty board.

(6) The fact that the proposed removal action will not become effective in less than thirty (30) full calendar days (excluding the day of receipt of notice) from the date of receipt by the employee of the notice.

(7) The authority or authorities (Executive Order 9835 and any applicable statutes, such as section 9A of the Hatch Act and/or section 14 of the Veterans' Preference Act of 1944) under which the notice is being sent.

3. Paragraph (e) of § 230.1 is revoked.

4. Paragraph (b) of § 230.6 is amended to read as follows:

§ 230.6 Directive VI; records, files and reports. * * *

(b) Procedure in cases of separation, withdrawal and furlough—(1) Separation. Adjudication shall be discontinued in any case in which the individual is separated from the service prior to decision by a loyalty board, except in cases in which the individual has an eligibility from which he may receive another appointment and from which eligibility he is interested in obtaining further Federal employment.

Subchapter C—Loans, Purchases, and Other Operations

PART 610—DAIRY PRODUCTS

SUBPART—MILK AND BUTTERFAT PRICE SUPPORT PROGRAM

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will support the general levels of prices to producers for milk and butterfat, from April 1, 1951, through March 31, 1952, through purchases of manufactured dairy products by Commodity Credit Corporation (hereinafter called CCC) as provided herein. These purchases will support national average prices to producers at approximately $3.60 per hundredweight for manufacturing milk of 3.95 percent butterfat (yearly average test) and 67.6 cents per pound for butterfat.

§ 610.130 Price support program for milk and butterfat. (a) CCC will purchase, during the period April 1, 1951 through March 31, 1952, butter, nonfat dry milk solids and Cheddar cheese at the following prices:

Commodity	Description	Unit	Price
Butter	(U. S. Grade A or higher	Pound	$0.66
	(U. S. Grade B	do	.64
Nonfat dry milk solids	(Spray process, U. S. Extra Grade	do	.15
	(Roller process, U. S. Extra Grade	do	.13
Cheddar cheese	U. S. Grade A or higher, standard moisture basis	do	.36

(b) The butter shall be salted creamery butter of U. S. Grade B or higher, solid-packed in commercial containers. The nonfat dry milk solids shall be U. S. Extra Grade, packed in export containers. The Cheddar Cheese shall be U. S. Grade A or higher, packed in commercial domestic containers.

(c) The products purchased shall be produced and located in the continental United States. Purchases will be made in units of not less than tariff minimum carlots for the area where the product is located. Grades and weights shall be evidenced by inspection certificates issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

(d) Purchases will be made by CCC subject to the terms and conditions of purchase announcements issued by the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Issued this 23d day of March 1951.

TITLE 12—BANKS AND BANKING

Chapter II—Federal Reserve System

Subchapter A—Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

[Reg. A]

PART 201—DISCOUNTS FOR AND ADVANCES TO MEMBER BANKS BY FEDERAL RESERVE BANKS

DISCOUNT OF NOTES, DRAFTS, AND BILLS FOR MEMBER BANKS

1. Effective March 21, 1951, paragraph (h) of § 201.1 is amended to read as follows:

(h) Determination of eligibility. A Federal Reserve Bank shall take such steps as may be necessary to satisfy itself as to the eligibility of any paper offered for discount. Compliance of paper with the provisions of paragraph (a) (2) of this section may be evidenced by a statement which adequately reflects the borrower's financial worth and evidences a reasonable excess of quick assets over current liabilities, or such compliance may be evidenced in any other manner satisfactory to the Federal Reserve Bank. The requirement of this section that a note be negotiable shall not be applicable with respect to any note evidencing a loan which is made pursuant to a commodity loan program of the Commodity Credit Corporation and which is subject to a commitment to purchase by the Commodity Credit Corporation or with respect to any note evidencing a loan which is in whole or in part the subject of a guarantee or commitment made pursuant to section 301 of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

2. (a) The purpose of this amendment is to facilitate the program of guaranteed loans authorized by section 301 of the Defense Production Act of 1950, by exempting notes evidencing guaranteed loans from the requirements of this part that a note be negotiable in order to be eligible for discount or as security for advances by Federal Reserve Banks to member banks.

(b) The notice, public participation, and deferred effective date described in section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act are not followed in connection with this amendment for the reasons and good cause found as stated in § 262.2 (e) of the Board's rules of procedure, and especially because in connection with this amendment which relieves certain restrictions such procedures are unnecessary as they would not aid the persons affected and would serve no other useful purpose.

(Sec. 11, 38 Stat. 262; 12 U. S. C. 248. Interpret or apply R. S. 5200, as amended, secs. 4, 9, 13, 19, 24, 38 Stat. 254, 259, 263, 270, 273, as amended, 39 Stat. 753, 754, as amended sec. 3, 40 Stat. 232, as amended, secs. 402 404, 42 Stat. 1479, 1480, as amended, sec. 2, 47 Stat.

BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM,

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

DANGER AREA ALTERATIONS

The danger area alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required. Title 14, § 60.13-1 is amended as follows:

1. The Sahuarita, Arizona, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, is amended by changing the "Description by Geographical Coordinates" column to read: "N boundary: lat. 31°59' 30" N; E boundary: long. 110°51'00" W; S boundary: lat. 31°54'00" N; W boundary: long. 110°57'00" W."

2. The Miami, Florida, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, and amended on June 23, 1949, in 14 F. R. 3393, is further amended by changing the "Description by Geographical Coordinates" column to read: "Beginning at lat. 26°15'00" N, long. 80°16'30" W; SSW to lat. 26°00'00" N, long. 80°18'05" W; W to the edge of Blue Civil Airway No. 19 at long. 80°23'30" W; NNW along the E edge of Blue Civil Airway No. 19 to lat. 26°15'00" N, long. 80°25'45" W; E to lat. 26°15'00" N, long. 80°16'30" W, point of beginning."

3. The Tonopah, Nevada, area, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, and amended on June 23, 1949, in 14 F. R. 3393, is further amended by changing the "Description by Geographical Coordinates" column to read: "Beginning at lat. 37°53'00" N, long. 116°11'00" W; S to lat. 37°42'00" N; E to long. 115°53'00" W; S to lat. 37°33'00" N; E to long. 115°48'00" W; S to lat. 37°17'00" N; E to long. 115°18'00" W; S to lat. 36°41'00" N; W to long. 115°35'30" W; S to lat. 36°35'00" N; W to long. 115°42'00" W; N to lat. 36°41'00" N; W to long. 115°56'00" W; N to lat. 37°16'00" N; W to long. 116°13'00" W; S to lat. 36°41'00" N; W to long. 116°26'30" W; N to lat. 36°51'00" N; W to long. 116°33'30" W; N to lat. 37°33'00" N; W to long. 117°02'00" W; northerly to lat. 37°53'00" N, long. 117°01'00" W; E to lat. 37°53'00" N, long. 116°11'00" W, point of beginning".

4. The Fort Sill and Lawton, Oklahoma, areas, published on April 21, 1949, in 14 F. R. 1913, have been combined into one area and revised to read:

Name and location (chart)	Description by geographical coordinates	Designated altitudes	Time of designation	Using agency

In the Matter of Herbert D. Fine, Individually and Trading as H. D. Fine Company, Plasti-Kote Company, and Plastic Coating Company, and H. D. Fine Company, a Corporation

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer thereto, a stipulation entered into by counsel, testimony and other evidence introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission, recommended decision of the trial examiner and exceptions thereto, and briefs in support of and in opposition to the complaint (oral argument not having been requested); and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that the respondents have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondents, Herbert D. Fine, individually and trading under the names H. D. Fine Company, Plasti-Kote Company and Plastic Coating Company, or trading under any other name, and H. D. Fine Company, a corporation, trading under its corporate name and also under the name Plasti-Kote Company, or trading under any other name, and its officers, and respondents' agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of respondents' paint and varnish products designated Plasti-Kote, Plasti-Kote Transparent, Plastic Floor Finish, Plasti-Kote Tile Floor Finish, Plasti-Kote Perma-Seal, Plasti-Kote Semi-Lustre, Plasti-Kote Tile Finish, Plasti-Kote Exterior, Plasti-Kote Texture Finish and Plasti-Kote No Prime Flat, or any products of substantially similar composition, whether sold under the same names or under any other names, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

1. That respondents' products are radically new laboratory products or that they are wholly different from other products used for similar purposes.

2. That said products create a permanent glossy finish.

3. That said products renew leaky roofs.

4. That said products fireproof surfaces to which they are applied.

5. That said products will withstand heat up to 800° F., or otherwise misrepresenting the ability of said products to withstand heat.

6. That said products will outwear wax surfaces 200 to 1, or otherwise misrepresenting the superiority of said products over wax.

7. That said products are modern finishes for all types of floors.

8. That said product, Plasti-Kote Texture Finish, will not wear out.

9. That said product, Plasti-Kote Perma-Seal, hardens surfaces to which it is applied, or that it is an effective waterproofer under all conditions of use.

10. That said product, Plasti-Kote Exterior, is superior to old type house paints.

11. That said product, Plasti-Kote Tile Finish, will last for years under constant use; that it resists all damage from boiling water; or that it is alcohol proof.

12. That respondents manufacture any of the products sold by them.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Issued: January 3, 1951.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 3—STATEMENTS OF GENERAL POLICY OR INTERPRETATION

USE OF SKIM MILK CHEESE FOR MANUFACTURING IN PASTEURIZED PROCESS CHEESE FOOD AND PASTEURIZED PROCESS CHEESE SPREAD

Pursuant to section 3 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 238; 5 U. S. S. 1002), the following statement of policy is issued:

§ 3.21 Notice to manufacturers of pasteurized process cheese food and pasteurized process cheese spread. Regulations establishing definitions and standards of identity for pastuerized process cheese food, § 19.765, and pasteurized process cheese spread, § 19.775, were published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 24, 1950, 15 F. R. 5686-5687. These regulations became effective on February 24, 1951.

An application has been received from a substantial portion of the interested industry proposing to amend these regulations to permit skim milk cheese for manufacturing as an optional ingredient in these foods. Alternative ways of amending the regulations are suggested: (1) To permit skim milk cheese for manufacturing as an optional cheese ingredient under paragraph (c) of each of the sections; or (2) To permit skim milk cheese for manufacturing as an optional dairy ingredient under paragraph (d) of each of the sections.

A hearing to take evidence on these proposals will be called as soon as practicable. Pending such a hearing and the issuance of an order resulting therefrom, the Federal Security Agency will not recommend action against pasteurized process cheese foods or pasteurized process cheese spreads solely because they include skim milk cheese for manufacturing as part of the optional cheese or dairy ingredients. Such foods must comply with other requirements of the existing regulations as well as the general provisions of the law.

SUPRARENAL GLANDS FROM HOG CARCASSES NOT FINALLY INSPECTED

Pursuant to section 3 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 238; 5 U. S. C. 1002), the following statement of policy is issued:

§ 3.22 Suprarenal glands from hog carcasses prior to final inspection. The Meat Inspection Division, Bureau of Animal Industry, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has informed the Food and Drug Administration of the Federal Security Agency that, under appropriate conditions, it will permit the removal of suprarenal glands from hogs that have not been finally inspected by Federal inspectors. The glands to be so obtained are intended for use in manufacturing extracts containing one or more of the therapeutically useful constituents of suprarenal glands.

Under the conditions hereinafter specified, the Federal Security Administrator has determined that the public health will be adequately protected from any danger from the use of drugs, made in whole or in part from suprarenal glands of hogs that may be condemned by Federal inspectors of the Department of Agriculture after removal of such glands from the carcasses, arising from any abnormality of such carcasses if such glands are subjected to the following prescribed treatment, which will destroy or eliminate any microorganisms or toxins that might be present in the glands:

The glands are subjected to quick freezing promptly upon removal from the carcasses and maintained in a frozen state until they are ground and immersed in 95 percent to 100 percent acetone. The ground tissues remain in the acetone for a period of not less than 6 days, the mixture is filtered, and the residue is burned.

PART 204—DANGER ZONE REGULATIONS

GULF OF MEXICO BETWEEN ST. JOSEPH BAY AND PENSACOLA BAY, FLA.

Pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of the River and Harbor Act of August 8, 1917 (40 Stat. 266; 33 U. S. C. 1), and Chapter XIX of the Army Appropriation Act of July 9, 1918 (40 Stat. 892; 33 U. S. C. 3), §§ 204.115 to 204.140, inclusive, are hereby revoked and superseded by §§ 204.115 to 204.140, inclusive, as follows:

§ 204.115 Gulf of Mexico and St. Joseph Bay, in vicinity of St. Joseph Peninsula; air-to-ground target range, Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla.—(a) The danger zone. The waters of the Gulf of Mexico west of St. Joseph Peninsula and of St. Joseph Bay east of St. Joseph Peninsula, Florida, within an area described as follows: Beginning at St. Joseph Point, latitude 29°52'24", longitude 85°23'24"; thence southeasterly to latitude 29°50'30", longitude 85°23'12", thence 90° true to longitude 85°22'30"; thence southeasterly to latitude 29°42'00", longitude 85°20'30", thence southwesterly to latitude 29°41'48", longitude 85°21'48"; thence southeasterly to Cape San Blas, latitude 29°40'00", longitude 85°21'36"; thence southwesterly to latitude 29°38'54", longitude 85°30'42"; thence northwesterly to latitude 29°48'36", longitude 85°32'12"; thence northeasterly to the point of beginning. Firing will be in a southwesterly direction from St. Joseph Bay toward the Gulf of Mexico and across St. Joseph Peninsula.

(b) The regulations. (1) Firing will be conducted daily between sunrise and sunset, weather and ceiling permitting, and no vessel or other craft shall enter or remain within the area during such operations.

(2) The fact that aerial target practice is to take place over the area will be advertised to the public through the usual media for the dissemination of information. Inasmuch as such practice is to be conducted throughout the year, without regard to season, such advertising will be repeated at frequent intervals not exceeding three months, and at more frequent intervals when, in the opinion of the enforcing agency, such frequent repetition is advisable in the interests of public safety.

(3) Prior to conducting each target practice the area will be patrolled by aircraft to insure that no watercraft are within the area, and any watercraft in the area will be warned by means of signals that target practice is about to take place. The patrol aircraft will employ the method of warning known as "buzzing" which consists of low flight by the aircraft and repeated opening and closing of the throttle. Any such watercraft shall, upon being so warned, immediately leave the area and shall remain outside the area until the conclusion of target practice.

(4) No marking of the area is proposed, and watercraft shall be presumed to know their location by distance and direction from landmarks or other topographical features along the shore.

(5) The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commanding Officer, Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida, and such agencies as he may designate.

§ 204.120 Gulf of Mexico, southeast of St. Andrew Bay East Entrance; small-arms firing range, Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla.—(a) The danger zone. The waters of the Gulf of Mexico southeast of St. Andrew Bay East Entrance within a rectangular area one statute mile wide, the longitudinal center line of which extends from a point on shore at latitude 30°04'30", longitude 85°36'48", 206° true, a distance of four and one-half statute miles.

(b) The regulations. (1) Firing practice will ordinarily take place between 8:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. daily. No vessel or other craft shall enter or remain within the area during periods of firing. The area will be open to vessels at all other times.

(2) Prior to conducting firing practice a red flag will be displayed from the Fire Control Tower on the range and watercraft in the vicinity will be warned by patrol boats. Any watercraft within the area shall, upon being so warned, immediately leave the area and shall remain outside the area until the conclusion of firing practice.

(3) The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commanding Office, Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida, and such agencies as he may designate.

§ 204.125 Gulf of Mexico, west of St. Andrew Bay West Entrance; test operations area, Navy Mine Countermeasures Station, Panama City, Fla.—(a) The danger zone. The waters of the Gulf of Mexico west of St. Andrew Bay West Entrance within an irregular area approximately three-fourths nautical mile offshore, one and three-fourths nautical miles wide, and three nautical miles long, whose four corners are located as follows: North corner, latitude 30°09'05", longitude 85°47'45"; east corner, latitude 30°07'25", longitude 85°45'00"; south corner, latitude 30°06'00", longitude 85°46'06"; west corner, latitude 30°08'01", longitude 85°49'00".

(b) The regulations. (1) Whenever the flag "Baker" or the standard minesweep signal is displayed from any vessel or barge operating in the danger zone, navigation in the danger zone is prohibited. The area will be open to navigation at all other times.

(2) A security patrol maintained by the operating agency will exercise full control in the interest of safety to navigation.

(3) The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commanding Officer, U. S. Navy Mine Countermeasures Station, Panama City, Florida, and such agencies as he may designate.

§ 204.130 Gulf of Mexico from St. Andrew Bay to Choctawhatchee Bay, and Choctawhatchee Bay; aerial gunnery and bombing ranges, Air Force Proving Ground Command, Eglin Field, Fla.—(a) The danger zones—(1) Aerial gunnery range in Gulf of Mexico between St. Andrew Bay West Entrance of Choctawhatchee Bay Entrance. South boundary, a line parallel to and 10 statute miles offshore; west boundary, longitude 86°20'00"; north boundary, a line parallel to and one statute mile offshore; east boundary, a straight line extending from the intersection of the north boundary and latitude 30°07'00" to the intersection of the south boundary and latitude 30°00'45".

(2) Aerial gunnery range in Gulf of Mexico west of Choctawatchee Bay Entrance. South boundary, a line parallel to and 10 statute miles offshore; west boundary, longitude 86°41'00"; north boundary, a line parallel to and one statute mile offshore; east boundary, longitude 86°32'00".

(3) Aerial gunnery range in west part of Choctawatchee Bay. The waters of Choctawatchee Bay within an area described as follows: Beginning at a point on the west shore at latitude 30°28'30", longitude 86°30'00"; thence southeasterly to latitude 30°25'30", longitude 86°21'30"; thence southwesterly to a point on the south shore at latitude 30°23'30", longitude 86°23'00"; thence northwesterly to a point on the south shore at latitude 30°24'00", longitude 86°25'00"; and thence northwesterly to the point of beginning; excluding that part of the area included within the aerial gunnery range along the north shore of Choctawatchee Bay (described in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph).

(4) Aerial gunnery range along north shore of Choctawhatchee Bay. West boundary, longitude 86°25'30"; north boundary, the shore; east boundary, longitude 86°17'20"; south boundary, a straight line extending from the intersection of the east boundary and latitude 30°27'30" to the intersection of the west boundary and latitude 30°26'00".

(5) Aerial bombing range in Choctawhatchee Bay southwest of Alaqua Point. Beginning at latitude 30°28'20", longitude 86°16'11"; thence to latitude 30°28'12", longitude 86°14'14"; thence 180° true to latitude 30°28'06"; thence to latitude 30°27'32", longitude 86°16'03"; and thence to the point of beginning.

(6) Aerial bombing range in Choctawhatchee Bay southwest of Motes Point. Beginning at latitude 30°27'22", longitude 86°13'10"; thence to latitude 30°27'00", longitude 86°11'14"; thence 180° true to latitude 30°26'46"; thence to latitude 30°26'25", longitude 86°13'08"; and thence to the point of beginning.

(b) The regulations—(1) Aerial gunnery ranges. (i) The aerial gunnery ranges in the Gulf of Mexico and in the west part of Choctawhatchee Bay (described in paragraphs (a) (1) to (3), inclusive, of this section) may be used by watercraft except during periods when firing is conducted. During these periods, firing will be controlled by observation posts, and watercraft will be warned by patrol boats. During periods of firing, traverse of these areas shall not be denied to regular cargo-carrying or passenger-carrying vessels or tows proceeding on established routes. In case any such vessel is within one of the areas, the officer in charge of gunnery operations will cause the cessation or postponement of fire until the vessel has cleared that part of the area within the range of the weapons being used. The vessel shall proceed on its normal course and shall not delay its progress.

(ii) No vessel or other craft shall enter or remain within the aerial gunnery range along the north shore of Choctawhatchee Bay (described in paragraph (a) (4) of this section) at any time.

(2) Aerial bombing ranges. (i) The areas described in paragraphs (a) (5) and (6) of this section will be in continuous use between 6:00 a. m. and 6:00 p. m. daily, and all watercraft are prohibited from using the areas during bombing operations.

(ii) The fact that aerial bombing practice is to take place over the areas will be advertised to the public through the usual media for the dissemination of information. Inasmuch as such practice is to be engaged in throughout the year without regard to season, such advertising will be repeated at frequent intervals not exceeding three months and at more frequent intervals when, in the opinion of the enforcing agency, such frequent repetition is advisable in the interests of public safety.

(iii) Prior to conducting each bombing practice the areas will be patrolled by aircraft to insure that no watercraft are within the areas, and any watercraft in the areas will be warned by means of signals that bombing practice is about to take place. The patrol aircraft will employ the method of warning known as "buzzing" which consists of low flight by the aircraft and repeated opening and closing of the throttle. Any such watercraft shall, upon being so warned, immediately leave the danger zone and shall, until the conclusion of practice, remain at such distance that it will be safe from falling projectiles.

(iv) No marking of the areas is proposed, and watercraft shall be presumed to know their location by distance and direction from landmarks or other topographical features along the shore.

(3) Enforcing agency. The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commanding Officer, Air Force Proving Ground Command, Eglin Field, Florida, and such agencies as he may designate.

§ 204.135 Gulf of Mexico, south from Choctawhatchee Bay; guided missiles test operations area, Air Force Proving Ground Command, Eglin Field, Fla.—(a) The danger zone. The waters of the Gulf of Mexico south from Choctawhatchee Bay within an area described as follows: Beginning at a point on the south shore of Santa Rosa Island at longitude 86°47'20"; thence easterly along the south shore of Santa Rosa Island, across the mouth of Choctawhatchee Bay Entrance, and along the south shore of Moreno Point and the Peninsula south of Choctawhatchee Bay to longitude 86°05'10"; thence southeasterly to latitude 28°10'00", longitude 84°30'00"; thence 270° true to longitude 86°47'20"; and thence due north to the point of beginning.

(b) The regulations. (1) the area will be used intermittently during daylight hours for a week or 10 days at a time. Firing will take place once or twice a day for periods ordinarily of not more than one hour. Advance notice of such firings will be published in local newspapers and in such other manner as the District Engineer, Corps of Engineers, Mobile, Alabama, may direct.

(2) During periods of firing, passage through the area will not be denied to cargo-carrying or passenger-carrying vessels or tows proceeding on established routes. In case any such vessel is within the danger area, the officer in charge of firing operations will cause the cessation or postponement of fire until the vessel shall have cleared the portion of the danger area involved. The entire area involved will be under constant observation of both surface patrol vessels and air patrol planes prior to and during periods of firing and notice will be given to vessels and tows of intention to fire by buzzing low over the vessel, upon which signal vessels and tows shall proceed on their established course promptly and clear the area as soon as possible.

(3) Other vessels will be warned to leave the immediate danger area during firing periods by surface patrol craft. Upon being so warned such vessels shall clear the area immediately. Such periods normally will not exceed two hours.

(4) The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commanding Officer, Air Force Proving Ground Command, Eglin Field, Florida, and such agencies as he may designate.

§ 204.140 Gulf of Mexico, south of Pensacola Bay; firing range, Fort Pickens and Fort McRee Military Reservations—(a) The danger zone—(1) East sector. The waters of the Gulf of Mexico within a sector the easterly limit of which bears 135° true from a point on Santa Rosa Island 2,500 yards east of the Coast Guard Station, and the westerly limit of which bears 225° true from the west end of Santa Rosa Island, the outer limits of the sector describing an arc of a circle 33,000 yards from the intersection of the center line of the sector and the south shore of Santa Rosa Island.

(2) West sector. The waters of the Gulf of Mexico within an adjacent sector the easterly limit of which bears 225° true, and the westerly limit of which bears 245° true, from the west end of Santa Rosa Island, the outer limits of the sector describing an arc of a circle of 17,000 yards radius.

(b) The regulations. (1) Any vessel capable of being propelled by mechanical power at a speed greater than five miles per hour may enter and proceed directly through the danger zone without hindrance, except for reasonable delays when notified by a patrol boat that firing for a brief period is about to commence or is in progress.

(2) Except under unusual circumstances, the danger zone is open throughout the year to the public for fishing and traffic without restriction from 12:00 m. Saturday to 7:30 a. m. Monday, and on National (but not State) holidays from 6:00 p. m. of the day preceding to 7:30 a. m. of the day following the holiday. The danger zone is also open to the public for fishing and traffic without restriction on other days when firing is not conducted.

(3) On days when firing is to be conducted which will require restrictions on the use of all or part of the danger zone, a large red flag will be displayed from a mast on or in the vicinity of the lookout tower of the Coast Guard Station on Santa Rosa Island, and from a mast on or in the vicinity of the parapet of Old Fort Pickens, Santa Rosa Island. These flags will be displayed prior to 7:30 a. m. of the day on which firing is to be conducted, and will be removed when firing ceases for the day.

(4) When night firing is scheduled, large white flags will be displayed from the same towers prior to 4:00 p. m. of that day, and will remain displayed until the termination of firing.

(5) On days and nights when firing is in progress and flags are displayed as provided in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph, no boat or vessel shall, except as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, enter or remain in the danger zone, except under the written authority of the enforcing agency: Provided, That the enforcing agency may designate by suitable public notices a small part of the danger zone as the restricted area for certain firings, in which case any boat or vessel may enter or remain in other waters of the danger zone outside of the designated restricted area.

(6) The regulations in this section shall be enforced by the Commanding Officer, Fort Barrancas, Florida, and such agencies as he may designate.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 3—VETERANS CLAIMS

SERVICE-CONNECTION, SOUND CONDITION AT TIME OF ENTRANCE INTO SERVICE, AGGRAVATION, AND NATURAL PROGRESS

In § 3.63, paragraphs (f), (g), and (h) are amended to read as follows:

§ 3.63 Service-connection, sound condition at the time of entrance into service, aggravation, and natural progress under Public No. 2, 73d Congress, as amended, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), Part I and Part II (38 U. S. C. ch. 12).

(f) There are certain medical principles so well and universally recognized as definitely to constitute fact, and when, in accordance with these principles, existence prior to entrance into service is established, no further additional or confirmatory facts are necessary. For example, with notation or discovery, during service, of residual conditions, such as scars, healed fractures, absent or resected parts of organs, supernumerary parts, congenital malformations, with no evidence of the pertinent antecedent active injury or disease during service, the established facts are so convincing as to impel the conclusion that the residual condition existed prior to entrance into active service, without further proof of this fact. Similarly, manifestation of lesions or symptoms of chronic disease from date of enlistment, or so close to that date that the disease could not have originated in so short a period, will be accepted as clear and unmistakable proof that the disease existed prior to entrance into active service. Likewise, manifestation of disease within less than the minimum incubation period after enlistment will be accepted as showing inception prior to service. In neuropsychiatric conditions, situational reactions, characteristic of a life pattern indicating psychopathic personality, chronic psychoneurosis of long standing, or other neuropsychiatric symptoms shown to have existed prior to service with the same manifestations during service, which were the basis of the diagnosis in service, will be accepted as manifesting preexistent neuropsychiatric condition and not merely as neurotic traits or predisposition. These principles, in relation to type, length, and circumstances of service, are to be considered in the question of service-connection.

(g) The application of the foregoing instructions carrying into effect the principles and intent of paragraph I (b), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, will be in full accord with the principles involving clear and unmistakable evidence and burden of proof enunciated in Public No. 141, 73d Congress, as amended.

(h) The development of evidence in connection with claims heretofore or hereafter adjudicated under the provisions of paragraph I (a) and (b), Part I, Veterans Regulation 1 (a), as amended, will be accomplished when deemed necessary. Development should not be undertaken when the evidence present is sufficient for a proper determination of the question of service-connection. In initially rating disability of record at the time of discharge, the records of the service department, including the reports of examination at enlistment and the clinical records during service, will ordinarily suffice. Rating of combat injuries or other conditions which obviously had their inception in service may be accomplished without awaiting copy of the examination at enlistment.

TITLE 42—PUBLIC HEALTH

Chapter I—Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency

PART 21—COMMISSIONED OFFICERS

SUBPART Q—TRAVEL AND TRANSPORTATION ALLOWANCES

Subpart Q of Part 21, together with Appendix A thereof, is amended to read as follows:

Sec.
21.351 Controlling regulations.
21.352 Instructions by the Surgeon General.

AUTHORITY: §§ 21.351 and 21.352 issued under sec. 303, 63 Stat. 813; 37 U. S. C. 253.

§ 21.351 Controlling regulations. Regulations governing the allowances for travel and transportation and the conditions under which such travel and transportation may be performed by commissioned officers of the Public Health Service shall consist of those portions of the document entitled "Joint Travel Regulations", approved by the Federal Security Administrator on January 31, 1951, and approved by the Secretaries having jurisdiction over the other uniformed services, as are applicable to such officers of the Service, together with any revisions or additions to such document, so applicable, as may be approved by the Administrator.

§ 21.352 Instructions by the Surgeon General. The Surgeon General is authorized to adopt, and from time to time revise or add, administrative instructions relating to methods or procedures appropriate to implementing and enforcing the regulations governing travel and transportation allowances of the commissioned officers of the Service.

These amendments shall be effective April 1, 1951.

Dated: March 20, 1951.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 5, Amdt. 1]

CPR 5—IRON AND STEEL SCRAP

AMDT. 1—DETROIT BASING POINT PRICES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 5 (16 F. R. 1061) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment increases the basing point prices for No. 1 heavy melting steel scrap at Detroit by $1.15 per gross ton.

Under Ceiling Price Regulation 5 as originally written, the basing point prices for No. 1 heavy melting steel at Detroit were $3.00 per gross ton below the basing point prices at Cleveland for the same material. As a consequence, the ceiling shipping point prices for dealers located in the Detroit basing point, determined under Section 4 (a) of the regulation by deducting switching charges from the Detroit basing point prices, were $1.15 per gross ton below what such prices would have been if determined by deducting water transportation and dock charges from the prices at the most favorable basing point, i. e., Cleveland.

Under the principles embodied in the pricing structure set forth in the regulation the basing point in which a shipper is located should be his "most favorable basing point", and the discrepancy with respect to sellers at Detroit, unnoticed at the time the regulation was issued, jeopardized the movement of scrap from that city, the largest iron and steel scrap producing area in the country. The price changes made by the amendment are designed to establish Detroit shipping point prices at their proper level and to remove the threat to the flow of vitally needed scrap materials.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the ceiling prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in the furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950, and to relevant factors of general applicability.

Although special circumstances have rendered impracticable consultation with formal industry advisory committees, including trade association representatives, the provisions of this amendment have been presented to persons representing substantial segments of the various segments of the industry affected, and their recommendations have been considered.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 5 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 (a) (1) is amended by substituting $41.15 for $40.00 as the basing point price for Detroit, Michigan.

2. Section 7 (a) (1) is amended by substituting $43.15 for $42.00 as the basing point price for Detroit, Michigan.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.)

Effective Date. This amendment is effective March 27, 1951.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulations 14]

CPR 14—CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FOODS SOLD AT WHOLESALE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 14 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This statement of considerations covers CPR 14, CPR 15, and CPR 16.

The General Ceiling Price Regulation was issued essentially as a "stop gap" measure in order to bring under immediate control the prices of most goods and services. It was the only technique that could be applied quickly and comprehensively. At the time of issuance it was recognized that the regulation was not well adapted to the long range control of prices in many parts of the economy. This is true in the wholesaling and retailing of food. Between the outbreak of the Korean war and the freeze period, some food distributors had placed in effect substantial price increases beyond those necessitated by the increased cost of food. Others had not so advanced their prices. Thus the freeze technique rewarded those who had increased their prices most. The distortions in the cost-price relationships and the chance abnormalities that existed in the base period were frozen into the price structure. Moreover, the freeze technique is particularly difficult to apply to new sellers who have no base period ceiling price. In an industry such as food distribution with thousands of sellers, there are bound to be large numbers of new sellers. The effort to fix ceiling prices for these new sellers creates serious problems of administration and fairness. Fixing ceiling prices for new items presents similar problems. Moreover, the effort to enforce ceiling prices based on a general freeze for more than 500,000 sellers presents an extremely difficult enforcement problem.

These regulations establish a different method of fixing ceiling prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers of most dry and some perishable grocery products by providing specific percentage markups for different food categories. They govern approximately 60 percent of food purchases made by consumers in retail stores. Though the grocery business customarily computes margins as a percentage of sales, for practical purposes and easy calculation, the margins here are translated to a markup on cost. The markup technique employed provides a simple, enforceable, equitable and effective method of price control. It was the technique employed by the Office of Price Administration in issuing MPR's 421, 422, and 423 which regulated dry grocery prices during World War II. These regulations were the result of careful classification of wholesalers and retailers and a comprehensive survey of appropriate margins within each class of seller. Their validity was upheld by the Emergency Court of Appeals. During the period when they were effective, food costs were stabilized. At the same time earnings per dollars of sales of food distributors exceeded those experienced prior to 1942.

The contrast between the inadequacies of a "freeze" regulation such as the General Ceiling Price Regulation, in controlling prices for food distributors, and the success of the margin type regulation used by the OPA makes it imperative that distributors' ceiling prices of dry groceries be fixed on a markup basis at the earliest possible date. At the present time, the best markups available are those which were used by the OPA in issuing MPR's 421, 422, and 423, and which were in effect from 1943–45. In order to act now, the Director of Price Stabilization has generally employed these markups for most food categories for most distributors. The Office of Price Stabilization is now organizing a study of margin and earning figures for food distributors in order to obtain more recent comprehensive data. If the study should indicate that the ceiling prices established under this regulation are either too low or too high, the regulation will be promptly revised to reflect the results of the survey.

Consultation with the wholesalers and retailers of dry groceries has indicated that wholesalers and the independent retailers generally believe that the OPA markups applicable to them will return adequate gross margins. The chain stores and supermarkets, however, have insisted that the OPA markups would be inadequate and have presented calculations to show that their application to pre-Korea operations would reduce by approximately three percent on sales the grocery department gross margins experienced at that time. They urge that their operations are conducted on a low net margin of profit to sales, and fear that these ceilings will mean loss operations. This position has been given very careful consideration by the Director of Price Stabilization. An examination of the data submitted by the chains and supermarkets indicates that there is a substantial basis for these figures. In most food categories the OPA markups conform generally with normal pricing practices. In some categories, however, it has been indicated that markups have changed substantially since the war. In issuing these regulations, therefore, the Director has made some adjustments in these food categories for these sellers. These adjustments will be carefully checked against the results of the survey.

On the whole the markups used for chains and supermarkets should increase by a little more than 1 percent the margin on sales yielded by the OPA markups. While the chains and supermarkets indicate that an adjustment of approximately three percent is required, their calculations overlook certain important considerations which indicate that these adjusted markups will provide generally fair and equitable prices. Since the markups are computed as a percentage of cost, any increase in food cost is reflected in higher dollar margins. All retailers consulted by the OPS conceded that food costs have gone up at least 10 percent and evidence available to the Director of Price Stabilization indicates that the increase may be more. Assuming the minimum increase in food costs, the percentage markup could be reduced and still return as many or more dollars as were earned in a pre-Korea period. If a food retailer prior to Korea had food costs of $1,000,000, and sales of $1,200,000, he would have a percentage markup of 20 percent and a dollar margin of $200,000. Today, however, if he sold the same quantity of food the cost of food to him would have increased to at least $1,100,000. A percentage markup of 18.3 percent would produce a dollar margin of $201,300, or more than he earned prior to the increase in the cost of food. Thus, even if the markups in this regulation result in a lower percentage markup than that experienced in a pre-Korea period, the increase in the cost of food has been so substantial that these regulations should not prevent food distributors from realizing adequate overall dollar margins.

It is true, of course, that the overhead costs which are to be covered by the markups may have increased since Korea. However, food stores have also experienced a marked and rapid increase in physical volume. This means that fixed overhead costs can be spread over more units of merchandise and the cost per unit reduced. Moreover, in a period of accelerated inflation, food costs and food prices rise much faster than overhead expenses and in a seller's market, sales and promotion costs can be better controlled. These factors are reflected in higher net earnings. Percentage markups can be reduced and the distributor will still be able to cover dollar increases in these overhead expenses and realize net earnings comparable to those realized prior to the inflationary period.

The experience since Korea indicated the effect of all of these factors on earnings. In 1950 the sales of leading chain stores increased over 1949 by approximately six percent mainly during the last half of the year. However, dollar earnings for the same chains increased by 18 percent. Thus, dollar earnings increased substantially more percentagewise than dollar sales. Apparently, therefore, overhead expenses have not risen as sharply as food costs and food prices and this has been reflected in the higher earnings. On the basis of these considerations, the Director of Price Stabilization finds that the markups set forth in these regulations will produce generally fair and equitable prices.

SPECIFIC PROVISIONS OF THE REGULATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14 applies to sales by wholesalers of certain food products called "dry groceries," which are listed in Table A of the Regulation. Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 (Group 1 and 2 stores), and Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 (Group 3 and 4 stores) apply to sales by retailers of the same list of dry groceries as are covered by the wholesale regulation and additional list in Table B called perishables. Sales of perishable items at wholesale will continue to be controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Likewise, since Table B, for the time being, includes only butter and packaged cheese, sales of other perishable items at retail will continue to be controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

For the most part the provisions of these regulations are similar to those used by OPA in MPR's 421, 422, and 423, which regulated dry grocery prices during World War II. In general the dry grocery commodity categories are the same except where a limited number of slow-moving high-margin items have been taken out of the category used by OPA and placed under "miscellaneous foods". Also "flour mixes" have been taken out of the "flour" category and included in the corn meal, hominy category. Such adjustments were recommended by representative members of the industry and it is believed by the Director of Price Stabilization that the facts available clearly justified the change in category.

(a) Classification of Wholesalers and Retailers. The classification of wholesalers in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14 is the same as that used in MPR 421 by OPA. The classification of retailers in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 (Group 1 and 2 stores), and in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 (Group 3 and 4 stores) is also the same as that used in MPR's 422 and 423 by OPA, except that the volume definitions have been changed. Ceiling Price Regulations Nos. 15 and 16 provide as follows:

Group 1—Independent retail stores with annual sales volume of less than $75,000 in 1950.

Group 2—Independent retail stores with annual sales volume between $75,000 and $375,000 in 1950.

Group 3—Retail stores (other than independent stores) with annual sales volume of less than $375,000 in 1950.

Group 4—Retail stores (independent or otherwise) with annual sales volume of $375,000 or more in 1950.

Under the OPA regulations $50,000 annual sales volume was the dividing line between Group 1 and 2 stores, and $250,000 annual sales volume was the dividing line between Group 2 stores (independent stores) and independent Group 4 stores. The same figure was used to determine whether a chain store was a Group 3 or Group 4 store. At the time price controls expired in 1946, the Group of a retail store was determined by its sales volume in 1945. There was no objection from the industry to these particular volume definitions. However, some adjustment in this volume classification is necessary now by reason of the increased price of food to reach results similar to those employed in 1946.

The Director of Price Stabilization has determined that the changes in the Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumers Food Price Index provides the best point of departure for this adjustment. For the year 1945, this Index stood at 139 percent, and by 1950 it had risen to 204 percent. This is an increase of approximately 47 percent. Therefore, it has been concluded to use $75,000 annual sales volume as the dividing line between Group 1 and 2 stores and $375,000 as the dividing line between Group 2 and Group 4 independent stores. The latter figure is also used to separate the chain stores into Groups 3 and 4.

(b) Method for figuring ceiling prices. For wholesalers and retailers the pricing technique for the dry groceries (Tables A) is the same. They are required by section 3 of each regulation to apply the markup given in Table A to the most recent delivered cost before the effective date of the regulations. The resulting amount will be the ceiling price. However, section 3 (c) of each regulation provides that with respect to each item of the 1950 pack of food commodity groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 under Tables A both wholesalers and retailers may continue to use the legal ceiling price for each item under the General Ceiling Price Regulation if their last purchase of the particular item was made prior to January 26, 1951, until they receive delivery of a purchase made after that date. Of course, the ceiling price for any item that falls within food commodity groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 which is purchased after January 26, 1951, must be figured by applying the provisions of these regulations.

In the case of those sellers who purchased items of the 1950 pack several months ago, the application of the markups to costs of those purchases would result in ceiling prices that do not reflect current condition. Consequently, the volume purchaser's prices would be vastly different from those of the smaller purchaser, since the cost price for the items has increased considerably since the 1950 pack came in. Likewise, by applying the markup provisions to the items of the 1950 pack purchased prior to January 26, 1951, a sharp increase in the prices of the items will naturally result when the new pack comes in. For these reasons, the exception with respect to each item of the 1950 pack of food commodity groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 is necessary in order to keep prices as stable as possible.

(c) Effective date of the regulations. The new ceiling prices established by applying the provisions of these regulations must be put into effect on all items not later than April 30, 1951. Between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, the new ceiling price on any item may be put into effect as soon as it is figured. If the new ceiling price is not put into effect for an item prior to April 30, 1951, the existing ceiling price under General Ceiling Price Regulation for that item must remain in effect until April 30, 1951. In the event any item is delivered between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, for which there is no ceiling price, the ceiling price must be figured according to the rules of these regulations.

(d) Recalculation of ceiling prices. These regulations permit a weekly recalculation of prices which was not permitted under the regulations of OPA. Before making a sale of an item of "dry groceries" on each Monday after April 30, 1951, the ceiling price for any item must be refigured if the net cost of the item is different from the net cost on which the existing ceiling price is based. Recalculation is necessary until such time as the processors' ceilings are stabilized by the Office of Price Stabilization. Because of the parity provisions of the Defense Production Act of 1950 this cannot be accomplished with respect to a substantial number of the food commodities controlled by these regulations at this time. At such time as the items at the processor level are stabilized the recalculation provisions of the regulations will be revoked. However, the perishable commodities in Tables B of the retail regulations will still be subject to recalculation. These commodities because of their seasonal and perishable characteristics are subject to sharp and unforeseeable price fluctuations.

(e) Posting. All retailers must at all times post their current selling price for each item of food covered by these regulations. Such displayed price must never exceed the ceiling price. All retailers must post the Group their store is in.

(f) Packaging and assembling allowances. It has been the practice of many wholesalers and retailers to purchase certain food commodities in bulk and then to package and resell them in cardboard containers, transparent, cotton or interlined coffee bags, or kraft bags or similar type bags. The markups provided in the regulations do not include the entire factor necessary to cover the extra cost of packaging incurred by such bulk purchasers. Therefore, whenever such expense is incurred, certain set amounts may be included in figuring ceiling prices. The allowances are set forth in sections 18 of the retailer regulations and section 13 of the wholesale regulation. The figures contained therein are slightly higher than the packaging allowances previously granted under the OPA regulations in order to reflect the increased cost of such packaging material. This allowance does not apply to the packaging of items at the time of sale.

(g) Retail delivery and assembly allowance. The retail regulations establish an allowance for delivery by retail stores to customers' homes or places of business. In arriving at the markups for all retail stores a proper allowance for such delivery was not included since all retail sales are not delivered. With such a small amount of service included in the given markups, it was decided that an extra allowance was necessary to compensate those who incurred this expense. In addition, the Group 3 and 4 regulation establishes an allowance for assembly of orders taken by telephone. A similar provision was not included in the Group 1 and 2 regulation since assembly of orders by telephone is a normal practice in Group 1 and 2 stores and the markups applicable to those stores reflect an appropriate allowance for such service. This was not true in case of Group 3 and 4 stores and hence a special pricing provision is proper. A fee of 25 cents is allowed to all retail stores for deliveries of food orders to customers' homes or places of business, as a separate charge, where the total value of the delivery is $3.00 or more, and an additional fee of 15 cents is allowed to Group 3 and 4 stores, who generally offer the service of taking telephone orders and assembling them, for assembly of orders taken by telephone.

(h) Transportation allowances for delivery from warehouses to retail stores—(1) Wholesalers. Many wholesalers deliver to stores a great distance away and in the past have taken care of this expense in various ways, which makes it impossible to determine any standard delivery for deliveries outside of a free zone. Therefore, wholesalers are permitted to use the same differentials as they have used in January 1951. These differentials must be included as part of the wholesalers' ceiling prices so that retailers will not have to allocate this cost among the various items purchased. Wholesalers who did not use a zone system during January 1951 but instead an average price are allowed to add certain percentages for deliveries over 125 miles. Likewise, the regulations contain specific provisions for additions by wholesalers making f. o. b. sales.

(2) Retailers. The markup provisions of these regulations reflect the cost of delivery from the retailers' warehouses to their stores located within a normal delivery zone. However, some retailers deliver much greater distances and in order to compensate for this expense, varying additions to net cost are allowed, depending on the distance beyond the normal delivery area.

(i) Pyramiding of markups. Special provisions are included in the regulations to prevent pyramiding of markups. Wholesalers buying from other wholesalers must use the "net cost" to the first wholesaler on such purchases where they have not previously established ceiling prices under the regulation as a basis for figuring their ceiling prices, provided the "net cost" does not exceed the "net cost" had the purchases been made from the manufacturer or processor. Retailers are not allowed to use any purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price if it results in a net cost higher than the retailer would have if the purchase was made from a regular supplier or any other normally available source.

(j) Other special pricing provisions. In addition to the aforementioned provisions the Group 3 and 4 regulation contains certain special methods of figuring net cost for certain commodities purchased in a particular way. All of Article II—Special Pricing Provisions, in this regulation is not fully printed in the regulation for Group 1 and 2 stores but these provisions are applicable by cross references. Such provisions seldom apply to smaller stores and it was felt that simplification would be added if they were omitted from the Group 1 and 2 regulation and if these stores were referred to the Group 3 and 4 regulation where such provisions were applicable.

ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS OF THE REGULATIONS

(a) Classification adjustments. Any rigid classification such as is necessary in a standard markup regulation will work hardship on certain distributors who by accident of definition fall into one classification whereas their horizontal operation and margin pattern is actually that of another classification. Therefore, in both wholesale and retail regulations, provision has been made whereby a distributor performing the same service as one in another class, having a margin as high as that of the other class, and having a price structure similar to that of the class, may be transferred to the other class. These provisions are contained in sections 26, 27, and 28 of the wholesale regulation and section 26 of the retail Group 3 and 4 regulation. These adjustment provisions are not intended for distributors who do not meet these criteria, and adjustments will not be granted unless it can be demonstrated that such reclassification is justified.

With regard to section 26 (a) (4) of the Group 3 and 4 regulation, under the OPA regulation the criteria for adjustment was based on the total gross margin being more than 25 percent on all sales in the food departments and also, if the store was not an independent store, more than 25 percent on the combined sale of the food departments in all stores of the organization. The percentage figure of more than 25 percent contained in the OPA regulation has been reduced to 23 percent or more in this regulation because the available facts clearly indicated that there had been a lowering of the gross margins for this type of operation. The substantial difference existing between a 23 percent markup and the standard markup of Group 3 and 4 stores should assure that the stores, in fact, have been conducting a different type of operation and that reclassification is justified. In order to eliminate the need for examining the individual adjustment applications under this section immediately, the regulation provides that all those stores which qualified for such adjustment under the OPA regulation will automatically qualify under this regulation upon the filing of an adjustment application, provided they meet the test that their total gross margin in the fiscal year 1950 was 23 percent or more on all sales in their food department and also, if not independent stores, 23 percent or more on the combined sales of the food departments in all the stores, for which adjustment is sought, of their organization. These applications will be reviewed later and if an applicant is found not to have qualified with the specific provisions of this regulation, the adjustment will be revoked. For the same reasons, it has been determined with respect to similar provisions of the wholesale regulation to reduce the criteria for adjustment used under the OPA wholesale regulation from at least 20 percent to at least 18 percent.

(b) Local shortage adjustments. Price control may possibly result in some areas being deprived of a food supply. To avoid such a local shortage, which might occur if all the retailers in a remote area withdraw from business, an adjustment may be granted when the retailers furnish adequate proof that they are necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a certain locality, and of the existence of necessary higher operating costs. It is also necessary for them to establish that any adjustment granted will not create a shortage or a need for increase in prices in another locality.

DOLLARS-AND-CENTS CEILING PRICES

The fixed markup technique is a sound and effective method of price control for food distributors. However, as food costs become stabilized it will be possible to translate margin calculations into specific dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. These dollars-and-cents ceilings provide an even simpler and more effective type of price control. When such dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, no item may be sold thereafter at higher prices and the orders issued to that end may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices fixed under these regulations. If such orders do not provide that they replace the ceiling price under these regulations, then the ceiling price may be figured under these regulations.

CONCLUSION

In formulating these regulations the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted extensively with industry representatives and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment the provisions of these regulations are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the foods listed in Table A for wholesalers selling these food products. These new ceiling prices are to be used on and after April 30, 1951, instead of the ceiling prices figures under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Stabilization (hereinafter called OPS), and regardless of any contract or any other law.

SEC. 2. How you determine to which class your business belongs—(a) What wholesalers are covered. Your business is classified under this regulation, if, prior to the effective date of the regulation you were and still are a wholesaler, the larger part of whose food sales are of food products which you purchase for resale and distribute from your warehouse without materially changing their form, to independent retail stores, or to commercial, industrial or institutional users. This regulation does not apply, however, to "wagon wholesalers," "flour jobbers," Great Lakes marine suppliers, or to sales of "cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs" by "cookie and cracker wholesalers."

(b) Classes of wholesalers. Wholesalers covered by this regulation are defined as follows:

(1) Class 1: retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler. You are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler if you are either a non-profit organization or a corporation 51 percent of the stock of which is owned by your independent retailer customers.

(2) Class 2: cash-and-carry wholesaler. You are a cash-and-carry wholesaler if you are not in Class 1 and the larger part of your food sales were, prior to the effective date of this regulation, made without delivery, to independent retail stores, or if they were made with delivery you made a charge for delivery to all customers.

(3) Class 3: service wholesaler. You are a service wholesaler if you are not in Class 1 and the larger part of your food sales were, prior to the effective date of this regulation, and still are made, to independent retail stores, with delivery to all customers in a base zone without charge.

(4) Class 4: institutional wholesaler. You are an institutional wholesaler if you are not in Class 1 and the larger part of your food sales were, prior to the effective date of this regulation, and still are made to commercial, industrial or institutional users. For the purposes of this regulation "marine provisioners" shall be considered institutional wholesalers. (If you do business in more than one of the ways outlined above, see sections 18, 19, 20, and 21.)

(c) When you must notify OPS of the class in which you operate. Within 30 days after the issuance of this regulation, you must notify, the OPS District office for your area, of your class of wholesaler, using OPS Public Form No. 4 which you may obtain from the OPS District office for your area.

SEC. 3. How and when you figure ceiling prices—(a) General Rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container type and container size) of food listed in Table A shall be the result of (1) the "net cost" you had to pay for the most recent delivery of the item to you before April 30, 1951, multiplied by (2) the mark-up figure given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on April 30, 1951, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of food covered by this regulation which you have in stock at that time. Between April 5, 1951 and April 30, 1951, you may put into effect the new ceiling price on any item as soon as you figure it; you must put the new ceiling prices into effect on all items not later than April 30, 1951. If you do not put the new price for an item into effect before April 30, 1951, you must continue to use your existing ceiling for that item until April 30, 1951. If you receive delivery of any item between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, for which you have no ceiling price, you must, before selling it, figure your ceiling price according to the rules of this regulation.

(c) Special rule for certain items of the 1950 pack. If, in the case of any item of the 1950 pack of food commodity groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 in Table A, your last purchase of the particular item was made prior to January 26, 1951, you may continue to use your legal ceiling price for such item under the General Ceiling Price Regulation until you receive delivery of a purchase made after that date. When you receive delivery of such a purchase, you must figure your ceiling price for the item in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule—(a) Net cost. To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item, based on its most recent delivery to you before April 30, 1951. Your "net cost" will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment and swell and label allowances, plus all transportation charges you paid except local trucking and local unloading. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container size and container type.

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost of the unit in which you receive delivery (i. e., per dozen, per case, per bag, etc.) to the nearest cent.

(3) For items you "manufacture or otherwise process" use the special rules in section 17.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up figure for the item given your class of wholesaler. Table A lists all the items covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. Next multiply your "net cost" by the mark-up figure in Table A for your class of wholsaler for the item being priced. The resulting amount will be your ceiling price. You must not change this ceiling price except in accordance with section 7.

(d) Fractions. All calculations of ceiling prices resulting in a fraction of a cent shall be reduced to the nearest lower cent if the fraction is less than one-half cent, and shall be increased to the nearest higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more.

If you sell an amount less than the unit in which you receive delivery, you must reduce your ceiling price proportionately, rounding any fraction to the next higher cent.

(e) Invoices. You must write your net cost per unit of the purchase on which you have figured your ceiling price either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attached to that invoice or other record.

You must keep separate, or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the "net cost" of the unit in which you received delivery and which you used in figuring your ceiling prices. The invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling price for "new items". (a) A "new item" is any item which you did not have in stock at the opening of business on April 30, 1951. You must figure your ceiling price for a "new item" before selling it, following the rules in Section 4, basing your "net cost," however, on the first delivery of the item to you on or after April 30, 1951.

In pricing new items it is a violation to use the "net cost" of a first purchase made in a non-customary manner (that is, from a non-customary supplier or in a non-customary manner) when you know that you will be making future purchases in a customary manner. If your first purchase is of this type you must find out and use, in figuring your ceiling price, what the "net cost" would be of a purchase from a type of supplier usually used for a similar item and of an amount in which a similar item is usually purchased.

SEC. 6. New wholesalers. If, on or after April 30, 1951, you begin to operate as a wholesaler as defined in section 2, you are subject to this regulation, and as such a new wholesaler you must figure all your ceiling prices for all sales of food items covered by this regulation in accordance with the following provisions.

(a) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, you must figure all of your ceiling prices for sales to members as a retailer-owned cooperative (Class 1) wholesaler and are subject to all of the provisions applicable to such a wholesaler.

(b) If you are not a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler you must figure your ceiling prices in the following way:

(1) For sales to independent retail stores made without delivery, you shall use the markups applicable to a cash-and-carry (Class 2) wholesaler.

(2) For sales to independent retail stores made with delivery, you shall use the markups applicable to a service (Class 3) wholesaler.

(3) For sales to commercial, industrial or institutional users, you shall use the markups applicable to an institutional (Class 4) wholesaler.

(c) You must figure your ceiling price for an item before selling it, in accordance with section 4, basing your "net cost", however, on the first delivery of an item to you on or after the date you open your place of business subject to all of the provisions covering the sales of "new items" in section 5.

(6) For sales to retail stores which are not independent retail stores, and for sales to other wholesalers and all other sellers, your ceiling price for any item shall be your supplier's ceiling price for such item plus transportation charges to your usual receiving point.

(e) Within 10 days after you become a new wholesaler under this section, you must notify the OPS District office for your area that you are operating under the provisions of this section.

(f) The provisions of this section may not be used by any person who, at the opening of business on April 30, 1951, was subject to this regulation, or by any person owned or controlled by any wholesaler who at the opening of business on April 30 was subject to this regulation.

SEC. 7. How you figure your ceiling prices each week, starting Monday, April 30, 1951. Before making any sale of an item of "dry groceries" on each Monday after April 30, 1951, you must refigure your ceiling price for any item if your "next cost" of that item is different from the "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. You must follow the rule in section 4 basing your "net cost," however, on the largest single delivery of a customary quantity received by you from your customary type of supplier during the seven days preceding Monday. If you cannot determine your "largest single delivery" because you have received more than one delivery of the same quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries.

SEC. 8. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, by any scheme or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food item, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You may not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost, as used in Section 4, would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price.

SEC. 9. Invoices and receipts. You must give each of your customers an invoice receipt or other evidence of purchase in connection with every sale, retaining a copy for your files. Each such record you prepare and give your customer must show the date of sale, the name and address of your customer, your name and address, each food item sold, and the price you charged for it. Be sure that your description of each item shows the kind, brand, variety, container-size and container-type.

SEC. 10. Records. After April 5, 1951, you must keep for so long as the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, remains in effect, all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid for each item and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation. You are required to show all your invoices and records on request of any OPS representative. You are also required to keep available for inspection by any OPS representative the records you used in determining your class. In addition, you are required, on request of any OPS representative, to furnish a written record of your ceiling price for any or all of the items covered by this regulation.

SEC. 11. Prohibitions. On and after April 30, 1951, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation, or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provision of this regulation, or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

SEC. 12. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Director may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4, and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date, April 30, 1951, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4, and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the markup for your class of wholesalers, you must, by the opening of business on the effective date of such amendment refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment. In doing so you must use your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring the ceiling prices you had on the effective date of the amendment.

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 13. Additions to "net cost" for packaging. If you buy in bulk any item covered by this regulation except spices, tea and gelatin, and then package and sell it in cardboard containers, cotton bags, transparent bags, interlined coffee bags, or kraft bags or similar type bags on which the name, weight, and ingredient of the commodity and your name are stamped or printed and which are packed and sealed at a place and time other than the point and time of sale, you may add to your "net cost" whichever of the following allowances applies:

(a) 2 cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of less than 2 pounds.

(b) 2½ cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of 2 pounds or more, but less than 5 pounds.

(c) 1 cent per pound for every such bag or container with a net weight of 5 pounds or more, but not to exceed a total of 5 cents.

SEC. 14. Gift and holiday packages assembled by you. If you assemble, into gift or holiday packages, any food items covered by this regulation, with or without any items not covered by this regulation, your ceiling price for each such package will be the sum of the following multiplied by 1.05.

(a) Your ceiling price for each item (or article) being packed, figured under this regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation. If your have no ceiling price for any item (or article), use your current selling price for that item.

(b) Your direct cost of the packaging materials used for the package, including the container.

SEC. 15. Purchases and sales between wholesalers. (a) If you purchase from another wholesaler covered by this regulation, an item for which you have not previously been required to establish a ceiling price under this regulation, you must secure a written record of that wholesaler's "net cost." To get your "net cost" for the item, you will add to that wholesaler's "net cost" the transportation charges you paid (not including local trucking or local unloading) to your usual receiving point. You will multiply the resulting figure by the mark-up figure for your class of wholesaler to get your ceiling price. However, your "net cost" for an item under this section may not exceed the net cost for that item had you purchased it from the manufacturer or processor. When you sell to another wholesaler an item covered by this regulation, you must furnish him with a written record of your "net cost" for the item.

(b) This section shall not apply to any imported food item which you purchase from a wholesaler who has imported that item.

(c) This section shall not apply with respect to ceiling prices figured for your sales to boat and steamship companies and ship operators for the provisioning of boats and ships, if you are a marine provisioner, the larger part of whose purchases of "dry groceries" were, prior to January 1951 and still are, made from other wholesalers: Provided, That before this exemption shall apply to you, you must receive a written order from the Regional Office of the OPS that covers the area in which you are located. You must file with such Office a written request, which shall include a statement showing the total amount of "dry groceries" you purchased from all sources during 1948, 1949, 1950, and 1951, and the total amount you purchased from wholesalers during each of those years. If such permission is granted, you shall figure your ceiling prices for such sales of items purchased from other wholesalers in accordance with the provisions of Sections 3, 4 and 5. For each item for which you have figured a ceiling price before such permission is granted, you must refigure your "net cost," basing it, however, on the same purchase you used in figuring your existing ceiling price for the item.

Each Regional Director of the OPS may, by order, act on all requests for exemption filed under the provisions of this paragraph (c) by sellers located in his region.

SEC. 16. Items which you import. This regulation shall not apply to you for sales of any item purchased by you directly from a foreign seller or his agent for importation into the continental United States. Your ceiling price for such items shall be determined by you in accordance with the General Ceiling Price Regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation covering the sale of the item by importers.

SEC. 17. How you figure your ceiling prices for foods you "manufacture or otherwise process." If you "manufacture or otherwise process" and sell at wholesale any item covered by this regulation you will determine your "net cost" or ceiling price for such an item under whichever of the following provisions applies:

(a) If the item is one for which OPS has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, but the regulation makes no provision for manufacturers selling to retailers, the lowest ceiling price under that regulation for sales delivered to your usual receiving point shall be your "net cost."

(b) If the item is one for which OPS has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers and makes a provision for manufacturers selling to retailers, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under that regulation. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up figure under this regulation.

(c) If the item is one for which OPS has not issued, or does not later issue, a regulation establishing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under the appropriate regulation covering sales of such item by manufacturers. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up figure under this regulation.

(d) If, after you have established a ceiling price for an item which you "manufacture or otherwise process," the manufacturing regulation which you used in figuring your ceiling price under paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section is amended so that either (1) the manufacturer's regulation is no longer the type described in the applicable paragraph of this section or (2) the type of regulation is not changed but the prices set forth therein are changed, you must, within 5 days after the effective date of such amendment, refigure your ceiling price for the item under the applicable paragraph of this section based on the manufacturer's regulation as amended.

(e) For the purposes of this regulation you shall be considered a manufacturer of any item which you "manufacture or otherwise process" directly, or which is manufactured for you by a person to whom you supply the raw material.

SEC. 18. How a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler figures ceiling prices for sales to nonmembers. If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler and you sell to nonmembers (those retailers who have no share or interest in your ownership) your ceiling prices for your sales to nonmembers without delivery may be figured as a Class 2 wholesaler. If you sell and deliver to nonmembers, your ceiling prices for such sales may be figured as a Class 3 wholesaler, in which event you may not add to such ceiling prices the additions for delivery allowed in section 22 of this regulation.

SEC. 19. How a service wholesaler figures ceiling prices for cash-and-carry sales. If you are a service wholesaler but you also make cash-and-carry sales, you must use for such sales the mark-up figures of a cash-and-carry wholesaler if, during January 1951:

(a) You had a separate department for such sales, or

(b) You had a price list for such sales different from the price list which you used in making other sales.

SEC. 20. How a service wholesaler figures ceiling prices for sales to commercial, industrial or institutional users. If you are a service wholesaler and you make sales to commercial, industrial or institutional users, you may use for such sales the mark-up figures of an institutional wholesaler.

SEC. 21. How an institutional wholesaler figures ceiling prices for sales to retailers. If you are an institutional wholesaler, but you also make sales to retail stores, your ceiling prices for such sales made without delivery must be figured as a Class 2 (cash-and-carry) wholesaler and your ceiling prices for such sales made with delivery must be figured as a Class 3 (service) wholesaler.

SEC. 22. Addition allowed for deliveries by Class 1 and Class 2 wholesalers. (a) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, or a cash-and-carry wholesaler, and you have customarily added a set amount or percentage to your sales price for delivering to retailers, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for each item you deliver to retailers, add to your ceiling price such set amount or percentage. The resulting figure will be your ceiling price for the item when delivered by you.

(b) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler or a cash-and-carry wholesaler and you have not customarily added a set amount or percentage to your sales price for delivering to retailers, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for each item you deliver to retailers, add .01 to your markup figure (example: If your markup figure is 1.06, you change it to 1.07).

SEC. 23. Addition allowed for deliveries outside of a base zone.—(a) Addition allowed to retailer-owned cooperative wholesalers, service wholesalers and institutional wholesalers. (1) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, a service wholesaler or an institutional wholesaler, who, during January 1951 customarily sold goods on a delivered basis in different zones at established price differentials between zones, you may, in figuring your ceiling prices for items delivered by you to such other zones, add to your "base zone" ceiling prices the same zone differentials which you added in January 1951. The resulting figures will be your ceiling prices for items delivered by you to such other zones. (Your base zone shall be the zone surrounding your warehouse in which you customarily made free deliveries.)

(2) If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, you may not, in figuring your ceiling prices under this section, include any addition allowed in section 22.

(3) Before using different delivered prices for different zones under this section, you must report, in writing, to the Distribution Branch, Food and Restaurant Division, OPS, Washington, D. C., the amount of such differential and a description of your base zone and delivery zones.

(b) Additions by certain wholesalers making f. o. b. sales. If you are a service wholesaler or an institutional wholesaler who, during January 1951 customarily sold f. o. b. your warehouse for delivery to zones or delivery points outside of your base zones, and

(1) If you added a freight charge when making such sales or included a freight charge in figuring your selling price, you may add to your ceiling price for each item the same charge or the same freight rate, apportioning the charge or freight rate to each item, in which case the resulting figure will be your ceiling price for the item when sold to such other zones or delivery points, or

(2) If your customer paid the freight bill, you may make such sales at your ceiling prices, the freight bill to be paid by the purchaser.

(c) Additions by certain wholesalers who did not use a zone delivery system or make f. o. b. sales. If you are a service wholesaler or an institutional wholesaler, who, during January 1951 customarily sold all customers on a delivered basis at the same price regardless of distance from your warehouse, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for an item delivered by you to a customer located at a distance of 125 miles or more from your warehouse, add to your mark-up figure whichever of the following amounts applies:

(1) If your customer is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from your warehouse, you may add .01 to your markup figure (example: If your markup on mayonnaise in Table A is 1.16, you change it to 1.17).

(2) If your customer is located at a distance of from 200 miles through 299 miles from your warehouse, you may add .02 to your markup figure.

(3) If your customer is located at a distance of from 300 miles through 399 miles from your warehouse, you may add .03 to your markup figure.

(4) If your customer is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from your warehouse, you may add .04 to your markup figure.

(5) If your method of figuring ceiling prices for items delivered to zones outside of a base zone falls within either paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of this section, you may not use this paragraph (c) in figuring your ceiling prices for items delivered to such other zones.

SEC. 24. How you figure your "net cost" in certain cases.—(a) Frozen fruits, berries, and vegetables. If, after you have figured a ceiling price for an item of frozen fruits, berries, fruit or berry juices, vegetables or vegetable juices, you do not receive additional deliveries of such an item from a supplier but you have had such item in storage from which you supply your customers, for a period of at least four weeks since you last figured your ceiling price for the item, you may on the fourth Monday after you last figured your ceiling price for the item, add to the "net cost" (before the rounding of fractions) on which your existing ceiling price is based, your actual costs, per unit, incident to storage for the period since you last figured your ceiling price.

SEC. 25. Special pricing provisions for manufacturers selling some commodities at wholesale. Any person the larger part of whose business consists of the manufacturing or processing of foods but (a) his entire business in connection with a particular commodity consists of the purchase and resale of such commodity without materially changing its form and (b) the larger part of his sales of such commodity are made to independent retail stores or to commercial, industrial or institutional users (c) may figure his ceiling price under this regulation for sales of such commodity to retailers and commercial, industrial or institutional users, if the particular goods sold have been warehoused and are being sold in less-than-carload lots.

ARTICLE III—ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS

SEC. 26. How retailer-owned cooperative wholesalers may, under certain conditions, apply for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for other wholesalers. If you are a retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, you may file an application for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for another class of wholesaler if you can establish:

(a) That you have customarily operated in the same manner as the other class of wholesaler, and

(b) That in 1950 you had an overall gross margin at least as high as the overall gross margin you would realize by using the mark-up figures specified in this regulation for such other class of wholesaler.

(c) Your application must set forth the following:

(1) A statement as to whether your members received dividends or other proceeds from your organization; the basis for determining the amount of such payments; the amount of such payments for the years 1950 and, if available, so far in 1951.

(2) The amount and conditions of fees, if any, paid by your members in addition to the invoice price of commodities:

(3) Your profit and loss statement for your fiscal years 1950 and so much of 1951 as is available, and balance sheets as of the end of each such accounting period:

(4) Your percentage mark-up over invoice cost for sales during 1950 to your members for each commodity group listed in this regulation, and if sales were made to non-members, the same information with respect to such sales;

(5) Any evidence you may be able to furnish showing the difference between your operations and functions and those of the usual retailer-owned cooperative wholesaler, including a statement of any special service performed by you, any additional compensation received for such special services, and a reasonable basis for distinction or classification, if any, between you and other retailer-owned cooperative wholesalers.

(d) Such application must be filed in duplicate with the Distribution Branch, Food and Restaurant Division, OPS, Washington 25, D. C. You may not use these requested mark-up figures until you have received specific authorization from such OPS office. Applications for adjustment are governed by Price Procedural Regulation 1.

SEC. 27. How certain wholesalers may, under certain conditions, apply for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for service wholesalers. (a) If, prior to April 5, 1951, the larger part of your dollar food sales were made, with delivery to independent retail stores, but you are a Class 2 wholesaler because you did not deliver to all customers in a base zone without charge, you may file an application for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for service wholesalers, if you can establish that:

(1) Most of your sales prior to April 5, 1951, were, and still are made with delivery;

(2) Most of your sales prior to April 5, 1951, were, and still are made, through the services of outside salesmen or fieldmen;

(3) Most of your sales prior to April 5, 1951, were, and still are made, with credit; and that

(4) Your total gross margin was at least twelve percent on gross sales in your fiscal year 1950.

(b) Your application must set forth the following for the calendar or fiscal year 1950:

(1) Total dollar amount of sales;

(2) Cost of goods sold;

(3) Total dollar amount of sales made with delivery and delivery charges, if any;

(4) Total dollar amount of sales made through outside salesmen or fieldmen;

(5) Total dollar amount of credit sales; and

(6) Profit and loss statement.

(c) Such application must be filed in duplicate with the Distribution Branch, Food & Restaurant Division, OPS, Washington 25, D. C. If your application is approved, you will be authorized to figure your ceiling prices as a service wholesaler, subject to all of the provisions applicable to such wholesalers and you will be authorized to make charges for delivery only in accordance with the provisions of Section 23 (c). You may not use these requested mark-up figures until you have received specific authorization from such OPS office. Applications are governed by Price Procedural Regulation 1.

SEC. 28. How service wholesalers may, under certain conditions, apply for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for institutional wholesalers. If you are a service wholesaler (you must consider each warehouse as a separate wholesaler), you may file an application for permission to use the mark-up figures designated for institutional wholesalers if you can establish:

(a) The total gross margin on all sales made by you in your fiscal year 1950 was at least 13 percent; and

(b) During the year 1950 your operations and functions differed substantially from those of the usual service wholesaler; for example, you regularly distributed grocery products over a much wider area and you offered for sale a substantially greater number of items of food than the usual service wholesaler.

(c) Your application must set forth the following for each warehouse for which the application for adjustment is filed:

(1) Profit and loss statements for the fiscal years 1949, 1950, and so much of 1951 as is available, and balance sheets as of the end of each such accounting period;

(2) Any evidence you may be able to furnish concerning the difference between your operations and functions and those of the usual service wholesaler, and a reasonable basis for distinction or classification between you and other service wholesalers;

(3) A list of the states to which you regularly distributed grocery products in 1949 and 1950 and an approximation of the volume of sales made by you in each of the states during 1949 and 1950 and

(4) The number of food items that you offered for sale in 1950.

(d) Such application must be filed in duplicate with the Distribution Branch, Food & Restaurant Division, OPS, Washington, D. C. You may not use these requested mark-up figures until you have received specific authorization from such OPS office. Applications for adjustment are governed by Price Procedural Regulation 1.

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 29. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after April 30, 1951, you acquire in any way the business, assets and stock in trade of any wholesaler covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in the same establishment, and you render the same service and sell to the same class of purchaser, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner as if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you or give you all the records of his transactions before you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If, after the transfer, you fall into a class of wholesaler different from the former owner's, your ceiling prices shall be those for the class of wholesaler in which you fall. (For example: If you acquire the business, assets, and stock in trade of a service wholesaler and you decide to discontinue making deliveries, your ceiling prices must be figured as a cash-and-carry wholesaler, using as your "net cost" the same "net cost" the former owner used in fixing ceiling prices.)

SEC. 30. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at wholesale of food covered by this regulation, if you state the tax separately, and if the tax statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 31. Export sales. The ceiling prices at which a person may export any product covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the applicable price regulation covering export sales, issued by the OPS.

SEC. 32. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14, except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after April 30, 1951, supersede the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation and any other price regulation or order issued by the OPS with respect to sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 33. Definitions—(a) Delivery. Delivery to you of any item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(b) Usual receiving point. Your usual receiving point will be the warehouse at which you generally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation and from which you generally supply your customers.

(c) Manufacture or otherwise process. "Manufacture or otherwise process" shall mean blending, freezing, canning, preserving, milling, bottling, crushing, straining, roasting, centrifuging, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, and other similar operations, and packaging of spices, tea and gelatin. Packaging as used in section 13 except spices, tea and gelatin shall not be considered manufacturing or processing under this regulation.

(d) Independent retail store. Independent retail store shall mean one that is not one of four or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $750,000 or more.

(e) Wagon wholesaler. A "wagon wholesaler" is a wholesaler who distributes food products to retail stores or to commercial, industrial, or institutional users from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances under the supervision of driver-salesmen who make deliveries at the time and point of sale. A wholesaler is a wagon wholesaler only of the food products he sells in this way.

(f) Marine provisioners. A "marine provisioner" is a person, the larger part of whose food sales are of food products which he purchases for resale and distributes from a warehouse, without materially changing their form, to boat and steamship companies and ship operators for the provisioning of boats and ships, with delivery from shore locations by the use of truck or launch facilities.

(g) Flour jobber. "Flour jobber" shall mean a person the larger part of whose business is the purchase and resale of flour made from wheat, semolina and farina without additional processing and in the original containers, to bakers and commercial, institutional or Government users. For sales to retail stores, "flour jobbers' must figure their ceiling prices for flour under this regulation.

(h) Cookie and cracker wholesaler. A "cookie and cracker wholesaler" is a wholesaler the larger part of whose food sales were, prior to the effective date of the regulation, and still are of "cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs" which he purchases for resale and distributes from a warehouse, to independent retail stores, or to commercial, industrial or institutional users.

SEC. 34. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

ARTICLE V—TABLE AND COMMODITY DEFINITIONS

SEC. 35. Table of markup figures (Table A)—(a) Instructions. Table A (printed below) lists the commodities and the markup figures for the four classes of wholesalers covered by this regulation. For a detailed list of the items included in each category of commodities, see "Commodity definitions," printed immediately after Table A. This regulation must not be used to determine ceiling prices for the commodities listed in paragraph (c) of this section.

For example, you are a Service (Class 3) Wholesaler, and you want to figure your ceiling price for a case of 24 9-ounce packages of X Brand Spaghetti which you had in stock at the opening of business on April 30, 1951.

The amount you paid your customary type of supplier for your last purchase of a customary quantity of this item prior to April 30, 1951, was $2.11 per case after deducting all discounts except the discount for prompt payment and swell and label allowances. In addition, you paid incoming freight, excluding local trucking charges, amounting to 13 cents per case. Your net cost is therefore $2.24 per case. Now refer to Table A. Check the list of commodities and you will find "Macaroni and spaghetti products." This category includes the item you are pricing. Directly opposite "Macaroni and spaghetti products", in the column headed "Class 3 Wholesaler," you will find the figure 1.15. Multiply your net cost by this mark-up figure; the resulting amount is $2.576. By rounding up the fraction of a cent, which is more than ½ cent, you will get your ceiling price of $2.58 per case.

(b) Commodity definitions. These definitions apply to both domestic and imported items.

(1) Baby foods means "baby" or "junior" cereals, fruits, vegetables, meats, pudding, soups, and mixtures thereof packed in hermetically sealed containers. Excluded are dry baby cereals.

(2) "Cereals, breakfast" means bulk or packaged cereal items of any size commonly used as breakfast foods, both uncooked and ready-to-eat types including but not limited to, bran flakes, farina, popped rice, and rolled oats. Excluded are barley, corn meal, corn grits, hominy grits and flakes, rice, wheat bran flour, wheat germ and dry baby cereal. Also excluded are cereals mixed or coated with a confection, in the proportion of two thirds or more confection to one third cereal by weight.

(3) "Cocoa, chocolate, and cereal-drink preparations" includes, but is not limited to, coffee substitutes or extenders, chicory, malted milk preparations containing less than 35 percent malted milk, chocolate syrup packed in consumer sizes, chocolate bits, and cooking chocolate and packaged powdered skim milk (spray process). Excluded are chocolate confections, bittersweet bars, milk chocolate, chocolate syrup packed in No. 10 tins or larger or one gallon containers or larger, powdered whole milks, powdered skim milk packaged in tin in inert gas, malted milk and any preparation containing 35 percent or more malted milk.

(4) "Coffee" means roasted coffee, whole or ground, decaffeinated coffee, coffee concentrates, and any mixtures of coffee with other products for beverage purposes. Excluded is frozen coffee concentrate.

(5) "Cookies, crackers, toast, and crumbs" includes, but is not limited to biscuits, Christmas cookies, fig crackers, graham crackers, pretzels, rye crackers, zwieback, melba toast, bread crumbs, cracker crumbs, cookies, matzo, matzo meal, and related matzo products. Excluded are bread, pies, cakes, doughnuts, coffee cakes, rolls, candies, Passover matzo, Passover matzo meal, related Passover products, and any bakery products which you manufacture. Also excluded are any items which are bought by you in bulk and sold loose.

(6) "Corn meal, hominy and flour mixes" means bulk or packaged corn meal, corn grits, hominy, hominy grits, hominy flakes, prepared hominy and bulk or packaged flour mixes milled from wheat, seminola, farina, buckwheat, corn, rice, and potatoes, including, but not limited to, prepared pancake, biscuit, pie crust and gingerbread mix. Excluded is canned hominy which is in "Vegetables and vegetable juices, canned."

(7) "Dog and cat food" shall not include any item prepared by you for pet food, or any frozen dog or cat food.

(8) "Fish, processed" includes canned fish, canned seafood, and salted, pickled, smoked, dried or otherwise processed fish, such as fish cakes. Excluded are fresh or frozen fish, fresh or frozen seafood, frozen food products in which fish or seafood are combined with other ingredients, anchovies, anchovy paste, caviar, clams, crab meat, clam juice, kippered herring, lobster, lobster bisque, oysters, oyster puree and fish roe.

(9) "Flour" means bulk or packaged (in any size) flour milled from wheat, seminola, farina, buckwheat, corn, rice, and potatoes, including, but not limited to, all-purpose family flour, cake flour, enriched flour, but excluding all flour mixes.

(10) "Frozen foods" means packaged quick-frozen or cold-packed foods sold from refrigerated cabinets or lockers, including, but not limited to all fruits, berries, fruit or berry juices, and mixtures (except any of the foregoing in containers of a capacity of more than 50 pounds), vegetables, vegetable juices, and mixtures, including mushrooms, dog and cat foods not prepared by you for pet foods, applesauce, macaroni and spaghetti products, chop suey, chow mein, gravies, pork-and-beans, soups, food products in which meat, chicken, turkey, fish or seafood are combined with other ingredients, meat stews, and corned beef hash, frozen instant coffee, concentrated frozen fresh milk, and frozen meat pies. Excluded are frozen pies and pastries, frozen meat, poultry, fish and seafood, ice cream, sherbet and frozen confections.

(11) "Fruits, berries, and fruit juices, canned" includes, but is not limited to, apple sauce, apple cider, berry juices, concentrated fruit juices, citrus fruits and juices, cranberry jelly and sauce, fountain fruits, maraschino cherries, fruit nectars, bulk apple cider, fruits for salad, pineapple juice and non-carbonated liquid fruit beverages such as grapeade, lemonade, and orangeade. Excluded are apple butter, fruit butters, jam, jellies, fruit preserves, cocoanut, olives, baby foods, dried fruits, dehydrated fruits, fruit cocktail, pineapple (except pineapple juice), peaches, pears and frozen fruits.

(12) "Fruit cocktail, pineapple, peaches and pears (canned) except juices." Excluded are fruits for salad and frozen fruits. "Canned" means processed and packaged in any container, whether or not hermetically sealed.

(13) "Fruits dried and dehydrated" (packaged or bulk) includes, but is not limited to, stuffed dried fruits, dried dates and figs, pitted dates and maccerated dates. Excluded are fruit confections, candied or glaceed fruits, and peels, fresh dates and date products.

(14) "Gelatin and pudding mixtures" includes, but is not limited to, gelatin, gelatin desserts, tapioca, arrowroot, consumer ice cream mixes, and rennet.

(15) "Jams, jellies, preserves, honey, and peanut butter" includes, but is not limited to, tomato preserves, marmalade, fruit preserves, fruit butters, smooth or crunch type nut butters, honey butter and all extracted honey (including combinations of extracted and comb honey) packaged in containers of a capacity of 15 pounds or less. Excluded are cranberry jelly or sauce.

(16) "Lard, pure" (packaged or bulk) includes, but is not limited to, rendered pork fat. Excluded are lard compounds which are classed as "shortenings, other."

(17) "Macaroni and spaghetti products" includes, but is not limited to, bows, egg alphabets, macaroni, spaghetti, vermicelli, "sea shells," noodles, macaroni dinners, spaghetti dinners, canned macaroni and canned spaghetti. Excluded are meat ravioli, tamales, dry noodle soup mixtures, spaghetti-and-meatballs, chicken-and-noodles, Chinese-style noodles, and frozen macaroni and spaghetti products.

(18) "Mayonnaise and salad dressing" includes, but is not limited to, tartar sauce, relish spreads, other mayonnaise spreads, and French dressing. Excluded are olive oil and meat spreads.

(19) "Meat canned" includes, but is not limited to, canned or glass chicken products, canned or glass turkey products, chicken and noodles, meat gravy, meat ravioli, pickled meats, luncheon meats, chili con carne, meat spreads and spaghetti and meat balls. Excluded are chicken-a-la-king, lamb tongue, pigs feet, scrapple, stews, tamales, tripe, veal loaf, mincemeat, liver spread, deviled tongue, lunch tongue, and any canned meat which is removed from the can by the retailer and sold sliced in smaller amounts, frozen food products in which meat, chicken, and turkey are combined with other ingredients, frozen meat gravies and frozen meat stews and pies.

(20) "Milk, canned" means evaporated or condensed cow milk, including, but not limited to, filled evaporated milk products. Excluded are fresh milk, cream, powdered milks, and goat milk.

(21) "Oils, cooking and salad" means all vegetables, fruit leaf plant oils, cooking fats other than lard and shortening. Excluded are olive oil, prepared dressings, and spice oils.

(22) "Oleomargarine" means any product labeled "Oleomargarine."

(23) "Pickles and relishes" (packaged or bulk) includes, but is not limited to, chow chow, pickled fruits, pickled onions, pickled peppers, pickled relishes, pickled rind, and pickled vegetables. Excluded are mayonnaise relish spreads, tartar sauce.

(24) "Rice" packaged or bulk means all rice (including second heads) of the grades defined by the Department of Agriculture bulletin of Standards for Milled Rice (effective September 4, 1946). Excluded are rice flour, rice flakes, popped rice, wild rice, canned Spanish rice, and screenings and brewers' rice graded as Class XIII and Class XIV, respectively, by the above-mentioned bulletin.

(25) "Shortening, hydrogenated" means all fully hydrogenated shortenings.

(26) "Shortening, other" means shortenings other than fully hydrogenated shortening. Excluded are butter, lard, oleomargarine, and suet.

(27) "Soups, canned" includes all soups, broths and chowder. Excluded are meat stews, "baby" or "junior" soups, dehydrated soups, and frozen soups.

(28) "Soups, dehydrated" means dry mixtures sold for soup making, including, but not limited to, bouillon concentrates, and dry noodle soup mixtures. Excluded are other macaroni or noodle products, lentils, and dried peas.

(29) "Spices" includes, but is not limited to, bay leaves, caraway seed, dried peppers, dry chili, celery seed, celery salt, celery flakes, chili powder, garlic, garlic salt, dry mustard, onion salt, onion flakes, poultry seasoning, poppy seed, seasoned salt, sesame seed, thyme, and cream of tartar. Excluded are table salt, spice oils, candied ginger, raw spices and spice seeds in containers of the customary unit and weight in which they are imported into the United States, and wooden or other type trays designed as permanent kitchen furniture consisting of sets of assorted spices.

(30) "Syrups" means all malt, molasses, cane, maple, and corn syrups, and imitations or blends. Excluded are chocolate and ice cream sundae syrups, fruit syrups for making beverages, molasses sold for feed purposes, sorghum syrup and unmixed corn syrup.

(31) "Tea" includes all bulk or packaged tea, tea bags, and matte. Excluded are sales of tea in containers of the customary unit and weight in which they are imported into the United States.

(32) "Vegetables and vegetable juices, canned" includes, but is not limited to, blackeye, crowder, cream and field peas, baked beans, wax beans, sauerkraut, rhubarb, chili sauce, cocktail sauce, canned hominy, mushrooms, mushroom sauce, tomato catsup, tomato paste, tomato puree, pimientos, and Chinese-style foods, including soy sauce, and brown sauce. "Canned" means processed and packaged in any container, whether or not hermetically sealed. Excluded are vegetable soups, "baby" or "junior" foods, pickles, corn, green beans, peas (except canned blackeye, crowder, cream and field peas), tomatoes, tomato juice and frozen vegetables.

(33) "Corn, green beans, peas, tomatoes, and tomato juice (canned)." Excluded are frozen vegetables and canned blackeye, crowder, cream and field peas, and wax beans. "Canned" means processed and packaged in any container whether or not hermetically sealed.

(34) "Vegetables, dried and dehydrated" (packaged or bulk) includes, but is not limited to, dried beans, blackeye peas, dried mushrooms, dried peas, and lentils. Excluded are dry soup mixes, hominy, garlic, celery flakes, onion flakes, dried chili, and dried peppers.

(35) "Vinegar" (bottled or bulk), includes, but is not limited to, pure cider vinegar, distilled vinegar, malt vinegar, wine vinegar and tarragon vinegar.

(36) "Miscellaneous foods" shall include all other dry grocery items except those specifically excluded in paragraph (c) of this section. Among the items included under this heading are the following:

Anchovies (canned).
Anchovy paste (canned).
Baking powder.
Baking soda.
Barley (pearl).
Brown bread, and date and nut bread canned.
Brewers yeast in consumer size package not to exceed 2 pounds.
Caviar (canned).
Cherry juice (canned).
Chicken-a-la-king (canned).
Clams (canned).
Clam juice (canned).
Cocoanut, shredded, desiccated, or moist.
"Cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs" bought by you in bulk and sold loose.
Corn starch, edible or gloss packaged in containers of 10 pounds or less (excluded are powdered prepared laundry starching compounds).
Crab meat (canned).
Cranberry juice (canned).
Date products.
Deviled tongue (canned).
Eggnog (nonalcoholic) bottled.
Extracts.
Fish roe (canned).
Flavorings.
Food colorings.
French fried onions (canned).
Fruit pectins.
Fruit syrups for making beverages. (Excluded are fruit syrups used by rectifiers, blenders, restaurants and bars for mixing alcoholic mixed drinks).
Gift or holiday packages bought assembled and containing one or more items covered by this regulation.
Glazed or candied fruits and peels.
Ice cream sundae syrups, including chocolate syrup packed in No. 10 tins or larger or 1-gallon containers or larger.
Kippered herring (canned).
Liver spread (canned).
Lobster (canned).
Lobster bisque (canned).
Loganberry juice (canned).
Lunch tongue (canned).
Macaroni salad (canned).
Meat flavorings.
Meat sauces, except catsup, cocktail sauce and chili sauce.
Mincemeat.
Mustard, prepared.
Olives.
Olive oil, pure (packaged in containers of less than ½ gallon).
Oysters (canned).
Oyster puree (canned).
Pie filling.
Pigs feet (canned).
Popcorn, not popped.
Potato salad (canned).
Potatoes, julienne (canned).
Potatoes, shoestring (canned).
Pudding, date.
Pudding, fig.
Pudding, plum.
Scrapple (canned).
Spanish rice (canned).
Stews (canned).
Table salt packaged in cartons, bags or packets containing 100 pounds or less. Kosher salt in cartons and salt packaged in containers of 10 pounds or less and labeled by the manufacturer as ice cream salt (excluded are onion, celery or garlic salt and meat-curing or smoked salt).
Spice oils.
Tamales (canned).
Tomato aspic (canned).
Tom and Jerry batter (bottled).
Tripe (canned).
Yeast.
Veal loaf (canned).

(c) Commodities not included in this regulation. Excluded from this regulation are:

Baked goods, fresh (except cookies, crackers, toast and crumbs).
Beer.
Bird seed and gravel.
Bread.
Butter (except peanut butter, fruit butters, and smooth or crunch type nut butters).
Buttermilk, fresh.
Candied ginger.
Candy.
Capers.
Cereals mixed or coated with a confection in the proportion of two-thirds or more confection to one-third cereal by weight.
Cheese, cheese spreads and cheese foods
Comb honey.
Cornstarch, edible or gloss (packaged in containers of more than 10 pounds).
Corn syrup, unmixed.
Corn sugar.
Cream.
Dry baby cereals.
Eggs.
Feed, animal or poultry (other than pet food).
Fresh fruits and vegetables.
Frozen fish and seafood.
Frozen fruits, berries, fruit or berry juices and mixtures, in containers of a capacity of 50 pounds or more.
Fruit cake.
Fruit and vegetable powders for making beverages.
Goat milk (canned).
Green coffee in containers of the customary unit and weight in which they are imported into the United States.
Ice cream cones.
Ice cream, sherbets, and frozen confections.
Laundry starching compounds, powdered prepared.
Liquors.
Malted milk and any preparation containing 35 per cent or more malted milk.
Maple sugar.
Meat and fish (except "fish, processed," and "meat, canned").
Milk, fresh.
Whole milk, powdered, and powdered skim milk packaged in tin in an inert gas.
Mineral oil.
Molasses sold for feeding purposes.
Nuts.
Olive oil, pure (packaged in containers of a capacity of 1 gallon or more).
Passover matzo, Passover matzo meal, and related Passover matzo products.
Pate de fois gras.
Peanuts.
Pet foods (except cat and dog foods or any frozen cat or dog foods).
Pheasant pate.
Popcorn, popped.
Potato chips.
Poultry other than canned or bottled.
Powdered skim milk, bulk.
Rattlesnake meat.
Raw spices and spice seeds in containers of the customary unit and weight in which they are imported into the United States.
Rendered poultry fat.
Salt not covered by section 35 (b) (36).
Soft drinks.
Sorghum syrup.
Snails (canned).
Spices in assorted sets contained in wooden or other type trays designed as permanent kitchen furniture.
Sugar, cane or beet.
Tamales, bulk.
Tea in containers of the customary unit and weight in which they are imported into the United States.
Tortillas.
Truffles.
Vitamin concentrates.
Wheat germ.
Wild rice and screenings and brewers' rice.
Wine.

Effective date: This regulation shall become effective on the 5th day of April 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

MARCH 28, 1951.

[F. R. Doc. 51-3922; Filed, Mar. 28, 1951; 5:14 p. m.]

CPR 15—CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FOODS SOLD AT RETAIL IN GROUP 3 AND GROUP 4 STORES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 15 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This statement of considerations covers CPR 14, CPR 15, and CPR 16.

The General Ceiling Price Regulation was issued essentially as a "stop gap" measure in order to bring under immediate control the prices of most goods and services. It was the only technique that could be applied quickly and comprehensively. At the time of issuance it was recognized that the regulation was not well adapted to the long range control of prices in many parts of the economy. This is true in the wholesaling and retailing of food. Between the outbreak of the Korean war and the freeze period, some food distributors had placed in effect substantial price increases beyond those necessitated by the increased cost of food. Others had not so advanced their prices. Thus the freeze technique rewarded those who had increased their prices most. The distortions in the cost-price relationships and the chance abnormalities that existed in the base period were frozen into the price structure. Moreover, the freeze technique is particularly difficult to apply to new sellers who have no base period ceiling price. In an industry such as food distribution with thousands of sellers, there are bound to be large numbers of new sellers. The effort to fix ceiling prices for these new sellers creates serious problems of administration and fairness. Fixing ceiling prices for new items presents similar problems. Moreover, the effort to enforce ceiling prices based on a general freeze for more than 500,000 sellers presents an extremely difficult enforcement problem.

These regulations establish a different method of fixing ceiling prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers of most dry and some perishable grocery products by providing specific percentage markups for different food categories. They govern approximately 60 percent of food purchases made by consumers in retail stores. Though the grocery business customarily computes margins as a percentage of sales for practical purposes and easy calculation, the margins here are translated to a markup on cost. The markup technique employed provides a simple, enforceable, equitable and effective method of price control. It was the technique employed by the Office of Price Administration in issuing MPR's 421, 422, and 423 which regulated dry grocery prices during World War II. These regulations were the result of careful classification of wholesalers and retailers and a comprehensive survey of appropriate margins within each class of seller. Their validity was upheld by the Emergency Court of Appeals. During the period when they were effective, food costs were stabilized. At the same time earnings per dollars of sales of food distributors exceeded those experienced prior to 1942.

The contrast between the inadequacies of a "freeze" regulation such as the General Ceiling Price Regulation, in controlling prices for food distributors, and the success of the margin type regulation used by the OPA makes it imperative that distributors' ceiling prices of dry groceries be fixed on a markup basis at the earliest possible date. At the present time, the best markups available are those which were used by the OPA in issuing MPR's 421, 422, and 423, and which were in effect from 1943–46. In order to act now, the Director of Price Stabilization has generally employed these markups for most food categories for most distributors. The Office of Price Stabilization is now organizing a study of margin and earning figures for food distributors in order to obtain more recent comprehensive data. If the study should indicate that the ceiling prices established under this regulation are either too low or too high, the regulation will be promptly revised to reflect the results of the survey.

Consultation with the wholesalers and retailers of dry groceries has indicated that wholesalers and the independent retailers generally believe that the OPA markups applicable to them will return adequate gross margins. The chain stores and supermarkets, however, have insisted that the OPA markups would be inadequate and have presented calculations to show that their application to pre-Korea operations would reduce by approximately three percent on sales the grocery department gross margins experienced at that time. They urge that their operations are conducted on a low net margin of profit to sales, and fear that these ceilings will mean loss operations. This position has been given very careful consideration by the Director of Price Stabilization. An examination of the data submitted by the chains and supermarkets indicates that there is a substantial basis for these figures. In most food categories the OPA markups conform generally with normal pricing practices. In some categories, however, it has been indicated that markups have changed substantially since the war. In issuing these regulations, therefore, the Director has made some adjustments in these food categories for these sellers. These adjustments will be carefully checked against the results of the survey.

On the whole the markups used for chains and supermarkets should increase by a little more than 1 percent the margin on sales yielded by the OPA markups. While the chains and supermarkets indicate that an adjustment of approximately 3 percent is required, their calculations overlook certain important considerations which indicate that these adjusted markups will provide generally fair and equitable prices. Since the markups are computed as a percentage of cost, any increase in food cost is reflected in higher dollar margins. All retailers consulted by the OPS conceded that food costs have gone up at least 10 percent and evidence available to the Director of Price Stabilization indicates that the increase may be more. Assuming the minimum increase in food costs, the percentage markup could be reduced and still return as many or more dollars as were earned in a pre-Korea period. If a food retailer prior to Korea had food costs of $1,000,000, and sales of $1,200,000, he would have a percentage markup of 20 percent and a dollar margin of $200,000. Today, however, if he sold the same quantity of food the cost of food to him would have increased to at least $1,100,000. A percentage markup of 18.3 percent would produce a dollar margin of $201,300, or more than he earned prior to the increase in the cost of food. Thus, even if the markups in this regulation result in a lower percentage markup than that experienced in a pre-Korea period, the increase in the cost of food has been so substantial that these regulations should not prevent food distributors from realizing adequate overall dollar margins.

It is true, of course, that the overhead costs which are to be covered by the markups may have increased since Korea. However, food stores have also experienced a marked and rapid increase in physical volume. This means that fixed overhead costs can be spread over more units of merchandise and the cost per unit reduced. Moreover, in a period of accelerated inflation, food costs and food prices rise much faster than overhead expenses and in a seller's market, sales and promotion costs can be better controlled. These factors are reflected in higher net earnings. Percentage markups can be reduced and the distributor will still be able to cover dollar increases in these overhead expenses and realize net earnings comparable to those realized prior to the inflationary period.

The experience since Korea indicated the effect of all of these factors on earnings. In 1950 the sales of leading chain stores increased over 1949 by approximately six percent mainly during the last half of the year. However, dollar earnings for the same chains increased by 18 percent. Thus, dollar earnings increased substantially more percentagewise than dollar sales. Apparently, therefore, overhead expenses have not risen as sharply as food costs and food prices and this has been reflected in the higher earnings. On the basis of these considerations, the Director of Price Stabilization finds that the markups set forth in these regulations will produce generally fair and equitable prices.

SPECIFIC PROVISIONS OF THE REGULATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14 applies to sales by wholesalers of certain food products called "dry groceries," which are listed in Table A of the Regulation. Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 (Group 1 and 2 stores), and Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 (Group 3 and 4 stores) apply to sales by retailers of the same list of dry groceries as are covered by the wholesale regulation and additional list in Table B called perishables. Sales of perishable items at wholesale will continue to be controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Likewise, since Table B, for the time being, includes only butter and packaged cheese, sales of other perishable items at retail will continue to be controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

For the most part the provisions of these regulations are similar to those used by OPA in MPR's 421, 422, and 423, which regulated dry grocery prices during World War II. In general the dry grocery commodity categories are the same except where a limited number of slow-moving high-margin items have been taken out of the category used by OPA and placed under "miscellaneous foods". Also "flour mixes" have been taken out of the "flour" category and included in the corn meal, hominy category. Such adjustments were recommended by representative members of the industry and it is believed by the Director of Price Stabilization that the facts available clearly justified the change in category.

(a) Classification of Wholesalers and Retailers. The classification of wholesalers in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14 is the same as that used in MPR 421 by OPA. The classification of retailers in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 (Group 1 and 2 stores), and in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 (Group 3 and 4 stores) is also the same as that used in MPR's 422 and 423 by OPA, except that the volume definitions have been changed. Ceiling Price Regulations Nos. 15 and 16 provide as follows:

Group 1—Independent retail stores with annual sales volume of less than $75,000 in 1950.

Group 2—Independent retail stores with annual sales volume between $75,000 and $375,000 in 1950.

Group 3—Retail stores (other than independent stores) with annual sales volume of less than $375,000 in 1950.

Group 4—Retail stores (independent or otherwise) with annual sales volume of $375,000 or more in 1950.

Under the OPA regulations $50,000 annual sales volume was the dividing line between Group 1 and 2 stores, and $250,000 annual sales volume was the dividing line between Group 2 stores (independent stores) and independent Group 4 stores. The same figure was used to determine whether a chain store was a Group 3 or Group 4 store. At the time price controls expired in 1946, the Group of a retail store was determined by its sales volume in 1945. There was no objection from the industry to these particular volume definitions. However, some adjustment in this volume classification is necessary now by reason of the increased price of food to reach results similar to those employed in 1946.

The Director of Price Stabilization has determined that the changes in the Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumers Food Price Index provides the best point of departure for this adjustment. For the year 1945, this Index stood at 139 percent and by 1950 it had risen to 204 percent. This is an increase of approximately 47 percent. Therefore, it has been concluded to use $75,000 annual sales volume as the dividing line between Group 1 and 2 stores and $375,000 as the dividing line between Group 2 and Group 4 independent stores. The latter figure is also used to separate the chain stores into Groups 3 and 4.

(b) Method for figuring ceiling prices. For wholesalers and retailers the pricing technique for the dry groceries (Tables A) is the same. They are required by section 3 of each regulation to apply the markup given in Table A to the most recent delivered cost before the effective date of the regulations. The resulting amount will be the ceiling price. However, section 3 (c) of each regulation provides that with respect to each item of the 1950 pack of food commodity Groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 under Tables A both wholesalers and retailers may continue to use the legal ceiling price for each item under the General Ceiling Price Regulation if their last purchase of the particular item was made prior to January 26, 1951, until they receive delivery of a purchase made after that date. Of course, the ceiling price for any item that falls within food commodity Groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 which is purchased after January 26, 1951, must be figured by applying the provisions of these regulations.

In the case of those sellers who purchased items of the 1950 pack several months ago, the application of the markups to costs of those purchases would result in ceiling prices that do not reflect current condition. Consequently, the volume purchaser's prices would be vastly different from those of the smaller purchaser, since the cost price for the items has increased considerably since the 1950 pack came in. Likewise, by applying the markup provisions to the items of the 1950 pack purchased prior to January 26, 1951, a sharp increase in the prices of the items will naturally result when the new pack comes in. For these reasons, the exception with respect to each item of the 1950 pack of food commodity Groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 is necessary in order to keep prices as stable as possible.

(c) Effective date of the regulations. The new ceiling prices established by applying the provisions of these regulations must be put into effect on all items not later than April 30, 1951. Between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, the new ceiling price on any item may be put into effect as soon as it is figured. If the new ceiling price is not put into effect for an item prior to April 30, 1951, the existing ceiling price under General Ceiling Price Regulation for that item must remain in effect until April 30, 1951. In the event any item is delivered between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, for which there is no ceiling price, the ceiling price must be figured according to the rules of these regulations.

(d) Recalculation of ceiling prices. These regulations permit a weekly recalculation of prices which was not permitted under the regulations of OPA. Before making a sale of an item of "dry groceries" on each Monday after April 30, 1951, the ceiling price for any item must be refigured if the net cost of the item is different from the net cost on which the existing ceiling price is based. Recalculation is necessary until such time as the processors' ceilings are stabilized by the Office of Price Stabilization. Because of the parity provisions of the Defense Production Act of 1950 this cannot be accomplished with respect to a substantial number of the food commodities controlled by these regulations at this time. At such time as the items at the processor level are stabilized the recalculation provisions of the regulations will be revoked. However, the perishable commodities in Tables B of the retail regulations will still be subject to recalculation. These commodities because of their seasonal and perishable characteristics are subject to sharp and unforseeable price fluctuations.

(e) Posting. All retailers must at all times post their current selling price for each item of food covered by these regulations. Such displayed price must never exceed the ceiling price. All retailers must post the Group their store is in.

(f) Packaging and assembling allowances. It has been the practice of many wholesalers and retailers to purchase certain food commodities in bulk and then to package and resell them in cardboard containers, transparent, cotton or interlined coffee bags, or Kraft bags or similar type bags. The markups provided in the regulations do not include the entire factor necessary to cover the extra cost of packaging incurred by such bulk purchasers. Therefore, whenever such expense is incurred, certain set amounts may be included in figuring ceiling prices. The allowances are set forth in sections 18 of the retailer regulations and section 13 of the wholesale regulation. The figures contained therein are slightly higher than the packaging allowances previously granted under the OPA regulations in order to reflect the increased cost of such packaging material. This allowance does not apply to the packaging of items at the time of sale.

(g) Retail delivery and assembly allowance. The retail regulations establish an allowance for delivery by retail stores to customers' homes or places of business. In arriving at the markups for all retail stores a proper allowance for such delivery was not included since all retail sales are not delivered. With such a small amount of service included in the given markups, it was decided that an extra allowance was necessary to compensate those who incurred this expense. In addition, the Group 3 and 4 regulation establishes an allowance for assembly of orders taken by telephone. A similar provision was not included in the Group 1 and 2 regulation since assembly of orders by telephone is a normal practice in Group 1 and 2 stores and the markups applicable to those stores reflect an appropriate allowance for such service. This was not true in case of Group 3 and 4 stores and hence a special pricing provision is proper. A fee of 25 cents is allowed to all retail stores for deliveries of food orders to customers' homes or places of business, as a separate charge, where the total value of the delivery is $3.00 or more, and an additional fee of 15 cents is allowed to Group 3 and 4 stores, who generally offer the service of taking telephone orders and assembling them, for assembly of orders taken by telephone.

(h) Transportation allowances for delivery from warehouses to retail stores—(1) Wholesalers. Many wholesalers deliver to stores a great distance away and in the past have taken care of this expense in various ways, which makes it impossible to determine any standard delivery for deliveries outside of a free zone. Therefore, wholesalers are permitted to use the same differentials as they have used in January 1951. These differentials must be included as part of the wholesalers' ceiling prices so that retailers will not have to allocate this cost among the various items purchased. Wholesalers who did not use a zone system during January 1951 but instead an average price are allowed to add certain percentages for deliveries over 125 miles. Likewise, the regulations contain specific provisions for additions by wholesalers making f. o. b. sales.

(2) Retailers. The markup provisions of these regulations reflect the cost of delivery from the retailers' warehouses to their stores located within a normal delivery zone. However, some retailers deliver much greater distances and in order to compensate for this expense, varying additions to net cost are allowed, depending on the distance beyond the normal delivery area.

(i) Pyramiding of markups. Special provisions are included in the regulations to prevent pyramiding of markups. Wholesalers buying from other wholesalers must use the "net cost" to the first wholesaler on such purchases where they have not previously established ceiling prices under the regulation as a basis for figuring their ceiling prices provided the "net cost" does not exceed the "net cost" had the purchases been made from the manufacturer or processor. Retailers are not allowed to use any purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price if it results in a "net cost" higher than the retailer would have if the purchase was made from a regular supplier or any other normally available source.

(j) Other special pricing provisions. In addition to the aforementioned provisions the Group 3 and 4 regulation contains certain special methods of figuring net cost for certain commodities purchased in a particular way. All of Article II—Special Pricing Provisions, in this regulation is not fully printed in the regulation for Group 1 and 2 stores but these provisions are applicable by cross references. Such provisions seldom apply to smaller stores and it was felt that simplification would be added if they were omitted from the Group 1 and 2 regulation and if these stores were referred to the Group 3 and 4 regulation where such provisions were applicable.

ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS OF THE REGULATION

(a) Classification adjustments. Any rigid classification such as is necessary in a standard markup regulation will work hardship on certain distributors who by accident of definition fall into one classification whereas their horizontal operation and margin pattern is actually that of another classification. Therefore, in both wholesale and retail regulations, provision has been made whereby a distributor performing the same service as one in another class, having a margin as high as that of the other class, and having a price structure similar to that of the class, may be transferred to the other class. These provisions are contained in sections 26, 27 and 28 of the wholesale regulation and section 26 of the retail Group 3 and 4 regulation. These adjustment provisions are not intended for distributors who do not meet these criteria, and adjustments will not be granted unless it can be demonstrated that such reclassification is justified.

With regard to section 26 (a) (4) of the Group 3 and 4 regulation, under the OPA regulation the criteria for adjustment was based on the total gross margin being more than 25 percent on all sales in the food departments and also, if the store was not an independent store, more than 25 per cent on the combined sales of the food departments in all stores of the organization. The percentage figure of more than 25 percent contained in the OPA regulation has been reduced to 23 percent or more in this regulation because the available facts clearly indicated that there had been a lowering of the gross margins for this type of operation. The substantial difference existing between a 23 percent markup and the standard markup of Group 3 and 4 stores should assure that the stores, in fact, have been conducting a different type of operation and that reclassification is justified. In order to eliminate the need for examining the individual adjustment applications under this section immediately, the regulation provides that all those stores which qualified for such adjustment under the OPA regulation will automatically qualify under this regulation upon the filing of an adjustment application, provided they meet the test that their total gross margin in the fiscal year 1950 was 23 percent or more on all sales in their food department and also, if not independent stores, 23 percent or more on the combined sales of the food departments in all the stores, for which adjustment is sought, of their organization. These applications will be reviewed later and if an applicant is found not to have qualified with the specific provisions of this regulation, the adjustment will be revoked. For the same reasons, it has been determined with respect to similar provisions of the wholesale regulation to reduce the criteria for adjustment used under the OPA wholesale regulation from at least 20 percent to at least 18 percent.

(b) Local shortage adjustments. Price control may possibly result in some areas being deprived of a food supply. To avoid such a local shortage, which might occur if all the retailers in a remote area withdraw from business, an adjustment may be granted when the retailers furnish adequate proof that they are necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a certain locality, and of the existence of necessary higher operating costs. It is also necessary for them to establish that any adjustment granted will not create a shortage or a need for increase in prices in another locality.

DOLLARS-AND-CENTS CEILING PRICES

The fixed markup technique is a sound and effective method of price control for food distributors. However, as food costs become stabilized it will be possible to translate margin calculations into specific dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. These dollars-and-cents ceilings provide an even simpler and more effective type of price control. When such dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, no item may be sold thereafter at higher prices and the orders issued to that end may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices fixed under these regulations. If such orders do not provide that they replace the ceiling price under these regulations, then the ceiling price may be figured under these regulations.

CONCLUSION

In formulating these regulations the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted extensively with industry representatives and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment the provisions of these regulations are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the "dry groceries" listed in Table A and the "perishables" listed in Table B for all retail stores, other than "independent" retail stores, doing an annual business of less than $375,000 and for all retail stores, whether "independent" or not, doing an annual business of $375,000 or more. These new ceiling prices are to be used instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Stabilization (hereinafter called OPS), and regardless of any contract or any other law. All other retail stores (Group 1 and Group 2 stores) selling these food products are covered by Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16.

SEC. 2. How you find out whether your store is covered by this regulation and what group it is in—(a) What stores are covered. Your store is covered by this regulation if it is a Group 3 or 4 store as defined below and if you are a retailer who buys and resells food products, generally without materially changing their form, for the most part to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. For the purposes of this regulation, "Great Lakes Marine Suppliers" shall be considered as retailers. The provisions of this regulation apply to "retail route sellers" only with respect to "frozen foods". However, this regulation does not apply to sales of "specially prepared dietetic foods" by "health food stores" or "health food departments", or to automatic vending machines or farmers selling produce grown on their own farms.

(b) What are Group 3 and 4 stores. For the purpose of this regulation, Group 3 and 4 stores are defined as follows:

(1) Group 3. Your store is in Group 3 if its "annual gross sales" are less than $375,000 and if it is not an "independent" store. Your store is an "independent" store if it is not one of 4 or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $750,000 or more.

(2) Group 4. Your store is in Group 4 if its "annual gross sales" are $375,000 or more.

(If you are not sure what group your store is in, use the directions in Section 29 for figuring its "annual gross sales." See section 35 for definitions of Group 1 and 2 stores.)

(c) How to display a sign of the group your store is in. At all times, you must have the group your store is in under this regulation displayed on a sign reading "OPS–3" or "OPS–4", whichever it is, or on a sign which the OPS may furnish to you. The sign must be displayed so that it can be clearly seen by your customers.

(d) When you may choose to treat your store as a Group 4 store. If your store is a Group 3 store, you may choose to treat it as a Group 4 store and display a sign in your store as a member of that group if you:

(1) Figure your ceiling prices for all the items listed in Tables A and B of this regulation as a Group 4 store; and

(2) Notify the OPS district office for your area of this fact.

(e) When you must notify OPS of the Group in which your store falls. Within 30 days after the issuance of this regulation, you must notify the OPS District office for your area, of the Group of each of your stores, using OPS Public Form No. 5 which you may obtain from the OPS District office for your area. If you open a new retail store after April 30, 1951 you must notify, within 15 days, the OPS District office for your area of the Group of the store, using OPS Public Form No. 5 which you may obtain from the OPS District office for your area.

Dry Groceries

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-type and container-size) of "dry groceries" listed in Table A shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" you had to pay for the most recent delivery of the item to you before April 30, 1951, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on April 30, 1951, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "dry groceries" listed as Table A which you have in stock at that time. Between April 5, 1951 and April 30, 1951, you may put into effect the new ceiling price on any item as soon as you figure it; you must put the new ceiling prices into effect on all items not later than April 30, 1951. If you do not put the new price for an item into effect before April 30, 1951, you must continue to use your existing ceiling for that item until April 30. If you receive delivery of any item between April 5, 1951 and April 30, 1951, for which you have no ceiling price, you must, before selling it, figure your ceiling price according to the rules of this regulation.

(c) Special rule for certain items of the 1950 pack. If, in the case of any item of the 1950 pack of food commodity groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32 and 33 in Table A, your last purchase of the particular item was made prior to January 26, 1951, you may continue to use your legal ceiling price for such item under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, until you receive delivery of a purchase made after that date. When you receive delivery of such a purchase, you must figure your ceiling price for the item in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule for "dry groceries"—(a) "Net Cost". To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item based on its most recent delivery to you before April 30, 1951. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment and swell and label allowances, plus all transportation charges you paid except local trucking and local unloading. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-size and container-type of "dry groceries".

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on a single unit basis (that is, per can, per pound, per package, per jar, etc.), to the nearest half-cent. (Fractions of exactly one-quarter cent are rounded up to one-half cent and fractions of exactly three quarters of a cent are rounded up to the next cent.) Your invoice cost may be the cost of a carton, case or barrel for instance, and not the cost of the package, can or other unit you sell. You must get the net cost of the single unit you sell by dividing the cost for the carton, case or barrel by the number of units in the carton, case or barrel.

(3) For items you "manufacture or otherwise process" use the special rules in section 23.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table A to find the mark-up for the item given your group of store. Table A lists all the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item. You must not change this ceiling price except in accordance with Section 6.

(d) Invoices. You must write your "net cost" per unit of the purchase on which you have figured your ceiling price either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attach to that invoice or other record. You must keep separate, or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the net cost per unit which you used in figuring your ceiling prices. These invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling prices for "new items" of "dry groceries." A "new item" of "dry groceries" is an item of "dry groceries" which you did not have in stock at the opening of business on April 30, 1951. You must figure the ceiling price for a new item before selling it, following the rules in section 4, but basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you on or after April 30, 1951.

In pricing new items it is a violation to use the net cost of a first purchase made in a non-customary manner (that is, from a non-customary supplier or in a non-customary quantity) when you know that you will be making future purchases in a customary manner. If your first purchase is of this type you must find out and use in figuring your ceiling price, what the net cost would be of a purchase from a type of supplier usually used for a similar item and of a quantity in which a similar item is usually purchased.

SEC. 6. How you figure your ceiling prices each week, starting Monday, April 30, 1951. Before making any sale of an item of "dry groceries" on each Monday after April 30, 1951 (or on Tuesday if Monday is a holiday and your store is closed) you must refigure your ceiling price for any item if your "net cost" of that item is different from the "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. You must follow the rules in section 4 basing your "net cost," however, on the largest single delivery of a customary quantity received by you from your customary type of supplier during the seven days preceding Monday. If you cannot determine your "largest single delivery" because you have received more than one delivery of the same quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries.

Any group of stores under one ownership pricing from a central point may refigure ceiling prices for items so priced, based on the "net cost" of deliveries received during the seven days preceding the previous Friday. These prices must not be put into effect until the following Monday.

SEC. 7. Dry groceries which you import. This regulation shall not apply to you for sales of any dry grocery item purchased by you directly from a foreign seller or his agent for importation into the continental United States. Your ceiling price for such items shall be determined by you in accordance with the General Ceiling Price Regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation covering the sale of the item by importers.

Perishables

SEC. 8. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "perishables"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, variety, and grade) of "perishables" listed in Table B shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" of the largest delivery of the item to you during the seven days preceding Monday of each week, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table B.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on April 30, 1951, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "perishables" listed in Table B which you have in stock at that time. These ceiling prices must be checked each week after April 30, 1951, and changed on Monday of each week for any item if your "net cost" of that item has changed in the preceding seven days. Never change your ceiling price on any day but Monday.

For items which you receive for the first time or which you have not had in stock for 7 days, you must figure and use a ceiling price at once using the net cost of that first delivery. On each Monday after that, you must treat the item as you would any other item of perishables covered under this regulation.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point may refigure ceiling prices for items so priced based on the net cost of deliveries received during the seven days preceding Friday of each week. These prices must not be put into effect until the following Monday.

SEC. 9. Directions for applying the rule for "perishables"—(a) Net cost. To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the largest delivery to you of the item during the seven-day period before the Monday for which you are figuring your price. If you have received more than one delivery of the same largest quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid, which may include costs for icing, refrigeration, and ventilation, but which may not include costs for local trucking and local unloading.

(1) Your net cost must be based on purchases from a customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on the basis of the "selling unit", (for example, 1 pound) listed in Table B for the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Always figure net cost to the nearest half cent. (Fractions of exactly one-quarter cent are rounded up to one-half cent and fractions of exactly three-quarters of a cent are rounded up to the next cent.)

(3) If you have an item in stock at the opening of business on April 30, 1951, but you did not receive delivery of the item during the week before, you shall, in figuring your first ceiling price for the item on April 30, 1951, base your net cost on its most recent delivery to you.

(b) Mark-up. Turn to Table B to find the mark-up for the item given for your group of store. Table B lists all the "perishables" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. (1) Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(2) Sales in other quantities. You may sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B. If you sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B, you must reduce or increase your ceiling price proportionately. If figuring a price for a quantity different from the "selling unit" results in a fraction of a cent, you may charge the next higher cent.

SEC. 10. Price which you must display. At all times, you must have your current selling price for each item of food covered by this regulation clearly shown on the item or at or near the place in your store where the item is offered for sale. Of course, this displayed price must never exceed your ceiling price.

SEC. 11. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it by any scheme, or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You may not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost as used in section 4 or 9 would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price. You may never use the net cost of a purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price if it results in a net cost higher than you would have if you purchased the item from your regular supplier or any other source normally available to you.

SEC. 12. Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your custom, you must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date, your name and address, and quantity and name of each food item sold, and the price you charged for it.

SEC. 13. Records. After April 5, 1951, you must keep for one year after you receive them all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation.

You are required to show all your invoices on request of any OPS representative and to furnish on request of any OPS representative a written record of your ceiling price in effect at any particular time or times for any or all of the items covered by this regulation. You must also keep available for inspection by an OPS representative the records you used in deciding what group your store is in.

Stores under one ownership pricing from a central point must also keep available at all times in each store a list showing the current selling price, as set at the central point, of each item so priced. These price lists must also be kept for one year in the warehouse from which the food items are delivered to the store or the office which covers the territory in which the warehouse is located. On request, such price lists must be shown to any OPS representative.

SEC. 14. Prohibitions. On and after April 30, 1951, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that act.

SEC. 15. Notice of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPS may, by order, fix in your area or community, dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for some or all of the "dry groceries" or "perishables" under this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices, and those orders may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation, you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation.

SEC. 16. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Director may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4, and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date April 30, 1951, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4, and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the mark-up for your group of retailers, you must, by the opening of business on the effective date of such amendment refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment. However, in doing so, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring the ceiling prices you had on the effective date of the amendment.

(c) Unless otherwise specifically provided, if your "net cost" of any item covered by this regulation is based upon a delivery from a person owned or controlled by (or owning or controlling) you, who is not subject to this regulation, and the item is not "manufactured or otherwise processed" by such person or by you, your "net cost" may not exceed the "net cost" which would result if such person had been subject to this regulation, plus transportation (not including local trucking or local unloading) to your usual receiving point.

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 17. Additions allowed for certain extra services rendered by you—(a) Addition allowed for delivery by you to your customers. If you deliver to your customers' homes or places of business any of the items covered by this regulation you may add to the total value of the delivery, as a separate charge, 25 cents for such delivery if the total value thereof is $3.00 or more.

(b) Addition allowed for accepting and filling telephone orders. If you generally offer to all your customers the service of taking orders by telephone, and assembling orders as "will call" or for later delivery, you may add as a separate charge to the total value of any order taken by telephone and assembled, a fee of 15 cents. A copy of all telephone orders to which you have added this additional fee must be retained by you for a period of one year.

SEC. 18. Additions for packaging. (a) If you buy in bulk any item covered by this regulation (except spices, tea and gelatin) and then package and sell it in cardboard containers, cotton bags, transparent bags, interlined coffee bags, or Kraft bags or similar type bags, on which the name, weight and ingredients of the commodity and your name are stamped or printed and which are packed and sealed at a place and time other than the point and time of sale, you may add to your "net cost" whichever of the following allowances applies:

(1) 2 cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of less than 2 pounds.

(2) 2½ cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of 2 pounds or more, but less than 5 pounds.

(3) 1 cent per pound for every such bag or container with a net weight of 5 pounds or more but not to exceed a total of 5 cents.

SEC. 19. Gift and holiday packages assembled by you. If you assemble, into gift or holiday packages, any food items covered by this regulation, with or without any items not covered by this regulation, you must figure your ceiling price for such package under whichever of the following paragraphs applies:

(a) For packages assembled in cardboard, wooden, or other plain containers (for example, "overseas" or "servicemen's" packages), your ceiling prices will be the sum of the following, multiplied by 1.05:

(1) Your ceiling price for each item (or article) being packed, figured under this regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation. If you have no ceiling price for any item (or article), use your current selling price for that item.

(2) Your direct cost of the packaging materials used for the particular package, including the container.

(b) For packages assembled in permanent containers designed and constructed for re-use (including but not limited to trays, cedar boxes, hampers, teakwood chests, fancy baskets), your ceiling price will be the sum of the following, multiplied by 1.15:

(1) Your ceiling price for each item (or article) being packed, figured under this regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation. If you have no ceiling price for any item (or article), use your current selling price for that item.

(2) Your ceiling price for the container figured under the applicable ceiling price regulation. If you have no ceiling price for the container, use your direct cost for the container.

(3) Your direct cost of the packaging materials used for the particular package.

SEC. 20. Special allowance for forwarding gift package to a donee in a foreign country. If you deliver a food package directly, upon order of the purchaser to a donee (other than a member of the armed forces of the United States) in a foreign country outside of the North American continent, you may add to you ceiling price an amount not to exceed 50 cents for forwarding such package, plus the actual mailing and insurance charges.

This allowance may be applied only to the shipment and delivery of individual food gift packages and not of wholesale lots.

SEC. 21. How you figure your "net cost" in certain cases—(a) Frozen fruits, berries, and vegetables. If, after you have figured a ceiling price for an item of frozen fruits, berries, fruit or berry juices, vegetables or vegetable juices, you do not receive additional deliveries of such an item from a supplier but you have had such item in storage from which you supply your store, for a period of at least four weeks since you last figured your ceiling price for the item, you may on the fourth Monday after you last figured your ceiling price for the item, add to the "net cost" (before the rounding of fractions) on which your existing ceiling price is based, your actual costs, per unit, incident to storage for the period since you last figured your ceiling price.

(b) Smoked fish which you process. (1) If you buy smoked fish in the form of slabs (gutted, headed and halved) and sell it in slices, you shall multiply your "net cost" per pound for the item by 1.20. To get your ceiling price per pound for such slices, apply the mark-up for your group of retailer to the resulting figure.

(2) If, prior to offering for sale, you change the form of an item of smoked fish bought drawn (gutted) to dressed (headed, with fins off), and sell it whole, in chunks or in slices, you shall multiply your "net cost" per pound for the item by 1.10. To get your ceiling price per pound, apply the mark-up for your group of retailer to the resulting figure.

SEC. 22. Additions for delivery from your warehouse to your store. If your store is located at a distance of 125 miles or more from your warehouse which is your usual receiving point, you may in determining your ceiling price for an item delivered from the warehouse to your store, use whichever of the following is applicable:

(1) If the store is located at a distance of from 125 through 199 miles from such warehouse, you may add 1 to your mark-up figure. (Example: If your mark-up figure on breakfast cereals in Table A is 16 percent, you change it to 17 percent.)

(2) If the store is located at a distance of from 200 through 299 miles from such warehouse, you may add 2 to your mark-up figure.

(3) If the store is located at a distance of from 300 through 399 miles from such warehouse, you may add 3 to your mark-up figure.

(4) If the store is located at a distance of 400 miles or more from such warehouse, you may add 4 to your mark-up figure.

SEC. 23. How you figure your ceiling prices for foods you "manufacture or otherwise process". If you "manufacture or otherwise process" and sell at retail any item covered by this regulation, you will figure your "net cost" or ceiling price for such item under whichever of the following provisions applies:

(a) If the item is one for which the OPS has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, but the regulation makes no provision for manufacturers selling at retail the lowest ceiling price under that regulation for sales delivered to your usual receiving point shall be your "net cost."

(b) If the item is one for which the OPS has issued, or later issues, a regulation naming dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers and makes a provision for manufacturers selling at retail, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under that regulation. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up under this regulation.

(c) If the item is one for which the OPS has not issued, or does not later issue, a regulation establishing dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for sales by manufacturers, you shall figure your ceiling price for such item as a manufacturer under the appropriate regulation covering the sales of such item by manufacturers. You will not attempt to figure a "net cost" and apply a mark-up under this regulation.

(d) If, after you have established a ceiling price for an item which you "manufacture or otherwise process", the manufacturer's regulation which you used in figuring your ceiling price under paragraph (a), (b), or (c) of this section is amended so that either (1) the manufacturer's regulation is no longer the type described in the applicable paragraph of this section or (2) the type of regulation is not changed but the prices set forth therein are changed; you must, within 5 days after the effective date of such amendment, refigure your ceiling price for the item under the applicable paragraph of this section based on the manufacturer's regulation as amended.

(e) For the purpose of this regulation you shall be considered a manufacturer of any item which you manufacture or otherwise process directly, or which is manufactured for you by a person to whom you supply the raw material.

SEC. 24. Special pricing provisions for manufacturers selling some commodities at retail. Any person, the larger part of whose business is the manufacturing or processing of foods, but

(a) His entire business in connection with a particular commodity consists of the purchase and resale of such commodity without materially changing its form, and

(b) The larger part of his sales of such commodity are made to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users,

(c) Shall figure his ceiling prices for sales of such commodity to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users in accordance with the provisions of this regulation, and shall, for such purposes, be considered a retailer covered by this regulation.

SEC. 25. Mail order sales. When you make mail order sales, you may add to your ceiling prices determined under this regulation your actual express or mailing expense to the buyer's address.

ARTICLE III—ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS

SEC. 26. How you may, under certain conditions, apply to use Group 1 mark-ups. (a) If your store meets the gross margin requirements specified in this section and does business in the manner outlined below, you may apply under paragraph (b) of this section to use the mark-ups provided in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 for Group 1 stores:

(1) Most of your sales in your grocery department are made by sales clerks who assist customers in selecting, collecting, and wrapping merchandise;

(2) Your store generally offers to all its customers the services of taking orders by telephone, carrying monthly charge accounts, and providing delivery service;

(3) The general level of your prices for grocery products was during January 1951 at least as high as the level maintained by Group 1 stores, and was generally higher than that maintained by Group 3 and 4 stores, for such products in your community; and

(4) The total gross margin in your fiscal year 1950 was at least 23 percent on all sales in your food departments and also, if you are not an "independent" store, at least 23 percent on the combined sales of the food departments in all the stores for which you seek adjustment in your organization. Do not count a restaurant as a food department. If not in business during all of 1950 use your most recent fiscal period.

(b) Your application must be filed in duplicate with the OPS district office for your area on a form which you may get from that office. You may combine on one form the applications of more than one of your stores. If your application is finally approved, OPS will tell you when to begin using the Group 1 mark-ups, and from such time on you shall display a sign in your store designating it as a "Group 1" store, and it shall be considered a Group 1 store for the purpose of all "special pricing provisions" contained in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16.

(c) If, however, under Maximum Price Regulation No. 422 issued in 1943 by the Office of Price Administration (1) you were either a Group 3 or Group 4 store on the basis of sales volume, and (2) you can establish that you were authorized by the Office of Price Administration to use Group 1 mark-ups, and (3) such authority was never revoked, and (4) you meet the gross margin requirements specified above, and (5) you certify that your method of doing business has not changed in any material respect since the time you were authorized to use Group 1 mark-ups, you may consider yourself a Group 1 store under Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 as soon as you have filed your application in accordance with this section. This authority may be withdrawn if it is determined that your store does not qualify for adjustment under this section.

SEC. 27. How certain stores, where necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a locality, may apply for mark-up adjustments. If your store is necessary to provide an adequate supply of food products in a locality; and by reason of remote location, long-term credit, short selling season, or other such unusual operating conditions, you find it impossible to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation, you may apply for an adjustment of such mark-ups by filing with the OPS district office for your area two copies of a signed statement giving for your store: (1) its name and address; (2) its group under this regulation; (3) its type (for example, cash-and-carry; service, delicatessen); (4) the approximate number of its food customers; (5) the total number of stores selling food in its community; (6) its distance from the nearest store selling food and the name and address of that store; and (7) the reasons why you are unable to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation.

If you have more than one store you may file one application for all your stores which meet the conditions stated above. Your application must state separately for each store the specific information this section calls for.

SEC. 28. Applications for adjustment. Any Regional Office of the OPS, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this regulation. Applications for adjustment are governed by Price Procedural Regulation 1.

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 29. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales," take your total sales for the calendar year 1950. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or part of the calendar year 1950 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in business during the entire year 1950 you must divide your total sales from the time you began operation up to April 30, 1951, by the number of weeks you were in business. This will give you your weekly average sales. Multiply this figure by 52, and the result is your "annual gross sales."

SEC. 30. How you determine your group in certain special cases—(a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, you must determine your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell food in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store. If the total "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store is not readily available, you shall apply, in writing, within thirty days after the issuance of this regulation, to the OPS district office for your area for a determination of your group, stating your own "annual gross sales" figure for the applicable year.

Each District Director is authorized to act on requests covering stores located within his district, and action taken shall be by order.

(2) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be considered as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you must determine your group by using only your own sales.

(c) New stores. If you open a retail store after April 30, 1951, you may consider yourself a Group 1 or Group 3 retailer, depending upon whether or not at that date your store is an "independent" store, and you must figure your ceiling prices accordingly. (If you are a Group 1 store, you must figure your ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16.) However, after you have been in business for 3 months you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales for the 3-month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

If you find that your store should now be in another group, you may continue to use the Group 1 or 3 markups until the second Monday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all your ceiling prices using the markups for your new group. You shall use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Monday. If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any item on that Monday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price at that time is based.

(d) Discontinuance of stores. (1) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores so that you now have less than 4 stores under one ownership, you may find your group for each of the remaining stores by determining the "annual gross sales" under section 29 (a), treating each store as an "independent" store.

(2) If you are not an "independent" store and you close one or more of your stores, but 4 or more stores continue under one ownership, you may refigure the combined "annual gross sales" under section 29 (a) for those remaining in operation. If the combined "annual gross sales" are not $750,000 or more, you may then determine your group for each store, treating each as an "independent" store.

(3) If you find that any store is now in another group, you may refigure all of your ceiling prices for that store before the opening of business on any Monday. You must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring under sections 4 and 9 your ceiling prices on that Monday of this regulation if a Group 4 store (or under sections 4 and 9 of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 if a Group 1 or Group 2 store). If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any item on that Monday, you must use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. Further, if any store is now in Group 1 or Group 2, it is subject to all other provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16.

SEC. 31. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at retail of food covered by this regulation if you state the tax separately, and if the statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 32. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after April 30, 1951, you acquire in any way the business, assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner as if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquired the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail stores to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailer to which you belong under this regulation.

SEC. 33. Export sales. The ceiling prices at which a person may export any product covered by this regulation shall be determined in accordance with the applicable price regulation covering export sales issued by the OPS.

SEC. 34. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after April 30, 1951, supersede the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, and any other price regulation or order issued by the OPS with respect to sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 35. Definitions—(a) "Retail route seller." A "retail route seller" is a retailer who distributes food products to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, either on a future delivery basis or otherwise, from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances operated by driver-salesmen over regular routes. A retailer, most of whose business is the personal solicitation of orders by salesmen calling at the homes or places of business of ultimate consumers, who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, shall also be considered a retail route seller. A retailer is a "retail route seller" only of the food products he sells in this way.

(b) Health food stores. A "health food store" or "health food department" is one whose sales to consumers consist principally of "specially prepared dietetic foods." For the purpose of this regulation a "health food department" is a separate and distinct department operated by separate and specially trained personnel and for which separate records and accounts are maintained. "Specially prepared dietetic foods" are foods manufactured and sold for restricted diets and for special dietetic purposes, including but not limited to specially prepared foods for diabetic or arthritic conditions, or high blood pressure; specially prepared weight building or tonic foods; and vitamin or mineral supplements.

(c) Delivery. Delivery to you of an item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(d) Usual receiving point. Your usual receiving point will be either your retail store or your warehouse from which you supply your retail stores, depending upon where you normally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation.

(e) Item. You must determine a separate ceiling price for each item; that is, for each kind, brand, size, variety, grade, container-type and container-size.

(f) Manufacture or otherwise process. "Manufacture or otherwise process" shall mean blending, freezing, canning, preserving, bottling, milling, crushing, straining, roasting, centrifuging, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, printing of butter, and other similar operations, and packaging of spices, tea, and gelatin.

Packaging as used in section 18 shall not be considered manufacturing or processing under this regulation.

(g) Group 1 retailer. A retailer is in Group 1 if he is an "independent" retailer with an "annual gross sales" of less than $75,000.

(h) Group 2 retailer. A retailer is in Group 2 if he is an "independent" retailer with an "annual gross sales" of $75,000 or more, but less than $375,000.

(i) Great Lakes marine supplier. A "Great Lakes marine supplier" means a person operating a selling establishment which buys and resells food products for the most part to "operators of a lake vessel or vessels," for consumption aboard such vessel or vessels, with delivery from shore locations by use of truck or launch facilities. "Operator of a lake vessel or vessels" means any person who owns or operates a lake vessel or vessels, other than passenger boats engaged in shipping upon the Great Lakes, and who in operating such vessels purchases or receives food products covered by this regulation from a Great Lakes marine supplier for consumption aboard such vessels.

SEC. 36. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 States of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

(b) Instructions for use of Table A, Table B, and Table C. Tables A and B contain the mark-ups for all commodities in this regulation. Table C is included to assist you in determining ceiling prices without burdensome calculations.

Table A lists by commodity groups the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation and the mark-ups to be used by Group 3 and Group 4 retailers in figuring their ceiling prices. Table B gives the same information for "perishables." However, in addition, Table B also lists the selling units, on the basis of which retailers must figure their net costs and ceiling prices for "perishables." For a detailed list of the items in each commodity group, see "Commodity definitions of dry groceries" printed immediately after Table A, and "Commodity definitions of perishables" printed immediately after Table B. After you have determined your "net cost" for an item in accordance with the method set up in this regulation, find your proper mark-up in the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Commodity groups are listed at the left of Table A and Table B. Directly opposite each commodity group you will find a percentage mark-up for your group of retailers.

If a percentage mark-up is shown, you get your ceiling price for the item by turning to Table C, which shows the ceiling price for all items with per unit net costs ranging from ½¢ to 75¢. Percentage mark-ups over net cost are listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, and "net cost" across the top of the table. "Net cost per unit" means, in the case of dry groceries, the "net cost" of a single unit (one can, one jar, etc.). For perishables, it means the "net cost" of the selling unit listed in the list column of Table B.

To determine your ceiling price from Table C, find your net cost at the top of the table. Go down that column until you come to the figure (in that column) on the same line as your mark-up. The figure at that point is your ceiling price for the item.

If your net cost per unit is more than 75 cents, you cannot use Table C to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you must (1) multiply your net cost by your percentage mark-up, (2) add the result to your net cost, and (3) round the sum to the nearest whole cent. For perishables, your net cost must be in terms of the selling unit specified in Table B.

Example (1). A Group 3 retailer wishes to figure a new ceiling price for "XX" Brand, 11 ounces canned tomato soup, which he must put into effect by April 30, 1951, in accordance with section 3. His most recent purchase of a customary quantity of this item from a customary type of supplier delivered to his usual receiving point was a carload purchased from a packer and delivered at a cost of $4.40 a case (48) on December 22, 1950. He must first figure to the nearest half-cent, his "net cost" on a single unit basis (sec. 4, (a) (2)), that is, for a single can. He therefore divides the cost for the case, $4.40, by the number of single units in the case, 48, and gets a result of $0.0916 before rounding. Rounding to the nearest half-cent, this becomes $0.09. (If the figure had been $0.0925 before rounding, he would have rounded to $0.095.) He then turns to Table A to find the mark-up to be applied to his net cost. Going down the column at the left of Table A he will find a listing of the commodity group which includes the item he is pricing. For canned tomato soup this group is "Soup (canned)." Going across the page on that line, he will find his mark-up for the item in the column for Group 3 retailers. In this case, his mark-up is 19 percent. Having his mark-up and net cost, Table C will give him his ceiling price without further computations. Checking across the top of Table C, he will find a column headed by his net cost $0.09. Going down this $0.09 column until he comes to the figure on the same line as his percentage mark-up of 19 percent listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C he will find his ceiling price for the item to be 11 cents per can.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on the 5th day of April 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 16]

CPR-16—CEILING PRICES OF CERTAIN FOODS SOLD AT RETAIL IN GROUP 1 AND GROUP 2 STORES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 16 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This statement of considerations covers CPR 14, CPR 15 and CPR 16.

The General Ceiling Price Regulation was issued essentially as a "stop gap" measure in order to bring under immediate control the prices of most goods and services. It was the only technique that could be applied quickly and comprehensively. At the time of issuance it was recognized that the regulation was not well adapted to the long range control of prices in many parts of the economy. This is true in the wholesaling and retailing of food. Between the outbreak of the Korean war and the freeze period, some food distributors had placed in effect substantial price increases beyond those necessitated by the increased cost of food. Others had not so advanced their prices. Thus the freeze technique rewarded those who had increased their prices most. The distortions in the cost-price relationships and the chance abnormalities that existed in the base period were frozen into the price structure. Moreover, the freeze technique is particularly difficult to apply to new sellers who have no base period ceiling price. In an industry such as food distribution with thousands of sellers there are bound to be large numbers of new sellers. The effort to fix ceiling prices for these new sellers creates serious problems of administration and fairness. Fixing ceiling prices for new items presents similar problems. Moreover, the effort to enforce ceiling prices based on a general freeze for more than 500,000 sellers presents an extremely difficult enforcement problem.

These regulations establish a different method of fixing ceiling prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers of most dry and some perishable grocery products by providing specific percentage markups for different food categories. They govern approximately 60 percent of food purchases made by consumers in retail stores. Though the grocery business customarily computes margins as a percentage of sales, for practical purposes and easy calculation, the margins here are translated to a markup on cost. The markup technique employed provides a simple, enforceable, equitable and effective method of price control. It was the technique employed by the Office of Price Administration in issuing MPR's 421, 422, and 423 which regulated dry grocery prices during World War II. These regulations were the result of careful classification of wholesalers and retailers and a comprehensive survey of appropriate margins within each class of seller. Their validity was upheld by the Emergency Court of Appeals. During the period when they were effective, food costs were stabilized. At the same time earnings per dollars of sales of food distributors exceeded those experienced prior to 1942.

The contrast between the inadequacies of a "freeze" regulation such as the General Ceiling Price Regulation, in controlling prices for food distributors, and the success of the margin type regulation used by the OPA makes it imperative that distributors' ceiling prices of dry groceries be fixed on a markup basis at the earliest possible date. At the present time, the best markups available are those which were used by the OPA in issuing MPR's 421, 422, and 423, and which were in effect from 1943–1946. In order to act now, the Director of Price Stabilization has generally employed these markups for most food categories for most distributors. The Office of Price Stabilization is now organizing a study of margin and earning figures for food distributors in order to obtain more recent comprehensive data. If the study should indicate that the ceiling prices established under this regulation are either too low or too high, the regulation will be promptly revised to reflect the results of the survey.

Consultation with the wholesalers and retailers of dry groceries has indicated that wholesalers and the independent retailers generally believe that the OPA markups applicable to them will return adequate gross margins. The chain stores and supermarkets, however, have insisted that the OPA markups would be inadequate and have presented calculations to show that their application to pre-Korea operations would reduce by approximately 3 percent on sales the grocery department gross margins experienced at that time. They urge that their operations are conducted on a low net margin of profit to sales, and fear that these ceilings will mean loss operations. This position has been given very careful consideration by the Director of Price Stabilization. An examination of the data submitted by the chains and supermarkets indicates that there is a substantial basis for these figures. In most food categories the OPA markups conform generally with normal pricing practices. In some categories, however, it has been indicated that markups have changed substantially since the war. In issuing these regulations, therefore, the Director has made some adjustments in these food categories for these sellers. These adjustments will be carefully checked against the results of the survey.

On the whole the markups used for chains and supermarkets should increase by a little more than 1 percent the margin on sales yielded by the OPA markups. While the chains and supermarkets indicate that an adjustment of approximately 3 percent is required, their calculations overlook certain important considerations which indicate that these adjusted markups will provide generally fair and equitable prices. Since the markups are computed as a percentage of cost, any increase in food cost is reflected in higher dollar margins. All retailers consulted by the OPS conceded that food costs have gone up at least 10 percent and evidence available to the Director of Price Stabilization indicates that the increase may be more. Assuming the minimum increase in food costs, the percentage markup could be reduced and still return as many or more dollars as were earned in a pre-Korea period. If a food retailer prior to Korea had food costs of $1,000,000, and sales of $1,200,000, he would have a percentage markup of 20 percent and a dollar margin of $200,000. Today, however, if he sold the same quantity of food the cost of food to him would have increased to at least $1,100,000. A percentage markup of 18.3 percent would produce a dollar margin of $201,300, or more than he earned prior to the increase in the cost of food. Thus, even if the markups in this regulation result in a lower percentage markup than that experienced in a pre-Korea period, the increase in the cost of food has been so substantial that these regulations should not prevent food distributors from realizing adequate over-all dollar margins.

It is true, of course, that the overhead costs which are to be covered by the markups may have increased since Korea. However, food stores have also experienced a marked and rapid increase in physical volume. This means that fixed overhead costs can be spread over more units of merchandise and the cost per unit reduced. Moreover, in a period of accelerated inflation, food costs and food prices rise much faster than overhead expenses and in a seller's market, sales and promotion costs can be better controlled. These factors are reflected in higher net earnings. Percentage markups can be reduced and the distributor will still be able to cover dollar increases in these overhead expenses and realize net earnings comparable to those realized prior to the inflationary period.

The experience since Korea indicated the effect of all of these factors on earnings. In 1950 the sales of leading chain stores increased over 1949 by approximately 6 percent mainly during the last half of the year. However, dollar earnings for the same chains increased by 18 percent. Thus, dollar earnings increased substantially more percentagewise than dollar sales. Apparently, therefore, overhead expenses have not risen as sharply as food costs and food prices and this has been reflected in the higher earnings. On the basis of these considerations, the Director of Price Stabilization finds that the markups set forth in these regulations will produce generally fair and equitable prices.

SPECIFIC PROVISIONS OF THE REGULATIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14 applies to sales by wholesalers of certain food products called "dry groceries," which are listed in Table A of the Regulation. Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 (Group 1 and 2 stores), and Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 (Group 3 and 4 stores) apply to sales by retailers of the same list of dry groceries as are covered by the wholesale regulation and additional list in Table B called perishables. Sales of perishable items at wholesale will continue to be controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Likewise, since Table B, for the time being, includes only butter and packaged cheese, sales of other perishable items at retail will continue to be controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

For the most part the provisions of these regulations are similar to those used by OPA in MPR's 421, 422 and 423, which regulated dry grocery prices during World War II. In general the dry grocery commodity categories are the same except where a limited number of slow-moving high-margin items have been taken out of the category used by OPA and placed under "miscellaneous foods". Also "flour mixes" have been taken out of the "flour" category and included in the corn meal, hominy category. Such adjustments were recommended by representative members of the industry and it is believed by the Director of Price Stabilization that the facts available clearly justified the change in category.

(a) Classification of wholesalers and retailers. The classification of wholesalers in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14 is the same as that used in MPR 421 by OPA. The classification of retailers in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16 (Group 1 and 2 stores), and in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 (Group 3 and 4 stores) is also the same as that used in MPR's 422 and 423 by OPA, except that the volume definitions have been changed. Ceiling Price Regulations Nos. 15 and 16 provide as follows:

Group 1—Independent retail stores with annual sales volume of less than $75,000 in 1950.

Group 2—Independent retail stores with annual sales volume between $75,000 and $375,000 in 1950.

Group 3—Retail stores (other than independent stores) with annual sales volume of less than $375,000 in 1950.

Group 4—Retail stores (independent or otherwise) with annual sales volume of $375,000 or more in 1950.

Under the OPA regulations $50,000 annual sales volume was the dividing line between Groups 1 and 2 stores, and $250,000 annual sales volume was the dividing line between Group 2 stores (independent stores) and independent Group 4 stores. The same figure was used to determine whether a chain store was a Group 3 or Group 4 store. At the time price controls expired in 1946, the group of a retail store was determined by its sales volume in 1945. There was no objection from the industry to these particular volume definitions. However, some adjustment in this volume classification is necessary now by reason of the increased price of food to reach results similar to those employed in 1946.

The Director of Price Stabilization has determined that the changes in the Bureau of Labor Statistics Consumers Food Price Index provides the best point of departure for this adjustment. For the year 1945, this Index stood at 139 percent, and by 1950 it had risen to 204 percent. This is an increase of approximately 47 percent. Therefore, it has been concluded to use $75,000 annual sales volume as the dividing line between Groups 1 and 2 stores and $375,000 as the dividing line between Group 2 and Group 4 independent stores. The latter figure is also used to separate the chain stores into Groups 3 and 4.

(b) Method for figuring ceiling prices. For wholesalers and retailers the pricing technique for the dry groceries (Tables A) is the same. They are required by section 3 of each regulation to apply the markup given in Table A to the most recent delivered cost before the effective date of the regulations. The resulting amount will be the ceiling price. However, section 3 (c) of each regulation provides that with respect to each item of the 1950 pack of food commodity Groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 under Tables A both wholesalers and retailers may continue to use the legal ceiling price for each item under the General Ceiling Price Regulation if their last purchase of the particular item was made prior to January 26, 1951, until they receive delivery of a purchase made after that date. Of course, the ceiling price for any item that falls within food commodity Groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32, and 33 which is purchased after January 26, 1951, must be figured by applying the provisions of these regulations.

In the case of those sellers who purchased items of the 1950 pack several months ago, the application of the markups to costs of those purchases would result in ceiling prices that do not reflect current condition. Consequently, the volume purchaser's prices would be vastly different from those of the smaller purchaser, since the cost price for the items has increased considerably since the 1950 pack came in. Likewise, by applying the markup provisions to the items of the 1950 pack purchased prior to January 26, 1951, a sharp increase in the prices of the items will naturally result when the new pack comes in. For these reasons, the exception with respect to each item of the 1950 pack of food commodity groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32 and 33 is necessary in order to keep prices as stable as possible.

(c) Effective date of the regulations. The new ceiling prices established by applying the provisions of these regulations must be put into effect on all items not later than April 30, 1951. Between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, the new ceiling price on any item may be put into effect as soon as it is figured. If the new ceiling price is not put into effect for an item prior to April 30, 1951, the existing ceiling price under General Ceiling Price Regulation for that item must remain in effect until April 30, 1951. In the event any item is delivered between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, for which there is no ceiling price, the ceiling price must be figured according to the rules of these regulations.

(d) Recalculation of ceiling prices. These regulations permit a weekly recalculation of prices which was not permitted under the regulations of OPA. Before making a sale of an item of "dry groceries" on each Monday after April 30, 1951, the ceiling price for any item must be refigured if the net cost of the item is different from the net cost on which the existing ceiling price is based. Recalculation is necessary until such time as the processors' ceilings are stabilized by the Office of Price Stabilization. Because of the parity provisions of the Defense Production Act of 1950 this cannot be accomplished with respect to a substantial number of the food commodities controlled by these regulations at this time. At such time as the items at the processor level are stabilized the recalculation provisions of the regulations will be revoked. However, the perishable commodities in Tables B of the retail regulations will still be subject to recalculation. These commodities because of their seasonal and perishable characteristics are subject to sharp and unforeseeable price fluctuations.

(e) Posting. All retailers must at all times post their current selling price for each item of food covered by these regulations. Such displayed price must never exceed the ceiling price. All retailers must post the group their store is in.

(f) Packaging and assembling allowances. It has been the practice of many wholesalers and retailers to purchase certain food commodities in bulk and then to package and resell them in cardboard containers, transparent, cotton or interlined coffee bags, or kraft bags or similar type bags. The markups provided in the regulations do not include the entire factor necessary to cover the extra cost of packaging incurred by such bulk purchasers. Therefore, whenever such expense is incurred, certain set amounts may be included in figuring ceiling prices. The allowances are set forth in sections 18 of the retailer regulations and section 13 of the wholesale regulation. The figures contained therein are slightly higher than the packaging allowances previously granted under the OPA regulations in order to reflect the increased cost of such packaging material. This allowance does not apply to the packaging of items at the time of sale.

(g) Retail delivery and assembly allowance. The retail regulations establish an allowance for delivery by retail stores to customers' homes or places of business. In arriving at the markups for all retail stores a proper allowance for such delivery was not included since all retail sales are not delivered. With such a small amount of service included in the given markups, it was decided that an extra allowance was necessary to compensate those who incurred this expense. In addition, the Group 3 and 4 regulation establishes an allowance for assembly of orders taken by telephone. A similar provision was not included in the Group 1 and 2 regulation since assembly of orders by telephone is a normal practice in Group 1 and 2 stores and the markups applicable to those stores reflect an appropriate allowance for such service. This was not true in case of Groups 3 and 4 stores and hence a special pricing provision is proper. A fee of 25 cents is allowed to all retail stores for deliveries of food orders to customers' homes or places of business, as a separate charge, where the total value of the delivery is $3.00 or more, and an additional fee of 15 cents is allowed to Groups 3 and 4 stores, who generally offer the service of taking telephone orders and assembling them, for assembly of orders taken by telephone.

(h) Transportation allowances for delivery from warehouses to retail stores—(1) Wholesalers. Many wholesalers deliver to stores a great distance away and in the past have taken care of this expense in various ways, which makes it impossible to determine any standard delivery for deliveries outside of a free zone. Therefore, wholesalers are permitted to use the same differentials as they have used in January 1951. These differentials must be included as part of the wholesalers' ceiling prices so that retailers will not have to allocate this cost among the various items purchased. Wholesalers who did not use a zone system during January 1951 but instead an average price are allowed to add certain percentages for deliveries over 125 miles. Likewise, the regulations contain specific provisions for additions by wholesalers making f. o. b. sales.

(2) Retailers. The markup provisions of these regulations reflect the cost of delivery from the retailers' warehouses to their stores located within a normal delivery zone. However, some retailers deliver much greater distances and in order to compensate for this expense, varying additions to net cost are allowed, depending on the distance beyond the normal delivery area.

(i) Pyramiding of markups. Special provisions are included in the regulations to prevent pyramiding of markups. Wholesalers buying from other wholesalers must use the "net cost" to the first wholesaler on such purchases where they have not previously established ceiling prices under the regulation as a basis for figuring their ceiling prices provided the "net cost" does not exceed the "net cost" had the purchases been made from the manufacturer or processor. Retailers are not allowed to use any purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price if it results in a net cost higher than the retailer would have if the purchase was made from a regular supplier or any other normally available source.

(j) Other special pricing provisions. In addition to the aforementioned provisions the Group 3 and 4 regulation contains certain special methods of figuring net cost for certain commodities purchased in a particular way. All of Article II—Special Pricing Provisions, in this regulation is not fully printed in the regulation for Groups 1 and 2 stores but these provisions are applicable by cross references. Such provisions seldom apply to smaller stores and it was felt that simplification would be added if they were omitted from the Group 1 and 2 regulation and if these stores were referred to the Group 3 and 4 regulation where such provisions were applicable.

(a) Classification adjustments. Any rigid classification such as is necessary in a standard markup regulation will work hardship on certain distributors who by accident of definition fall into one classification whereas their horizontal operation and margin pattern is actually that of another classification. Therefore, in both wholesale and retail regulations, provision has been made whereby a distributor performing the same service as one in another class, having a margin as high as that of the other class, and having a price structure similar to that of the class, may be transferred to the other class. These provisions are contained in sections 26, 27 and 28 of the wholesale regulation and section 26 of the retail Group 3 and 4 regulation. These adjustment provisions are not intended for distributors who do not meet these criteria, and adjustments will not be granted unless it can be demonstrated that such reclassification is justified.

With regard to section 26 (a) (4) of the Group 3 and 4 regulation, under the OPA regulation the criteria for adjustment was based on the total gross margin being more than 25 percent on all sales in the food departments and also, if the store was not an independent store, more than 25 percent on the combined sale of the food departments in all stores of the organization. The percentage figure of more than 25 percent contained in the OPA regulation has been reduced to 23 percent or more in this regulation because the available facts clearly indicated that there had been a lowering of the gross margins for this type of operation. The substantial difference existing between a 23 percent markup and the standard markup of Groups 3 and 4 stores should assure that the stores, in fact, have been conducting a different type of operation and that reclassification is justified. In order to eliminate the need for examining the individual adjustment applications under this section immediately, the regulation provides that all those stores which qualified for such adjustment under the OPA regulation will automatically qualify under this regulation upon the filing of an adjustment application, provided they meet the test that their total gross margin in the fiscal year 1950 was 23 percent or more on all sales in their food department and also, if not independent stores, 23 percent or more on the combined sales of the food departments in all the stores, for which adjustment is sought, of their organization. These applications will be reviewed later and if an applicant is found not to have qualified with the specific provisions of this regulation, the adjustment will be revoked. For the same reasons, it has been determined with respect to similar provisions of the wholesale regulation to reduce the criteria for adjustment used under the OPA wholesale regulation from at least 20 percent to at least 18 percent.

(b) Local shortage adjustments. Price control may possibly result in some areas being deprived of a food supply. To avoid such a local shortage, which might occur if all the retailers in a remote area withdraw from business, an adjustment may be granted when the retailers furnish adequate proof that they are necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a certain locality, and of the existence of necessary higher operating costs. It is also necessary for them to establish that any adjustment granted will not create a shortage or a need for increase in prices in another locality.

DOLLARS-AND-CENTS CEILING PRICES

The fixed markup technique is a sound and effective method of price control for food distributors. However, as food costs become stabilized it will be possible to translate margin calculations into specific dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. These dollars-and-cents ceilings provide an even simpler and more effective type of price control. When such dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, no item may be sold thereafter at higher prices and the orders issued to that end may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices fixed under these regulations. If such orders do not provide that they replace the ceiling price under these regulations, then the ceiling price may be figured under these regulations.

CONCLUSION

In formulating these regulations the Director of Price Stabilization has consulted extensively with industry representatives and has given full consideration to their recommendations. In his judgment the provisions of these regulations are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objective of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950, to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes new ceiling prices for the "dry groceries" listed in Table A and the "perishables" listed in Table B for all "independent" retail stores doing an annual business of under $375,000. These new ceiling prices are to be used instead of the ceiling prices figured under any other price regulation issued by the Office of Price Stabilization (hereinafter called OPS, and regardless of any contract or any other law. All other retail stores (Group 3 and Group 4 stores) selling these food products are covered by Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15.

SEC. 2. How you find out whether your store is covered by this regulation and what group it is in—(a) What stores are covered. Your store is covered by this regulation if it is a Group 1 or 2 store as defined below and if you are a retailer who buys and resells food products, generally without materially changing their form, for the most part to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users. For the purposes of this regulation, "Great Lakes marine suppliers" shall be considered as retailers. The provisions of this regulation apply to "retail route sellers" only with respect to frozen foods. However, this regulation does not apply to sales of "specially prepared dietetic foods" by "health food stores" or "health food departments," or to automatic vending machines or to farmers selling produce grown on their own farms.

(b) What are Groups 1 and 2 stores. For the purpose of this regulation, Groups 1 and 2 stores are defined as follows:

(1) Group 1. Your store is in Group 1 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of less than $75,000. Your store is an "independent" store if it is not one of four or more stores under one ownership whose combined "annual gross sales" are $750,000 or more.

(2) Group 2. Your store is in Group 2 if it is an "independent" store with "annual gross sales" of $75,000 or more, but less than $375,000.

(If you are not sure what group your store is in, use the directions in section 26 for figuring the "annual gross sales," of your store. See section 30 for definitions of Group 3 and Group 4 retailers.

(c) How to display a sign of the group your store is in. At all times, you must have the group your store is in under this regulation displayed on a sign reading "OPS–1" or "OPS–2," whichever it is, or on a sign which the OPS may furnish to you. The sign must be displayed so that it can be clearly seen by your customers.

(d) When you may choose to treat your store as a Group 3 or 4 store. You may choose to treat your store as either a Group 3 or Group 4 store under Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 and display a sign in your store as a member of such other group if you:

(1) Figure your ceiling prices for all the items listed in Tables A and B of this regulation as a member of the group you choose; and

(2) Notify the OPS district office for your area of these facts.

(e) When you must notify OPS of the group in which your store falls. Within 30 days after the issuance of this regulation, you must notify the OPS district office for your area of the group of your store, using OPS Public Form No. 5 which you may obtain from the OPS district office for your area. If you open a new retail store after April 30, 1951, you must notify, within 15 days, the OPS district office for your area of the group of the store, using OPS Public Form No. 5 which you may obtain from the OPS district office for your area.

SEC. 3. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "dry groceries"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is, for each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-type and container-size) of "dry groceries" listed in Table A shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" you had to pay for the most recent delivery of the item to you before April 30, 1951, plus (2) the mark-up given you for it in Table A.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on April 30, 1951, you must have figured your ceiling price for each item of "dry groceries" listed in Table A which you have in stock at that time. Between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, you may put into effect the new ceiling price on any item as soon as you figure it; you must put the new ceiling prices into effect on all items not later than April 30, 1951. If you do not put the new price for an item into effect before April 30, 1951, you must continue to use your existing ceiling for that item until April 30, 1951. If you receive delivery of any item between April 5, 1951, and April 30, 1951, for which you have no ceiling price, you must, before selling it, figure your ceiling price according to the rules of this regulation.

(c) Special rule for certain items of the 1950 pack. If, in the case of any item of the 1950 pack of food commodity groups 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 32 and 33 in Table A, your last purchase of the particular item was made prior to January 26, 1951, you may continue to use your legal ceiling price for such item under the General Ceiling Price Regulation until you receive delivery of a purchase made after that date. When you receive delivery of such a purchase, you must figure your ceiling price for the item in accordance with the provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 4. Directions for applying the rule for "dry groceries"—(a) "Net cost." To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the item based on its most recent delivery to you before April 30, 1951. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment plus all transportation charges you paid except local trucking and local unloading. Treat as a separate item each kind, brand, grade, variety, container-size and container-type of "dry groceries."

(1) Your net cost must be figured on purchases of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to your "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on a single unit basis (that is, per can, per pound, per package, per jar, etc.), to the nearest half cent. (Fractions of exactly one-quarter cent are rounded up to one-half cent and fractions of exactly three-quarters of a cent are rounded up to the next cent.) Your invoice cost may be the cost of a carton, case or barrel, for instance, and not the cost of the package, can or other unit you sell. You must get the net cost of the single unit you sell by dividing the cost of the carton, case or barrel by the number of units in the carton, case or barrel.

(b) Markup. Turn to Table A to find the markup for the item given your group of store. Table A lists all the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item. You must not change this ceiling price except in accordance with section 6.

(d) Invoices. You must write your "net cost" per unit of the purchase on which you have figured your ceiling price either on your invoice or other record of the price you paid for the item or on a separate slip of paper and attached to that invoice or other record. You must keep separate or mark or tag plainly, all invoices or records showing the net cost per unit which you used in figuring your ceiling prices. These invoices and records you used in figuring your ceiling prices are your means of proving that your ceiling prices are right.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling prices for "new items" of "dry groceries". A "new item" of "dry groceries" is any item of "dry groceries" which you did not have in stock at the opening of business on April 30, 1951. You must figure the ceiling price for a new item before selling it, following the rules in section 4, but basing your "net cost" on the first delivery of the item to you on or after April 30, 1951.

In pricing new items it is a violation to use the net cost of a first purchase made in a non-customary manner (that is, from a non-customary supplier or in a non-customary quantity) when you know that you will be making future purchases in a customary manner. If your first purchase is of this type you must find out and use in figuring your ceiling price, what the net cost would be of a purchase from a type of supplier usually used for a similar item and of a quantity in which a similar item is usually purchased.

SEC. 6. How you figure your ceiling prices each week, starting Monday, April 30, 1951. Before making any sale of an item of "dry groceries" on each Monday after April 30, 1951 (or on Tuesday if Monday is a holiday and your store is closed) you must refigure your ceiling price for any item if your "net cost" of that item is different from the "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price is based. You must follow the rules in section 4 basing your "net cost," however, on the largest single delivery of a customary quantity received by you from your customary type of supplier during the seven days preceding Monday. If you cannot determine your "largest single delivery" because you have received more than one delivery of the same quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries.

SEC. 7. Dry groceries which you import. This regulation shall not apply to you for sales of any dry grocery item purchased by you directly from a foreign seller or his agent for importation into the continental United States. Your ceiling price for such items shall be determined by you in accordance with General Ceiling Price Regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation covering the sale of the item by importers.

PERISHABLES

SEC. 8. How and when you figure your ceiling prices for "perishables"—(a) General rule. Your ceiling price for each item (that is for each kind, brand, variety, and grade) of "perishables" listed in Table B shall be the total of (1) the "net cost" of the largest delivery of the item to you during the seven days preceding Monday of each week plus (2) the markup given you for it in Table B.

(b) When you must figure your ceiling prices. By the opening of business on April 30, 1951, you must have figured you ceiling price for each item of "perishables" listed in Table B which you have in stock at that time. These ceiling prices must be checked each week after April 30, 1951, and changed on Monday of each week for any item if your "net cost" of that item has changed in the preceding 7 days. Never change your ceiling price on any day but Monday.

For items which you receive for the first time or which you have not had in stock for 7 days, you must figure and use a ceiling price at once using the net cost of that first delivery. On each Monday after that, you must treat the item as you would any other item of perishables covered under this regulation.

SEC. 9. Directions for applying the rule for "perishables"—(a) Net cost. To figure your ceiling price, first find the "net cost" of the largest delivery to you of the item during the 7-day period before the Monday for which you are figuring your price. If you have received more than one delivery of the same largest quantity, use the most recent of these deliveries. Your net cost will be the amount you paid your supplier less all discounts except the discount for prompt payment, plus all transportation charges you paid, which may include costs for icing, refrigeration, and ventilation, but which may not include costs for local trucking and local unloading.

(1) Your net cost must be based on purchases from a customary type of supplier delivered to your usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery. Of course, you must never figure your net cost on a purchase made at a price higher than your supplier's ceiling.

(2) Figure the net cost on the basis of the "selling unit" (for example, 1 pound), listed in Table B for the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Always figure net cost to the nearest half cent. (Fractions of exactly one-quarter cent are rounded up to one-half cent and fractions of exactly three-quarters of a cent are rounded up to the next cent.)

(3) If you have an item in stock at the opening of business on April 30, 1951 but you did not receive delivery of the item during the week before, you shall, in figuring your first ceiling price for the item on April 30, 1951, base your net cost on its most recent delivery to you.

(b) Markup. Turn to Table B to find the markup for the item given for your group of store. Table B lists all the "perishables" covered by this regulation by commodity groups.

(c) Ceiling price. Next turn to Table C. Using the directions given there, you will get your ceiling price for the item.

(1) Sales in other quantities. You may sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B. If you sell an item in a quantity other than the "selling unit" given in Table B, you must reduce or increase your ceiling price proportionately. If figuring a price for a quantity different from the "selling unit" results in a fraction of a cent, you may charge the next higher cent.

SEC. 10. Price which you must display. At all times, you must have your current selling price for each item of food covered by this regulation clearly shown on the item or at or near the place in your store where the item is offered for sale. Of course, this displayed price must never exceed your ceiling price.

SEC. 11. Indirect price increases prohibited. You must not evade any of the provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it by any scheme, or device. You must not, as a condition of selling any particular food, require a customer to buy anything else. Any such evasion is punishable as a violation of this regulation.

You may not use an unnecessarily high "net cost" in figuring a ceiling price under this regulation. If you make such a high cost purchase, you must find out what your net cost as used in section 4 or 9 would be and use that net cost to figure your ceiling price. You may never use the net cost of a purchase from another retailer to figure a ceiling price if it results in a net cost higher than you would have if you purchased the item from your regular supplier or any other source normally available to you.

SEC. 12. Sales slips and receipts. If you have customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase, you must continue to do so. Furthermore, regardless of your custom, you must give any customer who asks for it a receipt showing the date, your name and address, and quantity and name of each food item sold, and the price you charged for it.

SEC. 13. Records. After April 5, 1951, you must keep for one year after you receive them all your invoices, freight bills, and other records showing the price you paid and the date you received delivery of each item covered by this regulation.

You are required to show all your invoices on request of any OPS representative and to furnish on request of any OPS representative a written record of your ceiling price in effect at any particular time or times for any or all of the items covered by this regulation. You must also keep available for inspection by an OPS representative the records you used in deciding what group your store is in.

SEC. 14. Prohibitions. On and after April 30, 1951, if you sell or deliver or offer to sell or deliver at a price higher than your ceiling price fixed by this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, or if you otherwise violate any provisions of this regulation or any order issued pursuant to it, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. Also, any person, who, in the course of trade or business, buys from you at a price higher than your ceiling price is subject to the criminal penalties and civil enforcement actions provided for by that Act.

SEC. 15. Notice of dollars-and-cents ceiling prices. From time to time the OPS may, by order, fix in your area or community, dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for some or all of the "dry groceries" or "perishables" under this regulation. When these dollars-and-cents prices are fixed, you may not thereafter sell at higher prices, and those orders may provide that such prices take the place of the ceiling prices which you have under this regulation. If such orders do not provide that they replace your prices under this regulation, you must continue to figure your prices under this regulation.

SEC. 16. Further provisions supplementing or explaining this regulation. From time to time, the Price Director may, by amendment, issue further provisions which will supplement the provisions of this regulation or explain the rights and duties of buyers and sellers under it. These further provisions will become part of this regulation and may be added as paragraphs to this section.

(a) Whenever an amendment adds any food product to the list of items covered in Table A, you must figure your ceiling price for that food product in accordance with sections 3, 4 and 5. However, in doing so, you shall substitute the effective date of such amendment for the date April 30, 1951, whenever it appears in sections 3, 4 and 5.

(b) Whenever an amendment changes either a commodity definition in Table A by transferring a food product from one commodity group to another or the markup for your group of retailers, you must by the opening of business on the effective date of such amendment refigure your ceiling prices for the items affected by such amendment. However in doing so, you must use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" you used in figuring the ceiling prices you had on the effective date of the amendment.

ARTICLE II—SPECIAL PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 17. Addition allowed for deliveries made by you to your customers. (a) If you deliver to your customers' homes or places of business any of the items covered by this regulation, you may add to the total value of the delivery, as a separate charge, 25 cents for such delivery, if the total value thereof is $3 or more.

SEC. 18. Additions for packaging. (a) If you buy in bulk any item covered by this regulation (except spices, tea and gelatin) and then package and sell it in cardboard containers, cotton bags, transparent bags, interlined coffee bags, or Kraft bags or similar type bags, on which the name, weight and ingredients of the commodity and your name are stamped or printed and which are packed and sealed at a place and time other than the point and time of sale, you may add to your "net cost" whichever of the following allowances applies:

(1) 2 cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of less than 2 pounds.

(2) 2½ cents for every such bag or container with a net weight of 2 pounds or more, but less than 5 pounds.

(3) 1 cent per pound for every such bag or container with a net weight of 5 pounds or more but not to exceed a total of 5 cents.

SEC. 19. Gift and holiday packages assembled by you. If you assemble, into gift or holiday packages, any food items covered by this regulation, with or without any items not covered by this regulation, you must figure your ceiling price for such package under whichever of the following paragraphs applies:

(a) For packages assembled in cardboard, wooden, or other plain containers (for example, "overseas" or "servicemen's" packages), your ceiling price will be the sum of the following, multiplied by 1.05:

(1) Your ceiling price for each item (or article) being packed, figured under this regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation. If you have no ceiling price for any item (or article), use your current selling price for that item.

(2) Your direct cost of the packaging materials used for the particular package, including the container.

(b) For packages assembled in permanent containers designed and constructed for re-use (including but not limited to trays, cedar boxes, hampers, teakwood chests, fancy baskets), your ceiling price will be the sum of the following, multiplied by 1.15:

(1) Your ceiling price for each item (or article) being packed, figured under this regulation or any other applicable ceiling price regulation. If you have no ceiling price for any item (or article), use your current selling price for that item.

(2) Your ceiling price for the container figured under the applicable ceiling price regulation. If you have no ceiling price for the container, use your direct cost for the container.

(3) Your direct cost of the packaging materials used for the particular package.

SEC. 20. Special allowance for forwarding gift package to a donee in a foreign country. If you deliver a food package directly upon order of the purchaser to a donee (other than a member of the armed forces of the United States) in a foreign country outside of the North American continent, you may add to your ceiling price an amount not to exceed 50 cents for forwarding such package, plus the actual mailing and insurance charges. This allowance may be applied only to the shipment and delivery of individual food gift packages and not of wholesale lots.

SEC. 21. Sections in Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 which you must use if they apply to your method of doing business. Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15, which covers the same food items as this regulation, but for Groups 3 and 4 stores, contains a number of special pricing provisions which you are required to follow if you perform the operations they cover. (You may obtain a copy of Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15 from the OPS District Office for your area.) The sections of that regulation which you must follow if they apply to you are as follows:

(a) Section 21 How you figure your "net cost" in certain cases (applies to you if you have items of frozen fruits, berries, or vegetables in storage for a period of 4 weeks or more; if you process smoked fish prior to offering it for sale).

(b) Section 22 Additions for delivery from your warehouse to your store (applies to you if your usual receiving point is a warehouse over 125 miles from your store).

(c) Section 23 How you figure your ceiling prices for foods you "manufacture or otherwise process" (applies to you if you manufacture or process any of the foods covered by this regulation).

(d) Section 25 Mail Order Sales (applies to you if you make mail order sales).

(e) Section 33 Export Sales (applies to you if you make export sales).

SEC. 22. How you figure ceiling prices for items if you are also a wholesaler and receive such items from a warehouse owned or controlled by you. (a) If, prior to January 1951 you owned or controlled a warehouse physically separate and apart from your retail store, and you acted as a wholesaler distributing from such warehouse, food products to independent retail stores not owned or controlled by you, and you still own or control such a warehouse, you may, in figuring your ceiling price for each item customarily obtained by you from such warehouse and sold by you from your retail store to the ultimate consumer other than commercial, industrial or institutional users, use as the basis of your "net cost," the net cost you used in figuring your ceiling prices for your wholesale sales under Ceiling Price Regulation No. 14 plus the markup allowed in that regulation for a Class 1 (retailer-owned cooperative) wholesaler. To get your ceiling prices, reduce the resulting figure to the "net cost" of a single unit and apply the markup for your group of retailer as set forth in section 4.

(b) Within 10 days after you first figure your prices in accordance with the provisions of this section, you must notify the OPS district office for your area in writing that you have so figured your prices.

SEC. 23. Special pricing provisions for manufacturers selling some commodities at retail. Any person, the larger part of whose business is the manufacturing or processing of foods, but

(a) His entire business in connection with a particular commodity consists of the purchase and resale of such commodity without materially changing its form, and

(b) The larger part of his sales of such commodity are made to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users,

(c) Shall figure his ceiling prices for sales of such commodity to ultimate consumers other than commercial, industrial or institutional users in accordance with the provisions of this regulation, and shall for such purposes be considered a retailer covered by this regulation.

ARTICLE III—ADJUSTMENT PROVISIONS

SEC. 24. How certain stores, where necessary to assure an adequate supply of food in a locality, may apply for markup adjustments. (a) If your store is necessary to provide an adequate supply of food products in a locality; and by reason of remote location, long-term credit, short selling season, or other such unusual operating conditions, you find it impossible to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation, you may apply for an adjustment of such mark-ups by filing with the OPS district office for your area two copies of a signed statement giving for your store: (1) its name and address; (2) its group under this regulation; (3) its type (for example, cash-and-carry; service, delicatessen); (4) the approximate number of its food customers; (5) the total number of stores selling food in its community; (6) its distance from the nearest store selling food and the name and address of that store; and (7) the reasons why you are unable to operate under the mark-ups fixed by this regulation.

If you have more than one store you may file one application for all your stores which meet the conditions stated above. Your application must state separately for each store the specific information this section calls for.

(3) Any Regional Office of the OPS, or such offices as may be authorized by order issued by the appropriate Regional Office, may act on all applications for adjustment under the provisions of this regulation. Applications for adjustment are governed by Price Procedural Regulation 1.

ARTICLE IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 25. How you find the "annual gross sales" of your store. (a) To find your "annual gross sales", take your total sales for the calendar year 1950. Include all sales as shown on your books, except sales made by a restaurant operated in conjunction with your store. You can use your Federal Income Tax Return to get your gross sales for all or part of the calendar year 1950 which is covered by such return. If you own more than one store, figure the sales for each store separately, treating each as a separate retailer.

(b) If you were not in business during the entire year 1950 you must divide your total sales from the time you began operation up to April 30, 1951 by the number of weeks you were in business. This will get you your weekly average sales. Multiply this figure by 52, and the result is your "annual gross sales".

SEC. 26. How you determine your group in certain special cases.—(a) Department stores. If you operate a department store, that is, a store in which the greater volume of sales is general merchandise and not foods, and you sell foods in a separate department or departments, you must determine your group by using only the "annual gross sales" of your food department or departments.

(b) Stores in which more than one retailer operates. (1) If you sell food in a retail store in which there are other food retailers, none of whom sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you must find your group by taking the combined "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store. If the total "annual gross sales" of all the food retailers in that store is not readily available, you shall apply, in writing, within 30 days after the issuance of the regulation to the OPS District Office for your area, for a determination of your group, stating your own "annual gross sales" figure for the applicable year. Each District Director is authorized to act on requests covering stores located within his district, and action taken shall be by order.

(2) If you sell foods in a retail store in which more than one retailer sells a complete line of the same general class of food, you will be considered as operating a separate retail store of your own, and you must determine your group by using only your own sales.

(c) New stores. If you open a retail store after April 30, 1951, you may consider yourself a Group 1 or Group 3 retailer, depending upon whether or not at that date your store is an "independent" store, and you must figure your ceiling prices accordingly. (If you are a Group 3 store, you must figure your ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation No. 15.) However, after you have been in business for 3 months you must determine again what group your store is in. To do this, take your total sales for the 3-month period and multiply by 4. Use the result as your "annual gross sales" in determining the group in which your store belongs.

Furthermore, if by reason of the new store you are now one of four or more stores under one ownership, you must at the end of the three-month period refigure the combined "annual gross sales" for all your stores. If the comoined "annual gross sales" are $750,000 or more, all of your stores must then be considered as Group 3 or Group 4 stores. You may continue to use the existing ceiling prices in each store until the second Monday following the end of the 3 month period, by which time you must have refigured all of your ceiling prices in each store, using the markups for its proper group.

If you find that only the new store should now be in another group, you may continue to use the Group 1 mark-ups until the second Monday following the end of the 3-month period, by which time you must have refigured all your ceiling prices using the mark-ups for your new group in which this store falls. You shall use as your "net cost" the same "net cost" which you would have used in refiguring your ceiling prices on that Monday. If, under that section, you would not have been required to refigure your ceiling price for any item on that Monday, you shall use as your "net cost" for that item the same "net cost" on which your existing ceiling price at that time is based.

SEC. 27. Taxes. You may collect, in addition to your ceiling price, any tax upon or incident to a sale at retail of food covered by this regulation if you state the tax separately, and if the statute or ordinance does not prohibit sellers from stating and collecting the tax separately from the price.

SEC. 28. Transfer of business and stock in trade. If, after April 30, 1951, you acquire in any way the business assets, and stock in trade of any retail store covered by this regulation and you carry on the business, or continue to deal in the same type of food products in that same store, your ceiling prices shall be the same as those of the former owner as if no transfer had taken place. You must keep all the records needed to verify your ceiling prices. The former owner must either preserve and make available to you, or give you, all the records of his transactions before you acquire the store which you need to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

If the transfer changes the business from one group of retail stores to another, your ceiling prices shall be those for the group of retailer to which you belong under this regulation.

SEC. 29. Relation to other regulations. The provisions of this Ceiling Price Regulation No. 16, except as otherwise provided in this regulation, shall, on and after April 30, 1951, supersede the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, and any other price regulation or order issued by the OPS with respect to sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation.

SEC. 30. Definitions. (a) Retail route seller. A "retail route seller" is a retailer who distributes food products to ultimate consumers who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, either on a future delivery basis or otherwise, from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances operated by driver-salesmen over regular routes. A retailer, most of whose business is the personal solicitation of orders by salesmen calling at the homes or places of business of ultimate consumers, who are not commercial, industrial or institutional users, shall also be considered a retail route seller. A retailer is a "retail route seller" only of the food products he sells in this way.

(b) Health food stores. A "health food store" or "health food department" is one whose sales to consumers consists principally of "specially prepared dietectic foods." For the purpose of this regulation a "health food department" is a separate and distinct department operated by separate and specially trained personnel and for which separate records and accounts are maintained. "Specially prepared dietetic foods" are foods manufactured and sold for restricted diets and for special dietetic purposes, including but not limited to, specially prepared foods for diabetic or arthritic conditions, or high blood pressure; specially prepared weight building or tonic foods; and vitamin or mineral supplements.

(c) Delivery. Delivery to you of an item covered by this regulation shall be considered to have occurred when the item has been received by you at your usual receiving point.

(d) Usual receiving point. Your usual receiving point will be either your retail store or your warehouse from which you supply your retail stores, depending upon where you normally receive the particular item you are pricing under this regulation.

(e) Item. You must determine a separate ceiling price for each item: that is, for each kind, brand, size, variety, grade, container-type, and container-size.

(f) Manufacture or otherwise process. "Manufacture or otherwise process" shall mean blending, freezing, canning, preserving, bottling, milling, crushing, straining, roasting, centrifuging, cooking, distilling, purifying with heat, printing of butter, and other similar operations, and packaging of spices, tea and gelatin.

Packaging as used in section 18 shall not be considered manufacturing or processing under this regulation.

(g) Group 3 retailer. A retailer is in Group 3 if he has an "annual gross sales" of less than $375,000 and he is not an "independent" retailer.

(h) Group 4 retailer. A retailer is in Group 4 whether "independent" or not, if he has an "annual gross sales" of $375,000 or more.

(i) Great Lakes marine supplier. A "Great Lakes marine supplier" means a person operating a selling establishment which buys and resells food products for the most part to "operators of a lake vessel or vessels," for consumption aboard such vessel or vessels, with delivery from shore locations by use of truck or launch facilities. "Operator of a lake vessel or vessels" means any person who owns or operates a lake vessel or vessels, other than passenger boats, engaged in shipping upon the Great Lakes, and who in operating such vessels purchases or receives food products covered by this regulation from a Great Lakes marine supplier for consumption aboard such vessels.

SEC. 31. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 States of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

(b) Instructions for use of Table A, Table B, and Table C. Tables A and B contain the mark-ups for all commodities in this regulation. Table C is included to assist you in determining ceiling prices without burdensome calculations.

Table A lists by commodity groups the "dry groceries" covered by this regulation and the mark-ups to be used by Group 1 and Group 2 retailers in figuring their ceiling prices. Table B gives the same information for "perishables." However, in addition, Table B also lists the selling units, on the basis of which retailers must figure their net costs and ceiling prices for "perishables." For a detailed list of the items in each commodity group, see "Commodity definitions of dry groceries" printed immediately after Table A, and the "Commodity definitions of perishables" printed immediately after Table B. After you have determined your "net cost" for an item in accordance with the method set up in this regulation, find your proper mark-up in the commodity group which includes the item you are pricing. Commodity groups are listed at the left of Table A and Table B. Directly opposite each commodity group you will find a percentage mark-up for your group of retailers.

If a percentage mark-up is shown, you get your ceiling price for the item by turning to Table C, which shows the ceiling price for all items with per unit net costs ranging from ½ to 75 cents. Percentage mark-ups over net cost are listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, and "net cost" across the top of the table. "Net cost per unit" means, in the case of dry groceries, the "net cost" of a single unit (one can, one jar, etc.). For perishables, it means the "net cost" of the selling unit listed in the last column of Table B.

To determine your ceiling price from Table C, find your net cost at the top of the table. Go down that column until you come to the figure (in that column) on the same line as your mark-up. The figure at that point is your ceiling price for the item.

If your net cost per unit is more than 75 cents, you cannot use Table C to get your ceiling price. In those cases, you must (1) multiply your net cost by your percentage mark-up, (2) add the result to your net cost, and (3) round the sum to the nearest whole cent. For perishables, your net cost must be in terms of the selling unit specified in Table B.

Example. A Group 1 retailer wishes to figure a new ceiling price for "XX Brand," 11 oz. canned tomato soup, which he must put into effect by April 30, 1951, in accordance with section 3. In figuring his ceiling price, his "net cost" must be based on a purchase of a customary quantity from a customary type of supplier delivered to his "usual receiving point" by a customary means of delivery. Therefore, if prior to April 30, 1951, a Group 1 retailer's most recent purchase was five cases of XX Brand, 11 oz. canned tomato soup which he has purchased from a wholesaler (his customary type of supplier), at a delivered cost of $4.60 a case (48 cans), he must under sections 3 and 4 figure and put into effect a new ceiling price for the item by April 30, 1951. This is the most recent delivery of a customary quantity of the item he has received prior to April 30th (from his customary type of supplier delivered to his usual receiving point by a customary means of delivery). He must first figure, to the nearest half cent, his "net cost" on a single unit basis (section 4 (a) (2)), that is, for a single can. He therefore divides the cost for the case, $4.60, by the number of single units in the case, 48, and gets a result of $0.0958, before rounding. Rounding to the nearest half cent, this becomes $0.095 (if the figure had been $0.0924 before rounding, he would have rounded to $0.09). He then turns to Table A to find the markup to be applied to his net cost. Going down the column at the left of Table A he will find a listing of the commodity group which includes the item he is pricing. For canned tomato soup, this group is "soups, (canned)." Going across the page on that line, he will find his markup for the item in the column for Group 1 retailers. In this case his markup is 27 percent. Having his mark-up and net cost, Table C will give him his ceiling price without computations. Checking across the top of Table C, he finds a column headed by his net cost, $0.095. Going down this $0.095 column until he comes to the figure on the same line as the 27 percent markup listed in the column at the extreme left of Table C, he will find a ceiling price for the item to be $0.12 per can.

(c) Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on the 5th day of April 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-5, as Amended, Mar. 26, 1951]

M-5—RATED ORDERS FOR ALUMINUM

This amendment to NPA Order M-5, dated March 7, 1951, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. In the formulation of this amendment, however, such consultation has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M-5 by increasing each of the percentages included in section 5 (b) and in section 6 (a) and 6 (b) by 15 percent, and the percentage in section 7 by 20 percent.

As amended, this order now reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Aluminum forms and products to which this order applies.
3. Required delivery dates.
4. Rejection of rated orders.
5. Limitations for acceptance of rated orders.
6. Total tonnage limitation for acceptance of rated orders.
7. Distributors and jobbers.
8. Scheduled programs.
9. NPA assistance in placing rated orders.
10. Adjustments and exceptions.
11. Communications.
12. Reports.
13. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to primary and secondary producers, fabricators, distributors and jobbers of aluminum and provides rules for placing, accepting, and scheduling rated orders for aluminum. Its purpose is to make possible maximum production of aluminum by reducing to a minimum disruption of normal distribution and by providing equitable distribution of rated orders among all aluminum producers and fabricators and all distributors and jobbers of aluminum. It supplements NPA Reg. 2, but only those provisions of Reg. 2 which are contradictory to this order are superseded, and all other provisions of that regulation continue to apply to the aluminum industry.

SEC. 2. Aluminum forms and products to which this order applies. This order applies to the following forms and products of aluminum.

Rod and bar.
Wire (under ⅜").
Cable (electrical transmission only).
Rivets.
Forgings and pressings (before machining).
Impact extrusions.
Castings.
Rolled structural shapes (angles, channels, zees, tees, etc.).
Extruded shapes.
Sheet, strip and plate.
Slugs.
Foil.
Tubing.
Tube blooms.
Powder (including atomized, granular, flake, paste and pigment).
Ingot, pig, billets, slabs.

SEC. 3. Required delivery dates. A rated order for aluminum in the forms listed in section 2 must specify shipment on a particular date or during a particular month, which in no case may be earlier than required by the person placing the order. The producer of aluminum must schedule the order for shipment within the requested month as close to the requested shipment date as is practicable considering the need for maximum production.

SEC. 4. Rejection of rated orders. Producers and fabricators of aluminum in the forms listed in section 2 need not accept a rated order which is received less than 60 days prior to the first day of the month in which shipment is requested, unless specifically directed to accept the order by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 5. Limitations for acceptance of rated orders. Subject to the tonnage limitation stated in section 6 and unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority:

(a) In order to make provision for a supply of metal to independent fabricators of aluminum, producers of primary aluminum shall accept rated orders from such fabricators up to 11½ percent of their scheduled production each month of primary pig and ingot;

(b) No aluminum producer or fabricator shall be required to accept rated orders for the products listed below for shipment in any one month in excess of the following percentages of his average monthly shipments of such products during the first eight months of 1950:

	Percent
Sheet (coiled and flat), plate, circles, and blanks	55
Extrusions and tubing	60
Rolled shapes	45
Rod, bar, wire, and cable	50
Forgings and pressings	75
Castings	55
Secondary ingots	60
All other mill products, each	55

SEC. 6. Total tonnage limitation for acceptance of rated orders. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority:

(a) No producer of primary aluminum shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage of aluminum products, including pig and ingot, in excess of 60 percent of his scheduled production in terms of total primary pig tonnage for that month; no producer of secondary aluminum shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage of aluminum products, including ingots, in excess of 60 percent of his scheduled production in terms of total ingot tonnage for that month;

(b) No fabricator of aluminum shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage of aluminum products in excess of 60 percent of his average monthly shipments during the first 8 months of 1950.

SEC. 7. Distributors and jobbers. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no distributor or jobber of aluminum products shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage of aluminum products in excess of 45 percent of the products available to him during such month.

SEC. 8. Scheduled programs. The National Production Authority will from time to time approve scheduled programs calling for the production and delivery of aluminum products for stated purposes over specified periods of time. Upon approval of major programs of this type, supplements to this order will be issued describing such programs and specifying the manner in which they are to be carried out by the Aluminum Industry. Thereafter, directives will be issued to individual concerns establishing schedules for their participation in such programs. Such directives shall be complied with by the recipients in accordance with the terms thereof, unless otherwise directed by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 9. NPA assistance in placing rated orders. Any person who is unable to place a rated order for aluminum due to the limitations imposed by sections 5, 6 or 7 should apply to the National Production Authority, Light Metals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M-5, specifying the producers, fabricators, distributors or jobbers who refused to accept the order. The National Production Authority will arrange to assist him in locating sources of supply.

SEC. 10. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an unreasonable hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of national defense. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the reasons why denial of the request could result in undue and exceptional hardship.

SEC. 11. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-5.

SEC. 12. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act.

SEC. 13. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order, as amended, shall take effect on April 1, 1951.

[NPA Order M-12, as Amended, Mar. 9, 1951, Direction 2]

M-12—USE OF COPPER AND COPPER-BASE ALLOYS

DIR. 2—BASE PERIOD; APPLICATIONS FOR ADJUSTMENT; USE DURING THE SECOND CALENDAR QUARTER OF 1951

The following direction is issued under NPA Order M-12 as amended March 9, 1951. This direction relates to the permitted use of the forms and products of copper which are specified in section 3 of the order during the second calendar quarter of 1951.

SECTION 1. (a) (1) Paragraph (c) of section 6 of the order states that no person shall use in manufacture, installation, or construction "During the calendar quarter commencing on April 1, 1951, a total quantity by weight of the forms and products of copper defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of section 3 (including copper forms and products produced under toll and conversion agreements or other similar arrangements) in excess of 75 percent of his average quarterly use of such copper during the base period: Provided, however, That such use in any one month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted use."

(2) Paragraph (d) of section 6 states that no person shall manufacture or use in installation or construction "During each of the calendar quarters commencing on January 1, 1951, and April 1, 1951, a total quantity by weight of foundry products in excess of 100 percent of his average quarterly use of such products during the base period."

(b) Section 8 of the order states: "Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, during the calendar quarter commencing on January 1, 1951, and each calendar quarter thereafter, no person shall use for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies a quantity by weight of the forms and products of copper defined in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) of section 3 in excess of 100 percent of his average quarterly use for such purposes during the base period."

(c) "Base period" is defined by section 2 (b) as the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(d) Section 12 states, in part, that "any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry. • • •"

(e) A number of requests for adjustment have been filed with the National Production Authority upon the ground that the application of the base period to the applicants' business operations caused undue hardship upon the applicants by reason of the fact that their business operations were substantially interrupted during the base period. This direction will constitute a determination of adjustment with respect to the limitations stated in section 6 (c) and (d) and section 8 of the order in such cases, whether or not applications for adjustment have been filed with the National Production Authority under section 12 thereof. This determination is subject, however, to the conditions hereinafter stated.

Direction. In any case in which production or manufacturing operations or construction was shut down or suspended for more than 15 consecutive calendar days, the applicant in determining its average quarterly use during the base period may exclude from the base period specified in the order the month or months in which the shut-down or suspension existed and may calculate the same to be three times its average monthly use during the base period as above determined.

Illustration 1: The A company was shut down from March 16 through April 5, 1950. Its base period will comprise the months of January, February, May, and June 1950. Its average monthly use will be one-fourth of its total use during these months, and its average quarterly use will be three times this average monthly use.

SEC. 2. (a) The above determination of adjustment is subject to the following conditions: (1) That every person relying on this determination will, promptly after the date of the issuance of this direction, prepare a detailed written record of the facts relating to the application of the determination to his operations which will be signed by such person or by an authorized officer or representative; and (2) that such record shall be retained for at least 2 years and will be made available at his usual place of business for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(b) The National Production Authority reserves the right to modify or revoke adjustments made pursuant to this Direction No. 2. Any person affected by such a modification or revocation will be notified in writing of the nature of the action taken and the reasons therefor. Such actions will be effective upon such date or dates subsequent to the date of the notification as are specified therein.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp., sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61)

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this direction have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This direction shall take effect on March 27, 1951.

[NPA Order M-33, as Amended Mar. 27, 1951]

M-33—MOLYBDENUM—DISTRIBUTION AND USE

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order as amended there has been consultation with industry representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. Consultation with trade association representatives was impossible because there is no trade association. Consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of the issuance of this order was impracticable because the order affects a large number of different trades and industries.

This order as amended constitutes a completely new order and as of its effective date rescinds all sections of NPA Order M-33 as issued January 27, 1951, but all provisions of NPA Order M-33 as issued January 27, 1951, shall be and remain in full force and effect as to transactions preceding the effective date of this order as amended.

NPA Order M-33, as amended, reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Relation to other regulations and orders.
4. Substitution required.
5. Allocation authorization required.
6. Exceptions to allocation requirements.
7. Conservation of scrap.
8. Limitations on inventory.
9. Records to be kept.
10. Audit and inspection.
11. Reports.
12. Adjustments and exceptions.
13. Communications.
14. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Con.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve and to provide for the distribution and use of molybdenum, as hereinafter defined, so as best to serve the interests of the national defense program and of defense supporting activities. It makes molybdenum subject to allocation. It prohibits, subject to certain exceptions, deliveries of molybdenum, except by authorizations to be issued monthly by the National Production Authority (hereinafter called "NPA").

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Molybdenum" means and includes molybdenum metal powder, wire, rod, or sheet; ferro-molybdenum; molybdenum oxide; all primary molybdates; all primary molybdenum compounds used as a source of molybdenum in any manufacturing process; all scrap molybdenum metal; and all other scrap, waste materials, and residues containing commercially recoverable molybdenum.

SEC. 3. Relation to other regulations and orders. The provisions of this order supersede all NPA regulations and orders to the extent that they are in conflict herewith, but in all other respects such regulations and orders continue in full force and effect. NPA may, from time to time, issue directives as to deliveries or use of molybdenum and, unless otherwise provided therein, such directives will prevail over the provisions of this order.

SEC. 4. Substitution required. No person, whether pursuant to a DO rated order or otherwise, shall incorporate any molybdenum into any product or material in any case in which the incorporation of a substitute or substitutes will meet the requirements for use to be made of any such product or material.

SEC. 5. Allocation authorization required. (a) After May 1, 1951, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of or use molybdeum (except scrap molybdenum metal or other scrap, waste materials, and residues containing molybdenum) in any month except in accordance with the terms of an allocation authorization issued for such month by NPA in accordance with this section. In the case of a person who keeps separate inventory records for any separate operating or producing units, each such separate operating or producing unit shall be deemed a person for purposes of this section.

(b) NPA may, from time to time, allocate the supply of molybdenum and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or for particular uses may be made or withheld. Any person seeking to place a purchase order for molybdenum may be required to place the same with one or more specified suppliers.

(c) An application for an allocation must be filed with NPA by the applicant on Form NPAF-15 and Form NPAF-48, not later than 45 days preceding the first day of the month in which delivery is sought. An application for an allocation for delivery in May 1951 must be filed not later than April 15, 1951. Each application must furnish all information required by said forms, including information concerning scrap, waste materials, and residues.

(d) The authorization allocation (Form NPAF-48) issued will be sent by NPA to the appropriate supplier or suppliers and a copy furnished to the purchaser. The authorization will require a supplier to make delivery to the extent of the purchaser's orders within the limits of the authorization.

SEC. 6. Exceptions to allocation requirements. The provisions of section 5 of this order shall not apply to:

(a) Deliveries to the General Services Administration, or any other duly authorized governmental agency, for the purposes of stockpiling.

(b) Deliveries to any person whose total receipts from all sources during the calendar month in which such deliveries are received are not thereby made to exceed 200 pounds of contained molybdenum, and who delivers a signed certification to his supplier as follows:

Certified under M-33

Such certification constitutes a representation to the supplier and to NPA that the purchaser is authorized under the provisions of this order to accept delivery of molybdenum as permitted in this order, and that his receipt of the shipment in the amount requested, during the month of specified delivery, will not bring his total receipts of molybdenum during that month above 200 pounds of contained molybdenum. The exception afforded by this paragraph (b) to the requirements of section 5 of this order shall not extend to deliveries of molybdenum metal powder, wire, rod, or sheet every delivery, receipt or use of which or of any of which shall, except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, be subject to the requirements of section 5 of this order.

(c) Deliveries of molybdenum-bearing ores and concentrates.

(d) Deliveries of scrap molybdenum metal.

(e) Deliveries of other molybdenum-bearing scrap.

SEC. 7. Conservation of scrap. No person shall dispose of any scrap, waste material, or residue (other than scrap molybdenum metal) containing commercially recoverable molybdenum which is fit for remelting except for use in the production of molybdenum-bearing steel.

SEC. 8. Limitations on inventory. No person shall place an order for or shall accept delivery of molybdenum metal powder, wire, rod, or sheet at a time when his inventory exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 60 days' requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation. No person shall place an order for or shall accept delivery of any other form of molybdenum at a time when his inventory exceeds, or by acceptance of such delivery would be made to exceed, 45 days' requirements at his then scheduled rate and method of operation. Any person who, on the effective date of this order or at any other time, has outstanding orders for molybdenum for delivery in quantities greater than he would be permitted to receive under this section shall forthwith notify his supplier of the extent to which delivery cannot be accepted as scheduled, and such orders shall be adjusted accordingly. Imported as well as domestic molybdenum, except when such imported molybdenum has been purchased for resale, is subject to this section and is therefore to be included in computing inventory. Molybdenum which has been subjected to minor processing, but has not yet been actually incorporated into a finished or partially finished product, is likewise to be included in computing inventory. This section is applicable irrespective of whether or not any such orders or deliveries are made in accordance with an allocation authorization. In the case of a person who keeps separate inventory records for any separate operating or producing units, each such separate operating or producing unit shall be deemed a person for purposes of this section.

SEC. 9. Records to be kept. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 10. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of NPA.

SEC. 11. Reports. (a) Every person who at any time in a calendar month had in his possession or under his control or who during a calendar month consumed more than 200 pounds of molybdenum (i. e., molybdenum content) shall report to NPA on Form NPAF-15 on or before the 15th day of the following month. However, if he applies on such form for an allocation of molybdenum for delivery during a succeeding month, his application serves also as the required report.

(b) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 12. Adjustments and exceptions. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for an adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 13. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M-33.

SEC. 14. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or furnishes false information or conceals any material fact in the course of operation under it, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment, or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on March 27, 1951.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Indian Affairs

[25 CFR, Part 130]

FLATHEAD INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA

ORDER FIXING OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES

MARCH 21, 1951.

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act of June 11, 1946 (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 238), and authority contained in the acts of Congress approved August 1, 1914; May 18, 1916; and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583, 25 U. S. C. 385; 39 Stat. 142; and 45 Stat. 210, 25 U. S. C. 387), and by virtue of authority delegated by the Secretary of the Interior to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs August 28, 1946, and by virtue of the authority delegated by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to the Regional Director September 14, 1946, which title was changed to Area Director September 13, 1949, by Order No. 2535, notice is hereby given of the intent to modify §§ 130.24, 130.26 and 130.28 of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, dealing with irrigable lands of the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, that are subject to the jurisdiction of the several irrigation districts.

Charges applicable to all irrigable lands of the Flathead Indian Irrigation Project that are included in the Irrigation District Organization and are subject to the jurisdiction of the three irrigation districts.

§ 130.24 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Flathead Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on May 12, 1928, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated February 27, 1929; March 28, 1934; August 26, 1936, and April 5, 1950, notice is hereby given of intention to fix an assessment of $165,400 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Flathead Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 67,924 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.26 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Mission Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on March 7, 1931, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on April 21, 1931, as supplemented by later contracts June 2, 1934, and August 26, 1936, notice is hereby given of intention to fix an assessment of $31,500 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Mission Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 12,736 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians, and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.28 Charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Jocko Valley Irrigation District, Flathead Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, on November 13, 1934, approved by the Secretary of the Interior on February 26, 1935, as supplemented and amended by later contracts dated August 26, 1936, and April 18, 1950, notice is hereby given of an intention to fix an assessment of $14,200 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation system which serves that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Jocko Valley Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 5,579 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians, and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

The foregoing proposed amendments are to become effective for the irrigation season of 1952 and continue in effect thereafter until further notice.

Interested persons are hereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the proposed amendments by submitting their views, data or arguments in writing to Paul L. Fickinger, Area Director, Bureau of Indian Affairs, 806 North 29th Street, Billings, Montana, within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice of intention in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PAUL L. FICKINGER,
Area Director.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[49 CFR, Part 179]

REVISION OF TRANSFER RULES AND REGULATIONS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

MARCH 26, 1951.

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 5 U. S. C. 1003) notice is hereby given of the proposed revision of the transfer rules and regulations (49 CFR 179.0–179.6) to include the matter of transfers involving duplicative operating rights. It is proposed to amend § 179.1 by adding thereto paragraph (c), to read as follows:

(c) (1) The Commission will not approve a transfer of operating rights to a person who controls, or who is controlled by, or who is under common control with another person who is the holder of operating rights which duplicate, in whole or in part, except to an immaterial extent, those proposed to be transferred.

(2) The Commission will not approve a transfer of operating rights for a limited period, whether by lease, operating contract, or otherwise, to a person who is the holder of operating rights which duplicate, in whole or in part, except to an immaterial extent, those proposed to be transferred.

(3) Operating rights which authorize the transportation of passengers or of the same commodities from and to, or between, the same points shall be regarded as duplicating.

(4) Where reference is made to control in this section, such reference shall be construed to have the same meaning as that contained in section 1 (3) (b) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 1 (3) (b)).

(5) The term "holder" as used in this section means the record holder of the operating rights, including a lessor.

(6) The term "person" as used in this section means a person as defined in section 203 (a) (1) of the Interstate Commerce Act (49 U. S. C. 303 (a) (1)).

(7) This section may be suspended, in the discretion of the Commission, with respect to transfers which are proposed because of conditions resulting from national emergency.

No oral hearing is contemplated, but anyone wishing to make representations in favor of or against the proposed rule may do so through the submission of written data, views or arguments. The original and five copies of such submission shall be filed with the Commission on or before May 15, 1951.

Notice to the general public shall be given by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission for public inspection and by filing a copy with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

By the Commission, Division 5.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

PUBLIC UTILITY DISTRICT NO. 1 OF OKANOGAN COUNTY

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR LICENSE (MAJOR)

MARCH 23, 1951.

Public notice is hereby given that Public Utility District No. 1 of Okanogan County, Okanogan, Washington, has filed application under the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a–825r) for license for constructed major Project No. 2062, located on Similkameen River in Okanogan County, Washington, affecting public lands of the United States. The project consists of a concrete dam forming a reservoir with useful storage capacity of 212 acre-feet, two pipelines, a powerhouse containing two 2,500-horsepower turbines and two 1,600-kilowatt generators, switching equipment, a 33-kilovolt transmission line from the power plant to Oroville, Washington, and appurtenant facilities.

Any protest against the approval of this application or request for hearing thereon, with the reason for such protest or request and the name and address of the party or parties so protesting or requesting should be submitted on or before May 3, 1951, to the Federal Power Commission.

[Project No. 2072]

WISCONSIN MICHIGAN POWER CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR LICENSE (MAJOR)

MARCH 23, 1951.

Public notice is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a–825r) that Wisconsin Michigan Power Company, of Appleton, Wisconsin, has made application for license for proposed Project No. 2072 (Lower Paint Dam) to be located on Paint River in Iron County, Michigan. The proposed project would consist of a concrete gravity diversion dam about 740 feet long creating a reservoir with normal head-water at elevation 1,287 feet; a canal about 7,640 feet long with a maximum capacity of 1,700 cubic feet per second for diversion of water from the reservoir to the applicant's Peavy Falls reservoir of Project No. 1759 for use through plants on the Michigamme River; a power house at the foot of the dam containing a 155-horsepower turbine connected to a 100-kilowatt induction generator operating under a head of 22 feet; a substation; and a 6,900-volt transmission line extending from substation to applicant's Brule plant.

Any protest against approval of this application or request for hearing thereon, with the reasons for such protest or request, and address of the party or parties so protesting or requesting should be submitted on or before the 4th day of May 1951, to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

MARCH 23, 1951.

Public notice is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a–825r) that Wisconsin Michigan Power Company, of Appleton, Wisconsin, has made application for license for proposed Project No. 2073 (Michigamme Falls Plant) to be located on the Michigamme River in Iron County, Michigan. The proposed project would consist of a dam about 1,390 feet long just above the mouth of Brule River; a reservoir covering about 565 acres at normal water surface elevation 1,190 feet and a gross storage capacity of about 9,100 acre-feet; a powerhouse integral with the dam containing two units each consisting of a 6,500-horsepower turbine and a 4,800-kilowatt generator; a substation; a 66-kilovolt transmission line to connect with the Applicant's existing Brule plant substation; and appurtenant facilities. The static head would be about 60 feet.

Any protest against approval of this application or request for hearing thereon, with the reasons for such protest or request, and the address of the party or parties so protesting or requesting should be submitted on or before the 4th day of May 1951, to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

WISCONSIN MICHIGAN POWER CO.

MARCH 23, 1951.

Public notice is hereby given pursuant to the provisions of the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a–825r) that Wisconsin Michigan Power Company of Appleton, Wisconsin, has made application for license for proposed project No. 2074 (Hemlock Falls Plant) to be located on Michigamme River, Iron County, Michigan. The proposed project would consist of a dam about 360 feet long creating a reservoir with normal pool elevation at 1,336 feet extending upstream about 3.3 miles to the Way Dam; a powerhouse integral with the dam containing a 3,800-horsepower turbine connected to a 2,800-kilowatt capacity generator; a substation; a 69-kilovolt transmission line to connect with the applicant's Way Dam Plant-Crystal Falls line; and appurtenant facilities. The net static head will be 34 feet.

Any protest against approval of this application or request for hearing thereon, with the reasons for such protest or request, and address of the party or parties so protesting or requesting should be submitted on or before the 4th day of May 1951, to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

WASHINGTON WATER POWER CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR PRELIMINARY PERMIT

MARCH 23, 1951.

Public notice is hereby given that The Washington Water Power Company, of Spokane, Washington, has filed application under the Federal Power Act (16 U. S. C. 791a–825r) for preliminary permit for proposed water power Project No. 2075 (Noxon Rapids) to be located on Clark Fork River in Sanders County, Montana, and consisting of a concrete dam at the Noxon Rapids site creating a reservoir about 17 miles long with normal water surface at elevation 2,249 feet; a powerhouse with installed capacity of 197,000 horsepower and provision for additional capacity; a 230-kv. transmission line connecting the plant with the transmission system of the Applicant; and appurtenant facilities. The preliminary permit, if issued, shall be for the sole purpose of maintaining priority of application for a license under the terms of the Federal Power Act for the proposed project.

Any protest against the approval of this application or request for hearing thereon, with the reasons for such protest or request and the name and address of the party or parties so protesting or requesting, should be submitted before May 10, 1951, to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

[Docket No. G-1632]

SOUTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MARCH 23, 1951.

Take notice that Southern Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation of Birmingham, Alabama, filed on March 9, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of a line tap and meter and regulating station on Applicant's main transmission pipe line, just west of Applicant's Onward compressor station, Sharkey County, Mississippi.

Applicant proposes by means of these facilities to sell and deliver natural gas to Mississippi Power & Light Company for transportation and distribution in the Towns of Cary, Rolling Fork and Anguilla, Mississippi. These communities are part of the Deer Creek Natural Gas District (a political subdivision of the state of Mississippi) which will construct the transmission lines and distribution systems, and lease such facilities to Mississippi Power & Light Company.

The peak day requirements of these three communities are estimated at 578 Mcf for the first year and 807 Mcf for the fifth year.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities is $15,000 to be financed from Applicant's current funds.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 11th day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

[Docket No. G-1634]

LOUISVILLE GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MARCH 23, 1951.

Take notice that Louisville Gas and Electric Company (Applicant), a Kentucky corporation, of Louisville, Kentucky, filed on March 12, 1951, an application pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing Applicant to make available natural gas to Pittsburgh and West Virginia Gas Company (Pittsburgh) by, when possible, reducing its purchases of natural gas from Kentucky West Virginia Gas Company (Kentucky) in order to enable Kentucky to have additional gas available for delivery to its affiliate, Pittsburgh.

The application recites that Applicant, Pittsburgh and Kentucky, entered into an agreement on March 2, 1951, to carry out the proposed arrangement, the purpose being to aid Pittsburgh and its parent company, Equitable Gas Company (Equitable), to overcome their deficiencies in supply of natural gas. The agreement provides that Applicant shall be reimbursed for the difference between the rates of Kentucky and Texas Gas Transmission Corporation to the extent Applicant may reduce its monthly purchases from Kentucky below scheduled quantities.

The proposed arrangement does not involve the construction or enlargement of any facilities since deliveries are to be made through existing facilities.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 11th day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

MONTANA-DAKOTA UTILITIES CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

MARCH 23, 1951.

Take notice that on March 21, 1951, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission, pursuant to section 204 of the Federal Power Act, by Montana-Dakota Utilities Co., a corporation organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, and doing business in the States of Minnesota, Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Wyoming, with its principal business office at Minneapolis, Minnesota, seeking an order authorizing the issuance of 230,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $5 per share, $3,000,000 of First Mortgage Bonds, __Percent Series due April 1, 1976, and $2,000,000 of First Mortgage __Percent Serial Bonds, due serially $100,000 on April 1 in each of the years 1952 to 1971, inclusive. Applicant requests an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements covering the issue and sale of the Common Stock, but proposes to issue the Bonds at competitive bidding; all as more fully appears in the application on file with the Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard, or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 12th day of April 1951, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

MANUFACTURERS LIGHT AND HEAT CO.

MARCH 23, 1951.

Take notice that The Manufacturers Light and Heat Company (Applicant), a Pennsylvania corporation, of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, filed on March 21, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of approximately 172 miles of 16-inch, 20-inch, and 24-inch gas transmission pipeline, together with measuring stations, and river crossings, beginning at a point of connection with the 6-inch gas pipeline of Trans-Penn Transit Corporation in Gallagher Township, Clinton County, Pennsylvania, extending through Clinton, Centre, Clearfield, Indiana, Westmoreland and Allegheny Counties in as direct a line as possible to a point in Allegheny County on the west side of the Monongahela River within the northern limits of the City of Clairton, and thence to a junction of certain existing pipelines of Applicant on the Tannehill farm northwest of Cannonsburg in Chartiers, Township, Washington County, Pennsylvania.

Applicant states that the purpose of the proposed facilities is for delivering gas from the producing fields in Clinton County, Pennsylvania, and vicinity, into the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, area where a shortage of gas existed during the peak periods of the past winter, and, in addition, gas from the proposed facilities will decrease the estimated 1951-52 deficiency of gas supply within the Columbia Gas System. Applicant estimates that the theoretical maximum capacity of the proposed line will be approximately 105,000 Mcf per day at an inlet pressure of 1,000 pounds and an outlet pressure of 300 pounds, and believes that this will be ample capacity to take care of the production which it may reasonably expect to secure through purchase or drilling in the Leidy and other Northern Pennsylvania fields.

No new markets will be served by the gas obtained, but Applicant will use such gas to help meet the requirements of its existing customers in the Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania area where a shortage of gas existed during the peak periods of the past winter.

The estimated cost of the proposed facilities is $9,613,000, to be financed with funds obtained by Applicant from its parent company, The Columbia Gas System, Inc.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) before the 13th day of April 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

MEMBER LINES OF THE ATLANTIC CONFERENCE ET AL.

NOTICE OF AGREEMENTS FILED WITH THE BOARD FOR APPROVAL

Notice is hereby given that the following described agreements have been filed with the Board for approval pursuant to section 15 of the Shipping Act, 1916, as amended.

Agreement No. 7840-18, between the member lines of the Atlantic Conference, modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 7840) to extend the period of the year during which party organizers may be given free passages. Agreement No. 7840, as amended, covers passenger traffic between all ports of European, Mediterranean, and Black Sea countries, also ports of Morocco, Madeira and the Azores Islands—and all ports on the east coast of North America (United States, Canada and Newfoundland), also United States Gulf ports.

Agreement No. 7840-15, between the member lines of the Atlantic Conference, modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 7840) to include a more complete provision governing admission of other carriers to Conference membership.

Agreement No. 7813, between Mississippi Shipping Co., Inc., and Grace Line, Inc., is a cooperative working arrangement covering booking and transportation of passengers on Around South America tours. Agreement No. 7813 will replace Agreement No. 7518 between said parties.

Agreement No. 7723-1, between Aktieselskapet Hav, Aktieselskapet Havtank and Aktieselskapet Inger, modifies the joint service agreement between the parties (No. 7723) to provide that the joint service will be under the general agency of United States Navigation Co., Inc., instead of A. L. Burbank & Co., Ltd. as presently recorded in approved agreement 7723.

Agreement No. 7688-1, between Compagnie Maritime Belge, S. A. and Compagnie Maritime Congolaise, S. C. R. L. modifies the approved joint service agreement of the parties (No. 7688) by extending the geographical scope thereof to include East Africa. Agreement 7688 as presently worded covers the trade between East Coast ports of North America (but not including transportation within the purview of the Coastwise laws of the United States) and ports in Belgium, Holland, the Mediterranean, India, Pakistan and Belgian Congo, and in seas and waters adjacent thereto and connected therewith.

Agreement No. 7350-3, between the member lines of the Spain-Portugal North Atlantic Range Conference, modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 7350, as amended) to provide that any party thereto may withdraw therefrom by giving 90 days' notice. As presently worded Agreement 7350, as amended, provides that any party may withdraw at the end of any calendar year by giving three months' notice.

Agreement No. 6400-5, between the member lines of the Pacific Coast River Plate Brazil Conference, modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 6400, as amended), (a) to include a clause covering the procedure to apply in the event members desire to absorb or equalize insurance differentials as between vessels of members or other carriers; (b) to include a clause governing notices of meetings and subjects to be considered; (c) to include provisions with respect to meetings with other conferences and to participation of members in agreements entered into by the Conference; (d) to clarify the language of certain provisions of the Conference agreement; and (e) to rearrange the order in which certain provisions shall appear in the conference agreement.

Agreement No. 4188-17, between the member lines of the Gulf and South Atlantic Havana Steamship Conference, modifies the basic agreement of said Conference (No. 4188, as amended) to provide that decisions with respect to rates, charges, classifications and practices for and in connection with the transportation of cargo covered by the agreement shall be by a two-thirds vote, instead of by unanimous vote as presently in effect, of the members present at a meeting.

Interested parties may inspect these agreements and obtain copies thereof at the Regulation Office, Federal Maritime Board, Washington, D. C., and may submit, within 20 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, written statements with reference to any of the agreements and their position as to approval, disapproval, or modification together with request for hearing should such hearing be desired.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

Dated March 26, 1951.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2591]

UNITED GAS CORP. AND UNITED GAS PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of March A. D. 1951.

United Gas Corporation ("United"), a gas utility subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company, a registered holding company, and United's wholly owned subsidiary, United Gas Pipe Line Company ("Pipe Line"), having filed a joint application-declaration and amendment thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6 (a), 7, 9 (a) (1), 10, 12 (c) and 12 (f) thereof with respect to the following proposed transactions:

United proposes to borrow from time to time within a period of sixty days from the date hereof, the aggregate amount of $25,000,000 from certain banks. Said loans will be evidenced by promissory notes, dated as of the date of the borrowing payable on or before December 31, 1951, and bearing interest at the rate of 2½ percent per annum. proceeds from the proposed loans will be used to purchase during the next twelve months, an aggregate of $25,000,000 principal amount of Pipe Line's First Mortgage Bonds, 4 percent series due 1971, for cash at par. The bonds to be so acquired by United will be pledged under its existing Mortgage and Deed of Trust.

Pipe Line proposes the issuance of the $25,000,000 principal amount of its bonds to United under Pipe Line's existing Mortgage and Deed of Trust as supplemented and to be supplemented. Proceeds from the sale of the bonds by Pipe Line will be used in connection with its construction program and for general corporate purposes.

The application-declaration states that United and Pipe Line are engaged in a construction program estimated to require the expenditure of approximately $165,000,000 during the years 1951 and 1952 for improvements to existing facilities and construction of new facilities. This program, it is stated, will require the issuance and sale of securities by United to the public, in the 12-month period ending in March, 1952, in the aggregate amount of approximately $145,000,000, the nature and precise amounts of such securities to be the subject of further application to this Commission. The loans herein proposed will be repaid by United out of the issuance of such securities.

Said application-declaration having been filed on March 12, 1951, an amendment thereto having been filed on March 19, 1951, notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner required by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, the Commission not having received a request for hearing within the time specified in said notice or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission observing that the proposed borrowings constitute an appropriate method of temporary financing on the part of United and Pipe Line prior to the submission by those companies of a program for permanently financing their construction program; the Commission finding that the proposed transactions are in accordance with the applicable standards of the act, and that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder; and the Commission deeming it appropriate to grant the application herein and permit the declaration to become effective:

It is ordered, That said application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective, forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 16 NUMBER 62

Washington, Friday, March 30, 1951

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter IV—Production and Marketing Administration and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter C—Loans, Purchases, and Other Operations

[1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supp. 1, Wheat]

PART 601—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1951-CROP WHEAT LOAN AND PURCHASE AGREEMENT PROGRAM

A price support program has been announced for the 1951 crop of wheat. The 1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (16 F. R. 1987), issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and containing the general requirements with respect to price support operations for grains and related commodities produced in 1951, is supplemented as follows:

Sec.
601.1211 Purpose.
601.1212 Availability of price support.
601.1213 Eligible wheat.
601.1214 Warehouse receipts.
601.1215 Determination of quantity.
601.1216 Determination of quality.
601.1217 Maturity of loans.
601.1218 Determination of support rates.
601.1219 Warehouse charges.
601.1220 Settlement.

AUTHORITY: §§ 601.1211 to 601.1220 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. Sup., 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072, secs. 101, 401, 63 Stat. 1051, 1054; 15 U. S. C. Sup., 714c, 7 U. S. C. Sup., 1441, 1421.

§ 601.1211 Purpose. Sections 601.1211 to 601.1220 state additional specific requirements which, together with the general requirements contained in the 1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (16 F. R. 1987) apply to loans and purchase agreements under the 1951-Crop Wheat Price Support Program.

§ 601.1212 Availability of price support—(a) Method of support. Price support will be made available through farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and through purchase agreements.

(b) Area. Farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and purchase agreements will be available wherever wheat is grown in the continental United States except that farm-storage loans will not be available in areas where the PMA State committee determines that wheat cannot be safely stored on the farm.

(c) Where to apply. Application for price support should be made at the office of the PMA county committee which keeps the farm-program records for the farm.

(d) When to apply. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from the time of harvest through January 31, 1952, and the applicable documents must be signed by the producer and delivered to the county committee not later than such date.

(e) Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be an individual, partnership, association, corporation, or other legal entity producing wheat in 1951 as landowner, landlord, tenant or sharecropper.

§ 601.1213 Eligible wheat. At the time the wheat is placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, it must meet the following requirements:

(a) The wheat must have been produced in the continental United States in 1951 by an eligible producer.

(b) The beneficial interest in the wheat must be in the person tendering the wheat for loan or for delivery under a purchase agreement, and must always have been in him, or must have been in him and a former producer whom he succeeded before the wheat was harvested.

(c) Such wheat must be:

(1) Wheat of any class grading No. 3 or better; or

(2) Wheat of any class grading No. 4 or 5 on the factor of "test weight" and/or because of containing "Durum" and/or "Red Durum" but otherwise grading No. 3 or better. (If the wheat is warehouse stored, the quality of the wheat must be evidenced by a statement on the warehouse receipt, the inspection certificate, the supplemental certificate, or supplemental certificate and delivery order in the case of warehouses operated by eastern common carriers, substantially as follows: "This wheat grades No. _____ because of _____"); or

(3) Wheat of the class Mixed Wheat, consisting of mixtures of grades of eligible wheat as stated in subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph provided such mixtures are the natural products of the field.

(d) Wheat grading Tough, Weevily, or Ergoty, shall not be eligible, except that wheat represented by warehouse receipts grading tough or weevily will be eligible if the warehouseman certifies on the supplemental certificate or on a statement attached to the warehouse receipt "That wheat grading "tough" or weevily" has been processed at the request of the eligible producer, and that delivery will be made of the same country-run quality, quantity, grade and protein (if any), not tough or weevily, and no lien for processing will be claimed by the warehouseman from Commodity Credit Corporation or any subsequent holder of said warehouse receipt."

(e) Except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section wheat of the class hard red spring, durum, or red durum, shall not contain more than 14½ percent moisture, and wheat of any other class shall not contain more than 14 percent moisture.

(f) If offered as security for a farm-storage loan, the wheat must have been stored in the granary at least 30 days prior to its inspection for measurement, sampling, and sealing, unless otherwise approved by the PMA State committee.

§ 601.1214 Warehouse receipts. Warehouse receipts, representing wheat in approved warehouse storage to be placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, must meet the following requirements of this section:

(a) Warehouse receipts must indicate that the wheat is insured, must be issued in the name of the producer, must be properly endorsed in blank so as to vest title in the holder and must be issued by a warehouse approved by CCC under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement (Insured in accordance with the terms of the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement), or warehouses operated by eastern common carriers under tariffs approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for which custodian agreements are in effect.

(b) Each warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate (in duplicate) properly identified with the warehouse receipt must show: (1) Gross weight or bushels, (2) class and subclass, (3) grade (including special grades), (4) test weight, (5) dockage, (6) protein content (where determined by protein analysis or station average), and (7) any other grading factor(s) when such factor(s), and not test weight, determine the grade.

Also, the warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate must show whether the wheat arrived by rail, truck, or barge. In the case of warehouse receipts issued for wheat delivered by rail or barge, the grading factors, classes and subclasses, protein content (where determined by protein analysis) on the warehouse receipt must agree with the inbound inspection and protein certificates for the car or barge when such certificates are issued.

(c) In the case of warehouse receipts issued for wheat delivered by rail or barge, the protein content, as determined by a recognized protein testing laboratory, must be shown on each warehouse receipt (or supplemental certificate accompanying the warehouse receipt) representing wheat of the subclasses of hard red spring and hard red winter and the varieties of Early Baart and Bluestem of the subclass hard white wheat, except that protein content need not be shown for the subclasses hard winter, and yellow hard winter produced in States or areas tributary to markets where a showing of protein content is not customarily required.

(d) A separate warehouse receipt must be submitted for each grade and subclass of wheat.

(e) The warehouse receipt may be subject to liens for warehouse charges only to the extent indicated in § 601.1219.

(f) Warehouse receipts representing wheat which has been shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to a designated terminal point or shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to a storage point and stored in transit to a designated terminal point, must be accompanied by registered freight bills, or by (1) a statement as indicated below signed by the warehouseman, (2) a certificate of the warehouseman containing such information or (3) such form of certificates as may be approved by CCC.

§ 601.1215 Determination of quantity. The quantity of wheat placed under farm-storage loan may be determined either by weight or by measurement. The quantity of wheat placed under a warehouse-storage loan or delivered under a farm-storage loan or under a purchase agreement shall be determined by weight.

When a quantity is determined by weight, a bushel shall be 60 pounds of wheat free of dockage. In determining the quantity of sacked wheat by weight, a deduction of ¾ of a pound for each sack shall be made.

When the quantity of wheat is determined by measurement, a bushel shall be 1.25 cubic feet of wheat testing 60 pounds per bushel. The quantity determined shall be the following percentages of the quantity determined for 60 pound wheat:

For wheat testing:	Percent
65 pounds or over	108
64 pounds or over, but less than 65 pounds	107
63 pounds or over, but less than 64 pounds	105
62 pounds or over, but less than 63 pounds	103
61 pounds or over, but less than 62 pounds	102
60 pounds or over, but less than 61 pounds	100
59 pounds or over, but less than 60 pounds	98
58 pounds or over, but less than 59 pounds	97
57 pounds or over, but less than 58 pounds	95
56 pounds or over, but less than 57 pounds	93
55 pounds or over, but less than 56 pounds	92
54 pounds or over, but less than 55 pounds	90
53 pounds or over, but less than 54 pounds	88
52 pounds or over, but less than 53 pounds	87
51 pounds or over, but less than 52 pounds	85
50 pounds or over, but less than 51 pounds	83

The percentage of dockage shall be determined and the weight of such dockage shall be deducted from the gross weight of the wheat in determining the net quantity available for loan or purchase.

§ 601.1216 Determination of quality. The class, subclass, grade, grading factors, and all other quality factors shall be determined in accordance with the methods set forth in the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Wheat, whether or not such determinations are made on the basis of an official inspection.

In the States of California, Idaho, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington, the quantity of smut shall be stated in terms of half percent, whole percent, or whole and half percent, and the quantity of smut so determined in pounds shall be deducted from the weight of the wheat after deduction of dockage. Elsewhere the smut condition of the wheat shall be determined on a degree basis. Where applicable, the words "light smutty" or "smutty" shall be added to, and made a part of, the grade designation.

The garlic condition of the wheat shall be made a part of the grade designation by addition of the words "light garlicky" or the word "garlicky".

§ 601.1217 Maturity of loans. Loans mature on demand but not later than April 30, 1952.

§ 601.1218 Determination of support rates. Basic support rates for wheat will be set forth in 1951 CCC Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Wheat, and will be established for No. 1 dark hard winter, No. 1 hard winter, No. 1 yellow hard winter, No. 1 red winter, No. 1 western red, No. 1 soft white, No. 1 white club, No. 1 western white, No. 1 hard white, No. 1 heavy dark northern spring, No. 1 heavy northern spring, No. 1 hard amber durum, No. 1 amber durum, and No. 1 durum. These support rates will be established for wheat stored in approved warehouse storage at designated terminal markets, and for wheat stored in approved country warehouses and in approved farm storage. The support rate for the quality of wheat placed under a loan or delivered under a purchase agreement shall be the applicable basic support rate adjusted in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(a) Support rates at designated terminal markets. Wheat eligible for loan or purchase at the support rate established for designated terminal markets must have been shipped on a domestic interstate freight rate basis. On any wheat shipped at other than the domestic interstate freight rate the support rate at the designated terminal market shall be reduced by the difference between the freight paid (plus tax) and the domestic interstate freight rate (plus tax).

The support rates established for designated terminal markets apply to wheat which has been shipped by rail or water from a country shipping point to one of the designated terminal markets, as evidenced by paid freight bills duly registered for transit privileges: Provided, That in the event the amount of paid-in freight is insufficient to guarantee the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate from the terminal market, there shall be deducted from the applicable terminal support rate the difference between the amount of freight actually paid in and the amount required to be paid in to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate.

When shipped by rail or water and stored at any designated terminal market, wheat for which neither registered freight bills nor such freight certificates are presented to guarantee outbound movement at the minimum proportional domestic interstate freight rate, shall have a support rate equal to the terminal rate minus 8 cents per bushel.

For wheat received by truck and stored at any designated terminal market, the support rate shall be determined by making a deduction from the terminal rate as follows:

Terminal located in:	Amount of deduction (cents per bushel)
Area I: Arizona, California, Idaho, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington, Utah	12½
Area II: Colorado, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Wyoming, Wisconsin	13
Area III: Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia	14
Area IV: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas	14

(b) Support rates for wheat in approved warehouse storage at other than designated terminal markets. (1) Except for the States designated in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, the support rate for wheat stored in approved warehouses (other than those situated in the designated terminal markets) which is shipped by rail or water shall be determined by deducting from the appropriate designated terminal market rate an amount equal to the transit balance, if any (plus tax) of the through-freight rate from point of origin for such wheat to such terminal market: Provided, That in the case of wheat stored at any railroad transit point, taking a penalty by reason of out-of-line movement, or for any other reason, to the appropriate designated market, there shall be added to such transit balance an amount equal to any out-of-line costs or other costs incurred in storing wheat in such position.

(2) In the States of Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, North Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia, the PMA commodity office shall, upon request of the county committee, determine the support rate for wheat stored in approved warehouses (except those situated at designated terminal markets) which was shipped by rail in the movement of natural market direction as approved by CCC, by adding to the county rate for the county from which the wheat was shipped an amount per bushel equal to the receiving and loading-out charges computed in accordance with the applicable rates of the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement for the 1951 crop and an amount equal to the transit value of the freight paid (plus tax) from points of origin to markets designated by CCC. The warehouse receipts must be accompanied by the original paid freight bills or certificates of the warehouseman and other required documents as set forth in § 601.1214 (f). If the wheat is stored in approved warehouses located at transit points, taking a penalty by reason of backhaul, or out-of-line of natural market movements, such penalty or other costs by reason of such movement, as determined by CCC, shall be deducted from the support rates as determined in this paragraph.

(c) Discounts and premiums. The basic support rates shall be adjusted by the premiums and discounts listed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, to determine the support rate for wheat of different classification and quality.

(1) Classification discounts.

Where the date of deposit (the date of the warehouse receipt if the date of deposit is not shown) on warehouse receipts representing wheat stored in warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement is on or before April 30, 1952, the storage charges shown in the following table shall be deducted in computing the amount of the loan or purchase price.

Warehouse receipts and the wheat represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operated by eastern common carriers may be subject to liens for warehouse elevation (receiving and delivering) and storage charges from the date of deposit at rates approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

For wheat stored in approved warehouses operated by eastern common carriers there shall be deducted in computing the loan or purchase price the amount of the approved tariff rates for storage (not including elevation), which will accumulate from the date of deposit to the program maturity date. The county committee shall request the PMA commodity office to determine the amount of such charges. Where the producer presents evidence showing that the elevation has been prepaid, the amount of the storage charges to be deducted shall be reduced by the amount of the elevation charge prepaid by the producer.

§ 601.1220 Settlement—(a) Farm-storage loans. In the case of wheat delivered to CCC from farm-storage under the loan program, settlement shall be made at the applicable support rate for the approved point of delivery. The support rate shall be for the grade and quality of the total quantity of wheat delivered.

If the wheat under farm-storage loan is, upon delivery, of a grade and/or quality for which no support rate has been established, the settlement value shall be the support rate established for the grade and/or quality of the wheat placed under loan less the difference, if any, at the time of delivery, between the market price for the grade and/or quality placed under loan and the market price of the wheat delivered, as determined by CCC.

If farm stored wheat is delivered to CCC prior to April 30, 1952, upon request of the producer and with the approval of CCC, the loan settlement shall be reduced as set forth in the table in § 601.1219.

(b) Purchase agreement. Wheat delivered to CCC under a purchase agreement must meet the requirements of wheat eligible for loan. The purchase rate per bushel of eligible wheat shall be the support rate established for the approved point of delivery, subject to deduction of warehouse charges in accordance with § 601.1219.

(c) Track-loading. A track-loading payment of 2 cents per bushel shall be made to the producer on wheat delivered to CCC on track at a country point.

Issued this 27th day of March, 1951.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter I—Production and Marketing Administration (Standards, Inspections, Marketing Practices), Department of Agriculture

PART 51—FRUITS, VEGETABLES AND OTHER PRODUCTS (INSPECTION, CERTIFICATION, AND STANDARDS)

SUBPART B—UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR FRESH FRUITS, VEGETABLES AND OTHER PRODUCTS

UNITED STATES STANDARDS FOR BROCCOLI FOR PROCESSING

On February 15, 1951 a notice of rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (F. R. Doc. 51-2259; 16 F. R. 1595) regarding proposed United States Standards for Broccoli for Processing. After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following United States Standards for Broccoli for Processing are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950).

§ 51.147 Standards for broccoli for processing—(a) General. (1) The accompanying grades for broccoli are intended to facilitate transactions between growers and processors who may wish to use a purchasing system based upon the quality of broccoli delivered. These grades are an outgrowth of the widely accepted principle that price should be directly proportional to quality. The grower who delivers high quality deserves a premium price, because such broccoli enables the processor to pack a better quality finished product.

(2) In the application of these standards, it is assumed that sellers will not sort their broccoli into separate lots of

U. S. No. 1 and U. S. No. 2 grades before delivery to the buyer, and that the buyer will pay a certain price for the percentage of each grade in the lot as determined by inspection. Upon delivery, the inspector will simply sort representative samples taken from each lot and determine the percentage of each grade. Final settlement would then be made by applying the percentage of each grade to the total weight of the lot, and then applying the contract prices established for each grade. Under such a procedure, there is no need for tolerances.

(b) Grades—(1) U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 consists of stalks of broccoli which are fresh, tender, and have good characteristic color, and compact heads; which are free from decay and cull material, and are free from damage caused by discoloration, freezing, hollow stem or pithiness, scars, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects, and mechanical or other means. (See Trimming Requirements.)

(i) Unless otherwise specified, the length shall be not more than 6 inches nor less than 4 inches, and the diameter of the stem shall be not less than three-eighths inch. (See Cull Material.)

(2) U. S. No. 2. U. S. No. 2 consists of stalks of broccoli which are fresh, tender, and have good characteristic color, and fairly compact heads; which are free from decay and cull material, and are free from damage caused by scars, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects; and are free from serious damage caused by discoloration, freezing, hollow stem or pithiness, and mechanical or other means. (See Trimming Requirements.)

(i) Unless otherwise specified, the length shall be not more than 6 inches nor less than 3 inches, and the diameter of the stem shall be not less than one-fourth inch. (See Cull Material.)

(c) Culls. Culls are stalks of broccoli which fail to meet the requirements of either of the foregoing grades.

(d) Cull material. (See definition No. 6.)

(f) Definitions. (1) "Stalk" means a portion of the broccoli plant including the stem, bud cluster and leaves.

(2) "Fresh" means that the broccoli is not badly wilted or excessively flabby.

(3) "Tender" means that the broccoli is succulent, and reasonably free from fibrous material and is not tough, or stringy.

(4) "Good characteristic color" means that the stem and external portion of the head has a light green or darker shade of green color, except that purplish color shall also be allowed on the external portion of the head.

(5) "Compact head" means that the individual head is closely formed, not open or spread to the extent that it has a loose appearance, and that the individual florets are fairly tightly formed and not more than moderately elongated.

(6) "Cull material" means all foreign material, any portion of the stem in excess of the maximum length specified, all stalks under the minimum length specified for the U. S. No. 2 grade, and all coarse, damaged and discolored leaves, and leaves extending more than one and one-half inches above the top of the head.

(7) "Damage" means any defect which more than slightly affects the appearance, or the processing or edible quality of the head, or any portion of the stem within 5 inches from the top of the head. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(i) Discoloration, when more than very slight, or which will not change to light green or darker shade of green color in the ordinary process of blanching.

(ii) Freezing, when causing more than slight discoloration of the individual unit.

(iii) Hollow stem or pithiness, when discolored, or when more than slightly affecting the appearance of the individual unit.

(iv) Scars, when discolored, or when more than slight or superficial.

(v) Dirt or other foreign material, when more than slight, or which cannot be removed in the ordinary washing process.

(vi) Disease, when showing discoloration, or when more than slightly affecting the appearance, or the processing or edible quality.

(vii) Insects, when worms or worm frass are present, or when there is more than slight infestation by other insects.

(8) "Diameter" means the greatest thickness of the stem measured at a point 6 inches from the top of the head, except that stems which are less than 6 inches in length shall be measured at the base of the stem.

(9) "Fairly compact head" means that the individual head is fairly closely formed and not excessively spread and that the florets are not on the verge of opening and will not open in the ordinary process of blanching.

(10) "Serious damage" means any defect which materially affects the appearance, or the processing or edible quality of the head, or any portion of the stem within 5 inches from the top of the head. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as serious damage:

(i) Discoloration, when the appearance of the individual unit is materially affected.

(ii) Freezing, when causing discoloration which materially affects the appearance of the individual unit.

(iii) Hollow stem or pithiness, when discolored, or when materially affecting the appearance of the individual unit. Units which show a ragged appearance or deep holes shall be considered as serious damage.

(g) Effective time. The United States Standards for Broccoli for Processing contained in this section shall become effective thirty (30) days after the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

PART 905—MILK IN OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 905.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that;

(1) The said order, as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions hereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order, amending the order, effective not later than April 1, 1951, so as to reflect current market conditions. Any further delay beyond this time, in the effective date of this order, amending the order, will seriously impair the orderly marketing of milk in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area. The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held December 11 and 12, 1950, and the decision of the Secretary having been issued on March 13, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time, under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, effective April 1, 1951, and that it would be impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (Sec. 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the said order which is marketed within the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, amending the order, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order, amending the order, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and issuance, and who during the representative period (December 1950), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

1. Add the following as § 905.14:

§ 905.14 Base milk. "Base milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is not in excess of such producer's daily average base computed pursuant to § 905.65 multiplied by the number of days in such month for which such producer delivered milk to such handler.

2. Add the following as § 905.15:

§ 905.15 Excess milk. "Excess milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is in excess of base milk received from such producer during such month, and shall include all milk received from a producer for whom no daily average base can be computed pursuant to § 905.65.

3. Delete § 905.22 (j) (2) and substitute therefor the following:

(2) On or before the 12th day of each month the uniform price(s) computed pursuant to § 905.71 or § 905.72, as applicable and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81, both for the previous month; and

4. Delete § 905.30 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in milk received from producers, and, for the months of April through June, the aggregate quantities of base milk and excess milk;

(5) Delete § 905.31 (a) and substitute therefor the following: "(a) the total pounds of milk received from each producer and cooperative association, the total pounds of butterfat contained in such milk and the number of days on which milk was received from such producer, including for the months of April through June such producer's deliveries of base milk and excess milk;"

6. Delete § 905.51 (a) and (b) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk. The basic formula price plus $1.45 during the months of April, May, and June and plus $1.85 during all other months: Provided, That for each of the months of September, October, November, and December, such price shall be not less than that for the preceding month, and that for each of the months of April, May, and June such price shall be not more than that for the preceding month.

(b) Class II milk. The average of the basic or field prices reported to have been paid or to be paid for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location

Fairmont Foods Co., Guthrie, Okla.
Wilson & Company, Blackwell, Okla.
Kraft Cheese Co., Sulphur, Okla.
Hawk Dairy, Tulsa, Okla.

Provided, That such price shall be not less than the average of the basic or field prices paid or to be paid for such milk by the Gilt Edge Dairy, Norman, Oklahoma.

7. Add the following as a center heading and §§ 905.65 and 905.66:

DETERMINATION OF BASE

§ 905.65 Computation of daily average base for each producer. For the months of April through June of each year the market administrator shall compute a daily average base for each producer as follows, subject to the rules set forth in § 905.66:

(a) Divide the total pounds of milk received by a handler(s) from such producer during the months of September through December immediately preceding by the number of days, not to be less than ninety, of such producer's delivery in such period: Provided, That for the months of April through June 1951, the total pounds of milk received by handlers from a producer in December 1950 and January 1951 shall be divided by 62 in order to determine such producer's daily average base.

§ 905.66 Base rules. The following rules shall apply in connection with the establishment of bases:

(a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered during the base forming period;

(b) Bases may be transferred only during the period of April through June by notifying the market administrator in writing before the last day of any month that such base is to be transferred to the person named in such notice only as follows:

(i) In the event of the death, retirement, or entry into military service of a producer, the entire base may be transferred to a member(s) of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy operations.

(ii) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated, the entire base may be transferred to one of the joint holders.

(c) A producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for more than 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

8. Amend § 905.71 by deleting from the first sentence thereof the words: "For each month" and substituting therefor the words "For each of the months of July through March."

9. Add the following as § 905.72:

§ 905.72 Computation of uniform prices for base milk and excess milk. For each of the months of April through June the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 905.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 905.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 905.80 and 905.83 for the preceding month;

(b) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 905.85;

(c) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(d) Compute the total value on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis of the excess milk included in these computations by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk not in excess of the total quantity of Class II milk included in these computations by the price for Class II milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, multiplying the hundredweight of such milk in excess of the total hundredweight of such Class II milk by the price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, and adding together the resulting amounts;

(e) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk, and adjust to the nearest cent. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

(f) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section from the value of all milk obtained in paragraph (c) of this section and adjust by any amount involved in adjusting the uniform price for excess milk to the nearest cent;

(g) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (f) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk included in these computations;

(h) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

10. Delete § 905.80 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) On or before the 15th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, to each producer (1) at not less than the uniform price computed pursuant to § 905.71 for all milk received from such producer, if such preceding month was any of the months of July through March, or (2) at not less than the uniform price for base milk computed pursuant to § 905.72, with respect to base milk received from such producer, and at not less than the uniform price for excess milk computed pursuant to § 905.72 with respect to excess milk received from such producer, if such preceding month was any of the months of April through June, in each case adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 905.81, and less the amount of the payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payment for such milk, the handler shall, if the cooperative association so requests, pay such cooperative association, on or before the 13th day after the end of the month, an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers in accordance with this paragraph.

11. In §§ 905.83 and 905.84 delete "§ 905.80 (a)" wherever it appears and substitute therefor "§ 905.80."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of March 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of April 1951.

PART 906—MILK IN THE TULSA, OKLA., MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING THE ORDER REGULATING HANDLING

§ 906.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order regulating the handling of milk in the Tulsa, Oklahoma, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as hereby amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as hereby amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as hereby amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order, amending the order, effective not later than April 1, 1951, so as to reflect current marketing conditions. Any further delay beyond this time in the effective date of this order, amending the order, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Tulsa, Oklahoma, marketing area. The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held December 13 and 14, 1950, and the decision of the Secretary having been issued on March 13, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time, under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, effective April 1, 1951, and that it would be impracticable, unnecessary and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (sec. 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the said order which is marketed within the Tulsa, Oklahoma, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order, amending the order, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order, amending the order, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of its approval and issuance, and who during the representative period (December 1950), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Tulsa, Oklahoma, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order as hereby amended, and the aforesaid order is hereby amended as follows:

1. Delete § 906.10 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 906.10 Producer. "Producer" means any person, other than a producer-handler, who produces milk which is received at an approved plant: Provided, That such milk is produced under a dairy farm permit, permit authorization or rating issued by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area for the production of milk to be disposed of for consumption as Grade A milk. This definition shall include any such person who is regularly classified as a producer but whose milk is caused to be diverted by a handler to an unapproved plant, and milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received at an approved plant by the handler who causes it to be diverted. This definition shall not include a person with respect to milk produced by him which is received at a plant operated by a handler who is subject to another Federal marketing order and who is partially exempt from the provisions of this order pursuant to § 906.61.

2. Add the following as § 906.14:

§ 906.14 Base milk. "Base milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is not in excess of each producer's daily average base computed pursuant to § 906.65 multiplied by the number of days in such month for which such producer delivered milk to such handler.

3. Add the following as § 906.15:

§ 906.15 Excess milk. "Excess milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is in excess of base milk received from each producer during such month, and shall include all milk received from producers for whom no daily average base can be computed pursuant to § 906.65.

4. Delete § 906.22 (j) (2) and substitute therefor the following:

(2) On or before the 12th day of each month the uniform price(s) computed pursuant to § 906.71 or § 906.72, as applicable, and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 906.82, both for the previous month; and

5. Delete § 906.30 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in milk received from producers, and, for the months of April through June, the aggregate quantities of base milk and excess milk;

6. Delete § 906.31 (a) and substitute therefor the following: "(a) the total pounds of milk received from each producer and cooperative association, the total pounds of butterfat contained in such milk and the number of days on which milk was received from such producer including for the months of April through June such producer's deliveries of base milk and excess milk;"

7. Delete § 906.51 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Class I milk. The basic formula price plus $1.45 during the months of April, May, and June and plus $1.85 during all other months: Provided, That for each of the months of September, October, November, and December, such price shall be not less than that for the preceding month, and that for each of the months of April, May, and June such price shall be not more than that for the preceding month.

8. Add the following as a center heading and §§ 906.65 and 906.66:

DETERMINATION OF BASE

§ 906.65 Computation of daily average base for each producer. For the months of April through June of each year the market administrator shall compute a daily average base for each producer as follows, subject to the rules set forth in § 906.66:

(a) Divide the total pounds of milk received by a handler(s) from such producer during the months of September through December immediately preceding by the number of days, not to be less than ninety, of such producer's delivery in such period: Provided, That for the months of April through June 1951, the total pounds of milk received by handlers from a producer in December 1950 and January 1951 shall be divided by 62 in order to determine such producer's daily average base.

§ 906.66 Base rules. (a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered during the base forming period;

(b) Bases may be transferred only during the period of April through June by notifying the market administrator in writing before the last day of any month that such base is to be transferred to the person named in such notice only as follows:

(i) In the event of the death, retirement, or entry into military service of a producer the entire base may be transferred to a member(s) of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy operations.

(ii) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated, the entire base may be transferred to one of the joint holders.

(c) A producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for more than 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

9. Amend § 906.71 by deleting from the first sentence thereof the words: "For each month" and substituting therefor the words "For each of the months of July through March."

10. Add the following as § 906.72:

§ 906.72 Computation of uniform prices for base milk and excess milk. For each of the months of April through June the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 906.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 906.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 906.80 and 906.84 for the preceding month;

(b) Add the aggregate of the values of all allowable location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 906.81;

(c) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 906.85;

(d) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 906.82 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(e) Compute the total value on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis of excess milk included in these computations by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk not in excess of the total quantity of Class II milk included in these computations by the price for Class II milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, multiplying the hundredweight of such milk in excess of the total hundredweight of such Class II milk by the price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, and adding together the resulting amounts;

(f) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (e) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk, and adjust to the nearest cent. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat received from producers.

(g) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (e) of this section from the value of all milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section and adjust by any amount involved in adjusting the uniform price of excess milk to the nearest cent;

(h) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (g) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk included in these computations;

(i) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

11. Delete § 906.80 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) On or before the 15th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, to each producer (1) at not less than the uniform price computed pursuant to § 906.71 for all milk received from such producer if such preceding month was any of the months of July through March, or (2) at not less than the uniform price for base milk computed pursuant to § 906.72, with respect to base milk received from such producer, and at not less than the uniform price for excess milk computed pursuant to § 906.72 with respect to excess milk received from such producer, if such preceding month was any of the months of April through June, in each case adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 906.82, subject to location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 906.81, less the amount of the payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payment for such milk, the handler shall, if the cooperative association so requests, pay such cooperative association, on or before the 13th day after the end of the month, an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers in accordance with this paragraph.

12. In §§ 906.84 and 906.85 delete "§ 906.80 (a)" wherever it appears and substitute therefor "§ 906.80."

13. Amend § 906.87 (b) by deleting the period at the end thereof, substituting therefor a comma, and adding thereto the following: "identified by a statement showing for each such producer the information required to be reported to the market administrator pursuant to § 906.31. In lieu of such statement a handler may authorize the market administrator to furnish such cooperative association the information with respect to such producers reported pursuant to § 906.31."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of March 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of April 1951.

PART 965—MILK IN THE CINCINNATI, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

§ 965.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order amending the order, as amended, effective not later than April 1, 1951. Certain provisions hereof affect prices to be paid to producers for milk delivered in April 1951, and such provisions have been found to be necessary in order to insure a sufficient supply of pure and wholesome milk for the marketing area. The provisions hereof are well known to interested persons, a recommended decision proposing provisions identical with those contained herein, having been issued on February 21, 1951 (16 F. R. 1832) and a decision having been issued on March 12, 1951 (16 F. R. 2443). The changes effected by this order amending the order, as amended, do not require extensive preparation by persons affected prior to its effective date. The time intervening between the date of issuance and the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, affords persons affected a reasonable time to prepare for its effective date. It is therefore found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective April 1, 1951, and that to delay the effective date 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest.

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of approval of its issuance and who, during the determined representative period (January 1951), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

ORDER RELATIVE TO HANDLING

It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 965.51 (a) by adding thereto the following: "Provided, That from the effective date of this proviso through April 1951 the Class I price for any month shall not be lower than in the immediately preceding month."

2. Amend § 965.51 (b) by adding thereto the following: "Provided, That from the effective date of this proviso through April 1951 the Class II price for any month shall not be lower than in the immediately preceding month."

3. Amend that portion of § 965.51 (c) which precedes subparagraph (1) thereof to read as follows:

(c) The price for Class III milk during each of the months of March through September shall be the higher of the prices computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph; and the price for Class III milk during each of the months of October through February, shall be the higher of the prices computed pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, plus 30 cents.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of March 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of April 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 968.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order amending the order, as amended, effective not later than April 1, 1951, so as to reflect current marketing conditions. Any delay beyond April 1, 1951, in the effective date of this order amending the order, as amended, will seriously impair the orderly marketing of milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area. The provisions of the said order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held October 24, 1950, and the decisions of the Secretary having been issued on March 14, 1951. Therefore, reasonable time, under the circumstances, has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making this order amending the order, as amended, effective April 1, 1951, and that it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (sec. 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, Public Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended) of more than 50 percent of the volume of milk covered by the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, which is marketed within the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area, refused or failed to sign the marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of the producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the representative period (January 1951), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Wichita, Kansas, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended to read as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 968.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended.

§ 968.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or any officer or employee of the United States who is authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 968.3 Wichita, Kansas, marketing area. "Wichita, Kansas, marketing area" means all the territory within the corporate limits of the city of Wichita, Kansas, and the territory within Delano, Kechi, Minneha, Riverside, Waco, and Wichita Townships and the city of Eastborough, all in Sedgwick County, Kansas.

§ 968.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 968.5 Approved dairy farmer. "Approved dairy farmer" means any person who holds a currently valid permit issued by the Health Department of the City of Wichita for the production of milk to be disposed of as Grade "A" milk.

§ 968.6 Producer. "Producer" means any approved dairy farmer, other than a producer-handler, whose milk is received at a pool plant or is diverted from a pool plant by the handler who operates such pool plant, or by a cooperative association, to a plant which is not a pool plant for the account of such handler or cooperative association.

§ 968.7 Approved plant. "Approved plant" means any plant approved by the health authorities of the city of Wichita, Kansas, for the handling of milk to be disposed of for fluid consumption as milk in the marketing area and currently used for any or all the functions of receiving, weighing (or measuring), sampling, cooling, pasteurizing or other preparation of milk for sale or disposition as milk or cream for fluid consumption in the marketing area.

§ 968.8 Pool plant. "Pool plant" means any approved plant other than that of a producer-handler, (a) during any delivery period of January, February, July, August, September, October, November, or December within which such plant disposes of as Class I or Class II milk in the marketing area, an amount of milk equal to 15 percent or more of such plant's receipts of milk from approved dairy farmers, and (b) during each of the delivery periods of March, April, May, and June, if during the preceding delivery periods of August, September, October, and November such plant (1) was a pool plant during each such delivery period, and (2) disposed of as Class I and Class II milk in the marketing area a total amount of milk equal to 50 percent or more of such plant's total receipts of milk from approved dairy farmers during such delivery periods: Provided, That an approved plant which was not an approved plant during each of the preceding delivery periods of August, September, October, and November shall be a pool plant during any of the delivery periods of March, April, May, and June within which such plant disposes of as Class I and Class II milk in the marketing area an amount of milk equal to 40 percent or more of such plant's receipts of milk from approved dairy farmers.

For the purposes of this definition, the following shall apply:

(1) Milk diverted from an approved plant for the account of the handler operating such approved plant shall be considered a receipt at the approved plant from which it was diverted; and

(2) Milk diverted from an approved plant to an unapproved plant for the account of a cooperative association which does not operate a plant shall be deemed to have been received by such cooperative association at a pool plant.

§ 968.9 Handler. "Handler" means any person who, on his own behalf or on behalf of others, disposes of as Class I or Class II milk in the marketing area all or a portion of the milk purchased or received by him at an approved plant from (a) approved dairy farmers, (b) his own production, and (c) other handlers. This definition shall include a cooperative association with respect to milk which it causes to be delivered from a producer to a plant from which no milk is disposed of as Class I milk or as Class II milk in the marketing area.

§ 968.10 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative association of producers which the Secretary determines (a) to have its entire activities under the control of its members, and (b) to have and to be exercising full authority in the sale of milk of its members.

§ 968.11 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any approved dairy farmer who operates an approved plant, but who receives no milk from other approved dairy farmers.

§ 968.12 Delivery period. "Delivery period" means the then current marketing period from the first to, and including, the last day of each month.

§ 968.13 Milk product. "Milk product" means any product manufactured from milk or milk ingredients except products which fall within the definition of Class III milk pursuant to paragraph (c) of § 968.41 and which are disposed of in the form in which received without further processing or packaging by the handler.

§ 968.14 Market administrator. "Market administrator" means the person designated pursuant to § 968.20 as the agency for the administration of this part.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 968.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this part shall be a market administrator who shall be a person selected by the Secretary. Such person shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at, the discretion of the Secretary.

§ 968.21 Powers. The market administrator shall:

(a) Administer the terms and provisions of this part, and

(b) Report to the Secretary complaints of violations of the provisions of this part.

§ 968.22 Duties. The market administrator shall:

(a) Within 45 days following the date upon which he enters upon his duties execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, in the amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Pay out of the funds provided by § 968.88 the cost of his bond, his own compensation, and all other expenses necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office;

(c) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part and surrender the same to his successor or to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(d) Publicly disclose to handlers and producers, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, the name of any person who within 10 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not (1) made reports pursuant to §§ 968.30 through 968.32 or (2) made payments pursuant to §§ 968.80 through 968.86; and

(e) Promptly verify the information contained in the reports submitted by handlers.

REPORTS, RECORDS AND FACILITIES

§ 968.30 Periodic reports. On or before the 7th day after the end of each delivery period each handler, except a producer-handler, shall, with respect to milk or milk products which were purchased, received, or produced by such handler during such delivery period, report to the market administrator in the detail and form prescribed by the market administrator, as follows:

(a) The receipts at each plant of milk from each producer or approved dairy farmer, the butterfat content, and the number of days on which milk was received from each producer;

(b) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from handlers who purchase or receive milk from producers or approved dairy farmers and the butterfat content;

(c) The receipts of milk, cream, and milk products from any other source and the butterfat content;

(d) The respective quantities of milk and milk products and the butterfat content which were sold, distributed or used, including sales to other handlers for the purpose of classification pursuant to § 968.40; and

(e) Such other information with respect to the use of the milk as the market administrator may request, including a separate statement of Class I and Class II milk disposed of within the marketing area.

§ 968.31 Reports of payments. On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, upon the request of the market administrator, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers or approved dairy farmers shall submit to the market administrator his producer payroll for such delivery period which shall show for each producer and each approved dairy farmer: (a) His total deliveries of base milk and total deliveries of milk in excess of base milk, (b) the average butterfat content of his milk, and (c) the net amount of such handler's payments to such producer or approved dairy farmer with the prices, deductions, and charges involved.

§ 968.32 Reports of producer-handlers. Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator shall require.

§ 968.33 Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audit of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk the classification depends. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and milk products and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(a) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk and milk products, and in case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(b) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk purchased or received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(c) Verify the payments to producers prescribed in § 968.80.

§ 968.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this part to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year periods, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly, upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 968.40 Basis of classification. All milk and milk products purchased, received or produced by each handler, including milk of a producer which a cooperative association causes to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area, shall be reported by the handler in the classes set forth in § 968.41 subject to the following conditions:

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, milk, skim milk, or cream moved in fluid form from an approved plant to an unapproved plant located more than 100 miles from the approved plant, shall be Class I if moved in the form of milk or skim milk, and Class II if moved in the form of cream.

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, milk, skim milk, or cream moved in fluid form from an approved plant to an unapproved plant located not more than 100 miles from the approved plant and from which fluid milk and cream are distributed, shall be Class I if moved in the form of milk or skim milk and Class II if moved in the form of cream, unless the purchaser certifies that the market administrator may verify his records. If the market administrator is permitted to verify the necessary records such milk, skim milk, or cream, shall be classified as follows: (1) Determine the classification of all milk received in the unapproved plant, and (2) allocate the milk, skim milk, or cream received from the approved plant to the highest use classification remaining after subtracting in series beginning with the highest use classification, the receipts of milk at such unapproved plant directly from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute its regular source of milk for Class I and Class II use.

(c) Milk, skim milk, or cream, which is moved to an unapproved plant from an approved plant which regularly receives type C milk, and which is sold as "type C milk for manufacturing only" and is so tagged or labeled, may be classified as Class III milk up to the extent of the receipt of type C milk at the approved plant.

(d) Except as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, milk, skim milk, or cream, moved from an approved plant to an unapproved plant which does not distribute fluid milk or cream shall be classified as Class III milk.

(e) Milk or skim milk sold or disposed of by a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers to another handler shall be classified as Class I milk: Provided, That if such milk or skim milk, except milk or skim milk sold or disposed of by such handler to a producer-handler, is reported by the receiving handler or by the disposing handler as having been utilized as Class II milk or Class III milk, it shall be classified accordingly but in no event shall the amount classified in any class exceed the total use in such class by the receiving handler.

(f) Cream sold or disposed of as fluid cream by a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers to another handler shall be classified as Class II milk: Provided, That if such cream, except cream sold or disposed of by such handler to a producer-handler, is reported by the receiving handler or by the disposing handler as having been utilized as Class III milk, such cream shall be classified accordingly but in no event shall the amount classified in any class exceed the total use in such class by the receiving handler.

(g) Milk, skim milk, or cream sold or disposed of by a producer-handler to another handler who receives milk from producers shall be classified in the lowest use classification of the purchasing handler.

§ 968.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in § 968.40 the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all milk and skim milk disposed of for consumption as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk and milk drinks, and all milk not classified as Class II milk or Class III pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

(b) Class II milk shall be all milk used to produce cream which is disposed of in the form of cream (other than for use in products specified in paragraph (c) of this section), cottage cheese, products sold or disposed of in the form of cream testing less than 18 percent butterfat, aerated cream, and eggnog.

(c) Class III milk shall be all milk, used to produce butter, cheese (other than cottage cheese), evaporated milk, ice cream, ice cream mix and powdered milk; disposed of as livestock feed; used for starter churning, wholesale baking and candy making purposes; the milk equivalent of butterfat accounted for as loss in products where the salvage of fat is impossible; and the milk equivalent of unaccounted for butterfat not in excess of 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat other than receipts from other handlers: Provided, That for the purpose of establishing such total receipts of butterfat, butterfat in milk diverted directly from producer's farms to another handler shall be included as receipts of the handler to whom such milk was diverted, and excluded from receipts of the diverting handler.

§ 968.42 Responsibility of handlers in establishing the classification of milk. In establishing the classification as required in § 968.41 of any milk received by a handler from producers, the burden rests upon the handler who receives the milk from producers to account for the milk and to prove to the market administrator that such milk should not be classified as Class I milk.

§ 968.43 Computation of milk in each class. For each delivery period each handler shall compute, in the manner and on forms prescribed by the market administrator, the amount of milk in each class as defined in § 968.41 as follows:

(a) Determine the total pounds of milk received as follows: Add together total pounds of milk received at approved plants from (1) producers, (2) other handlers, and (3) other sources.

(b) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: (1) Multiply by its average butterfat test the weight of the milk received at approved plants from (i) producers, (ii) other handlers, and (iii) other sources, and (2) add together the resulting amounts.

(c) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I as follows: (1) Convert to pounds the quantity of Class I milk on the basis of 2.15 pounds per quart, and subtract the weight of any flavoring materials included, (2) multiply the result by the average butterfat test of such milk, and (3) if the quantity of butterfat so computed when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II milk and Class III milk, computed pursuant to paragraphs (d) (2) and (e) (4) of this section is less than the total pounds of butterfat received computed in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, an amount equal to the difference shall be divided by 3.8 percent and added to the quantity of milk determined pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

(d) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II as follows: (1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II milk by its average butterfat test, (2) add together the resulting amounts, and (3) divide the result obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by 3.8 percent.

(e) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class III as follows: (1) Multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class III by its average butterfat test, (2) add together the resulting amounts, (3) subtract from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section the total pounds of butterfat in Class I milk, computed pursuant to paragraph (c) (2) of this section, the total pounds of butterfat in Class II milk, computed pursuant to paragraph (d) (2) of this section and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph which resulting quantity shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purposes of this paragraph (but in no event shall such plant shrinkage allowance exceed 3 percent of the total receipts as specified in § 968.41 (c) of butterfat other than receipts from other handlers, (4) add together the results obtained in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph, and (5) divide the results obtained in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph by 3.8 percent.

§ 968.44 Allocation of milk classified. Determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(a) Subtract from the total pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from other handlers and used in each class.

(b) Subtract from the remaining pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk which were received from sources other than producers, and other handlers in series beginning with the lowest class.

§ 968.45 Reconciliation of utilization of milk by classes with receipts of milk from producers. In the event of a difference between the total quantity of milk used in the several classes as computed pursuant to § 968.44 and the quantity of milk received from producers, except for excess milk or milk equivalent of butterfat pursuant to § 968.62, such difference shall be reconciled as follows:

(a) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to § 968.44, is less than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall increase the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts of milk from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

(b) If the total utilization of milk in the various classes for any handler, as computed pursuant to § 968.44, is greater than the receipts of milk from producers, the market administrator shall decrease the total pounds of milk in Class III for such handler by an amount equal to the difference between the receipts from producers and the total utilization of milk by classes for such handler.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 968.50 Class prices. Each handler shall pay at the time and in the manner set forth in this part not less than the following prices per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period from producers:

(a) Class I milk. The price per hundredweight shall be the price determined pursuant to § 968.51 plus $1.00 during the months of April, May, and June of each year, and plus $1.45 during the remaining months of each year.

(b) Class II milk. The price per hundredweight shall be the price determined pursuant to § 968.51 plus 75 cents during the months of April, May, and June of each year and plus $1.20 during the remaining months of each year.

(c) Class III milk. The price per hundredweight shall be the average of the prices paid during each delivery period for ungraded milk containing 3.8 percent butterfat at the following plants now operated by the listed companies: at Wichita, Kansas, by the DeCoursey Cream Company; at Blackwell, Oklahoma, by Wilson and Company; and at Arkansas City, Kansas, by the Arkansas City Cooperative Milk Association, but in no event shall the price be less than that paid at the plant at Wichita, Kansas, operated by the DeCoursey Cream Company.

§ 968.51 Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I and Class II prices. The basic formula price to be used in determining the Class I and Class II prices set forth in § 968.50 shall be the average of the basic or field prices ascertained to have been paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the immediately preceding delivery period at the following places for which prices are reported to the market administrator by the listed companies or by the United States Department of Agriculture (or by such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function):

divided by 3.5 and mutiplied by 3.8 but in no event shall such basic price be less than the following: multiply by 3.8 the average price per pound of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the immediately preceding delivery period, and add 20 percent: Provided, That such price shall be subject to the following adjustments: (a) add 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that the price of nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption is above 5½ cents per pound or (b) subtract 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that the price of such nonfat dry milk solids is below 5½ cents per pound. For purposes of determining this adjustment, the price of nonfat dry milk solids to be used shall be the average of carlot prices for nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plant, as published by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the Chicago area during the immediately preceding delivery period, including in such average the quotations published for any fractional part of the previous delivery period which were not published and available for the price determination of such nonfat dry milk solids for the previous delivery period. In the event the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) does not publish carlot prices for nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants, the average of the carlot prices for nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption, delivered at Chicago, shall be used. In the latter event, such price shall be subject to the following adjustments: (1) Add 3½ cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that the price of nonfat dry milk solids for human consumption, delivered at Chicago, is above 7½ cents per pound, or (2) subtract 3½ per cents per hundredweight for each full one-half cent that such price of nonfat dry milk solids is below 7½ cents per pound.

§ 968.52 Emergency provisions. (a) Whenever the provisions of this part require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy or other similar payments being made in connection with the milk or product associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any such subsidy or other similar payment: Provided further, That if the specified price is not reported or published and the Secretary determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the Secretary to be equivalent to or comparable with the price specified.

(b) Whenever the Secretary finds and announces that the Class I and Class II prices computed for any delivery period pursuant to § 968.50 are not in the public interest, the Class I and Class II prices for such delivery period shall be the same as the Class I and Class II prices for the previous delivery period.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 968.60 Producer-handlers. Sections 968.40 through 968.45, 968.50 through 968.52, 968.61 through 968.63, 968.70, 968.71, 968.80 through 968.88, shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 968.61 Other source milk. If a handler has purchased or received milk or butterfat from a producer-handler, or from sources other than from producers or other handlers, and has sold or disposed of such milk for other than Class III purposes, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler pursuant to § 968.70, shall add an amount equal to the difference between (a) the value of such milk or the milk equivalent of such butterfat according to its utilization by the handler and (b) the value at the Class III price. The provisions of this section shall not apply if the handler can prove to the market administrator that such milk or butterfat was used only to the extent that milk of producers was not available, either directly from producers or at the plant of another handler at the class prices provided pursuant to § 968.50 (a) and (b).

§ 968.62 Excess milk. If a handler, after subtracting receipts from other handlers, and receipts from sources determined as other than producers, or other handlers, has disposed of milk or butterfat in excess of the milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler, pursuant to § 968.70, shall add an amount equal to the value of such milk or butterfat according to its utilization by the handler.

§ 968.63 Handler operating an approved plant which is not a pool plant. Each handler who operates an approved plant which is not a pool plant during a delivery period, shall in lieu of the payments required pursuant to §§ 968.80 through 968.85, pay to the market administrator, for the producer-settlement fund, on or before the 25th day after the end of such delivery period, the amount resulting from the computations of either paragraph (a) or paragraph (b) of this section, whichever is less.

(a) The sum of (1) the product of the quantity of milk received by such handler which was disposed of in the marketing area as Class I milk during the delivery period multiplied by the difference between the price for Class I milk pursuant to § 968.50 (c), and (2) the product of the quantity of milk received by such handler which was disposed of in the marketing area as Class II milk during the delivery period multiplied by the difference between the price for Class II milk pursuant to § 968.50 (b) and the price for Class III milk pursuant to § 968.50 (c).

(b) Any plus amount resulting from the following computation:

(1) To an amount equal to the net pool obligation which would be computed pursuant to § 968.70 for such handler for such delivery period if such handler operated a pool plant, add for each one-tenth by which the average butterfat content of milk received from approved dairy farmers by such handler is greater than 3.8 percent, or subtract for each one-tenth percent that such average butterfat content is less than 3.8 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 968.82 by the total hundredweight of such milk; and

(2) Deduct the gross payments made by such handler to approved dairy farmers for milk received during such delivery period.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE TO PRODUCERS

§ 968.70 Net pool obligations of handlers. The net pool obligation of each handler for milk received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator as follows: Multiply the pounds of milk in each class computed pursuant to § 968.44 by the class price pursuant to § 968.50, add together the resulting values, and add the value of any payments required to be made pursuant to §§ 968.61 and 968.62.

§ 968.71 Computation and announcement of uniform prices. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute and announce the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and excess milk as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers computed pursuant to § 968.70 who made the reports prescribed by § 968.30 for such delivery period and who made the payments prescribed by §§ 968.80 and 968.84 for the preceding delivery period;

(b) Add an amount equal to one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the amount due handlers pursuant to § 968.86;

(c) Compute the total value of the milk included in these computations which is in excess of the delivered base of producers by assigning such milk first to Class III milk and then to each succeeding higher classification until all such milk has been classified, and then multiplying the total pounds of excess milk assigned to each class by the appropriate class price and adding together the resulting amounts;

(d) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (c) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk and round to the nearest cent. This result shall be known as the uniform price for excess milk of 3.8 percent butterfat;

(e) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (c) of this section from the value of all milk obtained in paragraph (b) of this section and adjust by any amount involved in rounding the uniform price for excess milk to the nearest cent;

(f) Divide the result obtained in paragraph (e) of this section by the total hundredweight of milk represented by the delivered bases of producers;

(g) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents; the result shall be known as the uniform price per hundredweight for such delivery period for base milk of producers containing 3.8 percent butterfat.

PAYMENTS

§ 968.80 Time and method of payment. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall make payment, after deducting the amount of the payment made pursuant to § 968.81, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in § 968.82 for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler during each delivery period as follows:

(a) To each producer, except as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section, not less than the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to § 963.71 (g) for that quantity of milk received from such producer not in excess of such producer's base;

(b) To each producer, except as set forth in paragraph (c) of this section, not less than the excess price, computed pursuant to § 968.71 (d), for that quantity of milk received from such producer in excess of such producer's base; and

(c) To a cooperative association for milk which it caused to be delivered to a handler from producers and for which such cooperative association collects payments, a total amount equal to not less than the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

§ 968.81 Half delivery period payments. On or before the 27th day of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to each producer for the approximate value of the milk of such producer which, during the first 15 days of such delivery period, was received by such handler.

§ 968.82 Butterfat differential. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.8 percent, such handler in making the payments prescribed in § 968.80 shall add to the prices per hundredweight for such producers for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.8 percent not less than, or shall subtract from such prices for such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.8 percent not more than, an amount computed as follows: to the average price of 92-score butter at wholesale in the Chicago market as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may hereinafter be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent and divide the resulting sum by 10.

§ 968.83 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 968.84, 968.86 and 968.63, and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to §§ 968.85 and 968.86: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler. Immediately after computing the uniform price for each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute the amount by which each handler's net pool obligation, including the payments to producers which are required to be made pursuant to §§ 968.61 and 968.62, is greater or less than the sum obtained by multiplying the hundredweight of milk of producers by the appropriate prices required to be paid producers by handlers pursuant to § 968.80 and adding together the resulting amounts, and shall enter such amount on each handler's account as such handler's pool debit or credit, as the case may be, and render such handler a transcript of his account.

§ 968.84 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund, the amount by which the net pool obligation of such handler including the payments required to be made pursuant to §§ 968.61 and 968.62 is greater than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to §§ 963.80 and 968.81.

§ 968.85 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. (a) On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount by which the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to §§ 968.80 and 968.81 is greater than the net pool obligation of such handler, including the payments required to be made pursuant to §§ 968.61 and 968.62.

(b) If the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 12th day after the end of the delivery period, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator, shall be deemed to be in violation of § 968.80 if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

§ 968.86 Adjustment of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors in payments to the producer-settlement fund made pursuant to § 968.84, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billing, make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to § 968.85, the market administrator shall, within 5 days make payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of an amount which is less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following the disclosure.

§ 968.87 Marketing services.—(a) Deductions from marketing services. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct 4 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe, from the payments made to each producer other than himself pursuant to § 968.80 (a) and (b) with respect to all milk of such producer purchased or received by such handler during the delivery period and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 12th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples and tests of milk received from, and to provide market information to such producers. The market administrator may contract with a cooperative association or cooperative associations for the furnishing of the whole or any part of such services.

(b) Deductions with respect to members of a cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association which the Secretary determines to be qualified under the provisions of the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing, as determined by the Secretary, the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make the deductions from the payments to be made directly to producers pursuant to § 968.80 (a) and (b) which are authorized by such producers, and, on or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the association of which such producers are members.

§ 968.88 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of the administration of this part, each handler who purchased or received milk from producers, with respect to all milk received from approved dairy farmers during the delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator, on or before the 10th day after the end of such delivery period, an amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight, which amount shall be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the Secretary.

§ 968.89 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this part shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representative all books and records required by this part to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money

BASE RATING

§ 968.90 Determination of period base. For each delivery period the base of each producer shall be a quantity of milk calculated by the market administrator in the following manner: Multiply the applicable figure computed pursuant to § 968.91 by the number of days during such delivery period on which milk was received from such producer.

§ 968.91 Determination of daily base. (a) Effective January 1, 1948, and for each subsequent year thereafter the daily base of each producer, who regularly delivered milk to a handler during the next previous delivery periods of August, September, October, and November shall be computed by the market administrator in the following manner: Determine for each such producer his average daily delivery of milk to a handler for the time he delivered during the period from the next previous August 1 to November 30.

(b) The daily base of each producer who did not regularly deliver milk to a handler during the next previous delivery periods of August, September, October, and November but who began deliveries of milk to a handler subsequent to August 31 shall be computed by the market administrator in the following manner: For each delivery period from the date upon which the producer first delivers milk to a handler until January 1 after he shall have established a base pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, the market administrator shall multiply such producer's daily average deliveries of milk during such period by the percentage that total base deliveries are to total deliveries of all producers.

(c) In case of a producer-handler who disposes of all of his delivery routes to another handler who is not a producer, the market administrator shall determine the daily average of the total sales of Class I milk and Class II milk by such producer during the preceding three months. The figures so determined shall be such producer's base until his base may be established pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 968.92 Base rules. (a) Any producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for a period of more than 30 consecutive days shall forfeit his base. In the event such producer thereafter commences to deliver milk to a handler he shall be allotted a daily base computed in the manner provided in § 968.91.

(b) A landlord who rents on a share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the tenant if the landlord owns the entire herd. A tenant who rents on a share basis shall be entitled to the entire daily base to the exclusion of the landlord if the tenant owns the entire herd. If the cattle are jointly owned by the tenant and landlord, the daily base shall be divided between the joint owners according to ownership of the cattle when such share basis is terminated.

(c) A producer, whether landlord or tenant, may retain his base when moving his entire herd of cows from one farm to another: Provided, That at the beginning of a tenant and landlord relationship the base of each landlord and tenant may be combined and may be divided when such relationship is terminated.

(d) Base may be transferred only under the following conditions: (1) In case of the death of a producer, his base may be transferred to a surviving member or members of his family who carry on the dairy operations, and (2) on the retirement of a producer, his base may be transferred to an immediate member of his family who carries on the dairy operations.

(e) The base of two producers may be combined in the case of forming a partnership, or may be divided in the case of the dissolution of a partnership.

(f) For the purposes of this section only, the term "producer" shall include any person who has been a producer as defined in § 968.6 but whom the Wichita Board of Health has suspended temporarily for failure to produce milk in conformity with the applicable health regulations of the city of Wichita, Kansas.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION, OR TERMINATION

§ 968.100 Effective time. The provisions of this part, or any amendment to this part, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended, or terminated, pursuant to § 968.101.

§ 968.101 Suspension or termination. Any or all of the provisions of this part, or any amendment to this part, may be suspended or terminated as to any or all handlers after such reasonable notice as the Secretary shall give and shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act cease to be in effect.

§ 968.102 Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. (a) If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part there are any obligations arising under this part the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the Secretary so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the Secretary may designate.

(b) The market administrator, or such other person as the Secretary may designate, shall (1) continue in such capacity until removed, (2) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements and when so directed by the Secretary deliver all funds on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person as the Secretary shall direct, and (3) if so directed by the Secretary execute assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

§ 968.103 Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part the market administrator, or such person as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions of this part, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

AGENTS

§ 968.110 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of March, 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of April 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 16—COMMERCIAL PRACTICES

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[Docket 5787]

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

AMERICAN CANDLE CO., INC.

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 3.30 Composition of goods. In connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of candles in commerce, representing, directly or by implication, that respondent's candles are composed entirely of pure beeswax, when such is not the fact; prohibited.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interprets or applies sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended, 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, American Candle Company, Inc., Docket 5787, January 2, 1951]

This proceeding was heard by William L. Pack, trial examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of the respondent, and a stipulation whereby it was stipulated and agreed that the facts set forth therein might be taken as the facts in the proceeding and in lieu of testimony in support of and in opposition to the charges stated in the complaint, and might serve as the basis for findings as to the facts and conclusion based thereon and order disposing of the proceeding, without presentation of proposed findings and conclusions or oral argument, it being also provided that upon appeal to or review by the Commission said stipulation might be set aside by the Commission and the matter remanded for further proceedings under the complaint.

Thereafter the proceedings regularly came on for final consideration by the trial examiner upon the complaint, answer and stipulation, and said trial examiner, having duly considered the record in said cause, found that said proceeding was in the interest of the public and made his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to the facts, conclusion drawn therefrom and order to cease and desist.

No appeal having been filed from said initial decision of said trial examiner as provided for in Rule XXII, nor any other action taken as thereby provided to prevent said initial decision becoming the decision of the Commission thirty days from service thereof upon the parties, said initial decision, including said order to cease and desist, accordingly, under the provisions of said Rule XXII, became the decision of the Commission January 2, 1951.

The said order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent, American Candle Company, Inc., a corporation, and its officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of candles in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from: Representing, directly or by implication, that respondent's candles are composed entirely of pure beeswax, when such is not the fact.

By "Decision of the Commission and Order to File Report of Compliance", Docket 5787, January 2, 1951, which announced fruition of said initial decision on said date, report of compliance with the order was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent, American Candle Company, Inc., shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report, in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: January 2, 1951.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] D. C. DANIEL,
Secretary.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VII—Department of the Air Force

Subchapter J—Procurement Procedures

PART 1000—GENERAL PROVISIONS

PART 1001—PROCUREMENT BY FORMAL ADVERTISING

PART 1002—PROCUREMENT BY NEGOTIATION

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1000.201 are amended to read as follows:

§ 1000.201 Definitions—(a) Procuring activity. The term "procuring activity" as used in §§ 400.201–3 and other sections of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and this subchapter means the Air Matériel Command. The Air Matériel Command has been designated as the sole "procuring activity" within the Department of the Air Force.

(b) Head of a procuring activity. The term "head of a procuring activity" as used in §§ 400.201–4 and other sections of Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title and this subchapter means the Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, who has been designated as the sole "head of a procuring activity" within the Department of the Air Force.

2. Section 1000.300 is added as follows:

§ 1000.300 Methods of procurement. Notwithstanding the provisions of § 400.301 of this title, during the period of the National Emergency declared by the President on December 16, 1950, the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force has authorized the negotiation of all purchases and contracts under section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 (sec. 2 (c) (1), 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C., Sup., 151). Procurement may continue to be effected by formal advertising only when time permits and delivery requirements are not jeopardized by such action. (See §§ 1001.102 and 1002.201.)

3. Section 1000.309 is added as follows:

§ 1000.309 Classified procurements: check list. Department of Defense Form 254, "Security Requirements Check List" will be used in precontract negotiations when applicable for procurements by formal advertising and by negotiation, when contractors and subcontractors must have access to classified matter. This form will be prepared in accordance with the instructions thereon and will accompany all contracts and subcontracts classified top secret, secret, confidential, or restricted, and all contracts and subcontracts involving access to classified matter by a contractor or subcontractor. In addition to the initial completion of the form, necessary changes in security classification will be made as appropriate and will be reflected on the form when down-grading action is taken in compliance with applicable regulations. This form shall not be considered a part of the contract but shall be used to implement the "Military Security Requirements Clause" and any secrecy agreement which may be existent.

4. Section 1000.310 is added as follows:

§ 1000.310 Unauthorized release of procurement information. All personnel of the Air Force, both military and civilian, are responsible for refraining from releasing to individual business concerns or their representatives any preknowledge such personnel may possess or have acquired in any way concerning procurements or purchases of supplies by any procuring activity of the Air Force. Such information will be released to all potential contractors at the same time, as far as possible, and only through duly designated agencies, so that one potential contractor may not be given an unfair advantage over another.

5. Section 1000.312 is added as follows:

§ 1000.312 FOB point. Unless there are valid reasons to the contrary (such as, but not restricted to industry practice, or destination unknown) all supply contracts shall provide for delivery as follows:

(a) When it is estimated that no shipment to a single destination will equal a minimum carload lot (a minimum carload lot shall be deemed to weigh approximately 20,000 pounds) delivery shall be made on the basis of all transportation charges paid to destination (within the Continental United States).

(b) When it is estimated that any single contract will require a shipment of minimum carload lot, delivery and acceptance may be either on the basis of f. o. b. plant or on the basis of all transportation charges paid to destination (within the Continental United States), whichever is more advantageous to the Government.

6. Section 1000.313 is added as follows:

§ 1000.313 Broadening the industrial base of procurement programs. The following memorandum from the Secretary of Defense, December 18, 1950, is quoted for information and guidance:

Memorandum for
The Secretary of the Army.
The Secretary of the Navy.
The Secretary of the Air Force.

Subject: Broadening the Industrial Base of Procurement Programs.

The President has declared a National Emergency. The issuance of this declaration permits the Secretaries of the Military Departments to authorize the negotiation of purchases and contracts pursuant to the authority contained in section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947. The Munitions Board has recommended, and I have approved, the following statement of policy:

The Military Departments have already received instructions to accelerate procurement actions in connection with 2d Supplemental 1951 Funds. It is essential, in complying with those instructions, that contracts be spread across industry as widely as possible in order to broaden the industrial base of our procurement program. Broadening the base will require wider use of negotiation. Formal advertising will continue to be used in appropriate cases, but not when such use will adversely affect the acceleration of procurement or the broadening of the industrial base contemplated by this directive.

The Military Departments should pay particular attention to:

(a) The greatest possible integration of current procurement contracts with the industrial mobilization program and the accepted schedules of production.

(b) The equitable distribution of procurement contracts among the maximum number of competent suppliers. The concentration of contracts with a few leader suppliers is to be avoided unless the necessity therefor is clear.

(c) The utilization of existing open industrial capacity to the maximum. Expansion of facilities should not be authorized when open capacity can be found. Whenever time permits, and in order to broaden the mobilization base, additional contractors should be utilized in lieu of multi-shift or overtime operation.

(d) The fullest possible use of small business concerns.

(e) The utilization in negotiation of competition and multiple awards, whenever possible.

(f) The aggressive encouragement or requirement of subcontracting by prime contractors.

(g) the provision of maximum incentive of the producer for the reduction of his costs.

(h) The placement of contracts with a view to economies in the use of transportation facilities.

(i) The availability of manpower in distressed employment areas or in areas of manpower shortages.

(j) The reservation of special skills and abilities for the more difficult production tasks.

To the extent necessary, Departmental procurement procedures and practices should be modified to conform to the foregoing. Particular attention should be paid to the caliber of personnel engaged in the negotiation of contracts.

(Signed) G. C. MARSHALL.

7. Section 1000.400 is added as follows:

§ 1000.400 Secretary. The Secretary establishes policies for, directs and supervises the Department's activities with respect to procurement and related matters. The General Counsel, as his legal advisor, is the final authority on all legal questions relating thereto. By delegation of authority from the Secretary, policies established by him are implemented and other appropriate instructions are issued to lower echelons by the Chief of Staff, United States Air Force, through the Deputy Chief of Staff, Matériel.

8. Paragraphs (a) and (b) of § 1000.401 are amended to read as follows:

§ 1000.401 Responsibility of procuring activity—(a) Commanding General, Air Matériel Command. The Commanding General, Air Matériel Command, as sole "head of a procuring activity," is responsible for the procurement of supplies and services assigned to the procurement cognizance of the Department of the Air Force except for the supplies and services assigned to the procurement cognizance of a jointly-staffed and financed procuring activity established under the provision of Part 403 of this title. This responsibility includes the authority to issue appropriate delegations of authority, to impose limitations upon the authority to enter into contracts, and to require such business clearance and approval as he may prescribe in procuring activity instructions (Air Force Procurement Instructions). This responsibility and authority extends over all activities of the Air Force, including oversea commands, air attachés, and foreign missions.

(b) Appointment of contracting officers. The Commanding General, Air Materiel Command, is authorized to designate, or to direct the designation of, in writing, any qualified officer or civilian official of the Department of the Air Force a contracting officer within the meaning of that term as used throughout Subchapter A, Chapter IV of this title, and this subchapter.

10. Section 1001.102 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1001.102 Policy. (a) During the period of the National Emergency declared by the President on December 16, 1950, subject to such instructions as may be issued by the heads of procuring activities, procurement may be effected by formal advertising only when time permits and delivery requirements are not jeopardized by such action.

(b) The policy of the Department of Defense is to make available to both large and small business, the public, the press, and others having a legitimate interest, information concerning invitations for bids, and results of bidding on military procurement entered into after formal advertising. (See §§ 1001.203 and 204.)

CROSS REFERENCE: For Armed Services Procurement Regulation which this section implements, see § 401.102 of this title.

11. Paragraphs (b) (11) and (c) are added to § 1001.201 as follows:

§ 1001.201 Preparation of forms. • • •

(b) Schedule. • • •

(11) FOB point. In furtherance of the policy set forth in § 1000.312 of this subchapter, bids for supplies will be invited as follows:

(i) When it is estimated that no shipment to a single destination will equal a minimum carload lot, bids shall be invited on the basis of delivery by the contractor, all transportation charges paid to destination (within the Continental United States).

(ii) When it is estimated that a single contract (to be awarded) will provide for a shipment to a single destination of a carload lot or more, bids shall be invited as follows:

(a) Bid A—all transportation charges paid to destination (within the Continental United States) and

(b) Bid B—FOB carriers' equipment, wharf or freight station at a specified city or shipping point.

The invitation for bids will provide that bidders may bid on either or both bases A and B.

(c) Price revision. When procurement is effected by formal advertising, price revision articles (as distinguished from escalation articles) will not be inserted in the invitation for bids or in any contract resulting therefrom.

12. Paragraph (d) of § 1001.405 is redesignated paragraph (e), and a new paragraph (d) is substituted as follows:

§ 1001.405 Awards. • • •

(d) Transportation costs. In connection with bids or proposals submitted on an FOB origin basis, transportation costs between the source of supply and the designated destination point or points will be considered in determining the lowest estimated cost to the Government. To facilitate the evaluation of bids and preposals and to assure accurate analyses, contracting officers will request the advisory services of local transportation officers to assist in determining the lowest possible transportation costs to a given point.

(e) Authority and procedures for making awards. (1) When a contracting officer has invited and received bids he will, subject to such further approval as may be required, make the award and execute the necessary papers, unless all bids are rejected.

(2) When bids are received by a contracting officer not authorized to make the award, the bids and the abstract of bids will be forwarded to the officer authorized to make the award (approving officer), with the recommendations of the contracting officer receiving the bids and of intermediate authorities as to the bidder to whom the award should be made.

13. Section 1002.101 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1002.101 General requirements for negotiation. During the period of the National Emergency, contracts and purchases may be negotiated pursuant to section 2 (c) (1), 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C., Sup., 151, provided that business clearance or approval as prescribed in these procedures and applicable procuring activity instructions has been obtained. The Assistant Secretary of the Air Force executed a determination dated December 18, 1950 (see § 1002.201) and no further written findings and determinations are neecssary to authorize negotiation.

CROSS REFERENCE: For section of Armed Services Procurement Regulation which this section implements see § 402.102 of this title.

14. Section 1002.201 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1002.201 National emergency. (a) On December 18, 1950, the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force executed the following determination under section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act 1947 (sec. 2 (c) (1), 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C., Sup., 151):

DETERMINATION

Authority to negotiate purchases and contracts under section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947.

1. A National Emergency having been declared by the President of the United States on December 16, 1950, I hereby determine, in accordance with section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, that it is necessary in the public interest that authority exist to make all purchases and contracts under said Act by negotiation without formal advertising during the period of said National Emergency.

2. Accordingly, I hereby authorize the negotiation of all purchases and contracts by the Department of the Air Force under section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947 during the period of said National Emergency.

(Signed) Eugene M. Zuckert,
EUGENE M. ZUCKERT,
Assistant Secretary of the Air Force.

(b) All negotiated procurements initiated during the period of the National Emergency will be accomplished under section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947, rather than any other section of the act. Each such contract will cite section 2 (c) (1) on its face or on the cover sheet.

(c) The requirement of § 1002.203 (d) in connection with the approval of contracts for personal and professional services remains in effect notwithstanding the fact that the contracts involved are negotiated under section 2 (c) (1) rather than section 2 (c) (4) of the act.

15. Paragraphs (b) (2) and (d) of § 1002.203 are amended to read as follows:

§ 1002.203 Personal or professional services. • • •

(b) Specific authorization; statutory authorities. • • •

(2) Defense Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong.).

SEC. 601. During the current fiscal year, the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the Air Force, Army and Navy, respectively, if they should deem it advantageous to the National Defense, and if, in their opinions, the existing facilities of the Department of Defense are inadequate, are authorized to procure services in accordance with section 15 of the Act of August 2, 1946 (5 U. S. C. 55a), but at rates for individuals not in excess of $50 per day, and to pay in connection therewith travel expenses of individuals, including actual transportation and per diem in lieu of subsistence while traveling from their homes or places of business to official duty station and return as may be authorized by law: Provided, that such contracts may be renewed annually.

• • • • • •

(d) Approval required. Substantive authority for each contract of the type described in paragraph (c) of this section, regardless of amount, and each supplemental agreement or change order making a material change therein, must be obtained from the Secretary. Accordingly, each such contract, supplemental agreement, or change order will contain the "Approval of Contract" clause set forth in § 406.105–2 of this title. To obtain such authority, heads of procuring activities shall forward to the Secretary, through the Director of Procurement and Engineering, Headquarters United States Air Force, requests for findings and determinations, referring specifically to the applicable statutes and supported by a full statement of pertinent facts. Such requests for findings and determinations shall be accompanied by the contract, supplemental agreement, or change order for which approval is requested: Provided, however, That with respect to individual contracts or classes of contracts, the Secretary may waive the requirement of submission of the contract, supplemental agreement, or change order.

• • • • •

16. Paragraph (c) is added to § 1002.305 as follows:

§ 1002.305 Distribution of copies of determinations and findings. • • •

(c) Determination under section 2 (c) (1) of the Armed Services Procurement Act of 1947. A copy of the determination made by the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force pursuant to section 2 (c) (1) (sec. 2 (c) (1), 62 Stat. 21; 41 U. S. C., Sup., 151) has been forwarded to the General Accounting Office. It will not be necessary to attach a copy of such determination to each contract negotiated under authority of section 2 (c) (1) of the act. (See § 1002.101.)

TITLE 44—PUBLIC PROPERTY AND WORKS

Chapter I—General Services Administration

Subchapter B—Personal Property Management

PART 53—DIRECTED PROCUREMENT

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The regulations in this part (formerly 41 CFR Part 53, 13 F. R 8762, 15 F. R. 1346) are revised as follows:

1. Section 53.5 Special supplies, paragraph (i) Refrigerators, is revised to read as follows:

(i) Refrigerators. Portable commercial and household refrigerators and low temperature storage cabinets, with self-contained electric or gas units, in conformance with GSA Specification No. 811, April 28, 1950, or applicable specifications developed by the requisitioning agency. This paragraph also applies in Alaska and to wholly owned Government corporations, but does not apply to the Department of Defense, the Housing and Home Finance Agency, the Maritime Administration, the Panama Canal and the Public Health Service.

2. Section 53.5 Special supplies, paragraph (j) Water coolers (15 F. R. 6573), is revised to read as follows:

(j) Water coolers. Electric water coolers for land use of the following type and sizes listed in Federal Specification OO–C–566B, July 31, 1947: bubbler style (type I, air-colled condenser; type II water-cooled condenser), sizes 5, 10, and 20; cafeteria style (type III, air-cooled condenser; type IV, water-cooled condenser), sizes 20 and 30; remote style (type V, water-cooled condenser), sizes 10 and 20; and bottle style (type VI, air-cooled condenser), size 3. This paragraph also applies in Alaska and to wholly owned Government corporations, but does not apply to the Department of Defense.

3. Sections 53.6 and 53.7 are added, reading as follows:

§ 53.6 Public utility services. (a) Executive agencies, including wholly owned Government corporations and except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, shall procure needed public utility services within the United States and its territories and possessions under applicable area-wide contracts therefor made by the General Services Administration from time to time. (Further information concerning such contracts may be obtained from the General Services Administration, Public Utilities Branch, Washington, D. C.)

(b) Contracts for public utility services within the United States and its territories and possessions entered into, in the absence of area-wide contracts as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, by executive agencies, including wholly owned Government corporations and except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, shall be subject to such review as may be determined by the General Services Administration.

(c) This section does not apply to: (1) the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Central Intelligence Agency, except to the extent these agencies find compliance therewith will not interfere with their programs; and (2) the production, distribution and sale of public utility services by an executive agency.

(d) As used in this section, the term "public utility services" includes, without limitation, all public utility services procurable from a public utility company; such as, light, heat and power by electricity; gas, water and steam; communications by telephone, telegraph, teletypewriter, cable and radio, and facilities for such services.

§ 53.7 Changes in communications service. (a) Executive agencies, including wholly owned Government corporations and except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, shall make no commitment concerning a proposed major change or installation of communications service in the United States and its territories and possessions until the General Services Administration has reviewed the proposed action.

(b) This section does not apply to:

(1) The Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Atomic Energy Commission, the Tennessee Valley Authority and the Central Intelligence Agency, except to the extent these agencies find compliance therewith will not interfere with their programs; and

(2) The Coast Guard; the Department of Defense; the Field Engineering and Monitoring Network of the Federal Communications Commission; the cryptographic circuits and equipment of the Department of State, the communications facilities used exclusively by its Security Division, and facilities used directly in the broadcasting operations of the Department of State; the communications facilities used exclusively in the enforcement activities of the Department of the Treasury; the Post Office Inspection Service; and the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior; the Weather Bureau's Operational Leased Lines; and the Civil Aeronautics Administration's Aeronautical Fixed Telecommunications Services.

(c) As used in this section, the term "major change or installation of communications service" means:

(1) Telephone service:

(i) Installation or removal of one or more private branch exchange switchboard positions;

(ii) Changes from manual to dial private branch exchange service, or vice versa;

(iii) Installation or removal of tie lines between private branch exchange switchboards; and

(iv) Installation or removal of intercity private line full period or foreign exchange services.

(2) Telegraph service:

(i) Installation or removal of Morse telegraph, teletypewriter (including TWX), facsimile or other type of telegraph terminal equipment;

(ii) Installation or removal of local or inter-city private line services; and

(iii) Installation or removal of Morse telegraph, teletypewriter or facsimile tie lines to domestic or international telegraph carriers.

(Sec. 205, 63 Stat. 389; 41 U. S. C. Sup. 255. Interpret or apply sec. 201, 63 Stat. 383, 41 U. S. C. Sup., 231.)

DERIVATION: Pers. Prop. Mgt. Regs. 13 and 14 and Gen. Reg. 7.

Dated: March 27, 1951.

RUSSELL FORBES,
Acting Administrator.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 51]

CRANGES (CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA)

U. S. STANDARDS

Notice is hereby given that the United States Department of Agriculture is considering the issuance of United States Standards for Oranges (California and Arizona) under the authority contained in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong., approved September 6, 1950) to supersede United States Standards for Oranges (California and Arizona) issued November 26, 1949. The standards are proposed to become effective during June 1951.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposed standards shall file the same with M. W. Baker, Deputy Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 5:30 p. m., e. s. t. on the 30th day after the publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed standards are as follows:

§ 51.301 Standards for oranges (California and Arizona)—(a) Grades—(1) U. S. Fancy. U. S. Fancy consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, well colored, firm, well formed, of smooth texture for the variety; free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, growth cracks, bruises (except those incident to proper handling and packing), dryness or mushy condition, and from injury caused by split, rough, wide or protruding navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. (See Tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(2) U. S. No. 1. U. S. No. 1 consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, firm, well formed, of fairly smooth texture for the variety; free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, growth cracks, bruises (except those incident to proper handling and packing), and from damage caused by dryness or mushy condition, split, rough, excessively wide or protruding navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects, or mechanical or other means. Each fruit shall be well colored except Valencia oranges which shall be at least fairly well colored: Provided, That navel oranges in any lot which is destined for export and which is certified as meeting the standards for export need be only fairly well colored. (See Tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(3) U. S. No. 2. U. S. No. 2 consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, fairly well colored, fairly firm, and which may be slightly misshapen but not excessively rough; which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, growth cracks, and from serious damage caused by bruises, dryness or mushy condition, split or protruding navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. (See Tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(4) U. S. Combination grade. Any lot of oranges may be designated "U. S. Combination" when not less than 40 percent, by count, of the oranges in each container meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade and the remainder U. S. No. 2 grade. (See Tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(5) U. S. No. 3. U. S. No. 3 consists of oranges of similar varietal characteristics which are mature, which may be slightly spongy, misshapen, rough but not seriously lumpy; which are free from decay, broken skins which are not healed, hard or dry skins, exanthema, and from serious damage caused by growth cracks, bruises, dryness or mushy condition, and from very serious damage caused by split navels, creasing, scars, oil spots, scale, sunburn, dirt or other foreign material, disease, insects or mechanical or other means. (See Tolerances in paragraph (c) of this section.)

(b) Unclassified. Unclassified consists of oranges which have not been classified in accordance with any of the foregoing grades. The term "unclassified" is not a grade within the meaning of these standards but is provided as a designation to show that no definite grade has been applied to the lot.

(c) Tolerances. In order to allow for variations incident to proper grading and handling in each of the foregoing grades, the following tolerances are provided as specified:

(1) U. S. Fancy, U. S. No. 1, U. S. No. 2 and U. S. No. 3 grades. Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may be below the requirements of the specified grade, other than for color, but not more than one-twentieth of this amount, or one-half of 1 percent, shall be allowed for decay at shipping point: Provided, That an additional tolerance of 2½ percent, or a total of not more than 3 percent, shall be allowed for decay enroute or at destination. In addition, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may not meet the requirements relating to color.

(2) U. S. Combination grade. Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may be below the requirements of this grade, other than for color, but not more than one-twentieth of this amount, or one-half of 1 percent, shall be allowed for decay at shipping point: Provided, That an additional tolerance of 2½ percent, or a total of not more than 3 percent, shall be allowed for decay enroute or at destination. This 3 percent tolerance may be used to reduce the percentage of U. S. No. 1 grade required in the combination, provided the affected fruits meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade in other respects. In addition, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the fruit in any lot may not meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 grade for color. No part of any tolerance, other than that for decay, shall be allowed to reduce for the lot as a whole the percentage of U. S. No. 1 in the combination, but individual containers may have not more than a total of 10 percent less than the percentage of U. S. No. 1 specified: Provided, That the entire lot averages within the percentage specified.

(d) Application of tolerances to individual packages. (1) The contents of individual packages in the lot, based on sample inspection, are subject to the following limitations: Provided, That the averages for the entire lot are within the tolerances specified for the grade.

(2) For packages which contain more than 25 pounds, and a tolerance of 10 percent or more is provided, individual packages in any lot shall have not more than one and one-half times the tolerance specified. For packages which contain more than 25 pounds and a tolerance of less than 10 percent is provided, individual packages in any lot shall have not more than double the tolerance specified, except that at least one decayed or very seriously damaged fruit may be permitted in any package.

(3) For packages which contain 25 pounds or less, individual packages in any lot are not restricted as to the percentage of defects: Provided, That not more than one organge which is seriously damaged by dryness or mushy condition or very seriously damaged by other means may be permitted in any package and, in addition, enroute or at destination not more than 10 percent of the packages may have more than one decayed fruit.

(e) Standard pack. (1) Oranges shall be uniform in size and, when packed in boxes, shall be arranged according to the approved and recognized methods. Each wrapped fruit shall be fairly well wrapped.

(2) All packages shall be well filled, but the contents shall not show excessive or unnecessary bruising because of overfilled packages. The fruit shall be tightly packed.

(3) When oranges are packed in standard nailed boxes, each box shall show a minimum bulge of 1¼ inches.

(4) "Uniform in size" means that not more than 10 percent, by count, of the oranges in any container may be one standard size larger or smaller than the standard size orange for the count packed.

(5) Example of standard size orange. The standard size orange for a 200 count is that size orange which will pack tightly 200 oranges of uniform size when packed according to the approved and recognized method.

(6) In order to allow for variations incident to proper packing, not more than 5 percent of the containers in any lot may not meet the requirements for the standard pack.

(f) Standards for export. (1) Not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the oranges in any container may be soft, affected by decay, have broken skins which are not healed, growth cracks, or be damaged by creasing or skin breakdown, or seriously damaged by split or protuding navels, or by dryness or mushy condition, except that:

(i) Not more than one-half of 1 percent shall be allowed for oranges affected by decay.

(ii) Not more than 3 percent shall have broken skins which are not healed.

(iii) Not more than 3 percent shall have growth cracks.

(iv) Not more than 5 percent shall be soft.

(v) Not more than 5 percent shall be damaged by creasing.

(vi) Not more than 5 percent shall be seriously damaged by split or protuding navels.

(vii) Not more than 5 percent shall be seriously damaged by dryness or mushy condition.

(viii) Not more than 5 percent shall be damaged by skin breakdown.

(2) Any lot of oranges shall be considered as meeting the standards for export if the entire lot averages within the requirements specified: Provided, That no sample from the containers in any lot shall have more than double the percentage specified for any one defect, and that not more than a total of 10 percent, by count, of the oranges in any container has any of the defects enumerated in the standards for export.

(g) Definitions. (1) "Similar varietal characteristics" means that the fruits in any container are similar in color and type.

(2) "Well colored" means that the fruit is at least light orange in color, with not more than a trace of green at the stem end, and not more than 15 percent of the remainder of the surface of the fruit shows green color.

(3) "Firm" means that the fruit is not soft or noticeably wilted or flabby.

(4) "Well formed" means that the fruit shows the normal shape characteristic of the variety.

(5) "Smooth" means that the skin is of fairly fine grain, the "pebbling" is not pronounced, and any furrows radiating from the stem end are shallow.

(6) "Injury" means any defect which more than slightly affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as injury:

(i) Split, rough, wide or protruding navels, when a split is unhealed or is more than one-eighth inch in length; or when the navel protrudes beyond the general contour of the fruit; or when flush with the contour but with the opening so wide, considering the size of the fruit, or the navel growth so folded and ridged, that it detracts noticeably from the appearance of the fruit.

(ii) Slight creasing which is more than barely visible, or which extends over more than 20 percent of the fruit surface.

(iii) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of two or more types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-eighth inch in diameter.

(b) Scars which are dark, or rough, or deep and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-fourth inch in diameter.

(c) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough, or with slight depth and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-half inch in diameter.

(d) Scars which are light in color, fairly smooth, with no depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(iv) Oil spots (oleocellosis or similar injuries) which are depressed or soft, or which have an aggregate area of more than 2½ percent of the fruit surface, or which are green and more than 4 in number.

(v) Scale, if more than 5 are present.

(vi) Sunburn which appreciably changes the normal color or shape of the fruit, or affects more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(7) "Fairly smooth" means that the skin does not feel noticeably rough or coarse. The size of the fruit should be considered in judging texture, as large fruit is not usually as smooth as smaller fruit. It is common for the fruit to show larger and coarser "pebbling" on the stem end portion than on the blossom end. The presence of furrows or grooves on the stem end portion of the fruit is a common condition in certain varieties, and the fruit shall not be considered as slightly rough unless the furrows or grooves are of sufficient depth, length, and number as to materially affect the appearance and smoothness of the orange.

(8) "Damage" means any defect which materially affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as damage:

(i) Dryness or mushy condition when affecting all segments more than one-fourth inch at the stem end, or the equivalent of this amount, by volume, when occurring in other portions of the fruit.

(ii) Split, rough, excessively wide or protruding navels, when more than 3 splits, or when any split is unhealed or is more than one-fourth inch in length; or navels which flare, bulge, or protrude materially beyond the general contour of the fruit; or when the navel opening is so wide, considering the size of the fruit, or the navel growth is so folded and ridged, that it detracts materially from the appearance of the fruit.

(iii) Creasing which materially weakens the skin, or which extends over more than one-third of the fruit surface.

(iv) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of two or more types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark and with slight depth and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-fourth inch in diameter.

(b) Scars which are very dark, with no depth, and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-half inch in diameter.

(c) Scars which are dark and rough or deep and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle one-half inch in diameter.

(d) Scars which are dark and slightly rough, or with slight depth, and which have an aggregate area exceeding that of a circle three-fourths inch in diameter.

(e) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough, or with slight depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(f) Scars which are light in color, fairly smooth, with no depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(v) Oil spots (oleocellosis or similar injuries) which are depressed or soft, or which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface, or which are green and more than 7 in number.

(vi) Scale, if more than 3 scales are present in each of three circular areas 1 inch in diameter, selected as the worst infested areas, or if more than 7 scales are present in one of these areas.

(vii) Sunburn which causes appreciable flattening of the fruit, drying or darkening of the skin, or affects more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(9) "Fairly well colored" means that the yellow or orange color predominates on the fruit.

(10) "Fairly firm" means that the fruit may be slightly soft but is not decidedly flabby.

(11) "Slightly misshapen" means that the fruit is not of the shape characteristic of the variety but is not decidedly flattened, pointed, extremely elongated, or otherwise badly deformed.

(12) "Excessively rough" means that the skin is decidedly rough, badly folded, badly ridged, or decidedly lumpy. Heavily "pebbled" skin shall not be considered as excessively rough.

(13) "Serious damage" means any defect which seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as serious damage:

(i) Dryness or mushy condition, when affecting all segments more than one-half inch at the stem end, or the equivalent of this amount by volume, when occurring in other portions of the fruit.

(ii) Split or protuding navels, when any split is unhealed or is more than one-half inch in length, or when two or more splits aggregate more than 1 inch in length; or navels which protude seriously beyond the general contour of the fruit; or when the navel opening is so wide, considering the size of the fruit, or the navel growth so badly folded and ridged, that it detracts seriously from the appearance of the fruit.

(iii) Creasing which seriously weakens the skin, or which is distributed over practically the entire fruit surface.

(iv) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of two or more types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark, or very rough, or very deep, and which have an aggregate area of more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

(b) Scars which are dark, or rough, or deep and which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(c) Scars which are fairly light in color, slightly rough or with slight depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 15 percent of the fruit surface.

(d) Scars which are light in color, fairly smooth, and with no depth and which have an aggregate area of more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(v) Oil Spots (oleocellosis or similar injuries) which are depressed or soft, or which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(vi) Scale, if more than 9 scales are present in each of three circular areas 1 inch in diameter, selected as the worst infested areas, or if more than 19 scales are present in one of these areas.

(vii) Sunburn which causes decided flattening of the fruit, drying or dark discoloration of the skin, or affects more than one-third of the fruit surface.

(viii) Growth cracks that are leaking, gummy, or not well healed.

(14) "Slightly spongy" means that the fruit is puffy or slightly wilted but not flabby.

(15) "Misshapen" means that the fruit is decidedly flattened, pointed, extremely elongated or otherwise deformed.

(16) "Very serious damage" means any defect which very seriously affects the appearance, or the edible or shipping quality of the fruit. Any one of the following defects, or any combination of defects, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for any one defect, shall be considered as very serious damage:

(i) Split navels which are leaking, gummy, or not well healed.

(ii) Creasing which is so deep or extensive that the skin is very seriously weakened.

(iii) Scarring (including sprayburn and fumigation injury) which exceeds the following aggregate areas of different types of scars, or a combination of both types of scars, the seriousness of which exceeds the maximum allowed for one type:

(a) Scars which are very dark, or very rough, or very deep and which have an aggregate area of more than 10 percent of the fruit surface.

(b) Scars which are dark, or rough, or deep and which have an aggregate area of more than 25 percent of the fruit surface.

(iv) Oil spots which are badly sunken, or soft.

(v) Scale which are so numerous or large that the appearance of the fruit is very seriously affected.

(vi) Sunburn which seriously affects more than one-third of the fruit surface, or causes dark discoloration aggregating more than 5 percent of the fruit surface.

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF ORANGE MARMALADE

EXTENSION OF TIME

Notice is hereby given of an extension, until April 13, 1951, of the period of time within which written data, views, and arguments may be submitted by interested parties for consideration in connection with the proposed issuance of United States Standards for Grades of Orange Marmalade. The proposed standards are set forth in the notice which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 14, 1951 (16 F. R. 1550).

DISTRIBUTION OF PROCEEDS RECEIVED BY COMMODITY CREDIT CORPORATION FROM SALE OF EXCESS VIRGINIA AND VALENCIA TYPES OF PEANUTS FOR CLEANING AND SHELLING

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1301–1376), the Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to formulate regulations governing the distribution of proceeds realized from the sale of Virginia and Valencia types of excess peanuts of the 1950 crop which were delivered to or marketed through agencies designated by the Secretary. Payments are proposed to be made to producers who delivered such types of excess peanuts to designated agencies, in accordance with the following pertinent provisions of section 359 (g) of the act.

If the total acreage of peanuts picked or threshed on the farm does not exceed the total acreage of peanuts picked or threshed on the farm in 1947, payment of the marketing penalty as provided in subsection (a) will not be required on any excess peanuts which are delivered to or marketed through an agency or agencies designated each year by the Secretary. • • • For all peanuts so delivered to a designated agency under this subsection, producers shall be paid for the portion of the lot constituting excess peanuts, the prevailing market value thereof for crushing for oil (but not more than the price received by such agency from the sale of such peanuts), less the estimated cost of storing, handling, and selling such peanuts: Provided, That for the 1950 crop if the Secretary determines that the supply of any type of peanuts is insufficient to meet the demand for cleaning and shelling purposes at prices at which the Commodity Credit Corporation may sell peanuts owned or controlled by it for such purposes, the Secretary shall permit the sale, for cleaning and shelling, of the excess peanuts of such type so delivered. Such sales shall be in quantities necessary to meet such demand and at prices not less than those at which the Commodity Credit Corporation may sell peanuts owned or controlled by it for cleaning and shelling. The proceeds received from the sale of such peanuts of such type for cleaning and shelling shall, after deduction of the price paid to producers and other costs incurred in connection therewith, including estimated cost of proration, be prorated proportionately among all of the producers delivering excess peanuts of such type to designated agencies under this section • • •

Virginia and Valencia types of peanuts of the 1950 crop were declared to be in short supply on October 6, 1950 (15 F. R. 6833).

Commodity Credit Corporation was designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as the agency to which excess peanuts could be delivered pursuant to section 359 (g) of the act, with authority to utilize shellers, crushers, warehousemen, and other persons as its agents to receive, handle, and dispose of such excess peanuts (15 F. R. 4739).

It is proposed that the regulations governing the distribution of proceeds from the sale for cleaning and shelling of excess peanuts of the Virginia and Valencia types will include the following principal points:

1. The final dates for deliveries by producers of excess peanuts to Commodity Credit Corporation, in order for such producers to share in the distribution of sales proceeds on the basis of such deliveries, will be approximately May 1, 1951, in the case of Valencia type peanuts and June 15, 1951, in the case of Virginia type peanuts.

2. The total quantity of excess peanuts of each type delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation, and the quantity delivered from each farm, will be determined from memoranda of sale issued from excess oil marketing cards pursuant to the Marketing Quota Regulations for the 1950 crop of peanuts (15 F. R. 4729), and such quantities will not include any peanuts acquired by seed shellers in connection with shelling producers' peanuts for seed.

3. The total amount of money to be prorated among producers for each type of peanuts will be determined by deducting from the total proceeds received by Commodity Credit Corporation from the sale of excess peanuts of such type for cleaning and shelling, the estimated costs of proration and the total of the amounts paid to producers with respect to peanuts of such type delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation (which amounts reflect deductions made in determining prevailing oil prices to cover the estimated costs of storing, handling, and selling excess peanuts).

4. The rate of payment to be made to producers for each type of peanuts will be determined by dividing the total amount to be prorated for each type by the total pounds of excess peanuts of such type delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation without regard to grade or quality of the peanuts so delivered.

5. Where more than one producer is interested in the Virginia or Valencia type of excess peanuts produced on a farm and delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation, each producer's poundage share with respect to each type will be determined by multiplying the producer's percentage share for such type (determined from the 1950 Performance Report Form PMA–578 for the farm), by the total pounds of excess peanuts of such type produced on the farm and delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation, unless such poundage share is redetermined by the PMA county committee on the basis of evidence submitted by producers on the farm.

6. Each producer will be required to sign an application for payment certifying to the correctness of his percentage share and poundage share. The amount due any producer who cannot be located to sign an application for payment will be held in abeyance pending location of such producer.

7. Any amount payable to a producer will be subject to set-off for any indebtedness of the producer to the United States or any agency thereof.

Prior to issuance of the regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, and recommendations relating thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Fats and Oils Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. All submissions must be postmarked not later than 10 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 26th day of March 1951.

[SEAL] F. K. WOOLLEY,
Acting Administrator.

[Docket No. AO 228]

HANDLING OF MILK IN MUSKOGEE, OKLA., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS THERETO WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and to a proposed order, regulating the handling of milk in the Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area.

Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close on the 20th day after publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The public hearing, on the record of which the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order were formulated, was called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following receipt of a petition filed by the Muskogee Dairy Farmers Association, Muskogee, Oklahoma, and was held at Muskogee, Oklahoma, November 6 through 10, 1950, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on October 19, 1950, (15 F. R. 7050). The period from November 10, 1950 through January 2, 1951, was reserved for interested parties to file briefs on the record.

The material issues of record related to:

1. Whether the handling of milk produced for the Muskogee, Oklahoma, fluid milk market is in the current of interstate commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products;
2. The need for regulation;
3. The extent of the marketing area;
4. What milk should be priced under an order;
5. The classification of milk;
6. The level of class prices to be paid and means of determining such prices;
7. The type of pool and base rating method of distributing returns to producers; and
8. Administrative provisions.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues decided herein are hereby made upon the basis of the record of the hearing:

1. The handling of milk in the Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce, and directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products.

The record shows that milk producers located in Arkansas hold permits for the production of milk for the Muskogee market and that such production is being received by Muskogee handlers as a part of their regular supply. Also during 1949 and the early part of 1950, milk was received by a Muskogee handler from producers located in Missouri.

Milk of the regular approved supply for the Muskogee market also moves to points outside of the State of Oklahoma. Milk and milk products are distributed regularly by a Muskogee handler in communities of northwestern Arkansas and southeastern Kansas. This handler also packages milk in his Muskogee plant for distribution in Fort Smith, Arkansas. Substantial shipments of bulk milk for fluid use have been made to the State of Texas.

Substantial interstate commerce occurs with respect to milk produced for the Muskogee market and with respect to dairy products manufactured from such milk. During the months of seasonally high production surplus milk is normally disposed of to manufacturing plants located in Arkansas and Oklahoma. The products made from such surplus milk include butter, cheese, and condensed milk which are sold on the national market.

It is evident, therefore, that the handling of milk produced for the Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce, and directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products.

2. Marketing conditions in the Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area justify the issuance of a marketing agreement and order. A cooperative bargaining association representing a substantial number of producers has for some years negotiated with the two major handlers serving the Muskogee market. For 1950 a verbal agreement was negotiated whereby these handlers were to pay for their milk on the basis of its use in two classes. The higher priced class would include milk sold for fluid consumption as milk or milk products required by the local health ordinance to be made from Grade A milk, and the lower priced class would include milk used for the production of other milk products. Under the agreed scheme, the class use value of milk was to be returned to producers by a "base" plan under which each producer was to receive the higher or "base" price for an amount of milk equal to the same percentage of his established base as the percentage of fluid milk and milk product sales of the handler was of the total of established bases of all producers of the handler.

Muskogee handlers, however, do not confine their buying activities to milk received at their Muskogee plants and the producers' association represents only a few producers who deliver to other receiving stations. The agreement under which milk was to be bought in 1950 was interpreted differently by the association and by one handler with respect to what receipts and sales should be included in determining percentages of base milk for which producers were to be paid. Milk received at all points by this handler is moved to his Muskogee plant where all bottling operations are conducted, after which some milk is transferred to distribution points, which in some instances are at the same locations as the handler's receiving stations. The association believed the agreement provided for the inclusion of all receipts from producers who had established bases and for all sales. The handler insisted that receipts at certain receiving points and sales in certain areas should not be included. He also believed that bases should be included for some producers who had not established bases during the regular base-setting period, and he computed and made payments on this basis. Since receipts at certain points and sales in certain areas were not disclosed, the association had no means of knowing to what extent the returns of its members and other producers paid on the same basis truly reflected the use of their milk. Since July 1, 1950, this handler has made no records available to the association from which the utilization of any of his receipts can be determined.

Producers delivering to outlying receiving stations were shown to have been paid different prices for different percentages of established bases than those delivering to Muskogee. The record does not reveal that at any time producers delivering to receiving stations were paid less than the base price for established base deliveries, while producers delivering to Muskogee plants were for many pay periods paid less than the base price for a portion of their established bases. The differences in prices paid were not shown to be related to location or hauling adjustments. The differentials used in adjusting producer prices for the butterfat content of milk also varied without relation to the value of such butterfat. Handlers have also had differing costs of milk used for fluid use.

The agreed plan failed to recognize that individual producers do not at all times deliver milk equal to their established bases or the percentage of such bases determined under the plan. As a result the aggregate quantity of milk paid for at the higher price did not equal the volume of sales used in the computation of the base ratios. While some attempts at correction were made after this fact was discovered, handlers had for several months prior to the hearing disregarded these discrepancies entirely in computing their payments. The testimony of one handler witness indicates that this was done in lieu of a downward adjustment of prices which handlers proposed but failed to negotiate with the association.

As a result of these factors the marketing plan negotiated for 1950 has not worked and it does not appear that producers and handlers are able by negotiation to work out a plan whereby the difficulties can be adjusted so that equity to all producers and equal costs to handlers will result. The fact that at the hearing handlers offered to waive the necessity of testimony concerning need for regulation strongly supports these conclusions.

A marketing agreement or order is needed to establish uniform prices to handlers for milk in accordance with its use and to provide for equitable distribution of returns among producers. The auditing of the utilization of all milk received by handlers and the checking of butterfat tests and weights of producer milk will aid in establishing and maintaining stable marketing conditions by assuring producers that they will receive a proper accounting for their milk.

3. The marketing area should include all the territory within the boundaries of the cities of Muskogee, McAlester, and Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

Two proposals for defining the marketing area were made prior to the hearing. The Muskogee Dairy Farmers Association proposed the territory within the city limits of Muskogee, and the townships of Harris and Darling in Muskogee County, Oklahoma. Two major handlers with milk bottling plants located within the city of Muskogee proposed that the area include all of territory within the countries of Muskogee, Wagoner, Cherokee, Adair, Sequoyah, Haskell, Le Flore, Latimer, Pushmataha, McCurtin, Choctan, Atoka, Pittsburg, McIntosh, Hughes and Seminole.

The two principal handlers with plants in Muskogee distribute milk over a wide area. Much of this area, however, is rural territory and small towns with no effective health requirements of their own. In such areas milk distribution, except for an occasional small producer-handler, is entirely by Muskogee handlers or by handlers from other cities outside the areas proposed by either proponents or handlers. In the hearing handlers conceded that it would not be feasible to extend regulation to an area as extensive as that they had proposed. They contended, however, that the marketing area should include the cities of Muskogee, Tahlequah, McAlester, Westville, Stillwell, Sallisaw and Poteau. The townships of Harris and Darling in Muskogee county have no substantial urban population to distinguish them from other rural territory.

Muskogee handlers distribute a substantial portion of the milk sold in the cities of McAlester and Tahlequah. Health requirements for production and processing of milk sold for fluid consumption in the cities of Muskogee, McAlester, and Tahlequah are similar. There is a local handler in each of the cities of McAlester and Tahlequah who competes with Muskogee handlers for sales of fluid milk in these cities. Such handlers also compete with Muskogee handlers in purchasing their supplies of milk. The major volume of their sales are in the area proposed and their principal competition for sales beyond the limits of the proposed area is with Muskogee handlers. The definition of the marketing area herein provided for will result in the regulation of substantially all of the Grade A milk distributed in the outlying rural areas without at the same time making milk which is not produced in conformity with Grade A regulations subject to the pricing, pooling and other regulatory terms of the order.

While these cities do not represent the entire area of distribution of Muskogee handlers, they appear to be the principal centers of population in which a substantial portion of the total milk distribution is made by Muskogee handlers. In the four other cities proposed by the handlers, it appears that distribution by Muskogee handlers represents somewhat less of the total distribution in such cities and there was no indication that the health requirements of such cities are comparable to the three cities recommended for inclusion in the area. In some of these cities and towns milk is also distributed by some milk dealers from Fort Smith, Arkansas, a market somewhat comparable in size to Muskogee and in which some milk is also distributed from Muskogee. Since Fort Smith is not included in the marketing area, however, the marketing area should be so defined that no Fort Smith milk dealer would be regulated merely because of his sales in these outlying cities and towns.

4. The milk to be priced under the order should be that which is produced under the inspection of the appropriate health authority of the marketing area for consumption as Grade A milk, and which is regularly delivered to a plant distributing such milk on routes in the marketing area or to a receiving plant supplying such milk to a distributing plant. The milk distributed in the marketing area is inspected by the health authorities of the cities of Muskogee, McAlester, and Tahlequah, which require fluid milk, cream and certain other products to be of Grade A quality.

The milk to be priced and pooled under the order should be that which constitutes the regular source of supply for the marketing area. The regular source of supply may be delineated by providing appropriate definitions of the following terms: "approved plant," "handler," and "producer."

"Approved plant" should be defined as a milk plant approved by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area from which milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, or cream are disposed of for fluid consumption in the marketing area on wholesale or retail routes, including plant stores. The definition should also include a plant which serves as a receiving station for producer milk by receiving, weighing, and commingling such milk for shipment to a plant described above. The approved plant definition should exclude, however, plants which are not regularly supplying milk to the market, but furnish such supplies only during temporary periods of shortages. The inclusion of such plants would result in pricing milk not produced primarily for the market and would, therefore, be beyond the intended scope of the order.

"Handler" to whom the regulatory provisions of the order are applicable, should be defined as an operator of an "approved plant" in his capacity as such, and a cooperative association with respect to milk which it causes to be diverted from an approved plant to an unapproved plant for its account. Proprietary handlers may not always be in a position during periods of high production to accept milk from all regular producers or arrange for temporary diversion of milk, even though the production from all producers may be needed to supply the market during lower production periods. The provision that a cooperative association may be a handler even though it does not operate a plant will make it possible for the association to maintain any milk which it causes to be diverted under the pricing and pooling provisions of the order. This will permit all regular producers to receive the regulated price and should facilitate the marketing of surplus milk.

"Producer" should be defined to include those persons, other than producer-handlers, who produce milk under a dairy permit or rating issued by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area for the production of milk to be disposed of for consumption as Grade A milk, and which is received at an approved plant, or diverted from an approved plant to an unapproved plant. This definition would include all producers who regularly supply the marketing area with milk of Grade A quality. A producer regularly supplying the market should not lose his status as such during temporary periods when a handler diverts his milk from an approved plant for the handler's account. Producer-handlers (those who distribute only milk of their own production) should not be included in this definition since such persons normally disposed of to handlers only that milk which is in excess of their own sales to retail customers. Therefore, they should not share the returns from Class I sales with producers who regularly supply the handlers with milk. In order to prevent duplication in the regulation of prices, persons whose milk is priced under another Federal order are not to be included as producers under this order.

5. The order should provide for two classes of milk.

Class I milk should include all skim milk and butterfat disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk and buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, cream, cultured sour cream, and any other product required by the appropriate health authority of the city of Muskogee to be made from Grade A milk. It should also include all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

Class II milk should include all skim and butterfat (1) used to produce any product other than those defined as Class I milk, (2) disposed of for livestock feed, (3) shrinkage up to 2 percent of receipts from producers, (4) shrinkage of other source milk, and (5) inventory variations of Class I milk.

The proposal of the handlers to provide for a Class III classification for surplus butterfat utilized in the manufacture of butter should not be adopted. The classification of all manufactured products which are not required to be made from Grade A milk as Class II milk gives due consideration to the general average level of prices of milk for diversified manufacturing uses. The adoption of this proposal would classify and price such butterfat from milk of Grade A quality below the general average level of the prices paid for milk for manufacturing purposes and such a lower priced class was not shown to be necessary in order to dispose of the probable amounts of surplus milk.

The producers proposed classification into two classes approximately as set forth above. They first proposed that cottage cheese and aerated products be included in Class I milk, but later proposed that cottage cheese or any other products not required to be made from Grade A milk be classified as Class II milk.

The products included in Class I milk are those required by the appropriate health authorities to be processed from Grade A milk. Furthermore the products are those which have been included under the accounting between handlers and the cooperative association supplying them. None of the products included in Class II are required to be made from Grade A milk. Such products as butter, cheese, condensed and evaporated milk, and other manufactured dairy products, which are not required by the health authorities to be made from Grade A milk are normally processed from Nongrade A milk but may contain Grade A milk at times when handlers' supplies of Grade A milk are in excess of Class I sales. It is considered necessary, at such times, when producer receipts of Grade A milk are in excess of sales to move excess milk into manufacturing channels.

A shrinkage allowance is included also in Class II milk. Producers proposed that shrinkage up to 1 percent of receipts from producers be classified as Class II milk and shrinkage in excess of this amount be classified as Class I milk. Handlers offered testimony to indicate shrinkage experience over a period of time ranged from less than 1 percent to more than 5 percent. It is concluded that the maximum shrinkage allowance on unaccounted for producer milk to be included in Class II milk should be 2 percent. It appears that a 2 percent shrinkage allowance is reasonable for milk plant operations and such allowance is comparable to other markets under regulation. Any shrinkage of producer milk in excess of that allowed to be classified as Class II milk should be accounted for as Class I milk. No limit is placed on the amount of shrinkage in other source milk allowed as Class II milk since such milk would be deducted from the lowest available use classification under the allocation provisions of the order.

Provisions are included herein for the classification of milk when it is transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream from an approved plant, to an approved plant of another handler, to producer-handlers, and to unapproved plants. Transfers or diversions to an approved plant of another handler may be classified as agreed upon between the parties to the transaction, subject to the requirement that producer milk shall have priority over other source milk for Class I use. Transfers or diversions to producer-handlers should be Class I milk since such persons' operations are primarily confined to Class I milk. Transfers or diversions to unapproved plants within 185 miles of an approved plant should be Class I milk, unless the market administrator is permitted to audit the records of receipts and utilization at the unapproved plant to determine the classification of all of the receipts of milk at such plant which would thereby subject the milk to reclassification or to the allocation provisions that insure producers the higher use classification available to them on a monthly use basis. Transfers or diversions to unapproved plants beyond 185 miles from an approved plant should be classified as Class I milk. The record shows ample manufacturing facilities within the 185-mile limit to handle all surplus producer milk and no reason was shown for the necessity to move milk for manufacturing purposes to more distant points. Testimony disclosed shipments of milk for fluid use, under certificate as Grade A, to points beyond the 185-mile limitation.

The order further provides that skim milk and butterfat received by handlers from sources other than producers shall be allocated to the lowest use in the handler's plant. This is necessary to prevent other source milk from displacing the milk of producers who constitute the regular source of supply of the market.

6. Class prices. Class I milk prices in this area should be based on prices paid for milk used for manufacturing purposes. Prices paid for milk used for fluid purposes in this area have been closely related to prices paid for milk for manufacturing purposes. Production and marketing of milk for each type of outlet are subject to many of the same economic factors. Since the market for most manufactured products is country-wide, prices of manufactured dairy products reflect many of the changes in the general economic conditions affecting the supply and demand for milk. Moreover, butter, powder, and cheese prices, or the prices paid by condensaries with differentials over these basic or manufacturing prices are frequently used to establish fluid milk prices in those areas where the production of manufacturing quality milk is a significant factor in the total potential supply of milk for the market. The production of manufacturing quality milk in the supply area of the Muskogee area is a significant factor in the availability of milk for this market indicating the feasibility of a Class I pricing formula based on the prices of milk for manufacturing uses. Differentials over the basic formula are needed to cover the cost of meeting quality requirements in the production of market milk and to furnish the necessary incentive to get such milk produced.

The basic formula price to be used in establishing the current delivery period price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content should be the highest of the following for the preceding month: the prices paid to farmers at 18 milk manufacturing plants in Wisconsin and Michigan for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content adjusted to a 4.0 percent basis; a formula price based upon the market price of butter and powder; or the average price paid to farmers for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content by specified local manufacturing plants.

Pricing of producer milk on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis follows the usual custom of the market and no objection was made to the proposal. The components of the basic formula price herein decided upon are the same as those in effect in the Tulsa market. A correlation of the movement of prices in the two markets is necessary since certain of the Muskogee handlers compete with Tulsa handlers for supplies and sales. The use of the previous month's manufacturing values in determining the basic formula price for the current delivery period permits handlers to know their milk costs at the time of purchase and is consistent with the practice in the surrounding Federal order markets.

The differentials over the basic formula price for Class I milk under this order should be $1.45 per hundredweight during the months of April through June of each year, and $1.85 per hundredweight for the months of July through March.

These differentials are those which are now included in the Tulsa order. The supply areas for this market and for the Tulsa market overlap. Production conditions for the two markets are therefore similar. The quality of milk required by the local health ordinances in the two markets and demand conditions for milk are also similar. These similarities require that pricing arrangements for Class I milk in the two markets be identical. For this reason also, the same provision for preventing contra-seasonal movements in Class I prices is provided in this order as is contained in the Tulsa order.

For the 12-month period (December 1949–November 1950) ending with the month of the hearing the average class price which these differentials and basic formula prices would have produced would have been $5.06 per hundredweight. During the entire period the negotiated price of the Muskogee Market was $5.00 per hundredweight. Hence, had the Class I pricing method herein adopted been in effect in a recent period it would have resulted in prices at approximately the same annual level as those that were negotiated; there would, however, have been some seasonal variation in this level.

The price for Class II milk should be established on the average price paid for ungraded milk by a group of relatively large manufacturing plants in or near the milkshed. This method of arriving at the Class II price was proposed by the producers. Handlers offered no material objection to the method but did, however, propose alternatives to certain manufacturing plants selected by the proponents. The group of plants selected should be representative of the prices being paid for milk by manufacturing plants in the Muskogee milkshed. Since Muskogee handlers have limited manufacturing facilities and milk which is in excess of the needs of the market for Class I use is at times sold to such outlets. The plants to be named as a basis for establishing the Class II price are those of the American Foods Company, Miami, Oklahoma, the Hawk Dairies, Tulsa, Oklahoma, the Muskogee Dairy Products Company, Muskogee, Oklahoma, and the Pet Milk Company, Siloam Springs, Arkansas.

The class prices determined for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content should be adjusted by butterfat differentials to determine the value of milk of the actual butterfat content used by a handler in each class. The Class I butterfat differential should be based on 1.25 times the price of 92-score butter in the Chicago market and the Class II butterfat differential should be based on 1.15 times the price of 92-score butter in such market. These are the same butterfat differentials as are provided for in the Tulsa order and they will tend to maintain prices between the two markets in close relationship.

Provisions for making location adjustments in the prices paid producers for milk delivered to certain receiving plants and location allowances to handlers on milk moved to the marketing area from these plants should be provided.

There are four receiving stations which are operated by a Muskogee handler. They are located at Hugo, Miami, and Poteau, Oklahoma, and Fort Smith, Arkansas. At all of these plants Grade A milk is received, weighed, commingled and moved to the handler's Muskogee distributing plant or processed into manufactured products. In addition to the receiving operations the plants at Hugo, Miami and Fort Smith are distributing points for certain outlying markets served by the Muskogee handler.

With minor exceptions, this handler has not paid the same price for milk delivered to receiving stations as for milk delivered to his Muskogee plant. In some instances the prices paid producers delivering to the outlying plants have been aligned with prices paid by other purchases of milk in the locality and they have not, therefore, always been correlated with the price of milk for the primary market.

The purchases of milk at Hugo and Fort Smith are entirely incidental to the distribution activities of the handler in these areas and the level of prices that must be paid producers delivering to these points may be expected to be equal to or in excess of that for milk delivered to Muskogee. To provide location adjustments for milk received at Hugo and Fort Smith would apparently require the handler to pay premiums to meet the competitive prices for milk in these areas. It is probable that at Hugo premiums will be required in any event, as prices in that area are apparently usually substantially higher than at Muskogee.

The receipts of milk at Miami and Poteau appear to be more closely identified as a part of this handler's supply for general distribution. Location adjustments are provided with respect to these points. The adjustments provided at Miami will align Muskogee prices at that point with those of the Tulsa order. A Tulsa handler also receives milk at Miami and the distances from Miami to Tulsa and to Muskogee are comparable. The adjustment at Poteau is slightly less on the basis that Poteau is somewhat nearer Muskogee, so that less transportation costs are involved.

The adjustment credit to the handler should apply only to that milk received at these points which is moved to an approved plant in the marketing area in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream, so that it will be available for Class I use. The location adjustment to producers who deliver milk to the specified receiving stations should be at the same rate per hundredweight as the credit to handlers and should apply to all milk delivered by such producers.

7. It is concluded that a market-wide pool should be adopted.

Under the market-wide type of pool all producers would be entitled to receive a uniform price computed on the basis of the combined classification value of producer milk of all handlers. This type of pool contributes to the stability of the market in that it does not induce producers to shift between handlers; it does, however, facilitate shifting of producers in the event it becomes necessary to adjust supplies between handlers; and it will require all producers to share the burden of seasonal surpluses.

There was no opposition to the proposal for a market-wide pool and no evidence was offered that any different kind of pool should be adapted.

A base plan of distributing among producers the market returns for milk should be used in connection with the market-wide pool.

There is considerable seasonal variation in the production of milk for the Muskogee market, with production in the fall and winter months considerably less than that in the spring and summer months. The demand for fluid milk has much less seasonal variation but it is usually at the highest during the period of the year when production is at a low level. This situation results in seasonal shortages and burdenseme surpluses of milk. Producers should, therefore, be encouraged to adjust their production pattern to conform more nearly to the demand for fluid milk.

Producers propose and handlers agree that a "base" plan which provides returns to each producer related directly to his delivery of milk during the normally low production months will encourage a more level production pattern for the market. A large seasonal increase in production is burdensome to the market because handlers have very limited manufacturing facilities and therefore dispose of a large portion of their surplus milk to manufacturing plants; also that producers supplying milk to handlers in Muskogee have operated under a similar plan for several years.

The plans proposed by producers would establish for each producer a daily base quantity of milk equal to his average daily deliveries of milk during October, November, December, January, and February of each year. During these months of establishing bases all producers would be paid the "pool" or uniform price for all deliveries. For all other months separate uniform prices for base milk and excess milk would be computed so that Class I sales would be first allocated to base milk. They also proposed some modification of this plan to provide temporary bases for producers who begin deliveries to the market after the close of the period for establishing bases.

A base plan is designed to apportion the total value of the milk purchased by all handlers among producers on the basis of their marketing of milk during a representative period of production. The application of the base plan is intended to provide an incentive to alter production plans in accordance with the market demand for milk for fluid uses. For these purposes the plan to be adopted may logically be designed not only to influence the seasonal production patterns of regular producers but also to influence other producers to enter the market at the time of the year when new production is most needed to meet the demand for fluid uses.

A large degree of flexibility should be incorporated in the base plan without destroying the desired effectiveness. This may be accomplished in part by limiting the effective period of the bases to the months of highest production, the establishment of new bases by each producer each year during the months of lowest production and by providing for the payment of the uniform market-wide pool price to all producers during all months except those when bases are applicable. The months of October, November, December, and January appear to be those during which the lowest production has occurred, and should be the period for establishing bases. It does not appear that payments on the base plan need to be made during all the other months in order for the plan to operate effectively. Restricting payments on the base plan to the months of highest production (April, May and June) will provide more flexibility than the proposed plan and will allow the individual producer more time to make the necessary adjustments in his production program. Also payments on a uniform price for deliveries during the months of July through March will provide ample opportunity for new producers to enter the market and proportionately share in the returns before the period when payments are made on the base plan. Any new producers entering the market during the base paying period will share with all other producers any Class I milk utilization in excess of base milk.

Producers delivering milk to handlers in Muskogee proper have operated under a base plan for several years. The sentiment in the market in favor of a base plan is such that payments to producers should continue on such a plan without interruptions. Producers have been advised that their deliveries of milk to handlers beginning with the normally short production months of the fall of 1950 through January 1951 would be used for establishing bases in 1951. It is desirable to continue the operation of a base plan without interruptions. Therefore, it will be necessary to make an administrative determination of each producer's deliveries to handlers during the months of October, November, December 1950 and January 1951 in order to establish bases for producers during the first year of the order.

It is necessary to set forth certain rules in connection with the establishment and transfer of bases to provide reasonable administrative workability of the plan. To accomplish this purpose and to preserve the effectiveness of the base plan, transfers of bases should be limited to the entire bases of producers who may retire from farming, die or enter military service and to joint production arrangements such as a landlord-tenant relationship. Since the base plan is effective in determining producer payments in only three of the months of a year, and all producers must establish a new base each year, it does not appear necessary to include provisions other than those contained herein with respect to the establishment and transfer of bases.

8. Certain other provisions should be adopted in order to carry out administratively the purpose of the regulations.

(a) Administrative assessments. Each handler should be required to pay to the market administrator, as his pro rata share of the costs of administration of the order 4 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe, on receipts of (1) producer milk, and (2) other source milk classified as Class I milk.

The market administrator is required to verify the disposition of all milk received in order to properly determine the classification of producer milk. Therefore, a charge on receipts of other source used as Class I milk, as well as producer milk, will appropriately apportion the administrative expense among handlers. Application of the assessment to all other source milk received by a handler, regardless of use, could place some handlers at a disadvantage in utilizing for manufacture milk not regulated by the order.

The market administrator must have the necessary funds to enable him to administer properly the terms of the order. In view of the anticipated volume of milk on which the rate would apply, a maximum rate of 4 cents per hundredweight should be adopted to guarantee sufficient administrative income. In the event a lesser amount proves later to be sufficient for proper administration, provision is made to enable the Secretary to decrease the assessment without the necessity of amending the order. The act provides that such assessments shall be the means of financing the cost of administration.

(b) Deductions for marketing services. Provisions should be included for furnishing marketing services to producers who do not belong to a cooperative association which performs such services, and appropriate deductions should be made to cover the cost therefor. These services include sampling, testing, and checking the weights of producer milk and furnishing of market information by the market administrator. The proponents of the order proposed that 5 cents per hundredweight should be deducted from the payments to producers who are not members of a cooperative association to cover expenses in connection with the services to be rendered by the market administrator to such producers. The cost of performing the services will vary in accordance with the number of such producers, concentration of deliveries and the volume of milk involved. In view of the rate of assessments to cover such costs under other federal orders, a deduction for these services from payments to producers at the rate of 5 cents per hundredweight seems reasonably necessary to defray the cost of the services to be performed under this order. In the event that any qualified cooperative association of producers performs such services for its members, handlers will be required to make such deductions and to pay them to the cooperative association as are authorized by its members. Handlers should also be required to furnish each such cooperative association a statement showing the amount of deductions, and the amount and average butterfat content of milk for which deductions were computed for each member producer. This is necessary in order for the cooperative to know whether it is receiving the correct amounts as required by this provision.

(c) Reports and records. All accounting, reports, price computations and payments, are to be made on a monthly basis. The term "month" is used throughout the order in its ordinary and usual meaning as one of the twelve divisions of the calendar year. However, the use of this term within the text of the order shall not be construed to prevent the issuance by the Secretary of amendments to the orders to be effective on any day of a month.

Provisions are contained in the order to require handlers to maintain adequate records and to make reports with respect to receipts, utilization, and payments for milk. Such reports are necessary for the purpose of determining proper classification and payment for milk of producers.

Reports of receipts and utilization of milk should be filed not later than the 7th day after the end of the month to assure the announcement of a uniform price by the 12th day after the end of the month.

(d) Audits. The order should provide for the auditing of each handler's reports and records as one means of assuring that handlers are properly complying with the terms of the order. It is necessary during audit that the handler provide whatever facilities are necessary to verify reports or to ascertain the correct information regarding his receipts and utilization of milk and payments to producers.

(e) Payments to producers. Although it is provided that a uniform price should be computed only once a month, provision should be made for payment to producers semimonthly. Producers proposed an "advance" payment with respect to milk delivered during the first 15 days of the month to be made on or before the last of the month. Producers customarily have been paid twice a month and this practice should continue. Handlers offered no opposition to this method of making payment. Such advance payment should be made at not less than the rate of the Class II price for the preceding month. The final payment for each month should be made on or before the 15th day after the end of the month. Handlers are permitted to deduct advance payments from the money due producers on the 15th day after the end of the month. Dates for the filing of handler reports and for the computation and announcement of the uniform price have been scheduled in a manner which will permit handlers to make required payments both to producers, and the producer-settlement fund within the respective dates prescribed. Thus, a reasonably adequate time is allowed handlers for making final payments to producers.

(f) Other Administrative provisions. The other provisions of the order which are of a general administrative nature are found in all orders and are necessary for proper and efficient administration of the order. They provide for the selection of a market administrator, define his powers and duties, prescribe the information to be reported by handlers each month, set forth the rules to be followed by the market administrator in making computations required by the order. They also prescribe the length of time that records are to be retained and provide a plan for liquidation of the order in the event of its suspension or termination.

The proponents proposed that handlers be required to post with the market administrator a surety bond in the amount not exceeding twice the estimated amount of payments to be made to producers for any delivery period. They indicated that such a provision was desirable to insure payments to producers for milk priced under the order. Producers have, in the past, received payments for milk within the scheduled time without this protection. Milk price orders have not generally required the posting of a bond by regulated handlers and yet they have succeeded in giving reasonable assurance of payment to producers. There was no showing here that a special need existed for protecting producers beyond that afforded generally by a price order. Moreover, the determination of the adequacy of such a bond to cover all possible contingencies would place undue responsibility upon the market administrator. Therefore it is concluded that this proposed provision should not be adopted.

A "producer-handler" should be exempt from all the regulatory provisions of the order except that requiring the filing of reports as requested by the market administrator. The producer-handler is a person who operates a milk plant and handles only milk from his own production, and does not buy any milk from producers. In these respects his situation is different from that of other handlers. Because such persons frequently change their status, it is necessary for the market administrator to receive reports from such persons in order to verify their status and to supplement other market information.

The order should provide that a handler who, the Secretary determines to be disposing of the greater portion of his milk in another area subject to another Federal marketing order be partially exempt from provisions of this order. It would be impractical to regulate the same person under two different orders with respect to the same milk. It appears reasonable that the effective regulation should be that of the area in which such a person makes the greater portion of his sales. In order to insure equity between handlers, such a person should not be permitted to purchase milk for sale as Class I in either area at less than the price paid by regulated handlers of the area. Therefore it should be provided that if the price such handler is required to pay for Class I milk under the other order to which he is subject is less than the price provided in the proposed order, he should pay to the producer-settlement fund an amount equal to the difference between the two prices on all Class I milk disposed of within the area. Such persons should also be required to report to the market administrator regularly so that he may ascertain the amount of milk disposed of by such persons within the area.

The order should also provide for the retention of necessary records and the ultimate termination of obligations. The provisions with respect to these items are those which experience under other marketing orders has shown to be appropriate.

It was proposed that if a handler fails to make the required reports or payments, his name may be publicly announced by the market administrator, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary. This provision should be adopted since it will facilitate the enforcement of the terms of the order.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of the Muskogee Dairy Farmers Association, the Carnation Company of Oklahoma and the Roselawn Dairy.

The briefs contained statements of fact, proposed findings and conclusions, and arguments with respect to the provisions of the proposed order. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the proposed findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the requests to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with conclusions in this recommended decision.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following order is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The recommended marketing agreement is not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be identical with those contained in the recommended order.

DEFINITIONS

§ 929.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

§ 929.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 929.3 Department. "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture or other Federal agency authorized to perform the price reporting functions specified in this part.

§ 929.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 929.5 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers which the Secretary determines (a) to be qualified under the provisions of the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," (b) to have full authority in the sale of milk of its members, and (c) to be engaged in making collective sales or marketing milk or its products for its members.

§ 929.6 Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area. "Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area," hereinafter called the marketing area, means all the territory lying within the boundaries of the cities of Muskogee, McAlester, and Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

§ 929.7 Approved plant. "Approved plant" means (a) any milk plant approved by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area from which milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, or cream are disposed of for fluid consumption in the marketing area on wholesale or retail routes (including plant stores), or (b) any milk plant approved by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area which serves as a receiving station by receiving, weighing, and commingling producer milk and from which such milk is normally transferred to a plant specified in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 929.8 Unapproved plant. "Unapproved plant" means any milk manufacturing, processing, bottling, or distributing plant other than an approved plant.

§ 929.9 Handler. "Handler" means (a) any person in his capacity as the operator of an approved plant; or (b) any cooperative association with respect to the milk of any producer which it causes to be diverted to an unapproved plant for the account of such cooperative association.

§ 929.10 Producer. "Producer" means any person, other than a producer-handler, who produces milk which is received at an approved plant: Provided, That such milk is produced under a dairy farm inspection permit or inspection rating issued by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area for the production of milk to be disposed of for consumption as Grade A milk. This definition shall include any such person who is regularly classified as a producer but whose milk is caused to be diverted by a handler to an unapproved plant, and milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received at an approved plant by the handler who causes it to be diverted. This definition shall not include a person with respect to milk produced by him which is received at a plant operated by a handler who is subject to another Federal marketing order and who is partially exempt from the provisions of this part pursuant to § 929.61.

§ 929.11 Producer milk. "Producer milk" means all skim milk and butterfat in milk produced by a producer which is received by a handler either directly from producers or from other handlers.

§ 929.12 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat other than that contained in producer milk.

§ 929.13 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any person who produces milk and operates an approved plant, but who receives no milk from producers.

§ 929.14 Base milk. "Base milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is not in excess of each producer's daily average base computed pursuant to § 929.90 multiplied by the number of days in such month for which the handler received milk from the producer.

§ 929.15 Excess milk. "Excess milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is in excess of base milk received from each producer during such month, and shall include all milk received from producers for whom no daily average base can be computed pursuant to § 929.90.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 929.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this part shall be a market administrator, selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

§ 929.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this part:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 929.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this part, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Within 45 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond effective as of the date on which he enters upon such duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of funds provided by § 929.88 the cost of his bond and of the bonds of his employees, his own compensation, and all other expenses (except those incurred under § 929.87) necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part, and upon request by the Secretary, surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(g) Audit all reports and payments by each handler by inspection of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classification of skim milk or butterfat for such handler depends;

(h) Publicly announce, at his discretion, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the day upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not:

(1) Made reports pursuant to §§ 929.30 through 929.32;

(2) Maintained adequate records and facilities pursuant to § 929.33; or

(3) Made payments pursuant to §§ 929.80 through 929.88;

(i) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, report to each cooperative association which so requests the amount and class utilization of milk received by each handler from producers who are members of such cooperative association. For the purpose of this report, the milk received shall be prorated to each class in the proportion that the total receipts of producer milk by such handler were used in each class;

(j) Publicly announce by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate the prices determined for each month as follows:

(1) On or before the 5th day of each month the minimum prices for Class I milk pursuant to § 929.51 (a) and the Class I butterfat differential pursuant to § 929.52 (a), both for the current month; and the minimum price for Class II milk pursuant to § 929.51 (b) and the Class II butterfat differential pursuant to § 929.52 (b), both for the preceding month; and

(2) On or before the 12th day of each month, the uniform price(s) computed pursuant to § 929.71 or § 929.72, as applicable, and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.82, both applicable to milk delivered during the preceding month; and

(k) Prepare and disseminate to the public such statistics and other information as he deems advisable and as do not reveal confidential information.

REPORTS, RECORDS, AND FACILITIES

§ 929.30 Reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 7th day after the end of each month, each handler, except a producer-handler, shall report to the market administrator in detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in milk received from producers, and, for the months of April through June, the aggregate quantities of base milk and excess milk;

(b) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in (or used in the production of) receipts from other handlers;

(c) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in receipts of other source milk (except Class II products disposed of in the form in which received without further processing or packaging by the handler);

(d) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to this section;

(e) The disposition of Class I products on routes wholly outside the marketing area; and

(f) Such other information with respect to receipts and utilization as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 929.31 Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day of each month, each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer payroll for deliveries of the preceding month which shall show:

(a) The total pounds of milk received from each producer and cooperative association, the total pounds of butterfat contained in such milk and the number of days on which milk was received from such producers, including for the months of April through June such producer's deliveries of base and excess milk;

(b) The amount of payment to each producer and cooperative association; and

(c) The nature and amount of any deductions or charges involved in such payments.

§ 929.32 Other reports. (a) Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may prescribe.

(b) Each handler who causes milk to be diverted to an unapproved plant shall, prior to such diversion, report to the market administrator and to the cooperative association of which such producer is a member, of his intention to divert such milk, the proposed date or dates of such diversion, and the plant to which such milk is to be diverted.

(c) Upon request of the market administrator, each handler shall report the information described in paragraph (a) of § 929.31, together with such other information as the market administrator may prescribe for prior calendar months included in the period beginning with October 1950 to the effective date of this part.

§ 929.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data with respect to:

(a) The receipts and utilization of all receipts of producer milk and other source milk;

(b) The weights and tests for butterfat and other content of all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products handled;

(c) Payments to producers and cooperative associations; and

(d) The pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products on hand at the beginning and end of each month.

§ 929.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this order to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case, the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly, upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 929.40 Basis of classification. All skim milk and butterfat received within the month by a handler and which is required to be reported pursuant to § 929.30 shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 929.41 through 929.46.

§ 929.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 929.43 and 929.44, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, cream, cultured sour cream, and any other product required by the appropriate health authority of the City of Muskogee, Oklahoma, to be made from Grade A milk, and all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat:

(1) Used to produce any product other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section; (2) disposed of for livestock feed; (3) in shrinkage allocated to receipts of milk from producers, but not in excess of 2 percent of such receipts of skim milk and butterfat, (4) in shrinkage allocated to receipts of other source milk; and (5) in inventory variations of milk, skim milk, cream, or any Class I product.

§ 929.42 Shrinkage. The market administrator shall allocate shrinkage over a handler's receipts as follows:

(a) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat for each handler; and

(b) Prorate the resulting amounts between the receipts of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk and in other source milk.

§ 929.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat can prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

§ 929.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler either by transfer or diversion shall be classified:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream, to the approved plant of another handler (except a producer-handler) unless utilization in Class II is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 7th day after the end of the month within which such transaction occurred: Provided, That the skim milk or butterfat so assigned to Class II shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in Class II in the plant of the transferee-handler after the subtraction of other source milk pursuant to § 929.46 and any additional amounts of such skim milk or butterfat shall be assigned to Class I: And provided further, That if either or both handlers have received other source milk, the skim milk or butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified at both plants so as to allocate the greatest possible Class I utilization to producer milk.

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream to a producer-handler.

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk or skim milk to an unapproved plant located more than 185 miles from the approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator.

(d) As Class I milk if transferred in the form of cream under Grade A certification to an unapproved plant located more than 185 miles from an approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, and as Class II milk if so transferred without Grade A certification.

(e) As Class I milk, if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream to an unapproved plant located less than 185 miles from the approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator from which transferred or diverted, unless the market administrator is permitted to audit the records of receipts and utilization at such unapproved plant, in which case the classification of all skim milk and butterfat received at such unapproved plant shall be determined and the skim milk and butterfat transferred or diverted from the approved plant shall be allocated to the highest use remaining after subtracting, in series beginning with Class I milk, receipts of skim milk and butterfat at such unapproved plant directly from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply for fluid usage of such unapproved plant in markets supplied by such plant.

§ 929.45 Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the monthly report submitted by each handler and shall compute the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

§ 929.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. After making the computations pursuant to § 929.45, the market administrator shall determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk determined pursuant to § 929.41 (b) (3);

(2) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk in other source milk: Provided, That if the receipts of skim milk in other source milk are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk in Class I;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the skim milk received from other handlers according to its classification as determined pursuant to § 929.44 (a);

(4) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; and

(5) If the remaining pounds of skim milk in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of skim milk in series beginning with Class II milk. Any amount so subtracted shall be called "overage."

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the same procedure outlined for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Determine the weighted average butterfat content of Class I and Class II milk computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 929.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and § 929.51 (b) for the preceding month.

(a) The average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department, divided by 3.5 and multiplied by 4.0:

Present Operator and Location

Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) From the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) per pound of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department during the month, subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent thereof, and multiply by 4.0.

(2) From the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area as published for the period from the 26th day of the preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department, deduct 5.5 cents, multiply by 8.5 and then multiply by 0.96.

§ 929.51 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of §§ 929.52 and 929.53, the minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for milk received at his plant from producers during the month shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk. The price for Class I shall be the basic formula price plus $1.45 for the months of April, May, and June, and plus $1.85 for all other months: Provided, That for each of the months of September, October, November, and December, such price shall not be less than that for the preceding month, and that for each of the months of April, May, and June, such price shall not be more than that for the preceding month.

(b) Class II milk. The average of the basic or field prices reported to have been paid or to be paid for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location

American Foods Co., Miami, Okla.
Hawk Dairies, Tulsa, Okla.
Muskogee Dairy Products Co., Muskogee, Okla.
Pet Milk Co., Siloam Springs, Ark.

§ 929.52 Butterfat differentials to handlers. If the average butterfat content of the milk of any handler allocated to any class pursuant to § 929.46 is more or less than 4.0 percent, there shall be added to the respective class price, computed pursuant to § 929.51, for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is above 4.0 percent or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent that such average butterfat content is below 4.0 percent an amount equal to the butterfat differential computed by multiplying the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling price per pound (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at Chicago as reported by the Department during the appropriate month by the applicable factor listed below and dividing the result by 10:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply such price for the preceding month by 1.25;

(b) Class II milk. Multiply such price for the current month by 1.15.

§ 929.53 Location adjustment credit to handlers. For that portion of milk which (a) is received directly from producers at an approved plant described in § 929.7 (b) which is located at Poteau, or Miami, Oklahoma; and (b) is moved to an approved plant in the marketing area in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream, the prices specified in § 929.51 shall be subject to a location adjustment credit to the handler, computed as follows:

Location of plant:	Cents per hundredweight
Poteau, Okla	21
Miami, Okla	23

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 929.60 Producer-handlers. Sections 929.40 through 929.46, 929.50 through 929.53, 929.70 through 929.72, 929.80 through 929.88, 929.90 and 929.91, shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 929.61 Milk priced under other Federal orders. In case skim milk or butterfat which is priced under another Federal milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act is disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area on a route operated by or for a person subject to regulation as a handler as defined in such other agreement or order, the provisions of this part shall not apply except as follows:

(a) The handler shall, with respect to his total receipts of skim milk and butterfat make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator.

(b) If the price which such handler is required to pay under the other Federal order to which he is subject for skim milk and butterfat which would be classified as Class I milk under this part is less than the price provided by this part, such handler shall pay to the market administrator for deposit into the producer-settlement fund (with respect to all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk within the marketing area) an amount equal to the difference between the value of such skim milk or butterfat as computed pursuant to this part and its value as determined pursuant to the other order to which he is subject.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 929.70 Computation of value of milk. The value of milk received during each month by each handler from producers shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying the pounds of such milk in each class by the applicable class prices, adding together the resulting amounts and deducting therefrom the values of all location adjustments computed at the applicable rates set forth in § 929.53: Provided, That if the handler had overage of either skim milk or butterfat, there shall be added to the above values an amount computed by multiplying the pounds of overage deducted from each class pursuant to § 929.46 by the applicable class prices.

§ 929.71 Computation of uniform prices. For each of the months of July through March the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 929.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 929.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 929.80 and 929.84 for the preceding month;

(b) Add the aggregate of the values of all allowable location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 929.81;

(c) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 929.85;

(d) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.82 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(e) Divide the resulting amount by the total hundredweight of milk included in these computations; and

(f) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

§ 929.72 Computation of uniform prices for base milk and excess milk. For each of the months of April through June the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 929.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 929.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 929.80 and 929.84 for the preceding month;

(b) Add the aggregate of the values of all allowable location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 929.81;

(c) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 929.85:

(d) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.82 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(e) Compute the total value on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis of excess milk included in these computations by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk not in excess of the total quantity of Class II milk included in these computations by the price for Class II milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, multiplying the hundredweight of such milk in excess of the total hundredweight of such Class II milk by the price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, and adding together the resulting amounts;

(f) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (e) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk, and adjust to the nearest cent. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat received from producers.

(g) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (e) of this section from the value of all milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section and adjust by any amount involved in adjusting the uniform price of excess milk to the nearest cent;

(h) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (g) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk included in these computations; and

(i) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

PAYMENTS

§ 929.80 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment to producers as follows:

(a) On or before the 15th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, to each producer (1) at not less than the uniform price computed pursuant to § 929.71 for all milk received from such producer if such preceding month was any of the months of July through March, or (2) at not less than the uniform price for base milk computed pursuant to § 929.72, with respect to base milk received from such producer, and at not less than the uniform price for excess milk computed pursuant to § 929.72 with respect to excess milk received from such producer, if such preceding month was any of the months of April through June, in each case adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.82, subject to location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 929.81, less the amount of the payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payment for such milk, the handler shall, if the cooperative association so requests, pay such cooperative association, on or before the 13th day after the end of the month, an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments payable to such producers in accordance with this paragraph: And provided further, That if such handler has not received full payment for such month pursuant to § 929.85, he may reduce his total payments to all producers uniformly by not more than the amount of the reduction in payments from the market administrator; and the handler shall after receipt of such payment from the market administrator complete the payments to those producers not later than the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following after receipt of the balance from the market administrator.

(b) On or before the last day of each month, each handler shall make payment for milk received from producers during the first 15 days of the month to each producer at not less than the Class II price for the preceding month: Provided, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association, which is authorized to collect payments for such milk, if the cooperative association so requests, the handler shall pay such cooperative association an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers in accordance with this paragraph.

§ 929.81 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 929.80, a handler may deduct per hundredweight of milk received from producers at an approved plant described in § 929.7 (b) which is located at Poteau, or Miami, Oklahoma, the applicable amounts set forth below:

Location of plant:	Cents per hundredweight
Poteau, Okla	21
Miami, Okla	23

§ 929.82 Producer-butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 929.80, there shall be added to or subtracted from the uniform price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of the milk received from the producer is above or below 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying by 1.2 the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices per pound (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month, dividing the resulting sum by 10, and rounding to the nearest one-tenth of a cent.

§ 929.83 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund," into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 929.61 (b), 929.84 and 929.86, and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to §§ 929.85 and 929.86.

§ 929.84 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, shall pay to the market administrator the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers as determined pursuant to § 929.70 is greater than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 929.80, or any amount required pursuant to § 929.61 (b).

§ 929.85 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, the market administrator shall pay to each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers during the month as determined pursuant to § 929.70 is less than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 929.80: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who has not received the balance of such payment from the market administrator shall be considered in violation of § 929.80 if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund. The handler shall complete such payments to producers not later than the date for making such payments next following after the receipt of the balance from the market administrator.

§ 929.86 Adjustment of accounts. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from such handler; (b) such handler from the market administrator; or (c) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which error occurred.

§ 929.87 Marketing services. (a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers (other than himself) pursuant to § 929.80, shall deduct 5 cents per hundredweight or such amount not exceeding 5 cents per hundredweight as may be prescribed by the Secretary, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of each month. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to sample, test, and check the weights of milk received and to provide producers with market information.

(b) In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between such cooperative association and such producers on or before the 15th day after the end of each month pay such deduction to the cooperative association of which such producers are members accompanied by a statement showing the amount of any such deductions and the amount and average butterfat test of milk for which such deduction was computed for each producer. In lieu of such statement a handler may authorize the market administrator to furnish such cooperative association the information with respect to such producers reported pursuant to § 929.31.

§ 929.88 Expenses of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this part, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month, 4 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all receipts within the month of (a) other source milk which is classified as Class I milk, and (b) milk from producers including such handler's own production.

§ 929.89 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation:

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and,

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books and records required by this part to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records, pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

DETERMINATION OF BASE

§ 929.90 Computation of daily average base for each producer. For the months of April through June of each year the market administrator shall compute a daily average base for each producer as follows, subject to the rules set forth in § 929.91:

(a) Divide the total pounds of milk received by a handler(s) from such producer during the months of October through January immediately preceding by the number of days not to be less than ninety, of such producer's delivery in such period.

§ 929.91 Base rules. (a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered during the base forming period;

(b) Bases may be transferred by notifying the market administrator in writing on or before the last day of any applicable base paying month that such base is to be transferred to the person named in such notice only as follows:

(1) In the event of the death, retirement, or entry into military service of a producer the entire base may be transferred to a member(s) of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy herd operations.

(2) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated, the entire base may be transferred to one of the joint holders.

(c) A producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for more than 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 929.100 Effective time. The provisions of this part or any amendment to this part shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to § 929.101.

§ 929.101 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this part or any provison of this part whenever he finds this part or any provision of this part obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This part shall terminate in any event whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 929.102 Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, there are any obligations thereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 929.103 Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions of this part, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall if so directed by the Secretary liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 929.110 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 929.111 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this part or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision and the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Filed at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of March 1951.

MARCH 16, 1951.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 427 dated August 16, 1950, I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as hereinafter indicated, the following described land in the Los Angeles, California, land district, embracing approximately 380 acres.

CALIFORNIA SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION No. 267

For lease and sale for homesites only:
T. 9 N., R. 2 W., S. B. M.,
Sec. 7, S½NE¼SE¼ and Lots 2, 3 and 4.

Leases for tracts in Lots 2, 3 and 4 will be issued to conform with the supplemental plat that has been prepared dividing the irregular areas into numbered tracts.

The lands are situated adjacent to the Town of Barstow, California, a rapidly growing desert town with a present population of about 7,000. There is a strong demand in the area for small homesites, and the nearness of this land to a thriving town makes the land very desirable for homesite leases. In the Town of Barstow can be found all of the usual community services.

2. As to applications regularly filed prior to 9:00 a. m., September 14, 1950, and are for the type of site for which the land is classified, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed.

3. As to the land not covered by applications referred to in paragraph 2, this order shall not become effective to permit leasing under the Small Tract Act until 10:00 a. m., May 18, 1951. At that time such land shall, subject to valid existing rights, become subject to applications as follows:

(a) Ninety-day preference period for qualified veterans of World War II from 10:00 a. m., May 18, 1951, to close of business on August 16, 1951.

(b) Advance period for veterans' simultaneous filings from 9:00 a. m., September 14, 1950, to 10:00 a. m., May 18, 1951.

4. Any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally, commencing at 10:00 a. m., August 17, 1951.

(a) Advance period for simultaneous nonpreference filings from 9:00 a. m., September 14, 1950, to 10:00 a. m., August 17, 1951.

5. Applications filed within the periods mentioned in paragraphs 3 (b) and 4 (a) will be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

6. The tracts in the S½NE¼, N½SE¼ and Lots 2 and 3 contain approximately 1¼ acres and are 165 by 330 feet, the longer dimension to extend east and west. The tracts in Lot 4 and the S½SE¼ contain approximately 2½ acres and are 330 by 330 feet.

7. Preference right leases referred to in paragraph 2 will be issued for the land described in the application irrespective of the direction of the tract, provided the tract conforms to or is made to conform to the area and the dimension specified in paragraph 6.

8. Leases will be for a period of three years at an annual rental of $5.00 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at the appraised values listed below, and applications to purchase may be filed at or after the expiration of one year from date the lease is issued:

Lot 2 and S½NE¼—Appraised at $90 per acre.

Lot 3 and N½SE¼—Appraised at $75 per acre.

Lot 4 and S½SE¼—Appraised at $50 per acre.

9. Leases will be subject to all existing rights-of-way and to the new location of a road to extend north and south about 330 feet east of the center line of the section. They will also be subject to rights-of-way not exceeding 33 feet in width along or near the edges thereof for road purposes and public utilities. Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, county or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. The rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued.

Leases for tracts in Lot 2 of Section 7 will also be subject to the existing right-of-way of the Southern California Water Company for a water distribution plant and pipelines.

10. All inquiries relating to these lands should be addressed to the Manager, Land Office, Los Angeles, California.

L. T. HOFFMAN,
Regional Administrator.

NEVADA

CLASSIFICATION ORDER

MARCH 9, 1951.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 427 dated August 16, 1950, I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as hereinafter indicated, the following described land in the Nevada land district, embracing approximately 40 acres,

NEVADA SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION NO. 69

For lease and sale for home sites only:

T. 20 N., R. 19 E., M. D. M.,
Sec. 27, SW¼NW¼.

The land is located 2 miles northwest of the City of Reno, Nevada, and can be reached over U. S. Highway 395. Climate is semi-arid, with temperatures mild in summer and moderately severe in winter. The City of Reno possesses all of the usual community services.

2. As to applications regularly filed prior to 9:30 a. m., February 12, 1951, and are for the type of site for which the land is classified, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed.

3. As to the land not covered by applications referred to in paragraph 2, this order shall not become effective to permit leasing under the Small Tract Act until 10:00 a. m., May 11, 1951. At that time such land shall, subject to valid existing rights, become subject to application as follows:

(a) Ninety-day preference period for qualified veterans of World War II from 10:00 a. m., May 11, 1951, to close of business on August 9, 1951.

(b) Advance period for veterans' simultaneous filings from 9:30 a. m., February 12, 1951, to 10:00 a. m., May 11, 1951.

4. Any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally, commencing at 10:00 a. m., August 10, 1951.

(a) Advance period for simultaneous nonpreference filings from 9:30 a. m., February 12, 1951, to 10:00 a. m., August 10, 1951.

5. Applications filed within the periods mentioned in paragraphs 3 (b) and 4 (a) will be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

6. All of the land will be leased in tracts of approximately 5 acres, each being approximately 330 by 660 feet, the longer dimension to extend east and west.

7. Preference right leases referred to in paragraph 2 will be issued for the land described in the application irrespective of the direction of the tract, provided the tract conforms to or is made to conform to the area and the dimension specified in paragraph 6.

8. Where only one 5-acre tract in a 10-acre subdivision is embraced in a preference right application, an application for the remaining 5-acre tract extending in the same direction will be accepted in order to fill out the subdivision notwithstanding the direction specified in paragraph 6.

9. Leases will be for a period of three years at an annual rental of $5.00 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease. Leases will contain an option to purchase clause at the appraised value of $15.00 per acre, application for which may be filed at or after the expiration of one year from date the lease is issued.

10. Tracts will be subject to all existing rights-of-way and to rights-of-way not exceeding 33 feet in width along or near the edges thereof for road purposes and public utilities. Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, county or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. The rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued.

11. All inquiries relating to these lands should be addressed to the Manager, Nevada Land and Survey Office, Reno, Nevada.

J. H. FAVORITE,
Acting Regional Administrator.

SHORE SPACE RESTORATION NO. 458

MARCH 22, 1951.

By virtue of the authority contained in the act of June 5, 1920 (41 Stat. 1059, 48 U. S. C. 372), and in accordance with 43 CFR 4.275 (56) (Departmental Order No. 2325 of May 24, 1947, 12 F. R. 3566), and Order No. 319 of July 19, 1948 (43 CFR 50.451, 13 F. R. 4278), it is ordered as follows:

Subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, the 80-rod shore space reserve created under the act of May 14, 1898 (30 Stat. 409), as amended by the act of March 3, 1903 (32 Stat. 1028, 48 U. S. C. 371), is hereby revoked as to the following described lands;

SEWARD MERIDIAN

T. 12 N., R. 3 W.,
Sec. 32: Lots 1, 3, 4, containing approximately 132.56 acres.
T. 12 N., R. 4 W.,
Sec. 15: Lot 5,
Sec. 22: Lot 1,
Sec. 23: Lots 2, 4,
Sec. 26: Lot 1,
Containing approximately 112.40 acres.

The above described lands aggregate approximately 244.96 acres.

No application for these lands may be allowed under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609; 43 U. S. C. 682a), unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At 10:00 a. m. on April 11, 1951 the lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 90 days from April 11, 1951, to July 9, 1951, inclusive, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject to (1) application under the homestead or homesite laws, or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609, 43 U. S. C. sec. 682a) as amended by qualified veterans of World War II, for whose service recognition is granted by the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747, 43 U. S. C. secs. 279–283), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications by such veterans shall be subject to claims of the classes described in subdivision (2).

(b) Twenty-day advance period for simultaneous preference-right filings. For a period of 20 days from March 22, 1951, to April 10, 1951, inclusive, such veterans and persons claiming preference rights superior to those of such veterans, may present their applications, and all such applications, together with those presented at 10:00 a. m. on April 11, 1951, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

(c) Date for non-preference right filings authorized by the public land laws. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on July 10, 1951, any of the lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, or selection by the public generally as may be authorized by the public land laws.

(d) Twenty-day advance period for simultaneous non-preference right filings. Applications by the general public may be presented during the 20-day period from June 20, 1951, to July 9, 1951, inclusive, and all such applications, together with those presented at 10:00 a. m. on July 10, 1951, shall be treated as simultaneously filed.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office at Anchorage, Alaska, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations (Circular No. 324, May 22, 1914, 43 L. D. 254), to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead and homesite laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 64, 65 and 66, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and applications under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Part 257 of that Title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Land Office at Anchorage, Alaska.

[Docket No. M-28]

LUCKENBACH STEAMSHIP CO., INC.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON APPLICATION TO BAREBOAT CHARTER GOVERNMENT-OWNED, WAR-BUILT, DRY-CARGO VESSELS FOR USE IN INTERCOASTAL TRADE

Pursuant to section 3, Public Law 591, 81st Congress, notice is hereby given that an informal public hearing will be held at Washington, D. C., on April 3, 1951, at 10 o'clock a. m., in Room 4821, Department of Commerce Building, before Examiner Robert Furness, upon the application of Luckenbach Steamship Company, Inc., to bareboat charter Government-owned, war-built, dry-cargo vessels for use in the intercoastal trade. This application will be heard jointly with those of Pacific-Atlantic Steamship Co. (Docket No. M–16) and Pope & Talbot, Inc. (Docket No. M–17) now scheduled for further hearing at the same time and place.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive evidence with respect to whether the service for which such vessels are proposed to be chartered is required in the public interest and would not be adequately served without the use therein of such vessels, and with respect to the availability of privately-owned American-flag vessels for charter on reasonable conditions and at reasonable rates for use in such service.

All persons having an interest in such application will be given an opportunity to be heard if present.

The parties may have oral argument before the examiner immediately following the close of the hearing, in lieu of briefs, and the examiner will issue a recommended decision. Parties may have two (2) days within which to file exceptions to or memoranda in support of the examiner's recommended decision, but the Board reserves the right to determine whether oral argument on exceptions will be granted or whether briefs in connection therewith will be received.

Dated: March 27, 1951.

By order of the Federal Maritime Board.

[SEAL] A. J. WILLIAMS,
Secretary.

KINSTON BROADCASTING CO. (WFTC) AND FARMERS BROADCASTING SERVICE, INC. (WELS)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Kinston Broadcasting Company (WFTC), Kinston, North Carolina, Docket No. 9778, File No. BP-7752; Farmers Broadcasting Service, Inc. (WELS), Kinston, North Carolina, Docket No. 9930, File No. BP-7979; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of March 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of Kinston Broadcasting Company requesting a construction permit to change the facilities of Station WFTC, Kinston, North Carolina, from frequency 1230 kilocycles, 250 watts power, unlimited time to frequency 960 kilocycles, 1 kilowatt power, unlimited time, to install directional antenna for night use only and to change transmitter location and of Farmers Broadcasting Service, Inc. to change the facilities of Station WELS, Kinston, North Carolina, from frequency 1010 kilocycles, 1 kilowatt power, daytime only to frequency 960 kilocycles, 1 kilowatt, 5 kilowatts—LS power, unlimited time, to install directional antenna for night use only and to install new transmitter;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding commencing at 10:00 a. m. on May 23, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the technical, financial and other qualifications of the corporate applicants, their officers, directors and stockholders to construct and operate stations WFTC and WELS as proposed.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of Stations WFTC and WELS, as proposed, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

4. To determine whether the operation of Stations WFTC and WELS, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

5. To determine whether the operation of Stations WFTC and WELS, as proposed, would involve objectionable interference, each with the other, or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the installation and operation of Stations WFTC and WELS, as proposed, would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

7. To determine the overlap, if any, that will exist between the service areas of Station WFTC operating as proposed and of Stations WRRF, Washington, North Carolina and WRRZ, Clinton, North Carolina, the nature and extent thereof, and whether such overlap, if any, is in contravention of § 3.25 of the Commission's rules.

8. To determine whether the installation and operation of Station WFTC, as proposed, would constitute a hazard to air navigation.

9. To determine on a comparative basis which, if either, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. E-6264]

NIAGARA MOHAWK POWER CORP.

ORDER POSTPONING DATE OF RESUMPTION OF HEARING

MARCH 23, 1951.

In the matter of Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation (successor licensee to The Niagara Falls Power Company, Docket No. E-6264.

By petition filed March 21, 1951, Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation has requested a further postponement of the date of resumption of the hearing in the above-entitled matter from March 28, 1951, to one of the several dates in the month of April 1951 suggested in the petition.

The Applicant requests that the witness which it wishes to produce at the resumed hearing, now set pursuant to direction of the Presiding Examiner for March 28, 1951, cannot be produced conveniently before April 4, 1951.

It appears that the public interest will not be adversely affected by the granting of a further postponement.

The Commission orders: The hearing in the above-entitled matter now set for resumption on March 28, 1951, shall be resumed on April 4, 1951, in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, Hurley-Wright Building, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C.

Date of issuance: March 26, 1951.

By the Commission.

MERCHANTS DISTILLING CORP.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, serving Merchants Distilling Corporation, Terre Haute, Indiana, to disregard the provisions of Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to any car loaded with Distillers Dried Feed and/or Distillers Solubles by Merchants Distilling Corporation when Merchants Distilling Corporation advise that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum weight requirements because of the tendency of said commodities to heat, cake, and possible burning during summer months.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and the Merchants Distilling Corporation shall furnish the Permit Agent the dates forwarded, car numbers, initials, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., April 1, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of March 1951.

In the matter of Long Island Lighting Company, Queens Borough Gas and Electric Company, Nassau & Suffolk Lighting Company, and Long Beach Gas Company, Inc.; File Nos. 54-136, 59-83.

The Commission having held combined proceedings, pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) and section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), with respect to Long Island Lighting Company ("Long Island"), a registered holding company, its subsidiary, Queens Borough Gas and Electric Company ("Queens"), and the latter's subsidiaries, Nassau & Suffolk Lighting Company ("Nassau"), and Long Beach Gas Company, Inc. ("Long Beach"), and by order dated August 25, 1948, promulgated pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the Act, having required the recapitalization of said companies so as to eliminate the inequitable distribution of voting power which existed in said companies, and by order dated November 17, 1949, having approved a section 11 (e) plan, as modified, proposing the consolidation of Long Island, Queens, and Nassau and the recapitalization of the resultant consolidated corporation, the name of which is Long Island Lighting Company ("Consolidated Corporation"), and said plan having become effective on October 24, 1950, and;

The plan having provided for payment by the Consolidated Corporation of all expenses, fees and remuneration in connection therewith, or proceedings with respect thereto, and the Commission in its said order of November 17, 1949, having reserved jurisdiction over all fees and expenses incurred and to be incurred in connection with said plan;

Notice is hereby given that applications for the payment of fees and reimbursement for expenses have been filed by the following persons and in the following amounts:

The Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said applications:

It is ordered, Pursuant to sections 11 (e) and 18 of the act, that the hearing herein be reconvened for the purpose of taking evidence on said applications, said hearing to commence on April 17, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. Any person, other than applicants named herein and the Long Island Lighting Company, desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceeding shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before April 13, 1951 a request or application relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That William W. Swift, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for the purpose, shall preside at the hearing on such matters. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby empowered to exercise all such powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Public Utilities of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of said applications and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration by the Commission, without prejudice to its specifying additional matters and questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the services and disbursements for which remuneration has been paid or is sought are compensable, and whether it is lawful or appropriate to grant any allowances for fees and expenses to the persons making such claims.

2. Whether the amounts are fair and reasonable and, if not, what amounts should be fixed by the Commission.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That a copy of this notice shall be mailed by registered mail to Long Island Lighting Company and the applicants herein, that notice shall be given to all other persons by general release of this Commission, which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases under the Act, and that further notice shall be given to all persons by publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By the Commission.

UTAH POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of March A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Utah Power & Light Company ("Utah"), a registered holding company, has filed an application with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and has designated section 9 (a) thereof as applicable to the proposed transaction, which is summarized as follows:

Utah proposes to purchase from the Village of Arco, Idaho ("Arco"), a municipal corporation existing under the laws of the State of Idaho, the electrical distribution lines and facilities owned by Arco for a cash consideration of $70,000 and also proposes to purchase from Arco for a cash consideration of $30,000 a transmission line owned by Arco. In addition Utah will pay Arco the actual net cost of additions to the property made between January 31, 1950, and the date of the transfer.

Arco owns no generating facilities but purchases all of its energy from Utah. The application states further that the transmission line of Arco connects with the interconnected system of Utah.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 10, 1951 at 11:30 a. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application, which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after April 10, 1951 at 11:30 a. m., e. s. t., said application as filed, or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided by Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof. All interested persons are referred to said application, which is on file with the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed.

By the Commission.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter III—Farmers Home Administration, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter A—Farm Housing Loans and Grants

PART 301—BASIC REGULATIONS

Subchapter B—Farm Ownership Loans

PART 311—BASIC REGULATIONS

TEMPORARY CREDIT RESTRICTIONS

1. Section 301.3 (a), Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (15 F. R. 8148), is amended to extend to all territories and possessions the exemption from credit restrictions formerly applicable only to Alaska, so that the paragraph as amended reads as follows:

§ 301.3 Temporary credit restrictions—(a) General. Requirements issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 necessitate establishment of new Farm Housing credit restrictions. Farm Housing loans approved on or after October 18, 1950, or for which applications were received on or after October 12, 1950, must comply with the applicable requirements of this section. The credit restrictions established by this section apply only to Farm Housing funds advanced for dwelling construction, do not apply to any case in which the amount of Farm Housing funds to be used for dwelling construction is $2,500 or less. The credit restrictions established by this section apply to Farm Housing loans made in the continental United States (not including Alaska).

(Sec. 510, 63 Stat. 438; 42 U. S. C. 1480; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105. Interprets or applies sec. 605, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

2. Section 311.8 (a), Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (15 F. R. 8148), is amended to extend to all territories and possessions the exemption from credit restrictions formerly applicable only to Alaska, so that the paragraph as amended reads as follows:

§ 311.8 Temporary credit restrictions—(a) General. Requirements issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 necessitate establishment of new Farm Ownership credit restrictions. Farm Ownership loans, direct or insured, for which applications were received on or after October 12, 1950, must comply with the applicable requirements of this section. The credit restrictions established by this section apply only to Farm Ownership funds advanced for dwelling construction, do not apply, except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, to amounts loaned for other purposes, and do not apply to any case in which the amount of Farm Ownership funds to be used for dwelling construction is $2,500 or less. The credit restrictions established by this section apply to Farm Ownership loans made in the continental United States (not including Alaska).

In those cases, the County Supervisor should discuss with him the types of assistance that are available, as outlined in § 301.22 of this subchapter, and for which he may be qualified. Whenever the credit needs of an applicant for a Farm Housing loan can be met more adequately with a Farm Development or Farm Enlargement loan under the Farm Ownership program, such a loan should be discussed with the applicant, and, if practicable, should be made in lieu of a Farm Housing loan.

REVISION OF OFFICIAL U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF LAMB AND MUTTON CARCASSES AND ESTABLISHMENT OF OFFICIAL U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF SLAUGHTER LAMBS, YEARLINGS, AND SHEEP

On February 21, 1951, a notice of rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 1736) regarding the proposed revision of the official U. S. standards for grades of lamb and mutton carcasses (7 CFR 53.114 et seq.) and the proposed establishment of official U. S. standards for grades of slaughter lambs, yearlings, and sheep under the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087, 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.) and the item for Market Inspection of Farm Products recurring in the annual appropriation acts for the Department of Agriculture and currently found in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1951 (Chap. VI, Public Law 759—81st Cong.; 7 U. S. C. Supp. 414).

After due consideration of all relevant material furnished pursuant to the notice and under the statutory authorities cited above, the official U. S. standards for grades of lamb and mutton carcasses are hereby revised and official U. S. standards for grades of slaughter lambs, yearlings, and sheep are hereby established, to appear in 7 CFR, Part 53, respectively, as follows:

AUTHORITY: §§ 53.114 to 53.134 issued under sec. 205, 60 Stat. 1090, Ch. VI, Pub. Law 759, 81st Cong.; 7 U. S. C. 1624. Interpret or apply sec. 203, 60 Stat. 1087.

LAMB, YEARLING MUTTON, AND MUTTON CARCASSES

§ 53.114 Differentiation between lamb, yearling mutton, and mutton carcasses. (a) Ovine carcasses are classified as lamb, yearling mutton, or mutton on the basis of characteristics of the bones, general conformation, and characteristics of the flesh.

(b) Lamb carcasses always have break joints on their front shanks and generally have narrow rib bones, a rather regular contour, and a light red color and fine texture of lean. They also have a considerable amount of red in the ribs and a somewhat smaller amount in the shanks.

(c) Yearling mutton carcasses may have either break joints or "spool" joints on their front shanks and generally have moderately wide rib bones, a slightly irregular contour, and a slightly dark red color and slightly coarse texture of lean. They have only traces of red in the ribs and shanks.

(d) Mutton carcasses always have "spool" joints on their front shanks and generally have wide rib bones, a rather irregular contour, and a dark red color and coarse texture of lean. Ribs and shanks are devoid of red color.

§ 53.115 Applications of standards. (a) Lamb, yearling mutton, and mutton carcasses are graded on a composite evaluation of three general grade factors—conformation, finish, and quality. These factors are concerned with the proportions of the various wholesale cuts in the carcass, the proportions of fat, lean and bone, and the quality of the flesh. Carcasses qualifying for any particular grade may vary with respect to their relative development of the three grade factors, and there will be carcasses which qualify for a particular grade, some of whose characteristics may be more nearly typical of another grade. Because it is impractical to describe the nearly limitless numbers of such recognizable combinations of characteristics, the standards for each grade describe only carcasses that have a relatively similar development of conformation, finish, and quality and that are also representative of the lower limits of each grade. Examples of the extent to which superiority in quality and finish may compensate for deficiencies in conformation, and vice versa, are indicated for each grade.

(b) The standards are intended to apply to all ovine carcasses without regard to the apparent sex condition of the animal at time of slaughter. However, carcasses which have thick, heavy necks and shoulders typical of uncastrated males are discounted in grade in accord with the extent to which these characteristics are developed. Such discounts may vary from less than a half-grade in carcasses from young lambs in which such characteristics are barely noticeable to as much as two full grades in carcasses from mature rams in which such characteristics are very pronounced.

(c) The standards provide for grading lamb, yearling mutton, and mutton carcasses on separate standards. Although these appear to be rather narrow age groups, each of them actually represents a rather wide range in degree of maturity because of the rapidity with which ovines mature. Recognition of this variation is made in the standards for grades of lamb carcasses by specifying two different requirements for quality and finish, depending upon the degree of maturity. Although only one requirement for quality and finish is specified in the standards for yearling mutton and mutton carcasses, it should be understood that in these groups, as well as lambs, carcasses which have indications of approaching the minimum or maximum maturity limits for their group will have somewhat less or greater evidences of quality and finish, respectively, than that specified.

§ 53.116 Specifications for official United States standards for grades of lamb carcasses—(a) Prime. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Prime grade tend to be compact and blocky and tend to have plump, full legs; wide, thick backs; thick, full, smooth shoulders; and short, thick necks.

(2) Evidences of quality and finish vary markedly with changes in maturity. Carcasses from young lambs that have red, narrow rib bones and red, moist porous break joints have only moderately abundant kidney and crotch fat but kidneys are completely covered. They have a moderate amount of feathering between the ribs, a small amount of overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone, a few fat streakings in the inside flank muscles and a light pink color of lean. The exterior finish is firm and completely obscures the muscles of the back, however, muscles over the tops of the shoulders and outside of the legs may be visible through a thin covering of fat. Flanks are full and firm.

(3) Carcasses from more mature lambs that have slightly wide, moderately red rib bones, and moderately red, rather dry and hard break joints, have abundant kidney and crotch fat, extensive and abundant feathering, moderately abundant overflow fat over inside of ribs adjacent to the backbone, numerous streakings of fat in the inside flank muscles, and a dark pink color of lean. The exterior finish is very firm, extends over the entire exterior surface except the lower parts of the legs, obscuring the muscles of the back, tops of the shoulders, and outside of legs. The flanks are very full and firm.

(4) To qualify for the Prime grade a carcass must possess the minimum requirements for quality and finish regardless of the extent that its conformation may exceed the minimum requirements for Prime. However, if a carcass has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Prime grade, its conformation may be equivalent to average Choice and remain eligible for Prime.

(b) Choice. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Choice grade are slightly compact with slightly plump, full legs; slightly wide, thick backs; slightly wide, full shouders; and slighty short, thick necks.

(2) Evidences of quality and finish vary considerably with changes in maturity. Carcasses from young lambs that have red, narrow rib bones and red, moist, porous break joints, have slightly abundant kidney and crotch fat but kidneys are slightly exposed, there is a small amount of feathering between the ribs, a few streakings of fat in the inside flank muscles, and only very small quantities of overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone. The color of lean is slightly dark pink. The exterior finish is moderately firm. However, the muscles of the back are very slightly visible through a slightly thin fat covering and those over the tops of the shoulders and outside of the legs have only a very thin covering of fat. Flanks are slightly full and firm.

(3) Carcasses from more mature lambs that have slightly wide, moderately red rib bones with moderately red, rather dry and hard break joints, have moderately abundant kidney and crotch fat, slightly abundant feathering, a small amount of overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone, a small quantity of fat streakings in the inside flank muscles, and light red color of lean. The external finish is firm and completely obscures the muscles of the back. However, muscles over the top of the shoulders and the outside of the legs are visible through the fat. The flanks are moderately full and firm.

(4) To qualify for the Choice grade a carcass must have the minimum requirements for quality and finish regardless of the extent that conformation may exceed the minimum requirements for Choice. However, if a carcass has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Choice grade, its conformation may be equivalent to average Good and remain eligible for Choice.

(c) Good. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Good grade are moderately rangy and slightly angular with slightly thin, tapering legs; slightly narrow, thin backs and shoulders; and moderately long, thin necks.

(2) Evidences of quality and finish very moderately with changes in maturity. Carcasses from young lambs that have red, narrow rib bones and red, porous break joints, have a small amount of kidney and crotch fat and kidneys are only partially covered. There is no feathering between the ribs, no overflow fat over the inside of the ribs and no fat streakings in the inside flank muscles; however, the lean is dark pink in color. The exterior finish is slightly soft and the muscles of the back are plainly visible through a very thin fat covering, and those over the tops of the shoulders and outside of the legs are practically devoid of fat. Flanks are moderately thin and soft.

(3) Carcasses from more mature lambs that have slightly wide, moderately red rib bones and moderately red, rather dry and hard break joints, have slightly abundant kidney and crotch fat with kidneys slightly exposed. There is a slight amount of feathering between the ribs, but no overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone, practically no streakings of fat in the inside flank muscles, and a slightly dark red color of lean. The exterior finish is moderately firm. However, the muscles of the back are visible through a thin fat covering, and those over the tops of the shoulders and outside of the legs have only a very thin fat covering. Flanks are slightly thin and soft.

(4) A carcass that has conformation equivalent to at least the average of the Good grade may have quality and finish equivalent to high Utility and remain eligible for the Good grade. Also, a carcass that has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Good grade may have conformation equivalent to high Utility and remain eligible for the Good grade.

(d) Utility. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Utility grade are very rangy and angular with thin, slightly concave legs; very narrow, sunken backs; narrow, sharp shoulders; and long, thin necks. Hips and shoulder joints are plainly visible.

(2) Although evidences of quality and finish vary slightly with changes in maturity, the differences are so small as to make their separate descriptions impractical. Carcasses have only a small amount of kidney and crotch fat, and the kidneys are nearly entirely exposed. There is practically no other interior fat, and the lean in the inside flank muscles and between the ribs is dark red in color. External finish is soft and is limited to small deposits over the rump and outside of the shoulders and to thin patches over the back. Flanks are soft and slightly watery.

(3) A carcass that has conformation equivalent to at least the average of the Utility grade may have quality and finish equivalent to high Cull and remain eligible for the Utility grade. Also, a carcass that has quality and finish equivalent to the average of the Utility grade may have conformation equivalent to high Cull and remain eligible for the Utility grade.

(e) Cull. (1) Typical Cull grade carcasses are extremely rangy and angular and extremely thin fleshed throughout. Legs are extremely thin and concave, backs are extremely sunken and thin, shoulders are very thin and sharp, and necks are extremely thin. Hip and shoulder joints, as well as ribs and bones of the spinal column, are clearly outlined. There are practically no interior or exterior fats, and the flesh is soft and watery and very dark red in color.

§ 53.117 Specifications for official United States standards for grades of yearling mutton carcasses—(a) Prime. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Prime grade are compact and blocky, and have plump, full legs; wide, thick backs; wide, full, smooth shoulders; and short, thick necks. They have abundant but not excessive kidney and crotch fat, extensive and abundant feathering, moderately abundant overflow fat over the inside of ribs adjacent to the backbone, numerous streakings of fat in the inside flank muscles, and a light red color of lean. The exterior finish is very firm and uniform and extends over the entire exterior surface except the lower parts of the legs obscuring the muscles of the back, tops of the shoulders, and outside of the legs. The flanks are very full and firm.

(2) To qualify for the Prime grade a carcass must possess the minimum qualifications for quality and finish regardless of the extent that conformation may exceed the minimum requirements for Prime. However, if a carcass has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Prime grade, its conformation may be equivalent to average Choice and remain eligible for the Prime grade.

(b) Choice. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum requirements for the Choice grade are moderately compact with rather short, plump, full legs; moderately wide, thick backs; moderately wide, full shoulders; and rather short, thick necks. They have moderately abundant kidney and crotch fat, slightly abundant feathering, slightly abundant overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone, a small quantity of fat streakings in the inside flank muscles, and a slightly dark red color of lean. The exterior finish is firm and completely obscures the muscles of the back; however, muscles on the top of the shoulders and the outside of the legs are visible through the fat. The flanks are moderately full and firm.

(2) Carcasses which are not eligible for the Prime grade because they have bunchy or irregular distribution of exterior finish or excessive quantities of interior fat are also included in the Choice grade.

(3) To qualify for the Choice grade a carcass must have the minimum requirements for quality and finish regardless of the extent that conformation may exceed the minimum requirements for Choice. However, if a carcass has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Choice grade, its conformation may be equivalent to average Good and remain eligible for Choice.

(c) Good. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Good grade are slightly rangy and angular, with slightly thin, tapering legs; slightly narrow, thin backs and shoulders; and slightly long, thin necks. They have slightly abundant kidney and crotch fat, with kidneys slightly exposed. There is a slight amount of feathering between the ribs, only very small quantities of overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone, a few streakings of fat in the inside muscles of the flank, and a rather dark red color of lean. The exterior finish is moderately firm; however, the muscles of the back are visible through a thin covering of fat and the tops of the shoulders and outside of the legs have only a very thin fat covering. Flanks are slightly thin and soft.

(2) A carcass which has conformation equivalent to at least the average of the Good grade may have quality and finish equivalent to high Utility and remain eligible for the Good grade. Also, a carcass which has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Good grade may have conformation equivalent to high Utility and remain eligible for the Good grade.

(d) Utility. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Utility grade are very rangy and angular with thin, slightly concave legs; very narrow, sunken backs; narrow, sharp shoulders; and long, thin necks. Hips and shoulder joints are plainly visible. They have only a small amount of kidney and crotch fat, and the kidneys are nearly entirely exposed. There is practically no other interior fat and the lean in the flanks and between the ribs is dark red in color. External finish is soft and is limited to small deposits over the rump and outside of the shoulders and to thin patches over the back. Flanks are soft and slightly watery.

(2) A carcass which has conformation equivalent to at least the average of the Utility grade may have quality and finish equivalent to high Cull and remain eligible for the Utility grade. Also, a carcass which has quality and finish equivalent to the average of the Utility grade may have conformation equivalent to high Cull and remain eligible for the Utility grade.

(e) Cull. (1) Typical Cull grade carcasses are extremely rangy and angular and extremely thin fleshed throughout,

Legs are extremely thin and concave, backs are extremely sunken and thin, shoulders are very thin and sharp, and necks are extremely thin. Hip and shoulder joints, as well as ribs and bones of the spinal column, are clearly outlined. There are practically no interior or exterior fats and the flesh is soft and watery and very dark red in color.

§ 53.118 Specifications for official United States standards for grades of mutton carcasses—(a) Choice. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Choice grade are moderately compact, with slightly plump, full legs; wide, thick backs; wide, full shoulders; and slightly short, thick necks. They have abundant kidney and crotch fat, moderately abundant feathering between the ribs, moderately abundant overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone, numerous fat streakings in the inside flank muscles, and a dark red color of lean. The external finish is firm and moderately uniform and completely obscures the muscles of back and tops of the shoulders; however, the outsides of the legs are visible through a thin covering of fat. Flanks are moderately full and firm.

(2) To qualify for the Choice grade a carcass must have the minimum requirements for quality and finish regardless of the extent that conformation may exceed the minimum requirements for Choice. However, if a carcass has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Choice grade, its conformation may be equivalent to average Good and remain eligible for Choice.

(b) Good. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Good grade are slightly rangy and angular, with slightly thin, tapering legs; have slightly wide but slightly thin-fleshed backs and shoulders; and slightly long, thin necks. Hip and shoulder joints are visible. They have a moderate amount of kidney and crotch fat but kidneys are completely covered. There is a small amount of feathering between the ribs and a slight amount of overflow fat over the inside of the ribs adjacent to the backbone, a few streakings of fat in the inside flank muscles, and a dark red color of lean. The external finish is moderately firm; however, the muscles of the back are slightly visible through a thin fat covering and the tops of the shoulders and outside of the legs have a very thin fat covering. Flanks are slightly thin and soft.

(2) Carcasses which are not eligible for the Choice grade because they have bunchy or irregular distribution of exterior fat or excessive quantities of interior fat are also included in the Good grade.

(3) A carcass which has conformation equivalent to at least the average of the Good grade may have quality and finish equivalent to high Utility and remain eligible for the Good grade. Also, a carcass which has quality and finish equivalent to at least the average of the Good grade may have conformation equivalent to high Utility and remain eligible for the Good grade.

(c) Utility. (1) Carcasses possessing the minimum qualifications for the Utility grade are very rangy and angular, with thin, slightly concave legs, very narrow, sunken backs; narrow, sharp shoulders; and very long, thin necks. Hips and shoulder joints are prominent. Such carcasses have only a small amount of kidney and crotch fat and kidneys are nearly entirely exposed. There are practically no other interior fats, and the lean in the inside flank muscles and between the ribs is very dark red in color. External finish is soft and is limited to small deposits over the rump and outside of the shoulders and to thin patches over the back. Flanks are soft and slightly watery.

(2) A carcass which has conformation equivalent to at least the average of the Utility grade may have quality and finish equivalent to high Cull and remain eligible for the Utility grade. Also, a carcass which has quality and finish equivalent to the average of the Utility grade may have conformation equivalent to high Cull and remain eligible for the Utility grade.

(d) Cull. (1) Typical Cull grade carcasses are extremely rangy and angular and extremely thin fleshed throughout. Legs are extremely thin and concave, backs are extremely sunken and thin, shoulders are very thin and sharp, and necks are extremely thin. Hip and shoulder joints, as well as ribs and bones of the spinal column, are clearly outlined. There are practically no interior or exterior fats, and the flesh is soft and watery and very dark red in color.

SLAUGHTER LAMBS, YEARLINGS, AND SHEEP

§ 53.130 Market sheep. The official standards for market sheep, developed by the United States Department of Agriculture, provide for segregation according to (a) use as slaughter animals or feeders, (b) class or sex condition, (c) age group, and (d) grade, which is determined by the apparent relative excellence and desirability of the individual animal for a particular use.

§ 53.131 Slaughter classes and market groups. The classes of slaughter sheep are ram, ewe, and wether; the market or age groups are lamb, yearling, and sheep. Definitions of the respective classes and age groups are as follows:

(a) Ram. A ram is an uncastrated male ovine.

(b) Ewe. A ewe is a female ovine.

(c) Wether. A male ovine castrated when young and prior to developing the secondary physical characteristics of a ram.

(d) Lamb. A lamb is an immature ovine, usually under 14 months of age, and has not cut its first pair of permanent teeth.

(e) Yearling. A yearling is an ovine between 1 and 2 years of age that has cut its first pair of permanent teeth but has not cut the second pair.

(f) Sheep. The term sheep refers to ovines over 24 months of age that have cut their second pair of permanent teeth.

§ 53.132 Slaughter lamb and sheep grades—(a) Grade factors. The specific grade of slaughter lambs and sheep is determined by an evaluation in terms of factors which influence carcass excellence—conformation, finish, and quality.

(1) Conformation refers to the general body proportions of the animal and to the ratio of meat to bone. While primarily determined by the inherent muscular and skeletal system, it is also influenced by degree of fatness. Excellent conformation in slaughter lambs and sheep is denoted by a compact, wide topped, straight lined, thickly fleshed individual that is deep and full in the twist. Fullness and thickness should be especially evident in the portions of the body producing the more desirable cuts of meat—loin, rack, and legs.

(2) Finish refers to the fatness of the animal. The type, quantity, and distribution of finish of the slaughter animal are very closely associated with the palatability and quality of the meat which it will produce. Thus finish becomes the most important single factor affecting the grade of slaughter lambs and sheep. External finish is evidenced by fullness and the apparent thickness of the fat covering over the back, loin, rump, ribs, and legs. A high degree of desirable finish is evidenced by a thick, firm, smooth layer of fat which is uniformly distributed over the body.

(3) Quality in slaughter lambs and sheep refers largely to the refinement of bone and to the smoothness and symmetry of the body. Quality is also closely associated with carcass yield and the proportion of meat to bone. A high degree of quality in slaughter lambs and sheep is denoted by relatively small bones, neat joints, neatly laid in shoulders and hips, smoothness of fleshing, refined, clean cut features about the head, and fine hair on face and legs.

(b) General principles. (1) The determination of the carcass grade that the slaughter animal will produce requires the exercising of well regulated judgment. Each animal presents a different combination of the grade determining factors. Animals frequently have characteristics associated with two or more grades. Therefore, a composite evaluation of all the inherent physical characteristics is essential for accuracy in determining grade.

(2) The accurate determination of the grade of a slaughter lamb or sheep requires handling in addition to the visual observations. While the length and density of the fleece varies greatly with individuals, the thickness and firmness of the flesh covering of wooled lamb and sheep can only be roughly estimated without handling. The technique used in handling usually varies with the degree of precision in mind as well as the experience of the grader. Experienced graders may find one quick handling satisfactory. This usually consists of placing one open hand over the back and ribs in a simultaneous motion. The thumb extends just over the backbone while the fingers, which are held close together, cover the rib section and pressure is applied very lightly with a slight lateral and forward and backward motion. The generally accepted technique of handling sheep where time permits and especially when noting slight differences between individuals, is to handle forward from the dock to the neck with the open hand, fingers together, laid flat and with a slight lateral motion. Both hands may then be used on each side in a similar manner to determine the fleshing over the shoulders, ribs, and hips. Regardless of the method, considerable experience is necessary in handling lambs or sheep to accurately determine the grade.

(3) The market designation of slaughter lambs and sheep is usually made by classes. However, the standards are intended to apply to all classes. The grade descriptions are considered typical of ewes and wethers while it is recognized that rams, which numerically constitute a minor market class, will have somewhat thicker necks, shoulders, and legs than specified for a given grade.

(4) The descriptions of the physical characteristics of the grades of slaughter lambs and sheep represent the lower limit of each grade. No attempt is made to describe the numerous combinations of grade factors which may meet the minimum requirements for a particular grade. Descriptions are limited largely to animals considered as typical of the lower limits of the grade.

§ 53.133 Specifications for official United States standards for grades of slaughter lambs—(a) Prime. Lambs possessing the minimum requirements for Prime grade tend to be lowest, compact, thickly fleshed, and short of neck. They tend to be wide over the back, loin, and rump. Shoulders and hips are moderately neat and smoothly laid in. The twist is deep and full, and the legs are large and plump. There is a slight fullness or plumpness evident over the crops, loin, and rump which contributes to a well rounded appearance. Relatively young lambs, under 7 months of age tend to have a slightly thick fat covering over the back, ribs, loin, and rump. In handling, the backbone and ribs are slightly discernible. Older, more mature lambs have a moderately thick fat covering over the back, loin, and rump. In handling, the backbone and ribs are not readily discernible. Prime lambs exhibit evidences of high quality. The bones tend to be proportionately small, joins smooth, the finish evenly distributed, and the body trim, smooth, and symmetrical.

(b) Choice. Lambs possessing the minimum requirements for Choice grade are slightly compact, thick fleshed, and slightly short of neck. They are slightly wide over the back, loin, and rump. The shoulders and hips are usually moderately neat and smoothly laid in but may exhibit a slight tendency toward prominence. The twist is slightly deep and full, and the legs slightly thick and plump. Relatively young lambs, under 7 months of age, have a moderately thin fat covering over the back, ribs, loin, and rump. In handling, the backbone and ribs are slightly prominent. Older, more mature lambs tend to have a slightly thick fat covering over the back, ribs, loin, and rump. In handling, the backbone and ribs are slightly discernible. Choice lambs usually present a moderately refined appearance.

(c) Good. Lambs possessing the minimum requirements for Good grade are moderately rangy, upstanding, long and thin of neck, and moderately thin fleshed. They are slightly narrow over the back, loin, and rump. Hips and shoulders are moderately prominent. The twist is slightly shallow and the legs slightly small and thin. Relatively young lambs, under 7 months of age, have a very thin, uneven fat covering over the back, loin, and upper ribs. In handling, the shoulders, backbone, hips, and ribs are prominent. Older, more mature lambs have a thin fat covering over the back, ribs, and loin. In handling, the bones of the shoulders, backbone, hips, and ribs are rather prominent. Lambs of this grade may present evidences of slightly low quality. The bones and joints are usually moderately large, and the body somewhat lacking in symmetry and smoothness.

(d) Utility. Lambs meeting the minimum requirements for Utility grade are very rangy, angular, and long and thin of neck. They are very thinly fleshed, narrow over the back, loin, and rump and shallow in the twist. The hips are very prominent and the shoulders are usually open, rough, and prominent. The legs are very small and thin, and present a slightly concave appearance. Regardless of age, Utility lambs show no visible evidence of fat covering. In handling, bones of the shoulders, backbone, hips, and ribs are very prominent. Utility grade lambs are of rather low quality. The bones and joints are proportionately large and the body is very rough and unsymmetrical.

(e) Cull. Typical Cull grade lambs are extremely rangy, angular, long and thin of neck, thin fleshed, and extremely narrow and shallow bodied. Shoulders and hips are very prominent. The legs are extremely small and thin, and present a very concave appearance. In handling, the bones of the shoulders, backbone, hips, and ribs are extremely prominent and the entire bony framework is very evident. The general appearance is that of low quality. The relative proportion of meat to bone is quite low, joints appear large, and the body is very unsymmetrical.

§ 53.134 Specifications for official United States standards for grades of slaughter yearlings and sheep—(a) Prime. (1) Slaughter sheep beyond the yearling stage are not eligible for the Prime grade.

(2) Yearling sheep possessing the minimum requirements for Prime grade are low set, compact, thickly fleshed, and short of neck. They are wide over the back, loin, and rump. Shoulders and hips are moderately neat and smoothly laid in. The twist is deep and full, and the legs are large and plump. There is a distinct fullness or plumpness evident over the crops, loins, and rump which contributes to a well rounded appearance. There is a thick but very smooth fat covering over the back, ribs, loin, and rump, and in handling the backbone and ribs are not discernible. Prime slaughter sheep exhibit evidences of high quality. The bones tend to be proportionately small, joints smooth, the finish evenly distributed, and the body trim, smooth, and symmetrical.

(b) Choice. Slaughter sheep possessing the minimum requirements for Choice grade are moderately compact, thickly fleshed, and short of neck. They are moderately wide over the back, loin, and rump. The shoulders and hips are usually moderately neat and smoothly laid in but may show a slight tendency toward prominence. The twist is moderately deep and full, and the legs rather thick and plump. Yearling sheep have a slightly thick fat covering over the back, ribs, loin, and rump and in handling, the backbone and ribs are only slightly discernible. Mature sheep have a moderately thick but very smooth fat covering over the back, ribs, bones, and rump and in handling, the backbone and ribs are hardly discernible. Choice slaughter sheep usually present a moderately refined appearance.

(c) Good. Slaughter sheep possessing the minimum requirements for Good grade are slightly rangy, upstanding, long and thin of neck, and slightly thin fleshed. They are slightly narrow over the back, loin, and rump. Hips and shoulders are moderately prominent. The twist is slightly shallow and the legs slightly small and thin. Yearling sheep tend to have a thin fat covering over the back, loin, and upper ribs. In handling, the shoulder, backbone, hips, and ribs are rather prominent. Mature sheep have a moderately thin fat covering over the back, ribs, and loin. In handling, the bones of the shoulders, backbone, hips, and ribs are slightly prominent. Sheep of this grade may present evidences of slightly low quality. The bones and joints are usually moderately large, and the body somewhat lacking in symmetry and smoothness.

(d) Utility. Slaughter sheep meeting the minimum requirements for Utility grade are very rangy, angular, and long and thin of neck. They are very thinly fleshed, narrow over the back, loin, and rump and shallow in the twist. The hips are very prominent and the shoulders are usually open, rough, and prominent. The legs are very small, thin, and present a slightly concave appearance. Regardless of age, Utility grade slaughter sheep show no visible evidences of fat covering. In handling, the bones of the shoulders, backbone, hips, and ribs are so thinly covered that they are very prominent. Utility grade slaughter sheep are of rather low quality. The bones and joints are proportionately large and the body is very rough and unsymmetrical.

(e) Cull. Typical Cull grade sheep are extremely rangy, angular, long and thin of neck, thin fleshed, and extremely narrow and shallow bodied. Shoulders and hips are very prominent. The legs are extremely small and thin, and present a very concave appearance. In handling, the bones of the shoulders, backbone, hips, and ribs are extremely prominent and the entire bony framework is very evident. The general appearance is that of low quality. The relative proportion of meat to bone is quite low, joints appear large, and the body is very unsymmetrical.

The definitions for lamb, yearling mutton, and mutton carcasses appearing in 7 CFR 53.101 (c), (d), and (e), respectively, are hereby deleted.

The foregoing revision combines the existing carcass grades of Prime and Choice into one grade designated as Prime, redesignates as Choice the existing Good grade, which shall constitute the highest grade for which mutton carcasses beyond the yearling stage are eligible, designates as Good the top two-thirds of the existing Commercial grade, combines the lower one-third of the existing Commercial grade with the top two-thirds of the existing U. S. Utility grade into one grade designated as Utility, and combines the remaining lower one-third of the existing Utility grade with the existing Cull grade into one grade designated as Cull.

Relevant changes in the specifications are made to reflect the minimum requirements for the respective grades and to clarify the different grade requirements for varying degrees of maturity.

Grade standards for slaughter lambs, yearlings, and sheep are established to conform fully with the respective carcass standards.

Other changes of a minor nature are made for the purpose of facilitating interpretation of the standards.

This order shall become effective on April 30, 1951, and on said date the foregoing revision of the standards for lamb and mutton carcasses shall supersede the standards now appearing in 7 CFR 53.114–53.117.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 29th day of March 1951.

Chapter VIII—Production and Marketing Administration (Sugar Branch), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter H—Determination of Wage Rates

[Sugar Determination 862.3]

PART 862—SUGAR BEETS; REGIONS OTHER THAN STATE OF CALIFORNIA, SOUTHWESTERN ARIZONA, AND SOUTHERN OREGON

1951 CROP

Pursuant to the provisions of section 301 (c) (1) of the Sugar Act of 1948 (herein referred to as "act"), after investigation, and consideration of the evidence obtained at the public hearing held in several cities in the sugar beet area during January 1951, the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 862.3 Fair and reasonable wage rates for persons employed in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of the 1951 crop of sugar beets in regions other than the State of California, southwestern Arizona, and southern Oregon—(a) Requirements. The requirements of section 301 (c) (1) of the act shall be deemed to have been met with respect to the production, cultivation, or harvesting of the 1951 crop of sugar beets in regions other than the State of California, southwestern Arizona, and southern Oregon if the producer complies with the following:

(1) Wage rates. All persons employed on the farm, or part of the farm covered by a separate labor agreement, shall have been paid in full for all such work and shall have been paid wages in cash therefor at rates as agreed upon between the producer and the laborer but, after the beginning of work on the 1951 crop or the date of issuance of this determination whichever is later, not less than the following:

(i) For work performed on a time basis. (a) Thinning, hoeing, or weeding: 60 cents per hour.

(b) Pulling, topping, or loading: 65 cents per hour.

(c) For workers between 14 and 16 years of age the rates in (a) and (b) of this subdivision may be reduced by not more than one-third. Maximum employment for such workers, without deduction from payments under the act to the producer, is 8 hours per day.

(ii) For work performed on a piecework basis. (a) 1951 basic piecework rates per acre for thinning, hoeing, and weeding by wage districts:

Operations	I	II		III	IV		V	VI

Second and each subsequent hoeing or weeding	3.00	3.50	4.00	4.00	4.50	5.50	4.00	6.00

Thinning fields planted with natural whole seed. The basic piecework rate for hoe and finger thinning fields planted with natural whole seed shall be $2.00 more per acre than the rates specified for hoe and finger thinning fields planted with segmented seed.

Wide row planting. The above thinning, hoeing and weeding rates may be reduced by not more than the indicated percentages for the following row spacings: 28 inches or more but less than 31 inches, 20 percent; 31 inches or more but less than 34 inches, 25 percent; 34 inches or more, 30 percent.

Cross cultivation. In an instance where cross cultivation is performed prior to hoeing or weeding, the specified first hoeing rate may be reduced not in excess of $1.00 per acre, and the specified subsequent hoeing or weeding rate may be reduced not in excess of 60 cents per acre.

Combined operations. Where a written agreement provides for a combined rate for "summer work", the rate for such work regardless of the number of hoeings or weedings required, shall be the sum of the applicable thinning, hoeing, and weeding rates specified above.

EXPLANATIONS

Hoe and finger thinning. Consists of removing excess beet plants from rows by use of a hoe in combination with finger work.

Segmented seed. Includes seed which has been sheared or which has been graded to pass through a 12/64 inch screen, with size variations not in excess of 3/64 inch.

Machine blocking. The rate for hoe and finger thinning machine blocked fields is applicable where the beets have been machine blocked before the plants have passed the 8-leaf stage; where the blocks have not been covered with dirt; and where the blocks are not larger than 4" by 6"; otherwise the "without machine blocking" rate applies.

Hoe-thinning, no finger thinning. Applicable where the producer does not require the worker to finger thin because of machine blocking; machine thinning, low rate of seeding or other labor saving practice.

(b) 1951 basic piecework rates per ton for pulling, topping, and loading by wage districts:

Breakdown of pulling and topping rate. In instances in which the operations of pulling and topping are performed by different workers, the above applicable pulling and topping rate shall be divided 35 percent for pulling and 65 percent for topping.

Breakdown of topping and loading rate. Where loading is not required of the worker who does the pulling and topping, the rate for pulling and topping shall be 70 percent of the applicable combined rate for pulling, topping and loading; except, that if the beets are to be loaded mechanically and the topper is not required to pull beets to provide a place for a windrow, the rate for pulling and topping shall be as agreed upon, but not less than 60 percent of the applicable combined rate for pulling, topping and loading.

Combined rate for pulling, topping and loading. In the east-central Utah region of Wage District III if the worker who performs the pulling and topping is also required to perform hand loading the applicable combined rate for pulling, topping, and loading shall be 30 percent more than the rate specified for pulling and topping only.

(iii) Work not covered by specific rates. For any work in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of sugar beets for which a time or piecework rate is not specified in this paragraph, such as fertilizing, plowing, preparing seedbed, irrigating, or work in connection with mechanical harvesting, the rate shall be as agreed upon between the producer and laborer.

(2) Perquisites. In addition to the foregoing, the producer shall furnish to the laborer, without charge, the perquisites customarily furnished by him, such as housing, garden plot, and similar items.

(b) Subterfuge. The prdoucer shall not reduce the wage rates to laborers below those determined in this section through any subterfuge or device whatsoever.

(c) Claim for unpaid wages. Any person who believes he has not been paid in accordance with this determination may file a wage claim with the local County Production and Marketing Administration Committee against the producer on whose farm the work was performed. Such claim must be filed within two years from the date the work with respect to which the claim is made was performed. Detailed instructions and wage claim forms are available at the office of the local County Production and Marketing Administration Committee. Upon receipt of a wage claim the County Production and Marketing Administration Committee shall thereupon notify the producer against whom the claim is made concerning the representation made by the laborer, and, after making such investigation as it deems necessary, notify the producer and laborer in writing of its recommendation for settlement of the claim. If either party is not satisfied with the recommended settlement, an appeal may be made to the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee of the State in which is located the farm where the work was performed. The address of the State Committee will be furnished by the office of the local County Committee. Upon receipt of the appeal the State Production and Marketing Administration Committee shall likewise consider the facts and notify the producer and laborer in writing of its recommendation for settlement of the claim. If the recommendation of the State Committee is not acceptable, either party may file an appeal with the Director of the Sugar Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. All such appeals shall be filed within 15 days after receipt of the recommended settlement of the respective committee, otherwise such recommended settlements will be applied in making payments under the act. If a claim is appealed to the Director of the Sugar Branch, his decision shall be binding on all parties insofar as payments under the Act are concerned.

STATEMENT OF BASES AND CONSIDERATIONS

(a) General. The foregoing determination provides fair and reasonable wage rates to be paid by producers to persons employed in the production, cultivation, or harvesting of the 1951 crop of sugar beets in regions other than the State of California, southwestern Arizona, and southern Oregon. It prescribes the minimum requirements with respect to wages which must be met as one of the conditions for payment under the act. In this statement the foregoing determination, as well as determinations for prior years, will be referred to as "wage determination", identified by the crop year for which effective.

(b) Requirements of the act and standards employed. In determining fair and reasonable wage rates, the act requires that a public hearing be held, that investigations be made, and that consideration be given to (1) the standards formerly established by the Secretary of Agriculture under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and (2) the differences in conditions among various sugar producing areas.

A public hearing was held in Detroit, Michigan; Billings, Montana; St. Paul, Minnesota; Salt Lake City, Utah; and Greeley, Colorado, during the period January 3 through January 12, 1951, at which interested persons presented testimony with respect to fair and reasonable wage rates for work on the 1951 crop of sugar beets in regions other than the State of California, southwestern Arizona and southern Oregon. In addition, investigations have been made of the conditions affecting such wage rates. In this determination consideration has been given to testimony presented at the hearings and to the information resulting from investigations. The primary factors which have been considered are (1) prices of sugar and byproducts; (2) income from sugar beets; (3) cost of production; (4) cost of living; and (5) relationship of labor cost to total cost. Other economic influences also have been considered.

(c) Background. The first determination of fair and reasonable wage rates for sugar beet work was applicable to the harvest of the 1937 crop. Wage determinations have been issued for persons employed in the production, cultivation and harvesting of each subsequent crop. In the wage determinations specific rates have not been provided for work other than hand labor operations of blocking and thinning, hoeing, weeding, pulling, topping and loading. The rates approved for other work on the farm have been those agreed to by the producer and the worker.

In the early determinations the levels of wage rates were based primarily on the relationship of wages per acre for contract labor to the gross income from sugar beets per acre with appropriate adjustment for increased producer income and changes in production and living costs. In conformity with the general practice in the industry piece-work rates were established on a per acre basis for blocking and thinning, hoeing, and weeding, and on a per ton basis for harvesting. Since 1940 this basic wage structure has been continued in the wage determination and in addition, there have been provided alternative hourly rates and additional piecework rates as required by changed methods of production, particularly changes arising from the mechanization of various operations.

In the 1950 wage determination the supplemental wage payment for the completion of harvesting work, theretofore a part of the 1948 and 1949 wage determinations, was eliminated and the amount of the payment distributed among the preharvest operations. Minor adjustments also were made in the 1950 wage determination which affected the application of certain rates.

(d) 1951 wage determination. The 1951 wage determination changes the 1950 wage determination in the following respects: (1) The total piecework wage per acre for cultivation and harvesting operations is increased about 4.5 percent although this percentage increase is not applied uniformly to all operations; (2) separate piecework rates are provided for the area of northwestern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota; and (3) provision is made for a combined rate for topping and loading in the east central Utah region of Wage District III. Basic time wage rates remain the same as in the 1950 wage determination.

The wage increases provided in the 1951 wage determination are made in an effort to raise the earnings level of workers employed on a piecework basis for certain operations where the earnings of workers have been relatively low. In making the wage changes the Department had available studies of worker performance pertaining to the most recent sugar beet crops. These studies indicate that man-hour requirements for particular operations in some areas have been such that workers of average ability, working under average crop and field conditions, did not come within the anticipated earnings range of 70 to 80 cents per hour for nonharvest work and 80 to 90 cents per hour for harvest work to which the piecework rates of recent wage determinations have been geared.

An examination has been made of the factors customarily considered in wage determinations. This examination indicates that increases in prices paid for food and clothing and for commodities used in production have affected workers and producers in about equal proportion. The income level of producers for the 1951 crop is expected to equal or exceed returns for the 1950 crop. In making this determination the Department also had available data on the costs, returns, and profits of producing sugar beets. These data were restated in terms of conditions which are known or likely to prevail for the 1951 crop. The analysis shows that the wage increases made in this determination are within the producers' ability to pay.

The division of Wage District II into two regions was based on the recommendations of producer representatives at the hearings. These representatives contended that conditions between the two regions were sufficiently different to justify a redistribution of the total wage per acre. In addition to providing different rates for the several cultivation operations, a flat rate per ton for harvesting at yield levels of 7 or more tons per acre has been provided for the northwestern Minnesota and eastern North Dakota region.

A provision has been inserted in the determination which specifies a combined rate for the operations of topping and loading in the east central Utah region of Wage District III. Harvesting practices in this region are similar to practices followed in Wage District V where a combined topping and loading rate has been provided.

At the public hearing producers, generally, recommended no increase in wage rates for 1951 but did recommend certain adjustments among the several rates provided. Representatives of labor recommended rate increases in varying amounts. The wage increases provided in this determination follow, insofar as is consistent with the applicable standards, the patterns of recommendations made at the public hearings. Producer representatives in certain districts recommended the adoption of a quality-of-work scale applicable to the thinning of sugar beets. This recommendation has not been adopted in this wage determination since it is believed that control over the quality of work performed by a worker is primarily a function of the producer-worker relationship.

After full consideration of all information available, the rates provided in this determination are deemed to be fair and reasonable.

Accordingly, I hereby find and conclude that the foregoing wage determination will effectuate the wage provisions of the Sugar Act of 1948.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreement and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Lemon Reg. 376]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.483 Lemon Regulation 376—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on March 28, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 1, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 8, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: Unlimited movement;

(ii) District 2: 300 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached to Lemon Regulation No. 375 (16 F. R. 2649), and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

PART 988—MILK IN KNOXVILLE, TENN., MARKETING AREA

MINIMUM PRICES

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and of the order, as amended, (7 CFR Part 988) regulating the handling of milk in the Knoxville, Tennessee, marketing area, hereinafter referred to as the "order," it is hereby found and determined that:

(a) The following provisions of § 988.5 (b) (1) of the order no longer tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act: "through March; $1.10 for the delivery periods of April."

(b) Notice of proposed rule making, public procedure thereon, and 30 days' prior notice of the effective date hereof are found to be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest in that (1) it is necessary to issue immediately and make effective not later than April 1, 1951, this suspension order to reflect current marketing conditions and to facilitate, promote, and maintain the orderly marketing of milk produced for the Knoxville, Tennessee, marketing area; (2) a decline in the Class I price differential of 20 cents per hundredweight April 1 threatens to cause market dislocations and lead to increased and acute shortages of producer milk; (3) recent statistics for this market indicate a continued upward trend in Class I sales and a decreasing annual level of milk production; (4) this suspension order does not require of persons affected substantial or extensive preparation prior to the effective date; and (5) the time intervening between the date of issuance of this suspension and its effective date affords persons affected a reasonable time to prepare for its effective date.

It is therefore ordered, That the following provisions of § 988.5 (b) (1) be and hereby are suspended effective at 12:01 a. m., e. s. t., April 1, 1951: "through March; $1.10 for the delivery periods of April."

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 608c)

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR IN ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 966.511 Orange Regulation 365—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66, as amended (7 CFR Part 966; 14 F. R. 3614), regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Orange Administrative Committee on March 29, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 1, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., April 8, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: No movement;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: No movement;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: 90 carloads;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: No movement.

(ii) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: Unlimited movement;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: 1,300 carloads;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: Unlimited movement;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section "handled," "handler," "varieties," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended order; and the terms "Prorate District No. 1," "Prorate District No. 2," "Prorate District No. 3," and "Prorate District No. 4" shall each have the same meaning as given to the respective terms in § 966.107, as amended (15 F. R. 8712), of the current rules and regulations (7 CFR 966.103 et seq.), as amended (15 F. R. 8712).

TITLE 12—BANKS AND BANKING

Chapter II—Federal Reserve System

Subchapter A—Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

[Reg. F]

PART 206—TRUST POWERS OF NATIONAL BANKS

VALUATION OF NONMARKETABLE DIRECT OBLIGATIONS OF U. S. IN COMMON TRUST FUNDS

§ 206.107 Valuation of nonmarketable direct obligations of the United States in Common Trust Funds. The recent Treasury Department announcement regarding a new investment series of 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds which were offered March 26, 1951, in exchange for outstanding 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of June 15 and December 15, 1967–72, has given cause to inquiries concerning the question whether, in the periodic valuation of assets in a Common Trust Fund operated in accordance with the provisions of § 206.17 (c), it would be permissible to value the new nonmarketable 2¾ percent Treasury Bonds at par value or whether such bonds should be valued at the market value of the 5 year 1½ percent Treasury Notes for which they will be exchangeable.

In § 206.103, regarding a similar inquiry relating to the valuation of Series G United States Savings Bonds, reference was made to the fact that this part does not undertake to prescribe any precise basis or method of valuation and that the only provision of the part which is pertinent to this matter is the requirement, contained in § 206.17 (c) (1), that the written Plan for the operation of a Common Trust Fund shall include, among other things, provisions relating to the basis and method of valuing the assets in the Fund.

Accordingly, this part does not prohibit the valuing of Series G United States Savings Bonds, or other nonmarketable direct obligations of the United States, at par value in the periodic valuation of assets in a Common Trust Fund, and such action is permissible if it is consistent with the terms of the written Plan governing the Common Trust Fund and with applicable State law.

(Sec. 11 (i), 38 Stat. 262; 12 U. S. C. 248 (i). Interpret or apply secs. 2–4, 24 Stat. 18, 19, sec. 1, 40 Stat. 1043, as amended, sec. 1, 44 Stat. 1225, as amended, sec. 11 (k), 38 Stat. 261, as amended, 53 Stat. 68, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 30–33, 34 (a), 248 (k), 26 U. S. C. 169)

Chapter I—Federal Trade Commission

[Docket 5487]

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

HAYES HI-GRADE HATCHERY

Subpart—Advertising falsely or misleadingly: § 3.15 Business status, advantages or connections—Government connection—Government endorsement—Organization and operation—Stock, product or service; § 3.85 Government approval, connection or standards; § 3.90 History of product or offering. Subpart—Claiming indorsements or testimonials falsely or misleadingly § 3.330 Claiming indorsements or testimonials falsely or misleadingly. In connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of baby chicks in commerce, (1) using the expression "U. S. R. O. P. sired" or "R. O. P. sired" to designate, describe or refer to respondent's chicks, or otherwise representing, directly or by implication, that respondent's chicks are sired by United States Record of Performance males; or, (2) representing by any means or in any manner that respondent is a participant in the United States Poultry Improvement Plan; prohibited, subject to the qualification, however, that the order shall not be construed as prohibiting representations that respondent's baby chicks are R. O. P. sired when such chicks have actually been sired by males which have been officially banded with U. S. R. O. P. sealed and numbered official leg-bands and duly registered as such, or representations that the flocks supplying the eggs from which the baby chicks are hatched are headed by R. O. P. males when the flocks concerning which such representations are made are segregated and headed by such officially banded R. O. P. males; provided such representations are not made in such a manner as to represent, directly or by implication, that the baby chicks so offered for sale are U. S. R. O. P. chicks, or that respondent is a participant in the National Poultry Improvement Plan.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 721; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interprets or applies sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Hayes Hi-Grade Hatchery, Docket 5487, Jan. 12, 1951]

In the Matter of Herman G. Hayes, Individually and Trading as Hayes Hi-Grade Hatchery

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of the respondent, testimony and other evidence introduced before a trial examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, recommended decision of the trial examiner and brief of counsel supporting the complaint (no brief having been filed on behalf of respondent and oral argument not having been requested), and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that respondent has violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That the respondent, Herman G. Hayes, individually and trading as Hayes Hi-Grade Hatchery, or trading under any other name, and his agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of baby chicks in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Using the expression "U. S. R. O. P. sired" or "R. O. P. sired" to designate, describe or refer to respondent's chicks, or otherwise representing, directly or by implication, that respondent's chicks are sired by United States Record of Performance males.

2. Representing by any means or in any manner that respondent is a participant in the United States Poultry Improvement Plan.

This order shall not be construed as prohibiting representations that respondent's baby chicks are R. O. P. sired when such chicks have actually been sired by males which have been officially banded with U. S. R. O. P. sealed and numbered official leg-bands and duly registered as such, or representations that the flocks supplying the eggs from which the baby chicks are hatched are headed by R. O. P. males when the flocks concerning which such representations are made are segregated and headed by such officially banded R. O. P. males: Provided, however, That such representations are not made in such a manner as to represent, directly or by implication, that the baby chicks so offered for sale are U. S. R. O. P. chicks, or that respondent is a participant in the National Poultry Improvement Plan.

It is further ordered, That respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which he has complied with this order.

Issued: January 12, 1951.

By the Commission.

PART 3—DIGEST OF CEASE AND DESIST ORDERS

CENTRAL SOYA COMPANY, INC., ET AL.

Subpart—Discriminating in price under section 2, Clayton Act as amended—Price discrimination under 2 (a): § 3.725 Cumulative quantity discounts and schedules; § 3.730 Customer classification. In the sale of animal feed products, including both concentrate and complete feeds, whether sold under the name of "Master Mix" or any other name or designation, in commerce, directly or indirectly discriminating in price between different purchasers of animal feed products, including both concentrate and complete feeds of like grade and quality, where the aforesaid products are sold for use, consumption or resale within the United States or in the District of Columbia, (a) by employing in any manner, or by any means, any arrangement or plan, regardless of designation, whereby allowances, discounts, rebates, refunds, compensation or consideration of any nature or description are granted or paid in any manner to dealer purchasers of such products when such allowances, discounts, rebates, refunds, compensation or consideration are compiled or computed at varied or different rates or percentages dependent upon the quantity or amount of the products purchased; or, (b) by classifying, designating or defining, by any means or method, dealer purchasers of such products for the purpose or with the intent or effect of granting or paying in any manner allowances, discounts, rebates, refunds, compensation or consideration of any nature or description at varied or different rates or percentages which are dependent in any way upon such classifications, designations or definitions; prohibited, subject to the provision, however, that nothing contained in the order, shall prevent any respondent from showing that any differentials alleged to be in violation of the provisions of the order are differentials which in fact make only due allowance for differences in cost of manufacture, sale or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such animal feed products are to such purchasers sold or delivered, and when differentials are thus shown by any respondent to be so justified, they are not to be construed as in violation of the order.

(Sec. 2, 38 Stat. 730, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 13) [Cease and desist order, Central Soya Company, Inc., et al., Docket 5696, January 11, 1951]

In the Matter of Central Soya Company, Inc., a Corporation, and its Subsidiaries, McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., of Tennessee, and McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., of Ohio

This proceeding was heard by James A. Purcell, trial examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission, the answer of the respondents, and certain hearings at the last of which a stipulation was received and all of which were duly recorded and filed in the office of the Commission.

Thereafter the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by said trial examiner on the complaint, answer thereto, stipulation as to certain facts at variance with the provable charges of the complaint (which facts were necessary of record to support the findings and conclusion), and proposed findings as to the facts and conclusion jointly agreed to and submitted by counsel, oral argument thereon not having been requested; and said trial examiner, having duly considered the record in said cause, made his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to the facts, conclusion drawn therefrom, and order to cease and desist.

No appeal having been filed from said initial decision of said trial examiner as provided for in Rule XXII, nor any other action taken as thereby provided to prevent said initial decision becoming the decision of the Commission thirty days from service thereof upon the parties, said initial decision, including said order to cease and desist, accordingly, under the provisions of said Rule XXII, became the decision of the Commission January 11, 1951.

The said order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondents, Central Soya Company, Inc., a corporation, and its subsidiaries, McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., of Tennessee, a corporation, and McMillen Feed Mills, Inc., of Ohio, a corporation, their, and each of their, respective officers, representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in the sale of animal feed products, including both concentrate and complete feeds, whether sold under the name of "Master Mix" or any other name or designation, in commerce as "commerce" is defined in the aforesaid Clayton Act, between and among the several States of the United States and in the District of Columbia, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Directly or indirectly discriminating in price between different purchasers of animal feed products, including both concentrate and complete feeds of like grade and quality, where the aforesaid products are sold for use, consumption or resale within the United States or in the District of Columbia:

(a) By employing in any manner, or by any means, any arrangement or plan, regardless of designation, whereby allowances, discounts, rebates, refunds, compensation or consideration of any nature or description are granted or paid in any manner to dealer purchasers of such products when such allowances, discounts, rebates, refunds, compensation or consideration are compiled or computed at varied or different rates or percentages dependent upon the quantity or amount of the products purchased;

(b) By classifying, designating or defining, by any means or method, dealer purchasers of such products for the purpose or with the intent or effect of granting or paying in any manner allowances, discounts, rebates, refunds, compensation or consideration of any nature or description at varied or different rates or percentages which are dependent in any way upon such classifications, designations or definitions.

Provided, That nothing herein contained shall prevent any respondent from showing that any differentials alleged to be in violation of the provisions of this order are differentials which in fact make only due allowance for differences in cost of manufacture, sale or delivery resulting from the differing methods or quantities in which such animal feed products are to such purchasers sold or delivered, and when differentials are thus shown by any respondent to be so justified, they are not to be construed as in violation of this order.

By "Decision of the Commission and order to File Report of Compliance", Docket 5696, January 11, 1951, which announced fruition of said initial decision, report of compliance with the order was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondents herein shall within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with this order.

Issued: January 11, 1951.

By the Commission.

PART 400—GENERAL PROVISIONS

MISCELLANEOUS REVISIONS AND AMENDMENTS

Correction

In F. R. Document 50-10031, appearing in the issue for Thursday, November 23, 1950, at page 8025 the final paragraph in § 400.201-9 was inadvertently omitted. It should read as follows:

The above definitions shall not apply to contracts which are performed outside the geographic limits of the United States, its territories, and the District of Columbia, except where such performance requires a shipment from within such geographic limits.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[General Overriding Regulation 1]

GOR 1—SALES OF BLIND-MADE GOODS BY NONPROFIT MAKING AGENCIES FOR THE BLIND

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this General Overriding Regulation No. 1 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This General Overriding Regulation is the first of a series of across-the-board regulations. These will create exemptions from or set forth special provisions applicable to some or all of the price regulations issued by the Director of Price Stabilization, including the General Ceiling Price Regulation, and its supplementary regulations as well as numbered Ceiling Price Regulations with their Supplementary Regulations.

This General Overriding Regulation exempts sales of blind-made products by nonprofit making agencies for the blind.

There are approximately 100 sheltered workshops for the blind in the United States which provide needed employment for blind people. The agencies for the blind which operate these workshops are supported and financed by public contributions or are instrumentalities of state governments receiving funds under state appropriations. These workshops manufacture goods such as covers, mats, mattresses, pads, pillowcases, rugs, towels, brooms, mops, mop handles, swabs, mailing bags, aprons and hospital supplies, such as operating room aprons, surgical drapes, and glove and pack wrappers. Their total dollar volume of sales amounted to approximately $8,000,000 in 1950. It is contemplated that this year the volume will be about $10,000,000 of which approximately 80 percent will be sales to the United States Government in which 52 of the blind agencies participate. The remaining sales will be to wholesalers, industrial and commercial users, and private consumers who purchase from door-to-door venders or from retail establishments run by the workshops.

Sales of blind-made goods to the United States Government are covered by the Wagner-O'Day Act (Act of June 25, 1929, 52 Stat. 1196, 41 U. S. C. 46-48), under which Federal procurement agencies are required to purchase brooms and mops and other suitable commodities from nonprofit making agencies for the blind to the extent that such articles are available and at prices which are determined by the Committee on Purchases of Blind-Made Products. This committee was established by the Wagner-O'Day Act. The committee is required by the Act to establish prices on the basis of the "fair market price" of the article to be purchased.

Sales by the agencies for the blind are the only sales exempted by this regulation and hence any resale by a wholesaler of these blind-made products are subject to price control.

Direct sales to industrial, commercial and private consumers are normally made at prices in excess of those charged by other sellers of comparable quality, the difference in price amounting in fact to charitable donations made by the purchasers.

The definitions of the exempted agencies, blind-made goods, and blind persons are substantially the same as those in the regulations relating to the Wagner-O'Day Act.

This regulation applying as it does to a very limited number of commodities, produced under very special circumstances, will not have any material effect on the general level of prices.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Applicability of General Overriding Regulation.
2. No ceiling prices on sales of blind-made goods by nonprofit making agencies for the blind.
3. Definitions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 3 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105.

SECTION 1. Applicability of General Overriding Regulation. This General Overriding Regulation authorizes nonprofit making agencies for the blind to sell blind-made goods free from any ceiling price restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization. Office of Price Stabilization regulations do apply to such blind-made goods when resold by others.

SEC. 2. No ceiling prices on sales of blind-made goods by nonprofit making agencies for the blind. No price regulation issued by the Office of Price Stabilization applies to sales of blind-made goods by nonprofit making agencies for the blind. No price regulation which may be issued in the future shall apply to such sales unless they are specifically mentioned in the regulation.

SEC. 3. Definitions. (a) "Nonprofit making agency for the blind" means any institution operating in the interest of blind persons, the net income of which does not inure in whole or in part to the benefit of individuals or shareholders;

(b) "Blind persons" means persons whose visual acuity does not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses; or whose visual acuity is greater than 20/200, but who have a limitation in the field of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees;

(c) "Blind-made goods" means any commodity on which 75 percent of the direct labor in man-hours has been performed by blind persons.

Effective date. This General Overriding Regulation shall become effective on April 4, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Distribution Regulation 1, Amdt. 2]

DR 1—FAIR DISTRIBUTION OF LIVESTOCK AND MEAT

CLASS 3 SLAUGHTERER REDEFINED

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5 (16 F. R. 1273), this Amendment 2 to Distribution Regulation 1[1] (16 F. R. 1273) is hereby issued.

Preamble. A Class 3 slaughterer is defined in section 5 of Distribution Regulation 1 as a resident operator of a farm who transferred in 1950 no more than 6,000 pounds of meat resulting from the slaughter of livestock on his farm. The resident operator of a farm who had his livestock slaughtered for him off the farm and transferred meat is presently defined as a Class 1A or Class 2A slaughterer. Thus the difference between resident operators of farms was predicated on their mode of slaughter in 1950 and not on the amount of meat they transferred. This was not the original intent of the regulation. It was intended that all resident operators of farms would be treated in the same manner and that their operations would be characterized by the number of pounds of meat they transferred during 1950. If they transferred no more than 6,000 pounds during 1950, it was intended that they be termed Class 3 slaughterers, and if they transferred more than 6,000 pounds during 1950, then they were to be termed Class 2 or Class 1A or Class 2A slaughterers, depending on where and by whom the slaughtering was done. The amendment will now permit any Class 3 slaughterer to have his livestock custom slaughtered for him by a Class 1 or Class 2 slaughterer, provided he complies with certain requirements set forth in the amendment. The information required must be set forth in a signed statement which the Class 1 or Class 2 slaughterer must retain for his records. By operation of the amendment all resident operators of farms who had their livestock slaughtered for them and who transferred no more than 6,000 pounds of meat during 1950 are no longer considered Class 1A or Class 2A slaughterers.

Distribution Regulation 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 5 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) If you are a resident operator of a farm on which you reside at least 6 months a year, and if, during the calendar year 1950, you transferred no more than 6,000 pounds of meat resulting from your slaughter of livestock or the slaughter of livestock for you, you are a Class 3 slaughterer. The transfer of meat includes the selling, giving, exchanging, lending, delivering or consigning of meat and also the placing or storing of meat in warehouses or locker plants.

2. Paragraphs (c) and (d) of section 5 are redesignated as paragraphs (d) and (e), respectively, and the following new paragraph (c) is added:

(c) No Class 1 or Class 2 slaughterer may slaughter livestock for you under this section unless your furnish to him a signed statement setting forth (1) the address of your farm; (2) that you are a resident operator of a farm on which you reside at least 6 months a year; (3) that during the calendar year 1950 you transferred no more than 6,000 pounds of meat resulting from your slaughter of livestock or the slaughter of livestock for you; (4) a description of the livestock by species, number of head, and live weight; (5) that the transfer of all or any part of the meat will not make your total transfer of meat in the current six-month period, commencing with March 1 or September 1, exceed either 3,000 pounds or the amount you transferred during the corresponding six month period of 1949-50, whichever amount is lower. Furthermore, if any of the meat is to be transferred to persons acquiring it for resale, you must set forth in the statement the names and addresses of such persons and that you transferred meat to such persons in 1950.

3. The last sentence of paragraph (d) of section 12 is amended to read as follows: "He must also keep the statements given to him as required by section 5 (c) and section 6 (b)."

Effective date. This amendment is effective March 31, 1951.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements contained in this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-18, as amended March 30, 1951]

M-18—PIGS' AND HOGS' BRISTLES AND BRISTLE PRODUCTS

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense, and is issued pursuant to authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment to NPA Order M-18, as last amended January 12, 1951, amends and restates the order to read as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Inventories.
4. Limitations on the manufacture of painters' brushes.
5. Restrictions on the use of bristles.
6. Required mixture of other materials.
7. Restriction on the sale and delivery of painters' brushes.
8. Restriction on the bleaching and cutting of bristles.
9. Restriction on the sale of bristles.
10. Prohibited deliveries.
11. Reports.
12. Records.
13. Communications.
14. Application for adjustment or exception.
15. Audit and inspection.
16. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 16 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order sets forth limitations on inventories of bristles. It calls for reports and explains the conditions under which reports are required in connection with the distribution, use, and inventories of bristles. It imposes limitations on the processing, mixing, or preparation for manufacture of bristles and on the manufacture and distribution of brushes and other products containing bristles. Provisions are made requiring the simplification and standardization of brushes manufactured from bristles.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Bristles" means pigs' or hogs' bristles, including riflings, whether new, reclaimed, raw, dressed, imported, or domestic, but does not include engined shoemakers' bristles.

(c) "Dealer" means a person who regularly purchases and sells bristles without processing or changing their condition.

(d) "Dresser" means a person who grades, sorts, prepares, reclaims, or in any way processes bristles.

(e) "Process" means to boil, sterilize, comb, wash, drag, or mix bristles.

(f) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from areas outside the continental United States, including territories and possessions. It includes shipments into foreign-trade zones, customs bonded warehouses, and customs custody, except when such shipments are merely in transit through the continental United States, to destinations outside the continental United States, as shown by the bills of lading or other shipping documents. However, if any such material in transit is halted or diverted to a destination in the continental United States or subjected to processing or manufacture in the continental United States, it becomes an "import" for the purposes of this order, and requires the reports specified in section 11 of this order.

(g) "Painters' brush" means any paint and varnish type of brush which is used in the painting, varnishing, or decorating trade, including all types of brushes specified in the brush schedule annexed to this order, and all other brushes of similar construction and use.

(h) "Ferrule" means the band by which the stock or filling material of a painters' brush is attached to the handle.

SEC. 3. Inventories. (a) At no time after March 30, 1951, shall any manufacturer utilizing bristles in the manufacture of brushes or other products containing bristles, order, purchase, contract to purchase, or enter into any other arrangements whatsoever, formal or informal, for the acquisition of bristles, if his inventory is, or by receipt of such bristles would become, more than a practicable minimum working inventory of bristles required for his scheduled production of brushes and other products containing bristles for a period of 120 days. Where such contracts or other arrangements to acquire do not specify a delivery date, or if they specify a delivery date subsequent to such 120-day period, the bristles provided for therein shall be considered received or delivered, and deemed in inventory, for purposes of computing the permissible amount of his inventory for that period.

(b) A "practicable minimum working inventory," as defined in NPA Reg. 1, may be computed for purposes of this order on the basis of the total quantity of bristles reported in section 1, parts A and B, of Form NPAF-14, as compared with the monthly consumption of such bristles as reported in section 2 of that form: Provided, That such computation results in the smallest quantity from which a manufacturer can reasonably meet deliveries on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation during the aforementioned 120-day period.

SEC. 4. Limitations on the manufacture of painters' brushes. No person shall manufacture any painters' brushes of a type other than those specified in the painters' brush schedule attached to this order. Ferrules for the brushes so specified shall be of the dimensions set forth for each type of brush in the schedule, except that such limitations shall not apply:

(a) To finished ferrules on hand as of March 30, 1951, regardless of who has possession thereof.

(b) To semifinished ferrules on hand as of March 30, 1951, where such ferrules have entered the cutting or slitting process of manufacture.

SEC. 5. Restrictions on the use of bristles. No person shall use any bristles longer than $2\frac{5}{8}$ inches for any purpose, except:

(a) To manufacture painters' brushes of the types identified in the painters' brush schedule annexed hereto, excluding the following: No. 12, mucilage and paste; No. 13, painters' duster flat; No. 14, painters' duster round; No. 15, plasterers', and No. 37, whitewash.

(b) To manufacture brushes or other products from bristles not longer than 4 inches, where such brushes or other products are required and used as integral or fixed parts of production equipment in the production operations of any industry.

SEC. 6. Required mixture of other materials. No person shall manufacture brushes or other products from bristles longer than $2\frac{5}{8}$ inches unless such brushes or products contain at least 30 percent by weight of filling material other than bristles as defined in this order: Provided, however, That this restriction shall not apply:

(a) To the brushes or products containing bristles referred to in paragraph (b) of section 5 of this order where the use of such brushes or products containing the aforesaid mixture would substantially curtail the normal production operations of any industry.

(b) To brushes or products containing bristles where the applicable Federal specifications require the use of bristles exclusively, provided that such brushes or products containing bristles will be delivered to or for the account of an agency of the United States within 45 days after March 30, 1951.

SEC. 7. Restriction on the sale and delivery of painters' brushes. After May 14, 1951, no manufacturer of brushes shall sell or deliver painters' brushes containing bristles longer than $2\frac{5}{8}$ inches, except in pursuance of DO rated orders.

SEC. 8. Restriction on the bleaching and cutting of bristles. No manufacturer, dealer, dresser, or other person may bleach or make cuts from any bristles longer than $2\frac{5}{8}$ inches.

SEC. 9. Restriction on the sale of bristles. No person may sell bristles except to a dealer, dresser, or manufacturer of brushes or products containing bristles.

SEC. 10. Prohibited deliveries. No person shall accept an order for, sell, deliver, or cause to be delivered bristles which he knows, or has reason to believe will be accepted, held, or used in violation of the provisions of this order.

SEC. 11. Reports. (a) Any person who imports, distributes, or has in his possession bristles for the purpose of manufacture of brushes or other products containing bristles or who otherwise may have bristles in his possession, must report each month his entries, receipts, deliveries, inventories, balance of entries, and all other transactions in bristles, by completing and filing report Form NPAF-14 on or before the 10th day of each month, with respect to all such operations and transactions.

(b) Other persons having any interest in or taking any action with respect to the importation of bristles or having control over bristles while they are physically in the continental United States, even though in bond or in transit, except common carriers, whether as owner, agent, consignee, or otherwise having bristles in his possession or under his control shall file the report called for in paragraph (a) of this section, and such other reports as may be required from time to time by the National Production Authority, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (P. L. 831, 77th Cong., 5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 12. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 13. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-18.

SEC. 14. Application for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state justification therefor.

SEC. 15. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

SEC. 16. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended and restated shall take effect on March 30, 1951.

PAINTERS' BRUSH SCHEDULE

These are the only types of painters' brushes which may be manufactured. Ferrule dimensions are in inches. A maximum variation of $\frac{1}{64}$ of an inch is allowed in width and thickness, both of which are referred to by inside dimensions. In case of any inconsistency, the ferrule dimensions shall prevail over those in the Federal Specifications.

TITLE 39—POSTAL SERVICE

Chapter I—Post Office Department

PART 34—CLASSIFICATION AND RATES OF POSTAGE

PART 43—TREATMENT OF DOMESTIC MAIL MATTER

PART 155—FORMS OF POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to authority contained in Public Law 536, approved June 8, 1950 (64 Stat. 210), the Postmaster General has prescribed regulations under which undeliverable second-, third-, and fourth-class mail matter may be forwarded to addressees or returned to the senders, which rules and regulations (1) constitute an adoption of experimental procedures instituted in 1949 for the handling of unclaimed or otherwise undeliverable publications transmitted by second-class mail, and (2) constitute a relaxation of certain restrictive regulations with respect to the forwarding or return of other second-, third-, and fourth-class mail, and it having been found that compliance with the notice and public rule making requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable for the reason that such compliance would impede the due and timely execution of the functions of this Department, it is therefore ordered that effective May 1, 1951, title 39 of the Code of Federal Regulations be amended as follows:

a. Section 34.63 Undeliverable second-class matter is amended to read as follows:

§ 34.63 Undeliverable second-class matter—(a) Forwarding and return. Under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe, second-, * * * class matter which is undeliverable as addressed may be forwarded to the addressee or returned to the sender and the postage for such service may be prepaid or collected on delivery of the matter in accordance with the instructions and pledge of the addressee or sender, as the case may be, to pay the forwarding or return postage, and such matter * * * for which payment of forwarding or return postage is not pledged, may be forwarded or returned under such conditions as the Postmaster General shall prescribe, but when the addressee or sender refuses to pay the required postage, the forwarding or return of further matter may be discontinued. (Sec. 1, Public Law 536, approved June 8, 1950)

(b) Notification of addressee or sender; postage charge. (1) Under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe, the addressee or sender of second-, * * * class matter which is undeliverable as addressed may be so notified, and there shall be a charge for each such notice of not to exceed 5 cents.

(2) When copies of any publication of the second class mailed by a publisher or news agent at the pound rate or free-in-county of publication are undeliverable as addressed, such publisher or agent shall be notified of that fact in such manner and at such time as the Postmaster General may prescribe, for which service there shall be a charge of not to exceed 5 cents, and copies of the publication received subsequent to such notification shall be treated as provided by this Act or as may otherwise be directed by the Postmaster General. (Sec. 2, Public Law 536, approved June 8, 1950)

NOTE: See § 43.11 as to use of postage-due stamps.

(c) When there has been a local change of address. When the address on copies of a publication is incorrect because of a local change of address on a city, village, or rural letter-carrier route, or because of some other local change of address, the copies shall be delivered to the new local address without charge for 5 weeks, or until two successive issues have been published, whichever period is longer. Form 22–S shall be furnished to the subscriber at his new local address and he shall be requested to use it promptly to notify the publication of his change of address. If copies bearing the old address continue to be received after the period prescribed has elapsed, the carrier servicing the subscriber's old address shall write the new address near the original address or address label on the copies and then deliver them to the inquiry section or clerk designated by the postmaster. The inquiry section or designated clerk shall fill out Form 3579, by typewriter when possible, to show the subscriber's new address, and the complete name and address of the publication, including street and delivery zone numbers. The form shall then be attached to the copy near the old address, but not over it, and the copy shall be returned to the publication charged with 2 cents postage due. Copies bearing the old address shall be returned to the publication in this manner until the address is changed, but, if the change is not made within a reasonable time, the postmaster at the office of mailing may be requested by letter to call the publisher's attention to his failure to correct his mailing list.

(d) Publication undeliverable for reason other than local change of address. When copies of a publication are undeliverable as addressed for a reason other than a local change of address, the first undeliverable copy shall be endorsed to show the reason together with the words "first copy" by the carrier or clerk who determines the fact that the copies cannot be delivered to the addressee, after which the copies shall be delivered to the inquiry section or designated clerk for preparation and affixing of Form 3579 and return to the publication as directed in paragraph (c) of this section. Copies bearing the same address received during the period of 5 weeks or until two subsequent issues shall have been published following the return of the first undeliverable copy shall be disposed of as waste (see §§ 6.22 and 43.46 of this chapter) unless the copies bear the pledge of the sender to pay return postage in which case the copies shall be returned to the sender charged with postage due at the transient second-class rate (see § 34.42). Copies received after the expiration of the prescribed period shall be returned to the publication under Form 3579.

(e) Pledge of forwarding postage filed by addressee or publisher. When the addressee's change of address is other than local and he has filed a written guarantee on Form 22 or otherwise to pay forwarding postage or when the copies bear the publisher's pledge to pay forwarding postage, copies undeliverable as addressed shall be forwarded to the new address for a period of 5 weeks or until at least two successive issues have been published, rated with postage due at the transient second-class rate (see § 34.42). Form 22–S shall be furnished to the addressee by the postmaster at the new post office of address with the first copy which is forwarded. Additional copies of Form 22–S may be furnished to the addressee with subsequent copies if the address is not changed during the prescribed period. After 5 weeks, but not until at least two successive issues have been published, the copies received at the old address shall be returned to the publication under Form 3579. If the addressee refuses to pay the postage due, the postmaster at the forwarding post office shall be requested by letter to discontinue forwarding copies and to return them to the publication.

(f) Manner in which sender's pledge shall be shown. The sender's pledge to pay the forwarding or return postage, or both, on copies of second-class publications which are undeliverable at the original office of address shall be placed immediately under the sender's return card when the copies are enclosed in envelopes (see § 34.62 (b)), or on the wrappers, or on one of the outside covers, of unwrapped copies. (See § 34.56 (b).)

(g) Manner in which two or more copies bearing different addresses may be returned together. Two or more undeliverable copies of the same publication bearing different addresses may be returned to the publication at one time under Form 3579. The copies must be securely tied together, and a facing slip showing the name of the office to which they are being sent and the number of copies must be placed on the package.

(h) Treatment of two or more copies bearing the same address. If two or more undeliverable copies of a publication bearing the same address accumulate in a post office box or elsewhere before the fact that they are undeliverable is ascertained, only one of the copies, preferably the copy of the latest issue, shall be returned to the publication under Form 3579.

(i) When publisher refuses to pay postage due. If the publisher refuses to pay the postage due on undeliverable copies of his publication returned to him under Form 3579, the postmaster shall immediately obtain the publisher's statement of his reasons for such refusal and make a full report of the matter to the Bureau of Finance.

(j) Canadian matter. Undeliverable Canadian second-class matter shall be given the same treatment as domestic matter of that class.

NOTE: See also § 43.12 (e), (h), (i), and (j), as to forwarding second-class matter under certain conditions stated therein.

b. In § 43.12 Forwarding of mail amend paragraphs (b) to (i), inclusive, to read as follows:

(b) Second-, third- and fourth-class matter. Under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe, second-, third-, and fourth-class matter which is undeliverable as addressed may be forwarded to the addressee * * * and the postage for such service may be prepaid or collected on delivery of the matter in accordance with the instructions and pledge of the addressee or sender, as the case may be, to pay the forwarding * * * postage, and such matter, including that of a perishable or urgent nature, for which payment of forwarding * * * postage is not pledged, may be forwarded * * * under such conditions as the Postmaster General shall prescribe, but when the addressee or sender refuses to pay the required postage, the forwarding * * * of further matter may be discontinued. (Sec. 1, Public Law 536, approved June 8, 1950.)

(c) Notice to sender. Under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe, the addressee or sender of second-, third-, or fourth-class matter which is undeliverable as addressed may be so notified, and there shall be a charge for each such notice of not to exceed 5 cents. (Sec. 2 (a), Public Law 536, approved June 8, 1950)

NOTE: See § 34.63 as to forwarding of second-class matter.

(d) Matter which may be forwarded without additional postage charge. Additional postage is not chargeable for forwarding of matter fully prepaid at the first-class rate, postal cards, post cards, and official matter.

(e) Matter on which additional postage is charged for forwarding. Additional postage shall be charged on mail of the second, third, and fourth classes every time it is forwarded. Such postage shall be charged on each individually addressed piece, and shall not be computed on the bulk weight of a number of pieces for the same addressee. Mail of these classes for which the addressee has guaranteed forwarding postage or which bears the pledge of the sender that postage for its forwarding will be paid (See § 43.48 as to pledge) shall be forwarded, without notice, to the addressee or such other person as the sender may direct in connection with his pledge, at another post office, charged with the amount of the forwarding postage. Third- and fourth-class matter of obvious value shall be forwarded to the addressee, without notice, charged with the amount of forwarding postage, regardless of whether it bears the sender's pledge or forwarding postage has been guaranteed by the addressee (See § 43.48 (i)). When mail charged with the forwarding postage is forwarded as provided in this section, such postage shall be collected on delivery by means of postage-due stamps. In each case the postage for forwarding mail of the third or fourth class shall be computed at the same rate as would be chargeable if the matter were originally mailed at the forwarding office. Matter of the second class when forwarded shall be charged with postage at the transient second-class rate. (See § 34.42 of this chapter.) Before matter is forwarded as herein provided, the postmaster shall make the necessary change in the address thereon, including the name of the new addressee when the sender requests in connection with his pledge to pay the forwarding postage that the matter be sent to some person other than the original addressee.

(f) Pledge to pay forwarding postage. A patron who submits an order to change address may, in connection therewith, guarantee payment of forwarding postage on third- or fourth-class matter forwarded to the new address. (See § 43.48 with respect to sender's pledge to pay forwarding postage.) When an addressee refuses to pay forwarding postage in accordance with his guarantee, the postmaster at the office to which the matter is forwarded shall notify the postmaster at the office of original address who shall discontinue forwarding further matter under the addressee's pledge. (See § 34.63 of this chapter as to pledge to pay forwarding postage on second-class matter).

(g) Card notice of forwarding. When the sender of ordinary mail of the third and fourth classes desires to be notified in cases where the matter is incorrectly addressed because of removal of the addressee, he may indicate that fact on the matter itself in such manner as may be prescribed by the Bureau of Finance, in which case the postmaster at the office of address shall furnish the desired information, including the new address of the addressee, if known, on card Form 3547, for which a postage charge of 2 cents shall be collected upon delivery of the card notice to the sender of such mail.

NOTE: This regulation applies only to third and fourth class matter sent out in the regular course of business for purposes other than obtaining the address of the person to whom the matter is sent.

(h) Mail addressed to discontinued post office. Mail of the second, third, and fourth classes addressed to a discontinued post office may, when the office to which such mail is ordered sent by the Department is not convenient for the addressees, be transmitted to such office as they may designate, without additional charge.

(i) Change of address because of change in postal service. Patrons of any office who, on account of the establishment of or a change in rural-delivery service, receive their mail from the rural carrier of another office may have their mail of the second, third, and fourth classes sent to the latter office for delivery by the rural carrier without a new prepayment of postage, provided they first file with the postmaster at the former office a written request to that effect. This is not construed as "forwarding" within the meaning of the law.

c. In § 43.48 Return of second-, third-, and fourth-class matter make the following changes:

1. Amend the section caption to read as follows: "Return of third- and fourth-class matter."

2. Delete paragraphs (c) and (h).

3. Amend paragraphs (a) (b), (c), (d) and (i) to read as follows:

(a) Return postage. Under such regulations as the Postmaster General may prescribe, * * *, third-, and fourth-class matter which is undeliverable as addressed may be * * * returned to the sender and the postage for such service may be prepaid or collected on delivery of the matter in accordance with the instructions and pledge of the * * * sender * * * to pay the * * * return postage, and such matter, including that of a perishable or urgent nature, for which payment of * * * return postage is not pledged, may be * * * returned under such conditions as the Postmaster General shall prescribe, but when the addressee or sender refuses to pay the required postage, the * * * return of further matter may be discontinued. (Sec. 1, Public Law 536, approved June 8, 1950)

NOTE: See § 43.12 as to the forwarding of second-, third-, and fourth-class matter; § 34.63 of this chapter as to the forwarding and return of second-class matter.

(b) Matter returned to sender. Undeliverable matter of the third and fourth classes which bears the pledge of the sender that postage for its return will be paid, and undeliverable third- and fourth-class matter of obvious value (See paragraph (i) of this section), which does not bear the pledge, shall be returned to the sender, without notice, rated with the postage chargeable for its return, such postage to be collected by means of postage-due stamps on delivery of the matter to the sender (See §§ 45.3 and 45.15 of this chapter relative to the handling of other undeliverable third- and fourth-class matter). Such matter as has first been forwarded from the office of the original address under the provisions of § 43.12 (e), without prepayment of the forwarding postage, is chargeable, when returned to the sender, with the postage for such forwarding, in addition to that required for its return, both to be collected on delivery of the matter as herein provided.

(c) Manner in which sender's pledge should be indicated. When the sender of matter of the third, or fourth class desires, in case it is undeliverable as originally addressed, that it be forwarded to the addressee or to some other designated person at another post office or that it be returned to the sender and the forwarding or return postage, or both, collected on delivery, he shall place on the matter an appropriate pledge that such postage will be paid. The pledge shall be placed immediately under the sender's return card, which the matter shall bear in every case, in the upper left corner of the address side. When the sender refuses to pay the forwarding or return postage in accordance with his pledge, report of all the facts shall be made to the Bureau of Finance, but acceptance of further matter bearing such pledge shall not be refused until specific instructions to do so are received.

(d) Rates of postage for return. The rates of postage for the return of matter of the third class are 2 cents for the first 2 ounces or fraction thereof and 1 cent for each additional ounce or fraction thereof, except that the rate on books, catalogs, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots, scions, and plants is $1\frac{1}{2}$ cents for each 2 ounces or fraction thereof, up to and including 8 ounces; and of the fourth class, the rates prescribed in §§ 34.75 to 34.84, inclusive, of this chapter. In every case postage shall be computed on each separately addressed piece.

(i) Definition of "obvious value". Matter of obvious value within the meaning of this section is such as the postmaster may so regard, all registered, insured, and c. o. d. matter, and such as bears the pledge of the sender that postage for its forwarding and return will be furnished.

d. In Part 155 Forms of the Post Office Department make the following changes:

1. Amend § 155.704 Form 22; order to change address to read as follows:

§ 155.704 Form 22; order to change address. This is a card form providing space which must be completed by persons moving from one address to another to show the name of the person or firm changing address, the old address, and the new address. Space is also provided to check guarantee of forwarding postage for magazines, newspapers, circular matter and parcel post, and whether change of address is for entire family or firm, or for individual signer only.

PART 127—INTERNATIONAL POSTAL SERVICE: POSTAGE RATES, SERVICE AVAILABLE, AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR MAILING

MEXICO

The Post Office Department has been informed by the Mexican Postal Administration concerning new import restrictions, now in effect, which apply to parcel post packages mailed in the United States for delivery in Mexico, and since compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) is impracticable for the reason that such compliance would impede the due and timely execution of the functions of this Department, It is, therefore, ordered, That, effective at once, Part 127 be amended as follows:

In § 127.304 Mexico (16 F. R. 2349) amend subdivision (i) of paragraph (b) (9) to read as follows:

(i) Import permits. (a) A large variety of items require import permits to be obtained by the addressees in Mexico, when the value of the shipment is 100 Mexican pesos or over. Information as to what articles require import licenses, and as to rates of Mexican customs duty, may be obtained from the American Republics Division, Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., or from any regional or district office of that Department.

(b) Each parcel whose contents exceed 400 pesos in value must have a copy of the relative invoice enclosed, and another copy must be sent directly to the addressee for use in connection with the Mexican customs procedure.

TITLE 45—PUBLIC WELFARE

Chapter I—Office of Education, Federal Security Agency

PART 104—CONSTRUCTION OF SCHOOL FACILITIES IN AREAS AFFECTED BY FEDERAL ACTIVITIES

EXTENSION OF DEAD LINE AND ALTERATIONS IN ORDER OF CERTIFICATIONS

1. Section 104.3 (16 F. R. 769) is amended by striking the date, February 28, 1951, and substituting therefor the date, April 6, 1951, as follows:

§ 104.3 Dead line for applications for payments from funds available for fiscal year 1951. By reason of the foregoing April 6, 1951, is hereby fixed as the date before which all applications for payments out of funds available for the fiscal year 1951 shall be filed.

2. Section 104.4 is amended by striking the date, February 28, 1951, and substituting therefor the date, April 6, 1951. Subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 104.4 (16 F. R. 769) is amended by limiting the percentage of the school membership without school facilities which can be considered in a priority determination so that it may not exceed the percentage of school attendance with respect to which the local agency is eligible and the application is made. Proviso (b) to the said subparagraph (2) is amended by changing its coverage from Federal or other housing projects programmed for substantial completion by the beginning of the ensuing school year to Federal or other housing or housing units programmed for completion on or before January 1, 1952, and by allowing not only the school membership, as heretofore, but also the average daily attendance anticipated therefrom to be included in computing the priority-percentages. A third proviso, (c) added to the said subparagraph (2), provides that certain school facilities which are scheduled for completion during the ensuing school year shall be deemed available facilities for purposes of the percentage described in subdivision (ii) of the said subparagraph (2). Section 104.4, as amended, reads as follows:

§ 104.4 Order of making certifications from available funds. Subject to the condition of readiness hereinafter stated, the order in which certifications required by subsections (a) and (b) of section 206, Public Law 815, 81st Congress, from funds appropriated and available therefor on April 6, 1951, will be made is as follows:

(a) Preference to projects for school facilities where none are presently available. Projects designed to provide school facilities for those for whom no facilities are presently available, as indicated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph will be preferred.

(1) When children deemed to be without school facilities. For the purposes of this section, children will be deemed to be without school facilities who (i) are in excess of the normal one-session-per-day capacity of available school facilities above the kindergarten level or (ii) are presently dependent upon a building or space which is unsafe, or the use of which for school purposes in view of its character, inaccessibility, or other equally cogent reason seriously prejudices or would seriously prejudice the educational objective. Mere obsolescence in terms of existing State standards or the use of temporary but otherwise adequate facilities will not in themselves constitute preference factors.

(2) Determination of order of priority for payments. The order of priority hereunder will be determined by adding (i) the percentage of the average daily attendance with respect to which the local agency is eligible and the application is made, to (ii) the percentage of the school membership within the same jurisdictional area who are without school facilities under the definition in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, not counting so much of the combined percentages as exceed twice the amount of the percentage arrived at under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph. Subject to the foregoing, those projects with the highest combined percentages will be first certified for payment:

Provided however, (a) That where the jurisdictional area of the applicant with respect to which the application is made comprises an extensive territory and the Federal activity is localized within the area served by one or more attendance centers, and the other attendance centers within the District are substantially unavailable to meet the needs of such attendance centers affected by Federal activities, then, in such case, the percentages described in subdivision (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph will be determined with respect to the Federally affected attendance areas, and not with respect to the entire school district or jurisdiction: And provided, (b) That where Federal or other housing or housing units, undertaken primarily to house those with respect to whose children the applicant may claim Federal funds, have been provided for and scheduled for completion on or before January 1, 1952, then the average daily attendance and school membership anticipated from such construction shall be included in computing the percentages described in said subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph: And provided, (c) That all school facilities for the construction of which contracts were let prior to February 28, 1951, and which are scheduled for completion during the ensuing school year, shall be considered as available facilities in determining the percentage described in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph.

(3) Responsibility of applicant and Regional Representative in priority determinations. The applicant must submit as a part of its application all facts and circumstances in each case which are pertinent to an accurate determination of priority status as above, and the Regional Representative will assume primary responsibility for designating and determining differentiated attendance centers under (a) of the proviso to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and determining the school membership anticipated under (b) of the proviso to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(b) Certification of remaining funds and priority of construction applications over reimbursement applications. Federal funds not certified under paragraph (a) of this section may be drawn upon to replace or improve obsolescent, substandard, or temporary facilities, or for projects requiring amounts of Federal funds in excess of those necessary to provide minimum facilities as described in § 104.5. All applications under section 205 (b), Public Law 815, 81st Congress, will have as set forth in the statute priority over applications under section 205 (c), Public Law 815, 81st Congress.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 928]

[Docket No. AO-227]

HANDLING OF MILK IN NEOSHO VALLEY (KANSAS-MISSOURI) MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS THERETO WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Neosho Valley (Kansas-Missouri) Marketing area.

Interested parties may file written exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 20th day after the publication of this recommended decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. A public hearing, on the record of which the proposed marketing agreement and the proposed order were formulated, was called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following receipt of a petition filed by the Southeast Kansas Grade A Milk Producers Association, Chanute, Kansas (now known as the K. M. O. Milk Producers Association). The public hearing was held in Chanute, Kansas, on November 13 to 17, 1950, inclusive, pursuant to a notice duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 7186).

The material issues considered at the hearing were concerned with the following:

A. Whether the handling of milk in the Neosho Valley marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce or directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk or its products:

B. Whether marketing conditions justify the issuance of a marketing agreement or order regulating the handling of milk in the Neosho Valley marketing area; and

C. If issuance of such an agreement or order is justified, what its provisions should be.

The evidence on this last issue involved the following:

(1) The extent of the marketing area;

(2) The definition of "producer," "handler," "approved plant," "other source milk," and other terms;

(3) The classification and allocation of milk;

(4) The determination and level of class prices;

(5) Payments to producers;

(6) Administrative provisions necessary to carry out the foregoing provisions.

Findings and conclusions. Upon the basis of the evidence adduced at the hearing, it is hereby found and concluded that:

(A) The handling of milk produced for the Neosho Valley marketing area is in the current of interstate commerce and directly burdens, obstructs, or affects interstate commerce in milk and its products.

The marketing area as hereinafter proposed would include certain specified towns and cities in the States of Kansas and Missouri. Handlers located in the Missouri towns within the proposed area purchase milk in competition with handlers located in the State of Kansas. Such milk, so purchased and bottled in the State of Missouri, is sold on routes and through stores in both Missouri and Kansas. Handlers located in the Kansas portion of the proposed area purchase milk in the States of Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri. Milk so purchased is bottled in handlers' plants located in the State of Kansas and is disposed of on routes and through stores in the States of Kansas, Oklahoma, and Missouri. Milk purchased in the State of Oklahoma and in the extreme southern portion of the State of Kansas is purchased in competition with milk purchased for the Tulsa and Muskogee, Oklahoma, fluid markets.

The Neosho Valley Cooperative Association, an operating cooperative which would be a handler under the proposed order, purchases Grade A milk in competition with other handlers and disposes of a substantial portion of such milk in areas outside of the States of Missouri and Kansas particularly during the short months of production. In addition, this cooperative association, as well as several other handlers in the market, operate manufacturing facilities and purchase substantial quantities of ungraded milk and cream which is disposed of as butter, condensed products, and nonfat dry milk solids competitively out of state on the open market. Ice cream, manufactured locally from ingredients purchased on the open market and from locally produced milk is sold in surrounding areas in the States of Oklahoma, Kansas, and Missouri. Butter manufactured in the State of Oklahoma is purchased by local handlers and disposed of to customers on routes in the States of Kansas and Missouri. Reddiwip manufactured in St. Louis, Missouri, is disposed of through stores and by local handlers on routes in the States of Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma.

From the foregoing it is clear that a substantial volume of the milk in the Neosho Valley market is moved physically in interstate commerce in the form of milk, ice cream, butter, and other manufactured dairy products and that the handling of milk in the market directly burdens, obstructs, and affects interstate commerce in milk and its products.

(B) Milk marketing conditions in the Neosho Valley market justify the issuance of a marketing agreement and order.

Producers delivering milk to handlers in the Neosho Valley market are not being paid for their milk on a use basis and there is no uniform pricing plan as among the several handlers with the result that producer prices for milk of similar quality and use vary substantially. While much of the market apparently operates on a base and surplus plan there is a wide difference in the application of such a plan as between handlers and accordingly a wide variation in the net returns to producers.

There is much dissatisfaction among producers in regard to the butterfat testing of their milk. The record shows a number of instances where producers were paid on the same test for a number of pay periods which is an unusual occurrence when samples are properly taken and properly tested. Producers delivering part of their milk to each of two plants have been paid on substantially different tests at the two plants. In addition the record shows wide variations between plant tests and D. H. I. A. tests. Even when due consideration is given to the purpose and methods of D. H. I. A. testing these extreme variations appear unreasonable and strongly support the producers in their contention that they are presently paid on inaccurate tests.

At the present time producers do not have access to the necessary market information to enable them to market their milk efficiently. They have no voice in the sales of their milk or in the testing and weighing thereof. Many of the handlers in the market have refused to recognize the existence of a cooperative association which was formed by a large group of the producers on the market as an agency to represent them in the sales of their milk. The adverse attitude which certain handlers have taken toward the association has so disrupted the market that the cooperative association is reluctant to reveal the identity of its membership and in many instances new members specifically request that their identity not be revealed for fear of reprisals on the part of handlers to whom they dispose of their milk. As a result, the cooperative association has been unable to bargain effectively with handlers in the sale of milk for its members.

The issuance of an order would provide producers with the market information necessary for efficient marketing of their milk. Furthermore, the pricing of producer milk in accordance with its use, auditing of handlers' utilization of milk, and checking of weights and tests by an impartial agency under an order will aid in establishing and maintaining the orderly marketing of milk and its products in the Neosho Valley market.

(C) From the evidence, it is concluded that the proposed marketing agreement and order which are hereinafter set forth and all of the terms and conditions thereof, meet the needs of the Neosho Valley marketing area and will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. The following findings and conclusions are made with respect to the several provisions of the proposed marketing agreement and order.

(1) Extent of the marketing area. The marketing area should be defined to include all of the territory within the corporate limits of the municipalities of Pittsburg, Parsons, Independence, Coffeyville, Fort Scott, Iola, and Chanute, all in the State of Kansas, and the municipalities of Joplin, Carthage, and Neosho, all in the State of Missouri.

Each of these cities has a Grade A milk ordinance patterned after the standard U. S. Public Health Code and only milk of producers holding permits issued by the local health officer administering such ordinance, or milk accepted as Grade A on a reciprocity basis, is permitted to be bottled and sold in the area.

The cities herein proposed to constitute the marketing area are contained in an over-all area approximately 85 miles square (roughly 7,225 square miles). They represent the concentration of population and the principal area of Grade A milk competition for handlers who would be regulated. Certain handlers contended that the inclusion of these cities without the inclusion of additional towns, particularly in the surrounding Missouri area, would force them to operate at a competitive disadvantage with distributors who would not be regulated as to minimum paying prices to producers for milk. While the evidence does indicate that some of the handlers doing business in one or more of the cities in the proposed area, and who would be regulated under this proposed order, actually do a substantial part of their fluid business outside of the area, it appears that their primary competition in the outside area is either with distributors of Nongrade A milk or with other handlers who would be regulated under this proposed order. The record clearly indicates the interrelationship of the operations of affected handlers and while it is not apparent that any single handler distributes in each of the 10 proposed cities, the distribution routes of all handlers are so intermixed that it would be impractical to exclude any of the area as herein proposed. Since it is necessary to establish a boundary line for the marketing area at a logical point which will give due consideration to the problems as shown by the record, it is not possible to include additional territory on the evidence presented.

(2) Definitions. In order to designate clearly exactly what milk is to be subject to the pricing provisions of the order, which processors and distributors are to be subject to regulation and which dairy farmers will participate in the market pool it is necessary to define the terms "approved plant," "handler," "producer," and "other source milk."

It is intended that any producer holding a permit or rating issued by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area and who delivered milk to a plant which disposes of at least 10 percent of its receipts of milk qualified for distribution as Grade A milk in the marketing area as Class I milk on wholesale or retail routes in the marketing area during the delivery period should be included in the market pool. Accordingly, an "approved plant" is designated as any milk processing plant, except that of a producer-handler, which is approved by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area and from which 10 percent or more of the receipts during the delivery period of milk qualified for distribution as Grade A milk in the marketing area is disposed of during the delivery period on wholesale or retail routes (including plant stores) as Class I milk in the marketing area. The exemption of a distributing plant from which less than 10 percent of its approved receipts are disposed of as Class I milk on routes in the marketing area is necessary in this market to eliminate the influence on returns to producers caused by the operations of distributors who are not primarily associated with the marketing area and to prevent possible hardship upon such distributors which might result from applying the provisions of the proposed order to the total operations of such distributors when they actually are more closely associated with other markets. In order to prevent these distributors from having a price advantage with respect to sales of Class I milk in the marketing area they should be required to pay into the producer-settlement fund the difference between the Class I and the Class II price on such milk disposed of in the marketing area. In addition, such distributors should be required to pay to the market administrator, as their share of the administrative cost of operating this order, the administrative assessment on the quantity of Class I milk disposed of in the marketing area, and they should also be required to make reports to the market administrator and to keep the necessary books and records of receipts and utilization and permit verification thereof.

The term "producer" should be defined as any person, other than a producer-handler, who produces milk under a dairy farm inspection permit or rating issued by the appropriate health authority which milk is received at an approved plant or is diverted from an approved plant to any milk distributing or milk manufacturing plant. In order to eliminate possible conflict between this order and other orders regulating the handling of milk in adjacent areas it is provided that the term "producer" shall not include a person with respect to milk produced by him which is received by a handler who does a greater percentage of his Class I business under another Federal marketing order.

The term "handler" should include any person in his capacity as the operator of an approved plant, a producer-handler, any person in his capacity as the operator of an unapproved plant from which milk is disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area and a cooperative association with respect to milk of producers which it causes to be diverted to an unapproved plant. Milk diverted from an approved plant to an unapproved plant for the account of the approved plant operator should be considered as having been received at the approved plant since producers of such milk would ordinarily be regular suppliers of the market and as such should be assured the market blend price for their milk. The inclusion in the definition of a cooperative association, even though it might not operate a plant, will enable such a cooperative association to participate in the market pool with respect to milk of its members which it may have to divert to an unapproved plant.

"Other source milk" should be defined to include all skim milk and butterfat from a producer-handler or from a source other than producers or other handlers operating approved plants except any nonfluid milk product received and disposed of in the same form.

Other source milk is not normally available for the market either because it does not meet the normal quality requirements or because its availability is restricted by the people handling it.

Such milk should not share in the market pool. It is not priced under the terms of the order and to prevent its displacing the milk of producers which constitutes the regular supply of the market it is allocated to the lowest use in the handlers plant.

Since producer-handlers normally dispose of their milk during most of the year in Class I products, and since sales of Class I milk by these handlers would not be pooled, the pooling of any surplus milk purchased by handlers from producer-handlers would result in a preferential market for producer-handlers as compared with regular producers. Milk purchased from producer-handlers should be treated therefore as other source milk and would be unpriced under this proposed order. The inclusion, as other source milk, of all receipts from handlers as operators of unapproved plants assures the treatment of such milk in the same manner as is proposed for other nonproducer milk. Nonfluid milk products received and disposed of in the same form are not included as other source milk because they would not affect the classification of producer milk.

The terms "act," "person," "Secretary," "Department," "cooperative association," "producer milk," and "delivery period" are common to Federal milk marketing orders issued pursuant to the act and are defined to facilitate the drafting of the other provisions of the order.

(3) Classification and allocation of milk. The classification of milk should be as follows: Class I milk should include all skim milk and butterfat disposed of in fluid form (except as livestock feed) as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, milk drinks, cream, cultured sour cream, any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk (except bulk ice cream mix, eggnog, and aerated cream), all skim milk and butterfat in inventory at the end of the delivery period in the form of Class I items, and all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for as Class II milk. Class II milk should include all skim milk and butterfat used to produce any product other than those specified in Class I, disposed of as livestock feed, as actual plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk but not in excess of 2 percent of such receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, except that during the delivery periods of April, May, and June actual shrinkage on skim milk in producer milk shall be limited to 5 percent of such receipts, and in actual plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in other source milk received.

The products to be classified as Class I are those which, under the several health ordinances in effect in the marketing area, are required to be made from approved milk. They are all derived from milk which is subject to the same transportation costs in moving from farm to market. These Class I items are all normally associated with a fluid milk business, and are all disposed of in the marketing area in fluid form through the same retail and wholesale channels as bottled fluid milk. Their physical characteristics, purposes, values, and uses are more nearly similar to those of fluid milk than to the products to be classified as Class II. The inclusion as Class I of all inventory of skim milk and butterfat in fluid items does not affect either producer returns or handlers' costs for milk over a period of time. It does, however, minimize the work of the market administrator in the reclassification and resulting audit adjustments which otherwise result when fluid items in inventory are later disposed of as Class I milk.

Skim milk and butterfat contained in cream and cream mixtures are subject to the same production costs as milk for other fluid uses. Furthermore, milk so utilized is the same quality of milk as is disposed of in other Class I products and is subject to the same transportation costs in moving from the farm to the handler's plant. In addition, the separate accounting of skim milk and butterfat herein proposed and the pricing thereof results in handlers being charged only for the exact volume of skim milk or butterfat actually disposed of in any particular use.

The products to be classified in Class II are not required under the local health ordinances to be made from approved milk. Producer milk in excess of the needs of local handlers for milk for Class I use must compete with ungraded milk over which it commands no premium for manufacturing uses. Accordingly, such excess milk must be classified in a lower class than that utilized for fluid products. In this manner a lower pricing is provided for such milk which lower pricing is necessary to assure the free movement of such excess supplies into manufacturing channels without burdensome competitive disadvantages to affected handlers.

Producers proposed a 1 percent maximum shrinkage allowance in the lowest use class while handlers proposed a minimum 3 percent allowance and in addition proposed that dumped milk be classified as Class II. Dumping results in complete disappearance of the skim milk and butterfat involved and it would be necessary in order to adequately protect producer interests that a representative of the market administrator's office be in a position to witness the actual dumping. The geographical characteristics of this particular marketing area, consisting as it does of 10 separate municipalities, and the fact that most of the handlers deal in relatively small volumes of milk make it impractical to allow dumped milk to be classified as Class II. Any excess butterfat which cannot be disposed of for fluid uses or in other higher valued products can be utilized locally in the manufacture of butter. Hence under no circumstances should it be necessary to dispose of whole milk or butterfat by dumping. There are ample manufacturing facilities in the area to handle any prospective local surpluses and these manufacturing plants at times import milk from substantial distances to supplement their local supplies. Moreover, most of the handlers are short of producer milk during the fall and winter months. A Class II classification for producer skim milk which is dumped at the same time that other source milk is being received for fluid use cannot be justified. This narrows the consideration to one of a lower classification for skim milk dumped during the peak production months when supplies of local producer milk exceed the demand for fluid uses. In this connection it is proposed that for purposes of this order any milk, skim milk, or cream which is dumped be considered unaccounted for milk which, except in the case of skim milk during the months of April through June should be included as allowable shrinkage within the limits of 2 percent of producer receipts. An allowable shrinkage on skim milk of 5 percent during the months of April through June should serve to alleviate any hardship to individual handlers resulting from excess volumes in amounts too small to justify transporting to manufacturing plants or otherwise disposing of as Class II products. Unaccounted for producer milk in excess of allowable shrinkage should be classified as Class I. No limit is proposed for shrinkage of other source milk allowed in Class II since such milk is deducted from the lowest use class under the allocation provisions.

It is not administratively feasible to segregate the actual plant shrinkage on producer milk from shrinkage on other source milk in the same plant. Accordingly, in such case, the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, allocated to producer milk and to other source milk should be computed pro rata in proportion to the volumes of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, received from such sources.

The allocation provisions should provide that other source milk, which is unpriced, be allocated to the lowest use in the handler's plant. This is done to prevent other source milk from displacing the milk of producers which constitutes the regular supply of the market.

In establishing the classification of milk the responsibility should be placed upon the handler who first receives milk from producers to account for all skim milk and butterfat received at his approved plant and to prove to the market administrator that such skim milk and butterfat should be classified as other than Class I. The handler who first receives milk from producers is responsible for reporting the proper utilization of such milk and making full payment for it. He must, therefore, maintain records to furnish adequate proof of utilization to the market administrator.

Provision should be made in the order to cover the classification of skim milk and butterfat transferred from an approved plant to another approved plant or to an unapproved plant. In the case of transfers between approved plants classification should be on the basis of written agreement between the affected handlers to the extent of utilization in the agreed use in the transferee plant. This provision affords suitable flexibility in the pricing, classification, and accounting for of milk transferred. It does not affect producer returns because all of the milk is accounted for in the pool computation in any event. In order to assure adequate protection of producers in the classification of their milk it should be provided that in case other source milk is received in either or both plants the classification of milk in each plant shall be made in such a manner as will return the higher class utilization to producer milk.

Transfers to a producer-handler should be classified as Class I milk. Producer-handlers ordinarily carry on only fluid operations and any milk which they purchase from a handler would normally be for fluid uses. Accordingly, it is unnecessary to provide for the classification of such a transfer in a lower use class.

Transfers to an unapproved plant located not more than 250 miles from the square at Chanute, Kansas, and from which Class I milk is disposed of should be classified on the basis of written agreement in the same manner as is proposed for transfers between approved plants, except that the individual dairy farmers delivering milk direct to such plant should be assured of the highest available use in such plant. This would facilitate the movement of skim milk and butterfat in excess of Class I needs and at the same time protect producers in the classification of their milk by requiring records to prove to the market administrator that an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat was actually used in the claimed class.

Transfers of milk, skim milk, or cream to an unapproved plant within the 250 mile limit and from which no Class I milk is disposed of should be Class II, since that necessarily would be the highest use in such plant.

Transfers of skim milk and butterfat in the form of milk or skim milk to an unapproved plant located in excess of 250 miles from the square of Chanute, Kansas, should be classified as Class I. Milk and skim milk ordinarily does not move long distances for other than fluid uses. The record shows that there are ample manufacturing outlets within the proposed 250 mile radius to dispose of any prospective surplus of producer milk. Accordingly, it is unnecessary to provide for such transfer of skim milk and butterfat in the form of milk or skim milk as other than Class I and it would be administratively impractical to do so because the market administrator would have to verify any claimed utilization in Class II.

Transfers in the form of cream to an unapproved plant beyond the 250 mile limit should be classified as Class II. Cream is less bulky than milk or skim milk and ordinarily can be moved much greater distances for other than fluid uses. Proponents proposed that skim milk and butterfat in the form of cream should be Class I if so moved under a Grade A certification. However, they offered no evidence in support of such a provision. While this provision is contained in the Federal marketing orders of several nearby areas it would be impossible to adopt such a provision without specific evidence indicating that the conditions which prompted the adoption of this proposal in those markets also prevail in the Neosho Valley area.

4. Class prices. Class I milk prices in this area should be based on prices paid for milk used for manufacturing purposes. Prices paid for milk used for fluid purposes in this area have been closely related to prices paid for milk for manufacturing purposes. Production and marketing of milk for each type of outlet are subject to many of the same economic factors. Since the market for most manufactured products is country-wide, prices of manufactured dairy products reflect many of the changes in the general economic conditions affecting the supply and demand for milk. Moreover, butter, powder, and cheese prices, or the prices paid by condenseries with differentials over these basic or manufacturing prices are frequently used to establish fluid milk prices in those areas where the production of manufacturing quality milk is a significant factor in the total potential supply of milk for the market. The production of manufacturing quality milk in the supply area of the Neosho Valley area is a significant factor in the availability of milk for this market indicating the feasibility of a Class I pricing formula based on the prices of milk for manufacturing uses. Differentials over the basic formula are needed to cover the cost of meeting quality requirements in the production of market milk and to furnish the necessary incentive to get such milk produced.

The basic formula price to be used in establishing the current delivery period price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content should be the highest of the following for the preceding month: the prices paid to farmers at 18 milk manufacturing plants in Wisconsin and Michigan for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content adjusted to a 4.0 percent basis; a formula price based upon the market price of butter and powder; or the average price paid to farmers for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content by specified local manufacturing plants.

Pricing of producer milk on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis follows the usual custom of the market and no objection was made to the proposal. The components of the basic formula price herein decided upon are the same as those in effect in the Tulsa market. A correlation of the movement of prices in the two markets is necessary since certain of the Neosho Valley handlers compete with Tulsa handlers for supplies and sales. In addition the components are sufficiently similar to those in effect in the Kansas City and Wichita markets to assure a reasonable alignment of the movement of prices with these markets with which other Neosho Valley handlers compete for supplies and sales. The use of the previous month's manufacturing values in determining the basic formula price for the current delivery period permits handlers to know their milk costs at the time of purchase and is consistent with the practice in the surrounding federal order markets.

The Class I differential should be fixed at $1.00 per hundredweight over the basic formula price during the delivery periods of April through June and at $1.45 per hundredweight over the basic formula price during the delivery periods of July through March. Such a pricing serves to maintain the Class I price in the area at approximately the same level as is presently paid for milk by handlers in the Wichita and Kansas City markets and slightly below prices paid by handlers in the Tulsa market. This pricing is somewhat higher than the average currently paid by handlers in the Neosho Valley market. During the month of September 1950, the Class I price would have been $4.83 whereas actual prices paid by dealers varied from $4.05 to $4.618 per hundredweight for all milk which was primarily disposed of in uses which would be Class I under the order. The existing pricing structure has not been satisfactory, however, for it has not brought in an adequate year-round supply of milk. Handlers in the market at the time of the hearing were importing other source milk to meet local fluid requirements and several of the larger handlers had little or no surplus milk even in the flush production months, notwithstanding the fact that the evidence indicates a considerable seasonal swing in production. Production during the short months of September, October, and November 1949, was approximately 70 percent of the production during the flush months of April, May, and June 1950.

Producers proposed that the Class I differential be a flat $1.65 the year round, contending that handlers did not reflect changes in producer prices in their resale price and consequently the adjustment to a desirable seasonal production pattern should be left to the operation of a base-rating plan. In this connection, however, the question of handler resale prices is not relevant.

The use of seasonal differentials in the pricing of Class I milk follows the pricing scheme in effect in the Tulsa, Kansas City, and Wichita markets with which Neosho area prices must be aligned.

Because of the wide variation in producer receipts between the spring and fall months it is concluded that no changes should be permitted in the proposed pricing for Class I milk which would tend to discourage a desired leveling of production throughout the year. This can best be prevented by providing for a contraseasonal provision. Such a provision would prevent any decrease in the Class I price during the months of September through December when production costs are highest and any increase in such price during the months of April through June when production costs are lowest.

Certain handlers proposed a lower pricing for milk sold (in bulk) as Class I, outside of the marketing area, contending that without such a pricing they could not compete for outside sales and that as a result local producers would receive less total money for their milk. A lower pricing for fluid milk sold outside the marketing area is not justified. Milk disposed of by local handlers to outside areas is the same quality as that disposed of within the marketing area and is subject to the same transportation costs in moving from the farm to the handler's plant. Furthermore, such bulk sales by local handlers have no aspects of an outlet for seasonal surplus of producer milk but in fact occur primarily during the short production months when other handlers in the market are importing supplemental supplies to meet local fluid requirements.

The level of pricing herein proposed is established with a view to providing an adequate supply of milk to meet the normal needs of local handlers. Bulk sales to outside areas during the short production season when local supplies are inadequate cannot be construed as a normal requirement of local handlers. Rather the consummation of such sales offers strong support to producers' claims of an inadequate return for their milk. A lower pricing for milk sold outside of the marketing area would require a higher pricing for locally consumed milk which would result in local consumers subsidizing consumers in other markets to which such sales were made.

The price for Class II milk should be based on the average of the prices paid for milk during the current delivery period by four nearby milk manufacturing plants. The use of local manufacturing plants was supported by both producers and handlers and the price paid at the plants herein proposed should be representative of the value of manufacturing milk in the Neosho Valley area. Since handlers compete with these plants in the sale of products included in Class II milk and from time to time dispose of some of their surplus milk to one or another of these plants, it is necessary that producer milk going into such products be priced at a level comparable to the prices paid for milk by such plants in order to insure a market for producer milk in excess of fluid requirements. Such a pricing would have resulted in an average Class II price in the Neosho marketing area during the year 1950 of $3.18 as compared to a price of $2.97 for such milk under the Wichita order and a price of $3.00 under the Kansas City order prior to the recent amendment or $3.26 under the present order provisions. For the eight month period of May through December 1950 the Neosho price would have averaged $3.22 as compared to $3.14 under the Tulsa order, $2.97 under the Oklahoma City order, $2.97 under the Wichita order and $3.02 under the Kansas City order prior to the recent amendment or $3.28 under the present order provisions.

The class prices computed and publicly announced by the market administrator under the terms of the order would be those for milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat. The class prices for each handler should be adjusted by a butterfat differential to reflect the average test of producer milk classified in each class. Such differential for Class II milk shall be computed on the basis of the price of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at Chicago for the delivery period plus 15 percent. This differential is in line with the general level of the price of butterfat in the area for manufacturing uses. With regard to Class I milk, such differential should be computed at the basis of the price of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at Chicago for the preceding delivery period plus 25 percent, reflecting the higher valued use of butterfat for fluid uses. These differentials are the same as those currently in effect in the Tulsa market.

5. Payments to producers. The "market-wide" type of pool with base-rating plan should be established in this order for the purpose of distributing among producers returns from the sale of their milk. Under this plan all producers receive the same uniform price for their milk (or when bases are applicable a uniform price for base milk and a uniform price for milk in excess of base) irrespective of the utilization made of such milk by individual handlers.

The alternative to the market-wide pool is the individual-handler pool. Under this latter system producers delivering to each handler receive a uniform price based on each handler's utilization of milk. Because different handlers utilize different proportions of their milk as Class I and Class II, the uniform prices of individual handlers would vary one from the other. A cooperative association representing a large segment of the producers in the market has proposed that the order be so written as to enable it to become a handler when necessary to market the surplus milk of its members. Under these circumstances an individual-handler pool would result in an unequal sharing of the market among producers and would not be conducive to orderly marketing. The order has been written to permit a cooperative association to become a handler and it is therefore concluded that a market-wide pool is necessary to distribute the returns from the sale of milk equally among producers and to create orderly marketing of producer milk. In addition the use of a market-wide type of pooling will facilitate the distribution among producers of compensatory payments required from nonpool handlers under certain conditions.

In the computation of the value of producer milk, provision should be made for the inclusion of the value of milk classified in excess of reported receipts from producers, other handlers, and other sources. This provision is found in other milk orders and is necessary to account for differences between the reported and actual weights and tests of milk received from producers.

The butterfat differential to be used in making payments to producers should be fixed at one-tenth of the price of Grade A (92-score) butter on the Chicago market multiplied by 1.2. This differential is the same as that established under the Tulsa and Oklahoma City marketing orders. The producer butterfat differential merely affects the proration of returns among producers, and it in no way affects handlers' costs for milk.

The distribution among producers of the returns from the sales of milk should be made through the medium of a base-rating plan. There is a wide variation in producer receipts from season to season which both producers and handlers recognize as an undesirable situation in the market. The proposal for a base-rating plan is supported by both the producers association and handlers in the market. While many of the handlers have developed some modification of a base-rating plan for paying their producers the actual operations of these plans have been very limited and consequently ineffective in accomplishing the objective of an evening out of the seasonal variations in milk deliveries. Under the plan as hereinafter provided new bases would be established each year on the basis of total deliveries made by each producer during the short production months of September through December. The market administrator would compute the base of each producer from whom each handler received milk during the base period and notify each producer of his established base on or before the 15th day of February of each year. The bases so established would be used in making payments to producers during the months of greatest production, i. e., April through June.

A uniform price for base milk during these months would be computed which would reflect the residual value of milk for the market as a whole after the prior assignment of deliveries of milk in excess of base to the lowest available use class. The price of base milk would thus be enhanced above the average for the market and the uniform price for excess milk would be below the average. The lower price applicable to milk in excess of base deliveries tends to limit the deliveries of such milk during the months of surplus production. Conversely, the value of a large base gives impetus to the delivery of milk in the season of short production. The influences of these two forces tends to cause a more even seasonal pattern of milk deliveries than if payments were made during all months of the year on a straight uniform price basis.

It is necessary to provide certain rules in connection with the establishment and transfer of bases to provide reasonable administrative workability of the plan. In order to accomplish this purpose and preserve the effectiveness of the plan no provisions should be made for the transfer of partial bases. However, transfer of the entire base of an individual producer to members of his family in case of death, retirement or entry into military service is permitted. Provision is also made for transfer of the entire base in the case of the termination of joint landlord-tenant relationships. In case a producer discontinues milk shipments for more than 45 consecutive days he shall forfeit his entire base. These rules should assure the workability of the plan and at the same time place no undue hardship upon any producer since the established bases are effective in determining producer payments in only three of the twelve months of each year.

Although uniform prices are computed once a month, provision should be made to pay producers on a semimonthly basis. The majority of producers on the market have customarily been paid twice a month and it is concluded that this practice should be continued. The advance payment to be made on or before the last day of the delivery period and covering receipts of producer milk during the first 15 days of the delivery period should be at not less than the Class II price for the preceding delivery period. Payment at this rate will largely eliminate the possibility of handlers making overpayments to producers who may leave the market before the end of the delivery period. Final payment for milk received during each delivery period should be made on or before the 16th day after the end of the delivery period.

In the case of a qualified cooperative association, who so requests, the handler should make the advance and final payments sufficiently in advance of the date for payment to other producers to enable the cooperative association to pay its members at that date. The dates which have been provided for these various payments are so spaced that ample time is provided the handlers and the market administrator for the filing of reports, the computation of the various prices and the writing and mailing of checks.

6. Certain other provisions should be adopted to enable proper and efficient administration of the order.

(a) Administrative assessment. Each handler should be required to pay to the market administrator, as his pro rata share of the cost of administration of the order, 5 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser sum as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe, on all receipts at his pool plant within the delivery period of (1) milk from producers (including such handler's own production) and (2) other source milk which is classified as Class I.

The market administrator must have sufficient funds to enable him to administer properly the terms of the order and the act provides that the administration of the order be financed through assessment against handlers. In view of the anticipated volume of milk on which the rate would apply it is concluded that a maximum rate of 5 cents per hundredweight is necessary at this time to guarantee sufficient administrative funds. In the event at a later date a lesser amount proves to be sufficient for proper administration, provision is made to enable the Secretary to reduce the assessment accordingly.

(b) Deductions for marketing services. Provision should be made for the dissemination of market information to producers and for the verification of weights and for the sampling and testing of milk received from producers for whom such services are not being rendered by a qualified cooperative association. This provision, including the assessing of producers in payment thereof, is specifically authorized by the act. Five cents per hundredweight or such lesser rate as the Secretary may determine should be deducted by handlers from the payment to producers and turned over to the market administrator to finance such services. This rate was proposed by producer groups who have had experience with check sampling, weighing, and testing programs in the marketing area. In the event any qualified cooperative association is determined to be performing such services for any producer, handlers should pay to the cooperative association such deductions as are authorized by such producer in lieu of the payment to the market administrator.

(c) Other administrative provisions. The other provisions of the order are of a general administrative nature, are incidental to the other provisions of the order, and are necessary for the proper and efficient administration of the order. They provide for the selection of the market administrator, define his powers and duties, prescribe the information to be reported by handlers each month and the length of time that records must be retained. A plan for liquidation of the order in the event of its suspension or termination should also be provided.

Producer-handlers should be exempt from the regulatory provisions of the order except that they should be required to file reports as requested by the market administrator. Since a producer-handler may change his status from time to time it is necessary that the market administrator have authority to require such reports as will enable him to verify the current status of a producer-handler and to supplement other market information.

A pool plant which is subject to the regulatory provisions of another milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act and which the Secretary determines disposes of a greater volume of its Class I milk in such other marketing area than in this marketing area should be partially exempt from the provisions of this order. It would be impractical to attempt to regulate a handler under two separate orders with respect to the same milk. Accordingly, it should be provided that if a pool plant disposes of a greater volume of its Class I milk in a marketing area, regulated by another Federal milk marketing order, than is disposed of in this marketing area such plant shall be exempt from the pricing, payment, administrative assessment, and marketing service provisions of this order. Such a handler, however, should make reports with respect to receipts and utilization as the market administrator may require.

The order should provide limitations on the period of time handlers shall retain books and records which are required to be made available to the market administrator, and on the period of time in which obligations under the order shall terminate. The provision made in this regard is identical in principle with the general amendment made to all orders in operation on July 30, 1947, effective February 22, 1949, and the Secretary's decision of January 26, 1949 (14 F. R. 444), covering the retention of records and limitation of claims is equally applicable in this situation and is adopted as a part of this decision.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of the K. M. O. Milk Producers Association (formerly the Southeast Kansas Grade A Milk Producers Association) and the majority of the handlers who would be regulated. The briefs contained proposed findings of facts, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinafter set forth. To the extent that such suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions is denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the conclusions in this decision.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following order is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not included because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the order.

DEFINITIONS

§ 928.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.)

§ 928.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or any other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 928.3 Department. "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture or such other Federal agency as is authorized to perform the price reporting functions of the United States Department of Agriculture.

§ 928.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 928.5 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers which the Secretary determines after application by the association:

(a) To be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act"; and,

(b) Is authorized by its members to make collective sales or to market milk or its products for its members.

§ 928.6 Neosho Valley marking area. "Neosho Valley marketing area," hereinafter called the "marketing area" means all of the territory within the corporate limits of the municipalities of Pittsburg, Parsons, Independence, Coffeyville, Fort Scott, Iola, and Chanute, all in the State of Kansas, and of the municipalities of Joplin, Carthage, and Neosho, all in the State of Missouri.

§ 928.7 Approved plant. "Approved plant" means any milk processing plant, except that of a producer-handler, which is approved by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area and from which 10 percent or more of the receipts during the delivery period of milk qualified for distribution as Grade A milk in the marketing area is disposed of during the delivery period on wholesale or retail routes (including plant stores) as Class I milk in the marketing area.

§ 928.8 Handler. "Handler" means: (a) Any person in his capacity as the operator of an approved plant, (b) a producer-handler, (c) any person, except a producer-handler, in his capacity as the operator of an unapproved plant from which milk is disposed of during the delivery period on wholesale or retail routes (including plant stores) as Class I milk in the marketing area, and (d) any cooperative association with respect to the milk of producers which it causes to be diverted to an unapproved plant for the account of such association.

§ 928.9 Producer. "Producer" means any person, other than a producer-handler, who produces milk under a dairy farm permit or rating issued by the appropriate health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area over the production of milk disposed of for consumption as Grade A milk which milk is (a) received at an approved plant, or (b) diverted from an approved plant to any milk distributing or milk manufacturing plant: Provided, That such milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received by the handler for whose account it was diverted: And provided further, That this definition shall not include a person with respect to milk produced by him which is received by a handler who is partially exempted from the provisions of this part pursuant to §§ 928.61 and 928.62.

§ 928.10 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any person who processes milk from his own farm production, all or a portion of which is disposed of as Class I milk, within the marketing area, and who receives no milk from producers.

§ 928.11 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat received in any form from a producer-handler or from a source other than producers or another handler in his capacity as the operator of an approved plant except any nonfluid milk product received and disposed of in the same form.

§ 928.12 Delivery period. "Delivery period" means a calendar month, or any portion thereof during which this part is in effect.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 928.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this part shall be a market administrator, selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

§ 928.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this part:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 928.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this part, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Within 30 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond, effective as of the date on which he enters upon his duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer the terms and provisions of this part;

(c) Obtain a bond in a reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of the funds provided by § 928.97 the cost of his bond and those of his employees, his own compensation, and all other expenses, except those incurred under § 928.96, necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part, and upon request by the Secretary surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(g) Verify all reports and payments by each handler by audit, if necessary, of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classificaton of skim milk or butterfat for such handler depends;

(h) Publicly announce at his discretion, unless otherwise directed by the Secretary, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office or by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the date upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not made (1) reports pursuant to §§ 928.30 through 928.32, or (2) payments pursuant to §§ 928.90 through 928.97;

(i) On or before the 11th day after the end of each delivery period, report to each cooperative association which so requests, the amount and class utilization of the milk caused to be delivered to each handler by such cooperative association, either directly or from producers who are members of such cooperative association. For purposes of this report, the milk so delivered by a cooperative association shall be prorated to each class in the proportion that the total quantity of producer milk received by such handler was to the quantity of milk in each class;

(j) Publicly announce by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate the prices determined for each delivery period as follows:

(1) On or before the 5th day of each delivery period the minimum price for Class I milk computed pursuant to § § 928.51 (a) and the Class I butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 928.52 both for the current delivery period; and the minimum price for Class II milk computed pursuant to § 928.51 (b) and the Class II butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 928.52, both for the previous delivery period, and

(2) On or before the 11th day of each delivery period the uniform prices computed pursuant to §§ 928.71 and 928.72 and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 928.91, both for the previous delivery period; and

(k) Prepare and disseminate to the public such statistics and information as he deems advisable and as do not reveal confidential information.

REPORTS, RECORDS AND FACILITIES

§ 928.30 Delivery period reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 7th day after the end of each delivery period each handler shall report to the market administrator in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in (1) all receipts at his approved plant(s) within such delivery period of:

(i) Milk received from producers,

(ii) Skim milk and butterfat in any form from other pool handlers, and

(iii) Other source milk.

(2) Milk diverted pursuant to § 928.9 (b).

(b) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; and

(c) Such other information with respect to receipts and utilization as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 928.31 Payroll reports. On or before the 20th day of each delivery period each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer payroll for the preceding delivery period which shall show (a) the total pounds of milk received from each producer or cooperative association, and the total pounds of butterfat contained in such milk; (b) the net amount of such handler's payment to each producer or cooperative association; and (c) the nature and amount of any deductions or charges involved in such payments.

§ 928.32 Other reports. (a) Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may prescribe.

(b) Each handler who causes milk to be diverted shall prior to such diversion, report to the market administrator and to the cooperative association of which such producer is a member, his intention to divert such milk, the proposed date or dates of such diversion, and the plant to which such milk is to be diverted.

§ 928.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data with respect to:

(a) The receipts and utilization of all skim milk and butterfat contained in producer milk and other source milk;

(b) The weights of butterfat and skim milk in all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products handled; and

(c) Payments to producers and cooperative associations.

§ 928.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this order to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case, the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly, upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 928.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat received within the delivery period by a handler and which is required to be reported pursuant to § 928.30 shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 928.41 through 928.46.

§ 928.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 928.43 and 928.44, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat disposed of in fluid form (except as livestock feed) as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, cream, cultured sour cream, any mixture of cream and milk or skim milk (except bulk ice cream mix, eggnog and aerated cream), all skim milk and buttermilk in inventory at the end of the delivery period in the form of Class I items, and all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for under paragraph (b) of this section;

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat accounted for (1) as having been used to produce any products other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section, (2) as disposed of for livestock feed, (3) in actual plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk, but not in excess of 2 percent of such receipts of skim milk and butterfat, respectively: Provided, That during the months of April, May, and June such maximum shrinkage allowance on skim milk shall be not in excess of 5 percent, and (4) in actual plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk: Provided, That if producer milk and other source milk are both received at a handler's approved plant during the same delivery period the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, allocated to each source shall be computed pro rata according to the proportions of the volumes of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, received from such sources to their totals.

§ 928.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. All skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified as Class II milk.

§ 928.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler either by transfer or diversion shall be classified:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream, to the approved plant of another handler unless utilization in Class II is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 7th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transaction occurred: Provided, That in no event shall the amount of the skim milk or butterfat so assigned to Class II exceed the total utilization of skim milk or butterfat, respectively, in the plant of the transferee-handler: And provided further, That if either or both handlers have received other source milk, the skim milk or butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified at both plants to give priority to producer milk in the allocation of Class I utilization.

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream to a producer-handler.

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk or skim milk and as Class II milk if so transferred in the form of cream to an unapproved plant located more than 250 miles from the square of Chanute, Kansas, by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator.

(d) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream to an unapproved plant located not more than 250 miles from the square at Chanute, Kansas (by shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator), and from which Class I milk is disposed of unless:

(1) The handler claims Class II on the basis of a utilization mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both the operator of the unapproved plant and the handler on or before the 7th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transfer occurred; and

(2) The operator of the unapproved plant maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification: Provided, That the amount of skim milk and butterfat so classified in Class II shall be limited to the volume of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in excess of the Class I utilization remaining in such plant after the subtraction of its receipt of skim milk and butterfat in milk direct from dairy farmers.

(e) As Class II milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream to an unapproved plant located not more than 250 miles from the square at Chanute, Kansas, and from which no Class I milk is disposed of.

§ 928.45 Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each delivery period the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the report of receipts and utilization submitted by each handler and shall compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

§ 928.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. After making the computations pursuant to § 928.45, the market administrator shall determine the classification of producer milk as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk determined pursuant to § 928.41 (b) (3);

(2) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class I the pounds of skim milk contained in the Class I items in inventory at the beginning of the delivery period;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk in other source milk: Provided, That if the receipts of skim milk in other source milk are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class I;

(4) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the skim milk received from other handlers and assigned to such class pursuant to § 928.44 (a);

(5) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; or if the remaining pounds of skim milk remaining in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk in milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the pounds of skim milk remaining in each class in series beginning with Class II. Any amount so subtracted shall be called "overage."

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the same procedure outlined for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Add the pounds of skim milk and the pounds of butterfat allocated to producer milk in each class, respectively, as computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and determine the percent of butterfat content in such milk in each class.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 928.50 Basic formula price to be used in determining Class I price. The basic formula price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk for the delivery period shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and § 928.51 (b), all for the preceding delivery period.

(a) The average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location
Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

divided by 3.5 and multiplied by 4.0.

(b) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the mid-point of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month, subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent thereof, and multiply by 4.0.

(2) From the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray, and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department, deduct 5.5 cents, multiply by 8.5 and then multiply by 0.96.

§ 928.51 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of § 928.52, each handler shall pay producers at the time and in the manner set forth in §§ 928.90 through 928.95 not less than the following prices per hundredweight for milk received from such producers during the delivery period:

(a) Class I milk. The price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus the following amounts per hundredweight: $1.00 during the delivery periods April through June, and $1.45 during the delivery periods of July through March: Provided, That for each of the delivery periods of September through December, such price shall be not less than that for the preceding delivery period, and that for each of the delivery periods of April through June such price shall be not more than that for the preceding delivery period.

(b) Class II milk. The price for Class II milk shall be the arithmetic average of the basic, or field, prices reported to have been paid or to be paid per hundredweight for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department on or before the 6th day after the end of the delivery period by the companies indicated below:

Company and Location
Pet Milk Co., Neosho, Mo.
Borden Co., Fort Scott, Kans.
Carnation Co., Mount Vernon, Mo.
Pet Milk Co., Iola, Kans.

§ 928.52 Butterfat differentials to handlers. If the weighted average butterfat test of that portion of producer milk which is classified, respectively, in any class utilization for a handler pursuant to § 928.46 (c) is more or less than 4.0 percent, there shall be added to, or subtracted from, as the case may be, the price for such class of utilization, for each one-tenth of 1 percent that such weighted average butterfat test is above, or below, respectively, 4.0 percent, a butterfat differential (computed to the nearest tenth of a cent) calculated as follows:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply by 1.25 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the preceding delivery period, and divide the result by 10.

(b) Class II milk. Multiply by 1.15 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the delivery period and divide the result by 10.

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 928.60 Producer-handlers. Sections 928.40 through 928.46, 928.50 through 928.52, 928.70 through 928.72, 928.80 through 928.83 and 928.90 through 928.97 shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 928.61 Handlers subject to other orders. In the case of any handler who the Secretary determines disposes of a greater portion of his milk as Class I milk in another marketing area regulated by another milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act, the provisions of this part shall not apply except as follows:

(a) The handler shall, with respect to his total receipts of skim milk and butterfat, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and shall allow verification of such reports by the market administrator pursuant to § 928.33.

(b) If the price which such handler is required to pay under the other Federal order to which he is subject for skim milk and butterfat, which would be classified as Class I milk under this order, is less than the price provided by this part, such handler shall pay to the market administrator for deposit into the producer-settlement fund, with respect to all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk within the marketing area, an amount equal to the difference between the value of such skim milk or butterfat as computed pursuant to this part and its value as determined pursuant to the other order to which he is subject.

§ 928.62 Handlers doing less than 10 percent of their business in the marketing area. In the case of any handler (except a handler who would be covered under § 928.61) who the Secretary determines disposes of less than 10 percent of his milk, qualified for distribution as Grade A milk in the marketing area, as Class I milk in the marketing area, the provisions of this part shall not apply except as follows:

(a) The handler shall, with respect to his total receipts of skim milk and butterfat, make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator shall require and shall allow verification of such reports by the market administrator pursuant to § 928.33;

(b) Pay to the market administrator for deposit into the producer-settlement fund, with respect to all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk within the marketing area, an amount equal to the difference between the Class I and Class II value of such skim milk or butterfat as computed pursuant to this part;

(c) As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this part, such handler shall pay to the market administrator on each hundredweight of milk disposed of as Class I in the marketing area the amount per hundredweight in the manner specified in § 928.97.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICES

§ 928.70 Computation of value of milk. The value of milk received during each delivery period by each handler from producers shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying the pounds of such milk in each class by the applicable class prices adjusted by the butterfat differential to handlers specified in § 928.52 and adding together the resulting amounts: Provided, That if the handler had an overage of either skim milk or butterfat there shall be added to the above values an amount computed by multiplying the pounds of overage deducted from each class pursuant to § 928.46 (a) (5) or (b) by the applicable class prices.

§ 928.71 Computation of uniform price. For each delivery period of July through March the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers as follows:

(a) Combine into one total of the values computed pursuant to § 928.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 928.30 and who made the payments required pursuant to § 928.93 for the preceding delivery period.

(b) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 928.95;

(c) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add, if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed as follows: Multiply the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 928.91 and multiply the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(d) Divide the resulting amount by the total hundredweight of milk included in this computation, and

(e) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount per hundredweight computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

§ 928.72 Computation of the uniform prices for base milk and for excess milk. For each of the delivery periods of April through June, the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 928.70 for all handlers who make the reports prescribed in § 928.30 and who made the required payments pursuant to § 928.93 for the preceding delivery period.

(b) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 928.95;

(c) Subtract if the average butterfat content of producer milk represented if the values in paragraph (a) of this section is greater than 4.0 percent, or add, if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent an amount computed as follows: Multiply the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 928.91 and multiply the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk.

(d) Compute the total pounds of milk delivered by producers which are not in excess of their respective bases;

(e) Compute the total value of producer milk in excess of the delivered bases of all producers as follows: (1) Allocate in series beginning with Class II the total pounds of producer milk in excess of the total pounds of delivered base milk computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section; (2) multiply the total pounds of excess milk allocated to each class by the appropriate class prices computed pursuant to § 928.51 and add the resulting totals;

(f) Subtract from the value computed pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section the value of excess milk computed pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) of this section and divide the resulting total by the total hundredweight of base milk as computed in paragraph (d) of this section.

(g) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (f) of this section. The resulting price shall be the uniform price per hundredweight for base milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat.

(h) Divide the value obtained pursuant to paragraph (e) (2) of this section by the total hundredweight of excess milk and round to the nearest full cent. The resulting price shall be the uniform price per hundredweight of excess milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat content.

BASE RATING

§ 928.80 Determination of daily base of each producer. For the delivery periods of April through June of each year, the daily base of each producer shall be an amount of milk computed by the market administrator by dividing the total pounds of milk received from such producer by handlers during the preceding delivery periods of September through December by the total number of days in such period during which such producer made deliveries or by 90, whichever is greater.

§ 928.81 Determination of the delivery period base of each producer. For each of the delivery periods of April through June of each year the base of each producer shall be an amount of milk computed by the market administrator by multiplying the daily base of such producer by the number of days on which milk was received during such delivery period from such producer by a handler.

§ 928.82 Base rules. (a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered during the base forming period;

(b) Bases may be transferred by notifying the market administrator in writing before the last day of any month in which such base applies that such base is to be transferred to the person named in such notice only as follows:

(i) In the event of the death, retirement, or entry into military service of a producer the entire base may be transferred to a member(s) of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy operation.

(ii) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated, the entire base only may be transferred to one of the joint holders.

§ 928.83 Announcement of daily bases. On or before February 15, of each year, the market administrator shall notify each producer of his daily base.

PAYMENTS

§ 928.90 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment as follows:

(a) On or before the last day of each delivery period to each producer for milk received from him during the first 15 days of such delivery period at not less than the Class II price for the preceding delivery period: Provided, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payments for such milk, the handler shall, if the cooperative association so requests, pay such cooperative association at least 2 days before the end of the delivery period, an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers in accordance with this subparagraph.

(b) On or before the 16th day after the end of each delivery period, for all milk received during such delivery period from such producer at not less than the applicable uniform prices for such delivery period computed pursuant to §§ 928.71 and 928.72, subject to the following adjustments:

(1) The butterfat differential pursuant to § 928.91; (2) payment made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; (3) marketing service deduction pursuant to § 928.96; (4) deductions authorized by the producer; and (5) any error in payments to such producer for past delivery periods: Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for milk for such delivery period pursuant to § 928.94, he may reduce uniformly per hundredweight, for all producers his payments pursuant to this paragraph, by an amount not in excess of the per hundredweight reduction in payments from the market administrator: Provided further, That the handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments, pursuant to this paragraph, next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator: And provided further, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payment for such milk, the handler shall, if the cooperative association so requests, pay such cooperative association, on or before the 14th day after the end of each delivery period an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producer in accordance with this paragraph.

§ 928.91 Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 928.90 (b), there shall be added to or subtracted from the uniform price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of the milk received from the producer is above or below 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying by 1.2 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month, dividing the resulting sum by 10, and rounding to the nearest one-tenth of a cent.

§ 928.92 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund," into which he shall deposit payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 928.61 (b), 928.62 (b), 928.93, and 928.95, and out of which he shall make payments to handlers pursuant to §§ 928.94 and 928.95: Provided, That payments due to any handler shall be offset by payments due from such handler.

§ 928.93 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator any amount by which the total value of the milk received by such handler from producers as determined pursuant to § 928.70 for such delivery period is greater than an amount computed by multiplying the total hundredweight of milk, or during the delivery period of April, May, and June the total hundredweight of base milk and excess milk, respectively, received from producers during the delivery period by the applicable uniform price(s), adding together the respective totals and adjusting for the butterfat differential provided for in § 928.91.

§ 928.94 Payment out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of each delivery period the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers, or a cooperative association, any amount by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers as determined pursuant to § 928.70 for the delivery period is less than an amount computed by multiplying the total hundredweight of milk, or during the delivery periods of April, May, and June the total hundredweight of base milk and excess milk, respectively, received from producers during the delivery period by the applicable uniform price(s), adding together the respective totals and adjusting for the butterfat differential provided for in § 928.91: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available.

§ 928.95 Adjustment of accounts. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from such handler, (b) such handler from the market administrator, or (c) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which such error occurred.

§ 928.96 Marketing services.—(a) Deductions. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers (other than himself) pursuant to § 928.90 shall deduct 5 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe with respect to all milk received by such handler from producers during the delivery period, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to sample, test, and check the weights of milk received from producers and to provide producers with market information.

(b) Deductions with respect to members of a cooperative association. In the case of producers who are members of a cooperative association, or who have given written authorization for the rendering of marketing services and the taking of deductions therefor by a cooperative association, and for whom the Secretary determines such a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by such producers and on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period pay over such deduction to the cooperative association rendering such services.

§ 928.97 Expense of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this part, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month, 5 cents per hundredweight or such lesser amount as the Secretary may prescribe with respect to all receipts within the delivery period of: (1) Milk from producers including such handler's own production, and (2) other source milk which is classified as Class 1.

§ 928.98 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this order shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and;

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representative all books and records required by this order to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this order to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this order shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8 (c) (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION, OR TERMINATION

§ 928.100 Effective time. The provisions of this part or any amendment to this part shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to § 928.101.

§ 928.101 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this part or any provision of this part whenever he finds this part or any provision of this part obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This part shall terminate in any event whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 928.102 Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, there are any obligations thereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 928.103 Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions of this part, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 928.110 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 928.111 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this part, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision and of the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

[Docket No. AO-195-A3]

HANDLING OF MILK IN KNOXVILLE, TENN., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Knoxville, Tennessee, marketing area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business the 10th day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. The hearing, on the record of which the proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, were formulated, was conducted at Knoxville, Tennessee, on January 16–20, 1951, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued December 29, 1950 (15 F. R. 9396).

The material issues of record relate to:

(1) An increase in the Class I price differentials, the inclusion of a supply-demand Class I pricing arrangement and a decrease in the Class I butterfat differential;

(2) A revision in the list of plants used for determining Class II prices (manufacturing uses); a reduction in Class II price and in the Class II butterfat differential during the months of March through August; an increase in the Class II price during September through February; and a revision of the transfer and classification provisions applicable to milk for manufacturing uses;

(3) An extension of the marketing area to include certain surrounding towns and places;

(4) A change in the allocation provisions to provide for the classification of a limited quantity of producer milk as Class II milk before assigning other source milk to Class II utilization.

(5) A revision of the payment provisions of the order to incorporate a base-rating plan; and

(6) The inclusion of standard provisions pertaining to retention of records and termination of obligations.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on issues No. 1 and No. 2 are based upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof. Findings and conclusions with respect to issues No. 3 through No. 6 are being temporarily deferred for further consideration and study.

1. The differential which is added to basic formula prices to determine the price for Class I milk should be increased approximately 20 cents per hundredweight. This differential should be decreased 2.5 cents per hundredweight for each full percentage point at any time that producer receipts increase to more than 110 percent of total Class I utilization during the previous 12 months. The present Class I butterfat differential of 1.4 times the average wholesale price of 92-score butter on the Chicago market should be reduced to 1.3 times the butter price.

The prices for Class I milk (fluid milk, cream, buttermilk, flavored milk drinks, etc.) are determined under the Knoxville order by adding specific differentials to a basic formula price representing manufacturing milk values. The differentials reflect mainly the additional costs of producing high quality milk and transporting it in fluid form in sufficient quantity to fill market demands. These differentials are presently $1.30 for the delivery period of December through March; $1.10 for April through July, and $1.50 for August through November. During the period August through December 1949 the order, as amended, provided for floor prices of $5.40 and during January through March 1950 for floor prices of $5.00 per hundredweight. These floor prices actually provided average differentials of $1.94 in the first period and $1.60 in the second. An indirect modification of prices occurred in September through November 1950 when producers negotiated premiums over the order prices for Class I milk.

Producers proposed that the order be amended to incorporate a Class I differential of $1.75 which would be subject to adjustments based on the relationship between receipts of producer milk and total Class I sales. Receipts and Class I sales during 1950 were such that the producers' proposal would have resulted in an average annual differential of more than $2.00 per hundredweight. Producers contended that a substantial increase in the level of prices is necessary to prevent the loss of present producers and to insure supplies in accord with the requirements of milk for fluid uses.

The number of producers supplying the Knoxville market increased from 536 in August 1949, the effective date of Order No. 88, to 604 in April 1950, at which time the upward trend ceased and the number ranged between 603 and 608 during the remaining months of 1950. Average daily production per farm during December 1950 was slightly lower than the previous year. Although receipts of producer milk during the period September through December 1950 were 11 percent greater than during the same period of the preceding year such receipts were equivalent to only 86.6 percent of total Class I utilization. It appears that under the present price differentials production has leveled off at a point short of an adequate supply of locally approved milk.

Total Class I sales during September-December 1950 were about 6 percent greater than during the corresponding period of 1949. Other source milk, principally in the form of condensed and dried skim milk, has been imported for use in Class I products in each month since the order has been in effect. During the last four months of 1950, approximately 16 percent of total Class I sales were derived from outside sources. Prospective industrial and defense activities in the Knoxville area indicate an increasing demand for fluid milk in this market.

Class I prices under Order No. 88 were shown to be substantially less than the cost of milk imported from outside approved sources and prices being offered for milk f. o. b. Knoxville in tank truck quantities by other southern fluid milk markets. Several nearby Tennessee and North Carolina markets have been paying higher Class I prices than those prevailing in the Knoxville market.

During the calendar year 1950, receipts of producer milk were equal to 99.7 percent of total Class I sales. For the months of March through July 1950, which included the months of seasonally highest production, producer receipts were equal to 112 percent of Class I uses and even then some "other source" milk was used to fulfill the requirements for Class I milk. The production of milk tends to be highest in the summer as the result of natural factors, whereas sales are comparatively uniform throughout the year. Thus, production by producers must be greater than annual sales of fluid milk. The testimony of both producers and handlers indicated that with the present production pattern and the available facilities for handling excess milk it is not desirable to develop a local supply of milk immediately which is adequate to fulfill the entire needs of the market during the months of shortest production. The development of sufficient year-around supplies may more properly be accomplished through a gradual increase in the level of production coupled with a more uniform production throughout the year. Under these conditions producer receipts of milk equivalent to 110 percent on an annual average of Class I utilization would appear to be a reasonable level of production to achieve in the near future.

The evidence shows that an increase in the prices received by Knoxville producers is necessary to prevent the loss of producers and offer stimulus for increased production. An increase in the average annual Class I differential from $1.30 to $1.50 per hundredweight will increase returns to producers and should tend to encourage within a reasonable time an annual supply of approved milk equal to about 110 percent of Class I sales. However, in view of uncertainty about future changes in the level of receipts of milk as well as Class I utilization, provision should be made for decreasing the Class I differential if receipts exceed 110 percent of Class I utilization.

The supply-demand adjustment proposed by producers would have provided for a two-cent adjustment in the Class I differential for each unit of percentage change in the relationship between total producer receipts and total Class I sales within a specified range and for larger adjustments outside this range. This supply-demand adjustment would have applied to a 6-month period and would have been computed on the basis of producer receipts and Class I sales during a preceding 5-month period. Thus, the percentage that receipts were of Class I sales during the 5 months March through July would determine the supply-demand adjustment applicable to the following fall and winter months of September through February. Similarly, the percentage during September through January would determine the adjustment for the following March through August. In each case a 5-month base period was included in the producer proposal to permit the determination of the supply-demand relationship one month in advance of its effective date.

Although it is desirable to base adjustments on as recent a period as possible, unusual production conditions during either 5-month base period might influence prices unduly during the succeeding six months. Production data over a longer period of time than are now available are needed to appraise the proposed plan. It is concluded, therefore, that the supply-demand relationship should be determined on the basis of a 12-month moving average. The influence of any short-time abnormal production or utilization changes will be reduced to a minimum. If more experience demonstrates the desirability of further modification of the plan, appropriate amendments to the order can be considered.

It would appear reasonable to provide for an annual average differential of $1.50 to apply unless the ratio of the supply of milk to demand reaches 110 percent during the preceding twelve months. At this point a 2.5-cent per hundredweight downward adjustment is provided for each full percentage point that this ratio exceeds 110 percent. At such time that a more appropriate relationship of receipts to Class I sales has been achieved consideration should be given to a supply-demand adjustment which will also bring about an automatic increase in the price when additional milk is needed.

Until conclusions have been reached concerning proposals for a base and excess plan, a seasonal difference in Class I differentials should be preserved. This may be accomplished by providing a $1.30 differential until August 1, 1951.

The butterfat differential applicable to the price for Class I milk should be equal to 1.3 times the average price of 92-score butter on the Chicago market. Producers proposed that the present Class I butterfat differential of 1.4 times the average wholesale price of 92-score butter on the Chicago market be reduced to 1.25 times the butter price. Class I milk is priced on the basis of 4.0 percent butterfat content, and the differential applies to any variation from 4.0 percent in the average butterfat test of all the butterfat and skim milk content of Class I products derived from producer milk. The monthly average test of all milk received from producers during the year ranges from 4.0 to 4.4 percent. However, the butterfat test of all Class I products is relatively constant at about 3.5 percent and the monthly test of producer milk utilized as Class I milk during 1950 varied between 3.5 and 4.2 percent. In each month since Order No. 88 has been in effect, with the exception of November 1949, the volume of butterfat contained in producer milk has exceeded the total utilization of butterfat as Class I milk. The skim milk contained in producer milk has been less than total Class I utilization of skim milk in 11 of the 17 months for which data are available under the order. A decrease in the butterfat differential and in the consequent cost of butterfat utilized in cream and other Class I products testing more than 4.0 percent butterfat will tend to encourage utilization of more butterfat in these uses.

Handlers opposed any reduction in the differential on the basis that it would increase their cost of Class I milk as a result of the fact that Class I utilization of producer milk averages below 4.0 percent. The fact is, however, that the market tends to be short of the nonfat component of milk and there is at times an excess of butterfat. The problem, therefore, is to find a method of facilitating the disposal of butterfat while at the same time increasing returns to producers. This reduction in butterfat prices will encourage the utilization of the comparatively large butterfat content of producer milk in high-fat Class I products such as fluid cream and cereal mixes. At the same time the increased Class I price of milk will, in effect, raise the value of the skim milk component. The net result will be to encourage a Class I utilization of skim and fat more nearly in line with the average test of producer milk. The average test of producer milk utilized in Class I products in 1950 was somewhat below 4.0 and the recommended reduction in butterfat differentials would have increased the handlers' cost slightly over one cent per hundredweight.

2. The provisions pertaining to pricing, transfer and classification of milk used for manufacturing uses should be revised.

Under the current order skim milk and butterfat utilized for manufacturing products such as evaporated and condensed milk, ice cream, butter, and other products which may be made from unapproved milk are classified as Class II milk. The Class II price is the average price reported by 10 manufacturing plants located in Tennessee and nearby states. Producers proposed that the Scott Cheese Company, Sweetwater, Tennessee, one of the ten plants, be eliminated from this list. The monthly prices reported by this company for 4.0 percent butterfat content of milk during 1950 were from 21 to 58 cents less per hundredweight than the corresponding average price for the other nine plants. The plants designated for use in determining the price of Class II milk are intended to reflect prices representative of the value of milk for manufacturing purposes in the Knoxville market. Changes in prices at the Sweetwater plant are not well correlated with changes in product values and are not reliable indicators of the value of milk for manufacturing uses in the Knoxville market. A comparison of the prices paid by this company for various butterfat tests of milk in a given month as well as prices for a given test of milk from month to month show unusual variances and irregularities. For these reasons this company should be deleted from the list of plants for which prices are averaged to determine Class II prices.

The exclusion of this plant would have increased the Class II price from 2.4 to 5.4 cents during the 12 months of 1950. Handlers contended that if this company is eliminated, 5 cents should be deducted from the average price reported for the remaining 9 plants. The evidence indicates that the 9-plant average price is representative of the value of manufacturing milk in the Knoxville area and no adjustment should be made in this average.

Handlers also proposed that a provision be incorporated in the order for the pricing of manufacturing milk during the months of March through August at 47 cents per hundredweight less than the regular Class II formula price. Provision was made in an amendment to the order issued March 27, 1950, for handling and transportation allowances on excess milk during April through August of that year. Handlers in their brief submitted following the January 1951 hearing requested that these same provisions, which provided a somewhat lower allowance than proposed at the hearing, be incorporated in the order. Producers proposed that the factor 1.2 used in determining the Class I butterfat differential be reduced to 1.12 during the months of March through August and 10 cents per hundredweight added to the Class II price during other months of the year.

In the past, facilities for utilization of excess milk in the Knoxville market have been limited chiefly to the production of cream for disposal to butter and ice cream manufacturers. The nearest condensory to which whole milk could have been diverted was located approximately 75 miles from the marketing area.

Handlers testified that allowances for handling excess milk are necessary to operate on a break-even basis and that during 1950 losses were incurred. No data was presented to show the extent of such losses. Although requested on the record, handlers neglected to submit prices paid for manufacturing milk during the flush production season of 1950 at the principal condensery outlets.

During the period April through August of 1950, handlers disposed of approximately 70,000 pounds of skim milk daily as Class II milk and at the same time imported about 10,000 pounds of other source skim milk daily, more than half of which was utilized as Class I milk. In other months of the year receipts of skim milk from producers were less than the utilization of skim milk in Class I uses. Recently one of the Knoxville handlers has installed condensing equipment and these facilities, which were not available to the market during 1950, will now be devoted to handling excess milk. The testimony also indicates that an outlet not previously available is interested in purchasing excess milk from the Knoxville market. Under prospective production and demand conditions for fluid milk in the Knoxville market there is no indication that the market will be faced with a serious problem in the disposal of excess milk during the flush production season.

It was previously shown herein that milk produced in the Knoxville area is relatively high in butterfat content. This is true of milk produced for the fluid market as well as unapproved milk produced for manufacturing uses in the area. Local supplies of cream from unapproved sources are available to handlers who engage in ice cream production. The testimony indicated that under the handling allowances provided during 1950 some handlers actually disposed of Grade A cream for butter production and purchased ungraded cream for ice cream manufacture.

The record shows that under normal operations of some fluid milk plants in this area additional handling and transportation may be involved if excess milk must be disposed of for manufacturing uses. A manufacturing class price which will permit some element of profit, however, could very well necessitate relatively high Class I prices and result in the development of an uneconomical level of supply as well as improper allocation of milk among handlers.

Additional costs which may be incurred in handling excess milk by fluid milk handlers are comparable with other costs involved in the fluid milk business. The testimony of a milk distributor, not subject to Order No. 88, indicated that such costs are thus allocated to the costs of conducting his fluid milk operations. It should be noted also that producers during the short production season could divert milk to other markets at considerably higher prices than they have received locally and such opportunity costs to producers are in much the same category as added costs which may be incurred by handlers in disposing of excess milk. If handlers had assumed handling and transportation costs as great as 47 cents per hundredweight on the total amount of producer milk utilized as Class II milk in 1950, such costs would have been equivalent to less than 1 mill per quart on the total volume of producer milk disposed of in Class I uses. Handlers desire producers' entire output during the short production season and if so supplied they have a reponsibility for handling excess milk at reasonable competitive prices during the flush production months. Producers are endeavoring to promote more even production through education, seasonal pricing and a proposed base and excess plan.

Although Grade A cream is considered more desirable than ungraded cream for ice cream manufacture, greater use of Grade A excess fat in ice cream may be promoted by pricing it more nearly in accord with ungraded cream in this market. This may be accomplished by reducing the handler butterfat differential on Class II milk. The present differential is 1.2 times the average wholesale price of 92-score butter in the Chicago market. During 1950 a local creamery—primarily a purchaser of unapproved cream and one of the outlets for excess butterfat—paid an average price per pound of butterfat of 1.1 times the 92-score butter price. The average butterfat differential paid by the 9 plants on which the Class II price is determined was 1.1.

Each month's Class II prices for 4.0 percent milk adjusted by the corresponding butterfat differential provided in the order result in a price for skim milk ranging from minus 4 cents to plus 18 cents per hundredweight. In 15 of the 17 months the order has been in effect the price was less than 8 cents per hundredweight. During the period of April through August of 1950 skim milk was priced at less than 5 cents per hundredweight. A reduction in the butterfat differential would tend to bring about a more reasonable relation between the value assigned to skim milk and butterfat in Class II milk. For these reasons the Class II butterfat differential factor of 1.2 should be reduced to 1.15. This will not change the cost of class II milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat but excess Grade A butterfat will be priced more nearly in accordance with the local price for unapproved butterfat. During 1950 this reduction in the butterfat differential would have lowered the cost to handlers of producer milk classified as Class II milk (which contained an average of 8.2 percent butterfat) by an amount equivalent to 14 cents per hundredweight below the regular Class II price. The cost of the skim milk and butterfat contained in a can of 40 percent cream would have been reduced approximately 90 cents. No additional allowance should be provided for disposal of excess milk.

Under the present provisions of the order a nonfluid milk plant to which producer milk is transferred or diverted must have an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat utilized in Class II uses or such transfers are classified as Class I milk. This provision seriously impairs the orderly disposal of excess milk, particularly butterfat, in the Knoxville market. Manufacturing facilities located in handlers' plants are limited and in the past most excess whole milk has moved through nonfluid milk plants located some distance from the marketing area and excess butterfat disposed of as cream to a local creamery and ice-cream manufacturers. Additional equipment has recently been installed to handle excess whole milk in a nonfluid milk plant operated by a handler and located in the marketing area. This milk will be made into condensed skim milk and cream for disposal in ice cream manufactured in this plant and to other manufacturers of dairy products.

Under the provisions of the current order, skim milk and butterfat transferred to such nonfluid milk plant and then disposed of in the form of fluid cream must be classified as Class I milk. The disposal of excess milk, particularly skim milk and butterfat converted to cream, will be facilitated in this market at this time by providing for the classification of such skim milk and butterfat on the basis of its utilization in the plant where the final product is made.

The transfer provisions of the order should be changed accordingly. Disposal of excess skim milk and butterfat on this market by nonfluid milk plants and to which the change in the classification procedure will apply usually will be made by plants operated by handlers and in the form of cream to other nonfluid milk plants located in or near the marketing area. There is no need to extend this classification procedure to skim milk and butterfat disposed of in forms other than cream or beyond the second nonfluid milk plant handling such cream.

The requirements relative to reporting, maintenance of records, and inspection of such records by the market administrator which apply to such transfers from a fluid milk plant to a nonfluid milk plant should pertain to such transfers made by the first receiving nonfluid milk plant to another plant.

3. The other proposals considered at the hearing, issues Nos. 3 through No. 6, providing for an enlargement of the Knoxville marketing area to include several nearby densely populated areas and other cities and towns, the incorporation in the order of a base and excess payment plan and other revisions and additions to the order are being deferred at this time. Examination of the record indicates that these issues cannot be adequately treated without unduly delaying the decision with respect to the pricing of Class I and Class II milk in this market. The decision on these issues should not delay action on the price issues considered at the hearing and upon which proponents urged that the earliest possible action be taken.

4. General: (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act; (b) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended and as hereby proposed to be further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held; and

(c) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Briefs were filed on behalf of producers and handlers in the Knoxville market. The briefs contained suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals considered at the hearing. Every point covered in the briefs was carefully examined along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that the suggested findings and conclusions contained in the briefs are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the findings and conclusions in this recommended decision.

Recommended amendment to the order. The following amendment to the order, as amended, is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The amendments to a proposed marketing agreement are not repeated because they would be identical to the following:

1. In § 988.5 (b) delete subparagraph (1) and substitute the following:

(1) Class I milk. The price for Class I milk prior to August 1, 1951 shall be the basis formula price plus $1.30 per hundredweight. Effective August 1, 1951, the price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus $1.50 per hundredweight: Provided, That, if during the 12 months prior to the month immediately preceding each delivery period, the total volume of milk received from producers by all handlers was more than 110 percent of the total Class I utilization of all handlers during such 12-month period, the Class I price shall be decreased 2.5 cents per hundredweight for each full percentage point that such percentage is more than 110 percent.

2. In § 988.5 (b) delete from subparagraph (2) "Scott Cheese Co., Sweetwater, Tenn."

3. In § 988.5 (c) delete from subparagraph (1) "1.4" and substitute "1.3" therefor.

4. In § 988.5 (c) delete from subparagraph (2) "1.2" and substitute "1.15" therefor.

5. In § 988.4 (d) add the following proviso at the end of subparagraph (3): "Provided further, That if such plant disposes of fluid cream to another nonfluid milk plant which plant conforms with the requirements of subdivisions (i), (ii), and (iii) of this subparagraph, such cream shall be classified as Class II milk."

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 28th day of March 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR, Part 13]

[Docket No. 9634]

COMMERCIAL RADIO OPERATOR

TEMPORARY LIMITED RADIOTELEGRAPH SECOND CLASS OPERATOR LICENSE

In the matter of amendment of Part 13 of the Commission's rules to establish and provide for a class of operator license designated "Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second Class Operator License".

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule-making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Proposed amendments to §§ 13.2 (a) (1), 13.3, 13.5, 13.22, 13.25, 13.61 and 13.62 (a) of Part 13 of the Commission's rules are set forth below. In view of information which has come to the Commission's attention recently concerning an alleged shortage of available licensed commercial radio operators to operate licensed radiotelegraph equipment aboard ships, it is proposed to establish on a temporary basis, for the duration of the emergency proclaimed by the President on December 16, 1950, or until further order of the Commission, a class of operator license designated "Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second-Class Operator License" in addition to those specified in § 13.2 of the Commission's rules which would authorize the holder thereof to operate licensed radiotelegraph equipment aboard ships only. This Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second-Class Operator License would be issued, upon written application, to any eligible person who has since January 1, 1940 held, but does not now hold, a radiotelegraph first-class, radiotelegraph second-class, or temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class (obtained after examination), operator license, which was valid and outstanding on its date of expiration, and who, upon examination pursuant to his application, shows his ability to transmit and receive spoken messages in English and successfully passes the Commission's code test at a speed of not less than sixteen (16) code groups per minute.

3. This proposed rule is issued under the authority of sections 4 (i), 303 (l) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendments should not be adopted, as well as any person who favors this proposal, may file with the Commission on or before April 16, 1951, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. The Commission will consider all comments, briefs and statements presented before taking final action in the matter.

5. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules, an original and fourteen copies of all statements, briefs or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: March 21, 1951.

Released: March 26, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

1. Section 13.2 (a) (1) of the Commission's rules is amended by adding the following new subdivision and footnote:

(iii) Temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license.[*]

[*] For limitation as to persons eligible to apply for this class of license, see § 13.5 (d).

2. Section 13.3 of the Commission's rules is amended to include at the end thereof the following new proviso: "Provided, however, That a person may at the same time hold both a temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license and a radiotelegraph third-class operator permit."

3. Section 13.5 of the Commission's rules is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(d) Even though otherwise eligible to apply for an operator license, no person shall be eligible to apply for a temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license except a person who, since January 1, 1940, held, but at the time of filing application does not hold, a radiotelegraph first-class, radiotelegraph second-class, or temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class (issued after examination), operator license which was valid and outstanding on its date of expiration.

4. Section 13.22 of the Commission's rules is amended by renumbering paragraphs (d) through (g) as (e) through (h), respectively, and by adding the following new paragraph (d):

(d) Temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license:

(1) Ability to transmit and receive spoken messages in English.

(2) Transmitting and receiving code test of sixteen (16) code groups per minute.

5. Section 13.25 of the Commission's rules is amended to include the following new sentence at the end thereof: "In addition, no person holding a temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license will be relieved of qualifying by examination when applying for any other class of license for which examination on any subject matter is required."

6. Section 13.61 of the Commission's rules is amended by renumbering paragraphs (c) through (g) as (d) through (h), respectively, and by adding the following new paragraph (c):

(c) Temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license. Any ship station or ship radar station, subject to the following conditions and limitations:

(1) On a passenger vessel required by treaty or statute to maintain a continuous radio watch by operators or on a vessel having continuous hours of service for public correspondence, the holder of this class of license may not act as chief operator.

(2) On a vessel (other than a vessel operated exclusively on the Great Lakes) required by treaty or statute to be equipped with a radiotelegraph installation, the holder of this class of license may not act as chief or sole operator until he has had at least 6 months' satisfactory service in the aggregate as a qualified radiotelegraph operator in a station on board a ship or ships of the United States.

(3) At a ship radar station licensed in the Ship Service, the holder of this class of license may not supervise or be responsible for the performance of any adjustments or tests during or coincident with the installation, servicing or maintenance of the radar equipment while it is radiating energy unless he has satisfactorily completed a supplementary examination (with the passing grade normally required) qualifying him for that duty and received a ship radar endorsement on his license certifying to that fact: Provided, That nothing in this subparagraph shall be construed to prevent persons holding licenses not so endorsed from making replacements of fuses or of receiving-type tubes. The supplementary examination shall consist of:

(i) Written examination element: 8.

7. Section 13.62 (a) of the Commission's rules is amended to read as follows:

(a) The holder of any class of commercial radio operator license except temporary limited radiotelegraph second-class operator license may operate any station in the experimental service while using frequencies solely above 300 megacycles.

[Docket No. 9935]

COMMERCIAL RADIO OPERATORS

WAIVER OF CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS FOR RENEWAL OF LICENSES

In the matter of amendment of § 13.28 of the Commission's rules and waiver of the existing renewal requirements to permit renewal of commercial radio operator licenses without prior service and written examination.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule-making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Section 13.28 of the Commission's rules governing Commercial Radio Operators requires, in part, prior service as a radio operator and in some instances also a limited examination for renewal of radio operator licenses of certain classes. Many commercial radio operators are not able to comply with such requirements because they either are actively serving or entering into active service in various branches of the Armed Services of the United States, or are serving temporarily in various civilian activities in connection with the present emergency other than as radio operators. It is therefore proposed to waive the normal requirement of prior service as a radio operator or of examination for renewal of commercial radio operator licenses which expired beginning January 1, 1951 and to amend §13.28 by the addition of a footnote in which the conditions of such waiver would be stated as follows:

[1a] By order dated and effective _____, 1951, the Commission temporarily waived the requirement of prior service as a radio operator or examination for renewal in the case of any applicant for renewal of his commercial radio operator license. This order is applicable to commercial radio operator licenses which expired beginning January 1, 1951 until further order of the Commission.

3. This proposed rule is issued under the authority of sections 4 (i) and 303 (l) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

4. Any interested person who is of the opinion that the proposed amendment and waiver should not be adopted, as well as any person who favors this proposal, may file with the Commission on or before April 16, 1951, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. The Commission will consider all comments, briefs and statements presented before taking final action in the matter.

5. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules, an original and fourteen copies of all statements, briefs or comments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: March 21, 1951.

Released: March 26, 1951.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Office of the Secretary

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH ADMINISTRATION

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO ADMINISTRATOR WITH RESPECT TO FACILITATION OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

1. Pursuant to the authority contained in Executive Order 10216, dated February 23, 1951, the Administrator of the Agricultural Research Administration is authorized to utilize the authority set forth in Title II of the First War Powers Act, 1941, as amended and extended by the act of January 12, 1951 (Public Law 921, 81st Congress), in connection with programs now or hereafter assigned to the Agricultural Research Administration related to the facilitation of the national defense. The Administrator shall designate in writing any program to which he determines this authority shall apply.

2. The authority hereby delegated does not include the authority to amend or modify contracts without consideration, or to settle claims or release accrued obligations.

3. The Administrator of Agricultural Research Administration may make provision for the use by the Agricultural Research Administration of the authority hereby delegated. These provisions shall include regulations showing the uses to which the authority will be put and the methods by which control will be exercised.

4. In the exercise of the authority hereby delegated all of the applicable terms and conditions of Executive Order 10216, dated February 23, 1951 (16 F. R. 1815), and of Part I of Executive Order 10210, dated February 2, 1951 (16 F. R. 1049), shall be followed.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of March 1951.

[S. O. 874, General Permit 10]

NEW YORK, ONTARIO AND WESTERN RAILWAY CO. AND MOSES BROTHERS CO.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040), permission is granted for The New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company (Raymond L. Gebhardt and Ferdinand J. Seighardt, Trustees) serving Moses Brothers Company, Eaton, N. Y., to disregard the provisions of Service Order No. 874 insofar as it applies to any car loaded with Dairy, Animal and Poultry Feed when Moses Brothers Company advise that service would be denied because of its inability to meet the minimum requirements because of inadequate facilities of company owned stores, located on the New York, Ontario and Western Railway.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit and the Moses Brothers Company shall furnish the Permit Agent the dates forwarded, car numbers, initials, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2576]

WEST PENN ELECTRIC CO. AND POTOMAC EDISON CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of March A. D. 1951.

The West Penn Electric Company ("West Penn Electric"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary, The Potomac Edison Company ("Potomac"), a registered holding company and a public utility company, having filed a joint application-declaration pursuant to sections 6, 7, 9, 10 and 12 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") and Rules U-43, U-44, and U-50 promulgated thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

Potomac proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, $10,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds, ____ percent series due 1981. The bonds are to be issued under and secured by Potomac's present indenture dated as of October 1, 1944, as supplemented by an indenture to be dated as of April 1, 1951. Representatives of Potomac have requested that in connection with the offering of these bonds, the 10 day period for the solicitation of bids, required by the provisions of Rule U-50, be shortened to not less than six days.

Potomac also proposes to issue and sell 200,000 shares of common stock, without par value, to West Penn Electric and West Penn Electric proposes to acquire such shares for a total cash consideration of $4,000,000. West Penn Electric will pledge the new shares of common stock to be acquired by it from Potomac as additional collateral security for West Penn's Electric 3½% Sinking Fund Collateral Trust Bonds. West Penn Electric now owns all of the 450,000 shares of outstanding common stock of Potomac. It is represented in the filing that the proceeds from the sale of these securities will be used to assist Potomac and its subsidiaries with contemplated construction programs for the years 1951 and 1952.

Notice of the filing of this joint application-declaration having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to the act and the Commission not having received a request for hearing and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to this joint application-declaration, as amended, that all of the applicable statutory standards are satisfied and that there is no basis for any adverse findings and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said joint application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith;

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said joint application-declaration be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and to the following terms and conditions:

(1) That the proposed issuance and sale of the $10,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds, ____ percent series due 1981, by Potomac shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding, held with respect thereto, have been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order shall have been entered by this Commission in the light of the record so completed, which order shall contain such further terms and conditions, if any, as may then be deemed appropriate;

(2) That jurisdiction be reserved with respect to the payment of any and all fees and expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with the consummation of the proposed transactions.

It is further ordered, That the period for solicitation of bids, with respect to the above described bonds, be shortened, from the period of 10 days prescribed in paragraph (b) of Rule U-50, to a period of not less than 6 days.

By the Commission.

INTERNATIONAL HYDRO-ELECTRIC SYSTEM

NOTICE OF FILING OF APPLICATION RELATING TO PREFERRED STOCK

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of March A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission pursuant to section 11 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("the act") by Bartholomew A. Brickley, Trustee of International Hydro-Electric System ("IHES"), a registered holding company, relating to quarterly payments of 87½ cents per share to the holders of the Convertible $3.50 Series of Preferred Stock of IHES beginning on or about April 15, 1951, pending the determination of plans and proposals now before the Commission for compliance with the Commission's order of July 21, 1942, entered under section 11 (b) (2) of the act, for the liquidation and dissolution of IHES.

All interested parties are referred to said application on file in the office of the Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed. Briefly, the application indicates:

(1) That on April 19, 1949, the Trustee filed with the Commission, pursuant to section 11 (d) of the act, his Second Plan for the liquidation and dissolution of IHES; that Parts I and II of said plan, relating to the retirement of the debentures of IHES, have now been consummated; that hearings have been held and the record closed on Part III of said plan, which proposes to allocate eight Trustee's Certificates for each preferred share, including dividend arrears, and one Trustee Certificate for each Class A share.

(2) That 142,799 shares of preferred stock of IHES are outstanding, with a par value of $50 per share; that regular dividends, if declared, are payable quarterly on January 15, April 15, July 15, and October 15 each year; that the last payment of preferred dividends was on July 15, 1934; that as of January 15, 1951, preferred dividend arrears amounted to $57.75 per share.

(3) That the income of IHES now appears adequate to pay its current operating expenses; also to pay the installments required under the loan agreement with The Chase National Bank of the City of New York (under which IHES must pay interest at the rate of 2¼% per annum and must apply 60% of its net income in reduction of the principal amount of the bank loan, now $8,500,000); also to pay to its preferred stockholders 87½ cents per share quarterly, being an amount equivalent to the quarterly dividend on the preferred stock.

The Trustee therefore prays that he be authorized to pay on or about April 15, 1951, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable after approval by this Commission and by the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts, 87½ cents per share to the holders of the outstanding preferred stock of IHES, and to make similar payments thereafter on July 15, October 15, January 15, and April 15 in each year pending the further order of the Commission or the Court; that he be further authorized to fix the date as of which the record holders of the preferred stock of IHES shall be entitled to any such payment, which date shall not be more than 30 days prior to the date fixed for such payment; that such payments shall be made only from funds available after complying with the terms of said loan agreement, and after providing for all operating expenses and taxes of IHES, and after setting aside such reserves as the Trustee may deem advisable.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than April 9, 1951 at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application which he proposes to controvert; or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., At any time after April 9, 1951, said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted without public hearing.

By the Commission.

WORCESTER COUNTY ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 26th day of March A. D. 1951.

Worcester County Electric Company ("Worcester County"), a subsidiary of New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, having filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 an application pursuant to the third sentence of section 6 (b) of said act and Rule U-50 thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

Worcester County proposes to issue and sell $12,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series B, to be dated March 1, 1951, and to mature March 1, 1981. The interest rate (which shall be a multiple of ⅛ of 1 percent) and the price to be paid to Worcester County (which, excluding accrued interest, shall not be less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount) are to be determined at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50. Worcester County proposes to issue the bonds under its First Mortgage Indenture and Deed of Trust dated July 1, 1949, as amended by a supplemental indenture dated March 1, 1951, which, it is stated, will secure the bonds to be issued by a direct first mortgage lien on substantially all the properties then owned by the company, with certain limited exceptions.

The application states that the proceeds from the sale of the bonds (exclusive of accrued interest and of expenses of issuance estimated by Worcester County at $90,400) will be applied by Worcester County to the payment of notes due May 31, 1951, issued to evidence bank borrowings aggregating $11,370,000; to the payment of notes and advances due NEES aggregating $505,000 and to the cost of additions to the plant and property of Worcester County.

The issue and sale of said bonds having been expressly authorized by the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the State commission of the State in which Worcester County is organized and doing business;

Applicant having requested that the period for the invitation of bids as prescribed by Rule U-50 under the act be shortened to not less than six days and that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance; and

The Commission finding that said application, as amended, satisfies the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules thereunder, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said application, as amended, be granted effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions specified below:

It is ordered, Pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act and the rules thereunder, that said application, as amended, be, and hereby is, granted, effective forthwith, and that for the purposes of this proceeding the ten-day period for the invitation of bids as prescribed by Rule U-50 be, and it hereby is, shortened to a period of not less than six days, all subject, however, to the provisions of Rule U-24 and to the following terms and conditions:

(1) That the proposed issue and sale of said bonds shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding shall have been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order entered by this Commission on the basis of the record so supplemented, which order may contain such terms and conditions, if any, as may then be deemed appropriate, jurisdiction being reserved for this purpose; and

(2) That jurisdiction be reserved with respect to the payment of all legal, accounting and auditing fees and expenses in connection with the proposed transactions, including fees and expenses of counsel for the successful bidders.

By the Commission.
